Students to Assist in Lowering of Old Gym

Assembly Set For Thursday

Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity, will present a demonstration skit, "Rehearsal," tomorrow morning in the assembly program.

Members of the dramatic club will present scenes from "Blithe Spirit," a comedy written by Noel Coward. In demonstrating rehearsal techniques, the group will show how a play is built for performance.

Doralee Bell will act as narrator for the program, with Iris Mack making the part of director in the scenes from the play. Orton Jones will play the part of the husband; Rita Pickens will act as the ghost of the first wife; and Mary Helen Plunkett will play the part of the present wife.

The faculty has set tomorrow morning as a tentative date for an assembly program. Prof. William Coleman, director of the show has recently announced that the assembly is not guaranteed to take place because of difficulty in program arrangement.

"The Late, Late, Show," featuring the program "Charlie Chan in Glenville," and a mock "Steve Allen's Tonight" have been listed as musical and novelty entertainment for the program.

'Old Gym' Must Go

SATURDAY EVENT INCLUDES DANCE

By Joyce Jackson

Organizational heads decided at the annual president's dinner held last week that students of Glenville college should participate in a "Gym-Lowering" program on Saturday, May 19, for the purpose of tearing down the old gymnasium.

Work will begin at 8:30 and continue until 5:00, with the entire school participating. Bag lunches will be served to the students, and weather permitting, this will be made into a picnic, with everyone eating their lunches on the lawn. A moonlight dance will highlight the day's affairs. The dance, sponsored by the council, will be a square dance "hoe down" to climax the day of "tear down."

Participating in the planning for the razing day were Rita Pickens, president of Verona Mapel Hall; Shirley Chancey, president of Kappa Chi Kappa; Elda Utterback, president of Kanawha hall; John James, president of PTA; Mary Suck, president of Alpha Delta Epsilon; Bill Deel, representative of Ohnimgohow players; the new council, including President Dave Posey, Vice President Paul Hughes, Secretary Jearl Stump, Treasurer Orton Jones, and Sergeant-at-Arms Mike Ferrell, along with Prof. Stanley Hall, sponsor of the council; Dean Higgins, Dean Pickens, President Hefflin, and guest, Mrs. Frieda Southall, dining hall hostess.

Presidents Discuss Problems

In addition to planning the tearing down of the gymnasium, the presidents held a general discussion (Continued on page 2)

Somerville Lists Visiting Teachers

Three visiting instructors will teach at Glenville State College during the summer terms, according to Dean Delmer K. Somerville. They will teach in the fields of English and education.

Teaching English will be Miss Virginia Nutter, of Washington Irving high school, Clarksburg; and Dr. Patrick W. Gainer, English instructor from West Virginia University, will teach classes in folk literature.

Virgil B. Harris, principal of Greenbank high school will instruct classes in education, according to Dean Somerville.

Workshop Date Is Set

The annual School Attendance Workshop will be held on the Glenville State College campus, August 8 through 11, where attendance workers from all over the state will attend classes to receive two hours credit, according to Dean Delmer K. Somerville.

Attendance workers may choose a class in one of the six main group topics that are being offered. Topics to be offered are general problems of attendance workers, rural sociology, guidance, home and family living, child development, and methods and techniques for attendance workers.

Instructors in the school will include Miss Florrie B. Still, state director of the visiting teacher service, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. Delmer K. Somerville, dean of Glenville State College; Clements D. Brown, guidance director with the state department of education; Miss Martha Bonar, state school lunch supervisor; Miss Elenda Proudfoot, assistant supervisor of the state department of education; and Miss Clara Colterlyahn, supervisor of home and school visitors in Pittsburgh, Pa. schools.

The annual workshop is sponsored by the college and the state department of education, and is entering its tenth annual session here at the college.

Besides attending classes, the attendance workers will meet in assembly each day where general discussions will be held. Recreation will also be provided for the students, according to Dean Somerville.

Business Tests Are Set

Junior comprehensives, covering all business subjects, will be given the week of May 21 to 25 from 3 to 5 p.m. All business students planning to teach next year should make arrangements to take the examination, according to Prof. Genevieve Butcher.

The Navy's first atomic reactor for research is nearing completion at the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D. C.

Witches' Brew, Romance, Comedy Compose Play Plans Events

Magic, romance, comedy and intrigue go together to make the theme of "Bell, Book and Candle," which will be presented in the college auditorium next Monday, May 21, beginning at eight o'clock.

Magic will be provided by the three witches in the play: Gillian, played by Barbara Taylor; Aunt Queenie, portrayed by Rita Pickens; and Nicky, whose role is filled by Ed Perrine. Gillian, who is the best of the lot so far as witchery is concerned, casts a spell on a young publisher, Shepherd Henderson and, from there, proceeds to fill his life with enchantment.

Aunt Queenie, who has been caught in Henderson's apartment—reading his letters and playing tricks with his telephone, spends a great deal of her time "paying him out," as she puts it. Her mischievous and, at times, nasty witchery really foul things up.

The Plot Thickens

And then there is Nicky—lovable, devilish Nicky—who likes nothing better than to play mischievous tricks on whoever happens to be near. When Nicky decides to give the drunken author, Sidney Redlitch, the real scoop on witchcraft in New York, things begin to become confused.

The author, played by Ron Shuman, boasts that he can recognize witches "like a shot." When asked how, he replies, "It's hard to say. It's a something, a look, a feeling. I really can't explain. But if one were to walk in this room right this minute, I could recognize him." Little does he realize that he is right in their midst at the time he is talking.

Romance is provided in the show when Henderson falls hopelessly in love with Gillian who supposedly cannot love him in return because witches cannot fall in love. During one of their many mischievous moments, Nicky and Aunt Queenie proceed to tell Henderson about Gillian's casting a spell on him.

Henderson decides that he is leaving and, that nothing can stop him. He makes a visit to one of Gillian's worst rivals, a Mrs. de Pas, whom the author Redlitch describes as being "pretty high up in the movement."

Disaster Looms

Mrs. de Pas charges Sep Henderson an enormous sum for her services in taking away Gillian's spell. She also makes him drink some not-so-pleasant brews which she has concocted. Gillian becomes furious at Redlitch for having introduced Henderson to Mrs. de Pas. Redlitch, who has learned a great deal about witchcraft lately, feels that his life may be in danger and is quite sure that disaster is impending. (Continued on Page 2)

The Advisory committee of the Rural Education conference will meet on the college campus June 26 where they will make plans for projects to be undertaken during the remainder of this year. Arrangements for next year's conference will also be discussed, according to Dean Delmer K. Somerville, rural education consultant.

'COMEDY OF POTIONS'

UNITED EFFORT RAZES OLD GYM

Destructiveness is not always a negative thing—this is a fact which we students, if we will, can prove this coming Saturday, May 19. As mentioned elsewhere in the MERCURY, Saturday has officially been declared "Gym Lowering Day," and, as such, should prove to be a highly profitable day for the college.

A trite saying, which is true in this case, can very aptly apply to this situation. "Nothing can be had for nothing." We, as students, should realize this truth. If we expect to have more modern facilities on our campus, we should be willing, and eager, to work toward that goal. We cannot expect to sit back and complain and get the results which we want. The best and quickest way to get anything is to work for it.

Saturday, all of us, the student body of Glenville State College, will be given the opportunity to participate in something which will benefit not only us but all students who in the future will choose Glenville as their Alma Mater. The future must be planned for if it is to give us what we expect of it. We cannot sit around and wish and then expect things to be accomplished.

In discussing this day as it has been planned, perhaps we should mention the fact that we are really working toward improvement. When the building is completed, we will have a bigger and better building on campus, one that will house besides the student union, a college kitchen and dining hall. All of us realize that our dining hall is now too crowded. The new building will certainly help that situation.

Let's not pack our suitcases and head for home Friday. Instead, let us all stay here—let's really do something for ourselves and our college. In short, let's tear the old gym down as no building has ever been torn down before!!! And let's have fun doing it!!! —Shirley James

ONLY A MONUMENT?

Robert F. Kidd Library—What does it mean to Glenville College students? Is it a monument to a worthy man, an attractive landmark for visitors and students? Yes, the library is this, but it is much more. To the student, it should mean not only a place for reference and study, but a place of wonder and adventure. Upon its shelves are 32,000 books, each containing information worth noting. There are materials to aid in classroom study and books, magazines, and newspapers to be read for pure personal enjoyment.

No student can afford to ignore the vast array of knowledge contained within these walls. To grow and expand intellectually, one must reach extensively and develop keen insight into literary works. In refusing to read one cheats himself and condemns himself to narrow observations and limited knowledge.

It is a foolish student who does not take advantage of his reading opportunities. It is this student whose B.S. and A.B. degrees will be a point of ridicule instead of respect by the more wise and learned.—Shirley Lightner

Students to Assist

on school problems and methods of improving the school welfare. According to Dave Posey, new council president, "Gym-Lowering day is one of the best ways to show the faculty and all concerned that the students are willing to work for what they want. So let's all get out the 19th and help."

The faculty took their turn at assisting with the removing of the ancient building last Friday, when several members of the staff turned out to "rip off a few boards."

Students will be assisting the maintenance department, which has been in charge of clearing the site for the new building. Day by day, board by board, the maintenance department has been reducing the building which served Glenville as gymnasium, dance floor, union, yearbook office, faculty apartment, and general storage room, to a stack of lumber.

According to James H. Campbell, superintendent of buildings and grounds, about half the ceiling had been removed last week, half the plumbing and heating facilities had been taken out, and all the small rooms, including two bedrooms, the Kanawha office, and a storage room had been completely removed. The Raymond Holland Construction company of Ripley will begin construction on the new union-dining hall the first of June.

Cafeteria Will Be Added

Dr. Harry B. Heflin recently announced that, in order to get a bid within the price limit that was set for the construction of the building, all provisions for equipment have been removed from the contract. Therefore, the building will be constructed with a cafeteria in mind; the plumbing facilities will be ready for it. However, the cafeteria will not be placed in the building at first. When the dining room is ready for use, new equipment will be placed in it as money allows; other equipment will be moved from the present dining hall. When money is available, the cafeteria counter will be added to the building.

Repairs are being done on Louis Bennett hall by the Kuhn Construction corporation of Charleston. The entire outside wall of section four is being repaired, and the floor is being removed and replaced with concrete and asphalt tile. According to President Heflin, additional flooring will be laid at a later date. The present repair work will be finished by August 1st.

The fourth section includes the lounge, which will not be in use the rest of the school year.

Soule, director of personnel, Monongahela Power company; Walter C. Gumbel, soil conservationist for the Monongahela Power company; and H. Cliff Hamilton, supervisor of instruction with the State Department of Education.

Next year's Rural Education conference will again be held on the Glenville State College campus, April 10, according to Dean Somerville.

Witches Brew

Barbara Taylor and Jim White, as Gillian Holroyd and Shep Henderson, provide the romance of the story, which is more than a little entangled with the comedy produced by Rita Pickens, Ed Perrine, and Ron Shuman as Aunt Queenie, Nicky, and the author Redditch.

"Bell, Book and Candle," a Broadway hit, was written by John Van Druten. Lilli Palmer and Rex Harrison played the leads in the first production of the show. Next Monday's performance is being presented by the Ohlmsinghow players. It is under the direction of Shirley James with Bernyce Roberts acting as assistant director. Admission will be $1 for adults and .75 for college students.

Margaret Stoneking Operates College Bakery Located in Basement of Verona Mapel Hall

By Shirley Brown

"PATTI-CAKE, PATTI-CAKE," certainly is more than a nursery rhyme to Mrs. Stoneking who turns out cakes, cookies, rolls and other bakery products for the college dining hall. (Mercury photo)

Any time you are walking through Verona Mapel hall the aroma of freshly baked bread and pastries may stimulate your hunger. You may be certain these aromas are coming from the general college bakery, located in the basement of Verona Mapel hall. Here, Mrs. Margaret Stoneking, daily prepares baked goods for the college dining room.

Approximately 38 to 40 loaves of bread are used in the dining hall each day. The usual baking breads consists of 30 loaves or dozen rolls.

720 Cookies Are Made
A baking of 60 dozen cookies or 38 dozen doughnuts will suffice students' hunger for sweets for each day. Pies are made in the quantities of 24.

Mrs. Stoneking came to Glenville from Doddridge county a years ago to assume a cooking position in the college kitchen. Seven years after her arrival in Glenville, Mrs. Stoneking acted as head cook. The bakery was opened in June 1952 and since that time her days have been spent preparing baked goods for the college students. Her work begins around 5:30 a.m. and continues until 11:00 a.m. when baking is completed.

Mrs. Stoneking has three children: Mrs. Nina Johnson, a former student at Glenville, who now resides in Syracuse, N.Y.; Marcelene Goodman of Parkersburg; and a son, Jack, who is president of the senior class at Glenville high school.

Each summer Mrs. Stoneking enjoys a two weeks vacation at which time she visits her family.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Fitzpatrick Say Dancing Is Their Hobby

By Yvonne Hart

"We enjoy dancing more than anything else, besides eating." With this remark, Mrs. Lonnie Fitzpatrick revealed the motive for an outstanding record which has kept Glenville College students fascinated and amazed.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick are the unchallenged titleholders of a distinguished loyalty to the College—that of having attended every dance which has been held here for the past 16 years, except one. The one dance they have missed was the Christmas dance in 1954.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick, first and second grade teacher, is a graduate of Glenville State. Mr. Fitzpatrick, a graduate of Glenville high school, is a native of Glenville. He is now a plasterer and carpenter. He has worked with Stanley D'Orazio as co-chairman of the Homecoming parade for the past two years.

Began 16 Years Ago

When asked when they first began dancing together, Mrs. Fitzpatrick recalled, "I started to school here in the fall of '39 and we started dating in the spring of '40. We both loved to dance, so we've been coming to dances since then." She also added that her husband tap dances and used to enter lots of minstrel contests at the College. She said that and his partner usually won, too.

The Fitzpatricks have one son, Jimmie, who is 14 and in the eighth grade. His mother remarked that he enjoys doing solo dance imitations, watching all television movie dances, but that, so far, he has shown very little interest in ballroom dancing. Mrs. Fitzpatrick is certain that he will inherit his parents' love for the dance, as already shows signs of rhythm. He takes music lessons at the present time.

Is there a contender for this record which the Fitzpatricks hold? There are approximately nine to ten dances each year, and it may be remembered that this couple do not come to a dance and sit—dance through nearly every number—and they enjoy it, too.

In the MERCURY

Saturday's encounter with the Concord Mountain Lions was a thriller right from the word go. Of course, after the break in the sixth because of rain, the order of the day should have been the making of mud pies—not baseball. But the ump said "play ball" and the two teams carried out the order.

It was in Saturday's game that the rules were changed—the strike zone started at the ankles and ended at the eyes.

With Bill Jones and Tom Vance back in the batting order, the Pioneers will be all set to give the conference leading West Virginia Wesleyan nine a real tough time this afternoon.

Wesleyan is thus far undefeated in the conference and has only lost two verdicts outside the loop—to West Virginia University and the Marietta, Ohio, Pioneers. Mountaineers and Pioneers seem to be stumbling blocks to the Bobcats, and will be put to the test here this afternoon. Here's hoping.

Off-campus department: Three stumble bums will soon try to eliminate each other in an effort to pick up the heavyweight boxing crown discarded by Rocky Marciano. Archie Moore, if his aging, creaking bones hold together long enough, will emerge the victor and new "champ."

During one of Glenville's recent diamond struggles, Pitcher Paul Stout came over to the bench and told the coach to start warming up another hurler because, he said, he was getting tired. The Norman-town fireball then proceeded back to the mound and not only clucked the rest of the game, but got stronger and better as he went along.

Joe Bradley tells the one about one of the students here that hurried off to carry out a request to fetch the key to the pitcher's box!

Let's turn out today at 2 o'clock and watch the Pioneers make kittens out of the Wesleyan Bobcats.

Marley Softballers Handed First Loss

Connie Marley's "Battlers," tired by an earlier 28-19 win over Martha White's "Sluggers," met their first defeat, bowing to the "Stealers," captained by Virginia Davis, to the tune of 14-11.

Handicapped by the absence of their regular catcher, Joyce Bourn, and their relief pitcher, Jackie Coe, the "Battlers" had rough going, with Connie Marley pitching ten straight innings. The first game was a pitching battle between Marley and "Sluggers" Captain Martha White. White was relieved in the fourth by Catcher Martha Douglas. Regular shortstop, Jackson, was behind the plate for Marley.

The "Battler" captain was able to pitch down an early game "Sluggers" margin to pull her team through to a 29-18 win.

Marley's first defeat came when her team went down in order in the last half of the final inning of play at the hands of Pitcher Beverly Mc-

Paul Stout Hurls Pioneers To 8-3 Win Over Senators

Glenville's Pioneers snapped a two-game losing streak here last Tuesday when they blasted out 15 hits to humble the visiting Senators of Davis-Elkins by an 8 to 3 margin.

Paul Stout claimed his second victory of the current season in as many starts by setting the invaders down with five well-scattered hits, and handed out only five free passes.

For the Senators, Jim Haddix was declared the loser after pitching to only eight Glenville batters—all in the opening inning. Ed Knoepfel finished the game, giving up five runs and 14 of the 15 safeties.

All the Pioneers but one got in on the hitting Tuesday, with Catcher George Cook leading the way with four bingles in his five trips to the plate.

Glenville left no doubt in the minds of the Senators as to the outcome of the contest by jumping off to an early 3-0 lead in the last of the initial heat. With one away, Joe Bradley was hit by the pitcher. Cook singled and Ed Tekieli walked to load the bases.

Forced Runs

Ranny Allen sacrificed to deep left to score Bradley and the bases were again filled when Tom Vance drew a free pass. Haddix then walked Pete Kostyk and Steve McMillion, forcing in Cook and Tekieli, before he was relieved by Knoepfel. Stout grounded out to halt the inning.

In the top of the third, the Senators fought back and closed the gap somewhat when, with one out, Knoepfel walked but was put out as Quintus Wade made it to first on a fielder's choice and on in home for the run on a hit by Bill Hitchner and an error by Steve McMillion.

Coach Carlos Ratliff's combine widened the margin in the fourth frame when, with Bradley on third and Ranny Allen on first and two out, Umpire Nick Murin called a balk on Pitcher Ed Knoepfel as Allen was stealing second and Bradley was making tracks for Comis. Star pitcher, McComis, threw one out at first, caught a fly, and allowed a pop-up, which shortstop, Virginia Davis, snagged, to retire the side for the win.

Wyene Turner, in right field, strutted her stuff, catching three consecutive flies in the fourth inning, to put the "Stealers" down in order.

Leading the standing are the "Battlers" with five wins and one loss. The "Stealers" are second with two wins and three losses, followed by the "Sluggers" with one win and four losses.

Officials were Emilie Sizemore, Virginia Horner, Mida Bailey and Jackie Coe.

Locals Stage Rally To Decision Lions By Close 4-3 Count

Coach Carlos Ratliff's Pioneers scored three runs in the bottom of the third inning to come from behind and then go on to gain sweet revenge over the visiting Mountain Lions of Concord here Saturday by a slim 4 to 3 margin.

In the last of the sixth, Umpire Bennie Stump sent the players to the dressing room because of rain, but called them back onto the field a short time later and the game continued on a mud-covered diamond.

Kenny Wright collected his first victory of the season by skinning the Mountain Lions, giving up 10 hits, two walks, hit two batters and struck out five. The loser, Harry Krall, was tagged for 11 safeties and two walks, but fanned seven Pioneers.

Concord started off the game as though to repeat the 14-11 setback handed the locals earlier in the season when the first three men up collected hits off Wright and scored one marker. Mason Wiley and Gary DiVecchia binged and then Don Eaton doubled to drive in Wiley.

Take 2-0 Lead

home. Lowell Morrison then binged to tally and put the Pioneers out in front, 5-1.

Glenville's final markers came in the last of the sixth when the first five Pioneers to come to the plate each blasted out a single. Cook and Tekieli tallied on an error by Paul Deliere and Allen galloped in with the final run on Morrison's second hit of the day.

Davis-Elkins rallied for two runs in the top of the seventh when, with one on and one away, Wade tripled into deep right field to score Raul Vissepo. Bill Hitchner rapped out a hot grounder and while Morrison was making the throw to first, Wade streaked in for the score.

A-B Humbles Glenville Nine By 10-3 Tally

Alderson-Broadbudd parleyed five hits and 13 Glenville errors into 10 runs to gain its second decision this year over the hapless Pioneers by a 10 to 3 count Wednesday on the local diamond.

Walt Cleavenger went the distance for the Battlers, giving up eight hits to the Glenville combine.

Charged with the loss was Ralph Holder, who gave up all five hits and walked four. Big Bob Poole came on the mound for the locals in the top of the sixth and hurled four hitless innings, but the damage had already been done and the home team had lost its fifth game in eight starts.

Glenville's hard luck began in the bottom of the first frame when Bill Jones had to be taken out of the game when an injury suffered during the first contest with A-B started acting up. It was also in the first inning that the Battlers went into a lead that they never lost.

Holder walked the first two men to face him and, after Joe Miller grounded out, Catcher George Cockerill rapped out a single to drive in two runs. Walt Cleavenger brought the scoring to a halt when he hit into a double play.

GSC Closes Gap

Not to be outdone, the Pioneers also scored in their half of that heat when Joe Bradley singled and then came on in home when Ed Tekieli blasted out a long ball into center field.

Both teams went scoreless in the second, but the visiting combine was not to be denied in the third round. Todd singled, Joe Miller advanced him to second on an error, and Cockerill drew a free pass to load the bases. After Walt Cleavenger went down swinging, Roy Bush singled to score Todd and Miller.

Wesleyan Has Perfect Slate In Conference

Glenville College's up-and-down Pioneers will tangle with the top-rated Bobcats of West Virginia Wesleyan on the local field at 2 o'clock this afternoon as the 1956 conference diamond race nears the finish line.

After today's fracas, the charges of Coach Carlos Ratliff will take to the road for two contests before returning to the home diamond.

Tomorrow, the Pioneers will journey to Salem for a return engagement with the Tigers—which was rained out last Thursday—and will clash with West Virginia Tech Saturday afternoon at Montgomery.

Sporting a conference record unblemished by defeat, the Bobcats will definitely be in the role of the favorite in this afternoon's struggle with the G-men. Outside the league, the Wesleyan combine has lost only one verdict thus far this season, and that one to West Virginia University.

Bobcats Win Two

Wesleyan did quite well in its home-and-home series with the Pioneers last season, winning both contests by wide margins. In the first fray, staged at Buckhannon, the locals rallied for eight runs in the sixth inning, getting only one hit—a single by Bobby Weaver—but still fell by an 18-9 count.

In the return engagement, the Bobcats really poured it on, chalking up a run-away 21 to 0 victory over the hapless Pioneers.

Vanquish Tigers

It was a different matter against Salem. Glenville edged by the Tigers by a 10 to 8 margin in the lone contest played last year, and then made it two in a row last week by gaining a 12 to 5 verdict over the Bengals.

Like Salem, Tech will be out for revenge when the Pioneers visit Montgomery Saturday. Last year, (Continued on page 4)

Annual Stuff Needs Yearbook Payments

Students are urged to make their payments on the yearbook immediately. Anyone having snapshots for the annual should contact Doraleene Bell or Shirley James.

When the last deadline was met all sports, activities, dances, and honors received by Glenville this year, were sent to the publisher. Advertisements will be sent within the next week. According to Shirley James, editor of the Kanawhachen, more advertisements were sold this year than any time since the yearbook has made its second existence.

As plans now stand, the annuals should be distributed sometime in June. Approximately 250 copies of the 100 page book have been purchased.

Three pages of the student annual will be dedicated to Louis Bennett, Kanawha, and Verona Mapel halls. These pages will contain snapshots of the three campus residences.

Art Students Make 'Paint Your Wagon' Poster for Display

Wendell Garton, Bonnie Gorrell, and Wanda Barker, members of the oil painting and water color classes, recently constructed an eight foot long poster for the college musical, "Paint Your Wagon."

The poster was located inside the Administration building over the main steps. It featured a prospector and a can-can girl, in keeping with the western setting of the comedy. The three art students in charge of the streamer are all sophomores. Garton painted the prospector, Miss Gorrell constructed the can-can dancer, and Mrs. Barker lettered the poster.

Other members of the combined classes are Ada Cox, Anna Radabaugh, Midge Nichols, and Tonabell Jones.

bingled for the second time, stole second and went to third on a balk. Eaton was put out on a fly ball to Pete Kostyk and then DiVecchia scampered home on a two bagger by George McKelvie.

Glenville, not to be outdone, fought back in the last of that frame and pushed across three runs to take the lead for the first time in the frame. Bill Jones led off with a single, advanced to second on an error by Krall as Joe Bradley gained first on a fielder's choice. Catcher George Cook bingled to tally Jones and Pete Kostyk doubled to drive in Bradley and Cook.

Both teams went scoreless until after the rains came and went. Then Concord opened up the top of the seventh with a run to knot the tally at 3-all. The tying run came when Eaton singled with the bases loaded and two away and Krall beat the ball home.

G-Men Rally

Glenville was not to be denied the victory, however, and came back in the last of the seventh to again take the lead—this time for good.

Bradley led off with a single, Cook popped out to the pitcher, Kostyk got his third hit of the afternoon to advance Bradley to second and Ranny Allen loaded the bases with another bingle. Tom Vance then brought the winning run in with a long sacrifice fly to center field to score Bradley.

In the top of the ninth, Concord staged a last-ditch stand by getting the bags filled with only one man out. Ranny Allen then pulled what looked to be a clean single out of the air and Vance smashed the would-be rally by getting under an infield fly to make the third putout.

Pioneers Tangle

the two teams met in a rough and tough battle here last year, with the Glenville squad coming out on top by a 4 to 0 edge.

The Pioneers will return to Glenville for a tilt next Friday with the Golden Eagles of Morris Harvey and will then trek to Buckhannon for the season's finale the following day with the Bobcats.

A-B Humbles

lers strengthened their lead with two more tallies and then added two more in the top of the fifth and one in the sixth and eighth innings for insurance.

At this point, Glenville began to fight back. With one away, Ranny Allen walked, Pete Kostyk fouled out, Lowell Morrison went to first on an error by Roy Bush, and Allen scampered home when Steve McMillion blasted out a double. Morrison then came in for the final Glenville marker when Bob Poole went to first on an error by Short-

Pre-Registration Scheduled May 16-18

Students who are enrolled in the college this term and are going to attend summer school may register in advance May 16 through 18, according to Registrar Rogers McAvoy.

Summer school students will be given the opportunity to register in the office of the registrar between the hours of 3 and 5 on the three dates mentioned. Schedules and material concerning the summer session are available in the office now.

Registrar McAvoy stressed the fact the students who register in advance will not need to be on campus, June 4, regular registrar day.

The New York State Education department has been granted a budget of $200,000 for the development of educational television.

stop Jack Funk

In the last of the ninth, it looked as if the Pioneers were going to stage a last-ditch rally when Tom Vance, batting for Bradley, gained first on another miscue by Funk and George Cook advanced to second with a bingle to left field. Tekjell popped out and the would-be rally came to an abrupt end when Allen hit into a double play.
