GSC Stage Band

GSC Concert Band Presents Program Thurs. Night In College Auditorium

By Sondra Elmore

The Glenville State College Concert Band under the direction of Dr. Robert A. Campbell will present its annual spring concert Thursday, March 16 at 8:00 p.m. in the college auditorium.

The band will open the concert with "E Pluribus Unum March" by Fred Jewell. The second number, "Song of Jupiter," by George F. Handel, transcribed by Leroy Anderson, is familiarly known as the aria, "Where'er You Walk."

Mannin Veen — "Dear Isle of Man" by Haydn Wood is based on four Manx folk songs. The first, "The Good Old Way," is an old and typical air written mostly in the Dorian mode. The second tune is a reel, "The Manx Fiddler."

The third tune of Mannin Veen, "Sweet Water in the Common," relates to the old practice of summoning a jury of 24 men, composed of three men from each of the parishes in the district where the dispute took place, to decide questions connected with water-courses, boundaries, etc. The last tune, "The Harvest of the Sea," is sung by the fishermen as a song of thanks giving after their safe return from the fishing grounds.

"First Suite in E-Flat for Military Band" is one of two suites for military band by the English composer, Gustav Holst, which are considered to be among the finest literature in the limited repertoire for the modern concert band. The band will play "Chaconne," the first movement of the number.

Brass choir will play "Third Movement of Quintet in B-Flat for Brass Instruments" by Robert Sanders.

The last number before intermission is "My Fair Lady" by Frederick Loewe. This composition combines many of the popular songs from this theatre hit, such as "With a Little Bit of Luck," and "I Could Have Danced All Night."

Following intermission the band will play "Coat of Arms," a concert march by George Kenny.

The next number features Clarence James, Dan Allman, and Kenneth Frederick in a trumpet trio—"The Three Trumpeters" by Glenn Cliffe Balmun.

The GSC Stage Band will play "Moonlight in Vermont" and "Robin's Nest."

Another change in style presents the majorette corps, composed of Carolyn Allman, Patricia Burch, Diane Long, Suzanne Minner, Rose Smith, Carolyn Stone, and Joyce Waybright, in a Lation rhythmic number, "Rumbha Sincopada."

The next-to-last number, "Ballet for Young Americans," is dedicated to the teenagers of America. The Conference Set for April 11

By Judy DePoy

A new idea was born on the Glenville State College campus six years ago. This idea, under the direction of Dean Delmer K. Somerville, has become concrete in the form of the Educational Development Conference.

Director Somerville has played and is still playing a major role in the functioning of the conference, which has in six years, survived, grown, and been the basis of plans of action which have led to the betterment of social, economic, and cultural conditions in the 17-county area served by GSC.

The purpose of the conference is to determine some of the social, economic, and cultural problems of the area. Conference officials will attempt to find out what services the college might provide for the people of the central West Virginia area.

Leaders in industry, business, agriculture, and education from the college service area will be invited to participate in the annual affair.

The conference director is a graduate of GSC with the class of 1936. He received his MA degree from West Virginia University in 1939 and his Ed.D. degree from Cornell University in 1952.

Dean Somerville's interest in the work done in the development of the rural area surrounding Glenville may be based upon his background in educational administration and rural sociology.

Dr. Somerville has experience in the Jackson County School system as teacher, principal, assistant superintendent and superintendent of schools.

He has served as chairman of the GSC education department

Regional Drama Festival Today; High School Students Present Plays

The Regional Drama Festival will meet today on the Glenville State College stage, announces Professor William S. E. Coleman.

Although today's festival is only one of several held in West Virginia, it is among the largest. The high schools participating in this annual contest are vying for the opportunity to travel to Morgantown where they will compete with other regional winners for state honors.

Participating schools are Sutton with the play "Let There Be Farce"; Spencer bringing "John Doe"; St. Marys with "Train for Sherwood"; Wirt County presenting "Three on a Bench"; and Walton with "Sorry, Wrong Number." Last year's winner was Sutton's "Breaking of the

Emotion Is Theme Of O'Neill Drama

The Speech Department is currently working on its next production, Eugene O'Neill's Pulitzer Prize winner, "Beyond the Horizon."

This play is based on raw human emotion. The conflict of love versus hate is the main theme. "Beyond the Horizon" was the first important play in the American theatre. During the course of the play, the audience will see actors age physically and emotionally.

O'Neill's play is a tragedy based on the struggle between two brothers in love with the same girl. The dreams and ambitions of both men become crushed and destroyed, resulting in a tragic and exciting climax.

Cast Named

The cast includes Harry Lynch as James Mayo; Jane Hudspeth as Kate Mayo, his wife; Harry Morris as Captain Dick Scott; James Booth as Andrew Mayo; Harold Metz as Robert Mayo; Judith Miles as Ruth Atkins; Mary Vaughan as Mrs. Atkins, her mother; Ed White as Ben, a farm hand; and Bill Spelbring as Dr. Francett.

According to Associate Professor Coleman, director of the play, he has "never worked with a more enthusiastic cast." The drama promises to be one of the best of the season.

Student Council Sets Annual Election Date Candidates To Present Platforms Publicly

Are You a Criminal?

ARE YOU a criminal? Are your colleagues? Are you or they criminals of the English language? How many of you have really thought of the criminals who are committing "assault and battery" on their own language?

WE SOMETIMES hear: "I haven't did that for a long time," or "A gerund is when . . ." A person is judged as an intelligent or illiterate person by the language he speaks, not only when he is in a situation when correct usage is essential, but when he is heard in ordinary conversation.

WHY IS THE STATE of written and spoken English in this deplorable condition? Sound grammatical writing is not a requirement for entering college. The National Council of Teachers of English, after a coast-to-coast survey, recently issued an alarming report on this problem.

IN 1960, THE NCTE discovered that college-entrance-English tests were flunked by some 150,000 students. As a result, 70 per cent of all colleges and universities offer courses in remedial English — to teach men and women on the college level, what they should have known long before about their own language.

What has happened to the teaching and the using of the English language in the past few years? Were we properly taught in elementary school and in high school? Are we victims of a cultural-economic environment that does not provide the soil for correct speech? What is wrong with us that we do not learn and practice good speech habits here? Certainly, we are given the opportunity to learn and practice correct speech in our college atmosphere.

There are many more questions, but no matter where the core of the problem lies, the responsibility of acquiring better speech habits, ultimately is ours. Unless we are willing to develop, both, a written and spoken command of the language, we shall continue to be criminals of the English language.

The Magic of Words

FOR SEVERAL YEARS, members of the MERCURY staff have been eyeing other college literary issues with envy. This year we feel that with your help and cooperation, we can produce a literary issue of our own. Through the medium of this literary issue, we would like to encourage craftsmanship and originality. Students, we encourage you to write.

STUDENTS, AND FACULTY members too, may submit poetry, short stories, one-act plays and essays to be published in this literary issue. We are tentatively planning our literary issue for late April and we should have material for it by the first week of that month.

FOR THE PAST several years, the MERCURY staff has actively campaigned to raise the cultural standards of our campus. We think that an active interest in the written word can boost this campaign. Try writing and the "excitement aroused by the discovery that words live might be like finding that you can balance on skates."

LITERARY MATERIAL MAY be mailed to the MERCURY editor or brought to the MERCURY office before or during the first week in April. We will appreciate your response. — Janet Hall

A Look at Life on a Peninsula

By Patty Mace

Cranes swinging through the air, heavy equipment constantly moving back-and-forth, welding machines buzzing-buzzing-buzzing, mud oozing thick in rainy weather, dust flying in dry weather, little noises and big noises—all of these and other inconveniences from the back ground for life in the Home Management House this term.

Miss Elma Jean Woffter, assistant professor of home economics and instructor in home management, Patricia Jones, Betty Yoak, Louise Fisher and Erselene Gainer are living in the Home Management House.

This reporter wondered what life would be like living in the shadow of the new dormitory - construction job. When we questioned we got these answers:

"The major concern of us here at the Home Management House is: (1) Will we ever have a lawn again after all this mud, and (2) will the Home Management House be left in such a "cramped-up" area?"

"We are very glad to see GSC expanding and acquiring a new dormitory, but we feel that some arrangements will have to be made in the future to move or build a new Home Management House."

When we asked the women what their personal reactions were to the dorm-construction, they commented:

BETTY YOAK — "The dorm seems to overwhelm our house."

PAT JONES — "If I must have a steel plate in my head, I don't want it to fall from a crane."

Erselene Gainer — "It feels like we're living on a peninsula."

LOUISE FISHER — "I have claustrophobia."

MISS ELMA JEAN WOFFTER — "It's a bedlam of confusion."

Generally speaking, the women say that they keep their mouths well exercised with verbal complaining about the mud and confusion, and develop their muscles by attempting to eliminate the mud.

GSC Stage Band Appears on WJPB

The Glenville State College Stage Band will appear on WJPB-TV, Channel 5, Weston, this coming Sunday, March 19, at 6:30 p.m.

The half-hour show will feature "I'll Remember April" arranged by Glenn Osser; "Bobin's Nest"; "Bernie's Tune" by Bernie Miller; and "Moonlight in Vermont" all three arranged by Frank Comstock.

"Disk Jockey Jump" by Gene Krupa and Gerry Mulligan, and "Pathways" and "Virginia Creeper" both originals by Bob Serbert. "Moonlight in Vermont" will feature Paul Wigal as vocalist.

Reed Wins Award For Oil Painting

"Color, shade, line value—these elements of painting were brought together in a mutually organized whole," was the comment of Ohio State University's Professor Robert King on the work of GSC sophomore-art student Harold D. Reed whose oil painting entitled "Bottles" won the first award in that medium at the exhibit held by the Parkersburg Art League.

Reed's work, a vivid presentation of his subject in red, green, and blue tones, was one of the 74 paintings in various media entered. Reed also entered another painting, "The Horn of Plenty."

All entries were the work of amateur artists in Parkersburg and a ten-mile surrounding area.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed of Parkersburg, Reed had two entries in the ceramics division: a hand-molded dish in free form and a slim brown vase, which won second prize in that medium.

Choir Has Concert Tuesday, Mar. 28

"Choruses of the Passion" will be the theme for the annual Easter Concert given by the GSC Choir under the direction of Alexander W. Zerban, instructor of music.

The concert will be sung in the auditorium on Tuesday, March 28, at 8:15 p.m. "Choruses of the Passion" will include music which will go back to the time before Christ is arrested until the Resurrection.

The program will include "The Passion According to St. John," a number written in responsive style with alterations between narrator and choir. Narrator for the concert will be James Booth.

There will be two versions of "Ave Verum Corpus" sung. One is by the English Renaissance composer, Byrd, and one by Mozart. "O Sacred Head Now Wounded" will be one of the chorales by Bach which the choir will sing.

65 Glenville Students Participate In Campus Employment Program

By Mary Vaughan

Approximately 65 students are employed in the more than ten fields of work available for workshops at Glenville State College. These students are paid fifty-five cents each hour for their work, with a maximum of 65-hours of work being permitted. Thus if each student who is employed would work only half of the maximum limit of hours, the college would be issuing well over $1000.00 just for students employment alone each month!

The workshops are awarded to incoming freshmen by a scholarship committee. Requirements for incoming freshmen desiring workshops are that the student must have maintained an overall "B" scholastic average in high school. Upperclassmen desiring work must have at least a "C" average in college work. Students who do not maintain this average are not permitted to work.

Various work Available

Field of employment available to G S C students include janitorial duties, dormitory counselors and monitors, mailmen, cafeteria help, library assistants, student union help, MERCURY staff, college farm, office work, campus switchboard operators, and swimming pool assistants.

Eight students are employed at janitorial duties. They clean the classroom buildings following each class day. This branch of work is limited to men students only.

See additional pictures of students at work on page four.

Ten men and women are employed as dormitory counselors and monitors. These students act as counselors to residents of the dormitories and aid superiors in carrying out dormitory regulations.

Two students are employed in delivering mail to Louis Bennett Hall and Pine Manor Hall. These men deliver mail to the students personally or are responsible for the mail being left in the men's locked room.

10 Work in Cafeteria

GSC cafeteria employs three men and seven women students. These employees perform general cafeteria duties and serve students in meal lines.

Robert F. Kidd Library employs 12 students. These employees perform janitorial services, work at the charging desk, serve as office assistants, and process new books which come into the library.

There are eight students employed in the Student Union. These work at the snack bar performing general duties and also janitorial services. Four students are employed in the MERCURY office. These are three women employed as campus switchboard operators.

Phy. Ed. Students Make Field Trip

Thirty members of Physical Education 435, Individual and Corrective Physical Education, visited Marmet Hospital the past week to observe the treatment administered to the handicapped.

Miss Clarissa Williams, associate professor of physical education, accompanied the group to Marmet. Class members made the trip to observe how physical education aids in the rehabilitation of the handicapped. Methods of treatment that were observed include physical therapy, recreational therapy, occupational therapy, and special education classes.

The class has been studying the handicaps of children and adults during the nine-week course. They also learned how physical education instructors can aid in the program for the handicapped.

Marmet Hospital is an old hospital with numerous facilities available for the handicapped. These include a swimming pool, baths, and various forms of heat treatment. The hospital has facilities for children and adults that will aid in the program for independence, rehabilitation, and reemployment. The staff of the hospital consists of physical therapist, who are specializing in their field. Specialists from Charleston hospitals also aid in diagnosis and treatment.

Dottie Hart, Frank Holstein, William Jennings, Larry Knight, Robert Lambert, Janet McHenry, Max Marks, Larry Nichols, Danny O'Connell, and Jack Price.

Ratliff, Byrd Attend Meet

MR. RATLIFF

MR. BYRD

Athletic Director Carlos Ratliff and Basketball Coach Leonard Byrd left for Kansas City March 11 to attend the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletic Conference to be held there during this week. This meeting is held annually in conjunction with the NAIA basketball tournament.

Athletic Director Ratliff is chairman of District 28 and Coach Byrd is secretary-treasurer. The state of West Virginia comprises District 28. West Virginia State College will represent the district in the playoff.

Mr. Ratliff has served as secretary-treasurer for District 28 for the past few years.

HRC Sponsors Annual Tournaments; Freshmen, Juniors Win First Round

The annual class basketball tournament under the direction of the Holy Roller Court has passed the first-round playoff.

In the first round, the seniors were pitted against the juniors, and the freshmen played the sophomores.

On March 7, the first night of action, the freshmen eked out a two-point 45-43 victory over the sophomores. The game was a closely fought contest from the start to the finish. It was Tom Gunnoe who iced the game with less than a minute of playing remaining. The bucket came on a foul shot situation that was missed by the freshmen and tipped in by Gunnoe.

Gunnoe Leads Scoring
It was also Gunnoe who took high point honors in the game as he hit on seven occasions from the field and went 4 for 6 at the foul line for a total of 18. High man for the sophomores was Mike Eberbaugh who hit for 12.

In the second game of the evening the juniors, last year's class tourney winners, took the seniors by a score of 74-69.

This game was not nearly so close as the first. The juniors were never in trouble as they pulled out at the first of the game and remained in the lead all the way. The juniors at one stage of the game held a commanding 20-point lead.

High man of the evening for the winning juniors was Tim Carney who hit on eight from the floor and was 2 for 3 at the foul line for a game total of 18 points. He was followed in scoring by Fred Smith who had 13. High for the losing seniors was George Bailey with 16, and Brent Minor with 14.

The second round of play was held last night. Results of this game were not available when the MERCURY went to press.

Bus. Class Visits Parkersburg Area

Salesmanship Class 312 went on a field trip recently to Parkersburg and while there visited Goldsmith and Black Wholesale House, Sears, Roebuck, and Co., and Dils Brothers and Co.

A member of each firm's staff welcomed the students and took them on a tour of the establishment.

Purpose of the field trip was to go behind the scenes to see how the sales operation worked. Students tried to get an overall view of salesmanship of a wholesale house, a chain store, and an independently owned store.

Students who made the trip were Janet Carper, Sandra Mullins, Ernest Smith, Bill Bennett, Linda Campbell, Robert Crowe, Betty Lou Hashman, Deronda Jones, Delmas Keith, Tom Kiser, Lula Belle Long, Joe Mackey, Davis Sevine, Don Wills, Ned McCray, and Pat Riddle.

Barker Is Senior; Team Loses One

Larry Barker is the only senior on the 1960-1961 Pioneer basketball squad. Barker, a four-year letterman, was graduated from Sand Fork High School. He won a berth on the coveted all-tourney team during his junior year at Glenville.

Fans remember his game-winning tip-in in the closing seconds of play against West Liberty in 1959. Tournament play at Buckhannon. Glenville won that game 71-70.

Barker is a physical education and social studies student.

Four Game Series Completed by MAA

The Men's Athletic Association last week played a four-game schedule. The first two games of the series saw the Mavericks take the Untouchables 58-43. In the second game the Odd Balls II won over the Little Mountaineers 58-36.

High scorer for the Mavericks in the first game was Bill Reese who hit for a total of 19 points. High scorer for the winning Odd Balls II in the second game was Bud Minner with 22.

Lilly Scores 43
The third game was won by the Odd Balls I who trampled the Kappa Sigma Kappa B team by a 95-21 score. High for the Odd Balls I in this game was Gene Lilly who hit for 43.

The last game of the week was won by the Rebels as they eked out a 51-49 win over the Attic Boys. High for the evening was Dave Gettings of the Rebels and Larry Cavendish of the Attic Boys. Each had a total of 17 points.

Bus. Group Hears 2 Guest Lecturers

Salesmanship Class 312 has recently had two guest speakers. Mr. Robert M. Hall, home manager for Investors Diversified Services, Inc., spoke to the group on the qualifications that he thought were desirable in a salesman. A question and answer period followed.

Mr. Hall lives at Weston and serves four counties: Lewis, Braxton, Gilmer, and Upshur.

Mr. Gray Speaks

George G. Gray, Prudential Insurance Agent from Sutton, was also a guest speaker recently for the Salesmanship Class.

Mr. Gray, invited by Betty Lou Hashman, a member of the salesmanship class, spoke about salesmanship as related to insurance. He also handed out pamphlets, "What Most People Don't Know About Life Insurance."

Mrs. Genevieve M. Butcher, assistant professor of commerce, is salesmanship class instructor.

Kappa Chi Kappa Model Pledge is Patricia Hornor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Hornor of Weston. Miss Hornor is a junior speech student and a member of Alpha Psi Omega and Ohnimgohow Players. She is also secretary of Kanawha Hall Governing Board. She will receive a gold necklace with an engraved disc.

Judy Conaway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Conaway of Nitro, was pledge captain of the Kappa Chi Kappa 1961 pledge class. Mary Ann Graham, president, states that she will receive an award because of "the outstanding pledge class we had and the work she did with the class." She is a member of the Political Science Club.

Xi Beta's Choose Dulaney

Joyce Dulaney is the Model Pledge of the Xi Beta Tau Sorority. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dulaney of Vienna. Miss Dulaney is a sophomore physical education student and a graduate of Harrisville High School. A member of WAA, she is on the Dean's Academic List.

Choir Has Concert

Other numbers on the program will be three numbers of a folk-spiritual nature — "Who Crucified My Lord?" "Were You There?" and "Three Holy Women"; and two contemporary numbers showing the Resurrection — "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson and "Lo! The Dawn of Resurrection" by MacKinnon.

Miss Bertha Olsen, assistant professor of music, will accompany the choir on the piano for the "Passion According to St. John."

A reception will be held after the concert for choir members and their invited guests.

This program which will be given here on March 23, will also be given on WJPB on March 24, from 7 to 8 p.m.

2 Iranian Students Will Enroll Mar. 27

Two new Iranian students will enroll at Glenville State College at the beginning of the fourth term, March 27. Registrar Brown Trussler reports that the men have completed preliminary enrollment.

Shabaz Zarintash has been admitted for enrollment. He has attended the preparatory school at New York University and while there has taken special language courses. He has also attended St. Michael's College in Vermont.

Returns to GSC

Alavi Manutchehr has returned here after completing preparatory work at New York University.

Mr. Trussler stated that application for admittance to Glenville State has been received from a student in Africa and three applications have come from students in Kowloon, Hong Kong.

With the two new Iranian students the total out-of-country students here, at the present time, is nine. All of these students are from Iran.

GSC Concert Band

first movement, "Teenage Overture" illustrates the rapid pace of the teenager whose arms and legs are always flying wildly and whose tongues are moving constantly. Another movement, "First Driving Lesson" is the combination of the sounds of traffic as the teenager takes the family car for his solo drive.

The band will close its concert with "National Emblem March" by E. E. Bagley.

The band recently appeared at Ripley High School in an assembly program at Wahoma High School in a night concert.
