Council Members Express Ideas on Student Government

By Marjorie Roth

The Glenville State College Student Council is composed of dedicated students, chosen by popular vote. The work of the Council begins before the opening of the college and continues throughout the year. Little credit or recognition is given Council members, yet they are most concerned with serving the students.

The student government's main purposes are to serve as a liaison between faculty and students; give students experience in government; and make possible greater participation of students in running the college.

Strengths of the Council are the relationship between the Administration and the Council and the willingness of the students to assume responsibility.

The weaknesses are found in one statement: "The students show indifference to problems as adults do."

The present Council advocates the need for improving school environment. It is definitely interested in enlarging the Student Union and is concerned with improving both the scholastic and social life of the students.

Metz Is President

President of the 1961-1962 Council is Harold Metz, speech and social studies student. Metz is a senior from Parkersburg. He is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity and received the Best Debut Award at the Alpha Psi Omega Awards Banquet the past spring, for his performance in "Beyond the Horizon."

Last year he was active as assistant sports editor for the Kanawhachen, president of the GSC Choir, and a member of The Varsity Quartet.

Metz says that the student council "expresses the ideas, thoughts and views of the students plus organization of activities which can only be done by a small group."

Metz mentioned in his platform getting big name performers for GSC. The Four Freshmen appeared here last week. Another achievement is that the drawings have gone through for the addition to the Student Union. Inter-organizational Council was proposed by last year's Council and put in effect by the present Council.

Directed teaching will occupy most of Metz's time third term. After graduation he plans either to teach or go to graduate school.

Smith Is Vice President

Keith Smith, a junior from New Martinsville, is vice president of the Student Council. He is a physical science, biological science and speech student.

Smith is a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa, national fraternity, and G-Club. He is president of IOC.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN NAMED

Re-study of Teacher Education Begins In 16 State Colleges

In 1958 the West Virginia State Board of Education directed that a re-study of all teacher education programs leading to certification of teachers in West Virginia be made. This project became known as "Re-Study of Teacher Education in West Virginia."

This study is under the general support of the Advisory Council on Teacher Education in West Virginia, and is directed by a coordinating committee. Miss Genevieve Starcher, director of certification, is chairman of this committee.

Dr. Harry B. Heflin is a member of the Coordinating Committee, and Dr. Delmer K. Somerville is a member of the Advisory Council. Both are under the direction of the State Superintendent of Schools, Rex M. Smith.

State Chairmen

State Committees in professional education and in subject matter areas to develop teacher training progress in the specific fields have been formed. Three members of the Glenville State College staff are state committee chairmen: Dr. Espy W. Miller, English; Dr. Byron J. Turner, the sciences; and Dr. Delmer K. Somerville, certification of attendance workers.

Similar committees have been formed on the campus of each of the 16 colleges and universities in W. Va. which train teachers.

Committee chairmen at Glenville State are Mr. Charles Scott, art; Mr. Clarence Maze, Jr., business education; Mrs. Lillian R. Chad-

Newspaper Staff Sponsors Contest For Third Year

This year the third annual poetry contest will again be sponsored by the MERCURY. Winning poems will be published in the Christmas issue of the MERCURY, Dec. 13.

Subject matter for the poems is unlimited and any student is eligible to participate in the contest. This includes members of the MERCURY staff, as the staff will be in no way involved with the judging.

Entries may be placed in the MERCURY box at the Student Union. Deadline for entries will be 4 p.m., Dec. 5.

Each poem will be numbered before being sent to the judges, and the judges will select the winning poems by number. Names of the winners will thus remain unknown to the judges of the contest as well as to GSC students until the three winning poems are published in the MERCURY on Dec. 13.

Winners of the first poetry contest in 1959 were Dorothy Butler Oliver, first place; Phyllis Lee Harvey, second-place; and Arminia Rae Tucker, third place.

Leith Owen Clarke took first place honors in the 1960 contest. Roland Thomas Ferrell was second and Deronda Jones placed third.

Judges for the contest are Dr. Espy W. Miller, chairman of division of language and professor of English; Mr. Carl A. Kerr, assistant professor of English and

PERFECT CRIME ENACTED

Patricia Hornor Directs 'Rope'; Murder Mystery Is Set Nov. 30

"I have committed murder. I have committed passionless-motiveless - faultless - and clueless murder." These are the words of Wyndham Brandon, portrayed by Larry Wolfe, to Charles Granillo (Jack Rhoades), who is Brandon's criminal accomplice, in the forthcoming production of "Rope" under the direction of Patricia Hornor.

The British murder mystery will be staged in the college arena theatre, "Way Off Broadway," at 8 p.m., Nov. 30, Dec. 1, 5, and 7.

Giving support to the leading characters will be William Spelbring as Rupert Cadell, an intellectual and poet who prides himself on his reserve and cunning.

Provide Contrast

Kenneth Ragalan (Edward Nichols) and his "female counterpart" Leila Arden (Elizabeth Beall) provide freshness and naivete in contrast with the macabre drama at hand.

Michael Posey characterizes Sir Johnston Kentley, an elderly gentleman of quiet authority and provocative listlessness, who is the father of the victim.

Margaret Hofmann also serves to brighten moments in her portrayal of Mrs. Debenham, aunt of the murdered victim.

Sabot (Jerry Morgan), French butler of Brandon, does not commit the crime, but literally gives it away.

Mercury Begins 33rd Year

NOV. 25 IS AN important day for the Glenville MERCURY. On that day, the paper will celebrate its 32nd birthday.

THOSE FIRST ISSUES of the MERCURY had no editor; they were published by a staff of interested students. Mr. Lloyd M. Jones, GSC business manager, and Mr. Linn B. Hickman, editor and publisher of the Glenville DEMOCRAT, were members of that first staff in 1929-30.

Advertising Manager became the first definite position on the staff in 1933-34. Mr. Nelson Wells, GSC, associate professor of education, was the first to serve in that capacity.

EDITORS WERE FIRST appointed in 1938; they were Max Ward and John Rogers. Now professor of biology and chairman of the division of science at GSC, Dr. Ward served as associate editor in 1939-40.

EARLY HEADQUARTERS for the MERCURY were in the offices now occupied by the Dean of Women and Dean of Men. Present MERCURY office is located in the basement of the Library.

Since 1939 the MERCURY has been guided by many editors:

1938-39 — Max Ward, John Rogers	1950-51 — William Harper
1939-40 — Max Ward	1951-52 — William Boram
1940-41 — Agnes Wright	1952-53 — William Boram
1941-42 — Madelyn Conrad, Frances Myers	1953-54 — James E. Robinson, Jr.
1942-43 — Frances Myers	1954-55 — James E. Robinson, Jr.
1943-44 — Helen Taylor	1955-56 — Yvonne Hart, Shirley James
1944-45 — Gray Barker, Janette Cunningham	1956-57 — Yvonne Hart Chase
1945-46 — Gray Barker	1957-58 — Connie Sams, Joyce Jackson
1946-47 — Richard Workman	1958-59 — Dorothy Butler
1947-48 — Russell McQuain	1959-60 — Charmaine Gunnoe
1948-49 — William Luzader	1960-61 — Janet Hall
1949-50 — Dan Rengers	1961-62 — Judyth DePoy Mayhew

For 32 years the MERCURY has been the "voice of the students" on this campus. Our policy is simple: we print the news, we do not make it. The paper is planned and prepared by students, with the aid of the faculty adviser.

In fulfilling its intended purpose of a "news-media" service, the MERCURY continues to try to give a truthful, comprehensive and intelligent account of campus events. May this service to campus, alumni and friends prevail.

— Judyth Mayhew

Sign and Be Heard

THE SUBJECT of "Letters to the Editor" was discussed in a previous editorial (Oct. 10, 1961), and the procedure involved in printing such letters was clearly explained at that time. However, it seems at this time, that this procedure be once again stated.

DURING THE PAST week, the MERCURY received an unsigned letter through the mail. The short letter was basically a "gripe." Apparently, the incident from which the complaint grew was important to some students, or the letter would not have been written. By signing the letter merely, "A Restrictive Student," the students defeated their own purpose. Anonymous letters are not accepted for publication in the MERCURY.

IT HAS BEEN explained before and is repeated here again: Writers' signatures need not appear with the letters as they are printed in the MERCURY, but both the adviser and the editor must know by whom the letters were written.

IT HAS BEEN and will continue to be the policy of this paper to refuse to print anonymous letters.

CERTAINLY IF ANY issue is important enough to students that they want to see their own views on that issue expressed in print, for their fellow-students and non-college persons to read and discuss, then those views should be important enough to warrant a signature.

HOWEVER, IF STUDENTS are determined to remain anonymous to their fellow-students, then the letters may be printed without the writers' names — if the MERCURY adviser and editor know the identity of these writers.

THE MERCURY IS YOUR NEWSPAPER, "the voice of the students." The staff urges you to express your views as often as you like in letters, but stand firm and take credit for those views, be they pro or con. SIGN YOUR LETTERS!!

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I enjoyed reading and appreciated the views expressed by a student in the Oct. 25 issue of the MERCURY concerning the marriage question which is now being discussed on our campus.

I would like to take this opportunity to express the reasons and thoughts which motivated the Student Council to pass such a ruling.

In no way were we trying to hinder or discriminate against the married students, for they are a vital part of our campus life and activity.

Student Council, and not the administration or faculty, is responsible for the ruling that no married woman may be a candidate for cheerleader, Homecoming Queen, or a member of the Queen's court.

Decisions made concerning the residence of on-campus married women fall under the jurisdiction of the administration and dorm councils, and I am sure that such a decision was founded upon good judgement and consideration for all parties involved. I am not familiar with the reasons behind this ruling, but I believe that one would have to agree that married women would be more inclined to discuss homemaking chores and family situations as compared with those ideas and aspirations of a single person. Consequently, why not provide those students with an environment where satisfactory communication with their peers may take place.

One must also consider that the freshmen are restricted to a certain dorm, but is this discrimination or an educational process of college? As a member of the Student Council, I would like to explain some of the reasons which brought about our decision.

1 - In the process of electing a Homecoming Queen, all senior women's names are placed on the ballot. We felt that most assuredly not all senior (married) women would wish to be a candidate. Due to an early Homecoming, a survey could not be run of those who did or did not wish to be a nominee. If the elected person decided not to accept this honor, because of marriage, it would have been too late for her to resign, plus it would have weakened the meaning and honor for the next recipient.

Mack Samples, Sherry Sherwood, Rose Smith.

2 - We felt that some husbands would not particularly want their wives to be cheerleader, Homecoming Queen, or a member of the Queen's court.

3 - We felt that the cost involved of being Homecoming Queen, or a member of her court, would be a hardship upon most married couples and that they would rather their money be spent on family or educational purposes.

4 - When one is married, his or her life becomes fulfilled in the sense that they no longer need as much glory or recognition except for that which is for or shared by their mate. Why then should this be taken from one who is still searching, hoping, and striving for the rewards that you have already gained?

5 - The Student Council sincerely believed that the majority of the students would not want a "Mrs." for cheerleader, Homecoming Queen or a member of the Queen's court. Student Council does not desire to dictate the thoughts of students. On the contrary, as elected officials, we wish to formulate their thoughts into policies.

A statement used in the previous letter of Oct. 25, stated that, "it is impossible for a married woman to be a cheerleader, a Homecoming Queen, or a member of the Queen's court, yet there are no restrictions involved in being a majorette." This is true, but one must realize that this is an organizational election and organizations are free to set their own policies. Only when representation involves the whole student body does the Student Council see a need for considerations and decisions for both single and married students.

Miss America and Mrs. America are two well-known titles which hold a certain unique and unexplainable dedication. Each, in its own realm, communicates truth, inspiration and a pursuit for happiness; but the two shall never join or be synonymous, nor would any of us want them to be.

We of the Student Council are not trying to discriminate but rather to accept each person for what he is and understand and co-operate with the personal life they have chosen to lead.

This is not a closed issue, but open to discussion and change.

Respectfully,
Harold Metz, President

G-Men Will Open Basketball Season Against Fairmont

The Pioneers will open the regularly scheduled basketball season against the Falcons of Fairmont at Fairmont, Dec. 4. The G-Men will have already played two games in the pre-season Weston Invitational Tournament Nov. 28 and 29. Other teams in the tournament will be Alderson-Broadus, W. Va. Wesleyan and Fairmont.

Expectations and aspirations of the highest caliber soar both from and for the team. There are two explanations for this optimism: fans are expecting to see a wide-open brand of basketball and there is an assuredness that comes with the poise, ability and strength of the eight returning lettermen.

List Lettermen

Returning lettermen, Bob Lambert, Larry Gandee, Russ Shepherd, Tim Carney, Mike Eberbaugh, Fred Smith, Dick Bickel and Bill Maxwell, will form a nucleus upon which to build. These men have height, speed and they can shoot.

Seven other men are competing for a position on the squad. They are Mike Reed, Kent Shock, Ed Bell, Gary Frost, Louie Nocida, Chuck Eddy and Bob Maxwell. Eddy and Maxwell are freshmen. Tom Gunnoe will join the group after football season.

The Pioneers won a 14-13 thriller from the Salem Tigers, here, Friday, Nov. 10. With 45 seconds left in the game, Ollie Pottmeyer hit Tom Gunnoe with a 22-yard scoring toss to even the count at 13-13. Keith Smith's conversion was true and Glenville had a 14-13 upset to their credit.

The Tigers struck first early in the opening quarter as a deflected Billy Connor's pass landed in the hands of Eddy Joe Cowley for the TD. Tom Cuppett kicked the point and Salem led 7-0.

Both teams played on even terms during the second quarter and the half ended with the 7-0 score.

Larry Legg then led a GSC drive to the two from where he plunged over making the score 7-6. Keith Smith's conversion was good and the score was deadlocked 7-7.

Salem then drove to the Glenville three-yard line with Don Gilpin leading the way. Steve Rymas plunged over from the two; the point after attempt went wide and the Pioneers were down 13-7.

The G-Men took the kickoff and moved down field behind the passing of Pottmeyer, and a 15-yard penalty. Then came the thundering blow from Pottmeyer to Gunnoe covering the last 22 yards.

Defense Proves Strong
Bill Shinn, Vinsen Post, Bill Kinzer, Larry Legg and Keith Smith led a determined defensive unit that would-not-say-die. Time-and-again they threw the conference's leading passer, Connors, for sizeable losses.

Salem led in first downs 11-7, but the Pioneers led in rushing (72-52) and passing (119-109). Pottmeyer threw 6-13 for 119 yards; Joe Duncan carried the ball for Glenville for 25 yards.

Billy Connors was 8-14 for 109 yards for Salem and Don Gilpin was the individual leader in rushing.

Spoil Falcon's Homecoming
Glenville State College Pioneers spoiled Fairmont's Homecoming with a 20-7 victory in a game played Oct. 28.

Falcons looked as if they might break the game wide open in the opening minutes as quarterback Gordon Rennie tossed an eight-yard scoring pass to halfback Jerry Accord. Rennie then hit end Moe Kalin with a pass for the extra point, making the score 7-0.

Pioneers were not-to-be denied though as they broke the shutout early in the second stanza. Tom Gunnoe, the game's leading ground gainer, dashed over from the three, Keith Smith split the uprigths and the score was a 7-7 deadlock.

Fairmont started another drive but saw it die as tackle Bill Kinzer recovered a Falcon fumble on the GSC 37-yard line shortly before the first half ended.

Passing Clicks

In the third quarter, the Pioneers and not the Falcons took to the air. Ellsworth Buck took the second half kickoff and returned it 22 yards to the 31. Ollie Pottmeyer, G-Men quarterback, then hit end Romeo Williams with a strike covering 45 yards.

Two plays later, halfback Joe Duncan teamed with end Bob Summers on a 20-yard touchdown pass. Smith's conversion was again true and Glenville had an undisputed 14-7 lead.

Fairmont was again plagued with a miscue as Pioneer tackle Vinsen Post recovered the loose ball on the GSC 48-yard line. Pioneers then drove to the 3-yard line and with ten seconds to go in the game, Tom Gunnoe threw a touchdown pass to Keith Smith who made a diving catch. The point after was wide but Glenville had wrapped up a 20-7 win.

G-Men Lead in Passing

Final statistics showed Fairmont on top in first downs (12-11) and rushing yardage (110-100). The Pioneers led in passing with 11-18 for 188 yards to Fairmont's 6-8 for 49 yards.

Tom Gunnoe had 66 yards rushing in 21 carries, while Ollie Pottmeyer threw for 93 yards with 5-11. Joe Duncan had 3 for 4 for 50 passing yards. Keith Smith had a good day punting as he averaged 40 yards for each punt.

Outstanding defensive plays were turned in by Tom Gunnoe, Larry Legg, Harold Erwin, Bill Shinn, and Vinsen Post.

Jane Fox Is Secretary

The only girl on the Council secretary, is Leah Jane Fox, a senior business occupations and principles student from Sutton. She is active in Chi Omega, national sorority, and is treasurer of both Alpha Delta Epsilon and Verona Maple Hall and is librarian of SNSEA.

Miss Fox thinks that the members of Student Council have worked well together this year, and she feels that so far this year they have accomplished the objectives which they had planned.

Grose Is Treasurer

Edward Grose, senior business education major from Summersville is treasurer. He is a member of Alpha Delta Epsilon, G-Club, the golf team and is a member of 1960 "Who's Who."

"The Student Council has as its main objective — to speak for the students and promote Glenville State College," says Grose. He believes that GSC is growing and must be advertised to the people across the state by having better entertainment programs and an exchange program with neighboring colleges.

Morehead Is Sgt. at Arms

Sergeant at arms is Clair Morehead, a senior biology and speech student, from Elizabeth.

Morehead is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity. He is vice president of Ohnimgohow Players, an active member of IOC and a charter member of Science Club. He is president of the Wesley Foundation and vice president of West Virginia Methodist Student Movement.

Morehead, as a member of the Council, advocates any change or revision that will be for the benefit of both the students and GSC.

He recently initiated a movement to transfer part of the little-used Friday afternoon library hours to Sunday afternoon. The necessary surveys are being arranged through IOC.

Morehead is now doing directed teaching in Parkersburg.

The Inquiring Reporter

Question: What did you think of the performance of the Four Freshmen?

Linda Lambiotte, Grantsville, senior: I appreciate the fact that these were excellent musicians and that they had a lot of stage presence plus that they got across to the audience that they were enjoying the audience as much as the audience was enjoying them. I liked their quick transition from mood to mood.

I also enjoyed them because they didn't mind working in such untheatrical surroundings. They seemed to enjoy performing for performing's sake. All in all I was very much entertained, though disappointed that more people were not privileged to see the show.

Susan Wince, South Charleston, junior: They were fabulous. They were both humorous and versatile. They were a pleasant combination of Shelley Berman, Stan Kenton and the Kingston Trio.

They were quite nice and I think this type of program should be repeated because more students will attend performances with big names.

Margy Simmons, Cox's Mill, junior: I think they were very good and I wish we could have more like them. I liked their jokes.

Gary Frost, Clarksburg, sophomore: I would like to see someone come back that sings popular music. I thought they were good musicians and they used comedy and they are good singers.

I think we should have more of this type of entertainment. I think the students will appreciate this type of entertainment more now.

Margaret Hofmann, Parkersburg, freshman: I think we need more entertainment like that, because it is good for culture. I think it helps the reputation of the school as a whole.

Their appearance was very impressive. I think it's too bad more people didn't take advantage of it.

Philip Ramsey, Parkersburg, freshman: I liked their humor. I think more students should have gone so we could get more groups like this. I liked the way they put local names in their act.

Dr. Robert E. Higgins, dean of student affairs: I thought it was a very entertaining performance. I liked the way they interspersed humor with the musical selections and I thought their selections were well chosen in terms of pleasing a college audience. I noticed they were well received by the audience.
