Choir Presents 'The Messiah'

On Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the auditorium, the College Choir, under the direction of Dr. Harold Orendorff, will present the most complete performance of Handel's "Messiah" to be given here in eight years.

The thirty-five vocalists, accompanied by the organ by Prof. Bertha E. Olsen, will also appear at the Baptist Church in Weston Sunday, Dec. 16, at 2 p. m. and at the Gassaway Methodist Church at 7:30 that evening.

Soloists this year are Ruby Elder, Glenda Black, sopranos; Joyce Brannon, Alice McCullough, altos; David Arbogast, tenor; and Dr. Harold Orendorff, bass.

Pianists Named

Shirley Hager, Joyce Brannon, Eleanor Bell, Sue Davidson, and Jerry Harbour are the piano accompanists.

Offers 13 Choruses

Of the 40 oratorios that will be heard, 13 are choruses. Four new choruses have been added to the program for this year and tentative plans for next year are to give the "Messiah" in its entirety.

The oratorio, which was composed in 1741, was first performed in Dublin, Ireland, with Handel himself conducting. Thereafter, "The Messiah" became an annual event in London. During a March performance in 1743, King George II was so aroused by the stirring "Hallelujah Chorus" that he rose to his feet. The entire audience, following the English king's lead, stood. This has since been a custom, with audiences everywhere standing during the chorus.

There is usually no applause during the performance, with the audience responding to the lofty sentiments and the impressive power of the entire work.

Among those countries in this hemisphere labelled as having no freedom of the press by the International Press Association at its recent meeting were Venezuela, Colombia, and the Dominican Republic.

Coleman Class Presents Play

Members of Prof. William Coleman's Play Production Class will be at St. Marys Friday, Dec. 14, to present a Christmas program to the children of the St. Mary's Training School. This is a voluntary gesture of good will on the part of the students, according to Professor Coleman.

The class will present two short plays entitled, "Angelina, The Most Beautiful Doll in the World," and "Punch and Judy." These plays, under the student direction of Yvonne Chase, will include such characters as Santa Claus, Ronald "Tony" Shuman; Mrs. Santa Claus, Doralee Bell; Punch, Trent Busch; Child, Loretta Pernell.

Postman and Policeman, Charles Beeghly; Ghost, Albert Kokoski; Toy Soldier, William Deel; Christmas Tree, Professor Coleman; and the Skunk, Yvonne Chase. Charlotte Beeghly and William Deel will take care of sound effects, and the entire class will participate in the preparation of costumes.

Mrs. Beeghly Will Dance

Charlotte Beeghly will also present a dance to "Winter Wonderland"; William Deel and James White will present a dummy routine with various songs; and the entire group will sing Christmas carols. Yvonne Chase will also present a reading of "Twas the Night Before Christmas." Mrs. Chase and Miss Bell prepared the program with individual parts for each member of the class.

This program will also be given for Professor Julie Matthews' kindergarten pupils.

Santa Claus will present the children of both audiences with candy or some special gift.

This is the first undertaking of this nature for the College Drama Department, and it provides them with experience in working with children and in planning programs.

Filming Preserves Registrar's Records

A microfilming machine has been purchased by the college, and is now in the process of filming all records in the registrar's office, according to Miss Erma Edwards, assistant registrar.

The records, which are being photographed by Mrs. Orville Wolfe, should be completed after the first of the year, and the film will then be stored in another building on campus in case of fire.

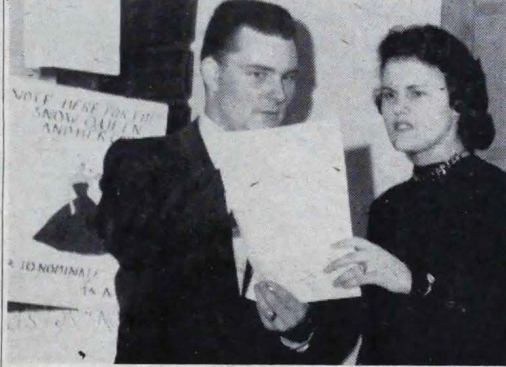

The 30th anniversary of the National Broadcasting Company will be observed with a four day convention in Miami Beach, Fla., Dec. 12-15.

'Snowflake' Queen, Court To Be Presented at Dance

By Connie Sams

A colorful coronation ceremony amidst a setting of "Winter Wonderland" will highlight the annual "Snowflake Ball," to be conducted in the large gymnasium this Friday night under the co-sponsorship of the International Relations Club and the Music Educator's National Conference.

The main attraction of the holiday affair, which will last from 8 until 12 p. m., will be the crowning of a "Snowflake Queen" and the presentation of her royal court of ten princesses.

NORMAN STONE, PRESIDENT of IRC and Alice McCullough, president of MENC, are shown above as they agree to work together for the success of the "Snowflake Ball" Friday night from 8-12 p. m. The two organizations are co-sponsoring the Christmas dance, and the MENC 20-piece orchestra will provide music for the event. (MERCURY photo by Deel)

Candidates for the queen are being voted on throughout this week, and the winner of the election will be highly secretive until 9:45 p. m. Friday night when the royal ceremony begins.

Queen Will Be Chosen

Students may nominate a candidate for queen for one cent, and each vote for an individual candidate will also be one cent. The eleven girls having the highest number of votes by 12 p. m. this afternoon will then enter into another election in which one of the eleven will be chosen as queen. The remaining ten girls will serve as the queen's royal court.

Providing music for the dancers will be a 20-piece orchestra made up of members of the MENC. Vocal selections will be presented by Ruby Elder, junior music major.

The dominant theme of the dance will be carried out by various arrangements of snow flakes and snowballs throughout the gymnasium, and a 12 foot Christmas tree in the middle of the dance floor will set off the theme.

Serve As Chaperones

Faculty members and their wives who will serve as chaperones for the event include Mr. and Mrs. Espy Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Ratliff, and Clarence Maze. Student chaperones will be made up of the presidents and vice-presidents of both the IRC and MENC. They are Alice McCullough, Curtis Fleschman, Norman Stone, Herman Bookjans, and Joe Layne.

Tickets for the dance may be purchased from any member of the International Relations Club for eighty cents per person.

Planning committee for the dance is made up of Stanley Pickens, Annabell McHenry, Howard Hess, Eleanor Bell, Herman Bookjans, and Kenneth Leesburg. Plans are now in a final stage of completion.

"Everybody, including the students of both organizations involved with the dance, the town's people, and faculty members, have been very cooperative, and I personally express my deepest appreciation to them and to the sponsor," stated Norman Stone last week concerning the organization of plans for the ball.

KH Residents Admits Guests

By Iolene Harding

Christmas theme will be carried out tomorrow night in open house at Kanawha Hall. Reception line will be composed of: Miss Pickens, dean of women; Mrs. Frieda Southall, house director; Pat Mannon, house president; and Janet Scott, vice-president of the Hall.

The stairs and halls will be decorated with pine branches, candles, lights, and bright bows. Lantia Wright, chairman; Betty Jo Otto, Sue Criss, Iolene Harding, Sue Click, Kitty Miller, Phyllis Vieth, and Carole Lee Singleton are in charge of these decorations. Frances Sanford, chairman; Pat Christian, Janet Scott, Etta Norman, and Anna Bell McHenry will be in charge of the lounge.

Thelda Strader, chairman; Joann Spicer, Pat White, Jane Riddle, and Sarah Ann Smith will buy the material for decorating. Refreshments will be planned and served by Charlene Cole, Mary Helen Plunkett Childers, Carolyn McCullough and Esther Williams.

Dr. H. B. Heflin Gives Message

"Our best bet is to take care of the things we have, and you have done a fine job," commented Dr. Harry B. Heflin last week while addressing the student body and faculty.

In his semi-annual "State of the College" address Dr. Heflin also told his audience that he was grateful to them for the way they had, and were, handling the various inconveniences that are present this year at Glenville.

The integrated audience was also informed of the present plans concerning the new student center, and Pres. Heflin pointed out that the building should be completed by the first of May, which is three months ahead of the expected date. He also explained about some of the interior decorating concerning the new building.

Other subjects that were discussed before the assembly were the college budget, the proposed new girls' dormitory, and the fireproof.

Campus Gets Holiday Mood

By Joyce Jackson

Santa's sleigh bells will jingle more than once on Glenville's campus during the next week. Old Saint Nick's first stop will be Monday, Dec. 17, at the Kanawha Hall Dining Room.

The annual Christmas dinner will begin at 5:30 Monday evening. Acting as toastmaster for the affair will be Fred Batten. Jack Kaufman will lead the group in the singing of Christmas carols.

The Yuletide feast will include tomato juice cocktail, roast turkey, fluffy potatoes, giblet gravy, chestnut dressing, creamed peas and carrots, relish plate, hot rolls, strawberry short cake, ice cream, and coffee, according to Mrs. Frieda Southall, dining hall hostess in charge of plans for the banquet.

Mrs. Espy Miller will be featured on the evening program reading the Christmas story by John Holmes, "The Story of the Second Christmas." Music for the program will be provided by Alice McCullough and Francis Angelos, teaming up on their violins.

Guests Listed

Guests include Prof. and Mrs. Espy Miller; Dr. and Mrs. Harry B. Heflin; Morgan Heflin; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jones; and Mr. and Mrs. Brown Trussler.

Shirley Chaney designed the covers for the menus, and she also constructed the centerpieces for the tables. Miss Chaney used a choir boy theme for both the covers and the centerpieces.

Sunday night voices of all Santa's helpers on the Glenville campus will be blended in carols serenading the entire town, as the school participates in the annual Christmas caroling, sponsored by Verona Maple Hall. All students are invited to join in the caroling party, which will begin at VMH at 7 p. m.

Immediately after the student caroling, there will be a party for the carolers in Verona Maple, with refreshments being served. Prof. George Howard and Prof. Dick Robinson will chaperone the caroling party. Sally Zeigler, John Kennedy, Jim White, and Barbara

Tradition, Science, or Youth

As we approach the last two years of our undergraduate study, one of the important things we should be framing in our minds is our philosophy of education. This is not a thing that we can define in a moment's time, but it is something that takes pondering and serious thought. No student should leave an institution of higher learning without having formed some objective of education which he will strive to achieve.

In our efforts to formulate what we think is the desirable means of education in our complex society of today, several theories, all of which have excellent points, appear before our eyes. Should the schools perpetuate what remains of the traditional culture as their principal task; should they concentrate upon the dissemination of the new scientific knowledge; or should they train youth in the technology of the new vocations?

Or, is there a need for an entire shift from subject-centered to child-centered education in which the development of personality is the objective?

Any student who has not chosen some philosophy of education, or given it no time and thought, should not be permitted to graduate from any college or university. We are, thus, encouraging you, America's educational leaders, to consider this matter—it is a serious one.

We cannot enter into our vocation with closed eyes and closed minds, seeking only self-satisfaction. Millions of little minds depend on us—we must do what we think best for them.

Each educational theory focuses a new light on our nation's education system; but, boiling them down, which one does America need to safeguard her schools?—Connie Sams

A Growing GSC

During the past ten years, Glenville State College has gotten a general face lifting. New buildings have been and are being constructed. Old buildings have been remodeled. Additions to the physical plant are being planned.

These things have not been accomplished because the State of West Virginia is getting overly free with the taxpayer's money. These accomplishments and many more have been realized through the untiring efforts of Glenville State College's President Harry B. Heflin.

Since Dr. Heflin took over his present position in 1947, a $500,000 structure has been completed and a $225,000 one is now under construction. The Health and Physical Education building, which was completed in 1951, adequately provides facilities for the health and physical education needs of the student body and the faculty. Included are, in addition to basketball floors, facilities for swimming, handball, badminton, and other indoor sports.

The new Dining Hall-Student Union, which is well on its way toward completion, will have a TV room, Alumni offices, and other recreational facilities.

In 1954, the old part of Administration Hall was renovated and turned into art and music departments. The auditorium which is also located in Administration Hall has been graced with new lighting and modern seating. The stage was also enlarged.

Concrete bleachers and a field house were constructed in 1949, at Rohrbough stadium.

Also in 1954, the State purchased the Carey M. Bennett home on Court Street. The two-story structure was completely remodeled and refinished, and was turned over to the Home Economics Department for use as a home management house. The new addition is equipped with modern household furnishings and appliances.

During the past summer, a considerable amount of repair was done to Louis Bennett Hall. New tile and showers were installed in all of the latrines, and the fourth section was almost completely remodeled.

Last year two colored windows were installed in Robert F. Kidd Library. These new windows add greatly to the appearance of the structure, and help to shade the interior.

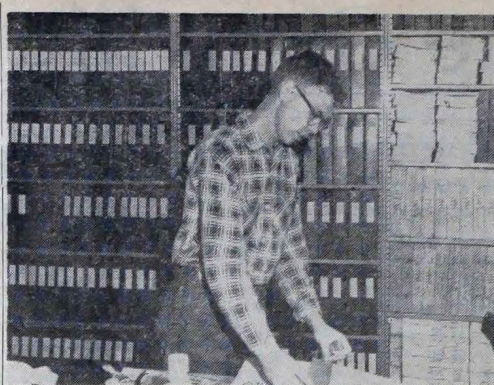

Since school began in September of this year, the maintenance crew of GSC has been busy repairing and laying new sidewalks. In the near future, repairs are to be made on the president's home and grounds.

But Dr. Harry B. Heflin is not satisfied with the size of the physical plant at Glenville State College. He has often suggested new dormitories. As long as he remains as president of this college, Dr. Heflin will continue to do whatever he can to make Glenville the best institution of higher learning in West Virginia.—Berman E. Litton, Jr.

From Confusion--Consistency

Recent changes in school policy regarding campus dress are due largely to the workings of two active dormitory governing boards. Although certain members of the Glenville administration believe in following Pope's philosophy, "Don't be the first by whom the new are tried, nor yet the last to lay the old aside," the Verona Mapel Hall and the Kanawha Hall governing boards have proved that they refuse to accept this "middle of the road" attitude.

Continued partitioning and much deliberation on the part of these two outstanding groups have resulted in two recent changes in campus dress. The girls have been granted permission from the Dean of Women to wear Bermudas on campus and to wear blue jeans in the dining hall for Saturday lunches. The dual action of the governing boards has

Much care and expert skill go into the renovation of these periodicals. (MERCURY photo by Deel)

John James Binds Books Makes Magazines Usable

By Mavis White

Do you ever wonder what is happening to books and magazines in the behind-the-scenes activities in our library? And do you wonder what contributions the student assistants are making to library services as they carry out their mysterious duties at the card catalog, in the office, the workrooms, or the stacks?

John James, a senior and a student worker, knows all about these activities because he helps with them. Not only does he help process books, but he also binds several of the magazines. James is the one who knows where last month's magazines are and what happens to them between the times we see them as current issues and when they appear in the stacks as reference volumes. The work which he does, enables students to make greater use of periodicals.

James, who has worked for over a year on the binding of periodicals, finds his work interesting as well as useful. The work also requires patience and accuracy since each magazine must be carefully checked for missing or torn pages before the binding process can begin.

also resulted in a strictly regulation of the Thursday evening dress.

For ten years the various governing units of the dormitories have been trying to pass the ordinance allowing the girls to wear blue jeans in the dining hall on Saturdays. The decade-long decision was made by the Dean of Women and the governing boards.

The hilltop dormitory governing board has been proving itself praiseworthy during the entire semester, buying itself with analyzing student problems, searching for the basis of such problems, and revising outdated rules and regulations. They have changed the dormitory girl's opinion of the governing board from one of dictatorship to one of understanding.

Not content to accept the rules merely for rules sake, but determined to set up their rules for the girls' sakes, they have established a system at Verona Mapel Hall which the least cooperative of persons would have to deem fair.

President Barbara Taylor, Vice President Sally Zeigler, and Secretary-Treasurer Alenatha Anderson, along with the representatives from each class have made many changes in dormitory policy. Some of these changes are as follows: They have given the girls a five minute leeway each term, allowing each girl to have five minutes late time. They have made the punishment for offenses more or less standardized, so that each girl will understand what to expect for any infraction of the rules.

They have shown interest in the upkeep of the dorm, by providing someone to clean the kitchen each day, with the girls paying her expenses. They have shown supreme confidence in the girls living in Verona Mapel. They have not been so strict as to be dictatorial, nor so lenient as to be lax in their duties; they have not been so insistent as to be disrespectful to their own authorities, nor have they become so conforming to past ruling bodies as to be ineffective.

They have authority; they have powers over their students; most important however, they have an understanding and a respect for each girl in the dorm. By their own actions they have bred respect for themselves and a spirit of oneness and cooperation in dormitory.

Pope Pius XII recently granted an audience to news agency directors from 12 European nations and spoke to them of the mission of modern journalism.

Alumni Notes

By Mavis White

Among GSC graduates who are making outstanding contributions in their fields of study is Dr. Norvell M. McClung, who was recently invited to the other side of the earth to give a paper on "Taxonomy of Prasinomyces (Nocardioidia) Ruber (Casala) Baldacci" Revealed by the Electron Microscope."

The big words in the title are important as they sound. However, to reduce it to more common language, it may be said that the paper is about research done on an organism called Nocardioidia. This organism is a fungus that causes disease of the nervous system in man and other animals.

Does Research

Dr. McClung, who has been engaged in scientific research for some time, in addition to being invited to speak in Asia, Oceania, and Tokyo, Japan, recently received the honor of being granted $6,318 by the U. S. Public Health Service to aid in his research in the field of fungus diseases. His findings in this field are expected to prove valuable to medical scientists in the coming years and GSC will be proud to claim him.

Since September, 1948, Dr. McClung has been an instructor in botany at the University of Kansas. He received his A. B. degree from Glenville in 1936 and after that went to the University of Michigan where he received his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees. He is a native of Nicholas County and attended Richwood and Webster High Schools.

William D. Hanlin, who received his A.B. degree here in 1953, has been named head football coach at St. Mary's High School.

A native of Friendly, Tyler County, Hanlin coached at high schools in Middlebourne and at Ashland, Ohio, before going to Maryland in 1953 where he has since served as assistant football coach at the University of Maryland. While in school here Hanlin was active in sports and received the Frank Montrose Memorial Award.

Doralene Bell, and Genelda Ocran wrote the invitations. Shirley Lambert and Judy Kennedy were the guests.

Entertainment will be in the lounge for the guests. Clara Mae Watson, Joyce Erannon, Shirley Lambert, Alice McCullough and Penny Knicker are in charge of this program.

Mary Underwood, Barbara Haggins, Dorcas White, Lorélla Peters made the name cards for the guests. Posters for announcement of open house were made by Phyllis Young, Margaret Campbell, Bobby Arthur and Carol Gainer.

Fern Mick, Genevieve Newell, Blair, Gail Ratliff, Ann Kerns, Betty Lou Sisk, Ann Dessen, Shirley Johnson, Carol Morrison, and Peggy Perrine gathered pine branches for the decorating committee. Carolyn Ranson, Margaret Ratliff, Jane Shires, Joyce Brannon, Alice McCullough, Carol Summers, Helen Summers and Ruth Creggy are in charge of the cleaning up.

Hilltoppers Whip Byrdmen; Poole, Reich, Reynolds Star

Coach Leland Byrd's hard-luck Glenville College Pioneers found West Liberty's 53-21 halftime lead to much to overcome, and suffered their second conference defeat in as many starts 95-71.

The recent court contest was played in the Hilltoppers' new field house, and was the first meeting of the two clubs this season.

West Liberty's fast moving quintet took immediate command of the hardwood battle by outscoring the Gee Men 24 to nine during the first ten minutes of play. Four quick field goals by Tom Ferkol and three each by Joe Blaha and Bob McNabb gave the Hilltoppers their wide margin.

During the second ten minutes of the first half, the GSC hoopsters fell farther behind the pace-setting West Liberty aggregation. The Pioneers scored on six field goals for 12 points while the lads from the Wheeling area hit on 11 field goals and seven foul shots for 23 points.

G-Men Gain Ground

In second half play, the Gee Men narrowed the margin between the two clubs by outscoring the Hilltoppers 50-42, but could not overcome the 32 point halftime gap.

During the third ten minutes of the game, Rudy Poole and Bob Reynolds aided the Pioneer cause by netting eight points apiece, and Al Reich and John Porterfield kept their team in the game by getting six apiece.

Neither team did much scoring the last fourth of the contest. The Byrdmen hit for 11 points, and West Liberty tossed in ten to end the night's scoring.

Pioneer Palaverings

By Berman E. Litton, Jr.

Officially the football season at Glenville State College was terminated after the contest with West Liberty on November 3, but unofficially play is still continuing in the Verona Maple Hall league. Pioneer lineman Rod Oldham finally shaved, and as a result, has switched to the backfield in the VMH loop because of the speed he gained by losing all that excess weight.

Coach Leland Byrd really seems to have struck pay dirt. He has two freshmen, namely Keith Winters and John Porterfield, who are worth their weight in gold coins. Porterfield, in this writer's estimation, is just the man to replace Bobby Weaver, who graduated last spring. In the recent contest with Wesleyan, the Princeton product did a great job both offensively and defensively.

Coach Byrd and GSC Athletic Director Carlos Ratliff deserves a round of applause for engineering the recent pre-season warmup tournament which was played here two weeks ago.

The recent contests gave the fans a chance to look the Pioneers over, and gave the coach an opportunity to see what kind of metal his players were made of. Here's hoping that this tournament is an annual event for years to come.

The Pioneer Freshman team will play two contests this year. Mountain State Business College will furnish the opposition. A later issue of the MERCURY will carry a complete account of these two games.

Everyone is looking forward to the day when injured Bob Reynolds can return to the White Wave lineup. Reynolds saw a limited amount of action in the tourney against Fairmont, but did not dress for the Wesleyan encounter.

Bob "Hooks" Hardman, former Pioneer great, worked out with the team last week. Hardman holds the school's cage career scoring record. After seeing him sink shot after shot, this scribe sees why he scored so consistently and so often.

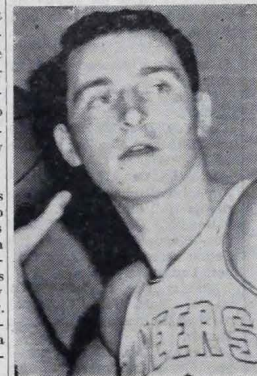

The college nurse, Mary Fest, and Prof. Clarissa Williams do not seem to have lost any of their school spirit. What we need around here are more fans like these two who will yell their lungs out whether the team is 25 points ahead or 25 points behind.

Tech Quintet Beats G-Men

Led by senior forward Kenneth Hammond, the W. Va. Tech Golden Bears defeated Coach Leland Byrd's Glenville College Pioneers 103-83. The contest was the first in conference competition for both squads, and was played on the Montgomery High School floor before a crowd of approximately 700 spectators.

Coach Neal Biasi's quintet was really out for blood in this encounter as six Tech players hit for double figures. Coach Biasi's athletes outscored the Gee Men 44-26.

The first half ended with the Tech team ahead 51-41, but it did not build up that margin until the closing minutes of the first period. The contest was a close one until Adam Coffman and Dick Brown cut loose with four quick goals apiece.

G-Men Take Lead

Glenville's biggest lead was a four point spread which came with nine minutes gone in the first half.

AL REICH

The score at that point in the recent court battle was 24-20. Hammond hit on a hook shot that made the score 22-24 in favor of Glenville, and with a little over eight minutes to play in the first half, Coffman tied the score on a (Continued on page 4)

Wave Faces Morris Harvey, Falcons In W.V.I.A.C. Play

With two pre-season tourney games and two conference tilts under their belts, the Glenville College Pioneers, coached by former all-American Leland Byrd, will entertain Morris Harvey on Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the GSC field house.

This Saturday at 8 p. m., the Gee Men will encounter the Fairmont State Falcons on the home floor. Glenville's last conference tilt before school ends for the Christmas holidays will be played at Salem on Dec. 18, against Coach Clem Clower's game but winless Tigers.

With injured Bob Reynolds back in the lineup and with Larry "Doc" Stanley rounding into shape, the Pioneers will be out to give the Golden Eagles a run for their money.

Last season, Reynolds was second in team scoring with 451 points. In the recent warmup tourney, he saw a limited amount of action in the contest with the Fairmont Falcons. His first appearance in conference competition came in the recent 95-71 drubbing at the hands of the West Liberty Hilltoppers.

Stanley did not report for practice until after the Thanksgiving holidays. The former Kanawha County athlete will probably see action in Wednesday night's court battle. Stanley was one of the mainstays on this year's football team, and was chosen all-conference first team according to a recent release by conference Executive Secretary George Springer.

Porterfield Sees Action

Freshmen John Porterfield from Princeton and Keith Winters from Aurora have been doing a great job of filling in for Reynolds and Bob Weaver, who graduated last spring. In the recent 103-83 loss to Tech, Porterfield scored 16 points and played a great defensive game. Winters started the Tech game at forward in place of Reynolds, and pulled down eight rebounds to aid the losing cause.

Star forward Rudy Poole from Lost Creek is having trouble finding the range this year, but is improving his aim as the season progresses. Poole led the Glenville scoring in both the Tech and West Liberty tilts. Last season, he averaged over 27 points per game for 28 contests, and broke eight individual records in the W.V.I.A.C. tournament at Buckhannon.

Coached this year by ex-club star George King, the Golden Eagles will start only one regular from last year's aggregation, that man being Luther Stover. In Morris Harvey's first three contests of the current season, the rangy senior forward from Pax, the home of Glenville's Lowell Payne, scored 71 points. His finest effort came in the 93-67 win over Concord in which he threw in 33 points.

Eagles Get Sholes

Among other holdovers from last year's team who have seen action for Coach King are Jerry Chandley and Davey Hoffman, former South Charleston stars, Harold Miner, Paul Green, Johnny Harris, Mike Dayoub, and Bob Paskel. Bob Sholes, a freshman from Clendenin and a former teammate of Glenville's Charlie Watt, is expected to see a lot of action for the Golden Eagles.

In regular season games of the 1955-56 campaign, the Gee Men lost two heartbreakers to the Golden Eagles by scores of 107-92 and 82-71. In the W.V.I.A.C. tournament at Buckhannon, the Pioneers defeated Morris Harvey 84-71.

In Saturday night's game, the White Wave will lock horns with the scrappy Fairmont State Falcons. Two weeks ago, the Byrdmen turned back the Falcons 70-67 in the pre-season warmup tourney.

The Fairmont collegians have such stellar courtmen on their roster as Don Layman, Gary Shambolen, Harry Hall, Don McIntyre, and Tom Janicki.

In their first 1956-57 regular season contest, Fairmont defeated GSC warmup tourney winner W. Va. Wesleyan 80-76. The Falcons also hold an impressive 80-68 decision over the Salem tigers.

Pioneers Meet Tigers

Glenville's next away game will be played at Salem on Tuesday with Clem Clower and Byron Gibson's men furnishing the competition.

In Glenville's recent warmup tournament, the height-lacking Tigers were defeated 91-60 by the W. Va. Wesleyan Bobcats, and 80-68 by the Fairmont Falcons.

In their first three conference outings this season, the Tigers were solidly trounced by W. Va. Tech, West Liberty, and Beckley.

Last season, the Pioneers won the first game with Salem 115-89, but dropped the second contest 90-61. Since the series between the two teams first began in 1914, the White Wave has won 33 and the Tigers have copped 15 games.

beautiful jump shot from about the foul circle.

Rudy Poole put GSC back into a 25-24 lead with a jump shot only to have Coffman tie it up again seconds later. Dale Russell hit on a layup to put Tech ahead to stay with seven minutes remaining in the first canto.

During the second half, Hammond and guard Dick Cantley started to hit from everywhere in the front court. Ten goals by Hammond and guard Dick Cantley started Tech's lead to 24 points after 30 minutes of play had elapsed.

The Pioneers outscored the Bears 24-20 during the last ten minutes of the game, but could not stop Hammond who added eight more points to bring his night's effort to 42. The Pennsboro product was aided by Coffman who pitched in seven field goals and one foul shot for 15 points. Cantley, Foster, and Brown, who fouled out early in the second half, also turned in fine performances for the winners.

Poole Gets 19

Poole was high point man for Glenville with 19. The former Lost Creek athlete scored on eight field goals and three for six at the foul line. Closely following Poole were Al Reich and John Porterfield, who netted 16 points apiece. Bob Turner, with 11 points, played his usual top-notch defensive game.

Other Pioneer cagers who saw action were Larry Joe Ford, Keith Winters, Lowell Payne, John Hollister, Tom McPherson, Dorsey Scott, and Charles Watt, Jr.

Turner with 14 and Poole with nine were the top rebounders for Glenville. Reich led in assists with four.

The Pioneers made 31 out of 43 foul shots for a 72 per cent average.

Churches List Weekly News

"Motive," a new magazine, has recently arrived at the Wesley Building. This is a magazine containing items of interest to all college students. Some of the subjects written on are faith, decisions, study habits, and boy and girl relationships. This is a non-denominational magazine written by students in colleges and universities all over the United States with a Christian view-point.

A Christmas party is being planned by members of the Wesley Foundation. The party is Dec. 17, and all students are welcome.

Council Meets

A meeting was held Dec. 8, at the Presbyterian Church by representatives from colleges all over West Virginia to make plans for the Presbyterian Student Conference to be held next spring.

Officers of the meeting are: Jerry Hamill, president, from West Virginia University; Sue Criss, secretary, Glenville State College; and treasurer, Mary Montgomery, Greenbrier College for Women.

Dr. H. B. Heflin

Dr. Heflin also commended the students on their assumption of responsibility, and he pointed out various organizations and activities which have shown this.

Campus Gets

Clark will act as student chaplain.

Santa himself will visit the campus next Tuesday night, delivering packages to both girls' dormitories. School will close next Wednesday for the holidays.

Hilltoppers Whip

broke into the scoring column by GSC's top point getter was Poole who scored five field goals and five for six at the foul line for 15 points. Three other Glenville players hit for double figures. These courtmen were Reynolds with 13, Reich with 14, and Porterfield with 12 points.

Other White Wave players who saw action were Lowell "Deacon" fundamentals conducted by Coach Payne, Keith Winters, Bob Turner, Byrd and the Glenville State Varsity Tom McPherson, David Macé, and Dorsey Scott.

The Pioneers will get an opportunity for revenge when the Hilltoppers invade the local field house on Jan. 8, 1957.

Last season the Gee Men lost their first game to the Hilltoppers when the GSC Varsity and Fresh-90-79, but came back to win their second meeting 93-84.

Palaverings

The W.V.I.A.C. is going to be plenty tough this year. Alderson-Broadus and W. Va. Tech will be loaded with power. Morris Harvey lost most of its first five last year, but showed surprising power in its recent win over Toledo of the Mid-American Conference.

GSC's second annual Coaches and Players Basketball Clinic was held recently with representatives from 13 high schools attending. Schools represented were Troy, Tanner, Normantown, Sutton, Burnsville, Weston, Walkersville, Doddridge, Calhoun, Spencer, Cairo, Glenville, and Sand Fork.

Featured on the program were a session on defensive and offensive fundamentals conducted by Coach Payne, Keith Winters, Bob Turner, Byrd and the Glenville State Varsity Tom McPherson, David Macé, and Dorsey Scott.

The Pioneers will get an opportunity for revenge when the Hilltoppers invade the local field house on Jan. 8, 1957.

Last season the Gee Men lost their first game to the Hilltoppers when the GSC Varsity and Fresh-90-79, but came back to win their second meeting 93-84.

Practice Starts On Prize Play

Regular rehearsals have begun on the forthcoming play, "Death of a Salesman." This will be given in late January, according to Prof. William S. E. Coleman and his assistant directors, Charlotte and Charles Beeghly.

This Pulitzer Prize two-act tragedy by Arthur Miller is an activity card selection. There will be an unusual effect of two separate sound sources as the music and sound will be separated. Randolph Stein is experimenting with film projection for unusual effects.

Ten Students Pledge MENC

Formal initiation for pledges of the Music Educator's National Conference will be conducted this week when ten students who are majoring in music will be accepted as members in the campus organization.

Students who will be initiated are Shirley Hagar, Joyce Brannon, Earnest Backus, Harold Johnson, Francis Angelos, Harold Hudnall, Charles Cross, Robert Row, Charles Massey, and Stanley Burns.

Immediate plans for MENC include the sponsoring of a Christmas assembly, the co-sponsoring of the "Snowflake Ball," and the organizing of a college "pup band."

Officers leading the organization this year are Alice McCullough, president; Curtis Fleischman, vice president; Beverly Clark, treasurer; and Glenda Black, secretary.

Four Seniors Are Teaching

Four seniors who left at the end of the first term have accepted teaching positions in various localities throughout the state, according to Dean Delmer K. Somerville.

Elda Utterback is teaching at the Wright-Denny Elementary School in Charles Town, Jefferson County, and Robert Hale Buck has accepted a position at West Union.

Teaching in an elementary school in Summersville, Nicholas County, is Phyllis Given. Miss Given will return to Glenville fourth term of this school year to complete her degree.

Also teaching in Nicholas County is Jack Cawthon, who has accepted a position at the county high school in Summersville.

Council Plans Student Union

In recent meetings members of the Student Council have discussed plans for equipping, arranging, and managing the proposed student union snack bar.

A trip was made to Ohio University to observe their snack bar to get ideas on what equipment would be most beneficial to students. The council members also discussed the cost of snack bar equipment with officials at the University. Those who made the trip were Prof. Stanley Hall, faculty adviser; David Posey, president; Earl Stump, secretary; Mike Ferrell, treasurer; and Orton Jones, sergeant-at-arms.

In the last council meeting David Posey presented and explained the architect's plans for the snack bar. Members are now studying these plans.
