Floyd W. Miller Will Serve as President At 42nd. State Library Association Meet

Prof. Floyd W. Miller, GSC librarian, who for the past year has served as president of the West Virginia Library Association, will preside over the association's forty-second annual meeting in Charleston Nov. 2 and 3. Miss Josephine Fidler, assistant librarian, will also attend the meeting.

According to Professor Miller, three speakers are to address the group during the two-day meeting.

Miss Jean Lee Latham, will speak on the subject, "A Book is Built." Miss Latham, who is a native of Buckhannon and a graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan College, has written several books for children and last year received the Newbery Award for her book, "Carry on, Bowditch." She has also written for radio and television.

Dr. Caruso Will Speak

"Style and Imagination in Writing" will be the topic of Dr. John Anthony Caruso, associate professor of history at West Virginia University. Dr. Caruso is a former Glenville instructor. The Rev. Robert Gay, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church will speak on "Importance and Significance of Community."

Prof. Miller, who directs the activities of the association, states that three people have been chosen to receive special honors this year. They are: Ida Peters, former public librarian in Parkersburg; Cyril M. Reich, trustee of the St. Albans public library; and Miss Latham. They were chosen because they have worked to further the services rendered by libraries.

Activities Sponsored

Other activities of the past year include sponsoring the preparation of a bibliography of all publications in this area of (West) Virginia before 1863, and giving support to school librarians who desire a school library consultant from the state department of education.

The association, which was organized in 1914 for all librarians of West Virginia, is for the purpose of improving library service throughout the state.

Survey Reveals GSC Lodgings

Where do Glenville State College students live during the school year?

A survey reveals that of the 603 full-time students, 311 live in the college dormitories. Two hundred ninety-two students commute or live in apartments and private homes in town.

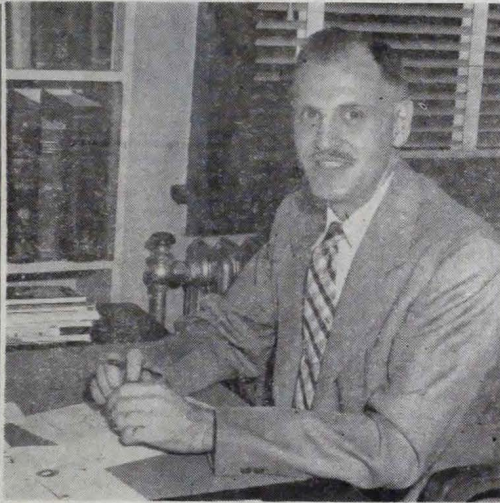

Verona Mapel Hall is the home of 87 girls while 57 reside in Kanawha Hall. Eight college women live in Firestone Lodge and four are now living in the Holme Management House, reports Prof. Pearl Pickens, dean of women. Several college women are living in private homes in town. These students are governed by the same rules which govern dormitory students.

One hundred fifty-five men live in Louis Bennett Hall, according to Dr. Robert Higgins, dean of men. Approximately 140 men commute or live in rooming places in town.

Several apartments in town provide homes for college men and women. These apartments are Conrad, Baker, Ruddell, Pioneer, and Old Mill.

Miss Pickens also announces that the townpeople are more willing to take students into their homes this year than ever before.

'Moon Is Blue' Local People Crews Named Attend WVEA

"The Moon Is Blue", popular Broadway hit, will be presented Nov. 12 through Nov. 16 in the downstairs speech department of the Administration Building. Prof. William S. E. Coleman, of the College speech department, has produced this production as an arena theatre production which is more difficult than a regular stage or proscenium production.

This play is a bright, light modern comedy which flatters its audience's intelligence. Its clever lines tend to captivate the audience's interest.

Directed by two senior speech students, Bernyce Roberts and Ronald Shuman, the production is a three-act comedy. Cast members are: Loretta Purnell, freshman, as 'Patty O'Neill'; Orton Jones, sophomore, who will act as Don Gresham; Albert Somerville, sophomore, who portrays David Slater; and Herbert Profitit, junior, as Patty's father, Mike O'Neill.

Chase, Otto, Prompters

Pat Christian is designing the entire set, and Eddie Perrine is in charge of all set construction. Jim White is chairman of the seating arrangements, which will be only by reservation. Dr. Byron Turner is in charge of lighting. Betty Jo Otto and Yvonne Chase will serve as prompters for the production.

Admission charges will be 35 cents for high school students, 50 cents for college students, and 75 cents for townspeople and all others.

Election Results Still Unavailable

The results of the recent Who's Who election were not confirmed at the time the MERCURY went to press. Students chosen by the student body in the election must be approved by the Who's Who Committee before they can receive the award.

The committee is studying the qualifications of the students elected and will make a final announcement later, reports Prof. Stanley Hall, chairman of the committee.

When the committee's action is concluded, the MERCURY will publish the names of the winners along with their pictures.

Mrs. Juanita McDougal, Glenville second grade teacher, will preside over the discussion group entitled, "Helps in Teaching the Language Arts," tomorrow afternoon at the West Virginia Education Association convention in Huntington.

The Glenville elementary teacher, a graduate of Glenville State College in 1932, was elected as a member of the WVEA executive committee last spring. Mrs. McDougal has been active in the educational field for many years, having served as a member of the state executive committee for the Association for Student Teaching, the state steering committee for the study and revision of the curriculum in grades seven, eight, and nine, and the State Classroom Teachers Association T.E.P.S. Committee. She is a life member of the N.E.A.

Committee Plans For April Meet On GSC Campus

Advisory committee of the rural development program for Glenville College will meet on the Glenville campus, Monday, Nov. 12, according to Dr. Delmer K. Somerville.

Members of the committee are: C. H. Archer, coordinator of the West Virginia Continuing Program in Educational Leadership; Stark Wilmoth, superintendent of Randolph County Schools; Adonis Hunt, Bellington banker; Gus Douglas, Jr., Mason County agricultural leader; Robert S. Soule, director of personnel of the Monongahela Power Co.

Walter C. Gumbel, soil conservationist with the Monongahela Power Company; H. Cliff Hamilton, supervisor of instruction of the state department of education; Dr. Harry B. Hefflin, Glenville College President; and Dr. Delmer Somerville, dean of Glenville College.

Dean Somerville announced that the purpose of the planning meeting will be to make arrangements for the Rural Educational Conference which will be held on the Glenville campus on April 3, 1957, as well as to check on the progress made since the conference held here last year.

Sadie Hawkins Is KSK Theme

Days of freedom are becoming fewer for the eligible males of Glenville State College. The ninth annual Sadie Hawkins Day festivities, sponsored by the Kappa Sigma Kappa Fraternity, will be held on campus, Saturday, Nov. 10.

Marryin' Sam will be present for the event to "hitch up" all the captured males and their captors.

Other afternoon attractions will include: greasy pole climb, back hand race, log sawing contest, three-legged race for girls, egg throwing contest, three-legged race for boys, sack race, corn-shelling contest, wheel barrow race, turnip-eating contest and a monkey back race.

The "Sadie Hawkins" race will be the final afternoon attraction, which will give the girls the real opportunity to catch their man. "Woe be unto the men who are slow on feet."

'Dogpatch' Dance Planned

The Skunk Holler "Stomp" will climax the evening. It will be held in the traditional Dogpatch style. Reigning over the festivities will be Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner. Selection of these characters will be made by balloting in the Student Union.

Other dignitaries who will take part in the event will be: Mayor of Dogpatch, Pappy Yokum, Available Jones, Hairless Joe, Indian Joe, Ole Man Mose, Cousin Weak-eyes, Earthquake McGoon, Eddie McKonk, the Skunk Works, Inc., the Scragg Boys, and the Skunk Holler boys.

Officers and members of the fraternity will be in charge of the all-day activities. Richard Stewart heads the frat, as president; Michael Ferrell serves as vice president; and Orton Jones is secretary. Other officers are: Steve Cooper, treasurer; Carl Peters, chaplain; Ronnie Rokisky, corresponding secretary; Wayne Keller, sergeant-at-arms; and Tom Vance, coach.

We are a democracy and there is only one way to get a democracy on its feet in the matter of its individual, its social, its municipal, its state, its national conduct, and that is by keeping the public informed about what is going on.—Joseph Pulitzer

A photography contest is being administered by the Glenville State College Alumni Association, with the first place winner obtaining for himself a scholarship amounting to the payment of all tuition and fees to Glenville for one year.

This scholarship is being given by a GSC alumnus in honor of Charles Samuel Whiting, who graduated from Glenville State College in 1912. Whiting was an excellent printer and photographer and had a great interest in the Central West Virginia area. Thus, the subject of the pictures submitted for judging must be landscapes or activities depicting a typical West Virginia scene.

Contest For Students

Any Glenville State College student who will be enrolled for the full 1956-57 school year is eligible for competition. Pictures may be submitted anytime before Jan. 1, 1957. Those competing will submit untinted photographs, three by five inch glossy prints, taken with any type of camera. Name and address of the contestant must be attached to the back of each print submitted. Pictures must have been taken by the contestant after July 1. Location of the picture must be given.

Besides the first place scholarship, there will be a second prize amounting to the sum left over from the total of $100 to be applied to tuition at Glenville State College for one year.

FTA Students Attend Meet

Members of the H. Y. Clark chapter of the Future Teachers of America will attend a state wide FTA Conference at Jackson's Mill Nov. 2, 3 and 4. Profs. Jewell Matthews and George Howard will accompany members to the meeting.

Officers of FTA are John James, president; Sue Criss, vice president; Wilma Ball, secretary; Fern Mick, treasurer; Kay Watkins, reporter; Nancy Henley, historian; Margaret Ratzer, librarian; and Neely Summers, parliamentarian.

The organization, which offers membership to any interested student on campus, meets every first and third Tuesday of each month at 6 p.m., according to Miss Jewell Matthews, adviser.

19 Students Brave Hills; Seek Girls, Grades and Graduation

By Dean Smith

Nineteen out-of-state students are enrolled at Glenville State announces Registrar, Brown Trussler.

These students, all men, come from nine Eastern, New England, and Mid-west states.

Pennsylvania leads the list in number of students with five. Pete Kostyk, a senior with fields in physical education and social studies, is from Fair Oaks. Michael Ferro, a sophomore from Freedom, also has fields in physical education and social studies. Daniel Lee O'Connell and Ronald Thomas Stonfer, both freshmen and physical education and business majors, come from Leedsdale. Harry E. Black is a freshmen chemical engineering student from Rochester, New York, Michigan, and Delaware place second, each with three. Alan Reich is from the Bronx and is a junior physical education major. Donald Richard Werbach is a freshman pre-engineering student from Staten Island. Herman Bookjans, a biology and chemistry student, is from Rhinebeck.

From Dundee, Mich., come David Wethern and Stephen Taylor. Both are freshmen and have fields in physical education and social studies. Whitcomb is the home of Robert Rippe, a freshman business administration major.

Robert Snider and Sherman Holmes are from Wilmington, Dela. Both are sophomores. Holmes is an engineering student and Snider has fields in accounting and business education. Howard Hess, a junior, hails from Lewes.

Two students are from Maryland. Randolph Edward Stein, Cumberland, is a junior with fields in English and social studies. Ronald Younger, a sophomore from Chestertown, is studying pre-dentistry.

Virginia, Indiana, and Ohio each have one student enrolled at Glenville. George Cook is a junior physical education and biology major from Fishersville, Va. Bloomington, Ind., is the home of Norman Stone. He is a junior music major. Carl William Semot is from Waterford, Ohio. He is a freshman and is studying mathematics.

To Vote Or Not To Vote?

It is a proven fact that only two out of every five college students eligible to vote for the first time in the coming election plan to exercise their democratic right.

In an article entitled "Tragic Fact: Our young voters don't care" which appeared in the Oct. 2, issue of Look Magazine, Eugene Gilbert, president of Gilbert Youth Research, revealed that approximately 60 per cent of the college student voters will stay away from the polls on Nov. 6. Whether his subject was on the campus of a tiny college in sandy Florida, a huge, sophisticated university in bustling New York, or a sunlit one in California, Gilbert discovered some appalling things about our first voters' orientation.

The sobering fact of the matter is that a very large number of our young voters plainly do not care one way or the other about the coming election, or are so confused that it amounts to the same thing.

How can one account for the shocking incidence of the "I don't know" or "I don't care" attitudes among our college population? The answer possibly lies both with the parents in the homes and with the colleges themselves.

Somewhere along the line, the process of educating our young people concerning the importance of registering and voting has failed. Both our families and our colleges should lose no time in finding out the reason for the failure. History has shown over and over that a country is ultimately as strong or as healthy as the political involvement of its intelligent citizens.

Too many of our young voters seem unaware of the frightening alternatives to the right they so carelessly ignore. In some countries people die for the right to vote. In some countries people are punished for not voting. In some countries people vote without compulsion and without hindrance, but their vote has no meaning. In Russia the commonality are hoodwinked into believing that their votes have great value, but what are these poor creatures accomplishing when only one person's name appears on the ballot, if you could call it a ballot?

In this country, voting is a privilege, a right, and a duty. Whether you vote Democratic, Republican, or cast your lot for an independent candidate, it is your duty as an American citizen to go to the polls on Nov. 6. It is your obligation to raise the percentage of America's voting collegians. PROTECT YOUR AMERICAN HERITAGE. VOTE! — Berman E. Litton, Jr.

Is A Third Party Needed?

Is our American democracy ready for another political party?

Recently one of our professors of social science on campus brought to the minds of his students the possibility of a third major political party emerging within our nation during the next ten years. This is not only a highly controversial, but a serious matter, which we as college students should explore with open minds.

Contemporary political critics who have been searching the realm of politics in recent years have declared that the platforms of our two major parties have become almost identical. Both parties have become very liberal with their ideas and thoughts, leaving the more or less conservative members of their party "out in the cold," so to speak. It is these figures, conservative members of both parties, who will form a third party that could very easily be the choice of many Americans who think their party has failed them.

Are the American people, then, ready for this third party?

We think that the American people are ready, and will welcome a third party into our political system. The trend toward liberalism has become so great that our democracy could well be in danger of, and may be in many cases, the victim of "political sabotage." By creating a third party, our system of checks and balances would be stronger than it has ever been since early in the Century. This would be just one more step toward hindering the threat of Communism in the free world.

Our democracy is as strong as the people in it—it is as strong as only our political parties make it. Liberalism versus liberalism will not stimulate people's minds as much as liberalism versus conservatism.—Connie Sams.

PROF. KUBE'S CLASSES PLAN DEMONSTRATION

Miss Frieda Kube, dietitian, announces that members of the Advanced Meal Planning and Preparation Class will give demonstrations on preparing and serving foods, on Nov. 5, 6, and 7. These demonstrations are to begin at 1:10 p.m. each day in room 102 of the Science Hall.

The schedule for the three-day demonstrations includes two topics to be presented each day. Monday, Nov. 5, Kay Watkins, is in charge of "Breezy Eating" and Clara Mae Watson will demonstrate the topic, "Freeze With Ease."

Demonstrations to be given on Nov. 6 are "Tricks With Ice Cream" presented by Evelyn Given and "Eye Outing Salads" demonstrated by Janet Scott.

"Mmmmm Sparkle With Fried Foods" is topic to be demonstrated by Mary Helen Plunkett on Nov. 7. "Gelatin Unlimited" given by Carolyn Ransom completes the demonstrations.

After each demonstration of thirty minutes, the foods prepared are to be tasted by those present.

Alumni Notes

By Mavis White

Gray Barker, a GSC graduate with the class of 1946, has written a book called "They Knew Too Much About Flying Saucers." This book contains an eye-witness account of the famed "monster" that landed near Flatwoods and tells why research on the origin of flying saucers has been stopped.

Barker was editor of the Mercury for the year 1945-46. He is living in Clarksburg and is associated with the motion picture film and equipment business.

Another Glenville graduate, Harold Boston, received attention recently when he was elected president of the Alumni Association of the West Virginia School for the Blind, in Romney, Boston attended school at Romney for twelve years and received the A.B. degree here in 1941. He lives at Elizabeth.

Dolores Black Boggs, a 1956 graduate, is teaching in the George Washington Junior High School at Eleanor in Kanawha County. Mrs. Boggs teaches band and physical education classes and is tricus supervisor for the elementary grades.

Also teaching is Kay Mullins, who was graduated last spring with a field in music. Miss Mullins teaches band in Nuttall High School at Lookout.

Edward Tekell and Paul Given, 1956 graduates, are serving with the armed forces and are stationed at Ft. Jackson, S. C. John Outlip, also graduated last year, is stationed at an Army camp in Georgia.

Library Gets New Volumes

Robert F. Kidd Library has received one of the sets of "Great Epochs of the Western World," according to Miss Josephine Fidler, assistant librarian. These books are distributed by a selection committee of the American Library Association under a grant from the Old Dominion foundation.

The 34-volume work encompasses 443 complete works by 74 authors, and for 21 of the 74 authors all their works. It is the only such edition in English containing key words of such writers as Hippocrates, Euclid, Descartes, Newton, and Freud and covering Western thought from Homer and the Bible to the twentieth century.

This work, produced by Encyclopedia Britannica, includes a unique idea-index, which makes it possible to trace 102 fundamental "Great Ideas" through Volumes four to fifty-four of the set.

It has been estimated that it would require 70 years for an individual reading 24 hours a day to read all of the volumes. This interesting fact gives some idea of the vast amount of material contained in this work.

'Mercury Managers' Supply Behind-The-Scene Activities

By Joyce Jackson

Four "behind-the-scenes" workers, whose names are seldom seen in print by readers of the MERCURY, but whose work includes the "monetary making" and "delivery duties," important in the life of any paper, are the circulation and business managers.

Bonnie Gorrell and Barbara Johnson, circulation managers for the Glenville MERCURY, are responsible for the distribution of approximately 770 papers every Wednesday afternoon.

Of the total number of papers circulated, 607 are on campus and commuters, and 160 are mailed. The extent which the MERCURY reaches may be seen by the fact that it is sent to 12 different states and the District of Columbia. The MERCURY is mailed to New York, Rhode Island, Florida, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Minnesota, Ohio, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas, and California. Among those who receive the paper are members of the State Board of Education, college newspapers, advertisers, and high schools, as well as paid subscribers.

Work of the circulation managers include counting the papers distributed them on campus, wrapping each one individually to be mailed according to their zones, and putting them into mail bags.

Miss Gorrell, a junior from Parkersburg, has fields in home economics and art. She is herald of the Xi Beta Tau Sorority, 4-H Club secretary, vice president of WAA, a member of the home economics club, and a member of the Westminster Fellowship.

Miss Johnson, a senior from Wheeling, is in home economics and English. She is vice president of the Xi Beta Tau Sorority, a member of the Home Economics Club, a member of the 4-H Club, and the Westminster Fellowship.

'Business Men' Busy
Ray Carson and Jim White, co-business managers for the MERCURY, are responsible for the advertisements in the paper.

Responsibilities of these "business men" are to sell advertisements, collect for them, and put out the ads for the paper. Time-consuming job includes telephoning and making personal contact with local advertisers, as well as the selection and checking of national advertising mats.

Ads are sold by White and Carson to local business firms, usually on a semester basis. They are responsible for the make up of the entire advertising part of the paper, one of the financial forces of the paper.

Carson, a senior from Gauley Bridge, is in the field of business education. He is the drum major for the college band, president of the Alpha Delta Business Fraternity, a member of the Weekly Foundation, Student Christian Association, Ohnimgohow Players, and Alpha Psi Omega.

White, a sophomore from Parkersburg, is taking a field in mathematics. He is a member of the student Christian Association, Wesley Foundation, Ohnimgohow Players, Alpha Psi Omega, and Kappa Sigma Kappa Fraternity.

S. Chancey's Eight Wins In WAA Play

WAA aerial darts competition finds Shirley Chancey's eight currently in top spot, as her team tied two wins in the last two weeks against no defeats.

In the first round of play Chancey captained her players to victory over a battling eight captained by Nancy Gillespie, with the game ending 39-19. In the second round, Dortha Esch led her team to a 25-14 victory over Lauree Seale.

Chancey again laid a claim to fame, throwing a wet blanket upon Rita Mowery's team, with a smothering score of 57-8. Suffering defeat in the first round of play, Skeen batted her way to a 44-1 victory over Mary Jane Clevenger's team in the second round.

GSC to Play Hilltoppers In Final '56 Grid Contest

After losing their second contest in a row and their fifth of the season, the Glenville State College Pioneers will be after win number three when they meet the West Liberty Hilltoppers this Saturday. The contest will be played under the arc-lights at 8:00 p. m. on the Follansbee High School field.

The Murinmen will have their work cut out for them when they knock heads with the favored West Liberty gridiron corbline. The Hilltoppers are undefeated and untied in W.V.I.A.C. play, and will clinch the conference championship if they get by the Gee Men.

In their last outing of the current grid season, the White Wave was thoroughly mauled by the aggressive Clower-coached Salem Tigers. After taking a 7-0 lead, the Gilmer County eleven came out on the short end of a 19-7 score. Other Pioneer setbacks this year have come at the hands of Potomac State, Fairmont State, W. Va. Wesleyan, and Shepherd State.

Glenville's two victories this season have been over the Concord Mountain Lions 21-7, and the Davis-Elkins Senators 33-6.

Passing Attack Fails

Much of the Pioneer's inability to win ball games lies in the fact that field generals Jack Campbell and Larry Ervine have been unable to hit pass receivers. Going into the contest with Salem, the Murinmen had averaged only 17 yards via the air route in their first six outings.

Their passing attack in the Salem battle was a little better than average, but not good enough to win the decision. Campbell attempted four passes, and completed two for 12 yards, while reserve quarterback Ervine heaved 11 passes, and completed only four for 56 yards.

In the yards gained rushing department of the Salem encounter, the Pioneers were slightly higher than their 138 yard average per contest which they accumulated in the first six games they have played this season.

REIT COMBINE LEADS MAA

As the MAA volleyball league enters its fifth week of play, Bill Reit's aggregation is leading the pack with a record of four wins against no defeats. Although Reit has been inducted into the Army, the members of his team have kept the name intact.

The leading squad holds impressive victories over teams captained by Roger Hall, John Estep, and Dave Wethern.

Tied for second place with a record of three wins and one setback are the teams led by Ronnie Gates, and Don Butcher. Gates only defeat came at the hands of Dave Mace's six. Butcher received his lone setback from Lowell Payne's combine.

Each team is allowed to start six men, and each team must cop two out of three contests with the opposing team before it gets credit for a win.

Rounding out the ten team roster are squads led by Carl Cox and Jack Stoneking.

The officials for these net battles come from Prof. Carlos Ratliff's officiating class.

mail 38 times for a distance of 176 yards, or an average of 4.3 yards per carry. Larry "Doc" Stanley was the leading ground gainer for the Gee Men. The 145 pound speedster carried the pigskin seven times for a total of 89 yards. Stanley tallied the only White Wave touchdown in the Salem encounter. He is the leading Glenville scorer with a total of six TD's for 36 points.

Freshman Bud Minner, who played his high school athletics at Sand Fork, turned in his best game as a college gridder as he snared two of Ervine's passes for 27 yards. Another first year man who showed up well in the Salem contest was Dean Stump from Grantsville. Although he is one of the lightest men on the Glenville roster, he does a good job in the Pioneer backfield.

Angry Tigers Maul Pioneers

After holding a 7-0 lead at the end of the first period, the Glenville Pioneers, led by Coaches Nick Murin and Leland Byrd, were beaten 19-7 by a determined Salem Tiger eleven. The encounter was played Saturday night on a muddy Sistersville High School field before a crowd of approximately 200.

The Gee Men opened the contest with a bang after co-captains Keith Pritt and Don Whipkey won the toss and elected to receive. On the second play from scrimmage, speedster Larry "Doc" Stanley went off tackle and galloped 53 yards for Glenville's only touchdown of the night.

John "Hawk Eye" Estep, stellar guard and top-notch kicking specialist, booted the extra point to put Glenville ahead 7-0 at the end of the first canto.

Salem Strikes Back

The Tigers, coached by Clem Clower and Byron Gibson, started their scoring spree early in the second period. The Clowermen's first six pointer came after Pioneer end Steve McMillion booted out of bounds on his own 29.

End Ron Burkhardt started the ball rolling when he snared a ten yard pass thrown by halfback Jim Hartbarger. After a series of short carries, Mickey Beto scored on a two yard plunge. Hartbarger's try for extra point was no good, and the Murinmen held a slim 7-6 lead.

Salem's second touchdown came in the closing minutes of the first half. The Tiger's onslaught began when they recovered a Glenville miscue on their own 47 yard marker. The TD drive was ended by a beautifully executed 20 yard run-lateral play from Mickey Beto to Bob Burkhardt, who tallied the Touchdown. Hartbarger passed to Ron Burkhardt in the end zone for the extra point to put the Tigers ahead 13-7 after 30 minutes of play had elapsed.

Burkhart Scores Again

During the second half, the two teams battled to a standstill with the exception of Salem's third touchdown in the third period. Bob Burkhardt scored his second six pointer of the day when he hauled down a 35 yard pass thrown by quarterback Travis Parks.

Fullback Leroy Utt played a great offensive game for the Pioneers. The Webster Springs athlete also got off two quick kicks which set the Salem grid machine on its heels. Utt has developed into quite a fullback since he first took over that position for the Pioneers in the contest with the Concord Mountain Lions.

Tackles Jerry Kelley and John Kennedy showed up well in the injury-riddled Pioneer forward wall. Guards Keith Pritt and Pete Kos-

GSC Trio Sparks Gridmen; Whipkey Stars on Defense

By Berman E. Litton, Jr.

This Saturday, the Glenville Pioneers will end their 1956 grid season. Although the Gee Men have not had a winning year, every member of the squad has refused to accept defeat. Many of the players have been hampered by injuries.

Of the 41 men on the Pioneer roster, there are three who deserve special recognition, not only for their stellar grid play, but also for their unselfish contributions to the high morals of the entire squad.

The first of these is George Johnson, who at 27, is the oldest man on the team. George, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Johnson of Grantsville, graduated from Calhoun County High School in 1948.

While a student at CCHS, Johnson was a three letterman in football. During his senior year at that institution, he served as captain of the grid team.

George, one of three seniors on the Pioneer aggregation, first entered Glenville in the fall of 1949. After a few months here, he withdrew to go to work. In September, 1950, he enrolled at Salem College, and remained there until he was drafted into the army in March, 1951.

He re-entered GSC in June, 1955. That year Johnson played his first season of college football. Since that time, he has been a mainstay in the Pioneer reserve backfield.

Johnson is married and is the father of two daughters, Karen Lee, age 20 months, and Terri Lynn, age five months.

Center Directs Defense

Another Pioneer athlete who has done his bit to establish Glenville State College as a football power is center Don Whipkey. On or off the gridiron, he is a credit to his team and to his school because of his willingness to keep fighting even when the odds are against him.

Whipkey graduated from Calhoun County High School in May, 1954, and entered Glenville in September, of that year. As a high school athlete, he established quite a reputation for himself. He won five varsity letters, and he'd down the center position on both the cage and grid teams.

Plans in L-K Game

During his senior year, he was chosen all L-K conference first string center. He also played in the 1954 L-K game at Parkersburg, and in the North-South contest at tyk also did a magnificent job defensively for the Murin-coached gridmen. Jack Campbell, Larry Ervine, Eddie Armstrong, Leonard Hanford, and Stanley carried the bulk of the White Wave offensive burden.

Charleston that same year.

Since coming to Glenville in September, 1954, Don has played three seasons for Nick Murin, who was also his coach at Grantsville. Last year he earned a berth in the starting lineup, and this year he is one of the main cogs in the Pioneer defensive machine.

Armstrong Plays Defense

The third and last man in this group is halfback Eddie Armstrong, who played his high school football at Meadow Bridge under Coach Dale Ocheltree.

Armstrong, born Nov. 15, 1932, at Stonewall, W. Va., is the son of Mrs. Berl Summers of Baltimore.

Prior to his graduation from high school in 1952, he was a highly-touted guard on the Meadow Bridge football team. He was captain of the grid team his senior year, and was given special honorable mention on the 1952 all-state football team.

Enters Armed Forces

After graduating from high school, Armstrong entered the U.S. Army. During his two year hitch in the Armed Forces, he played one year of football at halfback, and ran the 440 relays, the 880 relays, and the 100 yard dash on a service track squad.

Eddie entered Glenville in the fall of 1954. As a freshman, he was a star halfback and a leading ground gainer for the White Wave. Last year he earned a berth on the starting eleven, and this year he has been working in and out of the starting line-up. His best showing of the current campaign came in the contest with the hapless Davis-Elkins Senators.

Armstrong is married to the former Miss Reta Jo Vannoy of Normantown. Mrs. Armstrong is a sophomore at GSC.

Conley Heads Science Group

Eleanor Conley, sophomore from Spencer, was elected president of the Glenville College Science Club at a recent organizational meeting.

Selected as secretary-treasurer of the group was Phyllis June Young, sophomore from Clendenin.

The new president announces that the group has not decided yet if it will be affiliated with the West Virginia Academy of Science or whether or not it will be a recognized campus club.

Members of the group will do project work on their own time. These projects will include any sort of science work that the student is interested in. The best of these projects will be exhibited at a meeting of the West Virginia Collegiate Academy of Science held at Potomac State in the spring.

According to Miss Conley, meetings will probably be held once a month. She encourages any students who are interested in the science field to affiliate with the group.

Members are Joe Lane, Mary Lane, Pat Mannon, Winetta Bowman, Ann Kelly, John Kennedy, Don Werbacher, Don Wedekamm, Bill Deel, Eleanor Conley, Phyllis Young, Keith Pritt, Gene Rowe, Ralph Martin, and Tolene Harding.

George Johnson, Eddie Armstrong, Ronnie Peters, and Trent Busch saw a lot of action in the Salem game, and will be expected to rack up a few yards in the coming meeting with the Hilltoppers.

Peters and Stanley were slightly shaken up in the last half of the recent engagement with Salem, but were not injured seriously enough to hinder them from seeing action in the season finale.

Firemen Sponsor Halloween Party In Glenville Hall

A Halloween party for the town children will be held tonight at Town Hall. There will be a parade, a costume contest and dancing. Refreshments and prizes for the contests will be contributed by merchants of the town.

The first group of children, preschool age to seventh graders, will be entertained at 6:30. The second group, composed of high school and college students will meet at 8:00 for a masquerade dance.

Each year these Halloween festivities are provided in an effort to encourage the youth to participate in these and to refrain from the Halloween pranks and destruction of property.

The party is being sponsored by the Gilmer County Volunteer Firemen and the Firemen's Auxiliary. All college students are invited to attend.

Kiddies Get Treat; No Tricks Allowed

Mrs. Ernest Arbuckle of Court Street held "open house" for Miss Jewell Matthews and her kindergarten pupils recently. Lollipops and candy bars were Mrs. Arbuckle's treat for the five-year olds. Miss Matthews reports there were no tricks!

College Students Obtain Workshops

Several College students have obtained campus workshops. The various jobs for which students may apply range from being a waitress, secretary, or library assistant to janitorial, life guard, and work on the college farm.

To gain employment a student must first make application to the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women, then workshops are awarded by the scholarship committee on the basis of financial need and scholastic ability.

Men who are interested in obtaining work at the farm must apply to Prof. Warden Lane. Only those men who are primary or agriculture majors are eligible for this work.

No student may carry more than 65 hours work per semester for which he is paid 55 cents an hour. He must also maintain a "C" average to keep the workshop.

At the present 44 students are employed, 14 of which are freshmen.

Dr. Higgins commented that, "The students do very good work and I am sorry that we haven't more jobs available."

Holland Visits Campus

Miss Ruby Holland, assistant state supervisor of home making education, visited on campus and Gilmer County schools recently. While here Miss Holland was a guest at the Home Management House and at the adult education class taught by members of the home economics methods and materials class.
