Band Presents Spring Concert

The annual Spring Band Concert will be presented next Tuesday, April 16, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium, according to Prof. Henry R. Fasthoff, band director.

The Band, composed of only 30 members, is attempting something new in sound on our campus. This type of symphonic sound is quite similar to things that are being heard at Indiana University and the Eastman School of Music, according to Professor Fasthoff. He stated that, "Although the group is small, all the people in it play as if they were in an ensemble—one instrument to one part. There is no doubling of parts."

Program Includes

The program includes, in this order: "Triumphal March;" "Prelude and Fugue in D Minor;" "Irish Tune From County Derry;" "Shepherd's Hey;" "Trumpet in the Night;" "Dance of the Gnomes;" "An Evening in the Village;" "Washington Grays;" and "A Salute to Grofe."

Final Lyceum Set Thursday

Levin and McGraw, piano-duetists, will present the final lyceum program of the year Thursday, April 11, at 8:15 p.m. in the college auditorium. Levin and McGraw are one of the first teams to discard the second piano. They have started on their career with the conviction that music for the piano duet offers sufficient challenge and reward to occupy their musical lifetime. They began their four-hand music in 1951 when both were graduate students at Cornell University.

Was Fullbright Scholar

Monroe Levin received his early piano training at the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music and continued it after the war at Cornell under John Kirkpatrick. He studied in Italy and France as a Fullbright Scholar in 1950-51 and taught piano at Cornell until 1954.

Cameron McGraw, a graduate of Middlebury College, has studied with Egon Petri and John Kirkpatrick. He has appeared as soloist with numerous orchestras in New England and has composed his first String Quartet. McGraw has taught at Middlebury, at Potsdam, at New York State Teachers College and at Cornell University. Levin and McGraw have recently established a center for music study—the Jenkintown Music Studio—in Philadelphia.

Dr. White Is Main Speaker For Religion Week

Five Leaders Visit Glenville

On campus this week to assist with the "Religion In Life Week" activities are five Christian leaders in the field of love, courtship, marriage, and family life. The visitors are Dr. Walter Warrington White, main speaker; and four seminar leaders, Miss Carol Allen, the Rev. Elmer Dierks, the Rev. Jack M. Bemiss, and the Rev. Robert Gunter, Dr. Byron Turner is general chairman for the event, and Rev. Bob Gay is Executive Secretary.

The Reverend White, a native of Richwood, is now engaged as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of South Charleston. He has given three addresses, and will speak tonight in the closing address of the conference. White attended Davidson College in North Carolina; Davis and Elkins College; Concord College; where he obtained his A.B. Degree; and Union Theological Seminary, where he was graduated in 1933.

The Rev. Jack Bemiss, acting as a seminar leader this week, received his A.B. Degree from Centenary College in Louisiana. He received his B.D. Degree from Louisville Presbyterian Seminary and his D.D. from Davis and Elkins College. He taught for six months in the English department of a Missouri College and has held several pastorates in Kentucky and Missouri. Bemiss is now employed as Regional Director of Christian Education, Presbyterian Church U.S., Synod of West Virginia. (Continued on page 4)

Paul Hughes Leads Council; Jones Is Veep

Paul Hughes, a junior from Walton was elected president of the Glenville State College student council for the coming year in an election held last week in the student union.

Other officers elected to represent the student body in their government for the 1957-58 school year are vice-president Orton Jones; secretary, Thelda Strader; treasurer, Trent Busch; and sergeant-at-arms, Robert Eakins.

Student turnout for election last week represented 31% of the total student enrollment. This was a decrease of 22% under last year's student participation in voting for student government officers. Freshmen had the largest turnout with 57, sophomores with 45, juniors 43, and seniors 40.

Makes Statement

Hughes, one of three candidates unopposed in the election, made this statement after election, "There is no doubt that the three unopposed offices indicates a certain lack of interest of the students; but, in spite of this, the interest and turnout on election day was very encouraging."

"This has been a trying year for the council because of some problems that do not generally (Continued on page 2)

5-Day Session Began Sunday

Activity this week on the Glenville campus has been wholly concerned with Religion In Life Week and the program, which started last Sunday, will continue through noon tomorrow, announces Dr. Byron Turner, executive chairman of the week's activities.

An emphasis on religion has been placed in classroom discussions this week, and students have been attending seminars, group discussions, personal conferences, and assemblies in connection with the week's theme, "The Ring and the Book."

White Speaks Tonight

Dr. Walter White, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of South Charleston, is serving as main speaker for the conference. The minister will deliver the last in a series of messages concerning the Christian approach to courtship and marriage at an assembly meeting this evening in the auditorium. His topic will be "Because God Made Thee Mine."

Seminar leaders who have been consulting with students throughout this week are Miss Carole Allen, teacher from Logan; the Rev. Elmer Dierks, Baptist student minister, Morgantown; the Rev. Jack Bemiss, regional director of the Board of Christian Education, Presbyterian Church, U. S.

The five-day program this week is an entirely new activity that is being initiated into the college activity program. Previous programs of this type in colleges and universities throughout the United States have proved effective. Glenville's program got its start last spring through the efforts of town ministers and faculty members. It has been estimated that over 100 students and adults were used in making and completing (Continued on page 2)

Council Officers for 1957-58

PAUL HUGHES, of Walton, who served as vice president this year, has been named Student Council president for the coming year. Council officers were named last week in an election that saw less than one-third of the student body voting. Hughes is standing on the left, Orton Jones, vice president, is in the center; and Bob Eakins, sergeant-at-arms, may be seen on the right. Seated is Thelda Strader, secretary, and Trent Busch, treasurer. (MERCURY photo by Deel)

Students Enter Teaching Term

Students in elementary education have been assigned positions to do directed teaching for this term in the Glenville and Smithville Elementary Schools for the first part of the directed teaching course reports Prof. George Howard, supervisor.

Placements in the Glenville Elementary School are Daisy Bailey who will teach for two hours during the morning and Dora Jean Brannon during the morning in Prof. Jewell Matthews' kindergarten. Elizabeth Otto is in Mrs. Jean Adams' first grade in the morning and John James is teaching in Mrs. Juanita McDougal's room all day.

Dorothy Light and Jean Marks are in Mrs. Lyda Wilson's room. Miss Light is scheduled for the morning and Mrs. Marks for the afternoon. Fay Garrettson and Hilda O'Dell are in Mrs. Nancy Fitzpatrick's room during the afternoon. In the morning Genevieve Newell is in John Montgomery's class and during the afternoon Dora Jean Brannon teaches under the supervision of Mr. Montgomery.

KSK Sponsors Easter Dance

The annual Easter dance, The Kappa Sigma Kappa Ball, will be held in the College gymnasium, Friday night, April 12 from 9-12:30. The queen will be crowned at intermission. The name of the queen will be withheld until that time.

Music for the affair will be provided by the "Starlighters." Admission will be $2.50 per couple, and corsages are banned, according to President Richard Stewart. Committees which have been preparing for the event include: Orchestra committee—Bill Deel, Steve Cooper, Rannie Allen; Promotion committee—Carl Peters, Orton Jones, Dave Wethern, Fred Batten; Decoration committee—Charles Watt, Kenny Wright, Bill Hatfield, Jim White; Intermission committee—Trent Busch, George Cook, and Fred Taylor.

First But Not Last!

This week marks a realization of much thought and planning on the part of many people in Glenville. For the first time in the history of the college, a Religion In Life Week is being sponsored on our campus.

Preparation for the event began last spring when town ministers and members of the college administration and faculty met together to plan the religious emphasis week. We hope that this step forward will lead to an annual Religion In Life Week on the Glenville campus.

Too frequently we, who profess the Bible to be the only rule for faith and practice, do not orient the facts that we have gained into our Christian philosophy of life. In our educational pursuits we must apply elements of the Christian faith. This week is presenting such an opportunity.

Christian leaders from throughout the state are on campus this week to aid in carrying out this year's conference theme, "The Ring and the Book," which is emphasizing the Christian approach to love, courtship, and marriage. They have been meeting with us in seminars, group discussions, personal conferences and assemblies.

The MERCURY, speaking for the student body, wishes to express appreciation to everyone who has worked to make this week possible for us. We are indeed grateful to those of you who have given up valuable time in your own personal Christian and educational work to further the interests of the students of Glenville State College.

We think it is only evident that to make a program such as this successful, it takes much time, work and interest on the part of many people. Now that week is upon us, what it means to your life depends entirely upon us, the individual. A sincere interest on our part to participate in the conference and a willingness to learn how important God is in our marriages can help to make the week worthwhile.

Special thanks go to members of the executive committee, who really kept things in line for the program; and to the main speaker, Dr. Walter White; and to the Seminar leaders.

We are looking forward to an even bigger Religious Emphasis Week on the Glenville campus next year.—Connie Sams.

Methodist Meet April 12-14

The West Virginia Methodist Conference will be held at West Virginia Wesleyan College in Buckhannon this weekend, April 12-14. Students from college campuses all over the state will attend this conference to discuss the relationship of Christianity to problems experienced by college students.

The conference begins at 6:00 p.m. on Friday and closes at 10:30 a.m. Sunday. It will feature addresses, discussion groups, visual aids, and recreation. Among the leaders to be present are: Dr. Edmund Perry of the Department of Religion at Northwestern University; Dr. Karl Myers, radiologist, Philippi, W. Va.; Dr. Haskell Miller, Westminster Seminary, Westminster, Md.; and Donald Kuhn, who helped produce the movie "Far From Alone," recently shown on our campus.

The cost of attending this conference will be subsidized in part by the local Wesley Foundation. The cost of each student will be five dollars. Students interested in attending the conference should contact the Rev. Lawrence Sherwood immediately.

Please note that this is an entirely separate Conference from the Methodist Youth Convocation listed in last week's MERCURY. The Convocation is to be held in Huntington April 26-28. It, too, is open to college students. Students planning to attend the Convocation must see Rev. Sherwood today because pre-registration blanks are due immediately. The cost is five dollars.

arise, and I have no doubt that next year will be also. Therefore, I would like to urge every student to cooperate with your student council this is a time when we need it most. I promise that I will do my best to serve in the interests of the students, and to uphold the points in my platform to the best of my ability" Hughes said.

Orton Jones, a member of the Kappa Sigma Kappa, Alpha Psi Omega, and Omicron Kappa Players, defeated Jack Campbell from Ripley in the race for the vice-president of the council.

Jones says, "I want to thank everyone who supported me and voted for me. I will do all I can to carry out my platform and other problems which arise. The council next year has hard work ahead for them and I will do my best to make its undertakings successful."

Unopposed in the campaign for secretary, Thelda Strader, a sophomore from Walkersville, is a member of the Kappa Chi Kappa, Alpha Delta Epsilon, and W.A.A. The new treasurer, Trent Busch, is a member of the Omicron Kappa Players, Kappa Sigma Kappa, and Alpha Psi Omega. He was an unopposed candidate in the election. Bob Eakins, Holy Roller Court member, was elected sergeant-at-arms over the other two candidates for the office, Morgan Helin, a freshman from Glenville and James Jones, a freshman from Calhoun County High School. Eakins is a sophomore from Walton.

plans for the week.

General chairman for the event is Dr. Turner, who is working with an executive committee composed of three students, five faculty members, and one minister. Members of this executive board are Bonnie Gorrell, Iolene Harding, Laverne Anderson, Dr. Harry B. Heflin, Dr. Robert Higgins, Prof. Espy Miller, Prof. Genevieve Butcher, and the Rev. Bob Gay.

Serving in an advisory capacity on the Executive Committee are town ministers Lawrence Sherwood, William Morford, Perry McIntyre, and Bob Gay.

Films Are Shown In Art Department

Several films have been shown in Prof. Richard E. Robinson's 102 Art Class. Some of the films shown recently have been: "Children Are Creative," "Animules," and "Painting An Abstraction." These films were secured from the West Virginia University Film Library.

Representatives to the United Nations from Israel and the Arab states participate in the first all-college conference on international affairs at the University of Iowa, March 25-27. They discussed "Tensions in the Middle East."

Winston Churchill speaking at Westminster College in Fulton, Mo., on March 5, 1946, said, "An iron curtain has descended across Europe."

Students Give Music Recital

Ruby Elder, Fred Batten, Charles Massey, and Gene Elmore were featured in Sunday's Student Music Recital held in the College auditorium at 3 p.m. Voice and instrumental numbers were predominant on the program.

Miss Elder, from Thursday, is a junior music major. She presented three songs in her soprano voice. These included: "Er Ist Gekommen" ("He Came") arranged by R. Franz; "Nur Wer Die Sehnsucht Kennt" ("Ah! Sad Indeed My Heart")—Tchaikovsky; and "Ice Liebe Dich" ("I Love Thee")—Greig.

Batten, Tenor Soloist

Batten, a senior from Spencer, sang three numbers "If I Could Tell You," "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" and "When Song Is Sweet." He is a tenor soloist, with a field in music.

Massey, of Sand Fork, is a freshman music major. His renditions were of instrumental nature. His clarinet numbers included "Prelude and Balletto" from the Opera-Butte, "Un'Avventura Di Scaramuccia" by Ricci; and "Balletto" arranged by Neils W. Gade.

Elmore, a junior from Spencer, also gave a program of instrumental music. Playing the trumpet, he presented "Variations In D flat, Opus 55" by Henri Busser. He is also a music major.

These three are students of Prof. Bertha Olsen, Harold Orendorff, and Henry Fasthoff.

Uncensored

By JOYCE JACKSON

Softball begins next week in the WAA program. This year little interest has been shown by the girls in the intramurals, and a special lack of interest has been seen on the part of the freshman girls. Don't be afraid to play, girls; we promise, no biceps development, no propaganda that would turn your mind from intellectual pursuits, and lots of fun. No joke it's serious when girls take as little interest as they have been. Are the studies here so hard that you don't have time to take an hour off each week, or are you just too "high brow" for this kind of stuff?

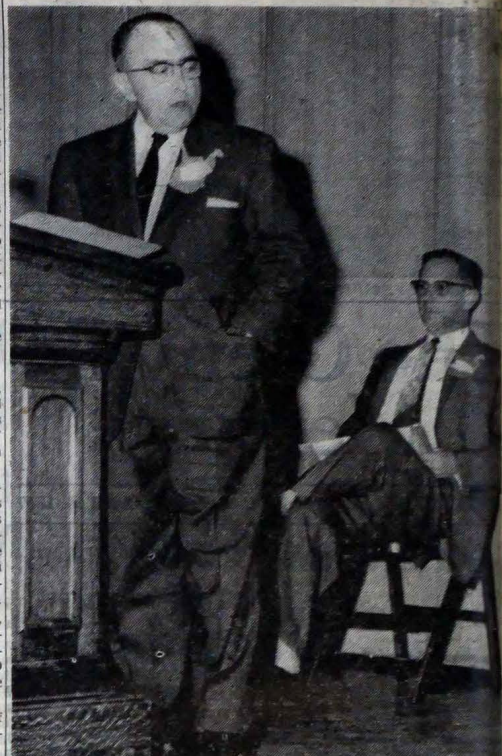

It seems that some of the boys in Louis Bennett Hall are afraid of being sunburned; they washed their windows for the first time in years, and the sun streaming in then proved too much for their delicate skin. Also, the morning sun in the windows has brought about another change—please note the increased manpower at breakfast.

Atmosphere in the Verona Maple dormitory has done a complete about-face since the addition of the new house mother. The dorm is quiet; it is cooperative. Mrs. Westfall has proved what this writer has long suspected—a little understanding along with some well-enforced regulations are necessary ingredients in the recipe for a successful dormitory. The girls are behind this woman and she is sticking with them. Any-one attempting to attack hilltop hall, beware!

On the catty side: Local restaurants wish to express their appreciation to the Rural Education Conference—many golden dollars were spent by many hungry students. On the serious side: Students too believe that this mutual discussion by leaders from industry, business, agriculture, education, and natural and human resources will bring about an understanding and cooperation among leaders in West Virginia much needed as our college seeks to find its service area and fulfill its responsibilities there.

And the weather has been wonderful this week!

Rural Education Keynote

DR. HOWARD DAWSON, director of the division of rural service in the National Education Association, may be seen above addressing members of the Rural Education Conference last Wednesday. Dr. Dawson's topic was "Education Contributes to Cultural and Economic Development." Conference members were actively concerned throughout the day with the theme "Sharing Responsibility for Area Development." The first of these conferences was held on Campus last April. The third has been set for April 16, 1958. Dean Somerville may be seen in the background. (MERCURY photo by Deel)

Prominent Leaders Discuss Problems In Rural Education

Approximately 165 leaders in business, industry, education, and agriculture attended the second annual Rural Education Conference on campus last week, announces Dean Delmer K. Somerville, general chairman of the meeting. One hundred and three college students also registered for the all-day meeting.

Main speaker for the day was Dr. Howard Dawson, Division of Rural Service in the National Education Association. Another prominent speaker was Dr. O. C. Fitzwater who is connected with the United States Office of Health, Education, and Welfare.

It was decided in the various group discussions that meetings such as this should be continued, and the next year's meeting date has been set for April 16, according to Dean Somerville.

Problems Presented
Some of the pertinent issues that were discussed at last week's conference included the great need for economic, cultural and educational development of the general area; the need for a better understanding between business, industry, and education; and the importance of the human element in discussing such issues.

GSC Clashes With Wesleyan In Baseball Opener Today

America's national pastime, baseball, will move into the limelight here today, weather permitting, when the Pioneers open their first diamond schedule against the West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcats at 10 o'clock at Buckhannon.

BULLETIN

Baseball game scheduled with Wesleyan at 2:00 p.m. has been postponed until April 18. The game set with Davis-Elkins for Rohrbough Field Friday afternoon will be played if weather permits.

Glenville State's first home engagement is scheduled for Saturday, April 12. The Pioneers will be out to further their winning ways over Davis-Elkins as they meet the Senators at "Rohrbough Field." Last year's contest was won by the White Wave 8-5, so the Senators will be out to avenge last season's loss.

Practice Is Limited

Thus far this season, most practice sessions have been confined to the Health and Physical Education Building gymnasium because of bad weather. However, hopes are high for a successful season, providing the weather-man is cooperative.

The remainder of the 15-game schedule is Fairmont State on April 25 on the local field; April 27, at Morris Harvey; April 30, at Salem; May 3, at West Virginia State; May 4, at Concord; May 6, at Davis-Elkins; May 9, at Fairmont; May 11, Concord; May 15, West Virginia Tech.

GSC Golfers Open Season Here Saturday

Coach Bob Higgins and his five-man golf team will take on West Virginia Tech here Saturday for the first game of the six game schedule and will meet West Virginia State away the following Monday.

Last year the golfers failed to win a single game, losing the lid-lifter to W. Va. Wesleyan 9½-5½, to Fairmont 14-1, Tech 8-7, Fairmont 11½-3½, and Wesleyan 12-3.

The team did not enter the West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference tournament at Wheeling for Jack of Manpower, but with four men from last year's team back and one who was on the team in 1954 Coach Higgins hopes to have enough men to enter the tournament this year.

Competition for the five starting positions is still open and nine men are fighting for a berth. They are Devo Posey, Jack Reed, Bob Hannaman, Jack Campbell, Dominick Moccia, all who have played previously; Basil Harrah, Ronnie Gates, Mike Borro, and Gordon Palmer, who are newcomers to the Glenville Golf team.

Although relatively few women enroll in technical schools, their number increased 41.5 per cent over 1955. A decrease of 5.5 per cent in first-time students was reported by theological schools.

PLANS ARE SET FOR PLAY DAY

Glenville College WAA will be host to 13 area high schools at their annual play day, according to Bonnie Gorrell, vice president of the organization. The play day is set for Saturday, May 4.

Plans for the event are in the hands of Mida Bailey, a junior from Troy; Mary Underwood, a sophomore from Charleston; and Bonnie Gorrell, a junior from Parkersburg. This committee was appointed by Martha Hunt, president of the Women's Athletic Association.

According to the committee, the following high schools will be invited to the play day: Spencer, Elizabeth, Weston, St. Marys, Sutton, Gassaway, Burnsville, Glenville, Grantsville, Troy, Sand Fork, and Tanner.

The annual event is geared towards giving the high school students who attend a chance to look over the possibilities available in physical education at Glenville College and breeding friendly relationships between schools by mixing the schools together into teams.

The committee reports that plans are still in the formative stage, but the following activities will be participated in: Shuffleboard, ping pong, badminton, volleyball, relays, dancing, and swimming.

Students attending the play day will be divided into several teams. The winning team will be given prizes. Officials for the May affair will be the members of the women's officiating class, which

Mida Bailey's Team Triumphs In WAA Basketball League

Mida Bailey captained her team to a surprising 14-13 win last week over the hard fighting group led by Beverly McComis, to provide the WAA basketball tourney with its major upset.

McComis, previously tied for first place with the team led by Christine Bush, was lowered to second slot, as Bush pulled through for two wins. McComis now has a six win and two loss record, while Bush boasts a six win and one loss slate, with one game remaining to be played.

With the scoring evenly distributed among Bailey's three top forwards, Wanda Bailey, Mary Margaret Davis, and Connie Sams, and some close guarding on the part of Captain Bailey, Virginia Horner, and Mary Underwood, the Bailey hardwooders tamed down the McComis six, in a game close all the way.

Sams Stars

In the final seconds of the hard fought contest McComis led 13-12; Sams picked up a loose ball and slung it at the basket—counting two for the Bailey team. The game ended as McComis took the ball from the center.

In another hard fought game last Monday, Bush picked off Annabell McHenry's group, defeating them 29-20; Nancy Gillespie led the Bush attack, pitching in 12 points. Freshman Peggy Perrine counted 10 for the losers.

In Tuesday night action, Bush downed McComis and Bailey, to declare herself unofficial champion of the league. Wyene Turner counted 18 points in the action against Bailey, and Connie Sams and Mary Margaret Davis hit nine for the losers. Results of the Bailey-Bush game were, Bailey-24; Bush 44.

Bush downed McComis 38-33, with McComis hitting 24 for the losers, and Turner hitting 16 for the winners. In the only other game played Tuesday evening, Bailey downed McHenry 34-27. Once again Peggy Perrine led the attack for McHenry, slipping in 16. Mary Margaret Davis sank 20 for the winners.

Softball Starts

As the WAA basketball tourney entered the final rounds last night, with Bush facing Bailey, softball practice began. Three teams were originally posted, with Wyene Turner, Shirley Brown, and Carolee Singleton selected as captains. Other teams may be formed if enough players sign for them.

Bonnie Gorrell served as sports leader for the basketball tourney and Emmaline Gould freshman from Weston, will head the softball activities. According to Miss Gould, softball will be held on Rohrbough Field if the weather permits; otherwise the games will be played in the gym.

The Morgantown minister was graduated from Linfield College in Oregon, and Colgate-Rochester Divinity School in Rochester, New York. He served for 25 years as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Iowa City, Iowa, and was Baptist University Pastor at Iowa State University. He has served as a teacher and director of denominational and interdenominational leadership training schools for youth, director of the youth council and commissions of the Iowa Inter-Church Council and as director of the European Student Tour.

Rev. Robert F. Gunter, pastor of the Baptist Center, Bluefield, received his A.B. Degree from Howard College in Alabama. He received his B.D. Degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and his Th.M. Degree in psychology from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He did clinical training in psychology at Louisville General Hospital, Central State Mental Hospital, and Louisville Family Relations Center. Gunter has also studied marriage counseling and is now teaching a class in love, courtship, and marriage at Bluefield College.

Miss Carol Allen, the only non-minister among the seminar leaders, is a graduate of Marshall College, where she participated in the "Religion In Life Week" activities held on the Huntington campus. She is a native of Huntington, but is now teaching in Logan High School.

Acting as general chairman and coordinator of all activities throughout the entire preparatory period for the conference has been Dr. Byron J. Turner, chemistry professor. The Reverend Gay, acting as executive secretary, has been in charge of the records for the event.
