GSC CONCERT BAND

STUDENT COUNCIL PLATFORMS DUE MARCH 28

Candidates for Student Council offices must submit their platforms by March 27. Platforms will be posted March 28; election will be held April 10. On April 4 an assembly will be held; at this time candidates will present their platforms to the student body.

Qualifications of officers include: President must be member of the junior class at the time of his election. He must have been a full-time student of the college for at least one year, must be carrying at least 14 semester hours, and must have a scholastic record of 2.5 or higher.

Vice president must be a member of the sophomore or junior class at the time of his election. He must have been a full-time student of the college for a period of at least one year, must be carrying 14 semester hours or more, and must have a scholastic average of 2.5 or higher.

Other Student Government officers must be full-time semester students must be full-time students at the time of their election, must be carrying 14 semester hours or more, and must have a scholastic average of 2.0 or higher. No SGA officer shall succeed himself in office.

ADE Sponsors 'Slave Auction'

Alpha Delta Epsilon is having a "Slave Auction" as their contribution to the Campus Centennial Fund. GSC faculty and members of the administration will be the slaves. The auction will be held in the Student Union, March 15 at 7:30. Robert Butcher is the auctioneer.

Faculty and members of the Administration have submitted services to be auctioned.

Mr. Monroe is going to take notes for a student for one entire day. Mr. Murin will donate some used books. Mr. and Mrs. Roush will give two steak dinners. Mr. Kerr will give spaghetti dinners for four. Mr. Moldroski will paint a portrait.

Mrs. Turner will play for a wedding held in Glenville. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will baby-sit two nights. Miss Brown will prepare a snack for four students. Mrs. Peterson will type a research paper.

Dr. Jones will provide one-way transportation for two or three students. (Continued on page 2)

Music Department Gives Annual Spring Concert

Glenville State College Concert Band, under the direction of Dr. David J. Ernest, will present its annual Spring Concert Monday, March 11 at 8 p.m., in the College Gymnasium.

The concert will open with "Proud Heritage," a concert march by William P. Latham. Following the opening march is "Fantasy on American Sailing Songs," by Clare Grundman. Third selection, "Buglers Holiday," by Leroy Anderson, will feature a trumpet trio, including Mike Wilson, Kenneth Frederick and Denver Barnett.

Literary Issue

Date for the third annual literary issue of the MERCURY will be Wednesday, May 8. Student response during the past two years indicated that many students were interested in creative writing.

Prose writings included in the 1962 literary issue were "Bitter-Sweet Youth," by Janet Carron Hall; "Jill," by Doris Williams; "Mrs. Babbitt and Her Friends," by Michael E. Posey, II.

Poetry included "A Fruitful Search," by William Spelbring; "Closing Night," by William Spelbring; "Night," by Elsie Marie Deal; "Moments of Brilliance," by Elsie Marie Deal; "The Eyes of a Day," by Clifford Erald Cutlip; "Two-Year Old," by Avis Steyer.

Students are encouraged to submit poetry, short stories, essays and one-act plays for the 1963 literary issue. There is no contest, no prizes, merely an attempt to encourage creative writing by GSC students.

Literary material may be mailed to the MERCURY editor or brought to the MERCURY office by April 22.

James Rogers Will Exhibit Art

James Weldon Rogers, GSC art student, will have his Senior Exhibition of paintings in the near future.

The exhibition will be in Unit B of the Administration Building. However, the most recent information concerning the availability of the newly renovated section of the building is that it will not be available for two weeks.

Therefore, plans for an opening date are not definite.

The exhibition will be open to the general public. A formal coffee hour with the artist present is being planned. Many of the works will be for sale.

Every art senior in the future will participate in a similar exhibition.

Currently, Rogers is doing his directed teaching at Parkersburg High School.

Eighty-Two Are Named To Dean's Academic List

Eighty-two students have been named to the Dean's Academic List at Glenville State College for the first semester.

Six students maintained a straight "A" average for the semester. They are Gary Layne Alfred, math and physical science; Janet Sue Carper, social studies, and English; Mary Ann Smith Moss, elementary education and social studies; Carl Edwin Paxton, math and chemistry student; Nila Louise Rollins, English and art; Frances Yvonne Row, business administration and social studies.

To be eligible for the Academic List, a student must have made a quality point average of 3.2 or better on the courses taken during the first semester of 1962-63.

Out of the 82 students named to the Dean's List, approximately 15 students are employed on campus. Only 22 of the 82 students listed are men. One out-of-state student, John Napolitano, is on the Dean's List; there were 29 out-of-state students enrolled at GSC during the first semester.

Below is a list of students placed on the Dean's Academic List, arranged by counties and states.

BRAXTON — Judith Ann Blake, Burnsville; Judyth Depoy Pfaff, Gassaway; Kenton Earl Harris, Gassaway; Barbara Sue Jeffries, Orlando; Edna Jackson Johnson, Gassaway; Janet Kay Long, Little Birch; Elizabeth Ann McLaughlin, Burnsville; Mamie Carolyn Reip, Flatwoods.

NICHOLS DIRECTS COWARD PLAY

Edward V. Nichols, student director, has announced the cast for Noel Coward's one-act drama "Still Life." This play was made into a successful British play in the early 50's.

It is a particularly interesting play because it has so many vivid supporting roles.

The play is to provide experience for a major endeavor during the fourth term. Nichols directing is part of a policy of providing seniors with directional experience before graduating.

GSC LIBRARIAN HAS ANNOUNCED STACK CHANGES

A thorough reorganization of the periodical collection has just been completed at the library. All periodicals are now alphabetically arranged by the title in open stacks on the third floor. Students conducting research, now, have free access to all periodicals and are encouraged to serve themselves. The hallway stairs are to be used.

To eliminate the need for any student having to remove magazines from the third floor, the librarian has provided work tables and seeks to accommodate approximately 50 students.

The following points will quickly instruct students on proper use of periodicals: (1) Before going to third floor, collect references from indexes on the main floor.

(2) Check periodical card file at top of stairs to see if library has the magazine. Card file includes information on every periodical in the library, whether or not it is currently being received.

(3) Locate the magazine, keeping in mind that periodicals are alphabetically arranged along the entire length of a shelf. Ask the librarian if assistance is needed.

(4) Use the material in either the periodical room or in the classroom. Typewriters are available if needed.

(5) Leave periodicals at work place or return them to the desk at the top of the stairs. Do NOT return them to the shelves.

This new procedure provides students with fast service—as fast as they can serve themselves. It permits browsing and exposes students to a wider variety of periodical literature. Greater use of the (Continued on page 2)

Patty Sue Dent Earns Honor At Tournament

Patty Sue Dent, GSC cheerleader, was chosen as one of three outstanding cheerleaders at the WVIAC Basketball Tournament held at the Civic Center in Charleston, Feb. 20-23.

Miss Dent was awarded a trophy following the final tournament game between West Virginia Tech and Salem.

Miss Dent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bird of Blue Creek, is an elementary education student at GSC. She is a senior and this year is her first year as a cheerleader.

She is a member of Delta Zeta Sorority and is presently serving as Social Chairman. A member of MENC, she is secretary of the College Choir. Miss Dent, member of the College Assembly Committee, was elected to "Who's Who Among Universities and Colleges" this year.

GSC cheerleaders appeared at the WVIAC Tournament in new uniforms. The uniforms were purchased with money donated by the merchants in town and by campus organizations. Miss Dent stated that the GSC cheerleaders received many favorable comments on the new uniforms at the tournament.

'For We Are Like Sheep'

We seem to have lost an important quality on our campus. Students and faculty members agree that our college should have this quality, but where is it? The potential to achieve this quality lies hidden in many of us. This quality, which we are too lazy to cultivate, is leadership.

Complaints on our campus are numerous. Some students say, "The food is awful. Why doesn't someone do something about it?" "The dorm rules are archaic. Why aren't they changed?" "Why doesn't the college newspaper ever back an issue?" "What does the Student Council do, anyway?" "There's nothing to do." The list of complaints is endless; in fact, if one were to give GSC a nickname, it might well be "gripe campus."

The answer to the above complaints is simple: Very few students will exert themselves enough to take their complaints to the proper authorities. In fact many students who voice their gripes do not even question their validity; often they are merely repeating what another said. Thus, it is evident that we, the students, lack leadership. We gripe, but we seldom strive to improve conditions.

But students alone do not make up our College. The administration and faculty members are an important part. It is essential that they strive to give the guidance and encouragement needed. Many of us have not learned how to think for ourselves nor how to lead. We have been conditioned by society to follow. The opportunity to help a student develop leadership should be looked upon as a challenge.

If we do not develop our leadership abilities in college, when and where will we develop them? Who will be tomorrow's leaders?

dents to the vicinity of Clarksburg, Parkersburg or Charleston for Easter recess, April 11. Transportation will be by privately owned car. Mr. McCartney will provide a weekend all expense paid trip for two students to Petersburg for a ramp feast during April or May. Mr. Watson will give one-half day (4 hours) of carpenter work.

A mix will be held in Student Union immediately following the "Slave Market."

ADE is giving two scholarships this year. These will be presented to two high school seniors entering the business field. Each scholarship will cover tuition and fees for one semester.

Officers of ADE are Jorene Butcher, president; Joyce Grose, vice president; Mae Hickman, secretary; and Doris Radabaugh, treasurer.

Mazes Report From Nigeria

Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Maze, in Christmas cards to friends, revealed some of their experiences in Nigeria. Dr. Maze, former assistant professor of business education here, is chairman of the Ohio University business education team in Nigeria. He supervises and administers the training of native Nigerian teacher trainees.

Traveling to schools throughout the region occupies about half of his work time—the other half is spent in administrative work on the campus. Mrs. Maze has been doing some charity work and also helping a Britisher with a book he is writing on the use of educational toys for children.

They report that the vegetation would set a biologist's mind to spinning and that the place would be "heaven" for any garden club.

Mrs. Maze said that the only way that she could explain snow to these people is to tell them that it is much like what collects on the freezer or ice cube (ice block as they say) section of the refrigerator (or fridge as they call it).

They pointed out that these people could teach us much about child care—not from the health standpoint, but from the psychology and discipline angle. They were there two weeks before they heard a Nigerian child cry; most of the American children had contributed their share of crying in that length of time.

NEWMAN CLUB

The GSC Newman Club will sponsor the W.Va. Regional Newman Club Convention the weekend of March 29, 30, & 31. The Convention will bring about 50 students, representing Newman Clubs from most of the colleges in West Virginia.

Some of the activities being planned for visiting students are:

Friday, March 29—Reception and Mass

Saturday, March 30—Conferences in morning and afternoon

Sunday, March 31—Mass

The Newman Club is now holding a membership drive. Any student interested in becoming a member should contact Charles Snyder, David Stephenson or any Newman Club member.

"Treasure Island," the first in the Family Film Club series sponsored by the Newman Club was shown Saturday, March 2, at 7:30 p.m.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

A group of approximately 12 Wesley Foundation students will attend a state-wide Student Conference Movement at Cedar Lakes March 8-10.

Wesley Bargeloh and Jerry Cutlip will be two of the group discussion leaders at the conference.

Mr. Robert M. Fuqua, Minister of the First Methodist Church of Glenville and Wesley Foundation sponsor, will be a leader in the Depth Bible Study and Conversation groups at the Cedar Lakes meeting.

On Thursday, Feb. 28, Dr. Claude Collins, Area Administrative Assistant for Methodist Churches in W.Va., was guest speaker at the "Questing Hour." Devotional leader was Wesley Bargeloh and Cheryl Fisher was in charge of the social hour following the discussion.

Mr. Richard Bowyer, W.Va. Conference Director of Methodist student work, of Fairmont, spoke at a special worship service at 7 p.m. His topic was "The Word Is..." which is also the theme of the Cedar Lakes conference.

The Foundation has pledged and paid $50 to the Methodist Student Fellowship Fund. The Fund aids college students around the world. In the near future Frances Moses 15 Students To Complete Work in Mar.

Fifteen students are scheduled to complete the course requirements for a degree at Glenville State College on March 22, according to an announcement made by Dr. Delmar K. Somerville, Dean.

Those who will complete requirements for an AB degree in Education are Connie Sue Coffindaffer, Clarksburg, vocational home economics; Doris Carol Cosby, Webster Springs, English and library science; Mrs. Janet Harris Davis, Walton, elementary.

Mrs. Frances P. Fitzwater, Sand Fork Route, vocational home economics; John Morgan Gibson, Glenville, biological science and social studies; Joyce Ellen Jackson, Rosedale, elementary; Mable Marie Jewell, Letart, elementary; Roger Wayne Maze, Munday, business education—principles and occupational.

James Arthur Morris, Glenville, biological science and social studies; Mrs. Bethanne Napolitano, Jane Lew, vocational home economics; Jack Allen, Newhouse, Cowen, mathematics and physical education; Mrs. Sandra McCoy Reese, Buckhannon, vocational home economics; Judith Ann Weese, Elkins, social studies and teacher librarian; and Nyla Jeanette White, Weston, home economics and social studies.

Warren Blaine Johnson, Big is to present a program at the Foundation on "Motive," the monthly national Methodist Student publication.

Spring, will complete the requirements for a bachelor of science degree in chemistry and mathematics.

microfilm reader and materials is possible.

Library resources are state property. Should destruction of periodicals become a significant problem with open stacks, other measures of control will become necessary. One of the functions of the library staff is to see that materials are properly used and not abused.

Plans for the near future are to issue special stack cards to students. Upon entering the periodical collection, each student will deposit his card with the librarian at the top of the stairs. Card will be returned to the student when he leaves the third floor. In this manner the librarian will know who is on the third floor and will be able to limit the number entering the stacks.

Mr. Dale E. Shaffer is head librarian at the Robert F. Kidd Library. He also teaches classes in library science.

NICHOLS DIRECTS

The two central characters, Laura and Alec, will be portrayed by Judy Godbey and Jack Brown.

The supporting cast includes Sherry Curtis, Patty Britton, Jim Bush, Phil Ramsey, Tom Isenhardt, William Meade, Tom Gunnoe, Helen Cunningham, and Loretta Dwell.

Two plays to be definitely cast in the near future are Eugene Ionesco's "The Lesson" and Noel Coward's "Hands Across the Sea."

Judge Jerry Morgan has appointed Richard Turner treasurer of Holy Roller Court.

Wheeling Falls To White Wave In 1963 Finale

The Pioneers closed out the regular season's schedule by downing Wheeling College 89-65, Feb. 15.

In the Wheeling encounter, the G-men had a strong first half and maintained a 41-39 halftime score throughout the game.

WHEELING, FEB. 15

The Pioneers were never in trouble as Coach Byrd used every available player during the second half.

Six Glenville players scored in double figures to give the Pioneers a wide span of individual scoring for the first time this season.

Freshman Larry Gainer led the attack scoring 18 points. He was followed by Mike Reed 15, Clyde Brewer 15, Bob Maxwell 13, Dick Bickel 10, and Bill Maxwell 10.

The Pioneers overall record for the season, prior to the tournament, was 12 wins and 14 losses.

SALEM, FEB. 14

The Pioneers dropped another close game 89-85 at the hands of the Salem Tigers, Feb. 14, in a game played at Salem.

The G-Men jumped to an early lead and continued the pace throughout the first half. Glenville led at halftime 35-30. Mike Reed was the anchor man in the first half of play as he hit for 16 points. 12 of the 16 were netted from the floor; the other four were added at the foul line where he went 2 for 3.

After halftime Salem came back strong to tie the score. Glenville threatened to go ahead, but the persistent Tigers did not lose their poise.

The last four minutes, however, proved to be the period of play in which Salem took complete control of the game and won 89-85.

High for the Pioneers in individual scoring was Clyde Brewer with 20. He was followed by Bill Maxwell and Mike Reed who cashed in with 14 and 13 points respectively.

Glenville Loses To Wesleyan In Tournament

W. Va. Tech won the 25th WVIAC Tournament, Feb. 23, by defeating Salem 70-54.

In the first round, W. Va. Wesleyan defeated the Pioneers 101-91 to eliminate Glenville from the tournament.

No one can say Glenville gave up easily in their game with Wesleyan. The Pioneers were down 16 points at one time and fought back within six points of the Bobcats.

The Bobcat's height advantage played a big part in the game. Wesleyan picked off 66 rebounds to 30 for the Pioneers.

The game was tied three times before Wesleyan broke away to a 19-9 lead. The closest Glenville came to catching up was at 61-56 with 11:09 left in the first half.

Several times the Bobcats appeared to be pulling out of danger only to have the tenacious Pioneers make another challenge to overtake them.

Glenville narrowed the Wesleyan margin to 96-90 with a little over a minute remaining. But the Bobcats rallied with five straight points to pull out of danger.

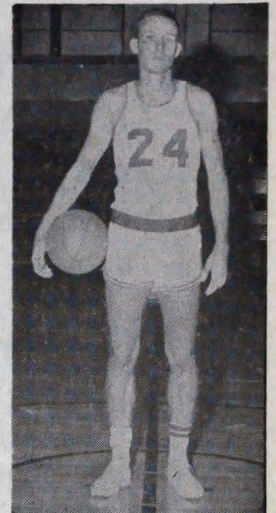

Clyde Brewer was the top indi-

Three Finish Basketball Play

Four years ago, three young and rangy boys displayed their basketball talents under the watchful eye of Coach Leland Byrd.

Mike Eberbaugh, Bill Maxwell, and Dick Bickel have turned in excellent performances since their early freshmen days and continued the pace game after game, year after year.

Next year, however, these familiar names will be missing from the Glenville roster as graduation will terminate their days at Glenville State College.

The many skills that the three seniors have learned playing basketball at Glenville will certainly be a part of their instructional methods when they enter the field of athletics.

Our hats are off to these young athletes who have upheld the ideological concept of athletics during their tenure at Glenville State.

MIKE EBERBAUGH is a graduate of Charleston High School. Eberbaugh has accumulated over 1700 points in his four years at Glenville to become one of the college's all-time high scorers. His 22.4 points a game this season was good enough to place second in the WVIAC. Eberbaugh is a cinch for all-conference honors. He is a physical education student.

BILL MAXWELL—This 5' 10" guard, who demonstrated the highest excellence in "esprit de corps", is a product of Dunbar High School. "Little Maxwell" played four seasons for the Pioneers and was one of the hustlingest players in the conference. His best shots were the long jump and the driving lay-up. He is a physical education student.

DICK BICKEL At 6' 6", Bickel was one of the tallest players in the conference. Hailing from Gassaway, Bickel saw his third year of action after being a starter for two seasons. When it came to shooting, one can say without question, that Bickel had the best and most accurate jump-shot of all the big men in the conference. He made almost 50% of his field goals this season. The fans will always remember Bickel for his pre-game exhibition of "dunking" the ball. He is a physical education student.

Handball Play Set for MAA

The Scrubs remained undefeated (4-0) to lead the MAA basketball league. The Sharps and Richwood are in a two-way tie for second place.

Bill Kinzer is announcing that a handball tournament will start in the immediate future. Any students interested in participating must sign a roster in the Health Building.

Equipment for handball will be issued at any time and students are encouraged to take advantage of this courtesy allowed by the physical education office.

Wrestling Squad Loses to Marshall

The Pioneer's wrestling squad met Marshall University at Huntington Wednesday, Feb. 27, to complete their regular season's matches. The final score was Marshall University 25, Glenville 3.

According to Coach Douglas, the Pioneers could have won the match in the last two events. However, Steve Bose (G) was outpointed by Jim Jefferson 4-0, and Pat Briscoe (G) lost in an overtime period 6-5.

John Lustig (G) outpointed Pete Shaffron (M) to give the Pioneers their lone victory. Lustig has won five and lost one for the season.

Modern Pentathlon team represents the United States in all international competition in this event consisting of riding over a 2500 to 5000 meter cross-country course, including obstacles and jumps on a strange horse; fencing for a period of approximately 12-hours with the epee; shooting on international silhouette turning targets with a .22-caliber pistol; swimming 300 meters freestyle against time, and running cross country 4000 meters, likewise against time. Each athlete must do all of these; therefore, a true test of skill and endurance.

HARRY LYNCH DIRECTS DRAMA

Mr. William S. E. Coleman, Edward Nichols, and Harry Lynch were judges recently of one-act plays presented at St. Patrick's High School in Weston.

These three one-acts were competitive in that the winner would represent the school at the state Catholic Drama Festival.

Nichols commented that he was especially impressed with the winning play and felt that it could easily compete with any high school play he had ever seen.

He said the cast did a magnificent job considering the school enrollment is 68, and 18 students were in the total cast.

Nichols commented also that the experience of giving personal critiques to those in the plays made him realize the difficulties to be encountered in judging and criticizing a play.

Lynch is presently assisting the cast in rehearsal in preparation for the state festival. He is also doing his directed teaching at Weston High School where he recently helped direct three one-acts.

Art Coughlin, Jack Brown, and Tom Gunnoe also made the trip to St. Patrick's High School.

Delta Zeta Sorority is making plans for its annual spring dance March 30. The theme of the dance will be "Moonlight and Roses." A dance committee was appointed consisting of Patty Cline, chairman; Penny Myers, Mary Biel and Sue Eddy. This committee will assist Patty Dent, social committee chairman, in carrying out the plans for the dance.

At the Feb. 11 sorority meeting big sisters were assigned to the new pledges.

The sorority started its Delta Zeta pledge lessons Monday, March 4.

Delta Zeta members will eat together March 7 in the Colonial Room at 5:15.

PHI MU GAMMA

Phi Mu Gamma will sponsor a flower show at Town Hall March 15. Show will be in connection with Community Arts Day and will be arranged with the help of the Glenville Garden Club.

Informal initiation for pledges was held March 4; pledges presented a skit for active members. Pledging will end March 8.

Arts Festival Set for April

The Division of Fine and Applied Arts of Glenville State College, will present a Fine Arts Festival during the week of April 28-May 4. Activities planned for the week include a concert, an art exhibit, a dramatic presentation, foreign film, Lyceum program and a recital.

Faculty members participating are Dr. David J. Ernest, chairman, Mr. W. S. E. Coleman, Mr. A. R. Moldroski, Mr. A. R. Johnson, and Mr. Carl A. Kerr.

The Fine Arts Festival precedes the 40th Annual Observance of National Music Week, May 5-12.

Hawaiian Meal Served at HMH

Betty Jeanne Gragg and Carolyn Jewell presented at their special project, a Hawaiian Luau, buffet-style dinner, at the Home Management House, Saturday, Feb. 16. The dining room and sun room were decorated with Hawaiian motif and soft Hawaiian music added to the atmosphere.

Menu consisted of chunked stuffed ham, chicken curry with rice, sweet potatoes, delish, baked banana, Hawaiian Waldorf salad, pineapple nut bread, hot spiced tea, iced tea, coconut ice cream balls, anana pacificia with pineapple froth.

Mrs. Dreama Jackson is employed as faculty secretary. Office hours are from 8-4:30.

ED. CONFERENCE SET FOR APR. 17

The Community Development and Research Center under the direction of Mr. Walden Roush has released the report of the Taxation and Property Values Committee of the Little Kanawha Drainage Basin Resources Study. Reports of the other seven committees will soon be released.

The Little Kanawha Drainage Basin Resource Study is an outgrowth of the Glenville State College Educational Development Conference which has been held annually since 1956 (except 1962). The Study was broadened to include all areas affecting the social and economic needs of the people. The Study will be of value to all agencies and groups interested in the social and economic development of the countries included in the Little Kanawha Drainage Basin.

Glenville State College has applied to the ARA for funds to publish the reports of all committees in one volume, which will be of more comprehensive and interpretative value concerning the over-all view of the Little Kanawha Study.

A composite report developed by the Research Center for financial assistance from the ARA to cover expenses for the Research Center is awaiting approval of the ARA. The report has been approved by the W.Va. Department of Commerce and recommended by Governor W. W. Barron.

Mr. Walden Roush, Director of the Research Center, stated that an Industrial Development Committee has been organized for Gilmer County. Mr. Bill Burke is in charge; Mr. Harlan Hogue is assisting.

Thursday, March 7, Mr. Roush will meet the Crafts Department of the Department of Commerce in Charleston. He will be in Clarksburg, Tuesday, March 12, for a meeting of the Industrial Development Committee of Central West Virginia.

April 17 the Seventh Annual Education Development Conference, sponsored by GSC, will be held in the auditorium at GSC. Theme of the conference is "Community and Area Planning."

Individuals, community groups, civic organizations, governmental agencies, schools, industry, and any others interested in community development may use the services of the Center. If one is interested, he should contact Mr. Roush, Glenville State College.
