A Look at the Issues

Election eve is the time for voters to review the performance of Student Council officials elected in the last election and to consider whether the Student Government is a strong enough force on the GSC campus.

Candidates promise, among other promises, to perform their duties, to support better student-faculty relationships, to increase the hours a woman resident may spend outside the dormitory, and to work for the yearbook.

Often the statements made in the platforms are ambiguous. They are stated in such a way that there can be little doubt of their sincerity but the actual meaning is clouded.

In the last election, one candidate promised to advocate a positive attitude toward GSC. No one can find fault with this. It is a worthy sentiment.

The candidate also supported the expansion of the Student Union. Any student could honestly say that he was in favor of this. The actual expansion could and would continue with or without Council support.

Another plank in the candidate's platform was the creation of a Student Union Board. The Board has been established, but functions only in advisory capacity. It has no real power. It is difficult to understand whether it was actually a necessity.

One candidate was an ardent supporter of more liberal regulations for women. This is no original idea. It has been a part of many platforms.

Finally, the incorporation of a yearbook fee into the activity fee was an important part of the campaign. This has not yet been accomplished.

When reading the platforms of the candidates, it is easy to see that there are few basic differences in the platforms. Now is the time to take a good look at the issues and to become concerned regarding Student Government at GSC.

Elections have in the past resulted in ignoring the issues and in favoring the personalities. We can only hope this one may be different.

I could stop this endless drifting,
By remembering the common things,
This wind I cannot explain.

Unlike winds of darkened cages,
Of unstirred graves,

Which with ups and downs makes one quite faint.

Up, Up, into cloudless skies,
Cloudless even in rain's time.
I go alone, for with presence of another,
This too, a common thing.

is debate as an academic activity dying in West Virginia? Last year at Jackson's Mill in the West Virginia Intercollegiate Drama Festival there were only six debate teams from the 19 colleges represented in the Festival.

At this year's Festival, Glenville would like to participate in this activity; however, in order to participate, we need debaters. The debaters need not have had previous debating or speaking experience; it will help, but it is not necessary.

The debate topic for this year is: "Resolved that the Federal Government should guarantee an opportunity for higher education to all high school graduates."

There is a period of six weeks until the Festival during which interested persons could be trained. Dock Hinkle and Randy Dotson have indicated a desire to participate. They have both had debate training and are in a position to help those people who have not yet attempted debate.

Anyone interested in debate activity should see Mr. Kern before April 10.

BASEBALL PLAY GETS STARTED Gunnoe Joins Rockets, Pro Football Team

Three seniors, Larry Kitzmiller, Ollie Pottmeyer and Tom Gunnoe will lead the 1964 edition of the Glenville State College baseball team.

Kitzmiller has been a regular on the team for three years as a pitcher. He is a physical education and physical science student from Sutton; he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kitzmiller.

Pottmeyer has played in the infield and has done some pitching in his four years as a regular on the team. He hails from Penn Hills High School, Verona, Pa., and is a physical education and social studies student. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie A. Pottmeyer.

Gunnoe, an outfielder, is a two year veteran of the team. He is from East Bank and is a physical education and speech student. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Thomas.

At press time the baseball squad had to return to the gymnasium to practice because of unfavorable weather conditions. This delayed practice will definitely be a factor in the early games of the season since the team cannot get into top shape with indoor activity.

The Pioneers were to have opened the season yesterday at Davis and Elkins if the weather stayed clear.

The Pioneers will return to Rohrbough Stadium April 11 for a double header with W. Va. Wesleyan; Glenville will return the visit April 14.

Then Morris Harvey comes to town for another twin bill engagement. Glenville will travel to Salem April 20 to battle the Tigers.

G-Club Chooses 4 New Officers

Paul Taylor, physical education and social studies junior, will serve as president of the G-Club for the coming year. Other officers are Mark Downey, vice president; Pat Briscoe, secretary; John Lustig, treasurer.

G-Club concession stand chairman for football will be Clyde Brewer and for basketball will be Harold Erwin.

G-Club has added five pledges: Robert Chisler and Walt Dietz, wrestling; Clark Dille, Carlton Spicer and Bob Minnieweather, basketball.

A talent show was sponsored by the G-Club April 7, and a picnic is tentatively planned for this spring.

Miss Diane Chambers, '63 GSC graduate is teaching at the North Elementary School at Ravenswood.

ANNUAL 'DAY' IS APRIL 18

The Major's Club, an organization for women physical education majors and minors, will sponsor its annual Play Day on April 18. The theme of the event is European Play Day.

The invitation committee has received replies from eight high schools planning to attend. Those high schools are Burnsville, Calhoun County, Gassaway, Jane Lew, Nicholas County, Troy, Weston and Williamson.

The groups from each high will be designated as countries on the European continent. Favors will be miniature American flags which will be presented to each girl and her adviser who attend.

The activities for the play day will be badminton, hockey, swimming, volleyball, tumbling, and modern dance. Eight schools attended the play day in 1963 and ten schools were present for the 1962 outing.

Major's Club president Shelia Scott is in charge of the arrangements for the play day and is working with Miss Clarissa Williams, the club adviser, to determine final plans.

Workshop Will Be Held Here

A workshop dealing with new methods and materials in teaching health, physical education and safety in the public schools will be offered this summer for three semester hours of credit.

The objectives of the workshop are to provide the participants with the opportunity to become aware of the need for, acquire new knowledge and skills in, and to foster leadership qualities in the understanding, organization, and development of an adequate and modern health and physical education program in the public schools.

The cost of the course will be $32. for tuition and fees and $46.34 for room and board for a three-week course.

If the workshop is taken with another course (6 hours for 6 weeks), tuition and fees will be $47. and room and board $92.69.

Tom Gunnoe, football stand-out at Glenville State College for four years, has signed a contract to play for the Charleston Rockets, a member of the United Football League.

Gunnoe has been chosen to the all-conference football team for the past three years and was selected as captain of the team the past year. Besides football he has also participated in basketball and baseball in college.

The Westminster, Pa. Titans, who play a representative schedule of the small college powers in the east, selected Gunnoe as the number one opponent they met during the past season.

He averaged almost four yards each carry last year, scored six touchdowns and led the team in pass receiving with 324 yards. Besides his offensive ability, he was also one of the best defensive halfbacks in the conference.

Gunnoe was the sixth player to sign with the Rockets. Even though this is the first year for the Charleston club they have landed some fine talent already, such as Jim Traficant, quarterback from Pitt and Little All-American tackle Ernie DeCouley.

Gunnoe will be graduated in May with an AB degree in speech and social studies, and he will report to the Rockets at their summer camp.

ADE PLANS SLAVE AUCTION

If you have been wanting private tennis lessons, an 8 x 10 color photograph, a guess cake or two pies, then be sure to attend the Slave Auction to be held in the Student Union, Friday April 17, from 7 to 11 p.m.

The auction is again being sponsored by Alpha Delta Epsilon business fraternity. Some other items being auctioned off are one short-sleeved white shirt ironed, and in season two men will be taken frog giggering.

ADE sponsored a Slave Auction last year. At that time members of the faculty and administration were slaves and their services were auctioned to students and other interested persons.

The services, which were auctioned brought $230.65 at that time.

A meeting April 8 will be opened to any business student wishing to join ADE. This meeting will be held at 6 p.m. in Room 101-A. Refreshments will be served.

Music, Comedy, Improvisations Spark Theater

To combat the feeling of "nothing to do" so prevalent at GSC, the Ohnningohw Players have used their ingenuity and a workroom in the basement of the Administration Building.

Began on April 3 and to continue throughout the term, the "Underground Theater" is the scene for music-folk, jazz, rock 'n roll; improvisations; comedy routines; and one-act plays. The programs each night are informal, with the audience seated on the floor.

The "Underground Theater" is a student-organized, student-produced affair. Programs were well received last year by the students who attended the Theater during the three weeks it was open. The Theater is to be open for the remainder of this term, with programs presented three nights a week.

At each performance, refreshments are served. There is no admission charge in the "Underground Theater"; a collection is made each night.

There is to be a different play presented each night. On opening night, "Impromptu" directed by Charles K. Milhoan was presented. Cast for this one-act included Preston Browning, Ernest; Helen Cunningham, Winifred; Carlton Spicer, Tony; Cheryl Fisher, Lora.

Miss Carolyn Jones has replaced Mrs. Jean Spurgeon as secretary in Dean Somerville's office. Mrs. Spurgeon is doing directed teaching.
