

Choir Plans Concert Next Tuesday, Presents TV Program on March 24

By Phyllis Tice

Next Tuesday night, March 28, at 8:15, in the auditorium the Glenville State College choir, under the direction of Mr. Alexander Zerbán, will present the annual Easter concert. "Choruses of the Passion" will be the theme and the concert will include music before the time of Christ's arrest until the resurrection.

The program will include "The Passion According to St. John," a number written in responsorial style with alternations between narrator and choir. James Booth will be narrator for the choir.

There will be two versions of "Ave Verum Corpus" sung. One version is by the English Renaissance composer, Byrd, and one by Mozart. "O Sacred Head Now Wounded" will be one of the chorals by Bach which the choir will sing.

There will be three numbers of folk-spiritual nature: "Who Crucified My Lord?" "Were You There?" and "Three Holy Women"; and two contemporary numbers showing the Resurrection, "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson and "Lo! The Dawn of Resurrection" by MacKinnon.

Miss Bertha Olsen, assistant professor of music, will accompany the choir on the piano for "The Passion According to St. John."

A reception will be held after the concert for choir members and their invited guests.

The choir will present this same

Third Term Ends This Friday; Easter Holidays Begin Mar. 30

Glenville State College students will begin their annual Easter vacation on Thursday, March 30, at 12:15 p.m. and will return to classes the following Tuesday, April 4, at 8:00 a.m. Dormitories and cafeteria will be closed during the recess.

Dean Somerville states that any cuts taken March 30 and April 4 will require student appearance before credits committee to arrange for makeup except in case of illness.

Third term will end this week with final examinations tomorrow and Friday, March 23 and 24. Fourth term classes will begin on next Monday, March 27.

Gov. Barron Will Address Conference Banquet Apr. 11

Dr. Everett Rogers Selected As Annual Keynote Speaker

Dr. Everett M. Rogers, rural sociologist, Ohio State University will be the keynote speaker at the annual Educational Development Conference to be held on the Glenville State College Campus April 11, announces Dean Delmer K. Somerville, director of the conference. Governor W. W. Barron will deliver a 15-minute banquet speech to climax the day's activities.

The Educational Development Conference arose six years ago from the belief that the educational system of any given locale is dependent upon the social, cultural, and economical status of that area, and that there should be an effort on the part of the educational system to serve its area in every way possible.

Theme Is Announced

The theme for the sixth annual conference will be "Area Development at the 'Grass-Roots' Level" and the sessions will be open to the public. According to Dean Somerville, a special effort to bring youth into the conference is being

Increase Is Made In 1961-62 Budget For Glenville State

The current budget act passed by the State Legislature provides $614,165 operating budget for Glenville State College for the fiscal year beginning July 1. This sum represents an increase of $78,085 over the operating budget for 1960-1961.

Added to the 1961-1962 budget is

Holy Roller Dance Set For March 25

The Dyna-Tones are back for a dance sponsored by the Holy Roller Court, Saturday, March 25. The Dyna-Tones, a group from Salem, play practically all types of music.

Dance will be held in the Student Union from 9 to 12 p.m. and tickets will be $2.50 for couple.

This dance will be a boy-ask-girl dance. Marvin Gothard, Court Judge, says, "It's your turn now boys." Gothard urges all to attend that can and further states, "After all, it's the last dance before Easter vacation."

Tickets will not be sold in advance. Charles Friedman and Gary Waggoner are serving on the social committee for the dance.

'Day of Wrath' Is Next Foreign Film

Pat Hornor, Alpha Psi Omega business manager, reports that 30 faculty members, faculty wives and adults and 45 students are participating in the foreign-film series.

Mr. William S. E. Coleman, Alpha Psi adviser, announced recently that a fifth film might be secured if the members show enough interest. Four films are scheduled to date.

Set for Monday

Third film will be shown on Monday, March 27 at 3:35 and 8:00 p.m. This film is "Day of Wrath" (Danish, 1943). "Day of Wrath" is the story of a 17th-century witch hunt and is considered to be one of the best photographed films ever made. It, too, is an established classic done by one of the great writers and directors in film history, Carl Dreyer.

First film in the series was the French comedy, "Mr. Hulot's Holiday." The second film was "The Bicycle Thief," Italian.

Professor William Coleman Directs O'Neill Drama 'Beyond the Horizon'

Eugene O'Neill's powerful drama, "Beyond the Horizon," is scheduled to be presented on the college stage April 17 and 18 announces Mr. William S. E. Coleman, associate professor of speech, and director of the drama.

"Beyond the Horizon" is one of the great plays of the American theater. It is a forceful drama concerning two brothers who are in love with the same girl. The brother, Andy, played by James Booth, wants to stay at home on the New England farm where he was born.

However, Robert, played by Harold Metz, the dreamer and would-be-wanderer, wins the girl, Judie Miles. Andy, angered by his loss, goes to sea; Robert stays on the farm so that he can marry the girl he loves. The drama arises out of the fact that both brothers fail to realize their dreams.

The Glenville production will feature a revolving stage, an innovation that will allow for instant scenic changes. Set construction will be supervised by Charles Friedman. Two sets will be built: one, a kitchen in a farm house and the other a hill top overlooking the sea.

Complex lighting will be planned by Linda Lambiotte and Levi Jennings. Costumes will be done by Margie Simmons; Frank Holstein will supervise and operate the sound. Janet Hall is in charge of publicity.

Also featured in the cast are Jane Hudspeth, Bill Spelbring and Mary Vaughan. Don Smith is assistant director and Harold Metz and James Booth are producers.

BESSIE CAMPBELL pauses in the G and D drug store to admire a stuffed rabbit which she found there among all the other gala Easter decorations. Miss Campbell, a freshman English and social studies student from Dunmore, Pocahontas County, along with other GSC students, has thoughts of home and holidays at this season. Easter is April 2 and holidays extend from March 30 to April 4.

Our Privilege ---

THE TIME for electing student council members for 1961-62 is fast approaching. Our question, "Does anyone care?"

SO FAR this year, lack of interest has reached a high point. At the time the MERCURY went to press, no names of candidates for office had been submitted to the Student Council. Frankly, we have heard very few students even discussing the election.

OFFICES of the Student Council members are positions for responsible students, if the job is done right, but for all the interest shown on campus this year, the "campus clown" might well be elected to serve as president. Is this another phase of our negativism?

LAST YEAR, interest seemed to be high and campaigns and the election were carried on in grand style. Students bought campaign cards, made posters, and made use of other clever gimmicks.

WE FEEL that with the leadership potential on campus this year, we could have the most enthusiastic and stimulating campaign ever, but this can be done only with your help, and only if you back your candidates for office.

HOW MANY times have we heard, "It is not only our privilege, but our duty to vote."? As citizens of Glenville State College campus community, it IS our duty to vote. If we do not take advantage of this duty and privilege, we certainly have no right to complain if things go wrong.

AS IS DONE each year, the MERCURY joins the present student council officers in pleading with each member of the student body to vote on election day. Regardless of who is backed for office or how much political maneuvering is done, the important thing is that every student helps to say who is elected. Let's have the largest Student Council vote this year in the history of GSC.

SEVENTY-SEVEN percent of the eligible voters in West Virginia voted in the 1960 presidential election. According to the State Election officials, U. S. Census Bureau, West Virginia was sixth in the states in the per cent of eligible voters voting. It is our hope that GSC voters will top this.

Student Newspaper Was the 'Tower'

By Joyce Jackson

Have you ever heard of the TOWER? If this were March 1926, you would not only know what the TOWER is, you would be reading the TOWER instead of the MERCURY.

The TOWER was the forerunner of the MERCURY. It was the "official school paper for Glenville State Normal School." TOWER was designed to "radiate light over central West Virginia." The question was recently raised, "What happened to the TOWER?" This reporter immediately set out to find the answer.

First Published in 1920's

Mr. Stanley Hall, chairman of the GSC social studies division, states that the TOWER was published some time in the early 1920's. Mr. Hall attended high school at G. S. N. S. and his wife, the former Miss Marjorie Rinehart, was the sophomore editor on the TOWER staff in 1926.

Mr. Hugh "Doc" Cunningham, now a student at GSC, was humor editor of the TOWER. This feature was named "Wise Kracks, Here and There." Mr. Cunningham inserted the names of students and teachers in the jokes. The following is an excerpt from the humor column on the Friday, Dec. 18, 1926, edition of the TOWER: "Edith, 'Can you drive with one hand?'; Foster, 'You bet I can.'; Edith, 'Then have an apple!'"

Much of the news consisted of gossip — who went where, when and who had a party and who was invited.

Reports Lit. Society News

At the time of the publication of the TOWER there were few social

The College Living Room

GLENVILLE STATE College students have one of the newest and best student unions found on college campuses throughout the state.

THE UNION offers a variety of activities for students. One can play card games, dance, watch TV, enjoy snacks, or just sit and talk with friends. For the more serious-minded students, two study rooms, complete with typewriters, are offered.

THE LARGE dance floor provides room for many couples to enjoy dancing without confusion and crowding. Comfortable lounge furniture found in the TV room enables students to relax and enjoy their favorite programs.

THE UNION is open for student use throughout the day from 8:30 a.m. until 10:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday and until 11:00 p.m. on Friday. Opening at 3:00 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday the union remains open until 11 p.m. on Saturday.

THE SNACK BAR offers a variety of foods and drinks to the students. There would seem to be a tie between hot dogs and ham salad sandwiches for claiming honors as the students' favorite snack.

ABOUT 20 NEW records are ordered each month for the jukebox, but it is sometimes difficult to obtain the latest and most popular releases. Used records are sold to the students for thirty cents after they are removed from the jukebox. These records can be obtained in the manager's office.

SEVERAL GSC STUDENTS earn extra money by working in the union. Several women are employed at the snack bar and men do odd jobs and janitorial work. Mrs. Guy Bailey and Mrs. Ray Patterson, old friends to many GSC students, are full-time employees at the snack bar.

BESIDES THE EVERYDAY use by students, the union is the scene for many gala dances throughout the school year.

MR. SILAS HICKS, student union director, commends the GSC students on their use of the union. He states, "The students take good care of the union and they are very well-behaved."

WHATEVER YOUR MOOD, be it social or serious, there is room for you at the union. Approximately 30 tables with 120 chairs, the lounge furniture and the study rooms await student use. The student union is for the students.

MAKE THE UNION your "college living room."

Maestro -- Dr. R. Campbell

By Phyllis Tice

Dr. Robert A. Campbell, assistant professor of music came to Glenville State College in September 1959.

From 1945 to 1949, Dr. Campbell was a student at Oberlin Conservatory of Music, Oberlin, Ohio, and it was here that he received his Bachelor of Music with a major in trumpet. He did much trumpet solo work including a complete recital (Handel's "Concerto for Trumpet," Stravinsky's "L'Histoire du Soldat," and shorter pieces), several recital appearances, and a solo trumpet in Bach's "Mass in B Minor."

Dr. Campbell played a trumpet in the Oberlin Conservatory Symphony Orchestra, Symphonic Band, and the brass ensemble, and taught several private trumpet students.

Played Professional Trumpet

During the summer of 1947, he studied trumpet at the Julliard School of Music with William Vacchiano. Then from 1949 to 1950, he played a professional trumpet with traveling orchestras.

In 1950 and 1951, Dr. Campbell was a music instructor at Carrollton Public School, Carrollton, Alabama. He served in the U. S. Army from 1951 to 1953 and was instructor in music theory and appreciation in "Band Training Unit." He also played first trumpet on a weekly national network radio broadcast.

During 1953 to 1955, Dr. Campbell was a student at the University

What was once a pretty day seems to have become a (pretty) rainy day, a (pretty) cold day, a (pretty) windy day or a (pretty) undecided-as-to-the-kind of day it really is. One-Act Plays Set For Glenville Stage

During the fourth term, three one-act plays will be produced. One or both of two original one acts by Associate Professor William S. E. Coleman will be presented on WJFB in late April.

One of the plays, "Found: An Author," was written in 1952 and was published in Playshop Magazine. It has been frequently produced by college groups. The second play, tentatively entitled "Fact and Fantasy," was written this winter. Both plays are fantastic and experimental in form and both will be presented on campus.

Also scheduled for production is the classic tragedy, "Oedipus the King" by Sophocles. Mr. Coleman adapted the play for the modern stage. "Oedipus" will be presented during Arts Week and at Jackson's Mill. Casting is open and notices will be posted at a later date.

of Texas and received his Masters in Music in 1954. During this time he was also first trombonist in the Austin Symphony Orchestra and was a trombonist with the University of Texas Faculty Brass Quartet.

From 1955 to 1957, he was instructor in music at Dana College, Blair, Neb., and taught theory, public school music, band, and applied music.

Studied at Un. of Texas

Dr. Campbell studied for his Ph.D. degree at the University of Texas in 1957 to 1959, and also taught trombone and supervised music practice teaching in the elementary grades, was first trombonist in the Austin Symphony Orchestra, and string bass, University of Texas Symphony Orchestra.

He completed his Ph.D. degree at the University of Texas in May, 1959.

Here, at Glenville, Dr. Campbell directs the 80-piece concert band, the stage band, and teaches theory, instruction in brass and percussion, and band, and gives private instruction in brass and woodwind. He also plays in a brass quintet and conducts a woodwind.

Ratliff Releases Football Schedule

Homecoming Set For Sept. 30

By Charles Curtis

Athletic Director Carlos Ratliff has announced a seven-game football schedule for the 1961 season. The card shows three home games and four road games. The opening game will be at Glenville on Sept. 16 when the 1961 Pioneers host the West Liberty Hilltoppers.

Homecoming game has been set for Sept. 30 with Concord. In 1959, the White Wave trounced the Mountain Lions 23-6 in the annual homecoming clash. In 1960, the Pioneers routed the Davis-Elkins Senators 36-0.

The Pioneers last year won over the Concord eleven 19-12. The winning margin in this game came with but nine seconds of playing time remaining. At this stage, the Pioneers' Ollie Pottmeyer hit Junior Wilson on a game-winning 79-yard pass play.

The Pioneer squad of the past season compiled a 5-2 season record. The schedule for the coming year is:

Sept. 16	West Liberty	Glenville
Sept. 23	Potomac State	Kyser
Sept. 30	Concord College	Glenville
	(Homecoming)
Oct. 7	Davis & Elkins	Elkins
Oct. 14	W. Va. Wesleyan	Buckhannon

Oct. 20	Salem College	Glenville
Oct. 28	Fairmont State	Fairmont

Home games will be played at 2:00 p.m. on Rhorbough Field.

KSK Annual Ball Is Sat., April 8th

Kappa Sigma Kappa will hold its annual Ball Saturday, April 8, from 8:00 to 12:00 p.m.

Little Ruben and the Kool Kats from Montgomery will play for this dance in the GSC Student Union. The Kool Kats are recording stars for Eureka Record and have made radio and TV appearances throughout the state.

Theme for the dance will be Oriental Gardens. Eugene Davis is chairman of the decorating committee. Tickets will be $2.50 for couple.

Junior Class Triumphs In Tourney Defeats Freshmen In 63-48 Contest

The juniors managed a 15-point winning margin 63-48 over the freshmen to cop class tournament honors Tuesday night, March 14.

The annual class basketball tourney was sponsored by the Holy Roller Court and under the direction of Mr. Alexander Zerban. The junior win in the final playoff game came over a strong freshman five.

The game was a closely contested battle at the beginning and remained so through the first half of play. At the halfway mark, the juniors held a slim four-point lead, 30-26.

After the break the juniors proceeded to turn on the pressure and at the end of the third quarter they had opened up a 12-point margin. This year marks the second year in a row that this group of boys has won the class championship.

MAA Basketball Continues Close

MAA league play has been the scene of some closely fought battles in the past two or three weeks of play.

Finishing out the week of March 5, two close games were played by the Attie Boys and the Kappa Sigma "B" and the Odd Balls I and the Odd Balls II.

In the first game, the Attie Boys came out with a six-point 38-32 decision over the Kappa Sigma "B". The Kappa Sigma led most of the game, but in the final quarter of play the Attie Boys pulled ahead to take the contest. High for the Attie Boys was Larry Cavendish who hit for 16 points.

In the second game of the evening the Odd Balls I won a close game over the Odd Balls II. The Odd Balls I managed to come through with a three-point win. Bud Miner was high man for the losing Odd Balls II as he cashed in for 18 points. Romeo Williams of the winning Odd Balls I chipped in for the winners in a 15-point outplay.

Visiting Chemist Lectures To Science Club, Classes

Dr. M. Kent Wilson, Robinson Professor of Chemistry and Chairman, Department of Chemistry, Tufts University, Medford, Mass., will be visiting the Glenville State College campus on April 10 and 11.

During his visit, Dr. Wilson will meet with chemistry classes, talk to the Glenville Chapter of the W. Va. Collegiate Academy of Science, and will be available for conferences with students and faculty.

Dr. Wilson obtained his B.S. Degree at the University of Utah and the Ph.D. in Physical Chemistry from California Institute of Technology. He was an instructor from 1948 to 1951 and an assistant professor from 1951 to 1956 at Harvard University before taking over his present duties at Tufts University.

He was a Guggenheim Fellow and Fulbright Scholar in the Physics Department of King's College, London, during 1954-55 and was elected a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 1957.

The program of Visiting Scientists in Chemistry is under the direction of the Division of Chemical Education of the American Chemical Society and is partially financed by the National Science Foundation.

made by inviting representatives from the high schools in this area to participate.

Afternoon session of the conference will consist of several discussion groups concerning areas of educational development. These areas include Agriculture, Civic Improvement, Industry, Education, Human Resources, and Natural Resources.

New Feature Set

Civic Improvement is a new feature of the conference. This group will be devoted to improving local communities so that they will be more attractive for industry, business, and tourists. Mayors of towns in the area will be invited to participate. Discussion will be built around clean-up campaigns, sewage disposal, good water supply, zoning and other problems of rural towns and communities.

Natural Resources group will deal with the problems of developing a water resources program for the Little Kanawha River drainage area. This discussion will involve flood control, steady water flow during the summer months, water contamination by sewage, mines, and other problems.

Agriculture Studied

Agriculture group will deal with the problem of a kind of agricultural practice which would be effectively followed in the central West Virginia area. Discussion will center on trying to develop a well-rounded agricultural program to recommend to the farmers in this area.

Education group will discuss the problems of encouraging more high school graduates to attend college and a follow-up study of GSC graduates who are teaching in the area. Other problems contributing to cultural development will also be discussed, such as the mobile book service and more art and music in the public school curriculum.

Banquet session will begin at 6:00 p.m. in the student union. At this time reports of the afternoon group meetings will be given. H. Cliff Hamilton of the state department of education will present a summary of the conference.

organizations such as the sororities and fraternities we have today. Literary societies were considered important and it was considered an honor to belong to one of the societies; and for many years a public performance was necessary; therefore, much of the news of the TOWER consisted of the news of the literary societies.

There were no provisions for the financial support of the TOWER. Subscriptions were $1.00 a year. Slowly the paper died, and the last issues were probably in 1926. From then on was an interim of three years in which no evidence of a publication is found. In 1929 the first MERCURY was published.

The TOWER, however, was not the first student publication of which we have a record. The INDEPENDENT STAR published by the Independent Literary Society was written as early as 1891. The INDEPENDENT STAR resembled a magazine in content and was not published at any stated interval. It contained news of the Normal School and the community and was mostly composed of articles written by the students.
