Second Annual Art Show Is May 15; Top Winners Will Get Cash Awards

Entries are being received by the Palette and Brush Club for the outdoor show and exhibit to be held Sunday, May 15, from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. on the Verona Mapel lawn. This is the second annual art exhibit and sale held at GSC.

The last day to receive entry and juror's forms will be May 7, and the last day to receive entries will be May 12. All work must be listed on the entry forms in typewriter or plain lettering, and all work must be the original work of the artist completed in the last two years. An entry fee of $1.00 for each person will be charged for all entrants except Palette and Brush Club members.

All non-student entrants must frame their work. Students do not have to frame their work; however, all water colors, pastels, and inks should be matted. If any of the paintings are for sale, the price should be indicated. The Palette and Brush Club will receive 15 per cent of the returns of all entries.

Contributors Listed

The money awards for the exhibit and contributors are: Oils, first prize $25.00—Kanawha Union Bank; second prize—$15.00—Conrad Hotel and Howes Department Store; third prize—$10.00—Mrs. Masli Dobson. In the water colors, pastels, charcoals, ink, and tempera division, the following awards will be given: First prize—$20.00—GSC Alumni Association; second prize—$8.00—Midlands, anonymous faculty member; third prize—$4.00—West Virginia Paint in Parkersburg.

In the craft's division, first prize—$7.00—Koon's Kubbard, Calhoun Super Service, and second prize—$5.00—Glenville Democrat, Rhodes

Coleman To Enter 'Montage' At Mill

On Friday and Saturday, May 6 and 7, speech students will attend the 21st annual State College Speech Festival at Jackson's Mill. Glenville will enter drama, extemporaneous speaking, men's radio, debating, oratory, and prose and poetry interpretation.

Play to be presented at the festival this year by GSC students is a "Montage" compiled by Associate Professor William S. E. Coleman. It is a sequence of scenes from William Shakespeare and features a cast including Dave Wayland, Robert Gainer, James Troy, John Chippis, Linda Lambotte, and Janet Hyer. "Montage" will be directed by Mr. Coleman and Marilou Locke will be assistant director. Leith Owen will be sound director for the play.

Mr. Coleman is president and chairman of dramatics for the state collegiate speech festival this year.

Debate Team Named

Glenville debate team for the festival includes James Buck, Patricia Horner, Tim Hayes, and Armintha Tucker. The team is coached by Mr. John A. Davis, and an attempt is being made to set up a

Six Will Complete AA Degrees; Largest Class in GSC History

A tentative list of 140 seniors has been released from the registrar's office by Miss Erma Edwards, assistant registrar. This is the largest graduating class in the history of the college.

Students Organize GSC Science Club

A science club has recently been reorganized on the GSC campus. It is Chapter 12 of the West Virginia Academy of Science.

Officers were elected and a constitution was presented and accepted by the club at a meeting held April 26 in Room 201 of the Science Building. Newly elected officers will serve also during the 1960-61 school year.

Officers are Phil Cottrill, president; Eldon Hamrick, vice president; Ruth Justice, secretary; Barbara Moore, corresponding secretary; Joe Gregori, treasurer.

Promotes Interest

The purpose of this 24-member organization is to promote scientific interest among the students of Glenville State College.

Club is separated into three sections, chemistry, physical science and mathematics, and biology and is open to any student interested in either of these fields. Anyone wishing to join is invited to attend the next regular club meeting which

18 Students Receive Grants

Eighteen Shaw Scholarships of $75 have been awarded for this semester according to Dr. Harry B. Heflin, president of the college.

Recipients of this scholarship are Twila Barnhart, Mary Ann Graham, Martha Ann Hall, Lewis Snyder, David Hamilton, Glen Bennett, Alvin Engelke, James Rogers, Robert Crowe, Jack Newhouse, Dale Bennett, Robert Rodgers, Janet Carron Hall, Sue Wright, Dorothy Butler Oliver, Lawrence Marks, Patricia Sams, Dolores Takach.

Glenville State College along with three other W. Va. state colleges, received part of the trust fund benefits provided for by the recently deceased John C. Shaw, former principal of Glenville State Normal School, according to President Heflin.

The trust agreement states that awards may be made to "West Virginia students of the Caucasian race . . . in need of financial assistance, whose health, intelligence, character and habits promise commendable careers."

In addition to the above specifications, the beneficiaries "must agree to abstain from the use of tobacco and alcoholic beverages

Sky Is The Limit

In 1959 GSC student turnout at the Student Council election was 78.45 per cent. In a congratulatory editorial, April 29, 1959, MERCURY editor Dorothy Butler Oliver wrote; "Next year the sky may be the limit; who knows?"

In 1960 GSC students came within 9 points of this sky limit with a 91 per cent turnout. On election day, April 21, students flocked to the polls to register their interest in Student Council officers for next year. No longer can one say that students have no interest in student government.

This impressive 91 per cent vote is the highest percentage of student participation in GSC Student Council elections since 1936 which shows a 95 per cent vote. The 1960 senior class led the number of students voting with 98 per cent of its number going to the polls; juniors, 76 per cent; sophomores, 71 per cent and freshman, 73 per cent.

Candidates must be commended for the campaigns they launched. Seldom in the history of the college have larger campaigns been made. Attractive posters were placed on the campus even before Easter vacation. Banners were hung from dormitory balconies and windows. Campaign headquarters were set up in dormitories. Dotson tags, Graham crackers, and Scott cards were distributed. Jack Sears sent mimeographed letters to each student; Mike Morrison Russ Shepherd and Phil Cottrell sent voting slips to each student.

Write-in candidates added even more enthusiasm to the race.

Congratulation students for a job well done. The sky is still the limit for 1961.

Be A Teacher Now

THE SNSEA, A LOCAL CHAPTER of the Student National State Education Association, has repeatedly held campaigns this year attempting to attract new members to join the club. Why do students who attend a college dedicated to training teachers continue to ignore the significance of this organization? We, as students now and future teachers of America, should realize that this professional organization is essential for training future teachers. Thus, it should be one of the most important clubs on campus.

ONE OF THE MAIN PURPOSES of SNSEA is to provide future teachers with better concepts of teaching methods and practices. It provides a better understanding of the National Education Association and W. Va. Education Association which are the National and State organizations for individuals entering the teaching profession.

SOME OF THE HELPFUL PROGRAMS and outstanding activities that are sponsored by SNSEA are: substitute teaching, ushering at educational conventions, sponsoring reading clinics, chapel and assembly programs, teaching Sunday School classes, conducting nurseries during PTA meetings, presenting programs for civic groups, assisting with recreational programs in elementary schools, and contributing education films to certain groups.

EVERY COLLEGE SNSEA MEMBER receives the WVEA and NEA journal every month of the school year, publications and reports of the WVEA and NEA, privilege of attendance at WVEA and NEA conventions and conferences, personal Growth Leaflet for personal libraries and a copy of the current SNSEA yearbook.

SURELY, WE WHO PLAN TO TEACH will profit from belonging to an organization with such important purposes and high principles. If we are not interested NOW in these educational goals and achievements, what kind of teachers are we going to make in the future? The SNSEA chapter at Glenville State College, concerned with building its membership, would like to know why students reject the club.

IF YOU ARE GOING to become a teacher, join SNSEA.

Richard Nixon by Earl Mazo, Harper and Brothers Publishers, New York, 300 pp. Price: $3.95

Earl Mazo in this book records Vice President Nixon's political and personal life. Nixon is a complex and controversial figure. Our Vice President is one of the most feared, admired, mistrusted, misunderstood, and powerful men in the history of our American government.

Nixon's associations with prominent political leaders such as President Eisenhower, Lyndon Johnson, John F. Dulles, Christian Herter, John Kennedy, Senator McCarthy, Nelson Rockefeller, and many others is discussed fully. Nixon admits he is ambitious and hard working. Both of these qualities are admirable and requisites for success in politics.

Shows Determination

Mazo writes also of Nixon's determination — shown in one way by his persistency in asking Pat Ryan, now his wife, to marry him. Pat Ryan Nixon is backing her husband in every way.

Nixon's prestige has risen considerably since he capably "pinched" for President Eisenhower during his illnesses. Learning from his mistakes has been Nixon's greatest asset. He is young but he has coped with many issues and met these challenges well.

Missing Shoe Mystery Solved

Oh, the embarrassment of a lady to have her shoe found in the men's dormitory by the Dean of Women! This was the fate of a Glenville lady at the recently held Louis Bennett Hall Open House.

On touring the Hall Miss Pearl Pickens, dean of women, noticed a brown alligator pump hanging over the mirror in one of the rooms and immediately recognized the shoe. The shoe belongs to a former GSC professor, Miss Bessie Bell.

Instead of being completely mortified, Miss Bell was overjoyed that her shoe had been found. She explained that before driving her car she always removes her good shoes and puts on an old pair. On an occasion one of her brown alligator shoes fell from the car somewhere in or around Glenville. Miss Bell looked everywhere and even advertised for her shoe in the Glenville Democrat.

Crescendo Of Nothingness

By Bill Dawson

Now that the lessons are all over we can return to a little chit chat. I understand they had a fine turnout — even Boots and Homer made it to the polls. Of course there were a few anxious moments by all candidates—Miss Graham handed out graham crackers nervously; Mike Morrison developed a nervous shaking twitch, and Dave Hamilton got so excited that he even shaved.

It won't be long till sheer cheer and pandemonium break out on campus. That will be the teachers proclaiming that school is out.

Students Seek Employment

I've been looking for a summer job. This word is becoming extinct in West Virginia. Some people have all the luck. George Baily landed a job as lifeguard in a car wash; Tim Carney is going to dig holes for the "Saturday Evening Post"; and Walt Shupe will baby sit at rock-n-roll parties (he'll change records).

What makes people walk in their sleep? Answer: Twin beds. (This joke isn't funny but its probably the dirtiest thing I can sneak past Miss West without getting the article banned.

Girls Practice for Olympics

The softball loop is in full swing down at the local stadium. I once saw a game of softball that ended 3 to 2 and still not a man reached base. It was a girl's game. Incidentally, Miss Williams has her physical education track and baseball class practicing what she preaches. Next stop Olympics—who knows.

Isn't money getting to be a problem? My mother found a dime inside a chicken she was cleaning the other day. Which just goes to show that even hens think a dime is chicken feed these days.

One of our students was crossing the street downtown in front of the local "popshop" with a bottle in his hip pocket when he got knocked down by a car. Picking himself up, he started to walk away he felt something warm trickling down his leg. "Heavens," I heard him moan, "I hope that's blood."

Judy Miles told me that they call their cat Ben Hur. At first they called it Ben, and then it had kittens.

More of the Same

As you can tell I'm just plugging along since I couldn't think of an appropriate topic to write on, I have two exams today. So I believe I'll close with an old corn ball about the man who went to court and told the judge that he wanted to change his name. The judge asked his name and the fellow said "My name is Joe Stinks." The judge said "Well, I don't blame you for wanting to change your name. What do you want to change it to? Charlie?"

Like Mason said to Dixon—we've got to draw the line somewhere.

Science Workshop Closes on April 23

Science Workshop for elementary teachers in central West Virginia area concluded a series of six meetings, April 23 held on campus. Workshop was directed by Dr. Byron J. Turner, professor of chemistry and Miss Blanche Hinkle, assistant professor of education.

Instructors who attended these workshops studied and discussed new ideas in science, resource material, and reference lists. These teachers were trained to conduct similar workshops in the various counties represented.

Special visitors to the meetings were Mrs. Evelyn Murray, education consultant, Mr. Lee Wickline, science specialist, both of the West Virginia state department of education, and Mr. Carson Cottrell, assistant professor of education at GSC.

Softball Activity Is In Full Swing In MAA League

Athletes of the Mens Athletic Association are now engaged in intramural softball with ten teams participating in the league. The teams have been playing for three weeks whenever the weather will permit. Games are played at 4:15 and 6 o'clock four nights a week. There have not been enough games completed to compile a standing for the league that would indicate the strength of the teams.

In a game played on Monday of last week the Mad Bombers whipped the GMO Club 20-4. The game was close for three innings but the Bombers scored six in the fourth inning and eight in the fifth to turn the game into a rout. Frank Montgomery was the winning pitcher while Joe Gregori was charged with the loss.

The second game of the evening, between the GOP and Hollister, ended in a 13-13 tie called because of darkness. The game was finished on Thursday with Hollister winning 18-15. However the GOP protested the contest and if League Director Ratliff allows the protest the game will have to be replayed.

Paul Skidmore pitched shutout ball to lead the Wazoos to a 6-0 victory over the RAR in a contest played on Tuesday. Briton was the losing hurler. The second game Tuesday was halted after three innings because of rain and was finished on Thursday. The game turned into a one-sided scoring affair with The Odd Balls winning 22-5 over the Holy Roller Court "B" team. Jim Cooper got credit for the win while Wally Hefner taking the loss for the Court.

WAA Women Get G Letter Awards

Linda Mayo, Barbara Peaster, and Jane Spray White will be awarded a "G" letter for earning a minimum of 160 points in WAA play since they joined WAA. Miss Mayo had a total of 240 points; Miss Peaster, 210; and Mrs. White 180.

Some WAA women will receive chevrons, which are awarded to women for each year of WAA play. At the end of the fourth year women are awarded a star instead of a chevron. This year receivers of stars are Jane White, Barbara Peaster, Virginia Davis and Iolene Harding.

Receivers of chevrons are; Emily Bargehol, Dottie Hart, Martha Lee Hall, Janet McHenry, Francis Patterson, and Linda Mayo.

White Wave Wins Over Wesleyan 6-5; Drops Contest to Fairmont 10-3

By Bob Oliver

The Glenville Pioneers went crashing to their first defeat of the young baseball season as they fell to the visiting Fairmont Falcons by a 10-3 score Saturday, April 23. Shoddy fielding proved to be the downfall of the G-men as they committed six errors and had several other mental lapses. Only four of the ten runs scored by the Falcons were earned.

Dean Barker started on the hill for the White Wave and was the victim of the Pioneer misuses as all ten runs were scored off him. Barker was rather wild, issuing seven walks in his five-inning stint. He managed six strikeouts and was touched for six safe blows.

Russ Shepherd came on to relieve Barker in the fifth inning and hurled fine relief ball the rest of the way, allowing no runs on four hits, all of which were singles. The defeat was credited to Barker; it was first decision of the year.

Smith Leads Hitting

Fred Smith came off the bench in the sixth frame to lead the Pioneer hitters with a double and a single in two trips to the plate. Right fielder Larry Nichols also had a good day with a triple and single in three official times at bat. Sub second basement Glenn Proctor weighed in with a double in two tries. The only other hit the Pioneers received was an infield single by Noel Blankenship.

The G-men reeled off two double plays to give them five such plays in their first three games. Fairmont catcher Paul Jezloro hit the only home run of the game, a solo shot in the fifth inning.

Shepherd Triumphs

The Glenville Pioneers again showing their ability to win the close games scored three runs in the bottom of the ninth to down W. Va. Wesleyan 7-6 on Senior Day, April 28. The victory was the third of the season for the G-men. All three victories have been by a one-run margin.

Russ Shepherd hurled all the way to rack up his second win of the season against no losses. Both of Shepherd's wins have been one-run decisions over Wesleyan. Shepherd gave up only eight hits which were good for four earned runs.

Wesleyan jumped out to an early lead scoring two runs in the top of the second on two singles, a walk, an error and a sacrifice fly. The Pioneers bounced back in the top of the third to tie the score on two walks and Larry Nichols' single that got by the center fielder.

The Bobcats got two more in the top of the fifth on a walk and a two-run home run by the Wesleyan catcher Pete Richmond. The G-men bounced right back in the bottom of the inning as Dean Barker and Bill Young led off with free passes. Nichols then dumped a bunt down the third base line which the pitcher fielder and threw wildly past third allowing two runs to score.

Pitching Duel

Shepherd and Wesleyan pitcher John Teets settled down to a tight pitching duel until the top of the eighth when the Bobcats scored two more on a single, an error and a triple. Then with the score 6-4 the last of the ninth rolled around. Teets had been having things pretty much his own way giving up four hits and striking out 14 Pioneers until the fateful ninth.

Sonny Cheslick, hitting for Shepherd, was safe on the shortstop's error to start the inning. Glenn Proctor then worked Teets for a walk and the White Wave began to show signs of life. Barker, attempting to sacrifice, punched a bunt past the pitcher and beat it out for a hit to load the bases. Bill Young singled sharply between short and third and Cheslick romped home to make the score 6-5.

With the bases still loaded and no one out, Kapastos relieved Teets on the mound for Wesleyan. Junior Wilson then bunted down the first base line and beat it out for a single as Proctor raced home with the tying run. Tonkinson then relieved Kapastos and immediately walked Noel Blankenship forcing home the winning run and the never-say-die Pioneers had victory number three.

The G-men again went to the post last Friday against the Concord Mountain Lions. However the results were not available when the MERCURY went to press. The schedule shows the Pioneers with three more home games. W. Va. Tech invades May 11, followed by W. Va. State on May 13 and Salem on May 20.

Students Should Note Exam News

In a Faculty Bulletin dated April 28, 1960, Dean Delmer K. Somerville stated in regard to comprehensive examinations: "Achievements tests in their field of concentration are to be administered to all students during the last quarter of their junior year."

All students with the exception of a few special cases, who plan to do directed teaching next year should be taking their comprehensives now. It is the responsibility of Divisions Chairmen and Advisers to see that students have this opportunity.

Comprehensives are to be given in September and December for students whose last quarter of the junior year comes at irregular times. Results of comprehensive examinations given this spring are to be reported to the Dean and to the students on or before May 18."

Burner Will Head '60 Business Club

Loye Burner, junior from Anmore, was elected president of Alpha Delta Epsilon for the coming year at a recent meeting of the organization. Shirley Conrad will serve as vice president; Betty Lou Hashman, corresponding secretary; Freda Hatfield, recording secretary; and Jane Fox, treasurer.

Marie Skidmore was named historian and Edward Grose, sergeant at arms. Mrs. Genevieve Butcher, assistant professor of business education, is ADE adviser.

Installation for new officers will be held in Louis Bennett Lounge May 10 at the annual senior party. Senator R. J. Vassar of Weston is scheduled to speak at that time.

Robert F. Kennedy Talks to Students

Robert Kennedy, brother of presidential candidate, John F. Kennedy and author of the controversial novel, "The Enemy Within" recently spoke in the crowded GSC auditorium where he was well received by the student body. His visit was sponsored by the IRC-PSC Club.

Kennedy spoke about the investigations made by the Senate Rackets Committee on Dave Beck, James Hoffa and other labor union racketeers. These men are discussed very dramatically in Kennedy's book. Kennedy served as chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee before resigning to aid his brother's campaign.

Following his speech, a question and answer period was held in which students directed their questions to Mr. Kennedy.

Kennedy spoke at the college in the afternoon and later in the evening made a campaign speech at the County Court House in Glenville.

Earl Mazo has been a journalist since he joined the Charleston (South Carolina) News and Courier in 1935. Born in Warsaw, in 1919, he came to Charleston as an infant with his parents. He attended Clemson College and worked on South Carolina papers until the war, when he served in the USAF in England and became a combat reporter for the European Stars and Stripes.

Is Correspondent

Afterward, he worked on the Camden (New Jersey) Courier Post, and also was executive director of a Democratic group to oust Boss Hague. Since 1955 he has been national political correspondent for the Washington bureau of the New York Herald Tribune.

He has covered hundreds of political campaigns and has traveled with Nixon in Africa, Europe and South America. His researches for Richard Nixon alone has taken him on revisits to many parts of the country.

With his wife, Rita, and two children, Mr. Mazo lives now in Washington, D. C.
