The first spring sorority rushing to be on the campus of Glenville in recent years will be held next week by the Xi Beta Tau Sorority. The rushing will open Tuesday, March 18 with the first of two special rush parties.

According to Sorority President Joyce Jackson, all girls who are interested in becoming members of the Xi Betas are invited to the first party, which will be held in the Louis Bennett Lounge next Tuesday. The party will begin at 7:00 p.m., and all girls attending the party are asked to wear blue jeans or bermudas.

The second party will be held Thursday night in the Louis Bennett Lounge. Special invitations will be sent for this party.

Sunday, March 23, the Xi Betas will sponsor a tea in the Lounge from 2:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Prodigals Provide Frat Dance Music

The Prodigals, a widely-known vocal and dance band combination from Clarksburg, will provide the music for the annual Kappa Sigma Kappa Ball, Friday, April 11.

Harry Hull, fraternity secretary, announced that this year's semi-formal dance will begin at 9:00 p.m. and close at 12:00 p.m. Admission costs are to be $2.50 per couple and $1.50 stag. Corsages for this college social event are optional.

Because of their current recordings of "Marcia" and "Judy" on the juke-box at the Student Union, the Prodigals' musical style is familiar to local college students.

In the past, it has been a policy of the fraternity to select a sorority sweetheart, to reign over the dance. The "queen of the ball" has in past years been crowned during intermission. No final plans had been made when the MERCURY went to press.

Students Invited To Guidance Meet Set For March 29

Dr. Eston K. Feaster, dean of the college of education at West Virginia University, along with other widely-known speakers, will speak at a guidance meeting to be held at Ripley, Saturday, March 29.

According to Dr. Robert E. Higgins, dean of men, students are invited to attend the all-day meeting, which will be held at the new FFA-FHA camp at Ripley. The meeting will open at 9 a.m. and close at 4 p.m.

Theme for the meeting will be "Implications for Guidance in the Feaster Report." Dr. Harold Gifford of West Virginia University will tell how the survey was set up and conducted and will explain the sampling procedure. Feaster will speak on the actual implications for guidance in the survey, and Dr. R. Virgil Rohrbough, state superintendent of schools, will speak on the implications for guidance on the state level.

John T. St. Clair, assistant state superintendent of schools, will speak on the regional conferences and implications for guidance in the curriculum.

The meeting will also feature a general session with specific recommendations for state guidance supervisors, college personnel, the state superintendent of schools, and the county superintendents of schools.

Dean Feaster has been in the news since his work in directing a program of research and testing, which has shown our West Virginia school systems to be behind the national average. His recommendations are aimed at putting this state's schools on a par with other states.

DAPHNE HELLMAN

Harpist Slated As Lyceum Number

Miss Daphne Hellman, harpist, will be featured on the Glenville State College lyceum program Thursday night, March 13. Program will begin at 8:15 in the auditorium.

Miss Hellman began the study of the instrument with Renie in Paris, and subsequently studied with Miss Mildred Dilling, a noted harpist, and for a short time with the famous artist Carlos Salzedo.

Miss Hellman was trained as a classical harp soloist. In playing for friends in her home, she became equally expert in mixing classical and popular. The content of her program is determined by the audience and the occasion.

Diversified Program

The diversity of her program and type of appeal is indicated by her great success before such widely differing audiences as the Phillips Gallery of Washington, St. Johns College of Annapolis, Walter Reed Hospital, University of Minnesota, Bill Rose Diamond Horseshoe.

The harpist is scheduled as the fourth lyceum program on the Glenville campus this year. Others to appear here have been Dan Tyler Moore, lecturer; Stephen Barwick, pianist; and The Bishop Company, dramatic group.

Building Gets Face-Lifting Finished In Time For Graduation Exercises

A total of $243,349.50 has been spent in reconstructing the administration building, the oldest building on campus. Of this money, $229,575 is contract price and $13,774.50 is architect fee.

Platform Deadline Has Been Set For Council Candidates

Students who are interested in being candidates for a Student Council office should submit their platforms to the Council not later than April 15. According to Thelda Strader, secretary of the student government organization, the platforms should be written and signed by any ten students who think the person is a good candidate for the stated office.

Candidates will have an opportunity to present their platforms orally before the student body in a special assembly April 17. Elections will be held the following week in the Student Union.

Due to the lack of interest, candidates for offices for the previous years were left unopposed. Secretary Strader urges all eligible students to submit a platform for office.

Qualifications for the office of president are: The candidate shall be a member of the senior class at the time of his election; he or she shall have been a full-time student of the college for a period of at least one year; his scholastic record must show an average of 2.5 or higher; he must be carrying at least 14 semester hours of work; he must never have been charged with a major violation of school regulations.

Vice-presidency qualifications are the same as for the presidency except the candidate can be a member of the sophomore or junior classes.

Candidates for other offices in the Council must be residents at the time of election and their scholastic average should be 2.0 or higher, carrying no less than 14 semester hours. No student officer shall succeed himself in the same capacity.

The newly renovated building will house four additional rooms. The old basement addition is being made into two classrooms for the business education department. One of these rooms will be used as an actual classroom and the other will be used as an equipment room.

The education offices are located in the same position as they were before. There will be a photostat room installed next to the education office. The opening between the two sections of the building has been filled in and will be used for storage rooms for the speech department. Rest rooms are located here.

Changes Noted

Other changes in the Administration Building include the building of a storage vault for the registrar's office. In this vault will be stored records which are seldom used.

The flooring will be of asphalt tile and terrazo, and the walls and ceiling are plastered. All the work has been completed now except the painting and installing of equipment. According to Pres. Harry B. Heflin, the work will be finished by May 1.

H. B. Agsten, Jr. and Company, who have done the reconstruction work on the building, will also re-floor the two entrances into the Louis Bennett Lounge. According to Lloyd Jones, business manager, this work will take $1,565.

Other reconstruction work scheduled to be finished on campus this spring includes the repair work to the Science Building roof, the installation of underground wiring.

Classic Film Opens Club Movie Series

"Oliver Twist" has been chosen as the first weekend movie to be presented by the International Relations Club. To be shown Saturday night in Louis Bennett Lounge, this classic story by Charles Dickens is the tale of an orphan boy in the grips of a bad character.

Besides this film, there will be a number of short subject films. The movie will start at 7:30 p.m. and there will be only one showing. Admission is 25 cents per person.

"Oliver Twist," starring Dickie Moore, starts a series of week-end movies sponsored by the IRC for students who stay on campus over weekends. Later the club will sponsor more-contemporary films.

COUNCIL ASKS STUDENT VIEW

In a recent meeting, the Student Council began making plans to conduct a poll for the purpose of procuring the students' opinions of the food served in the dining hall.

Questions will be asked concerning the likes and dislikes of the students. As of now the plans are incomplete. To carry through this project, a three-man committee was named. Charley Watt will serve as chairman and will be assisted by Orton Jones and Jim Jay.

Indication . . . Indifference

As Student Council election time once more draws near, the editorial staff of the MERCURY has not seen fit to bang its already scarred head against a stone wall of unconcern and re-verbalize the need for student representation in the most important campus election.

Instead, the paper has chosen to present to its readers a catalogue of complacency in an institution of indifference.

Registrar Trussler Will Attend Meet

Registrar Brown Trussler will be off campus April 21 through 25 in order to attend the annual meeting of the National Association for College Registrars, which will be held at the Netherlands-Hilton Hotel in Cincinnati, according to college administrative officials.

Trussler will be attending the meeting, for collegiate registrars only, along with persons holding the same position as he from colleges and universities throughout the nation.

The meeting's discussion will include office management techniques, selective admission proposals, time-saving machines, and general problems that confront registrars in dealing with college students.

Yearbook Editor Completes Drafts

According to Randolph Stein, KANAWHACHEN editor, the final draft for the yearbook has been completed and sent to the printer. The book may beat the previously-announced May 15 distribution date.

A campaign for subscribers was started here registration day. By the Oct. 10 deadline 303 subscriptions had been secured, assuring the existence of a yearbook for '58. The first KANAWHACHEN was published in 1911; the last yearbook on campus was in 1956.

Alpha Delta Epsilon business fraternity was in charge of advertising subscriptions. Bill Deel is yearbook photographer; Dr. Joan Doyle is the adviser.

Stein and Deel announce that anyone who would like a print of any yearbook photograph contact them and place the order. Pictures of small groups of students, campus organizations, and individual photos were all taken for the yearbook.

Miss McCullough Is Program Head

Carolyn McCullough, sophomore elementary student, is serving as program chairman for Wesley Foundation. The group is now studying "The Burning Thirst," a book presenting the life of John Wesley.

Wesley Foundation meets each Sunday evening at 7:00 in the Trinity Methodist Church. Betty Selman will be in charge of the March 9 program. The Rev. Lawrence Sherwood is adviser for the group.

Music Department Gets Record Player

As a part of their public relations program, the Monongahela Power Company has given Glenville State College a mahogany Maganavox High Fidelity record player.

Glenville was one of four colleges in West Virginia selected to receive a gift from the power company. Others selected were Salem College, West Virginia Wesleyan, and Fairmont State College.

The record player is located in Miss Bertha Olsen's office in the music department. It will be used as an aid to the applied students of music for outside listening assignments.

On The New Book Shelf

Two features of the New Books shelf in the Robert F. Kidd Library this week are "Money of Their Own" and "Jesus Compared."

The first, written by Murray Teigh Bloom, is an account of the world's greatest counterfeiters. An original and offbeat book, "Money of Their Own" takes incredible items from the files of Murray T. Bloom, a reporter for several years who is now a free-lance magazine writer living in New York.

He tells of individual cases of counterfeiters and stamp counterfeiters. The stories of exceptionally talented men—especially the industrious penman who drew U. S. bills that fooled even the experts—presented in this book makes it a natural for the student of true crime.

Study of Religion

"Jesus Compared," another book found in the New Books section, deals with Jesus and other great founders of religion. It presents an informative and provocative study of the founder of the Christian tradition through a comparison of him with the initiators of the other great religions of the world.

This book centers on Jesus and indicates the ways in which his counterparts in the other major religions resemble or differ.

Other religious figures discussed are Buddha, Krishna, Mahavira, Nanak, Confucius, Lao-Tzu, Zoroaster, Moses, and Mohammed.

Dr. Charles S. Braden, educator and theologian, evaluates the sources upon which our present knowledge of Jesus is based. In "Jesus Compared" he deals with all the religions fairly and in a manner as completely free of religious bias as possible.

Dr. Ward Directs Biology Seminar

Seven students have enrolled in a plant ecology seminar to be held here through March and April under the guidance of Dr. Max Ward, chairman of science and mathematics.

Marvin Stemple, Gene Rowe, Winnetta Bowman, Eleanor Pinnell, Lowell Weekley, Thomas McPherson, and Ann Jones expressed interest in the seminar at the preliminary meeting held Monday, March 3. The second meeting of the group was yesterday at 4:00 p.m.; Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. will be the regular meeting time throughout the seminar.

The non-credit seminar is open to anyone, particularly students in biology. Weekly lectures will be one or one and a half hours long over a period of five, six, or seven weeks. Students will also carry Saturday field projects—individual or small groups—which may be done on other days if desired.

HRC Will Sponsor All-Student Mix

Holy Roller Court will sponsor an all-student mix in the Student Union on Friday, March 14, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

Bob Eakins, junior from Walton, will serve as master of ceremonies for the program which will consist largely of square dancing. Music for other types of dancing will be available and played as demanded.

Dining Hall Staff Honors Head Cook; Mrs. Self Will Retire From Kitchen

By DOROTHY BUTLER

With the aroma of baking pies and newly-baked bread surrounding us, this reporter met Mrs. Edna Gay Self, head cook for the Dining Hall, in the kitchen bakery. Five days before, this room had been the scene of a surprise birthday party given for Mrs. Self by the other cooks and helpers.

On May 22, Mrs. Self will have been head cook at Glenville State College for five years. She began working here following the death of her husband six years ago. She plans to retire July 1.

Mrs. Self, the mother of three children, is from Stouts Mills. Her daughter, Eulala, is married and lives in Randolph County. Her two sons, Holland and Ottaway, live at Stouts Mills.

Friday, Feb. 28, was Mrs. Self's sixty-fifth birthday anniversary. Mrs.

Self was told that she would not have to report for work until 3:30 that evening. When she arrived in the kitchen, a surprise birthday supper was ready for her. The cake did not arrive until the next day, so really she had two birthday celebrations.

Mrs. Self described the cake as "white trimmed in pink—no candles." She received many nice gifts. All 12 of the kitchen helpers were there for the celebration; Mrs. Emma Wolfe, Mrs. Self's aunt also came to the party. MERCURY Photographer Bill Deel was also present.

When asked what she plans to do after retirement, Mrs. Self replied that she is going to stay home and raise chickens and pigs on her little farm at Stouts Mills.

Of her fellow cooks she said, "I miss them all; I like to work with them and like them all."

IRC Holds Discussion On Nasser's Empire At Meeting Tomorrow

"The Arab Empire of Nasser" will be the topic of discussion at the International Relations Club meeting tomorrow at 7:00 p.m. announces Gerrall Chapman, program chairman.

Dorothy Butler and Gerrall Chapman will serve as leaders in the open-floor discussion of the topic. The meeting will be held in Room 207A; anyone interested in participating in the discussion or visiting the meeting is invited to attend.

Next regular meeting of the club will be March 27. Members may be taken into the club at any time.

Those attending were Beverly Rogers, Joy Lee Horn, Lois Moore, Kathryn Godfrey, Wilodene Jones, Mary Sue Davidson, and Laverne Anderson.

"Christ and the Community" was the main topic. The Rev. Paul A. Younger, one of the speakers, discussed "Theological Foundation."

SPORTS CAPSULE

By EDWIN WARE

"Old King" basketball has bowed out of the local spotlight and athletic fans are patiently awaiting the beginning of the various spring and summer sports, especially baseball and golf.

Limited action on the baseball front is the present situation with only pitchers and catchers working toward the season opener with West Virginia Wesleyan on April 11 at Buckhannon. Infield and outfield practice is expected to begin just as soon as possible.

On the golf scene, the action is extremely limited. Only a few prospective players have been teeing off for a round of golf on the 9-hole Sycamore Run course. An official meeting of the golf team will be held during the last week in March. Definite plans will be made for the season which will open April 11 at Elkins.

Because of the lack of action on the active sports scene, let us take a look at the many honors reaped by G.S.C. athletes in the past year.

Earlier this year, from coach "Nick" Murins football squad, two men were named to the All WVIAA football squad. These men were Keith Pritt, senior guard and "Doc" Stanley, junior halfback. Both men are graduates of Dupont High School.

Pritt, well known for his top line play, was selected to the mythical eleven for his first time.

Stanley, a 1956 selection, is known as quite a "work-horse" and has to his credit three years of sparkling performances for the Pioneers.

Another Pioneer who has won recognition for G.S.C. is big Rudy Poole, a native of Lost Creek.

Poole, a senior, became the first G.S.C. cage player to score in excess of 2000 points in a four year career. Not only is he the sole Pioneer to do the trick, but he is among the few in the state who have succeeded.

In his sophomore year, Poole, reaped double honors by being named to the All-tournament team and All Conference team. Again in his Junior year, the All-tournament honors came his way. Also he was named to the All Conference second team.

Again this season Poole earned his place on the All-tournament team, mainly by a 40 point, 27 rebound performance against the Salem Tigers.

Poole is a leading candidate for the All Conference team this season. During this season he averaged 24.5 points and 15 rebounds per game. He led the team in both field goal and foul shooting percentages with 50.2 and 81.3, respectively.

Incidentally, we haven't heard from our old buddy, Donald "Hank" Brannon. "Hank" fractured his spine recently and is reported recuperating at his home near Troy. "Hank" would probably appreciate a note from some of his many friends, especially those who have been associated with the athletic program.

Gridiron Schedule Lists 7 Contests

Athletic Director Carlos Ratliff has released the 1958 football schedule. The schedule consists of seven games with the opener against the West Liberty Hilltoppers at West Liberty.

Glenville's Homecoming foe will be the Davis Elkins Senators on Oct. 11.

One game, with the West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcats, will be played on the Weston High School field.

Expected to return from Coach Nick Murin's 1957 squad which posted three wins against two losses and one tie are Larry Stanley, Junior Wilson, Bud Minner, Ronnie Peters, Bob Orth, Steve McMillion, Jack Campbell, Paul McKown, Glen Martin and Jim Dotson.

Minds that have nothing to SAY find lots to SEE.

GSC Class Tournaments were completed last week with the Mens Division being won by the seniors. In emerging victorious, the seniors outlasted the freshmen in the opening round and finished off the sophomores in the finals.

In the opening round, the Senior men downed the Freshmen by a score of 73-58. Rudy Poole canned 30 points for the winners and Mel Edwards led the Frosh attack with 18 markers.

Also in the opening round, the Sophomore men clobbered the Junior aggregation, 103-87. Larry Barker paced the sophs with 31 markers, Charlie Watt canned 22 and Bud Minner added 17. The Juniors were paced by "Doc" Stanley with 20 and Lawrence Reed with 17.

In the finals, the seniors squeezed out an 85-83 victory over the sophomores for the championship. Bob Reynolds led the Senior attack with 31 points. Teammate Rudy Poole connected for 22. The Sophomores were sparked by Watt with 26, Barker with 23 and Minner with 20.

Alumni Banquet Set for May 24

Glenville State College Alumni Association met March 1 and voted to purchase caps and gowns to be rented to graduating seniors. Rental fees will be the same as in the past when the caps and gowns were rented from commercial companies.

According to minutes of the meeting, the Association also made plans for the Alumni Banquet to be held May 24. Committees to handle food, program, dining room, ticket sales, and a welcoming committee were set up.

Golden Anniversary Certificates will be issued at the banquet to all members of the Alumni Association who graduated 50 or more years ago.

Alumni President Harry Baker of Little Hocking, Ohio, presided at the meeting. A nominating committee for officers for next year was appointed. Serving on the committee will be Russell Bell, Michael Ayers, and Mrs. Elizabeth Deltz.

A financial report, presented by Mildred Nocald for John White, was accepted by the Association. A new dues-form to be mailed to each member of the Alumni Association within two months was also approved.

Next meeting of the Association is set for May 24 at 2:00 p.m. in

The National Academy of Sciences, the nation's top-ranking scientific body, recently issued an interim report with several far-reaching recommendations. The committee's first recommendation calls for the immediate increase of present support for meteorology at the universities and kindred institutions by 50 to 100 per cent.

Music Professor Receives Listing In 'Who Is Who'

From a restricted selection of tens of thousands within the frame of eligibility, Prof. Harold S. Orendorff was recently chosen to appear in "Who Is Who in Music," an encyclopedic-almanac-biographical type of book.

This book is a reference work on international music instructors and professional musicians. It is distributed throughout the world to libraries and universities and other institutions of learning.

Included in the book will be a biographical section, a picture section of international campus and conservatories of music, and a musical association section which lists all the musical associations of the world.

Professor Orendorff served as president of the West Virginia Music Educators Association for 1956-57. The West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcats also are in Kansas City to represent the state of West Virginia in the play-offs. The Bobcats defeated the Tech Golden Bears to earn the right to compete for the NATA Championship. Good Luck, Bobcats!

Coach Leland Byrd goes on the banquet circuit next month. Coach Byrd has been touring the banquets as a speaker and no doubt he always keeps a sharp lookout for basketball talent. Coach Byrd will probably be the guest at some eight or nine banquets. This type of man is Glenville's best publicity agent. Maybe there should be a few more banquet speakers around campus.

Most of us can suggest sacrifices it would be wise for others to make.

'Chaucer' Returns To Library Shelf

Straying Volume XXII of the "World's Great Books" has returned to the Robert F. Kidd Library. The recently-publicized search for "Chaucer" is now discontinued, announces Miss Mary Susan Brown, assistant librarian.

Miss Brown discovered the book Thursday on Mr. Wallace's Music 101 reserve-book shelf. She said the volume hadn't been there long or it would have been found.

Miss Brown was appreciative of the book's being returned; Chaucer's ideas and philosophies are again in their proper place in the gift set of the "World's Great Books," valued at $190-$200.

February 12 issue of the MERCURY carried a short article disclosing the absence of this book from the library. Three weeks and one day later the volume is back in the library.

Agriculture Dept. Has 32 Students

There are approximately 32 students enrolled in agriculture at Glenville State College, reports Byrl L. Law, assistant professor of agriculture. Of this 32, some are enrolled in pre-veterinary and some in forestry.

All will be able to get only two years work in their field at Glenville, after which they will transfer to West Virginia University or some other school.

Three of those who have recently transferred to the University to continue their agriculture work are Okey Gallion, Jr., Roy Edward Bright, and Jack Workman.

New faces at the College Farm include that of Lowell Weekly who has taken the place of Louis Hanifan in the pasteurizing department. At present, Weekly is assisting Claude Walkup as pasteurizer and will have charge of that job through the coming summer.
