Business Group Leads Campaign

Alpha Delta Epsilon is in charge of yearbook subscriptions this year. Subscription-Drive Manager is Garnet Boblett, and the drive is under supervision of ADE President Shirley Conrad. A minimum number of 300 yearbooks must be sold before a yearbook can be published. Yearbooks may be bought from any member of ADE for $4.00.

Other officers of Alpha Delta Epsilon for this year are Ed Rock, vice president; Janet Hyer, recording secretary; Susie McDougal, corresponding secretary; Berna Shawver, treasurer; Loye Burner, sergeant-at-arms; Ann Rodney Lorentz, historian; and Garnet Boblett, reporter.

A picnic was held recently at Cedar Creek State Park for all ADE members and their invited guests. New faculty members attending the picnic were Mrs. Dorothy Peterson and Mr. A. W. Zerban.

DO THE DEAD COME back to seek revenge from their murderers? This scene from the climax of "Monique" clearly shows that Fernand (James Troy) is confronted with "something." Students and faculty are invited to attend the play and find out just what that "something" is. (MERCURY photos by Dixon)

Murder Mystery 'Monique' Is Set For Glenville Stage Oct. 26, 27

By Janet Hall

"Monique", a fabulous mystery play, based on a novel by Pierre Boileau and Thomas Narcejac, will be presented on the Glenville State College stage Monday and Tuesday nights, Oct. 26 and 27.

New York critics agreed that "Monique" was one of the most unusual plays to reach Broadway in many a season. A combination of mystery, terrifying suspense, and with just a touch of the supernatural thrown in for good measure, the play is, at its core, a study in the deterioration of human character under the devious attack of the basest (but unconquerable) passions.

Monique (Jane Riddle), an attractive and domineering woman doctor, has ensnared Fernand (James Troy), a man of good will unhappily married to the shrewish Lucienne (Phyllis Harvey). The latter refuses to divorce Fernand and, insidiously, very cleverly Mon-

ADE, Council Seek Student Support In 1960 'Kanawhachen' Campaign

By Charmaine Gunnoe
By tomorrow the students of Glenville State College will have decided the fate of the 1959-60 yearbook, the KANAWHACHEN.

If 300 subscriptions are not received by that time, the campus will repeat the history of 1957 and once again be without a yearbook.

This year the subscription drive is again being sponsored by Alpha Delta Epsilon with Garnet Boblett as campaign manager.

Yearbooks are sold by all members of ADE. Arrangements have been made in the cafeteria to enable students to subscribe and borrow money for a yearbook.

Sample May Be Seen

Samples of this $4.00 yearbook are in the Student Union and cafeteria. Plans for the 100-page book include a cover with a campus scene in full natural color, an inside page of a 3 1/2" x 5" campus scene also in color, and individual pictures taken by the yearbook publishers, Delmar Publishing Company of Salem, N. C. Organization pictures, candid snapshots and a complete coverage on the year's GSC sports will also be included.

Scott Is Adviser

Charles C. Scott, assistant professor of art, is the KANAWHACHEN adviser. Mr. Scott has had experience in this type of work. Scott states that it will be the goal of the staff to make the best yearbook possible. He stated that the Delmar Publishing Company is not only publishing the KANAWHACHEN

College Band Attends Festival

The Glenville State College band under the direction of Dr. Robert Campbell, assistant professor of music, participated in the Black Walnut Festival parade at Spencer the past Saturday.

Miss Sue Ellen Garrett, freshman, served as a princess from Gilmer County at the Festival.

During Homecoming the GSC band was host to the Bruceville, Indiana, band directed by Norman Stone, former student. Stone, a native of Ellettsville, Ind., brought his high school band more than seven hundred mbles to participate in the Homecoming parade.

Graduates Perform

GSC graduates who directed bands in the parade were Tom Reed, Wahama High School; William Waldeck, Weston High School; Jack Kaufman, Sutton High School. Stanley Pickens, GSC senior, directs the Jane Lew High School band and also plays in the college band.

Carolyn Dotson, junior from Pennsboro, is drum majorette for the GSC Band. She is a home economics and a member of the Phi Delta Phi and the Xi Beta Tau sororities.

Mr. GSC Spirit, Please Stay!

MR. SPIRIT OF GSC has been feeling neglected on this campus for the past two years. In fact he has been contemplating leaving us. He first began to notice our neglect when so few students came to assemblies. It is here that students speak in his behalf; he clings to their hearts, sharpens their minds and puts pep and life into the campus.

AT A FACULTY meeting in Louis Bennett Lounge, Oct. 5, Mr. GSC Spirit indicated that he felt he should leave because seemingly no one wants him, but the faculty flatly refused to let him go. So Mr. GSC Spirit said that if the students are as enthusiastic about his remaining as the faculty is, he will stay with us and make himself glow so brightly that we will become worthy of our title, "Lighthouse on the Hill."

INSTRUCTORS AT THIS MEETING told him that instead of leaving us, he should try to help us. Thursday, 10:10, is the only time during the week that we as a college may meet as a group. Without this time we would become divided into four classes and when "divided we surely will fall."

ONE OF THE REASONS for low attendance at assemblies is the lack of advertising on the part of our campus organizations sponsoring the assemblies. However, Dr. Jones, and Mr. Zerban, faculty advisers of the Assembly Committee, assured Mr. GSC Spirit that with the help of the students our assemblies this year will be better. Committee and students are going to work more closely. They plan to advertise, have more interesting assemblies and enthusiastically attempt to increase the attendance.

INDIVIDUAL FACULTY MEMBERS have expressed a willingness to work with the students to better the assemblies. They, too, realize the importance of keeping Mr. Spirit on our Campus.

MR. GSC SPIRIT feels that the faculty has taken the first step and that it is now time for the students to wake up and get out of the monochalant attitude they have acquired over the years.

SORORITY AND FRATERNITY members indicated with their Homecoming floats that they can produce something worthwhile. GSC men and women indicated by their attendance at the Lyceum program, Oct. 5, that they will attend programs; lyceum attendance showed that the auditorium and balcony can be filled.

WELCOME HOME MR. GSC SPIRIT!

Campus Ensemble Formed Recently

Two new campus ensembles have been organized recently by Mr. Alexander Zerban, instructor in music. The ensembles, one for men and one for women, are designed to sing a variety of types of music. The women's group, called the "Melodettes", made its debut during the intermission at the Homecoming Dance. They sang "April Love" and "Getting to Know You."

The "Melodettes" consist of Shirley Conrad, Carmen Amos, Elaine Allison, Martha Hall, Phyllis Tice, Bethanne Hardman, Doris Conkle and Mary Taylor.

The male group called the "Basses" is composed of John Ranson, Paul Wigal, Gale Hammett, Bill Biggers, Edward McKown, Dan Allan and Harold Metz.

Besides performing at dances, the groups will sing for banquets, parties, and various affairs on campus and in the community. In this way, will entertain as well as provide a significant musical experience for the members.

Glenechoes Perform

The "Glenechoes", a mixed, select choral group is starting its second year as a performing group. They rehearse one night a week under the direction of Mr. Zerban. Singing in the group are Shirley Hager, Carmen Amos, Joyce Rule, Edward McKown, Paul Wigal, Stanley Pickens and Mr. Zerban.

The "Glenechoes" will do a radio show on Oct. 17 at which time they will sing "Now Let Us Lift Our Youthful Voices", by Hassler; "Charlottown", by Bryan; and "Come Again, Sweet Love", by Dowland.

Glenville State College Freshman Is President of State FFA Group

West Virginia Association of Future Farmers of America, is one of more than seventy members of the state association attending the 32nd National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo. Gaines was elected president of the state organization at the meeting held at Jackson's Mill the past summer.

Gaines is also a member of the livestock judging team representing Troy High School which will participate in the national judging. Another member of this team is David Talbott, freshman. Adviser for the group is Charles Cole, former student.

The four-day event which opened Oct. 12 will have some 12,000 members in attendance from the United States and Puerto Rico.

Library Employs Eleven Students For Current Year

Carolyn McCullough, senior elementary education from Hebron, is serving as secretary to the head librarian, Mr. Patterson. Miss McCullough's duties include the processing of new books, checking invoices, typing order letters and business letters.

Students who are working full-time (80-65 hours) are Shirley Orendorff, Emily Stroehman Bargehlo, Roger Stonfer, Wanda Stump, and Paul Takach. Miss Orendorff, junior from Greenbank and Mrs. Bargehlo, sophomore from Parkersburg both check in an arrange periodicals, type and file catalog cards and work at loan desk.

Duties Listed

Stonfer, sophomore from Leetsdale, Pa., helps with the lettering and mending of books, with shelving of magazines, and works at the loan desk. Miss Stump is a sophomore from Stumptown. Her duties include desk duties and typing.

Takach, a senior from Parkersburg, is responsible for the custodian's duties.

Those students working half-time (30-32 hours) are Robert Rodgers, Wynonna Mason, Beverly Rogers, Sue Wright, and Ann Chisler.

Rodgers, a sophomore from East Bank, helps with the mending of books, shelving of books and magazines and checks books at the loan desk. Miss Mason, and Miss Rogers, both juniors from Elizabeth, are occupied with desk duties.

Recruiting Team Will Visit Campus

Captain Robert M. Macallum and A/1c Lillian J. Goodwin, of the United States Air Force Recruiting Service will visit Glenville State College on Oct. 19, 20, and 21.

The team will be at the Student Union from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. where they will explain the officers training program to college seniors seeking opportunities and information.

Gail Ratliff, senior, was installed as president of the Phi Delta Phi at the club's annual installation in the Home Economics Department Sept. 7. Other officers installed include Ann Patterson, first vice president; Phyllis Velth, second vice president; Claris Fleming, secretary; Francis Patterson, historian; Winona Stewart, song leader.

This active club will sponsor a freshman reception in the Louis Bennett Lounge Oct. 8; the event will begin at 7:00.

All freshmen girls and faculty members are invited to attend.

College Students Assume Positions In Glenville Church Organizations

"Dating, Courtship, and Marriage" is the theme of Wesley Foundation's series of programs which begin at 7:00 each Sunday evening at the Trinity Methodist Church. Mr. A. W. Zerban, Mr. Stanley Hall, Dr. Espy Miller and Mr. John White will be speakers on subsequent evenings.

Officers of the Wesley Foundation are Carolyn McCullough, president; David Hamilton, vice-president; Carol Reed, treasurer; Doris Hoesy, associate program chairman; Clair Morehead, world community chairman; Ron Younger and Glenda Coffman, recreation chairman and associate.

College students interested in singing are invited to attend. Mrs. John Arbuckle is organist; Mrs. Byron Turner, assistant organist; Charmaine Gunnoe, junior choir director.

Built last year, the Church of Christ extends a welcome to all college students to attend their services. Sunday schedule is Sunday School at 10:00, Worship Service at 11:00 a.m., Bible Study at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at 7:30, Bible Study is again held.

Catholic Chapel on Court Street Special instruction classes will begin soon at the Catholic Chapel on Court Street, under the direction of Father Bernard Quinn. College students are invited to attend the Holy Mass at 4:00 each Sunday evening.

Future Teachers Plan Programs

Burleigh E. Breedlove, assistant professor of education and one of the advisers of the SNEA (formerly Future Teachers of America) on campus, hopes to form a remedial reading clinic here with the help of the SNEA members.

Breedlove spoke at a recent meeting of the club and described remedial work that he had performed at Peabody Child State Center.

Berna Shawver, senior from Gasaway, will represent the club in the annual Future Teachers of America contest.

Rebekah Shawver, sophomore from Richwood and Janet Johnson, sophomore from Buckhannon, attended the Future Teacher's Conference held at Jackson's Mill Oct. 2-4.

SNEA officers for 1959-60 are Anna Belle Sheets, president; Wynonna Mason, vice president; Patty Mace, secretary; and Frances Kesterson, treasurer.

Berna Shawver is parliamentarian; Rebekah Shawver, historian; Carol Sue Reed, librarian.

The club plans to meet the first and third Thursday of each month at 6:15 p.m. in Room 301 A.

Special educational programs and guest speakers will be presented at the meetings.

Advisers are Miss Jewell E. Matthews and Mr. Breedlove.

Mr. Michael Ayers, GSC Alumni President, wishes to thank all alumni, faculty, students and friends of the college who assisted in any way to make the 1959 Homecoming the success that it was.

Murder Mystery

(Continued From Page 1) ique succeeds in implanting in the mind of the tormented man the obsession that there is only one course open to him: Lucienne must be removed.

The two, conspiring together, evolve one of the most ingenious murder methods in all the annals of crime—absolutely foolproof and impossible to detect. The plan is put into operation; it is apparently a complete success—and then . . .

The ending to this strange ghost story is known only by members of the cast and will be kept secret until the play is given.

Members of the cast include Melanie Amos, Judy Busch, Bill Sams, Bill Dawson, Jim Martney, Jane Riddle, James Troy, and Phyllis Harvey.

Technical aspects of this play promise to be different from any seen before on the Glenville stage. Special lighting effects will be used along with directional sounds and special background music adapted especially to this play.

Marloue Locke, who worked in stage designing this summer at the Wilmington College Summer Theatre, will be designing stage sets for "Monique."

Director of the mystery is William S. E. Coleman, associate professor of speech, and his assistant is Jim Abraham. It is being produced by the Ohningohow Players and admission will be .50 for students and .75 for adults.

This play and the French suspense film, Diabolique, are both based on the same novel by Boileau and Narcejac.

The play will be produced by special arrangement with Samuel French, Inc.

Glenville Eleven Will Face Salem At Home Oct. 23

The Pioneers travel to Buckhannon on Oct. 17 to play the Bobcats of West Virginia Wesleyan College in the G-Men's fifth game of the season. The results of the Davis and Elkins game were not available at press time, but the Pioneers' record at that time stood at 2-1.

The most important game coming for the Pioneers should be the game with the Salem Tigers to be played at Rohrbough Field on Friday, Oct. 23. At press time, Salem was undefeated and the conference leader. So far, the Tigers have put the wood to three tough opponents, West Liberty, Concord, West Virginia Wesleyan.

Glenville's only defeat was at the hands of an old nemesis, Potomac State in a game played at Keyser. In a tightly played game, the Cata-mounts came out on the long end of a 7-6 score. The tight game was an old story for the Pioneer Cata-mount game, for in the last four years there has been a total of 27 points scored in the four games, 14 by Potomac State and 13 by Glenville.

The leading ball carrier for Glenville thus far has been Halfback Ellsworth Buck from Richwood who has gained 198 yards in 14 carries for 14.1 average per carry. Fullback Paul Skidmore is second with 128 in 11 carries for an 11.6 average.

In kicking, Gene Alkire is the leader with a 44.3 yard average on punting and a 20-yard field goal. In pass receiving, Ends Romeo Williams and Buddie Minner and Halfback Junior Wilson have caught two passes each, Williams and Minner for an identical 22 yards and Wilson for 53.

Students Complete Degree This Term

Nine Glenville State College students are scheduled to complete requirements for an A.B. degree in education on Nov. 6, 1959, announces Dean Delmer K. Somerville.

These students include Frederick Neale Batten, Spencer, music; John Gratton Carr, Frametown, social studies and commerce; business principles; Jack Alan Deem, Vienna, mathematics and physical science; Victor Gilkeson, Layland, mathematics and physical science; Mary Burke Greynolds, Sand Fork, physical education.

Robert Earl Losh, Weston, social studies and commerce; business principles; Charles Clemet Morris, Sandyville, mathematics and social studies; Paul Robert Rippe, Elizabeth, social studies and speech; Betty Anne Selman, Craigsville, social studies and biology.

Pioneers Trounce Mountain Lions Before Large Homecoming Crowd

By Bill Biggers

In their best offensive showing of the season, the White Wave up-ended Concord College 23-6 in the annual Homecoming clash at Rohrbough Field. This victory enabled the Pioneers to bring their record to 2 won and 1 lost in the young season. This victory also kept alive a winning streak of four straight homecoming wins.

The Pioneers broke into the scoring column early in the first quarter. Halfback Paul Skidmore picked up a partially blocked punt on the Glenville 40-yard line, cut for the sidelines and outran the Concord secondary the remaining 60 yards and gave Glenville a six point lead. Gene Alkire's placekick was wide and the score stood 6-0.

Quarterback Taylor Scores
Later in the same quarter, the Pioneers took the ball on the Concord 49-yard line. A series of running plays and one 6-yard pass from Quarterback Fred Taylor to End Romeo Williams moved the ball to the Concord 12-yard line.

Then Quarterback Taylor rolled out to pass and saw no one open, so he tucked the ball under his shoulder and sprinted down the right side into the end zone standing up. The kick was again wide making the score 12-0 in Glenville's favor.

In the second quarter Glenville's offense was held at bay, but the defense took up where the offense stopped and showed the crowd that points are scored by playing defense, too. Midway in the second quarter, Concord took over the ball on their own 42-yard line. After the hard charging Pioneer defensive line had thrown Concord back to their own 7-yard line, the Lions went into punt formation with the kicker standing in the end zone.

Keith Smith, freshman defensive end from Moundsville, broke through to block the punt. A Lion back picked up the ball and tried to escape to the end zone, but Benny Lepley, senior center from Rainelle, tackled him before he could get out, the Pioneers had 2 more points.

Concord Scores

There was no more scoring until the third quarter. Then with the score standing 14-0, Gene Alkire, junior halfback, booted a 23-yard field goal to boost Glenville's lead to 17-0.

The final score was made in the fourth quarter on a 23-yard pass play from Quarterback Fred Taylor to junior end Jim Jay of Clarksburg who caught the ball on the 4-yard line and lunged across the final stripe for the score. The PAT was again no good and the G-Men were ahead 23-0.

Concord's only sustained drive was made in the fourth quarter and led to the Lion's only score of the game. It was culminated with a 23-yard scoring pass. The PAT was blocked.

Bruceville Band Achievement Shows Norman Stone — Man With Courage

By Dorothy Butler

Cast your bread upon the waters . . . it returneth a thousand-fold. Such was the case with Glenville State College and a young man from Indiana.

Had he been on the water, the young fellow would have no doubt been seasick; he was on a bus, however, and was bus sick. He left the little town in Indiana in search of a "southern" college, and his route took him through Glenville.

As chance would have it, the young man was terribly sick by the time he reached Glenville. He saw a "Home of Glenville State College" sign — and he was desperate. So he got off the bus, staggered into the Post Office and asked weakly, "Now just where is this col-

Phi Delta Phi Gives Reception

Home Economics Club at GSC has changed its official name to Phi Delta Phi. The local club is affiliated with state and national Home Economic Association.

This club sponsored a reception last Thursday for new staff members and freshman girls at the Home Management House from 7:30 to 8:30.

Officers of the club are Gail Ratliff, president; Ann Patterson, first vice president; Phyllis Veith, second vice president; Claris Fleming, secretary; Frances Patterson, historian; Winona Stewart, song leader; Carolyn Waugh, reporter.

Sponsors of the club are Mrs. Eileen Wolfe, Miss Elma Jean Woolter, and Mrs. Lillian Chad-dock. Club meets the first and third Thursday evenings at 6:30.

Bruceville Band

lege?" Thus Norman Stone came to Glenville.

That was in the fall of '54. Norman was here for two and a half years, and extremely active participant in campus life and a friend of many students. Evidently he was satisfied with his "last stand" college.

He left Glenville in January, 1957 and soon started teaching in a small Indiana town. At Homecoming we saw the evidence of Norman's influence. He brought his 45-piece Bruceville band over 750 miles (a 3 1/4 day round-trip bus ride) to take part in our Homecoming activities.

Bruceville is a community of 500; many sacrifices had to be made to finance such a trip. A lot of work, heart, and optimism went into the plan to return. Money was raised by special band shows, cake and pie sales, a fish fry, a bean supper, and a Band Day in July on the 50th anniversary of Bruceville High School. (Bruceville has 134 students in grades 7-12).

Experienced band members gave lessons to junior band members to raise money; all band members sold candy at ballgames - in fact, the senior and junior band worked all year to raise money for the trip.

And they made it. They came, we saw, and we admired their spirit. They came, they saw - and some of them may return again to become part of our campus.

Another result of Norman's influence, no doubt, is the fact that we have a girl from Bicknell, Ind., on our campus. Wilma Sue Pinkstaff, a Bruceville graduate, enrolled here this fall. Her bandmaster - Norman Stone.

Of him she says, "He's just the most marvelous man I've ever met." She went on to say that Norman never does anything just halfway; he throws himself into whatever he starts and then isn't satisfied with less than the best. "With him," she added, "it's always all the way or none at all." We would agree; he brought all his band back to his school.

177 GSC Women Live In Dorms; Governing Boards Are Named

One hundred seventy-seven women are living in the three women's dormitories on campus. There are 86 in Verona Maple Hall, 57 in Kanawha Hall, and 34 in Section IV Louis Bennett Hall. Firestone Lodge has been closed for the semester, reports Miss Pearl Pickens, dean of women.

Barbara Peaster, senior from Haddon Heights, N. J., will serve as president of the Verona Maple Hall governing Board this year. She will be assisted by Mary Jo Chisler, vice president; Sue Valentine, secretary; Janet Fields, treasurer.

Class representatives to the governing board include Sue Skidmore and Melanie Amos, freshman; Winona Stewart and Betty Lou Hashman, sophomore; Charmaine Gunnoe and Carolyn Dotson, junior; Jane Riddle and Carmen Amos senior. Housemother is Mrs. Mabel Payne.

Adams, White Do Summer Work

Two GSC faculty members did research and graduate work in western universities this summer. They are John White, assistant professor of mathematics and He-man Adams, assistant professor of biology.

John White received a National Science Foundation Grant to do graduate work for eight weeks at the University of Wyoming. Mrs. White and their two sons, Billy and Chuck, spent the summer at Laramie with Mr. White.

Mr. White reports that there were people from all parts of the United States attending the University this summer. Another West Virginia man, Everett Sperry, assistant professor of science and mathematics at Alderson-Broadus College, also received a similar grant and was enrolled in the same classes with White.

Miss Shirley Chancey, 1957 English and art GSC graduate, was enrolled at the University of Wyoming for the second term during the summer.

While in Wyoming, the White family saw Snowy Range, visited Rocky Mountain National Park, the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs; Central City, one of the restored mining towns of the West; University of Colorado, Denver and Grand Lake in Colorado as well as other scenic spots.

Mr. Adams spent eight weeks at Marine Station on Coos Bay, Oregon. The clinic was sponsored by Oregon University. College professors from about twenty-six states heard regular and series of lectures from guest speakers. The bulk of the study dealt with marine animals and plants of the Tidal Zone.

Field trips and individual research on the movements of the Tidepool Sculpins. During their stay the Adams family camped out. The Oregon coast has rather constant temperature, the water usually being between 52 to 54 degrees. The days were damp and half of them were foggy, reports Adams.
