Commencement Is Monday; 10 Students Earn Honors

Summer School Will Begin June 8

Dates for the Glenville State summer terms have been set for June 8 through July 17 and July 20 through August 22, according to Dean Delmer K. Somerville, director.

Approximately 60 courses will be offered during both terms. Highlights of the summer term will be the Summer Training School, with Jesse E. Bell, Jr., as supervising principal; the annual School Attendance Workshop, August 3-8; and the Speech 375 Workshop, July 20 through August 7.

Training School Is Set

The Training School is planned for grade, junior high school and high school pupils to gain profitable experience. On the high school level, a course in social studies is available for one-half unit of credit for work successfully completed.

Registration for the Training School is on Monday, June 8, and the fee is $1.00 per pupil. Regular class work will begin on June 9, with hours 9:00 until 12:00.

The training school faculty will consist of Jesse E. Bell, supervising principal; Jean A. Adams, first and second grades; Opal Johnson, fifth and sixth grades; Charles C. Scott, art; Lestelle Murphy, high school social studies. At the time the MERCURY went to press, teachers had not been assigned to the community school or the third and fourth grades.

Parents attending Glenville State College for the summer session may find the college training school an interesting and profitable experience for their children.

Some bus transportation will be available. Routes will be established after it is determined where most pupils can be served.

The Speech 375 Workshop, under the supervision of Associate Professor William S. E. Coleman, is a Business Students Visit Pittsburgh

Students in the Retail-Merchandising Class at GSC were excused from classes Thursday, May 14, for a field trip to Pittsburgh, announces Mrs. Genevieve Butcher, class instructor.

The class traveled by chartered bus, stopping in Morgantown early Thursday morning for breakfast and from there traveled to the University of Pittsburgh. At the University they spent the morning touring the School of Retailing.

The afternoon was spent touring the Joseph Home Company, a large retailing store covering 16 acres. The students toured such sections of the store as the Receiving and Marketing, Telephone Order Board, Accounts Payable, Credit Office, and Accounts Receivable.

Science Professors Receive Grants

Heman P. Adams, assistant professor of biology, has been granted one of 25 research grants to the Institute in Marine Biology at the University of Oregon Marine Biological Station at Coos Bay, Oregon.

Adams came to Glenville in September 1956 as an instructor in general biology, genetics and entomology. He received his BS degree from Alfred University in 1950 in mathematics and an MS degree from Cornell University in wild life management in 1953.

Research grant awards are made on the basis of scholarship, indicated success in biology teaching, and apparent need for experience in marine biology.

The course will last from June

Honor Graduates Lead Procession

Ten seniors will lead the graduation procession as it progresses from the Student Union to the College auditorium Monday morning, May 25, and take their places as honor graduates at the head of the Glenville State College 1959 graduating class.

Magna Cum Laude (with great praise) honors will be bestowed upon Elizabeth Ann Parsons and Jo-Ann Litton, announces Miss Irma Edwards, assistant registrar.

Miss Parsons, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Parsons of Duck, is being graduated with an A. B. Degree in elementary education.

Miss Litton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Litton of Gay. She will also be graduated with an A. B. Degree in elementary education.

Cum Laude (with praise) honors will be bestowed upon Barbara Wells Erwin, Vienna, elementary education; Martha Jane Gwinn elementary education, Richwood; Dorothy Yokum Peterson, business education and English, Glenville; Leoma Ruth Boggs, business education and English, Big Otter; David Stanley Hall, social studies and English, Glenville.

Karen Kinney Harris, library science and English, Glenville; Gerald Morgan Woofor, social studies and English, Weston; Genevieve Newell, elementary education, Nicot.

To graduate Magna Cum Laude, a student must maintain an average ranging from 3.5 to 3.79. A student must have an average ranging from 3.2 to 3.49 to graduate Cum Laude.

Alumni Banquet Set For Saturday

Dr. James D. Logsdon, president of Thornton Junior College, Harvey, Ill., is the speaker for the Commencement exercises to be held May 25, announces Dr. Harry B. Heflin.

Dr. Logsdon was born on February 9, 1905, in Brown County, Ill. He is a graduate of La Parrie Community High School, Adams County, Ill. He received his M.A. Degree in 1936 and his Ph. D. degree in 1946 from the University of Chicago.

He joined the staff of the University of Oregon as Professor of Education in 1948. He remained there until he attained his present position as president of Thornton Junior College, in 1957.

Dr. Logsdon is the author of numerous educational publications. He is also co-author of "Duties of School Principals," published in 1950, and "The Effective School Principal," published in 1954.

Glenville State College commencement festivities will begin Saturday, May 23, with the Alumni Banquet and will continue through Monday, May 25, when 113 seniors will receive Bachelors of Arts Degrees and 12 students will receive Associate of Arts Degrees.

The Alumni Banquet, opening the graduation exercises, will be held at 6:15 p.m. in the college dining room. Featured on the banquet program will be the presentation of the Alumnus of the Year award to Mr. George McQuain, lawyer of

Rogers, Peaster Elected Presidents

Beverly Rogers, junior from Nicot, has been elected president of Kanawha Hall for the coming year. Betty Neil Smith, junior from Spencer, will serve as vice-president.

Wyvonna Mason, junior from Newark, will be secretary and Emily Stroehman, freshman from Parkersburg, treasurer.

On May 12, the women of Verona Mapel Hall elected officers for the coming year.

Barbara Peaster, junior from New Jersey, was elected president, Mary Jo Chisler, junior from Lost Creek, vice-president.

Sue Valentine, sophomore, of Parkersburg, will serve as secretary and Janet Fields, sophomore from Walton, treasurer.

Members of the House Governing Board will be elected next fall. Two representatives from each of the four classes compose the House Governing Board for each dorm.

George W. McQuain Is Alumnus Of Year

George W. McQuain

The Glenville State College Alumni Association has selected George W. McQuain, graduate in the Class of 1923, as "Alumnus of the Year." Mr. McQuain is a native of Gilmer County, having been born at Troy.

Following graduation from Glenville State College, he was graduated from the College of Law at West Virginia University and started law practice in Glenville as a partner of Fred H. Barnett, another GSC graduate. Mr. McQuain later moved to Clarksburg where he became associated with the state's largest law firm, Steptoe and Johnson.

At one time, six members of the McQuain family were enrolled at Glenville State College. He has been very active in the affairs of the College, having served as president of the Alumni Association and on various alumni committees, especially those dealing with technicalities of organization and the investment of alumni funds. Through his efforts, sizeable donations have been made to the College scholarship fund.

Mr. McQuain married a former Glenville State College graduate, Miss Lucille Locks, of Weston. Both Mr. and Mrs. McQuain have taught in West Virginia schools.

Today A Senior—Monday An Alumni

One hundred thirteen new names will soon be added to the Glenville State College Alumni roll. These new alumni are the 1959 GSC seniors.

SENIORS, next Monday morning you will still be students. You will take that brisk walk across the auditorium stage, receive a diploma, and congratulations, and the fond smiles of everyone.

SENIORS, then in a fleeting moment your college life will abruptly end; you will become an alumni.

SENIORS, the challenge is great. Dare you set your goals high — even higher than you think possible to achieve? Yes, such goals, when reached, will harness new powers for this age of science, space and needed service.

SENIORS, do not be afraid to chart your course to establish new traditions to fit present day needs. Our world asks for men and women who have something worthwhile to give and are willing to give.

SENIORS, you can go beyond the potentialities you have demonstrated on this campus.

SENIORS, here at GSC you have acquired a gun of ammunition. The time has now come for you to aim that gun at the profession of your choice; aim straight and strive for a direct hit.

SENIORS, we congratulate you for a goal reached and task completed!

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, we congratulate you; you are receiving 113 new members. May they "pledge their loyal efforts to (help) maintain our happy state."

A Backward Glance

A Forward Look

At present we are living the last fleeting moments of the 1958-59 school year. For, with the toss of the tassel, packing of suit cases and bidding farewells, this college year will end.

Before we do actually leave, let's stop a moment and take a backward glance over the past nine months at GSC.

First, we saw the homecoming parade marching down Main Street. It was led by the blaring of trumpets, trombones, and the rumbling of drums. Of course, there were the floats and dancing majorettes.

At homecoming time we were host for the 1908 GSC football squad. They, along with other Pioneer boosters, watched the Murrimen defeat Davis & Elkins 30-7.

The '59 Pioneers continued fighting their way to victory until they topped the season with the proud display of the WVIAC trophy symbolizing the first undefeated team in 50 years of Glenville intercollegiate football participation.

Our basketball team dribbled its way into the semi-finals in the WVIAC tournaments. There we won, for the fourth straight year, the best cheering section trophy.

This year has witnessed the birth of three campus organizations. The Political Science Club was charted. The Agriculture Society was organized and sponsored a pit barbecue. The Palette and Brush Club was also organized. Besides a field trip

Sunday morning, May 24 the Baccalaureate sermon will be held in the college auditorium at 10:30. The Rev. Wilburn C. Campbell, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of West Virginia, will deliver the address.

The President's Annual Tea and Reception for seniors will be held Sunday, May 4, from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harry B. Heflin. All seniors, their families, faculty and administrative staff will be received by Dr. and Mrs. Heflin and Dr. and Mrs. Delmer K. Somerville.

Graduation exercises terminate the 1958 graduation activities at Glenville. Commencement will be held Monday, May 25, at 10:00 a.m. The Commencement will feature the conferring of awards upon 10 honor graduates and 115 other students.

Kindergarten Club Holds Annual Picnic

Julie Matthews, kindergarten teacher, announced that the kindergarten class visited the nursery class May 12. The two lively groups of youngsters ate lunch, played games and saw a movie.

That evening the kindergarten held the annual family picnic supper in the Recreation Center dining room. This was the final meeting of Kindergarten Parent's Club for the year.

The lively, happy, hungry group numbered 42, including a guest, Mrs. May Agnes Fest. Mrs. John White was chairman of the committee who planned the meal.

Miss Graham Wins Best in Art Show

"Sea Scape," an oil painting by Mary Ann Graham won the $25 prize as best in the show in Glenville State College's first art exhibit and sale, Sunday May 10. Miss Graham is a freshman, the daughter of Mrs. Q. R. Graham and the late Mr. Graham of South Charleston.

One hundred and twenty-two guests registered for the show which was held in Louis Bennett Lounge. There were 123 entries for exhibition and sale.

In the oil class first prize was won by "Silver King and Velvet" painted by Marilou Locke; second prize, "Night Scene," Masil Dobson; third prize, "Old Fashion Rose," William Dixon; honorable mention, James Dixon, Gerral Chapman, Janet Fields.

The first prize in water color division was won with "Sea Harvest," Rev. Lon Marks of Auburn; second prize, "Still Life," Patsy Garrett; honorable mention, Masil Dobson, Mary Ann Graham, James Dixon.

Paul Takach's "Pitcher of Gold" won first in the ceramics division with Joseph Mumbach's "Monk" as second. Honorable mention was given in this category to William Dixon, Dorcelene Page and Marilou Locke.

The art show was sponsored by the Palette and Brush Club. John Cooley, assistant professor of art, is the club adviser.

Speech Students Place in Festival

Glenville State College placed in three out of five competitive events at the West Virginia State Intercollegiate Speech Festival held at Jackson's Mill on May 7, 8, 9.

David Wayland placed second in radio and third in extemporaneous speaking, and Beverly McComis placed third in oratory.

Ionoso's "The Lesson" was GSC one-act play entry. Rodney Busch was selected for the All-State cast for his performance as the Professor.

Also attending the festival were Jane Ruckman, Ellen Lynch, Wayland and Ralph Everett, James Buck, Marilou Locke, Ronald Stonfer, Gary Fields, Paul Rippe and John Chippis.

Emerson advised his fellow townsmen to manufacture school teachers and to make the best in the world.

The Four Faces of Time

By Dorothy Butler

Go straight up a wall for ten steps, do a complete about face and go up four more steps; then walk carefully back through an attic on boards laid from rafter to rafter; duck your head and bear to the right, walk down a plank, go straight up a wall for twenty more steps, climb through a trap door, and you're almost there. No, these aren't directions for a treasure hunt; follow them and the next thing you see is the "caboose" housing the clock mechanism — for the tower clock.

My guide for this trip was John Wanstreet, member of the GSC maintenance department. After the last trap door, I found myself in a room about 14' X 14'. Directly in front of me was a small box-like room with two windows and a door in which were all the wheels, levels, bars, etc., which "makes the thing go."

In the corner to my left I saw a wooden cage which extended down through the building as far as I could see (actually to the porch ceiling on the first floor.) In this cage was a huge box suspended by cables; this box, about 4 1/2' tall, weighs about two tons, I learned, and is the weight for the winding mechanism. I asked about the possibility of this falling and Mr. Wanstreet told me that it has fallen to the porch outside the building.

Sees The Controls

In the corner to my right was another similar box, except that this one was smaller and didn't extend down through the floor on which we were standing. This is the weight which controls the pendulum-swing.

Immediately to the right and a little above the caboose was the bell, about 28" at the bottom, 18" at the top, and about three feet tall. A large hammer which strikes the bell was suspended beside it; all this was bolted into a saw-horse-like platform.

Inside the caboose was what appeared to me to be only a conglomerate of wheels, bars, cables, pulleys, cogs; however, I did get to see how the clock is wound, how it can be set, the bar with twelve notches which controls striking, the cables leading out to the weights, and the wheel which regulates the rate of the pendulum-swing.

Directions Are Listed

Posted on the caboose are directions for the care of the tower clock — how to wind, set, regulate its speed, oil it, how to oil the pulleys, etc. Wanstreet said the clock is wound twice a week and is set about once a year, now, and will loose only about a minute in three months.

Also inside the caboose was small clock face which is used in setting the big clock faces above. This smaller one is more exact than the larger clocks because the hands on the others have worn and will drop down.

In this room there were twelve windows; at four of them were loudspeakers from the auditorium organ. I also saw four wooden clock faces, one of the two sets which have been removed. These were close to 5' across.

Four-Faced Clock

Then I took eight giant steps up a ladder and was finally up to the faces of the clock. These are glass; each has an electric light bulb behind it.

This part of the tower seemed suspended in space. Above, the rain was beating out a steady tempo on the roof while the slow steady tick . . . tick . . . tick could be heard below. Even though surrounded by measurements of time, one could feel that time had stopped here, and I held my breath — waiting for the next tick . . . tick . . .

A shaft from the clock mechanism comes up from the floor below to the box in this top section. Here it goes four ways, to the hands of the various clock faces.

Glimpses Pendulum

On our way out of the tower I stopped half-way down one of the ladders and got a glimpse of the huge pendulum as it swung to and fro. I also saw the automatic light control box which turns on the light bulbs behind the faces at 8 o'clock each evening and turns them off at 5 o'clock each morning. This can be set to go on and off at anytime.

In 1897 the tower was projected from the roof of the building. In 1899 the four-faced clock was installed and the 200 lb. bell. The tower proved unstable because of its height and in 1903 was torn down and rebuilt.

I now must satisfy one more curiosity; how would that bell sound in the tower room when the clock is striking? I've heard that one can't hear for days afterward.

President Heflin Gives Talk

Dr. Harry B. Heflin, GSC president, delivered his annual spring "State of the College" address at a student assembly May 7.

Student council officers for 1959-60 were installed and Who's Who awards were presented.

In his address, President Heflin called this "one of the best years" ever. In reviewing the year he made favorable comments about the student body and the faculty. He stated that the Legislature had made two new faculty positions possible.

With a look to the future President Heflin introduced the suggestion of the Alumni Association for the project to be carried out as part of the college Centennial celebration in 1972. This proposal calls for the construction of a college chapel, financed by students and Alumni members.

Also in the future, plans for an outdoor amphitheatre behind Kanawha Hall are being considered.

Gene Mann Elected

'59-60 Senior Prexy

Gene Mann, junior from Charleston, was recently elected president of the junior class. George Manlove, Dover, Del., was named vice-president; Mary Jo Chisler, secretary and Jane Riddle, treasurer.

In the freshman class election, Tim Carney, freshman from Dunbar, was selected as president; Ed Gross, vice-president, Patricia Sams secretary; Bill Shinn, treasurer.

The sophomore class election had not been held when the MERCURY went to press.

After getting off to a fast start by winning three and tying one of their first four matches, the Glenville State golfers met defeat for the first time in a three-way match played at Fairmont on May 1. Competing in this match along with the Pioneers were Fairmont and West Liberty, both of whom scored victories over Glenville. Fairmont defeated the Gee Men by a lopsided margin of 13-2 while West Liberty outscored them 9-6.

The following day on the friendly green at Glenville the Pioneers were involved in a four team match with Fairmont, W. Va. Wesleyan and Alderson-Broadus. The Pioneers, looking much sharper than the day before, defeated the Bobcats 12 to 3, Alderson-Broadus 10½ to 4½ and lost a heartbreaker to Fairmont 8 to 7.

The two victories in the final match gave the golf squad a regular season match record of 5 wins, 3 losses and 1 tie.

Monday, May 11 the Glenville golfers were in Wheeling for the state college golf tournament but rain forced a postponement of the tourney after the first 18 holes had been played. The tournament will be completed on May 18 and 19 according to Athletic Director Carlos Ratliff; however, Glenville will not make the return trip to Wheeling to conclude the tourney. According to Ratliff only Fairmont, West Liberty and W. Va. State College have a chance of winning and as far as he knows will be the only three teams to return to Wheeling.

WVIAC Tournament Moved To Capital

The new Civic Center in Charleston will be the site of the 1960 West Virginia Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament it was learned last week. The decision to move the tourney from Buckhannon was made by officials of the 15 schools attending the Spring Meeting of the WVIC at Olgebay Park, Wheeling on May 11.

The tournament has apparently outgrown the available facilities at W. Va. Wesleyan in the eyes of the school officials and the tourney will be played elsewhere other than Buckhannon for the first time in many years. It was decided by a 9 to 6 vote to move the tourney to Charleston and the Civic Center in order to accommodate the crowds which appear at the tourney games.

Conference Divided

It was also decided at this meeting to divide the conference into two divisions of eight teams each and to limit the final field in the conference tournament to eight teams. Eight of the teams through single elimination post season games played within each division will be eliminated before the start of the major tournament in Charleston. Only the four survivors of the preliminary games held within each division will travel to Charleston for the finals.

The present set-up calls for the No. 1 team to play the No. 8 team, the No. 2 team to play the No. 7 team and so on in the single elimination games.

Vets Are Leading Softball League

With one round of competition yet to be played the Vets are currently leading the MAA Softball League with a perfect 4-0 won lost record. The Mountaineers and Republicans are tied for second place in loop standings with identical 3-1 records.

Going into last week three teams were tied for the league lead with 3-0 records; however, during the week the Mountaineers and Republicans met defeat while the Vets captured their fourth straight victory to take undisputed possession of first place.

Play Each Evening
Action in the MAA Softball League has been underway for three weeks under the direction of Athletic Director Carlos Ratliff and games are played each evening, weather permitting, at 4:30 and 6:30 at Rohrbough Field. The final games in league competition will be played Thursday evening, May 21, according to Mr. Ratliff.

Pioneers Will End Season Saturday Against West Liberty Hilltoppers

By Charles Mercial

The Glenville Pioneers, after losing a heartbreaker to Alderson-Broadus 1-0 on April 30, returned to the baseball wars of the WVIC on May 2 and found the going just as rough as before as the Davis & Elkins Senators handed the Gee-Men an 8-3 defeat at Elkins. This was the seventh loss in eight outings for the GSC baseballers.

Davis and Elkins wrapped up the win the first inning for all practical purposes scoring four markers on only two hits. The wildness of starter Jim Stalnaker who gave up four bases on balls in the first was the big factor in the early rally by D & E.

The Senators continued to pad their lead by scoring two in the fourth, one in the fifth, and one in the seventh before Glenville finally dented the plate with three runs in the ninth. By this time, however, the Senators were in command with an eight-run lead and coasted home to the win.

Jim Stalnaker started on the hill for Glenville and was relieved by Larry Nichols after five innings. This was the first appearance for Nichols on the mound for the Pioneers this season. Stalnaker was charged with the loss, his third of the year while Felber went all the way for D & E and chalked up the win.

In the hitting department Bill Young led the GSC attack with two singles in two trips while Wilt led D & E with two for four including a triple in the fifth inning.

Lose To Fairmont

On May 5 the Pioneers played Fairmont and were handed a 5-1 setback at the hands of Fred Hikel and his mates. Hikel in defeating the Pioneers for the second time this season gave up only seven hits and one run, that being a ninth inning homerun by centerfielder Ray Gandee. Until the ninth inning homer by Gandee, Hikel had been in complete control giving up only six hits while striking out eight. The Falcons on the other hand had been pecking away at the offerings of Nichols and Stalnaker and building up a five-run lead. The Falcons picked up one in the fourth, two in the fifth and one each in the seventh and eighth.

Nichols started on the hill for GSC and was charged with his first loss of the season. Stalnaker came on in relief in the seventh. Hikel went the distance for Fairmont picking up the win.

Bob Oliver with two hits in four trips and Ray Gandee with two for five led the Glenville batsmen.

W. Va. State Wins

The Pioneers returned home for an encounter with the W. Va. State Yellow Jackets on May 7 and were handed a 5-3 loss. This was a close ball game with the Jackets jumping off to a two-run lead in the second and increasing this to 3-0 in the fourth by picking up another tally. Glenville came back with two in the fifth on a homerun by pitcher Roger Hall with a man on and one in the sixth to tie the score.

Both teams were scoreless in the seventh, however, the Yellow Jackets came up with two in the eighth to wrap up the win. In the eighth inning rally the Yellow Jackets picked up two runs without the benefit of a hit as 3 big Glenville errors made their task much easier.

Both starters, Hall for Glenville and Dixon for State, went the distance for their clubs. This was Hall's third loss against no wins for the Pioneers this year.

Hall with two for three, including a homer, led the GSC hitters followed by Wilson with two for five. Dixon led State with two for four and third-basemen Hickman chipped in with a homer to pace the Yellow Jackets.

Defeat Mountain Lions

Saturday, May 9, saw the Pioneers win their second game of the year by defeating the Concord Mt. Lions a 7-5 at Rohrbough Field. The Pioneers had on their hitting clothes for this fray picking up 14 safeties, more than in any other game this year. However, the Pioneers needed this lustrous hitting attack to ward off the Concorderns who raked the combined offerings of Stalnaker and Pisapia for five runs and nine hits.

Glenville jumped off to a four-run lead in this tilt by scoring two each in the second and fifth innings. Concord then came back in the sixth tallying three times to make it a 4-3 game in favor of the Pioneers. Concord took a one-run lead in the seventh by scoring two more runs to make the score read Concord 5 and Glenville 4 after 6½ innings of play. In this rally Concord chased Glenville starter Stalnaker from the hill and "Big John" Pisapia came on in relief.

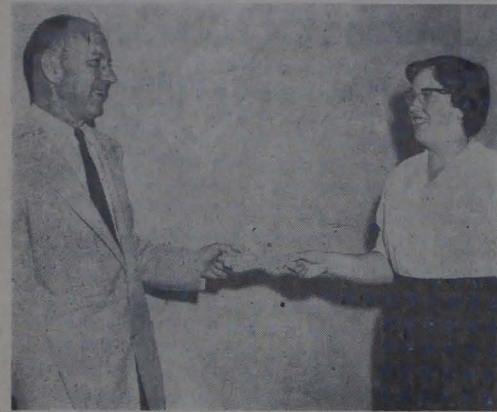

The Concord lead was short lived however, as the Pioneers came back (Continued On Page 4)

with two in the half of the seventh to sew up the victory. Glenville scored an insurance run in the eighth but it was not needed as Pisapia retired the Lions.

Pisapia picked up the win for the Pioneers in relief, his second against no losses while Bob Musser started for Concord and took the loss.

Bob Oliver with four for four and Bill Young with three for three led the Glenville hitting attack while Jim Cox chipped in with three safeties. Marley led Concord at the plate collecting two hits in four trips.

The win gave the Pioneers a record of two wins and nine losses through games of May 9.

The Gee Men were slated to travel to Institute to do battle with W. Va. State College on May 15 and to Athens for a return engagement with the Mt. Lions on May 16, weather permitting. The results of these games however, were not available at the time the MERCURY went to press. The Glenville "Diamondmen" are scheduled to end the season by playing away games with Alderson-Broadus and Salem on May 19 and 22 respectively and a home encounter with West Liberty on May 23.

to Washington, D. C., this Club sponsored the first annual art show in GSC history.

History continued to be recorded this year with the installation of the first women president of the Student Council since 1945. Also, the first write-in candidate to win an office in the SC was elected to serve as vice-president for next year.

This year also saw the publication of a yearbook. Class individual pictures were included for the first time in many years. A supplement was also included in this KANAWHACHEN.

This year has seen many campus improvements. A telephone was placed at Firestone Lodge; a TV set was installed in Louis Bennett Hall. A beautifully decorated recreation room has been opened at Verona Mapel Hall and a TV set was purchased.

Plans were well advanced this year toward the preliminary sketchings and State Board of Education approval for the new women's dorm.

From our look backward we have seen many meaningful happenings which compose a colorful, eventful year of memories. However, with the fleeting of sixty minutes in an hour and twenty-four hours in a day, three short months will pass rapidly. We no longer will have to look into our future college life — September will be here; a new and, we hope, another important year will be at hand.

festival presentation, "The Lesson."

He was selected for the All-State Cast for his performance as the Professor in "The Lesson." He directed the three-act play, "Affairs of State", which was presented at Glenville last year.

Busch has applied for an assistantship at Pennsylvania State University.
