Broadway Hit, 'Moon Is Blue' To Begin Monday, Nov. 12

A five-night run of "The Moon Is Blue" will begin Monday, Nov. 12, and continue throughout the week with the exception of Thursday, Nov. 15. Final performance will be given Nov. 17 or Nov. 19, according to Prof. William S. E. Coleman, of the Speech department.

The arena production, a new experience for Glenville College dramatists, will take place in the speech room located in the basement of the Administration Building. Each performance will begin promptly at 8 p.m. Seats must be reserved in advance. The seating capacity will be approximately fifty people each night.

This unusual production, according to Professor Coleman, should be considered a supplement to the consensum productions that are staged in the College Auditorium. This presentation of the popular Broadway production will insure that the entire audience must participate and become a part of the play, because they will be seated only a few feet from the action on the stage.

Light Modern Comedy

"The Moon Is Blue" is a light, light modern comedy in three acts which relies entirely on the wit of its clever lines for laughs. It flatters its audience's intelligence. Its heroine is one of the most engaging young ladies ever created by an American playwright. Patty O'Neill (Loretta Pernel) fends off the wolves, selects her young man, and persuades him to marry her. Then, the architect (Orton Jones) has no chance for escape. David, her ex-fiance's father, is played by Albert Somerville. Patty O'Neill's father is Herbert Proffitt. The action of the play clearly states that virtue can triumph, and that a decent girl can find a decent man in predatory world.

Roberts, Shuman Direct

Co-directors of this production are Bernyce Roberts of Glenville, and Ronald "Tony" Shuman of Parkersburg. Both of these are seniors with fields in speech.

Loretta Pernel is a freshman from Belle, and she has a field in elementary education. Orton Jones, from Spencer, is a sophomore pre-law major. Albert Somerville, who is majoring in pre-law, also is a sophomore. Herbert Proffitt, a sophomore from Spencer has a field in speech and social studies.

Pat Christian is designing the entire set, and Eddie Perrine is stage manager in charge of all stage construction. Jim White will be in charge of seat reservations, and everyone must have a seat reserved before he can attend the play. A booth will be set up in the hall of the Administration Building this week, where one can reserve seats. Dr. Byron Turner is in charge of lighting.

Admission prices will be 35 cents for high school students, 50 cents for College students, and 75 cents for all others.

Attention Seniors! See The Registrar

All seniors who expect to graduate next May have been requested by Dean Delmer K. Somerville to report to the registrar's office at their earliest convenience if they have not done so. This must be done so an evaluation of the student's work can be made. Dean Somerville also urges all students to see their advisers immediately in regard to courses they should take the second semester.

Forms for needed courses may be secured in the Registrar's office for seniors or those working toward certificates. These forms must be turned in to Dean Somerville by Nov. 15.

Prof. Miller Leads Forum At Meeting

Prof. Espy W. Miller and Carl Kerr will participate in a section meeting of the third Annual Conference of West Virginia English Teachers which will be held Saturday Nov. 10, at Institute. Prof. Miller will act as leader of a forum on "Minimum Essentials in Written Communication for High-school Students." Prof. Kerr will read a paper as part of the same forum.

Dr. John C. Gerber, professor of English at the State University of Iowa, will be the keynote speaker and main consultant of the conference. The luncheon address will be given by Benjamin Phillips, assistant director of research at the Caronde and Carbon Chemical Company. His subject will be "What Accomplishments of English Does Industry Expect of its Workers?"

Mrs. Marjory Hiatt Gives Demonstration

Mrs. Marjory Hiatt, home economist for the Monongahela Power Company in Parkersburg, gave demonstrations in home economics classes on campus recently.

Mrs. Hiatt discussed the efficient use of electricity in preparing meals. She talked to the members of the 201 advanced meal planning and preparation class about demonstration work with utility companies according to Prof. Frieda Kube.

Art Dept. Receives New Enameling Kiln

A small kiln for copper enameling has been received by the college art department, according to Prof. Richard Robinson. This new piece of equipment will enable art classes to make earrings, cufflinks, and all types of jewelry with a copper finish.

Library Material Is Overdue

Miss Josephine Fidler, assistant librarian, reminds students that all library materials were due yesterday, Nov. 6, and that any material not turned in before yesterday must be in by Friday, Nov. 9, when the term ends. Students who do not have materials turned in at that time will not receive their grades on time.

Scholarship Funds Are Set Up By College; Fifty Students Receive Financial Assistance

By Dean Smith

Scholarships amounting to $5,547.50 are given to Glenville State College students, according to Financial Secretary Lloyd Jones.

The scholarships have been given to fifty students and range in value from $50 to $500. They are good for periods of from one to four years.

John E. Frederick a chemistry major from Smithville was awarded the scholarship of the National Merit Scholarships Corporation. Frederick was one of eight West Virginians to receive this award. Recipients of the award are chosen in a national survey to find students of outstanding qualifications.

Twenty students are attending school on scholarships furnished by the State Board of Education. They are Sue Criss, Weston; Elizabeth Taylor, Nicholas County; Carol Summers, Clay; Willadene Campbell, Harrisville; Betty Wilson, Troy; Ada M. Cox, Craigsville; Joanne Ash Seckman, Tyler County; Rose Gwinn, Richwood; Phyllis Bush, Troy; and Nancy Craig, Walkersville.

FTA Chapters Meet Here

Glenville campus will be the scene of the FTA regional meeting to be held Tuesday, Nov. 13. The all-day regional will begin at 9:30 with doughnuts and chocolate for FTA members from chapters throughout this area.

Key-note speaker at the regional meeting, Miss Corma Mowery, will discuss "What 'Future Teacher's' Means to the Future Teacher?" according to advisor, Prof. Jewell Matthews.

As part of the program scheduled for the day, Barbara Clark and Bill Deel are in charge of games from 12:30 to 1:00 in the afternoon. (Continued on page 2)

Musicians Attend Festival

Prof. Harold Orendorff and Curtis Flesham are going to Clarksburg this evening to participate in a Modern Jazz Festival, sponsored by Victory High School.

Orendorff and Flesham will play with the Clarksburg orchestra, a group of professional musicians who meet once a month to play for their own enjoyment.

The concert is sponsored by the Victory High School music department and will be held at the school, according to Prof. Orendorff.

Student Loan Fund Has Been Created

A new Student Aid Loan Fund has been established for the benefit of Glenville State students, according to Dean Robert Higgins.

The fund is an outgrowth of two previous loan funds. The fund under the direction of Prof. John R. Wagner to aid foreign students contributed $165 to the loan system. Another student fund which had been dormant in the business offices contributed $68. The new fund is under the supervision of the deans of men and women.

Students are invited to use the fund whereby they may obtain small loans for personal expenses such as buying books, transportation home, and similar small expenses.

No Interest Charged

Loans may be made for a period of thirty days. No interest rate will be charged but students are asked (Continued on page 2)

Reading Consultant Here

Miss Virginia Tutwiler, consultant for the MacMillan Co. will be on campus Nov. 7 announces Prof. George Howard. Miss Tutwiler will be working with a class in reading and a class in methods and principles in elementary education.

By Marilyn R. Barnes

Got'em lined up gals? If you don't you'd better have before 1:15, Saturday afternoon, Nov. 10. Yep, gals that's the day you don your Dog Patch paraphernalia and chase the man of your choice. And, then, if you're lucky enough to "ketch" him, Marryin' Sam will be on hand to get you all "hitched up".

The greasy pole climb, back hand race, log sawing contest, three-legged race for girls, egg throwing contest, three-legged race for boys, sack race, corn-shelling contest, wheel barrow race, turnip-eating contest, and a monkey back race will be among the activities of the afternoon.

The final afternoon attraction, the "Sadie Hawkins" race will be climaxed with the "Sadie Hawkins" dance which will be the event of the evening. Daisy Mae and little Abner, who will be selected by the student body, will reign over the evening festivities.

Busch Is Marryin' Sam

Fraternity members portraying the parts as Dogpatch dignitaries are: Pappy Yokum, George Cook; Tiny Yokum, Dave Posey; Ol' Man Mose, Mike Ferrell; Earthquake McGoon, Carl Peters; Cousin Weak-eyes, Orton Jones; Hairless Joe, Don Wedekamm; Lonesome Polecat, Ronnie Peters; The Straggs Boys, Steve Cooper, Ronnie Rokicki, and Tom McPherson; The Skunk Holler Boys, Jerry Glover, and Bill Deel; Mayor of Dogpatch, Jim White; Marryin' Sam, Trent Busch; Wolfgal, Eleanor Conley; Hopeful Mudd, Thelva Strader; Moonbeam McSwine, Barbara Clark; and Mammy Yokum, Carole Singleton.

The admission to the traditional evening festivities will be a certain fee for each inch of the girl's waistline. Just a little hint gals—better diet from now until November 11, if you don't your eating habits may prove to be rather expensive.

One-Act Plays Are Presented

Five one-act plays, directed by members of Prof. William Coleman's play production class, are being presented this week for the speech class and for an invited audience. Two of these will later be given in assembly and the remaining three will be presented at night. The dates for these two performances will be issued later.

"The Noble Lord," a light comedy, is being directed by Albert Kokoski and Richard Stewart. The cast for this play includes: Nancy Wilfong, Dennis Chapman, and Fred Batten. The plot evolves around the rescue of a persistent young lady (Nancy Wilfong) from a lake by Lord Brookfield (Dennis Chapman). The noble lord, seeing his position, conceals his identity and after conspiring with the young lady, he sends his valet (Fred Batten), who she now thinks is the real Lord Brookfield, to her rescue.

Hilarious Comedy Stated

Shirley Russell and Herbert Proffitt are directors of "Company House," a comedy which involves two married couples, who decide to exchange partners at a party. A hilarious result is portrayed by Jim Marteny, Herman Bookjan, Yvonne Chase, and Eleanor Bell.

A wife and husband team, Charlotte and Charles Beeghly, are co-directors of "The Barrier," which centers around a madman (Herbert Proffitt), who escapes from an asylum to kill a doctor (Jim White). Lanita Wright is the doctor's wife. Ray Carson and Richard Stewart serve as the policemen.

Tribute to Veterans

On Nov. 11, our great nation will pay tribute to her millions of veterans. Hundreds of parades will be held from Maine to Florida, and from New York to California. Thousands of bands will play music which has spurred the conquering heroes on to victory.

Our Armed Forces will display the planes, the guns, the ships, and the personnel which have made The United States the greatest nation in the world.

But what of us here at Glenville State College? How shall we observe Veteran's Day? Shall we pass it up as being just another day in our already too crowded lives? Shall we not pause to pay tribute to the millions of men, both living and dead, who have fought for us since the days of George Washington, and Nathan Hale?

This year there are 100 veterans attending Glenville State College. Even though our veterans are not too active in campus affairs, they should not be completely ignored when the rest of our nation's 165 million people pay homage to their sons, husbands, fathers, brothers, and sweethearts.

Many of the veterans here are married and have families. They are no different from the Smiths, the Browns, or the Joneses who live in our large cities all over The United States. The veterans who want to better themselves by getting an education have as much right to praise and recognition as the flag-waving, speech-making war heroes who boast about their conquests, and their medals won for their meritorious actions on the battlefields.

It is our duty here at GSC to take time out with the rest of our nation to give a few words of hope, encouragement, and cheer to the men who have served both honorably and efficiently.—Berman E. Litton, Jr.

A College Revolution!

Education should no longer be a system whereby the teacher dictates and the student accepts, but an educational partnership between teacher and student.

This concept, introduced by Dr. Harold Taylor, president of Sarah Lawrence College in New York, was recently printed in the NEA Journal. Dr. Taylor appeals to higher educators to give the colleges back to the students.

"What we now have is a huge mechanical system for disseminating information," quotes Taylor. Our educational system stresses only one field, memory. The colleges do not help the student to formulate from the knowledge he assimilates, pleasure in knowing, achievement of belief, or personal and intellectual identity.

Our institution of higher learning stress instead academic credit, social status, and higher income. The present educational program does not even approach the inner consciousness of the student nor deal with his motivations, emotions, aims, and needs.

The student should be the center of education. All of the college programs should be based on its effect upon the students involved. If the student is to learn on this larger scale, he must be challenged; he must be given time to read; he must be allowed to work at the things which interest him most at the time they interest him, and not be put off by sequences of introductory and preparatory courses. Student's interest is often lost because he must take term after term of courses in which he has no interest.

During the freshman year the students should be given the largest chance they can have to work at what they want. Dr. Taylor suggests a program whereby there would be a teacher in charge of the class, assisted by many upperclassmen. Classes would meet once or twice a week, and then not for the purpose of hearing lectures about topics already covered in the reading, but for guidance to the students for their own reading and discussion.

These class meetings would be the pivot around which the course moved. Students would question, lecture, write papers, and debate. Regular discussion groups of various students might supplement these class meetings.

Student would be evaluated from the reports from student-discussion leaders, brief tests, written papers. By this revolutionized means of education, the student could work by his own time schedule rather than be pushed around from the same class day after day, and lost in the monotony of daily life.

Out of this new attitude of teachers would come not only a greater interest in independent work by all students, but a greater appreciation of the role of the teacher.

Dr. Taylor has seen this method work to the fullest extent and thus sends out this plea—"Give the colleges back to the students."—Joyce Jackson

Sorority Simmerings

By Christine Ferrell

KAPPA CHI KAPPA

Plans for Pledge Week were the main topic of discussion at the meeting of Kappa Chi Kappa last week, according to president Shirley Chaney. The week for rushing has been set for Nov. 6, the week after Thanksgiving Holidays. Dec. 6 has been set as the date for the sorority's annual pledging ceremony.

The group also discussed plans concerning a joint party with Xi Beta Tau.

President Chaney also informed the members that they had only two more weeks in which to pay their dues.

Ada Cox, chaplain, closed the meeting with the reading of a poem.

XI BETA TAU

Xi Beta Tau met last week to discuss projects in order for the sorority to make money. The selling of cards and other money-making projects, were brought up by the group.

A thank-you note from Mrs. Floyd Miller, regarding flowers the sorority sisters sent her while she was in the hospital in Morgantown recently, was read by Secretary Yvonne Chase.

MERCURY MAKERS

Frat Chat

By Berman E. Litton, Jr.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA

The meeting was called to order by fraternity president Rick Stewart. After the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting, various Dogpatch characters were chosen to take part in the coming Sadie Hawkins Day celebration. The names of those members chosen and the various characters they will depict will be featured in another story in this week's MERCURY.

Correspondence with GSC Alumni frat brothers was discussed. George Cook and Tom McPherson were congratulated in the usual manner.

Plans for the fraternity basketball team were completed. It was decided that the local chapter will play other chapters in the state, and will also participate in intramural contests. George Cook was elected coach. The team will feature such courtmen as Dave Posey, Cook, Stewart, and Mike Farrell.

HOLY ROLLER COURT

Judge Robert Miller reported that 28 Mums were sold by Court members during Homecoming festivities. At the recent meeting, those present considered several names of prospective pledges although no vote was taken. The members were asked to consider these names and any others which they thought would be worthy of fraternity membership.

The Louis Bennett Lounge was suggested as a possible location for the informal initiation which will take place on Nov. 26.

The subject of jackets and frat mugs was discussed. It was also decided that the organization sponsor a raffle in which a phonograph is to be given away. Tickets will be sold on this phonograph immediately after students return from the Thanksgiving Holidays. A prize will be awarded to the Court member selling the most chances. This record player is to be given away at the first home basketball game.

Co-directing "The Game of Chess" are Trent Busch and Jim Dotson. This play is about a deposed nobleman who kills a peasant by employing the rules of chess. Dean Stump, Orton Jones, Busch and Dotson are the actors of this play.

Night performances of these plays will be through an admission by the use of the activity books.

Students Teach Class

Members of the business methods class taught all business classes for two days, Nov. 1 and 2, while Prof. Genevieve Butcher and Prof. Clarence Maze attended the meeting of the WVEA in Huntington.

to contribute 25 cents service charge regardless of the size of the loan, reports Dean Higgins.

Students needing loans of larger amounts may use one of several loan funds under the direction of the business offices. The Claude Worthington Benedum fund provides $2500 for student loans. Students who need the money and are in good standing are eligible. No interest is charged on the loans as long as the student remains in school. Upon graduation or withdrawal, three per cent interest is charged. It is indicated that $1500 will be added to the fund each year.

FTA Chapters

Immediately following will be a tour of the Health and Physical Education Building, the Science Hall, and the Home Management House. The home economics department will have a style review of "What the Well Dressed Teacher Should Wear" at 2 p.m. as part of the FTA program. A demonstration will also be given with children by a member of the FTA.

Alumni Notes

By Mavis White

Michael Teter, of Bridgeport, is the only living member of the graduating class of Glenville State College, was recently chosen by Bridgeport High School "Shameless Powwow" as citizen of the month.

Mr. Teter, who taught his school in 1891 at Valley Springs, a salary of $35 a month, was retired from the teaching profession 22 years ago. He had served as a teacher in nine different schools and as a principal in six others. He now sells subscriptions for professional magazines.

The graduation oration given by Mr. Teter was entered in the Congressional Record at Washington, D. C. last year and has been published in the West Virginia Education Journal.

Clara Mae Hull, who was graduated here last spring, is a Club agent in Wetzel County.

Also a 1956 graduate, Robert U. S. Navy. He is stationed aboard the U.S.S. Wassey, where he was in the ship's office.

Margaret Ann Miller, who received her A.B. degree here in 1948, is assistant librarian in Roosevelt High School in Dayton. For the past year she has served as chairman of the Junior Members Section of the Ohio Library Association. She also participated in the year's meeting of the association as resource person in the discussion on allocation of the book fund.

A 1955 graduate, Helen B. Davis, is a school librarian in South Charleston this year. Anna R. Baugh Smith, who was graduated last year, is now teaching in Wetzel County.

On Nov. 2, 1950, the nation heard the first radio broadcast of election returns; the Harding-Cox results, from station KDKA, Pittsburgh.

Pioneer Palaverings

By Berman E. Litton, Jr.

Another football season has already drawn to a close. The team has not had a great year as far as winning is concerned, but one can not always judge the success achieved by the scores of the games. The members of the GSC grid team have had the will to win. No team has tried any harder to win contests than the 1956 Pioneer gridmen.

Two weeks ago at Sistersville when the Gee Men played the Salen Tigers, the four members of our cheerleading troupe turned out to give the team a little moral support. Although it was cold and the turf was muddy and slippery, the girls in blue and white kept on yelling, even when the chips were down.

It looks as though the state AA high school grid champion is going to be Grafton. But who knows what the outcome will be. The Charleston Mountain Lions were leading the field until their claws were clipped by a powerful Huntington East team. Elkins had a chance to cop the coveted honor, but they were toppled from the ranks of the undefeated by Shinnston. If Grafton should lose, such great elevens as Beckley, Oak Hill, and St. Albans will be back in the running.

An individual who deserves all of the praise and recognition that he can get is Pioneer Manager Don Brannon. One would have to see the condition of the athletic field house after a ball game to really appreciate the untiring efforts of this pint-sized GSC student. He serves the players as a janitor, a first aid attendant, a laundryman, and a water boy.

How many of us have ever taken time out to count the number of hours a football player spends each season practicing, traveling to and from games, and actually playing in the contests? To the spectators, playing in athletic contests is all fun with no work involved.

To the average college gridman who gets no pay for his efforts, next issue of the MERCURY. Next week's issue will also carry comments on teams that the Byrdmen will encounter this year. In addition to the above, the MERCURY will also carry a complete listing of 1956-57 Pioneer cage contests.

Hilltoppers Defeat G-Men, Clinch W.V.I.A.C. Pennant

The Glenville College Pioneer's dropped their sixth game in eight starts last Saturday to a big, experienced West Liberty Hilltopper aggregation, 14-0. The contest was played on a well-kept Follansbee High School athletic field before approximately 500 fans.

Although the Gee Men lost the gridiron battle, they held the fast-moving Hilltoppers to a mere 95 yards on the ground. Prior to the contest with the Pioneer's, the West Liberty lads had averaged over 300 yards rushing per contest in their first six outings this season.

Larry "Doc" Stanley opened the game for the Marlinmen when he took the opening kickoff on his own ten yard line and returned it 22 yards to the 32. On the second play of the contest, the Belle flash picked up 14 yards to give the Pioneer's a first and ten on their own 46 yard marker. The Pioneer's racked up only nine yards in the next three plays, and were forced to kick.

The Hilltoppers first took possession of the ball on their own 20 yard line after Glenville end Steve McMillion had booted a booming 42 yard punt which barely bounded into the end zone. After two ground plays which netted only one yard, the Hilltoppers took to the air.

West Liberty quarterback Rich Santilli was injured early in the contest, but not before he did his share to defeat the Pioneer's. His first pass attempt of the night was complete to halfback Charles Basil for 51 yards. This beautifully executed play gave the Hilltoppers a first down on the Glenville 33 yard line.

After a series of short ground gains, Santilli hit end Denny Wilcox for 14 yards. After the series of short ground gains, Santilli hit end Denny Wilcox for 14 yards.

This year a close account has been kept of the hours each man spent during the entire football season. These hours have been spent representing our school. Many hours of precious study time have dwindled away along with many hours of rest and relaxation. Each of the 39 men on the roster donated 239 hours of his time to the representation of the school. These gridmen have received no automobiles, no wrist watches, or no bonuses. They did receive the satisfaction of knowing that they were fighting to preserve the good name of GSC.

Liam's with a 25 yard touchdown pass. Ed Pascuzzi booted the extra point to put West Liberty ahead, 7-0.

Pioneers Threaten

Glenville's finest bid for a touchdown came late in the second period. Fullback Leroy Utt sparked the attack with his hard running. Quarterback Jack Campbell called on Utt to carry the pigskin seven times in this drive. Reserve field general Larry Ervine faked a punt and passed 22 yards to McMillion before the drive bogged down deep in West Liberty territory.

After the Hilltoppers scored their second touchdown early in the third period, the two teams battled on pretty even terms. The Hilltoppers, coached by Joe Bartell, began their second scoring surge on their own 27 yard marker.

The key play in this bid for a TD was a 35 yard gain which resulted from a 15 yard penalty against the Pioneer's. Game officials stepped off the penalty from the point of contact which was 20 yards from the line of scrimmage. End Andy Perkol ended the march by pulling down a 25 yard touchdown pass thrown by reserve quarterback Rich Canestaro. Pascuzzi booted his second extra point in as many tries to end the scoring.

Utt Quick Kicks

Utt's two booming quick kicks of 58 and 49 yards caught the Hilltoppers napping, and enabled the Gee Men to keep their opponents bottled-up. McMillion does the regular punting for the Pioneer's. He kicked five in the West Liberty game for a total of 187 yards.

As a result of the win over the Pioneer's, the West Liberty eleven clinched the W.V.I.A.C. championship. They topped the conference this year with a record of six wins (Continued on page 4)

Isch Captains Winning Team

Dorthea Isch is currently captaining a winning aerial darts WAA team, with a perfect record of three wins and no losses.

In the third round of play, Isch captured wins from Lauree Skeen and Mary Jane Clevenger. During the same evening's play, Shirley Chaney completely swamped Reta Mowery. Freshman Captain Mowery is suffering from a losing streak with Skeen also coming up on the winning side of the Skeen-Mowery contest.

Sports leader for the paddle-birdie series is Connie Sams.

BYRDMEN HOLD CAGE TRYOUTS

Forty-two men are competing for berths on the 1956-57 Glenville College basketball squad, announces Coach Leland Eyrd. Originally, 36 prospects reported, but six hopefuls from the football team raised the number of aspirants to the present force.

Returning from last year's team which posted a record of 15 wins against 14 defeats are seven lettermen: headed by Rudy Poole and Bob Turner.

In a recent interview Coach Byrd stated that he expects to have the team roster cut to squad size by the middle of November. At present the prospects are undergoing conditioning and fundamental drills. "The boys are working hard," says Coach Byrd, "and there are a lot of good freshmen in the group."

The Pioneer's will open their cage season on Dec. 4, at Montgomery, against the always-tough W. Va. Tech Golden Bears.

Additional comments concerning other returning lettermen and new prospects will be featured in the

Hilltoppers Win WVIAAC Pennant

against no defeats. Their lone setback came at the hands of the Geneva College Covenanters, 7-6.
McMillion Shares Passes

Glenville's quarterbacks completed five out of 18 passes for 57 yards, while West Liberty's passers connected on seven of their 18 attempts for 145 yards. McMillion was Glenville's top receiver of the contest. He snared three for a total of 35 yards.

The entire Pioneer line deserves much credit for its outstanding showing against the Hilltoppers. Don Whitley, Keith Pitt, Leonard Hanford, John Kennedy, John Estep, and Jerry Kelly were among GSC's defensive standouts.

Reit Unbeaten In MAA Play

In recent MAA volleyball competition, Bill Reit's combine trounced Ronnie Gates' entry in two out of three games to remain the only undefeated team in the league.

The Reitmen beat the Gates-led netters in the first contest 15-9, but the losers bounced back in the second canto to give Reit one of the worst beatings that he has received this year. The score of the second contest was 15-4.

The final net battle was close right down to the wire with the Reit team winning 15-13. The pace-setting six now has a record of five wins against no setbacks.

Payne Downs Stoneking

In other contests Larry Payne's team took two straight from Jack Stoneking's squad; David Butcher's six dropped two straight decisions to David Mace's aggregation; Carl Cox's netters copped two out of three from John Estep's combo; and Roger Hall's proteges bested Lave Wethern's men by taking a two out of three game set.

Worship Team Is Organized

Deputation teams are being formed by members of the Wesley Foundation. These teams composed of four students each will go to the various Methodist churches in the surrounding area to provide worship services.

Future plans call for a possibility of organization work among the youth in these churches.

"Beginning in a modest way it is hoped that the work of these deputation teams will expand in the future," said the Rev. Lawrence Sherwood, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church.

Group Publishes Paper

Members of the Wesley Foundation have recently established and published a newspaper. The paper contains news of the Wesley Foundation, the Methodist Church, religious activities on the campus, and interdenominational activities. Publication of the paper is set for the first and third Mondays of each month.

Co-editors of the paper are Iolene Harding and Gene Rowe. The reporters on the paper staff are Sue Johnson, Carolyn Ranson, Alice McCullough, Shirley Chancey, Jim White, Ray Carson, Oscar Anderson. The paper is supervised by Bob Conley, director of the Wesley Foundation.

GSC Faculty Attends WVEA

Glenville State College was represented at the annual West Virginia Education Association convention in Huntington last week. In addition, Glenville was also represented by a booth operated by bookkeeper, Clarence Bumgardner. This booth was at Huntington Central High School. Some booths were commercial, but Glenville's was educational.

The booth served as a meeting place for alumni to come and get information about this organization, to register, to see campus pictures, and to read bulletins, pamphlets, news items, and alumni bulletins of Glenville State.

Those who attended WVEA from GSC were: Dr. Harry B. Heflin, Dr. Delmer K. Somerville, Dr. Robert Higgins, Prof. Clarissa Williams, Prof. Bessie B. Ebell, Prof. Esby W. Miller, Prof. George Howard, Caron Hanford, Jean Loyd, John Allman, Phyllis Bush, Patty Matheny, Robert Buck, Denver Westfall, Ada Cox, and Richard Lockhart.

yet, according to Bob Gay, minister of the Glenville Presbyterian Church.

Several students from G. S. C. are expected to attend the Vocational Guidance Center at Davis and Elkins College. All Presbyterians may attend free, but there is a fee of $10 for students of other denominations.

Student Christian Movement Conference is being held at Jackson's Mill Nov. 23 and 24. This is an interdenominational meeting of campus Christian students.

The United Student Christians Council will be held Dec. 27 through Jan. 1 at Davidson, N. C. This is also an interdenominational con-

Science Class Observes Mine

Prof. John R. Wagner and the physical science class recently visited a coal mine near Glenville.

The purpose of the field trip was to observe both strip and auger mining procedure. The mine visited is located between Glenville and Sand Fork, operated by the R and H Coal Company.

Members of the class are Carmen Amos, Patricia Baker, Paul Barnhart, Reta Armstrong, Robert Baughman, Ronald Clifton, Barbara Cogar, Delma Cottrell, Bill Crum, Gary Fields, Ronald Flinn, Fay Garretson, Iolene Harding, Nancy Henley, Loretta Jones, Ann Linton, Lynn Moneyper, Carol Morris, Olive Seckman, Maxine Shifflett, Ronald Shuman, Barbara Taylor, and Eldon Thompson. Lawrence Sherwood, minister of the Glenville Methodist Church, accompanied the physical science class.

ference for study, prayer, and consultation.

Any student interested in attending the conference should contact Bob Gay.

Prayer Week Is Observed

World Week of Prayer will be held Nov. 11 through 18. Members of the Student Christian Association are in charge of services to be held each night of this week in Louis Bennett Lounge. Carolyn Ranson, Joyce Jones, Fred Williams, Sue Johnson, and Mark Stewart will lead the service.

Baptist Group Debates

"If Christians Should Abstain From Holding Political Office," is the topic for a debate to be held by the Baptist Student Fellowship on Nov. 4.
