Ivy Baker Priest Will Address '58 Graduating Seniors

High School Students, Sponsors Visit Campus

600 Seniors Are Invited to Fete

By CONNIE SAMS

High school seniors and sponsors from fifty high schools in West Virginia have been invited to attend the college's annual Senior Day program tomorrow, and approximately 600 students have indicated plans to attend the all-day affair, according to Registrar Brown Trussler, over-all director.

Senior Day, which has been scheduled as an annual campus event since 1948 with former Registrar Michael E. Posey as the originator, has served to acquaint students of the central West Virginia area with the opportunities, possibilities, and services that the college presents for them.

Assembly Scheduled

Tomorrow's Senior Day program will open with a general assembly in the college auditorium at 10 a.m. Music will be played by the college band, under the direction of David Wallace while students are gathering in the auditorium. The program will officially open with comments by Registrar Trussler, Student Council President Paul Hughes and President Harry B. Heflin. Heflin will also present the welcoming address.

The next part of the program will include announcements and the presentation of student guides, who will familiarize the visiting seniors with the Glenville campus. Introduction of the administration and college personnel will also be conducted at this time.

Target Date Set For Book Release

Distribution of the 1958 KANA-WACHEN will take place in about two weeks, Randolph Stein, editor, has announced. Publication schedule for the books calls for shipment from the printers no later than May 9. The annual will be distributed on campus as soon as it has been received.

Stein indicated that the 1958 yearbook will be the first annual in several years which has been available before the end of the school year. It was also pointed out that a major departure in layout and coverage was used in the 1958 annual. Stein stated that the book would attempt to present a more comprehensive and attractive coverage of campus life and activities.

Other KANA-WACHEN staff members included William Deaf, photographer; Winnetta Bowman, associate editor; and Jearl Stump, business manager. Dr. Elizabeth Doyle was faculty adviser.

Ellis, Stanley Seize Council Race; Student Vote Doubles '57 Record

Ray Ellis, a junior from Spencer, was elected president of the Glenville State College Student Council for the coming year, in a recent election held in the Student Union.

Other officers elected to represent the student body for the 1958-59 school year are Larry "Doc" Stanley, vice-president; Iolene Harding, secretary; Ed Sweeney, treasurer; and Steve Taylor, sergeant-at-arms.

Students voting in the election represented 66 per cent of the student enrollment, much exceeding last year's 31 per cent. Largest class percentage voting was the juniors with 75 out of 100 students marking a ballot. The freshman class had the highest number, sending 150 persons to the polls; sophomores had a 103 total, and seniors had 46.

Ellis, member of Kappa Sigma Kappa and the G-Club, made this statement following the election. "I, as president of the Student Council, plan to cooperate with the administration 100 per cent and I'll attempt to benefit the student body in every way possible. I would like to thank every student personally for the votes that I received in the election. I am sure if we all work together as a student body we can have one of the best student governments in the state."

Stanley, who defeated his only opponent, Jackie Millard, had this to say: "I'd like to thank each and every one who has made it possible for me to obtain this office. I shall

Yours For a Day - Or Longer

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR - This Is Your Day. This is your chance to ask questions, observe, and learn. Glenville State College is opening its doors to you; take advantage of this opportunity to explore the possibilities of GSC.

GLENVILLE STATE is one of the least expensive—yet highly recommended—colleges in West Virginia. Tuition for a semester is only $25.00; an activity fee of $10.00 a semester enables the student to attend collegiate sports activities, lyceum programs, and plays, and makes him eligible for a copy of the MERCURY each time it is published. A student union fee, $5.00 a year, helps pay for the operation and maintenance of the Student Union, the center of campus life.

GSC IS A MEETING-POINT of the advantages of both large and small schools. In a school of this size it is possible for satisfactory student-instructor relationships to be achieved. Each enrolling freshman will be assigned to a faculty adviser who will help him with class-scheduling problems and any other difficulties which he may encounter while a student here.

NUMEROUS CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS offer many chances for the student to become acquainted with fellow-students and participate in campus activities. Fraternities, sororities, mixes, dances, clubs, sports activities, band, and chorus are all open to students and add to the friendly atmosphere found on campus.

FIVE STUDENT-ELECTED OFFICES and the four class presidents make up the student governing body, the Student Council. The five officers are elected each spring and take office the following fall.

SENIOR, THIS IS YOUR DAY. Visit any department which may be of interest to you and talk to any instructor who is in your field of interest. We say "welcome" to you, not only for today, but also for the coming four years should you decide to make this your school this fall.

Final date for completion of the renovation has been set for May 15.

Drama Department Gives Italian Play; New Faces Will Star In Production

"Right You Are If You Think You Are" was written by the noted Italian playwright, Luigi Pirandello. The production of "Right You Are" is an event anywhere in the world, and especially the United States for Pirandello's plays have been rarely translated.

According to Director William S. E. Coleman, this will be the third or fourth production of "Right You Are" in this country. Mr. Coleman served as an assistant director on one of the other productions of this play which had a friend of Pirandello's as a technical adviser.

Nobel Prize Winner

It is a rare event for a small college to produce a play by a Nobel Prize winning author, but this season Glenville audiences will have the privilege of seeing plays by two such authors. The recent production "Misalliance" was written by Bernard Shaw who received his prize in 1925, and Pirandello received his Nobel Prize for "Right You Are" in 1934.

Many new faces will appear in this play. Included in this group are Gail Ratliff, Pat Lyon, Norma Curry, Beverly Rogers, Jane Ruckman, Jim Marteney, and Patricia Starkey Smith. Those who have had major roles in the past include Eddie McKown, Rodney Busch, John Boggs, Trent Busch, Mark Stewart, and Jim Jones.

Jones Is Producer

Jim Jones, Beverly McComis, and Loretta Pernel are acting as coaches to individual actors. Jim Jones is producer, and Beverly McComis is assistant director.

The play is a mystery with comedy overtones. It will be presented arena style on the auditorium stage. The secret ending of Luigi Pirandello's "Right You Are" will be withheld even from the members of the newly selected cast. The mystery woman in the ending of the play will not be cast for several weeks. Rehearsals will be closed to all visitors.

Glenville to Enter State Speech Fete

Glenville State College's play in the State intercollegiate Speech Festival will be an original one act by William S. E. Coleman. The play, "Rondo," is in blank verse and is set in the Middle Ages.

"Rondo," was previously performed at Pennsylvania State University in 1954. It was also presented over WMAJ, State College, Pennsylvania, and will be presented in a tape version over WHAW, Weston in early May.

The cast includes Rodney Busch, Trent Busch, Shirley Lightner Lowe, Mark Stewart, Jim Marteney, Jim White, Eddie McKown, and Gerald Kress. Rehearsals for the play started during the third quarter.

Speech students plan to enter other areas of the festival as well. The areas are interpretation, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, of which Mr. Coleman is state chairman, and radio.

The State Speech Festival will be held at Jackson's Mill May 7, 8 and 9.

Shortly after 11:30, luncheon will be served to the visiting groups in the college cafeteria. All seniors and their sponsors will be guests of the college.

Various activities, such as swimming, dancing, and attending a college baseball game, have been scheduled for afternoon entertainment.

Trusser stressed that seniors are encouraged to visit the various departments in which they are interested and to consult any faculty members that may be present concerning the program of future college plans.

It has been requested that college students not drive to classes tomorrow unless it is absolutely necessary. Students are not to park on any of the parking lots on campus because they will be reserved for the school buses and for cars that will be bringing the visiting seniors.

High schools which have been invited to attend the annual program are Burnsville, Cairo, Calhoun, Clay, Clendenin, Cowen, Crichton, Doddridge County, Elkview, Gassaway, Glenville, Greenbank, Harrisville, Jane Lew, Marlinton, Nicholas County, (Summersville), Normantown.

Ed Sweeney, a sophomore from Weston, was elected treasurer. He is a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa. Sergeant-at-arms for the coming year is Steve Taylor, a physical education student from Michigan.

Baseball Nine Loses Double Header To Tech Bears By 8-7, 1-0 Margins

West Virginia Tech furnished the opposition as the Glenville State baseball team swung into action for the 1958 season. After considerable delay in the opening of practice and a week of foul weather during the scheduled opening week, the Pioneers fell in a double header to the Bears on April 19 at Montgomery.

Coach Carlos Ratliff's diamond men built up a commanding 6-1 lead behind the pitching of Kenny Wright, but the Gee Men could not hold the Bears as the latter rallied late in the game to score an 8-7 victory.

McKown Gives Up One Run
Paul McKown took to the mound

in the second game after relieving in the first game and succeeded in holding the Techmen to one run. Glenville failed to continue a seventh inning rally and fell behind in a shut out 1-0 victory for the Golden Bears.

Davis Elkins was the scheduled opponent for April 22 but bad weather combined with an unfinished wire barrier behind home plate at Rohrbough Field caused a postponement.

Alderson Broadbuss was to have been the April 22 opponent but wet grounds forced the postponement of this game.

A rescheduled game at Buckhannon with W. Va. Wesleyan was set for April 25 and Concord was the Pioneer opponent in a contest at Athens on April 26. Results of these games were not available when the MERCURY went to press.

Glenville was host to the West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcats at Rohrbough Field yesterday.

GSC Band Members Will Be In Parade

Among the many bands marching in the Armed Forces Day parade at Clarksburg on May 3 will be the marching band of Glenville State College. Bands from the north central part of West Virginia will participate in the parade.

The 25-piece band is under the direction of David E. Wallace.

Glenville Meets Eagles Tomorrow

Glenville State's neophyte baseball aggregation will play before a crowd of high school seniors tomorrow at Rohrbough Field. Glenville's Senior Day opponent in tomorrow's game will be the Morris Harvey Golden Eagles.

Coach Carlos Ratliff will probably go with either Kenny Wright or Paul McKown on the mound. George Cook will complete the battery.

The infield duties will fall to Jim Cox at first; Tom Schell at second; Ronnie Peters on third and Larry Nichols at shortstop. Other possible infield starters are Bob Gandee, Junior Wilson, Bob Oliver and John Chippis.

Veterans In Field
Glenville's outfield will be capably manned by veterans Dave Mace, Steve Cooper and Ray Ellis. All have seen plenty of action in GSC play and have contributed some outstanding performances.

The Pioneers travel to Salem on May 2 to meet the Salem Tigers; Concord is the GSC guest on May 3; and Fairmont College is the opposition on May 6.

May 8 pits the Pioneers against the W. Va. State Yellow Jackets at Rohrbough Field. The Pioneers are the guest of Fairmont College on May 10; Alderson Broadbuss hosts the GeeMen on May 14; and the Pioneers meet Salem in a rescheduled game moved from April 18 to May 16.

Elkins is the scene of a May 17 game with Davis Elkins, and West Liberty comes to Glenville on May 24 to put the top on the season. An away game with Morris Harvey is a probability.

Pioneer Golf Team Preps for Matches

Golf play was to have begun on April 11 at Elkins against the Senators. Rain forced the postponement of this match and plans now are to play the match along with Wesleyan on May 8 at Buckhannon.

The only match played by the Pioneer golf team thus far has been with the West Virginia Tech Golden Bears. Only three members took part in the match. Since five men are necessary for a match, the Glenville golfers forfeited six points.

Jack Campbell finished in a 2 to 1 loss, with John Fletcher and Gerald Kress suffering 3-0 losses. Scoring is on a basis of low medal for nine holes. One point is given for low medal score on the front nine, one point for low medal on the back nine and one point for low medal on the entire 18 holes.

Play Falcons, Bobcats
Two golf matches were scheduled for last week but results were not available when the MERCURY went to press. These matches were with Fairmont on April 25 and Wesleyan on April 26.

The Pioneers host the Fairmont Falcons and The Davis Elkins Senators on May 3 in a three way contest. The final game, as previously noted, will feature the Pioneers, Wesleyan and Davis Elkins at the Wesleyan course.
