30-Member Chorus. Five Soloists Perform Handel's 'The Messiah'

Glenville State College Chorus, under the direction of John D. Robinson, assistant professor of music, presented "The Messiah" last night at 8:00 in the college auditorium.

Messiah'. Handel's most@ popular oratorio, was composed in 1742 in 24 days. Handel directed the first performance a year later. Is Dec. 19 to Jan. 5 As the singers began the stirring II of England was so inspired that he rose to his feet. The audience followed his gesture and remained standing until the chorus ended King George's action established a precedent that is still followed at performances of "The Messiah."

Five soloists were selected for the oratorio. Joyce Brannon, a senior from Vadis, sang 'Behold, A Virgin Shall Conceive," "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings Thou That Telest Good Tidings to Zion," "Then Shall the Eyes of the Blind be Opened," "He Shall Feed His Flock Like a Shepherd," "He was Despised," and "O Death, Where is Thy Sting?" Miss Brannon also did the alto solos last year.

Peace On Earth ...

... good will to men."
With each successive Christmas season our thoughts are again turned to these age-old words, and we are forced to reexamine our own state of existence, our own values, and our own hearts. How close are we to our "peace on earth?"

Although there is not world-wide peace in our time, we can achieve a peace within our hearts, a peace which "passeth understanding." The political see-saw between world powers, Larry Stanley, Ray Ellis, Steve Taythe frenzied probe into outer space, the diplomatic juggling of words and treaties - all these are descriptive of our insecure and Adviser Stanley Hall. state of world-wide evistence.

Yet these need not destroy inner peace, if our own sense of values can withstand close scrutiny, The things that money can't buy, the influence can't sway, and time can't destroy sometimes have the most value.

. . the hope and joy shed upon the earth by a single Star that sacred night.

. a moment, an emotion, a bit of eternity caught and held for the space of a heartbeat-during which the kinship of all mankind could be felt.

. a gift of love freely given

And with these values, a sense of the presence of an allwise, all-forgiving God who upholds and inspires can lead any of us to a true peace in our hearts this Christmas season.

No amount of outside intervention, of world confusion and chaos, of false values and faulty moral standards, of emotional tension or strain can destry our inner peace if we can keep faith in our God, and faith in our fellowmen

Davis-Elkins and Paul Wilcox found the Pioneers a surprisingly stubborn aggregation as Glen-ville remained within striking distance throughout the early portion of the game.

In the last five minutes of the first half, Glenville faltered to let the Senators pull to an impressive 44-26 bulge at halftime. Preceding the sudden Pioneer slump the first half, the Byrd men were never behind more than three or four points.

Glenville came roaring back in the second half to cut the Sena tor lead to as little as ten points but the height advantage and the presence of Paul Wilcox stop-ped the White Wave drive.

Larry Gandee tossed in 16 points for the losers with Lawrence Barker contributing 12. Wilcox took scoring honors with 32 tallies with John Warren notching 22.

Glenville had earlier defeated the Falcons in the Weston Warm-up tourney, 76-66.

Glenville was completely blanketed by the race-horse tactics of West Virginia Tech at Montgomery on Dec. 10. The Golden Bears moved to a 40-32 lead at the end of the first half as Kermit Gentry and Dick Brown found the range for 29 of the Tech points.

Tech began to move rapidly in the second half and they were unsurmountable. Glenville scored only 16 points in the first ten minutes of the final stanza while Tech burned the nets for 28 tallies.

In the final ten minutes, Tech went on one of the most astounding scoring rampages anyone ever witnessed. During this period, Glenville was held to only 24 points while the Golden Bears added insult to injury by dunking 40 points, probably a record for a quarter of play. Final score had the Pioneers on the short end of a 108-72 victory.

When the MERCURY went to press the Pioneer regular season record stood at 0-3 with a 1-1 record in non-conference games.

Ham Operators

(Continued from Page 2) hams have the opportunity to meet people that they have been talking to during the year. All sorts of radio contests are held, and drawings are made for prizes.

In the one week the radio station has been in operation, Ellis and Frederick have contacted 12 states. These contacts have all been made between classes. On week-ends, when Ellis is at me in Weston, he and Frednome in Weston, he and Free-erick talk back and forth be-tweent the college and Weston. Gene Elmore, 1958 graduate of Glenville State College, is a ham. He talks with the GSC men from his home in Burnsville periodically.

Dr. Byron Turner, professor of chemistry, has made available space for the ham station and arranged is a converted signal corps receiv-er. Frederick built the transmitter.

With Dr. Turner's help, Ellis and Frederick hope to start a radio club at GSC. A license could be obtained with call letters for the college. Anyone with an interest in radio will be eligible for this club. The novice license is easily obtained. The technical test is not complicated and the code test requires only a speed of three words per minute.
