Gala Homecoming Features Set For Weekend

Queen Flora Ann Dyer Will Reign Over Event

Amidst a panorama of pomp and pageantry Queen Flora Dyer will reign over the 26th annual Homecoming at Glenville State College Oct. 3. Miss Dyer, recently named Queen in a student-body election, will be crowned by President Harry B. Heflin on the GSC campus at 11:00 Saturday morning.

Queen Flora is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Dyer of Flatwoods. She is a member of Phi Delta Phi and during the past year she served as president of the West Virginia College Home Economics Association. She will be escorted in the coronation ceremony by Harry Holbert, a senior from Vienna. Little Miss Becky Dew, four-and-one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dew, will be the crown-bearer.

Miss Dyer's one-day crowned activity reign will begin with the colorful parade scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Mr. Hunter Whiting, retired GSC faculty member, will serve as parade marshal; color guard will be furnished by Battery C 263rd Field Artillery Battalion from the Grantsville Reserve Training Post.

One of the main features of the parade will be the float bearing Queen Flora and her princesses. Another feature of the parade will be the songs and cheers of the freshmen as they participate in the parade.

Prizes Awarded

Prizes will be awarded to campus organization floats in the homecoming parade. First prize is $10, second $5, and third $3.

To be eligible for a prize, the organization must present the theme of its float to the Student Council to prevent repetition of floats.

At the time the MERCURY went to press these bands were scheduled to participate in the parade; Jane Lew High School, directed by Stanley Pickens; Sutton High School, under direction of Lee Jack Kaufman; Wahama High School, directed by Tom Reed; Weston High School, directed by William Waldeck and the Glenville State College Band directed by Dr. Robert Campbell.

Immediately following the parade, the Queen and her court, college officials, alumni, students and guests will move to the coronation site on the college campus in front of the Science Hall where Dr. Harry B. Heflin will crown Queen Flora.

LBL Open to Alumni

Following the coronation, Louis Bennett Lounge will be open for informal alumni gatherings; coffee and doughnuts will be served.

The annual Homecoming football clash will be played this year between The Concord Mountain Lions and the Glenville Pioneers. Glenville trounced the Davis and Elkins Senators 30-7 in the 1958 Homecoming contest and the Mountain Lions fell before the Pioneers in the 1957 contest 14-13. Game time is 2:00 p.m. at Rohrbough Field.

The Leonard Hannigan Orchestra will play for the annual Homecoming dance to be held in the college gymnasium from 9 to 12 p.m. Saturday. Tickets for the informal dance will be $2 single and $3 couple.

"College 'Mong the Maples"

Now is the time for all GSC alumni to retrace the path that leads to the "college 'mong the Maples." Here they will once again recall four blissful years of their lives.

THEY WILL SEE the freshman with their blue and white beanies, and smilingly remember when they, too, were freshman and were summoned to appear before the Freshman Court.

THEY WILL SEE and take pride in those students who have set their course, are challenged and fired with a purpose and are sailing to higher goals.

SATURDAY MORNING they will see the radiant faces of the Queen and her royal court as they gracefully stroll to the coronation.

THEY WILL SEE the changes that have been made — new faces, new buildings, new sidewalks and yet the same college where they once rushed to classes, crammed for exams, wrote term papers, worked in chemistry lab, attended choir and play rehearsals and made last-minute dashes to the Robert F. Kidd Library.

THEY WILL HEAR the students ramble about many subjects, some old, some new: all night drill sessions for comprehensives, plans for sorority and fraternity projects, plans for a new women's dorm and ambitions for graduation and future work.

AT THE FOOTBALL GAME, they will hear their voices blend with the voices of all GSC fans to cheer the 1959 Pioneers to victory. They will listen to the strains of our "Alma Mater" and marvel at the agility of the cheerleaders.

THEY WILL FEEL the friendly atmosphere that is traditional of Glenville State College. They will feel the warmth of friendship as they exchange greetings with old friends and meet new alumni and students of GSC.

THEY WILL FEEL that life here is as deeply rooted as the "Maples on the Hill".

THESE ARE THE MEMORIES they recall today —

THESE ARE THE MEMORIES we will recall tomorrow of our "college 'mong the Maples."

When Hazing Becomes Hazardous ...

"Maybe this will help the upperclassmen understand our situation", commented Iolene Harding as she read the newspaper clipping of the recent hazing tragedy. "When carried to the extreme it can really be serious," she added.

The incident referred to occurred in Los Angeles at the University of Southern California. Richard T. Swanson, a pledge of Kappa Sigma fraternity, choked to death while trying to swallow a piece of oily, raw liver, 3x4 inches and 3/4 inch thick, during an initiation hazing.

At Valparaiso University in Indiana, all freshman hazing was ordered halted after nine coeds were injured at a freshman class gathering. One girl had a broken leg, and she and two others were taken to a hospital. Six other girls were treated and released.

Perhaps in an effort to prevent such incidents on West Virginia college campuses, the State Board of Education last year made a new ruling on hazing. The head of the U.S.C. fraternity chapter commented that the initiation ritual had been going on in such a manner for 24 years and nothing like the death by choking had ever occurred before. Neither has anything so serious happened on our campus. The new state ruling should lessen the likelihood of a similar tragedy occurring here.

A copy of the hazing resolution has been given to each campus organization president. Also, Miss Harding, Student Council president, has a copy of the resolution.

Thus, if upperclassmen have been wondering why we "aren't making it hard enough on freshmen", or why they can't be forced to do various things, the answer no doubt lies in the interpretation given to the hazing ruling — a state-wide effort to prevent occurrences similar to those of Los Angeles and Valparaiso.

Fire Breaks Out In Health Bldg.

Fire broke out in the laundry room of the Health and Physical Education Building at approximately 11:30 p.m., Sept. 19.

Destroyed were numerous mattress covers, sheets, bed spreads, pillow cases, pillows, towels, laundry hampers and canvas covers for the mangle.

Lloyd Jones, business manager, stated that all damage was covered by insurance. To date the cause of the fire is unknown.

Famous First Facts for Freshmen

By DON KEY No doubt you freshmen have heard various formulas on How to Get the Most Out of Your College Years. Being a four-year enrollee and an expert on Foul-up in Ten Easy Steps, I feel it is my duty and sacred obligation to further your confusion in this area of interest (now what area were we talking about?)

Oh, yes ... it's most important that you Get Off to the Right Start. (whatever that means.) We don't recommend anything so drastic as falling face-down in the pool with all your clothes on or taking up flag-pool sitting. However, do these and you will be Noticed.

In the dorm - you may find you have an impossible roommate. Never mind that; you probably leave her Jervous and Nerky, too. Concentrate on Decorating your Room together. Your room - Hopeless you say? Well, it has four walls, doesn't it? And that's Something to start with.

College years are the training ground for your future life. Therefore Devote Sufficient Time to Discovering your Real Interests (i.e. the blond or the red head?) The vocation she chooses may be independent.

Never Exploit your new Independence; one can't become a Mature Person if he waits for the dean to poke his head in the door and whisper gently - "It's past your bedtime, dear." One Simply Must learn to Sleep.

As for Rules and Regulations, never ignore them; and never, never expect them to be the same two days on straight. Tain't Necessarily So, children.

Learn to Study in the Union. So many people there have already Had that Course and can tell you What He Expects on a test. Maybe even the test Questions, too. That way you can spend the time you save because you don't have to study. (Huh?) A Hint: don't accept Free Advice if the informer failed the class.

Also about Study Habits (we must not Belabor this point) if you are a C student, find another C student and study together so you'll both make A's. A Study Schedule may be necessary, but only in an Emergency (i.e., five weeks from now.)

Use the Library; meet the Reserve Shelf, Dewey, and Card Catalog. This is the Quiet place for study on campus, but you may learn you cannot count on this.

Always ask Questions; whether they make Sense or not. This will go a long way in preserving your Sanity - I think. Remember: never ask an Upperclassman anything; he's more Confused than you are (after all, he's been here longer.) So treat them kindly; when One asks you how to get to Room 420A turn him slowly to the east and push gently.

Along the Date and Mate trail - Let your Conscience be your Guide. Surely Someone will be Properly Impressed with your Charms, and you'll store up scads of Beautiful Memories ... of course you can; even crickets have a Love-Life.

College rhymes with Knowledge but don't let that throw you. If you stop to ask Why You Are Here you're lost already. Just Push On and grip that Sense of Humor; you'll make it if your Beanie doesn't Grow Fast to your Head.

Football Time
Will Be 2 P.M.

With three consecutive Homecoming wins behind them, the Glenville Pioneers are hoping to make the Concord Mountain Lions victim number four. Last year's game with the Lions was played at Athens and the Pioneers squeaked by 7-6.

Davis and Elkins was trounced by the Gee-Men in the 1958 Homecoming encounter by the lopsided score of 30-7 as Coach Murin's charges moved through the league to an undefeated season and the WVAC championship.

The Concord College Lions were defeated by the Pioneers in the 1957 Homecoming tilt in another close game 14-13. The Murrimen slaughter the Davis and Elkins Senators in the 1956 contest, 33-6.

Concord, coached by Buckeye Jamison, a former Glenville High School great, dropped its opener to Salem 31-14 while the Pioneers were taking their opener from the visiting Hilltoppers from West Liberty 7-0.

The past Saturday, Sept. 26, the Pioneers played the Potomac State Catamounts at Keyser. The results of that contest were not available at press time.

B. Peaster Heads WAA Organization

President Barbara Peaster, senior from Haddon Heights, N. J., presided at the first WAA meeting, held Sept. 15.

Other WAA officers are Janet McHenry, vice president, junior from Spencer; Jane Spray, secretary-treasurer, senior from Hurst; and Emily Stroehman, point secretary, sophomore, Parkersburg.

Dramatic Last-Seconds Play Cops Win for Pioneers in Opening Tilt

With 33 seconds left in the game halfback Ellsworth Buck took the ball on an end sweep, cut back to midfield, and then raced down the sideline and into paydirt for Glenville's first six points of the season.

On the strength of this one touchdown, Glenville's Pioneers successfully opened the 1959 football season defeating West Liberty State College 7-0 in a tension-filled game at Rohrbough Field.

This was a fitting climax to a thrilling defensive battle that saw both teams threaten to score several times, only to fall short before reaching the end zone.

West Liberty was the first to threaten when they completed a 40 yard pass to the Glenville 15-yard line in the second quarter, but they were able to move the ball no farther. Glenville next had a scoring opportunity when the G-Men moved the ball steadily downfield to the West Liberty 13 yard.

But then three incomplete passes thwarted the Pioneer drive.

In the third quarter the Pioneers fumbled away another scoring opportunity. Halfback Buck started the drive from the Glenville 43-yard line with a 5-yard slant to the 48. Fullback Paul Skidmore made it first and ten with a 7 yard thrust to the West Liberty 45.

Then halfback Junior Wilson scampered 27 yards to the West Liberty 20-yard line. On the next play Glenville fumbled and the drive was stopped when the Hilltoppers recovered the ball.

The remainder of the game was played on even terms until 1:50 were left to play. West Liberty took the ball on their own 25-yard line and could not make a first down. Then apparently resigned to accept a tie game, the Hilltoppers pushed to the Glenville 22-yard line.

With the game almost over, Ellsworth Buck, behind tremendously inspired blocking, raced 88 yards for the score that won the game for the Pioneers.

ELLSWORTH BUCK

Gene Alkire kicked the extra point squarely between the uprights and the final score stood Glenville 7, West Liberty 0.

First Lyceum Program of '59 Season Scheduled for Next Monday Night

An outstanding program of the best and most popular music will be presented by the Gershwin Musical Company at Glenville College Monday night, Oct. 5, beginning at 8:00.

With backgrounds that vary in both concert and Broadway Theatre, three of the top artists in the American Theatre will combine their talents to present the evening of entertainment. These three artists — Levern Hutcherson, Lucia Hawkins, Avon Long — have behind them more than fifteen Broadway productions. Their program will contain highlights of their theatrical successes.

Included in the Gershwin Musical's repertoire are selections from Porgy and Bess, "Bogat" from Finian's Rainbow, "Flowers Aira" and "Stand Up and Fight" from Carmen Jones, "Freedom Song" from Bloomer Girl and George Gershwin's "Someone to Watch Over Me."

In a period of eighteen months, this group has risen to the top of the concert platform. The Gershwin Musical originated as a summer replacement program and now has made five tours throughout the United States. It will make its west coast debut in October.

Avon Long, considered one of the most dynamic personalities on the American stage today, is remembered for his portrayal of Sportin' Life in Porgy and Bess. He was featured in more than a dozen Broadway musicals — one with Eartha Kitt. He has played in such productions as Bloomer Girl, Green Pastures, and has appeared in the films Romanance On The High Seas and Ziegfeld Follies.
