Activities Set for Homecoming

Queen Mary Lee Foster Will Reign Over Event

By Joyce Jackson

As old grads and former students once again retrace their steps along worn paths leading to their Alma Mater, the Glenville College campus finds itself alive with excitement in the anticipation of the Homecoming festivities.

Reigning over the week-end event will be Queen Mary

Lee Foster, who was selected in an all-campus election held last week. Her highness, Miss Foster, will be crowned by President Harry B. Heflin Saturday morning immediately following the Homecoming parade. Other members of the royal court include Charlene Cole, senior princess; Sally Ziegler, junior princess; Leona Hampton, sophomore princess; and Phyllis Veith, freshman princess.

Ron Rokisky Escorts Queen This Saturday

Ronald Rokisky of Clarksburg was elected Pioneer for the twenty-third annual Homecoming by the student body in an election conducted in the Union last week.

Son of Mrs. Elizabeth Rokisky, 419 E. Pike street, Rokisky is a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa, Alpha Delta Epsilon, and honorary member of G Club.

The Pioneer will lead the snake dance, which will be held at 6:30 p.m., Friday before Homecoming, and he will walk beside the queen's float in the parade Saturday morning.

Ronald Rokisky, selected as Pioneer, will escort the queen in the Homecoming parade dressed in the traditional garb of coonskin cap, buckskin clothing, and will carry a muzzle-loading rifle. The parade, consisting of 61 units, will begin at 10:30 a.m. Prizes will be awarded to the winning entries in the parade.

Freshman March

Freshmen, clad in short skirts and pajamas, will provide one unit in the morning event. Bands participating in the parade will be Gilmer County Junior and Senior units, St. Mary's and Rainelle high school bands and the Glenville State College band, under the direction of Prof. Henry Fasthoff.

Friday evening at 6:30, the Pioneer will lead the traditional snake dance, which progressing through town will wind its way to Rohrbough field, where the members of the football team will be introduced, along with coaches Nick Murin and Leland Byrd.

At 1:30 p.m. Saturday, the annual Homecoming game will begin with the Pioneers facing Davis Elkins. (Continued on page 2)

Glenville Enrollment Soars To Peak in College History

An all-time high enrollment of approximately 724 students has brought the number of students attending Glenville State College to the highest peak ever to be attained by this institution, announces Dean Delmer K. Somerville.

Leading the number of full-time campus students is the freshman class with 274 enrolled. Sophomores are next with 147 listed; junior class totals 111, and seniors include 78 students. In addition to regular classes, three campus night classes and three extension classes have been organized this year, according to Dean Somerville.

Extension classes include social science 201, which is taught by Prof. Nicholas Murin at Elizabeth on Monday nights; agriculture 303, being taught by Prof. Warden Lane at Summersville every Tuesday night; and social science 202, taught by Prof. James Gay Jones at Clay every Friday night.

Dean Somerville stressed that the college enrollment would have been much higher this fall had adequate housing facilities been available.

Chase to Edit GSC Paper

Yvonne Hart Chase of Clay has been named editor of the MERCURY for the school year, announces Miss Virginia West, adviser. Mrs. Chase is a senior with fields in English and speech. This is her fourth year with the MERCURY staff, and the past year she served as associate editor.

Assistant to the editor is Connie Sams, news editor. Miss Sams is a junior from Parkersburg, working with the staff for the third year. Berman Litton, Jr., a senior from Clendenin, is sports editor. This is Litton's first year on the paper.

Ray Carson and Jim White are co-business managers. Carson is a senior from Gauley Bridge, in business education. He is drum major for the college band. White is a sophomore from Parkersburg with a field in mathematics. For both Carson and White this is the second year with the college newspaper.

Work on Union Goes Forward

"We are ahead of schedule and plan to complete the building on or before the target date", says Vernon Hauley, superintendent of construction on the new dining hall-student union located on Main street where the old gymnasium stood. At the present rate of progress, the workers expect to complete the framework and begin work on the interior of the building by Dec. 1.

The student union will be located on the top floor of the three-story building. On the second floor will be the dining hall and a small lounge. And on the ground floor will be guest rooms, main kitchen, storage rooms, and utility rooms.

Other facilities will include: individual mail boxes, two lounges, office space for the Alumni association, Student Council and the manager of the union; a 1,764 square foot dance floor, a snack bar, two (Continued on page 2)

Ray Carson Leads Band

In the marching line-up for the 56 Glenville State College band are thirty-six musicians, eight majorettes, and the drum major.

As did the football team, the band, under the direction of Prof. Henry J. Fasthoff, started preparing early for the season. At this time they are practicing for the Homecoming game Saturday.

Ray Carson is drum major and Glenda Black is head majorette. Sue Criss, Ernestine Green, Pat Christine, Beverly Clark, Pat Helmick, Phyllis June Young, and Carol Ann Gainer make up the majorette corps.

Rank leaders are Curtis Freshman, David Arbogast, Tom Howard, Gene Elmore, Jack Kaufman, and Fred Batten.

Heading the various sections of the band are Jack Kaufman and Charles Massey, wood wind; Curtis Freshman, trombones; David Arbogast, baritones; La Verne Anderson, tubas; Gene Elmore, trumpets; Beverly Clark, horns; and Tom Howard, percussion.

Council Outlaws Freshman Pledging

Student Council President Dave Posey, speaking for the Council, announced last week that there is to be no pledging or rushing of freshmen or new students during the first eleven weeks of school. New students will be permitted to join any organization that has no pledging or selective process of admittance.

The Council also announced that the vending machine, located on the outside of the Health and Physical Education building, will not be in operation during the winter.

WAA has been granted permission by the Council to sell hotdogs at the Homecoming game, and the Alpha Delta Epsilon fraternity was given permission to sell programs.

Heflin Attends Indiana Meet

Dr. Harry B. Heflin, college president, attended a meeting of the American Association of College Teacher's Education at Indiana university last week. The meeting was for the purpose of setting up a physical plant of analysis for colleges.

According to Dr. Heflin, the State Board of Education will meet Oct. 22-23 to approve the final college budget for next year.

President Heflin also announced that repairs of the boy's dorm were completed last week except for painting and the repair of sidewalks outside the dormitory.

Freshmen Present Assembly Thursday

In keeping with tradition the freshmen will be "asked" to present the first assembly of the school year. The date has been set for Thursday, Oct. 11 at 10 a.m. according to Dr. James G. Jones, chairman of the Assembly committee.

The program will be composed of freshman talent, and judging from past years will prove to be one of the most popular of the year's assembly programs.

RONALD ROKISKY

ing. He will also appear at the game in the afternoon. Wearing the traditional coonskin cap and buckskin clothing, he will carry a muzzle-loading rifle.

Business Fraternity Holds Annual Picnic

The Alpha Delta Epsilon business fraternity held its annual fall picnic Sept. 24, at the Cedar Creek State park.

Each member of the fraternity invited a guest. Other guests included the following new college instructors: Prof. Richard Robinson, Dr. Joan Doyle, Prof. Clarence Maze, Prof. Mary Lee Ruddle, Prof. Brown Trussler, and Prof. Herman Adams. Mrs. Trussler and Mrs. Adams were also present.

After the picnic supper, members of the fraternity and their guests participated in group singing and games.

Mrs. Heflin Serves As Hostess At Tea

New faculty members were received at a tea held recently by Dr. and Mrs. Harry Heflin.

With all faculty members in attendance, the six new Glenville instructors were provided this opportunity to meet the entire staff. Shirley Chancey, Barbara Clark, Carolyn McCullough, and Mary Helen Plunkett served as aides of the tea.

Six Teachers Join Faculty

Six new faculty members have been added to the Glenville State College staff this fall, announces College president, Dr. Harry B. Heflin.

Lester B. Trussler, a graduate of Glenville State College with the class of 1930, is replacing Rogers McAvoy as registrar. Before assuming his duties at Glenville, Trussler was principal at Burnsville High school and taught in Upshur county schools where he served as county superintendent for five years. The new registrar is also teaching education.

New art instructor is Richard Robinson, a native of South Bend, Ind., who is replacing Miss Julia Nutter. Prof. Robinson served as an army member of the joint staff, commander-in-chief, in the Pacific during the Korean conflict. He formerly acted as display advertising salesman for the South Bend Tribune, and also as student assistant in the president's office of Ball State Teacher's college.

New English Instructor

Miss Mary Lee Ruddle is replacing Prof. Jerry Hodges as English professor. Miss Ruddle, a native of Pendleton county, is a graduate of Davis-Elkins college and West Virginia University. She taught at Hot Springs, Va., and Petersburg, W. Va., before assuming her position on the Glenville faculty.

A graduate of Glenville with the class of 1953, Clarence Maze, Jr., is a new addition to the college business department. A native of Calhoun county, Professor Maze was awarded his M.A. at West Virginia University.

'Don't Giev Up The Ship'

On June 1, 1812, a terrific 15 minute sea battle took place 30 miles off Boston, Mass., between the U. S. N. Chesapeake and the H. M. S. Shannon. Although his ship was captured on that memorable day, the dying commander of the American frigate, James Lawrence by name, made a simple statement which will never be forgotten as long as our nation exists. His parting words were "Don't Give UP the Ship."

On Oct. 13, 1956, at 1:30 p. m. on Rohrbough field a terrific hour long land battle will take place between the Glenville Pioneers and the Davis Elkins Senators. The stakes on Saturday will not be as high as they were in 1812.

Everyone here at Glenville is hoping that the Pioneers will emerge from that contest victoriously. Each member of the squad will be playing his heart out whether he is on the field or on the bench. The commander of the Pioneer eleven, Nick Murin, and his executive officer, Leland Byrd, will be doing everything possible to sink the enemy.

We are not advocating defeat, but what if our team should lose this game which will be the annual homecoming tilt? Will you, the fans and loyal supporters, abandon ship? It has been said that a ship is only as good as her crew.

There is a moral to this story. Although the U. S. N. Chesapeake did suffer a defeat and although Lawrence did lose his life, The United States won the War of 1812 because her valiant men did not give up the ship.

We are hoping that Glenville State College wins this game and every other game, but if we should lose, we, the fans, must not give up the ship. We must back the Pioneers whether they win all or none of their games. "Don't Give Up the Ship." —Berman E. Litton, Jr.

'Homecomers' See Progress

Welcoming old grads and former students during this, Glenville's twenty-third annual homecoming, is the framework of just one of the College's steps toward a greater and better institution.

Glenville State College's Homecoming of 1956 will be of special significance in the history of the college as Alumni witness preliminary construction of a long-awaited, much-anticipated dream—the new $225,000 dining hall and student center.

Progress is being made at Glenville State partly because you, the Alumni, have shown interest and concern about your college.

To all Glenville State Alumni, the entire student body extends its greetings. We're glad to have you as part of this festive week-end.

Congratulations are also in order for the "behind-the-scenes" workers who have willfully devoted their time and talents to the making of another successful Homecoming for Glenville State College.—Connie Sams

College Is Host To Oct. 27 Meet

Glenville College home economics department will be the site of an Oct. 27 program planning meeting for vocational home economics teachers.

Eight counties will be represented at the Glenville meeting by 21 home economics teachers. Included in the list of counties which will be in attendance are Braxton, Calhoun, Doddridge, Gilmer, Lewis, Ritchie, Roane, and Wirt. This is one of eight meetings which will be held throughout West Virginia.

According to Prof. Lillian Chadcock, Glenville home economics instructor, the conference is held for the purpose of studying the scope and sequence of units in the vocational homemaking program for the state of West Virginia.

Mrs. Lavinia Bouch, Sand Fork High school teacher, who is chairman of the steering committee, will head the meeting. Other members of the committee, selected because of their attendance at a state meeting, are Miss Mary E. Simon, Mrs. Mary Roberts, Miss Janet Peters, Miss Mary Louise Gainer, and Mrs. Martha Smith.

Assistant state supervisor of home economics education, Miss Ruby Holland from Charleston, will be in attendance at the local meeting.

Award Presented

During half-time ceremonies the Montrose award will be presented by President Heflin to Edward Tedich, selected for outstanding all-around service to the college. Other half-time activities include a program by the college band.

Rounding off the week-end events will be the Homecoming dance, Saturday night in the gymnasium, with dancing in the main gym, the

Sorority Simmerings

By Christine Ferrell

KAPPA CHI KAPPA

Kappa Chi Kappa's second meeting of the year was presided over by President Shirley Chancery. A new secretary, Wynne Turner, was elected as Barbara Burke Hays did not return this year.

Main order of business was the formulation of plans for the sorority's participation in Homecoming. The committee chosen to work on the Homecoming float consists of Eleanor Conley, Barbara Ayers, Thelda Strader and Shirley Chancery. The organization also elected four girls, Thelda Strader, Reta Jo Armstrong, Sally Ziegler, and JoAnn Spicer, to ride on the float.

XI BETA TAU

Xi Beta Tau met Oct. 1 and Betty Frymier, president, presided. Two new officers were elected. They are Yvonne Chase, secretary, and Lanita Wright, historian.

The float committee, with Bonnie Gorrell acting as chairman, gave a report on Homecoming plans. Other committee members are Joyce Jackson, Connie Sams, Pat Christian, Yvonne Chase, and Shirley Lambert.

A new sorority sponsor was also discussed by the organization due to the marriage of Miss Julia Nutt, former sponsor. A social event for prospective sponsors is being planned for after Homecoming.

Overall gym, and the Student Union. The Gene Palmer orchestra from Charleston will provide music for the dancing couples.

Alumni association officers for the year 1955-56 are Virgil B. Harris, president; Stanley D'Orazio, first vice-president and in charge of Homecoming activities; Elizabeth de Gruyter Turner, secretary; treasurer; and William W. Lovell, second vice-president.

GASSAWAY GETS GLENVILLE GRADS

Glenville State College is certainly a popular subject around Gassaway this fall as the town's high school has five of the college's 94 spring graduates teaching there.

Accepting positions at Gassaway high school for the fall term are former students, Shirley James, Leo Archer, Wanda Asles, Bernard Jolley, and Kent Duffield.

Miss James, who received an A.B. in speech and English, was quite active on Glenville's campus during her study course here. Last year she served as co-editor for the MERCURY, associate editor for the Kanawhachen, and helped produce two of the college's major plays.

Mrs. Archer Teaching

Serving as director of Firestone Lodge last year, Mrs. Archer graduated with fields in elementary education, social studies, and English.

Mrs. Asles, who received a degree in business education, was also active on campus. She was a member of Alpha Delta Epsilon business fraternity, and served as secretary in the registrar's office during her senior year.

Going into a coaching position this fall at Gassaway high school is Bernard Jolley, who received an A. B. in physical education and business. While at Glenville, Jolley was one of the college's outstanding athletes.

Filling the position of music instructor at the high school is Kent Duffield, who received his degree in music last spring. Duffield, during his four years at Glenville, was a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa and was active in all campus musical activities.

Heflin Is Elected Freshman President

Morgan Heflin was recently elected president of the freshman class. Other officers chosen were Larry Ervine, vice-president; Ernestine Green, secretary; and Ray Stewart, treasurer.

The newly-elected president is a graduate of the class of 1956 of Glenville High school. He is enrolled in a pre-dental course.

Larry Ervine, of Belle, Kanawha county, is a graduate of Dupont High school and has a field in physical education.

Ernestine Green, from Bolair, Webster county, is a graduate of Cowen High school.

Ray Stewart, of Fallings Rocks, Kanawha county, is a graduate of Glendenin High school and his field of study is agriculture.

The new officers have already met and appointed a committee in charge of decorating a float for the Homecoming parade.

WELCOME HOME!

Eighty-four times Glenville State College has been able to speak thus to returning classes. None can remember the first class to return and there will be no end for future classes because a good college lives forever.

Each returning class has found something new to see and talk about. You will find the largest student body (724) in our history; a new dining hall and student center well underway; a renovated dormitory; and many other smaller, but important improvements. You will also find familiar faces and familiar places.

We are happy to have you back. Your success is our reason for existence. Your loyalty and assistance is our hope for the future.

Sincerely yours,
Harry B. Heflin

LYCEUM OPERA OPENS SEASON

The annual Glenville State College Lyceum series got underway last night with the performance of two one-act operas by the Dor-Mop Opera company. "The Telephone," a light opera by Gian Carlo Menotti, and "The Door," by Irving Mopper, co-director for the Dor-Mop company, were presented.

Four lyceum events will follow, according to Prof. Carl Kerr, chairman of the Lyceum committee.

The next event is scheduled for Nov. 15 when Marta Beckett, interpretative dancer, will present her program "Dancetricks." Gregory Bemko, well-known cellist, will present the first program of the new year on Feb. 12. On March 14 Judith Eliot, dramatic and humorous monologist, will appear in her "One-Woman Theatre." The series will close on April 11 with the performance of Levin and McGraw, piano duettists.

Prof. Kerr has also announced a change in the sale of tickets. Instead of the sale of season tickets, they will be sold at the box office in the Administration building the evening of each performance. Adult admission is $1 and high-school students and children admission is 50 cents. College students will be admitted by their activity books.

education. Circulation managers are Bonnie Gorrell and Barbara Johnson. Miss Gorrell, on the staff for the second year, is a junior with fields in home economics and art. Miss Johnson, a senior from Wheeling, is in home economics and English.

Joyce Jackson, a math and physical education student, is copy-editor. Miss Jackson was a reporter for the paper last year. Bill Deel, photographer for the staff, is a junior from Reznar with fields in biological science and speech.

Reporters this semester for the MERCURY staff are: Christine Ferrell, Carol Gainer, John Geiger, Iolene Harding, Larry Miller, Bonnie Norman, Gene Rowe, Shirley Russell, Mavis White, and Dean Smith.

Pioneer cheerleaders, who were recently elected by the Glenville student body, began their duties last Saturday.

Selected to lead the group as head cheerleader, Carole Watson, an 18 year old freshman, hails from Pine Grove. Miss Watson, an elementary major, lives at Verona Maple hall.

Returning for her second year as college cheerleading duties is Shirley Lambert, a junior home economics major from Gassaway, where she led cheers for three years. The veteran cheerleader is a member of the Xi Beta Tau sorority and the Home Economics club. She is residing at the Home Management house this term.

Barbara Clark, a cheerleader for four years in high school, is also beginning her second year of cheerleading at Glenville State. A sophomore, Miss Clark is a member of the Omicron Kappa, Kappa Chi Kappa sorority, and the college cheer. She served as a princess at the latest festival last week.

A junior elementary major, Barbara Taylor was also selected to the position of cheerleader this year. Miss Taylor was cheerleader for two years at Green Bank High school. She is president of Verona Maple hall, a member of the Phi Kappa, and belongs to WAA and FTA. She is staying at the Home Management house this term.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA

President Rick Stewart announced that plans were discussed at a recent meeting concerning the Kappa Sig's float for the approaching Homecoming parade. A design for the entry was decided upon by the members.

Brother Ron Rokisky was congratulated for winning this year's Pioneer award, and brother Tom Busch was acknowledged for his mistreatment of a fellow member.

Jerry Glover was welcomed back into the organization in a traditional manner. Other important matters brought before the recent session concerned a Kappa Sig assembly and the coming Saturday Hawkins Day festivities.

HOLY ROLLER COURT

At a recent meeting of the HRC a number of names were submitted to the members for a selection of a new faculty adviser to replace Dr. Charles C. Martin, who is now teaching at The Citadel in Charleston, S. C. After much deliberation, the court voted to ask Coach Nick Murin to assume the vacant position.

Plans for the Homecoming float were discussed and Judge Bob Miller appointed the following committee to take care of all decorating plans: Albert (Boonie) Sorrell, chairman, Pat Lawson, Rod Oldham, and Gary Fields.

The Court's scheduled events for the coming academic year are a swim meet, a class tournament, and the annual HRC ball.

HRC officers this year are: Bob Miller, judge; Paul Hughes, president; John Kennedy, sheriff; Steve M. Johnson, prosecuting attorney; and Sam Fields, custodian.

Pioneers Will Battle D-E at Homecoming

Murinmen Drop First Three; Stanley, Ervine Lead Attack

Although the Glenville State College Pioneers have dropped their first three contests of the 1956 football campaign, team spirit and the will-to-win have remained steadfast and immovable.

The Gee Men, coached again this year by Nick Murin and his able assistant, Leland Byrd, opened the season at Rohrbaugh field against a big, power-laden Potomac State combine.

The Cataracts, under the leadership of Horse Lough, drew first blood in this hectic, wild-scoring game when end Silvio Martell pulled down a pass from quarterback Rudy Telek and raced 22 yards to pay dirt. The try for extra point was high and wide and the visitors led 6-0.

Glenville tied the score two plays later when quarterback Jack Campbell threw a sixty yard touchdown pass to speedy "Doc" Stanley, the Belle flash. Estep's try for extra point was good and the Pioneers took the lead 7-6. Steve Cooper, Glenville end, was slightly injured on the last play of the first period.

White Wave Leads
The White Wave's second TD was set up when tackle John Kennedy pounced on an enemy fumble deep in Potomac territory. After Leonard Hanford carried the ball to the three, Larry Ervine scored on a quarterback sneak. Estep's second extra point try was good and the Pioneers led 14-6. Ervine also scored Glenville's third six pointer after Hanford recovered a Catamount miscue on the latter's 25 yard line. The try for extra point was no good.

The final score of the first half game as a result of a 62 yard scamper by Ed Helmerski, Potomac back. The extra point attempt was perfect and Glenville led after 30 minutes of play 20-13.

The hometown boys were snowed under during the second half as the visitors outscored them 25-6. Potomac touchdowns were tallied by Telek on a quarterback sneak, by Scott on a long punt return and wide end sweep, and by Martell as a result of a long pass from Telek.

Fullback Ernie Moore was injured on the last play of the contest. Final score: Pot, State 38, Glenville 20.

PIONEERS TAME MOUNTAIN LIONS

Coach Nick Murin's fired-up Glenville Pioneers won their initial game of the 1956 campaign Saturday at Athens by running youth-shed over an inexperienced Concord Mountain Lion eleven 21-7.

The Gee Men grabbed an early lead when Larry "Doc" Stanley took a Mountain Lion punt on his own 15 and raced 85 yards for the score. Center Don Whipkey threw the key block which enabled the Belle flash to go all the way. John "the toe" Estep, who played a great defensive game at guard, kicked the extra point. Glenville led at the end of the first period 7-0.

Glenville's second six-pointer came midway in the second period after a forty yard drive. Stanley started the ball rolling when he scooped up a Concord punt on his own 47 and returned it to the opponent's 40. After a series of short carries by Jack Campbell, Leroy Utt, and Jim Workman, Stanley went over from the four for his second touchdown of the day. Estep's extra point attempt was good and the Pioneers went ahead 14-0.

Campbell Intercepts Pass
Campbell accounted for the third and final White Wave score when he intercepted a desperation pass thrown by Concord back Mickey Neal, and scampered 18 yards to pay dirt. Campbell's sensational catch came after the whistle ending the first half had already sounded. Estep kicked his third extra point in as many tries, and the Pioneers led at halftime 21-0.

The Mountain Lion's lone tally came with only seven seconds remaining in the one-sided contest when Ed Yancy snared a pass from freshman quarterback Mickey Neal, and galloped 23 yards to the Glenville goal. Tackle Kenneth Surber added the extra point which made the score 21-7. The touchdown was set up when Workman's punt was partially blocked by Mountain Lion tackle Bill Hedrick.

Edward Tekieli Will Receive Montrose Memorial Award

Edward Tekieli, former Glenville State College athlete and student leader, has been awarded the fifth Frank Montrose Memorial Award. Tekieli, who is now at Fort Jackson, S. C., where he is undergoing Army basic training, was selected to receive this coveted honor because of his outstanding and unselfish contributions to GSC.

To be eligible for this award, a student must establish himself as a scholar as well as an athlete. While at Glenville, Ed not only excelled in scholarship and athletics, but also in student leadership. During his junior year at Glenville, he served as Student Council vice-president, and as a senior, he honorably and efficiently served as president of the same organization.

He was a member of the varsity G-Club, Alpha Delta Epsilon business fraternity, Kappa Sigma Kappa social fraternity, and was selected by his classmates to appear in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Named to All-Conference

As an athlete, "Tek," who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vozniak of Fairview, performed equally well in baseball, basketball, and football. His feats on the gridiron will long be remembered here at Glenville State College. He was named all-conference during his junior year and received honorable mention on the all-conference eleven as a senior.

This human dynamo was as much at home on the baseball diamond as he was on the gridiron. When he was a junior, Tekieli led Coach Carlos Ratliff's proteges in the hitting department. He blasted out 14 hits in 44 official trips to the plate for a percentage of 318.

After taking an active part in athletics and student activities, Ed still found time to make good enough grades to place himself on the Dean's list.

Honors Former Student

The Frank Montrose Memorial Award was established by the Student Council in honor of the late Frank Montrose, former Glenville student and athlete. Although he completed only one year here, that being 1939, Montrose established himself as an all-time Pioneer great. The 21-year-old Richwood youth went blind in the spring of 1940 before the final examinations. Shortly afterwards, in June, he died in a Baltimore, Md. hospital. It was later learned that Montrose had been afflicted with nephritis.

Fast recipients of the Frank Montrose Memorial Award are Cecil Johnson, 1932; Billy Harlin, 1933; Paul Lanham, 1934; and Jack Tennant, 1935.

A report by the Connecticut State Department of Education disclosed that 10,000 pupils in ten high schools were on double sessions although 34 new schools were erected between 1950 and 1955.

Wright, Estep Post MAA Volleyball Wins

Ten teams have entered the MAA volleyball intramural activities, according to Carlos Ratliff, director of the intramural program.

In recent play, teams captained by Gates, Wright, Estep, and Butcher won over Cox, Hall, Mace and Payne respectively. Actual elimination has not yet begun. According to Ratliff, there will be a full round of play preceding the final play-offs.

Five games are played each Thursday night, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Students are invited to attend these games, which are characterized by fast play, hard serves, and close scores.

INJURY INFESTS GLENVILLE SQUAD

Winless in their first three outings this year and their last six over a two year period, the Glenville State College Pioneers' will be after their first Homecoming victory in five years when they meet the Davis-Elkins on Rohrbaugh field this Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

A lack of reserves and numerous crippling injuries have had a great deal to do with Glenville's inability to win ballgames. Fullback Ernie Moore, a very capable Parkersburg athlete, has been out of action as a result of an injury received in the season's opener with Potomac State. Speedy Larry "Doc" Stanley has also seen a limited amount of action because of head injuries incurred in the battle with Shepherd State.

The Pioneers have scored 26 points in their first three contests, as compared to the opponent's 76. Freshman Larry Ervine, a Kanawha county boy from Belle, has accounted for two touchdowns, and Jack Campbell and Stanley have tallied one each. John Estep and Steve McMillion have been bulwarks in the Pioneer line and have done most of the booting.

Three Seniors On Squad

Three seniors will play their final contest before a home crowd in this twenty-third annual Homecoming. Jerry Kelley from Burnsville, Carl Peters from Sand Fork, and George Johnson from Grantsville will hang up their jerseys for good after Glenville's final 1956 gridiron battle with West Liberty on Nov. 3.

The Pioneers' only win in their last 12 games came at the expense of this same D-E aggregation. The Senators have not won a game since they resumed intercollegiate football relations last September.

In their first two games this season Coach Ronald Knapp's team was trounced by the Fairmont Rams 33-6, and was massacred by Potomac State's ax wielders 34-0.

Glenville's bid for a Homecoming victory last year was spoiled by a wild and wooly Concord Mountain Lion squad. The boys from Athens humiliated the Pioneer's before a near capacity crowd at Rohrbaugh stadium 13-0.

WAA SPONSORS SPORT CARNIVAL

WAA President Martha White recently announced plans concerning the sports carnival, to be held in the physical education building, Oct. 26.

Mary Lee Foster is heading the planning committee, with Mary Underwood and Joyce Jackson assisting. In drawing up plans for the event, Miss Foster announced only that the committee was planning to make this a special event, and one in which all students could participate.

Other WAA committees were appointed at a recent meeting of that organization, presided over by Vice President Bonnie Gorrell. It was announced that the Holy Roller court had granted the Women's Athletic association the privilege of selling hot dogs at the Homecoming game. Wyene Turner and Christine Bush volunteered to make the chili sauce, and the officiating class, along with other volunteer members, will be in charge of selling them.

Bush Captains Leading Eight In WAA Volleyball Tourney

By Joyce Jackson

Christine Bush is currently capturing a league-leading eight, on the WAA volleyball front. Her team boasts a clean slate of four wins against no losses. With half the net play completed, Bush's hard serving spirited followers seem to be the number one choice to pull down the first place slot, barring the mid-season slump which plagued many WAA teams last year.

In the first series of play, Bush gathered wins from Virginia Horner, 45-10, and Pat Helmick, 55-9. Horner, in a game which was much closer than the score would indicate, nipped Carolee Singleton, 37-21. Singleton gave Horner a vicious battle for the game, dropping off on her defense in the final minutes. After losing this close one, Singleton retaliated with a 27-10 victory over Helmick.

Meeting in their second encounter of the season, Bush fairly battled Horner off the court, handing her a one-sided 42-16 defeat. Singleton fell before the winning eight, 51-16. Helmick, suffering from a no-win season, was again defeated by Singleton, 29-24 and Horner, 25-22.

Winning Team Listed

Mary Lee Foster, Mida Bailey, Mary Underwood, Shirley Chancey, Annabell McHenry, Pat White, Vir-

Comprising Carolee Singleton's netsters are Connie Marley, Emile Sizemore, Emmaline Gould, Sue Click, Mary Clevenger, Mary Margaret Davis, Eleanor Pinnell, and Christine Ferrell.

Captained by Pat Helmick, on the current last place roster are Beverly McCoxis, Connie Sams, Bonnie Gonnell, Nancy Gillespie, Virginia Eakle, Rita Mallery, Pauline Taylor, and Joyce Jackson.

Officials for these and other games during this volleyball season will be Carolee Singleton, Barbara Clark, Beverly McCoxis, Dorcas White, Joyce Jackson, Mary Jane Clevenger, Mary Underwood, Sue Click, Annabell McHenry, Etta Norman, and Virginia Davis.

Connie Marley is serving as sports leader for volleyball play.

onslaught. Little "Doc" carried the pigskin 11 times for an impressive 64 yards. This amount matches the total efforts of last week's contest with the Fairmont State Falcons. Hanford, a Pennsboro product, picked up 46 yards in seven tries for 6.8 average. Leroy Utt also made a fine showing at fullback for the Gee Men.

Glenville's success in this contest can be attributed to the outstanding defensive play of the entire Wave forward wall. Vicious tackles by the alert Pioneer line kept the Concord backs bottled up during the whole ballgame. Bone-breaking tackles by Whipkey, Hanford, Estep, Keith Pritt, and John Kennedy completely bewildered the Mountain Lion ball carriers.

"If our boys play as hard and as well in the remainder of our contests as they did in this one," says Coach Murin, "we'll not lose another this season."

Other Pioneer Players who played an important part in achieving the victory were Carl Cox, Steve McMillion, Ronnie Peters, George Johnson, Steve Cooper, and Al Koloski.

Students Begin Teaching Stint For First Term

Three students in secondary and nine students in elementary education are doing their directed teaching this first term according to Prof. Nelson Wells and Prof. George Howard, supervising instructors respectively in secondary and elementary education.

In secondary education, Phyllis Given of Strange Creek is teaching business education in Normantown High school. Jack Cawthon of Glenville is teaching classes in English, speech and journalism in Calhoun County High school at Grantsville. Deven McClung of Rupert is teaching biological science in Calhoun County High school.

In the elementary field Ada M. Cox is doing her directed teaching in the fifth grade under the supervision of John Montgomery. Patty Ann Matheny and John M. Allman are teaching in the fourth grade under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Fitzpatrick. Denver J. Westfall and Aaron Spencer Hanford are teaching in the third grade under the supervision of Mrs. Lydia Wilson. Robert H. Buck and Jean B. Loyd are teaching under the direction of Mrs. Juanita McDougal in the second grade. Phyllis W. Bush and Richard Lockhart are in the first grade under the supervision of Mrs. Jean Adams. In kindergarten Jean Loyd and John Allman are teaching with Miss Jewell Matthew as supervisor.

Fall to Shepherd

The Gee Men next journeyed to the Eastern Panhandle for their annual skirmish with Shepherd State, last year's W.V.I.C. champion. The Rams, coached by Don Fuoss, showed no mercy as they trounced the Pioneers 13-0.

Glenville's injury-ridden Murinmen had no defense against the tough, experienced Shepherd line, and, as a result, were able to pick up only 31 yards on the ground and 14 yards via the air route. Campbell completed none out of seven passes and gained 11-yards on the ground. Stanley was injured during the second quarter and was out of action the remainder of the game.

Shepherd's first score came in the second period as a result of a 17-yard end run by Earry Hall. Their second six pointer occurred on a 22-yard running play by Jim Watson. Shepherd's second extra point try was good.

Stanley Stars

Their third successive conference setback came at the hands of Coach Harold Duvall's Fairmont State Falcons 25-6. Stanley carried most

'Moon Is Blue' Cast Chosen; Loretta Pernell Takes Lead

After successfully getting the new season underway with "The Rainmaker," the Onninghohow Players begin work on another three-act comedy, "The Moon Is Blue," which is being co-directed by Ron (Tony) Schuman and Bernyce Roberts.

Schuman, a junior from Clarksburg, has appeared in several productions including "The Dear Departed" and "The Rainmaker," and is active in other phases of the speech field.

Mrs. Roberts was in "Biography" and "The Rainmaker." She is a junior from Glenville and is interested in play production.

The arena theatre will be used for the first time at Glenville State College in this production. The action will take place in the cellar of the Administration building with the audience seated around the stage in the Shakespearian fashion.

Freshman Takes Lead

Chosen as the cast for "The Moon

Is Blue" are: Loretta Pernell as Patty O'Neill, a very outspoken young girl. Miss Pernell is a freshman from Belle making her first appearance on the GSC stage; Orton Jones, a sophomore from Spencer, will portray Don Gresham, the victim of Patty's outspokenness. Jones appeared in "Tartuffe;" Albert (Booney) Sommerville will act as David Slater, father of Don's fiancée and quite a lover himself. Sommerville also appeared in "Tartuffe" as the two-faced preacher.

Herbert Proffitt, a junior from Spencer, will come onto the GSC platform for the first time as Mike O'Neill, a policeman, who does not like the idea of finding his daughter, Patty, in a young man's apartment and proceeds to do something about it.

The play will be run for a full week but the exact production dates have not been established at this time, according to Prof. William S. E. Coleman of the speech department.

of the load for Glenville as he picked up 64 yards in 11 carries for a 5.8 average. Eddie Armstrong showed up well at the other half-back slot, and center Don Whipkey played his usual top-notch defensive game. Glenville's only score came late in the fourth quarter when Campbell plunged over from the three-yard line.

Two of Fairmont's four touchdowns were racked up by rangy Dick Rank. The speedy halfback tallied on two passes which totaled 112 yards. The Falcon's other six pointers came on a 30 yard running play by Jim Orr and a 56 yard stolen ball jaunt by end Bob Reiber. Orr also accounted for the game's only extra point.

Six Teachers

Coming to Glenville from New Jersey is Prof. Heman Purdy Adams, replacing Dr. A. H. Anderson in the biology department. Before taking over his duties at Glenville, Prof. Adams was a graduate assistant in ornithology with the Conservation Department of Cornell university. The new biology instructor received his A.B. from Alfred university, his M.S. from Cornell university and has done work toward his Ph.D. at Cornell.

Dr. Doyle Joins Staff

Replacing Dr. Charles Martin in the social studies department is Dr. Elisabeth Doyle, a native of Indiana. Dr. Doyle received her A.B. and M.A. from Indiana university and her Ph.D. from Louisiana State university. Prior to accepting her position with the Glenville faculty, Dr. Doyle was employed in the manuscripts division of the Library of Congress, served as editor-in-chief of the Louisiana State university press, was historian at Langley Air Force Base, served as director of newsstand sales promotion with Coronet magazine and taught at Marymount Junior college, Arlington, Va.

The American Council on Education will hold its annual meeting in Chicago on Oct. 11-12 with the theme "Higher Education and the Society It Serves."

Salaries for chemists just out of college have risen more than 20 per cent in the past four years, according to a nation-wide survey conducted by the American Chemical Society.
