Library Periodicals Offer Windows For World Events

By Mavis White

If you read magazines, you may be interested in knowing how many periodical publications are in our library for your use. By taking a quick glance at the magazines it may readily be seen that there are many. Just to save you the trouble of counting them, there are 273.

This number includes the popular homemaking, story, and picture magazines and the government and professional publications. The various types of magazines and the large number of subjects which they cover offer relaxation and entertainment as well as helpful information.

There is a periodical to give information about almost any field that you can think of. Among the subjects covered by them are economics, physics, sports, agriculture, chemistry, home economics, physics, sports, agriculture, chemistry, home economics, geog-

Six Enroll In Nursery Class

Six Glenville four-year olds are enrolled in the College Nursery School with Prof. Elma Jean Woolter in charge. Professor Woolter is assisted by members of Home Economics 301, Child Care and Guidance Class. Nursery school meets from 9-12 each morning in the Home Management House.

Children enrolled are Judy Sherwood, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Sherwood; Kimberly Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bartlett; Mary Helen Murin, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Nicholas Murin; Jane Westfall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Westfall; Jerry Orendorff, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Orendorff; and Philip Reale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Reale.

President Eisenhower's recent Economic Report called attention to one of the key variables affecting this country's future—the explosive gain in population we are experiencing. The bare statistics tell the story plainly. Between 1942 and 1957 our population has increased by 35 million people or more than 25 per cent.

Dr. Heflin Discusses Request At Finance Committee Meeting

Dr. Harry B. Heflin was one of a committee of four college presidents that appeared before the House and Senate Finance Committee to discuss budget requests last week in Charleston.

Appearing with Dr. Heflin were E. E. Church, president of Potomac State College; Stewart H. Smith, president of Marshall College; and Virgil H. Stewart, president of Concord State College.

Two major problems that confronted the committee were faculty salaries and building requests.

Groups Plan Full Program

Campus-wide activity at Glenville State College is being centered around Religion in Life Week, an entirely new event that will be initiated into the college's activity program during the week April 7-11. Plans for the occasion are now being completed.

Students, faculty members, and other adults are working together to carry out the week's theme, "The Ring and The Book."

The five-day program, which got its start last summer through the efforts of town ministers and interested faculty members, has been successful in many colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Marriage Is Subject

Seminars, group discussions, personal conferences, assemblies, and classroom talks will be actively concerned with the Christian approach to courtship and marriage during the week.

Special requests and invitations have been sent to Christian leaders in the various fields to address and consult with students during the religious emphasis week.

General chairman for the event is Dr. Bryon J. Turner, who is working with an executive committee composed of three students, five faculty members, and one minister. Members of the committee are Bonnie Gorrell, secretary; Iolene Harding, reporter; Laverne Anderson, treasurer; Dr. Harry B. Heflin, honorary chairman; Dr. Robert Higgins, Prof. Espy Miller and Prof. Genevieve Butcher, vice chairman; and the Rev. Robert Gay, executive secretary.

Serving in an advisory capacity on the Executive Committee are town ministers Lawrence Sherwood, William Morford, Perry McIntyre, and Robert Gay.

Dates for the meeting have been scheduled on the college calendar for Sunday, April 7, through Thursday noon, April 11. These dates have been set, and requests have been granted by the committee that (Continued on page 2)

Be Proud to Teach

"I am a teacher—one by choice
 I am a teacher—a vital part of my profession
 I am a teacher—reaping rich rewards
 I am a teacher—PROUD TO TEACH"

These are the words of John Lester Buford, former NEA president, taken from his article entitled "Proud To Teach", which appeared in the September, 1956, issue of the NEA JOURNAL.

Most of the students enrolled at Glenville will become teachers after graduating. These students will not enter the teaching profession because they are forced to do so. They will become teachers because they are desirous of keeping America strong and free. Without a literate populus, as these future teachers realize, our nation would become inert and ineffective in world affairs.

Few of the men and women now in the teaching profession will readily admit that they are not proud to teach. Mr. Buford states in his article that teachers' salaries are beginning to reach the level of respectability in this country. He also states that more people sense the importance of education today than ever before.

But the moulders of today's youth and tomorrow's citizens should not be proud to teach simply because they are earning a decent salary.

How fortunate teachers are to have work that permits constant association with youth—youth with its exuberance, its joys, its daring, its high hopes, aspirations, and ambitions, its eternal look to the future. As Mr. Buford states, "It is difficult to grow old while we are surrounded by youth."

West Virginia's Corma Mowrey expresses her sentiments toward teaching like this:

"Each day I find myself prouder than ever to be a teacher and to have a part in this great profession of ours."

When we leave Glenville to teach, let us be proud that we have chosen to enter such an honorable profession. Let us always remember that the future of the United States and of the world lies in the hands, hearts, and minds of those students who have been placed under our care.

And too let us remember that the capstone of God's creation is man. Among the unique qualities which man possesses is his ability to think and to choose. Man can not only think and choose. He must. And if he must think and choose, let him think that teaching is the most important profession, and let him choose that profession. Let him be proud to teach.—Berman E. Litton, Jr.

Nation Faces Facts

An avalanche of events had changed tremendously every visible feature of the world's landscape between July 28, 1956, when the 84th Congress adjourned, and Jan. 3, 1957, when the 85th Congress convened as seen from Capitol Hill.

Dwight Eisenhower was returned to office by the voters of the U. S. in a devastating sweep—but for the first time in history a re-elected President is confronted by a Congress with the opposition in the majority; the Middle-Eastern crisis has threatened to break our historic alliance with Great Britain and France; and Poland and Hungary have once again demonstrated to the world the weakness and the constant threat of the cold-war antagonist, the Soviet Union.

Economically, business has continued on the up-trend, but there are many complaints about inflation on one hand and "tight money" on the other.

In parts of the Southland, Negroes and whites ride together on buses and seem, at least by day, to be passing the old way of life.

Each event plays an important part in Congress this session, when for the first time in five months our government is working in all its parts— executive, judicial, and legislative.—Connie Sams.

Dr. R. Higgins Directs Tests

Glenville State College's annual High School Testing Program is underway, and 11 high schools in the central West Virginia area have been visited, according to Dean Robert Higgins, over-all director of the program.

Dean Higgins reports that approximately 1800 high school/seniors in some 33 schools will have been tested when the program terminates about the middle of March.

The tests are administered to high school seniors to give the faculty members of the various schools an additional basis for providing educational and vocational guidance for the students.

Prof. Warden Lane and Prof. Wendell Hardway have been assisting Dean Higgins.

Schools that have been tested to date are Gassaway, Walkersville, Jane Lew, Widen, Clay, Tyler County, Sistersville, St. Marys, Williamstown, Harrisville, and Cairo.

no other meetings be scheduled during this period.

Faculty and student chairman who have been appointed to head the various committees are: Workshop, Sup Criss and Prof. Julia Matthews; Library, Lee Kessinger and Prof. Josephine Fidler; Informal Discussion, Joyce Jackson, Gordon Palmer, and Floyd Miller; Publicity, Connie Sams and Prof. Virginia West; Classroom, Jim White and Prof. John White; Finance, Laverne Anderson and Prof. Mary Lee Ruddle; Audie Visual, Jearl Stump, Ray Carson, and Prof. George O. Howard; Hospitality, Ada Cox; Arrangements, Pat Christian; Preparation, Bill Deel; and Personal Conference, Beverly McComis.

Committee chairmen are now in the process of naming college students to work with them on the various committees. A complete listing of the entire committee set-up will be published at a later date.

Housemother Is Ill

Mrs. EDNA Keim, former house director of Verona Mapel Hall, is now recuperating in the Union-Protestant Hospital in Clarksburg from a sudden illness.

Alumni Notes

By SHIRLEY BROWN

Miss Lucille Hudkins, who completed her Standard Normal course at Glenville in 1922, was recognized by the National Home Demonstration Agents Association for distinguished service, Oct. 31. Announcement of this recognition was made by Miss Gertrude Humphreys, state leader in home demonstration work for the Agricultural Extension Service, West Virginia University.

Recognition service for Miss Hudkins and a group of other agents from 38 states, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico was a high light of the annual meeting of the National Home Demonstration Agents held in Chicago.

During the past year Miss Hudkins served as president of the West Virginia Women Extension Workers Association and of the West Virginia Home Economics Association.

Works In Kanawha

Miss Hudkins, a native of Braxton County, began her extension career in Fayette County in 1944, and has been home demonstration agent in Kanawha county since 1952. She has been active for many years in National Home Demonstration Agents Association, and served as chairman of the first committee of the Grace Fryinger award. She supervises the work of the 32 farm women's clubs in Kanawha County which has a membership of 625.

Prior to entering extension work, Miss Hudkins taught in West Virginia schools for six years and in New Jersey schools for 12 years. She received her A.B. degree from Fairmont State College, and her M.A. degree from Teachers College, Columbia University. She is a member of Epsilon Sigma Phi, extension honorary.

One of Miss Hudkins' primary interests has been the supervision of foods for girls' camps in other states, and for the three weeks of 4-H camps in Kanawha county each summer.

Mrs. Mary Wagner Ashmore, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. John R. Wagner, is now teaching in Bellingrath Junior High School, in Montgomery, Ala.

A graduate of Glenville High School in 1942, she did three years work at Glenville State College, and was graduated as a Smith Hughes Home Economics teacher at West Virginia University in 1947. She has worked as laboratory and bacteriological technician with the Alabama State Health Department.

Mrs. Ashmore is a member of the Alabama Public Health Association and a member of other professional organizations. She belongs to the First Baptist Church and serves as pianist in the adult Sunday School Assembly.

Mother of four children, Mrs. Ashmore is interested in sewing, ceramics, and bridge. Her husband, John D. Ashmore, is at Maxwell Air Force Base.

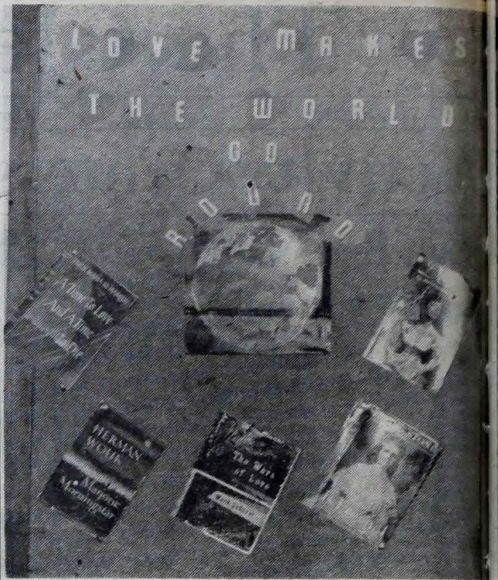

FTA Chapter Gives Program

Members of the H. Y. Clark Chapter of the Future Teachers of America are sponsoring a program for the Delta Kappa Gamma Society Feb. 16, at 11 a.m. in the education department according to Prof. Jewell Matthews, FTA sponsor.

"How FTA helps Future Teachers" is the theme for the program.

MU Chapter members of the Delta Kappa Gamma are Prof. Bessie Bell, Mrs. Muriel Currey, Miss Jewell Matthews, Mrs. Juanita McDougall, and Miss Goldine Woodford of Glenville.

Other members include Mrs. Leah Ball and Miss Eloise Gunn of Grantsville; Mrs. Opal Johnson, Miss Hazel McKown, and Miss Maycell Whiting of Spencer; Mrs. Fay Cox of Millstone; Mrs. Mildred Davis of Flatwoods; Miss Augustine Hyer of Burnsville; Mrs. Doris Terpel of Linn; and Miss Clara Marple of Fairmont.

MERCURY PHOTOGRAPHER BILL DEEL caught the collage "theme of the week" in this Robert F. Kidd Library bulletin board display. Creator of this and many more bulletin board displays is Mary Lee Kessinger, elementary major. Miss Kessinger and Jan James, student assistants, present the "eye catching" displays found each week in the Library reading room and entrance way.

Poet Said It First Maid Repeats It 'Be My Valentine'

By Connie Sams

"Tomorrow is Saint Valentine's day. All in the morning betime. Am I a maid at your window. To be your Valentine?"

Little hearts within and little hearts without will be in order tomorrow to observe St. Valentine's Day, a day that even Shakespeare wrote about in "Hamlet" over 300 years ago.

The legend of the Valentine is an interesting one, and it takes its name from a young Christian who once lived in ancient Rome.

Like so many of the early Christians, Valentine had been imprisoned because of his faith. He thought of his loved ones frequently and wanted to assure them of his well-being and his love for them.

Beyond his cell window, just within reach, grew a cluster of violets. He picked some of the heart shaped leaves and pierced them with words "Remember your Valentine" and sent them off by a friendly dove. He sent other messages that simply said "I love you."

Thus, did the Valentine have its beginning; and so it has remained through the ages.

Chaddock Leads FHA Discussion

"Dressing the Teenager" was the subject of a discussion led by Prof. Lillian Chaddock at Sutfon High School last Wednesday. The discussion was held for over one hundred members of the Sutfon Future Homemakers Club.

Mrs. Frances Howard, adviser for the club, is also a supervising teacher for Glenville College trainees in home economics.

Assembly Set For Tomorrow

Alpha Psi Omega fraternity will present an assembly tomorrow morning at 10:30 in the auditorium.

With Bill Deel serving as master of ceremonies, the variety program will feature the present fraternal members and the new pledges. In addition to pantomimes to the music of that world famous conductor Spike Jones, the new pledges will demonstrate their other special talents. "Some lively drama will be presented," says Deel.

Deel feels that the show will appeal to the average college student.

Alpha Psi Omega is a national honorary acting fraternity. Deel, the president of the campus fraternity.

Miss Douglas Heads Project

"Universal Day of Prayer", which is an interdenominational project will be held Feb. 17. Members of the Wesley Foundation will be in charge of the evening services at Trinity Methodist Church on the day. Plans for the service are being made by Martha Douglas, program chairman; and Bill Deel, deputization chairman.

BYF Attend Meet

Members of the Baptist Student Fellowship and Youth Fellowship will attend a meeting of the Little Kanawha Youth Association at Grantsville on Feb. 17. The Rev. J. C. Miller, president of the state Baptist Youth, will be the speaker for the afternoon services.

G-Men Defeat Three Rivals

Coach Byrd's Gee-Men recently broke into the win column to take three straight victories in conference play. Jan. 29 on the local floor the Pioneers defeated Salem 88-81. That same week end they shifted into high gear to down Concord 98-82 and Beckley 103-97.

GSC outscored the Salem Tigers in the first half 56-49 while both teams scored on equal terms during the second canto, 32 all. The Pioneers took the lead after seven minutes of play and repeatedly fought off the stubborn Salem five throughout the game.

The Byrdmen's biggest margin over the visiting Tigers was 11 points which they held five times in the course of the game.

Bob Reynolds hit for 34 points to take scoring honors for the night. Rudy Poole collected 21 and Larry Barker threw in 17. High point men for the Tigers were Corsini with 30 and Burkhamer who had 24.

Break 100 Mark

In the game with Concord played at Athens, the Gee-Men ran up 98 points to their opponent's 82. Rudy Poole topped the scoring with 40 points. Al Reich added 20, Bob Reynolds, 16, and Bob Turner 14 for a total of 90 of the 98 count.

Jim Rogers, a former resident of Glenville chalked up 19 for the Lions followed closely by Jim Smith who had 18.

Against Beckley, in the last of the two-game road trip, Glenville broke the one hundred mark by downing the southern team 103-97. Rudy Poole again led the scoring for the Pioneers with 34; however, he was topped by Skiles of Beckley with 46 markers for the night.

Bob Reynolds came up with 39 and Bob Turner again added 14. In these three games "Cool" Poole averaged 31.6 followed by Reynolds with a 26.6 average.

GSC Nips Wesleyan Bobcats; Pioneers Face WVIAF Foes

Glenville State's Pioneers edged past the West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcats 82-78 last Friday night in the local field house. The Byrd-coached team led throughout the majority of the game but were never able to maintain complete control.

During the first period, the Bobcats outscored the White Wave 22-19. Rudy Poole and Al Reich led the offensive attack in the opening minutes of play with seven points each. Hess netted eight for the Bobcats in the first canto.

The Gee-Men sputtered ahead at halftime 41-39. Wesleyan came back to take the lead 58-56. This lead was soon relinquished to Glenville due to outstanding playing on the part of Bob Turner who netted ten points in the final period.

Poole, Reich Lead Scoring

Game high scoring honors were captured by Rudy Poole who hit for 32 points on 12 goals and eight for ten at the foul line. Some fancy shooting by Al Reich brought him second high scoring honors with eight field goals and five for six at the foul line for 21 points. Turner followed Reich in the scoring column with 12 markers.

Wesleyan had four men to hit the double figures. McDonald led the attack with five goals and nine for ten at the foul line for 19 points. He was followed closely by Hess with 18 points, Remley and Leonard had 14 and 12 respectively.

Tech Triumphs

The Pioneers fell victim to the powerful Tech Golden Bears before a capacity crowd in the local field house last Wednesday night.

The first half of the game was a nip and tuck affair with the score being tied five times and the lead changing hands the same number of times. Tech took the lead in the opening seconds of the game with a field goal, which was immediately snatched by Poole of the Pioneers. At the end of the first period the Pioneers led 17-14. Poole had ten points in that period with Reich gaining six. Hammond and Cantley led the Tech attack to keep the visitors in the contest.

GSC Leads at Half

The final ten minutes of the first half saw Tech tie the game 21-21, only to be overtaken again by the Pioneers on McPherson's goal. Glenville managed to stay ahead in the remaining minutes of the second canto with the good playing of Al Reich and Larry Barker who threw in six points each. The half ended with Glenville leading 39-36 on the superb defensive play of Bob Turner.

Glenville's second half offensive attack continued but Tech soon found the range and overtook the Pioneers on a hook shot by Ken Hammond 51-49, after approximately four minutes had elapsed. From that point on Tech's lead began to grow. At one point in the final quarter Tech led by 14 points.

Hammond with 33 points captured scoring honors for the night. The WVIAF scoring leader composed this total on 12 goals and 12 for 14 at the foul line. He was followed in the scoring column by Cantley with 19.

Glenville's high scorer was Rudy Poole who pitched in 30 points. He was followed by Reich with 20 and Winters with 12.

Tomorrow night Coach Leland Byrd's Glenville Pioneers will face the Alderson-Broadbudd Battlers at Phillippi. This will be a WVIAF contest and the final meeting of the two teams in regular season play. In the previous contest played at Glenville, the Battlers defeated the Pioneers 82-79.

In the coming contest the Pioneers will be up against A-B scoring ace Joe Miller, and his capable teammates. This year, A-B has virtually the same team which defeated the Pioneers in three out of four contests last year.

State Here Saturday

Glenville State's final game of the season will be played Saturday on the home court against the West Virginia State Yellow Jackets. This will be the second meeting of the two teams this year and this is the second year that the Yellow Jackets have been in WVIAF competition.

Last year's records show a split with the Pioneers taking the first game and State the second. The earlier meeting this year was a thriller won by State 80-74. The Pioneers were unable to hold the lead they established early in the game. Trimble, Whitlow and Young each scored in the double figures to place State in their win.

Poole Scoring Threat

Rudy Poole has been Glenville's consistent scoring weapon thus far for the season and is definitely considered a threat by the opposition.

Senior center Bob Turner is now back into shape after suffering a painful foot injury in an encounter with the Davis-Elkins squad. His defensive ability will be an aid to the Pioneer cause in these coming game.

Other Pioneers who have been seeing considerable action are Larry Barker, Bob Reynolds, Tom McPherson, Keith Winters, and Charles Watt.

3 Teams Lead In MAA Play

By JOHN BOGGS

In the last two weeks the local MAA Basketball league still boasts of 'three unbeaten teams. The "Burkhouse Babies" and the Kappa Sigma "A" have each won six straight games and the team led by John Estep has won five straight with a game to be played on Monday against the "Golden Wazoos."

The Kappa Sigma "A" five defeated the team led by Bob Row in the first game 59-31 with George Cook getting 15 points for the winners followed by George Allen, Mike Posey and Dave Wethern tossed in 12 points. High scorer for the losers was John Hollister with 17 and John Chisler with 10.

Win In Overtime

In the last week's game the Kappa Sigs squeezed by the Holy Roller Court 56-50 in an overtime. The score was tied at 48 all at the end of scheduled playing time but Kappa Sigma five threw in eight points to their opponent's two, to win the game in the first overtime.

Steve Cooper was high point man for the winners with 16 points followed by Posey with 15, while Wethern and Allen each threw in 10. High point men for the Court were Jim Dyer and Anthony Gum with 20 points apiece.

The "Burkhouse Babies" remained undefeated as they took the Holy Roller Court, and the Kappa Sigma Kappa "B" team 61-50 and 52-37.

Miss Sams Edits MERCURY; Other Staff Changes Made

Connie Sams, English and social studies major, will serve as editor of the MERCURY for the first term of the second semester. Prof. Virginia West, adviser. Miss Sams, a staff veteran, has served as reporter, alumni editor, and news editor.

Last fall Miss Sams was editor of the freshman handbook and for the past two years has been a secretary in the MERCURY office. Her secretarial duties include the handling of news releases from the College.

Mrs. Chase At Calhoun

Miss Sams, a native of Parkersburg, was employed in Washington, D. C., last summer for the Army Map Service. She replaces Mrs. Yvonne Hart Chase who is doing student teaching at Calhoun County High School. Mrs. Chase, a graduate of Clay High School, is an English and speech major. She will return to the campus and her MERCURY duties for the last nine weeks of the semester.

John Boggs, freshman of Glenville, and Ronnie Peters, sophomore, of Sand Fork, will act as sports editors for the semester. They are replacing Berman E. Litton, Jr., who is now doing directed teaching at Troy High School. Litton will complete his work this term and will not return to the campus.

Others to join the staff include Shirley Brown, elementary major, alumni editor; and Wanda Bailey, freshman, reporter for the drama and art departments.

Veteran Staff Listed

Other members of the staff who are continuing their work include Joyce Jackson, physical education and mathematics major, copyeditor and WAA reporter; Bill Deel, biological science and speech, photographer; John James, elementary major, literary editor.

Bonnie Gorrell, home economics and art, circulation manager; Barbara Johnson, English and home economics, circulation manager and home economics reporter; Jim White, speech and mathematics, business manager.

Christine Ferrell, elementary, reporter for sororities; Carol Gainer, home economics, music reporter; Iolene Harding, biological science, church reporter; Gene Rowe, biological science, agriculture, science, and fraternity reporter; Shirley Russell, elementary major, reporter for the education department; Dean Smith, English and social studies, student council and assembly committee; and Mavis White, library reporter.

material. Periodical publications which the library feels will be useful in the future have their lives lengthened by being bound. Some are bound in the library; others are sent away to a bindery. The latest available figures show that the periodical reference collection contained 2458 volumes. This does not include those which have been bound in the library.

The Robert F. Kidd Library has been preserving periodicals in this manner for several years. Every issue of "Life" has been bound since 1939. "Time" is bound and complete since 1929. These are two of the old ones which are still being bound.

Others which were formerly bound have been discontinued. Among some of the older of these are two remaining volumes of

Howard Lists New Teachers

Twelve student teachers in elementary education are teaching in the Glenville Elementary School as part of their training in directed teaching, according to Prof. George Howard, elementary education supervisor.

Helen Chisler and Joyce Cochran are teaching in Miss Jewell Mathew's kindergarten class. In Mrs. Jean Adam's first grade room Leona Hampton and Virginia Staats teach in the morning, and Helen Chisler in the afternoon.

Aleatha Anderson teaches second grade in the morning under the supervision of Mrs. Juanita McDougal. Jo Ann Spicer works in Mrs. McDougal's room in the afternoon, and Richard Stewart is teaching all day in this room.

The third grade, Mrs. Lyda Wilson teacher, is taught in the morning by Margaret Campbell, in the afternoon by Joyce Cochran, and assisting with the teaching all day is Harlan Van Camp.

Marita Reed and Jane Shires are working in the first and second grades in the morning. Barbara Ayers is doing her directed teaching for the entire day in the third and fourth grades in John Montgomery's room.

Internal Revenue Speaker Visits Here

"Career opportunities in the Internal Revenue Service" was the subject of a talk by Mrs. Thelma M. Ward, Internal Revenue Personnel Officer, at 3 p.m. yesterday in Room 107, Science Hall. Mrs. Ward discussed the immediate needs of the Service, training program, and duties and responsibilities of agents in the tax enforcement work.

An announced objective of the Internal Revenue Service according to Russell C. Harrington, commissioner, is to bring into the Federal Service each year the best of the Nation's young college graduates and to provide for them the kind of working conditions under which they can build useful and satisfying careers. This year 142 accounting trainee positions in Ohio, Kentucky, Virginia, and West Virginia will be filled by college graduates.

Turner, Bush-Lead Tourney; Basketball Captains Selected

Wyene Turner-Christine Bush remains the only undefeated team in the current WAA badminton series. Turner-Bush are unofficially the champions, as they played all eight of their required games. The battling twosome have completely outwitted their opponents, with their quick serves and well-placed returns.

The past week saw the Pat Helmick-Beverly McComis team, previously undefeated, fall before the hands of Turner and Bush.

Other WAA activities during the past week include the election of sports leaders for basketball and softball. Bonnie Gorrell, a junior home economics and art student from Parkersburg, will act as sports leader for the basketball tourney, which gets under way next week.

Gould Is Sports Leader

Emmaline Gould, a freshman physical education student from Weston will reign as sports leader over the softball tournament later in the spring.

Selected as team basketball captains are Christine Bush, Mida Bailey, Beverly McComis, and Annabell McHenry.

Composing Bush's team are Wyene Turner, Joyce Jackson,

Dorthea Isch, Nancy Gillespie, Rita O'Connell, and Christine Ferrell. Playing under Bailey's leadership will be Virginia Davis, Mary Underwood, Virginia Horner, Connie Sams, and Emmaline Gould.

Beverly McComis will take the floor with Carollee Singleton, Martha Douglas, Connie Marley, Emille Sizemore, and Peggy Tharp. McHenry's hardwooders include Sue Chick, Mary Jane Clevenger, Iolene Harding, Bonnie Gorrell, and Peggy Perrine.

WAA basketball play began last night with practice games. The actual tournament will begin next Tuesday night, with members of the officiating class having charge of the games.

Other recent WAA activities include the giving of $5 to the town recreation committee for the purchase of equipment. This recreation group provides games and crafts for the children of the town on Tuesday evenings.

A regional conference of the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School will be held April 30-May 1 at New York University.
