Maxwell, Hopson, Justice, Morgan, Waggoner Win Vote

CHARLES W. MAXWELL, junior physical education and social studies student from Dunbar, was named president of the Glenville State College Student Council for 1962-1963. Maxwell was a write-in candidate in an election that had no one seeking the top position.

OTHER OFFICERS elected were John Hopson, vice president; Lena Ruth Justice, secretary; Jerry Morgan, treasurer; and Gary Waggoner, sergeant at arms.

ELECTION THIS year resulted in more intensive campaigning. Campaign signs and slogans were posted on campus and voting was heavy.

An 80-per cent turnout of campus students was noted at the election. A 66-per cent vote was recorded the past year.

JUNIOR CLASS led the number of students voting with 90 per cent of the class participating in the election. Seniors had 80 per cent, sophomores 80 per cent and freshmen 71 per cent.

In the vote for the expansion of the Student Union 572 students voted for expansion and 17 opposed.

MAXWELL, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Maxwell of Dunbar, has played on the Pioneer basketball team for the past three years.

Following election, Maxwell stated: "I shall first strike to support any measures which are beneficial to the students. I advocate continuance of present programs of the IOC and further concentration of them. I hope to secure a yearbook publication and in general make campus life more pleasant for all. All support will be appreciated."

JOHN HOPSON, vice president, is now serving as treasurer of the Holy Roller Court, is a member of Alpha Delta Epsilon and is active in MAA. In his platform, Hopson promised to promote better student-faculty relationships; to strive for better, more effective freshman rules; and to support the publication of a yearbook.

RUTH JUSTICE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Justice of Elizabeth, is a junior mathematics and physical science student. Miss Justice is president of the campus chapter of the West Virginia Collegiate Academy of Science and president-elect of the state organization. She is junior class treasurer, a member of Xi Beta Tau and was named to "Who's Who" the past fall. She is currently serving as secretary of the Student Council, replacing Jane Fox Cutlip who completed her work in March.

IN HER PLATFORM, Miss Justice stated she would support the formation of a governing board representing both women's dormitories to formulate rules. She will also support the yearbook publication and present the viewpoint of the majority of the students to the Council.

JERRY MORGAN is a junior speech and social studies student from Spencer. Morgan is now serving as defense attorney of the Holy Roller Court, is a member of the Ohnningohow Players, a member of

State Board Authorizes Plans For GSC Student Union Expansion College Will Advertise Additional Revenue Bonds

PRESIDENT HEFLIN appeared before the State Board of Education Tuesday, April 24, and received authority to proceed with preliminary plans and working drawings for a $450,000 expansion of the Student Union and cafeteria.

NEXT SEPTEMBER, student union fees will go up from $3 to $8 a semester. In the April 18 campus vote, a 96.6-per cent majority (572-17) voted for the expansion move. Authorization was made by the State Board for Greife, Daley and Hoblitzell, Charleston architects, to make preliminary plans for the Union extension; and to advertise revenue bonds on the open market.

DR. HEFLIN pointed out that Glenville had accumulated other funds which also will be applied to the project.

IN THE MEANTIME, work is moving ahead on Unit B of the Administration Building and the auditorium. Renovation began April 2. Under the terms of the contract, Unit B must be completed by no later than the end of the first semester next year and the auditorium must be completed 90 days after this time.

SOME OF THE new features that will be included in the remodeling are the addition of eight music practice rooms along the sides of the auditorium. These rooms will be soundproof and each will have its own air-conditioning unit.

Science Students Present 6 Papers

Glenville State College botanists again presented a large part of the program at the West Virginia Collegiate Academy of Science held April 27 at Morgantown. Six students have been conducting experiments for several months in preparation for this meeting.

Plantings were made, progress diligently recorded and slides prepared. All these preliminary steps were required in order that coherent explanations of the various experiments could be made.

Papers presented were "Effects of Naphthaleneacetic Acid on the Lateral Buds of Pea Seedlings with Apical Meristem Removed," by Linda Sands; "Investigation into Nutritional Requirements of Polytrichum Callus," by Alvin Engelke.

"Morphology and Growth Patterns of Callus Tissue in Polytrichum Commune," by Samuel Cogar; "Comparative Study of Dormant Leaf and Flower Buds in Some

High School Seniors Visit College Campus Tomorrow Fifteenth Annual Activity Directed by Mr. Langford

Annual Art Show Will Open May 3, End On Monday

Are you a dabbler in the arts? Do you spend spare time with oil paints, water colors, the graphic arts, sculpturing, or crafts? If so, Alpha Rho Tau (Palette and Brush Club), invites students to enter the Fourth annual Art Exhibit and Sale to be held from Thursday, May 3, through Monday, May 7. The showing will be in Louis Bennett Lounge and the hours for the exhibit on Sunday will be 1 to 6 p.m.

The exhibit is open to all students with prizes to be awarded in each division, by impartial judges outside of the art department. Glenville business establishments will again "back the show."

All GSC art majors and minors are required to have at least four entries in the show. Paintings and work will be for sale. The deadline for entries was April 28 and the entry fee $1.

By Judyth Mayhew
REGISTRAR BERYL LANGFORD has announced that the 15th Annual High School Senior Day will be held tomorrow on the GSC campus.

DURING THE DAY high school seniors and their sponsors from various high schools in the state are given a chance to see what life is really like on a college campus. Seniors are permitted and urged to visit the various departments in which they are particularly interested.

THE 1962 SENIOR DAY program will open at 9:30 with musical selections by the Mistys, the Variety Quartet, and the GSC Concert Band. The program will be officially opened at 10:30 in a general assembly with Dr. Espy W. Miller, chairman of the language division, presiding. President Harry B. Hefflin will give the welcoming address, and Keith Smith, Student Council president, will also welcome the students.

FOLLOWING THE welcoming addresses, Dr. Delmer K. Somerville, dean, will discuss the academic programs at Glenville State College, and Dr. Robert E. Higgins, dean of student affairs, will discuss scholarships, workshops, and loans.

TWO GLENVILLE State students, Miss Barbara Sue Jefferies and

James Lee Booth, will talk to the students on the subjects, "Why College is Important to a Girl" and "Why College is Important to a Boy."

AT 11 A.M. HIGH SCHOOL seniors will be permitted to talk with various faculty members and students in the gymnasium in regard to any particular program.

BEGINNING AT 11:30 special tours and performances will be presented. Seniors will see a swimming demonstration, a gymnastics demonstration, and an art exhibit. They will be taken on tours of the dormitories, the Student Union, the library, the Science Hall, the Home Management House. These tours and performances will be repeated at 1:15. The program will adjourn at 2 p.m.

Bulletin

The commencement address at GSC will be given by Dr. Harry N. Rivlin, dean of teacher education, the City University of New York.

Baccalaureate speaker will be the Rev. Joseph DeBardi of the First Methodist Church in Clarksburg.

Complete stories on these speakers will appear in the May 16 issue of the MERCURY.

Glenville Students, Faculty Visit New York on Holiday

By Patty Hornor

ON THURSDAY, April 19, twenty-two GSC students and faculty members left Glenville in cars for New York City. Plans for this trip had been arranged by members of the art and speech departments for the purpose of attending Broadway and off-Broadway plays, touring art museums, and or first-time visitors, excursions to various sites of interest. After short and "long" ways of reaching New York were explored, the group arrived and rounds of sight-seeing, movies, museums, and plays began.

SOME OF THE landmarks visited were the UN Building, the Statue of Liberty, Rockefeller Plaza, Empire State Building, Central Park, Greenwich Village, Chinatown, and the Bowery. While there, the group made effective use of the subway systems, only rushing into the wrong subway once or twice.

ART MUSEUMS toured were the Museum of Modern Art, Whitney Museum, Metropolitan Museum of Art and Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. Several found some one-man exhibits to explore, and Saturday evening they walked through Greenwich Village observing sidewalk painters and sketchers.

MOVIES THAT various individuals saw were "La Dolce Vita," "Through a Glass Darkly," "Last Year at Marienbad," "Viridiana," "View from the Bridge," "Les Liaisons Dangereuses," "X Cape Fear," "Jessica," and "Hiroshima, Mon Amour."

Woody Plants," by Earl James, Jr. "anetophyte Regeneration in Polytrichum Commune," by James A. Morris; and "Morphogenesis of Vascular Tissue in Common Monocotyledonous Plants," by Gary Paul Jones.

Others attending from Glenville were Dr. Max Ward, Dr. Byron Turner, Dr. Catherine Cole, Ruth Justice, president-elect of the W. Va. Collegiate Academy of Science; Roger Hall, Lols Friel and Clair Morehead.

BROADWAY PERFORMANCES attended were Williams' "Night of the Iguana," Rattigan's "Ross," "Gideon," "Man for all Seasons," "All-American" with Ray Bolger, "Gift of Time," with Henry Fonda and Olivia de Havilland; "Mary, Mary"; and "Carnival."

However, the majority of the group felt that the most enjoyable hours were spent watching the off-Broadway plays. "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mamma's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feeling So Sad," was exciting for those who saw it as were "Rosmersholm," and in particular Genet's "The Black's."

WHEN ASKED "What will you remember longest concerning the trip?" the following replied:

CAROLYN JEWELL — "Greenwich Village, the atmosphere of the place, the dress of the people, and the artists sitting on the sidewalk sketching portraits."

PHIL RAMSEY — "The vastness, hustle and bustle of the city and the 'don't give a damn' attitude of the people. In particular I enjoyed the suburbs."

WAYMAN JOHNSON — "Washington Square with the fascinating people who were there."

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Genevieve Butcher, Mr. and Mrs. Moldroski, and Mr. and Mrs. Bast were the faculty members in the group.

STUDENTS WHO went were Jorene Butcher, Leslie Cooper, Eileen Kapalla, Carolyn Jewell, Margy Simmons, Pat Hornor, Janet Hall, Keith Critchfield, Jim Booth, Bill Spelbring, Phil Ramsey, Larry Wolfe, and Wayman Johnson.

Science Offerings

Several special offerings in mathematics and science will be made during the summer sessions this year.

Courses which are offered are Chemistry 101, General Inorganic Chemistry, 4 hrs., first term; Chemistry 102, General Inorganic Chemistry II, 4 hrs., second term; Mathematics 101, Third Semester Algebra, 3 hrs., first term; Physics 201, General Physics I, 4 hrs., first term; and Physics 202, General Physics II, 4 hrs., second term.

LETTER To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The April 17, 1962, issue of the MERCURY reported the platform upon which Mr. John Hopson was running for vice-president of the GSC Student Council. One of the planks of his platform involved Mr. Hopson's promising "that the Lyceum money be put to its proper use." As chairman of the Lyceum Committee, I take exception to Mr. Hopson's use of the word proper. The implication is that the Lyceum fund is being or has at some time in the past been used for purposes other than "proper."

I assure the student body of GSC that the fund has never been used for any purpose other than the sponsoring of Lyceum programs, and an audit of the fund will prove the point. It is possible that Mr. Hopson was indirectly referring to our not having had a Lyceum series during the current season; the reason for its cancellation is obvious: because the auditorium has been closed to all activities pending its renovation, the Series could not be offered. In lieu of any action by the committee, I recommend that Mr. Hopson hereafter watch his language.

Carl A. Kerr, Chairman
Lyceum Committee

11 Women Join Phi Delta Phi

Members of Phi Delta Phi Home Economics Club will have a formal initiation dinner in the Colonial Room, May 10 at 5:30 p.m.

Those who have been invited to join the club are: Barbara Baughman, Donna Maxwell, Joyce McCullough, Peggy Moffett, Pam Westfall, Joyce Hartley, Shirley Gibson, Twila Albaugh, Sandra Reese, Carol Hickman, Sandra Givens.

Members are also planning to honor all graduating home economics students with a breakfast at Cedar Creek Park, Saturday, May 19.

Five Choral Organizations Appear At Court House

By Jerry Wilson

May 10 at 8 p.m. in the Gilmer County Court House, the Glenville State College Choir, under the direction of Professor Alexander Zerban, will present a late spring concert.

Program will include five choral organizations: The Glenville State College Choir, The Polyphonic Singers, The Glenechoes, The Mistys, and the Varsity Quartet.

Court Ball Is Set, Vidicons Will Play

The Vidicons from Salem will play for the annual Holy Roller Court Ball Saturday, May 5, in the Student Union. The Ball will begin at 9 p.m. and will follow a dinner at the Conrad Hotel for Court members and their dates.

At the dance intermission, the winners of the Court raffle will be announced and the new pledges will be introduced. Tickets for the Ball will be sold this week by HRC members and tickets will also be available at the door.

On Friday, May 4, the Court will sponsor a mix on the tennis court. Current pledge period for the HRC began April 16 and will end at midnight, May 5. The familiar black hat, HRC paddles, raincoats and umbrellas have been displayed on campus during this period by the five pledges.

Pledges are Art Coughlin, Jr., Preston Browning, Stephen Smith, Mike Norman and James Mahaney.

Letter

Dr. and Mrs. Heflin

To Members of the Graduating Class and Faculty:

Because of a number of changes necessary this year, we have thought it advisable to change the usual procedure for the annual reception for seniors, their spouses, guests, and faculty. We hope this meets with your approval.

The reception is planned for Thursday evening, May 17, 1962, from eight o'clock until ten o'clock at the President's home. Since there will be a practice session for the graduation program in the Health and Physical Education Building that evening, formal dress will not be possible. Dress for the practice session so that you can stop by our home as you leave the Health Building. Your spouse or other guests will probably enjoy watching the practice.

A formal invitation has been mailed to your home address. If for any reason you fail to receive it, this is your invitation to attend. We shall look forward to seeing you on the 17th.

Sincerely,

Dr. and Mrs. Harry B. Heflin

State Board

THERE WILL BE two large air-conditioning units for the entire auditorium. Stage will be made larger by the removal of the dressing rooms to the upstairs. New seats will be installed in the balcony.

LITTLE THEATER, which seats about 70 people, will be created on the first floor. Dramatics workshop and a tape storage room will be installed. Office space will be set up on the top floor.

The program opens with "Gloria Patri" by Palestrina featuring the Glenechoes in concerto-grosso style. Members of the Glenechoes are Sondra Moore, soprano; Patty Sue Dent, contralto; Alexander Zerban, tenor; and William G. Shyder, baritone. "O Voç Amnes" by Victoria is the second number by the choir and third is "Blessed is the Man," a Kiev Monastery Chant, featuring Professor Zerban as tenor soloist.

Glenechoes Featured

"O Lord, Increase My Faith" by Gibbons is an inspiring number and keeps with the tone of the first segment of the program. "Exultate Deo" by A. Scarlati again features the Glenechoes in concerto-grosso style in closing the first part of the program.

The second part of the program opens with selections from the Mistys. Members are Kay Strosnider, first soprano; AnKara Miller, second soprano; Sherry Sherwood, first alto; and Mary Stephenson, second alto.

The third mood of the program features the choir doing "No Doubts" by Alexander Zerban. This folk-suite is narrated by Mary Biel and the Glenechoes as soloists.

Present Folk Songs

Following intermission the Polyphonic Singers will sing folk songs by Brahms: "The Fiddler," "How Sad Flow the Streams," "A House Stands Neath the Willows Shade," "I'd Enter Your Garden," and "How Lovely is the Maytime."

Following the Polyphonic Singers the Varsity Quartet will sing selections. Members of the quartet are Mack Samples, first tenor; Paul Frederick, second tenor; Douglas Watt, baritone; and Darrell Messenger, bass.

Next the choir will sing selections from "West Side Story" by Bernstein. These selections are "I Feel Pretty," "One Hand, One Heart," "Maria," "America," and "Tonight." Incidental soloists are Sherry Sherwood, Andy Poling, Rose Smith, and Harley Wells. Percussion accompanists are Dan Allman, George Kerr, and John McLaughlin.

In closing, the choir will sing selections from the Broadway musical comedy "My Fair Lady" by Lerner-Lowey. The selections are "The Street Where You Live," "With a Little Bit of Luck," "I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face," and "I Could Have Danced All Night."

Tickets may either be bought at the G&D Store, at the Book Store, or from members of the Choir, or at the door the night of the concert. Tickets are fifty cents.

"The World of Apu" was shown in Louis Bennett Lounge on Monday. The showing of this film ended the spring foreign film series which was sponsored by the Speech Department.

Golf Team Beats Fairmont Falcons For Only Victory

The Glenville State Golf team had posted only one win when the MERCURY went to press. The single win was over Fairmont in a match played on the Glenville course, April 14. Two losses have come at the hands of Davis & Elkins and Fairmont.

In a three-team match played at the Fairmont Field Club, Fairmont won over both Glenville and Davis & Elkins 12-3 and 10-5 respectively. The Senators took the Pioneers 8½-6½.

Pioneers Lose to W. Va. Wesleyan, Alderson-Broaddus in Baseball Play

By Keith Smith

The Pioneers fell victims to Alderson-Broaddus and Wesleyan in recent play to leave their record standing 1-2. The G-Men have been wanting both at the plate and in the field.

Contest Play Set For This Friday

"The Serpent's Tooth," excerpts from Shakespeare's plays, will be presented at Fairmont State College in the state contest on Friday. Mr. Coleman is the director; assisted by Pat Horner.

Cast is Marjorie Roth, Elizabeth Beall, Margy Simmons, Margaret Hofmann, James Booth, William Spelbring, Nick Nichols, Phil Ramsey, John Napolitano, Keith Smith and Harry Lynch.

"Smythe" and "Plums to the Plums" twin bill of one-acts are to be presented in the Lounge in the near future.

"Smythe" was written by Mr. Coleman and "Plums to the Plums" by Harry Lynch.

WVU Will Give Extension Courses At Glenville State

Glenville State College will be offering an opportunity for persons having a degree to enroll in courses for graduate extension credit from West Virginia University.

Courses offered are Education 221, Audio-Visual Resources for Instruction, 2-3 hrs., Dr. Turner; Education 270, Special Problems in Reading, 2-3 hrs., Dr. Kennedy and Mrs. Adams.

Undergraduate students may enroll for credit in the following courses which will be taught in conjunction with the graduate courses above: Education 306, Methods in Reading, 2 hrs., Dr. Kennedy and Mrs. Adams; Education 338, Audio-Visual Education, 2-3 hrs., Dr. Turner.

Students planning to enroll in any of these courses with West Virginia University should contact the proper officials at the University about the advisability of doing so.

Alderson-Broaddus was handed an early 4-2 victory over the Pioneers the past week. All four of Alderson-Broaddus' runs were unearned. Jim Stalnaker allowed six hits in eight innings. Joe Duncan came in the ninth to finish up. Stalnaker received the loss. For A-B, Kittle went all the way and allowed only two runs on four hits.

A-B Scores Early

Alderson-Broaddus put up their first marker in the second inning. The score came by way of a single, a stolen base, an error, and a pass ball.

The G-Men had a good scoring opportunity also in the second inning but Stalnaker struck out with the bases loaded.

Inning four saw three more runs cross the plate for A-B on one hit. From then on A-B did not score.

In the seventh inning Glenville posed another scoring threat. But with two out and the bases loaded Hammett went down swinging.

Pioneers first run came in the eighth when Clyde Brewer's single scored Mike Reed who was running for Pottmeyer; Pottmeyer singled to get on. The final Glenville score came in the ninth. Walt Rodgers, batting for Paul Taylor, drew a base on balls. Bud Hammett brought him around with a triple. The inning ended with Hammett still on third.

Bobcats Win

Wesleyan set the G-Men back 3-2 for the Pioneer's first loss of the season. Errors and weak strikes were again fatal to the Pioneers.

An RBI by Skidmore gave the Pioneers an early lead, but not a victory. Wesleyan scored two in the sixth.

The G-Men bounced back to tie it up in the bottom of the sixth. The Bobcats retaliated in the top of the seventh. A walk and an over-throw to second brought the winning run home. The losing pitcher was Wilcox. Kitzmiller, Stalnaker, and Reese all saw action in relief.

The Pioneers next home game is with Concord Friday, May 4. Results of those games following the A-B game were not available when the MERCURY went to press.

ARTIST BRADY AT WORK

Karen Brady Enters 'Art' In Show
Paintings Concern Figure Composition

By Elizabeth Beall

Ever try lighter fluid on a ban-lon sweater? Karen Brady, sophomore non-academic art student from Charleston, uses lighter fluid to clean oil paints from her garments. According to Miss Brady, smearing oils on herself as well as the canvas is not unusual. "Mr. Moldroski will tell you I'm the messiest student he has," she inserted with a laugh.

Miss Brady entered GSC after graduating from Kanawha Technical High School in Charleston. It was there she began to develop her talent in art, studying commercial art three hours a day.

Explains Interest

When questioned concerning her greatest influence in going into the art field, she hesitated. "I've just always been interested," she stated. "My brother is an art student in San Jose College (Calif.), so there's competition in the family, but I didn't choose art because of him."

Miss Brady has her studio in the TV lounge of Verona Maple Hall, so it's not unusual to watch "From These Roots" and an artist at work, at the same time.

Exhibits At Huntington

As evidence of her talent, she has one wood-cut, and three oils entered in Exhibit 180 in the Huntington Galleries for judging. "The exhibit has two divisions; professional and student. It is a fairly big show, that is, it covers a radius of 180 miles."

The subjects for her entries in oil concern figure composition. The wood cut is a portrait. She listed the names she had given her entries and three of the names correlated with the picture. One she called "Figure 329," and explained that the number stood for the date. "I didn't know what to call the last one. All of them had figure or composition in the title and I didn't want to use that again. Well, really, I didn't want to enter it in the first place, but Mr. Moldroski liked it so I just called it "Instructor's Favorite." (The subject is a girl in a bathing suit.)

Favorite Is Oils

Miss Brady's favorite medium (oils, water colors, and such) this year is oils, and her subjects are figures, "probably because of the classes I have. Last year my subjects were anything." "This is the first year I've tried prints and I like them very much." (Prints concern the graphic arts — wood cuts, silk screen, etching and so on.) She finds portraits "dull, repetitious."

"I don't even think you could say I had a type — I'm just experimenting. I guess you could say I pattern my work after the style of Diebenkorn (an American artist), but only in the use of flat areas of color. I don't copy him." "While a student, the objective isn't to develop a style, it's to learn the basics."

"The colors I use are subtle — not wild and flashy. And that's my problem. I'm not aggressive enough about painting. This is the fault of most female painters."

Concerning a philosophy in art, Miss Brady stated "It's an individual expression." "I'm a visual artist. I depend more on what I see than what I feel. Some artists use a color because they feel like using it, but I can't do that yet. I can't put my personality into my work. I use a color because I like the looks of it there."

Business Ed. Dept.
Expands Program

Business Education Department at GSC has assumed a three-fold responsibility for education in the field of business: (1) preparation of business teachers for secondary schools; (2) education of management-level personnel for business; and (3) the training of secretarial personnel.

Business administration program was approved by the State Board of Education in March 1962. Various new courses are being added to the curriculum.

Bachelor of arts in business education is offered to meet the needs of the first responsibility and is granted upon the completion of the four-year program.

Bachelor of arts in business administration (meets the needs of the second) is granted upon the completion of the four-year program.

Associate in arts degree is conferred upon completion of the two-year program in secretarial studies.

Students interested in these programs may contact Dr. Clarence Maze, Jr., Department of Business, Glenville State College.

Book Review

Mary Renault. THE BULL FROM THE SEA. 1962. 343 p. Pantheon Books.

THE BULL FROM THE SEA uses the Athenian legend of Theseus, as it came down to the Greeks of the classical period, as its subject. Theseus, a short lad of 16, proves himself to be a youth of heroic size and strength and, thus, he inherits his father's small realm, the kingdom of Athens, at the age of 19.

Theseus, in reality, was responsible for his father's suicide and later destroys his son Hippolytus. After he realizes the error he has made in causing his son to be destroyed, Theseus loses his luck; the ultimate result is destruction of his person.

Yet, Theseus gave Athens its character by uniting the separate communities of Attica, by setting the tone of its spiritual life, and by establishing its ideas of chivalry and democracy. Although his character and exploits were distorted, he has not been forgotten.

Shakespeare presented Theseus as the magnificent Duke of Athens, presiding over an enchanted midsummer festival. Now, Mary Renault recreates Theseus in this "mind-stretching and deeply moving novel."

If one reads THE BULL FROM THE SEA for its historical basis, for its mythological basis, or for no purpose other than enjoyment, chances are that it will fascinate him.

Pam Westfall Vies
For Beauty Title

Pamela Ann Westfall, freshman home economics and social studies student, will compete in the Miss Central West Virginia contest this spring. Miss Westfall, a 1961 graduate of Jane Lew High School, is the daughter of Mrs. Rita Westfall of Jane Lew.

Here at Glenville, Miss Westfall is active in choir and band; she is a band majorette, and she took part in the women's basketball class tournament. She served as salutatorian of her high school graduating class.

Miss Westfall is sponsored by the Stout Insurance Agency of Clarksburg. Miss Central West Virginia pageant will be held Friday, May 11, at the Robinson Grand Theater, Clarksburg. Contestants will be judged for appearance in a floor-length evening gown, a one-piece bathing suit and will be presented in a three-minute talent routine. In the talent routine, personality will also be judged.

For her talent number, Miss Westfall plans to sing a song from the twenties, "Ma, He's Making Eyes at Me." Dress for this song will be the style of the twenties.

Winner of the Miss Central West Virginia pageant will go to the Miss West Virginia contest. All local and state, as well as the national pageant are judged in the same manner. National Headquarters for the Miss America Pageant is Atlantic City.

Alpha Psi Omega and Ohnimgohow Players will sponsor the third annual Awards Banquet, Friday, May 18, at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Students Receive
Financial Help

Glenville State College provides a number of ways for worthy students to secure financial aid by making scholarships, loans, and workshops available to students.

Two of the scholarships, the Claude Worthington Benedum and the John C. Shaw, are made only to W. Va. students for one year.

The West Virginia Board of Education Scholarship covering tuition and fees for four years is also awarded.

In each county, legislative scholarships are awarded in proportion to the number of legislators from that county. These scholarships are awarded for four years and pay $500 a year.

Many hometown banks, civic clubs, and high school alumni award scholarships.

The College has two loan funds: The Benedum Loan Fund is open to students after they have completed one semester at the College. GSC has qualified for the National Defense Student Loan Program which is available to entering freshmen and other students.

Several campus workshops are available. At present 89 students are working on campus. Freshmen may apply for workshops but they are not advised to work.

Maxwell, Hopson

IOC and a MERCURY reporter. IN HIS PLATFORM, Morgan advocated the support of the proposed Student Union expansion, the support of a committee in IOC to plan more weekend activities, support better student-faculty relationships and better student council-faculty relationships. He also advocated the use of the activity books to admit students to more campus activities.

GARY WAGGONER is a junior biology and physical education student. Waggoner is currently serving as president of the junior class, is a member of Student Council and is a member of the Holy Roller Court.

IN HIS PLATFORM, Waggoner promised more weekend activities, better freshman rules and better student-teacher relationships. He also advocated the installation of lights on the tennis court and the installation of a public address system in the gymnasium.

Region IV Principal's Meeting was held on campus on Thursday, April 26.
