Home Ec. House Opens Next Term

The Home Management House located at 206 North Court Street will open at the beginning of the second term. Six home economics students will move into the House at that time. The House has not been open the first term.

Nominees Named for 'Who's Who'; National Committee Must Decide

Pioneer 4-H Club Names '59 Officers

Rose Marie Sheets is president of the Pioneer 4-H Club. Erselne Gainer is vice president; Donna Huffman, secretary; and Joyce Jackson, treasurer.

Song Leader is Marilyn Grose and reporter is Doty Carpenter. Mrs. Flora Pribble, housemother at Kanawha Hall, is the adviser.

A weiner roast was held recently on the Wesley House lawn, sponsored by the club.

The result of the recent election for students to be listed in the annual national yearbook of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" will be announced in late November, indicates Stanley Hall, faculty chairman.

Reason for the delay in the announcement is that the GSC Who's Who Committee only recommends Glenville State candidates; the editors of "Who's Who" yearbook make the final choice. Students chosen by the GSC committee do not always coincide with the national committee's choice.

On the basis of enrollment, Glenville State is permitted 11 representatives for the publication. Nominees are chosen by the junior and senior classes; these are then (Continued on Page 2)

Committee Plans Programs

The Assembly Committee in an evaluation of the GSC programs has concluded that there is a need for better quality programs, larger attendance and more programs; the Committee has adopted measures hoped to help solve these problems.

As a means of correcting the need for better quality assemblies, each member of the Committee will work with an organization presenting an assembly this semester.

Campus groups planning a program must report to the Committee on the progress of the program on the Tuesday, a week prior to the scheduled assembly. Committee will make any suggestions for improvements that it thinks are needed.

The Committee is also urging the organizations to publicize their program by placing posters over the campus.

Assembly schedule will be posted in the Administration Building and published in this issue of the MERCURY.

Holy Roller Court and Political Science Club will work to encourage attendance. Members plan to give last-minute reminders to students.

Dr. James G. Jones, chairman of the Committee, reminds students and organizations that they should submit requests for programs for the second semester.

Nine States Send Students to GSC

Twenty-five out-of-state students are now attending Glenville State College reports Brown Trussler, registrar. Mr. Trussler stated that this is the largest out-of-state enrollment at Glenville State since he came here in 1956 and that he believes his to be the largest in history of the college.

Twenty of these students come from Ohio, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware. Five come from Indiana, Massachusetts, New York, Michigan, and Washington, D. C.

When Cobwebs Are Cleaned . . .

THE GLENVILLE STATE COLLEGE ART Department decided last year to "clean the cobwebs" from their brushes, remove the "scum" from their paint and become the creators of a Palette and Brush Club. This young club became the nucleus of the art department which was endowed with a fervor recognized by GSC students as enthusiasm.

EQUIPPED WITH THIS ZEST they began to thoroughly houseclean the entire art department. They brought out ideas that had been stored away over the years as impracticable, dusted and polished them, placed them within the minds of the art students where they incubated into new ideas.

THIS CONGLOMERATION of old and new resulted in the first sidewalk art show in the history of our college. The Palette and Brush Club members collected over $105 to be given as prize money. Persons throughout this area of the state sent their work to be judged. At this show, there were rows of oils, water color paintings, charcoal drawings, and ceramics. There was a demonstration of making ceramics by the wheel-throwing method presented by a student.

THESE CREATORS cast their eyes upon the empty display cases in front of the Registrar's office. The display cases were soon filled with the work of art majors and art students. Exhibits included oil paintings, ceramics, and African masks.

AT CHRISTMAS TIME, are students made ornamental birds of colored paper and foil, and the Palette and Brush Club used them to decorate the Christmas tree in the Administration Building. This is a project which the club plans to do every year.

THE PAST SPRING the Art History class went to Washington, D. C., to view paintings in The National Gallery and the Corcoran Gallery.

AN ART GALLERY is now open in the Administration Building, first floor, Unit B. The first display was a group of Japanese prints.

PROGRESSION CAN BE MADE on our campus with enthusiasm and spirit; the art department is an example of this spirit. We say, "Congratulations, Palette and Brush Club, for the numerous esthetic touches which you are adding to our campus."

HALLOWEEN

Graveyard abandoned by day,
Peopled at night, they say.
Black as a dungeon, what a sight,

Witches chanting at midnight—
Tombstones all askew,
Skinny hands stir the stew:
Whistle, Brave One, passing by—
Reason says you cannot fly.

Fourteen Students Join Business Group

Formal initiation for 14 members of Alpha Delta Epsilon was held recently in Louis Bennet Lounge. New members are Janet McHenry, Mary Batten, Christine Miner, Mary Batten, Eddie Groves, Roger Hanna, Roberta Smith, Bill Rhoades, Jim Divers, Nancy Strickland, Clyde Scott, Lula Belle Long, Betty Lou Hashman, and Freda Hatfield.

Students, Alumni Do Summer Stock

Representing Glenville State College in the Wilmington College Summer Theatre in Wilmington, Ohio, this past summer, were Marilou Locke, Rodney Busch and Jim White. This was an educational, collegiate theatre program for students of above average ability and ambition. There were students there from all parts of the Eastern and Mid-western part of the United States.

During the 10-weeks session, the students produced three plays in all of which Rodney Busch had supporting leads. The plays were "Anastasia", "Elizabeth The Queen," and "Skin of Our Teeth"; in the latter, Miss Locke played three roles and White had a part.

Miss Locke Designs

Miss Locke designed costumes for all three plays and helped with the stage designing. She, along with Busch and White did technical work such as building sets and working lights for performances.

Busch is now at Penn State University on an acting assistantship; he was graduated from Glenville last spring. Miss Locke is a junior speech and art student. She plans to go to graduate school and major in costume designing.

Jim White is now teaching in Ben Franklin Junior High School in Parkersburg.

Randolph Stein, a graduate of Glenville of the class of '58 was in summer stock at Penn State University this summer. He did technical work, especially lighting for shows.

There is never any scarcity of excuses for doing what you want to do.

Trussler Attends Registrar Meet

Registrar Brown Trussler and Assistant Registrar Erma Edwards attended the annual meeting of the West Virginia Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions officers at Morgantown, Oct. 14, 15, 16. The meeting was held at the Mont Chateau Lodge at Cheat Lake.

Key speaker for the meeting was Charles E. Harrell, president elect of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers.

During a business session of the meeting, Mr. Trussler was elected president-elect of the West Virginia Association.

A highlight of the three-day meeting was a tour of the West Virginia University School of Medicine.

Nominees Named

further limited by vote of the student body.

Nominees are asked to make a list of the activities they have participated in during their college years. Each activity or organization-office is given a value before the lists of activities are considered.

Four factors — scholarship, leadership, college participation, (citizenship), and results of the popular election — are given equal value when the final selections are made.

Leadership is determined by the kind and number of offices held; citizenship is valued by the variety and number of activities of each student. The 25 points of scholarship go to the student with the highest scholastic average.

Total number of points in all four areas is the determining factor in choosing the "Who's Who" winners. Members of the GSC "Who's Who" committee are Chairman Hall, and Miss Virginia West, faculty advisers; Jane Riddle, Steve Taylor and Harry Hull.

Junior class nominees are Paul Cochrane, Carolyn Dotson, Janet Fields, Charmaine Gunnoe, Harry Hull, Jim Jay, Linda Mayo, and Sue Valentine.

Pioneers Defeat D-E Senators; Wesleyan Whips White Wave 21-7

Glenville Pioneers routed the D-E Senators in their recent encounter using the forward pass to score two touchdowns and defeat the Senators 17-0. The forward pass is a tactic seldom used by the G-Men who usually rely on their strong ground game.

The powerful Pioneer ground attack chalked up 262 yards rushing but failed to push across a tally. Time and again a fumble would top a budding touchdown drive. Glenville fumbled five times and lost all five.

With the rushing attack faltering because of fumbles, Quarterback Fred Taylor took to the airwaves and hit halfback Junior Wilson with a 35-yard touchdown pass. Sub Quarterback Louie Nocida also got into the aerial act by throwing End Romeo Williams a 25-yard scoring pass for the Pioneers' second touchdown.

An important feature in the Pioneers attack was the punting of Gene Alkire. Alkire kicked two perfect extra-points in as many tries. He also booted a 20-yard field goal and handled the Pioneer punting in fine fashion.

Statistics showed Glenville with 262 yards rushing and 60 passing for a total of 322. The leading ground gainers were Wilson with 87 yards in 14 carries and Phil Clark with 62 in 12 attempts.

Bobcats Are Strong

West Virginia Wesleyan riddled a leaky Glenville pass defense with three long touchdown passes to defeat the Pioneers 21 to 7 before a homecoming crowd at Buckhannon, Oct. 17. The passing combination of Bartek to Woods accounted for all three Wesleyan touchdowns on passes of 56, 17 and 59 yards. Gross kicked the extra point after each score.

The Pioneers' only touchdown came in the second quarter after a 87-yard march capped by a 6-yard run by quarterback Fred Taylor. Gene Alkire kicked the extra point.

Taylor Completes 7 Passes

Wesleyan's strong defensive line held the Pioneers to 69 yards rushing, forcing them to go to the air. Taylor completed 7 out of 10 passes good for 67 yards. His favorite target was End Buddie Minner who caught three passes good for 30 yards.

Fourteen Teams Continue Play In MAA League

Fourteen teams are taking part in the volleyball league sponsored by the Men's Athletic Association (MAA). The teams have been firing in earnest for five weeks. Only two teams have emerged from the five games undefeated - Slats and the Jumping Jacks.

The league, directed by Coach Ratliff, plays each Thursday. After the regular season is over, the teams will engage in a double elimination tournament to decide the champion.

In last week's action the Wayside Rompers downed the "R" Squad, Beatniks won over Raiders, Slats whipped the Ramblers, Golden Wazoos eased by Vets, Jumping Jacks defeated the Sock Tuckers, Flames beat Thunderbirds, and in the final game of the evening Holy Roller was victorious over Crazy Eight.

Football Season Ends At Fairmont

Glenville Pioneers will travel to Fairmont, Saturday to do battle with the Fairmont State Falcons; this contest will mark the end of the football season for Glenville.

Last year the Falcons came to Glenville to oppose one of the finest football teams in Glenville's history. The Pioneers eased by the Falcons 18-6 to end the season unbeaten and reign as conference champs. However, this is another year and the Pioneers are fighting to attain a winning record.

Comparing games with a mutual opponent, Concord, the game should rate a toss-up. Glenville whipped Concord 23-7. On the following weekend Fairmont defeated the Mountain Lions 26-6. According to these scores there is little difference in the two teams.

With all past records thrown out the window, this should be a fine football game.

Tigers Meet, Defeat Glenville In Last Home Game Of Season

Salem Tigers defeated Glenville's Pioneers 13-0 Friday to close out the GSC home football season. The game, played with teams during the second half, was controlled by the two hard-intermittent showers which handicapped offensive play of both charging defensive lines.

Retailing Class Visits Pittsburgh

Thirty members of the Business Education 311 Class, Retail Merchandising, made a trip to Pittsburgh Oct. 22. The group visited the School of Retailing at the University of Pittsburgh and took an extended tour "behind-the-scenes" in Gimbel's Department Store.

Members of the class who made the trip were Joan Bias, Lyle Burner, James Cooper, Shirley Conrad, Betty Jane Craft, Robert Crowe, James Divers, Clarice Fleming, Anna Glover, Anthony Gum, Emma Hammett, Betty Lou Hashman.

Other travelers included, Caroline Heeter, Lavonne Litton, Allen Livingston, Lulah Bell Long, Ann Rodney Lorentz, Ned McCray, Frank Montgomery, Starling Neff, Jack Phillips, Jane Riddle, Betty Smith, Mary Smith, Roberta Smith, Leah Spurgeon, Galen Steele, Frances Stephenson, Wanda Stump and Margaret Spicer.

The group traveled by chartered Greyhound bus.

L. Jones Reports Campus Changes

Lloyd M. Jones, business manager, reports a number of campus changes were made during the summer. The parking areas at Science Building, Administration Building and Firestone Lodge have been resurfaced with concrete and asphaltic concrete.

Over one thousand feet of six-inch metal drain tile was installed at the College farm. Brick and mortar of Unit A of Administration Building was pointed up and all outside brick cleaned, and the outside of Verona Chapel Hall was painted. The tennis court was given an all-weather surface.

New furniture was purchased for the fourth section of Louis Bennett Hall and Pine Manor apartments at a cost of $13,936.40. Furniture from fourth section of Louis Bennett Hall will be moved to the new women's dormitory after it is built.

Glenville was unable to get anything resembling a scoring drive started for the first two quarters as Salem completely bottled up the Pioneer attack. The G-Men saw two good scoring opportunities pass them by in the third quarter.

Defensive guard Bill Shinn recovered a fumble on the Salem 22-yard line but it went for naught as David Hathaway, Pioneer halfback, lost 10 yards on an attempted end run. On the next play quarterback Fred Taylor's pass was intercepted by Salem in their end zone and run out to the 18.

In spite of this, the Pioneers were still not through; on the first play a Salem back fumbled and big John Pisapia fell on it on the 17-yard line. Taylor, attempting to go to the air, threw one incomplete pass and then was thrown for a 6-yard loss.

On the next play, with Taylor attempting to pass, the ball was deflected by a charging lineman into the hands of one of his teammates who moved it out to the Salem 38 and Glenville had missed another golden opportunity to score.

Salem scored first in the second quarter on a 22-yard pass to right end Grover. Grover booted the extra point to give Salem a 7-0 lead at halftime.

Salem's second touchdown came late in the third quarter. Gene Alkire, attempting to punt on third down, had his kick blocked but recovered it himself. He then attempted to kick again but was rushed hard by the Salem line and got off a short 20-yard kick; Salem had the ball on Glenville's 34-yard line.

After four running plays had moved the ball to the 17, left halfback Kopinski carried the ball for a 17-yard touchdown jaunt. Attempted kick for the extra point was blocked by Hathaway.

Glenville's fighting Pioneers took the ball on their own 35-yard line and marched to Salem's 16-yard line. A 15-yard penalty at that point set the Pioneers back to the 31-yard line marking an end to their last serious scoring threat.

Key play in the drive was a 17-yard pass from quarterback Louie Nocida to end Keith Smith. Fullback Skidmore was the work horse of the drive, carrying the ball six times for important yardage.

Buddie Minner, playing good defensive ball, intercepted two Salem passes and deflected several others. He was one of the reasons Salem's passing attack was inefficient - except for the 22-yard scoring pass.

Adviser for this year's KANAWHACHEN will be Charles C. Scott, assistant professor of art.

Martha Lee Hall, sophomore from Glenville, is an elementary education student. She is a member of Kappa Chi Kappa sorority. Janet Hall, sophomore from Gassaway, is an English and speech student. She is news editor of the MERCURY.

Assistant copy editor Masil Dobson is a senior art and English student from Vienna. She is a member of Brush and Palette Club and is copy reader for the MERCURY.

Mary Ann Graham, South Charleston, is a sophomore art student. She is a member of Kappa Chi Kappa sorority.

Bill Lepley, a senior from Rainelle is a physical education and social studies student. He is a manager for the GSC football team, Waynuel McCray, Parkersburg, is a freshman business administration student. He is president of the freshman class and serves on the Student Council.

Ronald Prunty, senior from Linn, is a biology and physical science student. Eugene Davis, freshman from Cass, is an English student.

Pat Dennis is a freshman home economics student from Amma, and Marjorie Roth is a freshman elementary education student from Parkersburg.

The first KANAWHACHEN was published in 1911. Miss Ethel Crim Peterson, an instructor in the language department, suggested the name KANAWHACHEN. The Little Kanawha River was then the most important avenue of communication with the outside, and "chen" means "little".

Alpha Delta Epsilon business fraternity conducted the subscription drive again this year.

Chasen Men Day Ain't Far Away

Several dignitaries will be on campus Nov. 14, reports Kappa Sigma Kappa officials. Plans are in progress to entertain these distinguished visitors from the time they arrive until they leave.

These dignitaries are coming from Dogpatch to GSC to observe the annual Sadie Hawkins Day. This great event will open with the famed Sadie Hawkins race "for all the gals what can't git a man no other way."

"That's goin to be fun all day long for the gals and their fellers. That night that's goin to be the Skunk Holler Stomp in the Student Union."

Marryin' Sam Comin'

Ray Boggs, president of Kappa Sigma Kappa has revealed the names of two dignitaries who will be here on Nov. 14. Coming straight from Dogpatch will be Marryin' Sam (Ray Brown), and the Mayor of Dogpatch (Wayne Hardman). Other male dignitaries will also be present for the event.

Mildred Nocida, president of Kappa Chi Kappa sorority, has announced that Mammy Yokum (Norma Currey), Moon Beam McSwine (Martha Lee Hall), Wolf Gal (Judy Miller), and Hopeful (Lu Royster) will be accompanying the fellows from Dogpatch.

Daisy Mae and Lil' Abner will be chosen by the student body from the campus organization candidates. The election will be held in the Student Union Wednesday through Friday, Nov. 11-13.

Pioneers Defeat D-E

Carson Cottrell Is Coordinator, Instructor For College, State

By Dorothy Butler

Among the new instructors on the GSC staff this year is Carson L. Cottrell, who represents both the College and the State Department of Education in his position here. Cottrell is Coordinator of Instructional Services as an employee of the State Department and as a Glenville State employee his position is Director of Field Services.

Because this combination of positions is new to our campus, the duties and responsibilities of a Coordinator may need explanation. The State Department has divided the state into seven regions; Cottrell is coordinator for Region IV. This includes Braxton, Clay, Calhoun, Gilmer, Nicholas, Pocahontas, and Webster Counties. He also visits all counties in the GSC attendance area.

discusses the instructional program in each county or local school. Part of his responsibility is to observe the programs of the counties in action, help identify any problem areas in the instructional plan, and work with the local administrators to improve their teaching program.

He offers the services of both the State Department and Glenville College to each of the counties as they plan or carry out any particular projects or programs and works with county officials and local teachers to set up clinics and workshops for training teachers or students.

He is responsible for determining the need for extension classes and organizes them in areas where there is sufficient demand. Participating in the high school testing program for juniors which this college sponsors, he plans to use the results of the junior testing program to help identify, as early as possible, outstanding college or teacher prospects.

Aids in Training Program
Cottrell is the College representative for area meetings of principals, supervisors, superintendents, or teachers as they meet on our campus. He attends county educational meetings when possible and makes contacts with beginning teachers in the area who are graduates of GSC. They often suggest ways to improve the teacher-training program of Glenville State.

In addition to his off-campus duties, Cottrell teaches a three-hour educational sociology class every Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Cottrell live in one of the Louis Bennett Hall apartments. They have two daughters—both married. Before he came to Glenville, Cottrell was principal of Hurricane High School. A native of Putnam County, he served as Assistant Superintendent of Putnam County Schools for seven years; taught in that county five years; and was principal there for five years. Cottrell holds BA and MA degrees, both from Marshall College, where he has done additional graduate work.
