23 GSC Students Teach in Area Schools

By DENNIS MYERS

Twenty-three students are teaching in nine schools in the area. According to an announcement by Dr. Delmer K. Somerville, Dean and acting chairman of the division of education and psychology, students have been assigned as follows to do directed teaching for the first term of the fall semester:

At Bridgeport High School Thomas Ables is teaching speech and social studies, John Husk is teaching biological science and social studies, and Frederick Schuetz is teaching social studies and business principles. Teaching social studies and speech at Buckhannon-Upshur High School is William Meade.

Cynthia Williams Cottrill in elementary, Clayton Evans, Jr., in physical education and social studies, James Hutton in social studies and business principles, and Richard Pickens in mathematics and physical science are all teaching at Glenville Public School.

Mary Downs and Gloria Summers are teaching elementary and kindergarten at Glenville Public School and Glenville State College, while Elanor Quick is teaching elementary and kindergarten here at GSC.

Gary Potts and Richard Wilfong are teaching physical education and social studies; Carroll Paxton is teaching physical science and mathematics at Roosevelt-Wilson High School.

Doing his directed teaching in physical education and physical science at St. Marys High School is Robert Maxwell. At Weston Elementary School are Paul Cool and William Harding.

Six students are teaching at Weston High School, Suzanne Morton Cunningham is teaching speech and English, while Frances Curry teaches business principles and occupational business. Teaching social studies and English is Robert Flint. Betty Kessler is teaching mathematics and English and Leo Ours and Edward Wymer are teaching physical education and social studies.

The supervision of the students in secondary education is done by Nelson Wells, associate professor of education and James R. Brown, assistant professor of education. Those in elementary education are supervised by Mrs. Jean Adams and John James, assistant professors of education.

GSC Enrollment At All Time High

According to Beryl Langford, Registrar, this year's overall enrollment showed a 13 per cent increase over last year's. The total for this year is 1,489 over 1,313 for the fall of 1965.

There are 1,408 full-time students, 62 part-time students and 19 enrolled in an extension at Parkersburg. About half of the part-time students are student teachers.

This year there are 597 (568) freshmen. The figures in parenthesis are last year's totals. The sophomores have 370 (301). There are 185 (183) juniors. There are 185 (148) full-time seniors. Some of the part-time students are seniors which would make the senior class larger.

Queen Sandra Will Reign Over 33rd Homecoming

Amidst panorama and pageantry, Queen Sandra Kae Salyers will reign over the 33rd annual Homecoming of Glenville State College Oct. 8. Miss Salyers, recently named Queen in a student-body election, hails from Parkersburg and is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority.

Other members of the royal court are senior princess Pat Morris, junior princess Rebecca James, sophomore princess Judy Sweeney, and freshman princess Marjorie Craddock.

Queen Sandra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Mason of Wood County. She will be escorted in the Homecoming activities by Page Shanklin, president of the GSC student body.

Miss Salyers' one-day crowned activity reign will begin with the colorful parade scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Mr. Frank Toth, GSC associate professor of science will serve as general chairman of the Homecoming activities.

Main feature of the parade will be a float, constructed by the 1966-67 freshman class, bearing Queen Sandra and her princesses. Following this float will be the freshmen dressed in their traditional Homecoming attire—little girl skirts for the women, and pajamas and ties for the men. All will be carrying noise-makers and wearing beanies.

First, second, and third prizes will be awarded to campus organization floats by the Alumni Association.

At MERCURY press time, bands who were invited and expected to participate were all regional bands, W. Va. State band, two out-of-state bands under the direction of former alumni, and the GSC band.

Lyceum Series Presents Warner, Porter, & Warner

By MONIA DEAN

Glenville State College's first lyceum program of the season will be Sept. 29, at 8:00 p.m. in the College auditorium featuring WARNER, PORTER AND WARNER, the increasingly popular musical trio from Atlanta, Ga. Former winners in a Jackie Gleason Talent search, Bryon and Florence Warner, brother and sister, and Tom Porter, a young folksinger and guitarist from Macon, Ga., have appeared in various colleges and night clubs throughout southeastern United States.

The first unusual element going to make up WARNER, PORTER AND WARNER is the musical background which Bryon shares with his sister. Their father is head of the voice department at the University of Georgia and one of the South's most respected voice teachers. Bryon and Florence grew up with formal musical training, both in voice and in theory; and both have sung in operatic as well as choral roles.

Perhaps it was inevitable that Tom Porter would take up guitar and begin singing folksongs. He grew up in Macon, which has been a folk music center of the South for quite some time. However, it was Tom's own sensitivity and talents that started his writing his own material—and it was the times that caused him, at the

I.D. Cards May Prove Beneficial

During registration, identification photos were taken of all students by a photographer from New York. This new system will prove beneficial to students on many occasions. Mainly, the cards will replace meal tickets and activity cards.

Also the cards will be used in borrowing library books, cashing checks, receiving special student rates from certain businesses, and in distribution of the 1967 yearbooks. The cards are expected to prevent any voting irregularity during student elections.

Student I. D. cards will be distributed about Sept. 26. During that week, tables will be in the ballroom for alphabetical distribution throughout three days. Each person must present his temporary I. D. photo card. After receiving the cards, those students taking meals on campus, will have their cards validated by the business office. The cost for the cards has already been included in the fees. If lost, additional cards may be obtained from Dean Deel at $2.00 each.

An innovation at this college, the I. D. cards will be a great help for both students and faculty.

Mr. Leland Byrd, head basketball coach at GSC last year, is now assisting in testing and curriculum development at Dade County Junior College in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. During his 11 years at SC, Coach Byrd was chairman of the department of physical education, athletic director, and assistant football coach, besides his position as head basketball coach.

KIDD LIBRARY GETS NEW LOOK

Mr. Albert Carlson, head librarian, reports that the new Robert F. Kidd library will be ready for use in November. The new library, located on High Street on the former site of Kanawha Hall, will seat three hundred students for studying purposes. There will be individual carrels along the walls to make studying easier for students. There will also be tables between the book shelves for reference and studying purposes.

Three offices will be located in the new library. Mr. Carlson's office will be on the second floor. The first floor office will be shared by the circulation librarian, Miss Jo Ann Luzader, and the reference librarian, Miss Ann Rodney Lorentz.

Miss Janet Long, the newest librarian, will occupy the office in the basement where she will be in charge of Audio-Visual equipment. Also located in the basement will be three music listening rooms, an English laboratory, where twenty-five students will be able to listen to foreign language records, and the film strip files. The administration plans to hire a cataloguer in the future which will bring the staff to five.

Glenville State College has received a $5,000 grant from the federal government to buy books and materials for the library.

Library hours will remain the same: Monday-Thursday 8 a.m.-11 p.m.; Friday 8 a.m.-5 p.m.; Saturday 8 a.m.-12 noon; Sunday 8 a.m.-11 p.m.; and school holidays 2 p.m.-5 p.m. The feature of the new library will be more study room and more space for the staff.

The old library will be remodeled and made into classrooms and administrative offices.

CAMPUS SEES MANY CHANGES; MERCURY STAFF NO EXCEPTION

Summer vacation and the beginning of the fall term have brought many changes to GSC. Some 16 new faculty members are now instructing classes here, two new house directors have been employed, and a new business manager is handling the finances for the college. In a few months, the Robert F. Kidd Library will be moving to a completely new building almost five times the size of the present structure. Changes in housing are evident, also. Two new floors in Women's Hall are being occupied for the first time, Verona Mapel Hall is now for upperclass-women only, and two more Greek organizations have purchased houses.

With such progress apparent all over the campus, change for the MERCURY was inevitable. Therefore, it should come as no surprise that the school newspaper is under a new adviser and that the staff is set up quite differently from the way it has been in the past few years. Whether this transition will produce a better quality newspaper remains to be seen; however, the new staff is very optimistic about the outcome.

In this first issue, it is perhaps a good idea to state the purpose and the general policy of the MERCURY. This newspaper is a means of keeping the students of GSC informed of what other students are doing and what activities are taking place.

Let it be well understood that the staff works toward totally objective and factual reporting of the news. Although some of the MERCURY personnel may be directly connected with certain organizations on campus, the reporting in this year's MERCURY will be as free from bias as is humanly possible. This newspaper office is not a propaganda-dispersing agency for any one organization or even for any several organizations. To receive space in the MERCURY a group must deserve it—which means doing more than holding a routine business meeting.

If we of the staff fail at any time to perform our responsibilities to you the readers, please feel free to voice your opinions. We welcome criticism as an aid toward a better publication. It cannot possibly aid us, though, if you complain only to other students. Unless you bring the problem to our attention, we may not be able to make amends.

As stated above, there have already been many changes, but to be content with these is not sufficient. Progress is a never-ending movement, and to keep up with the constant advances, the MERCURY must continue to improve.

Therefore, if this MERCURY is to be a success, everyone must cooperate. We of the staff promise to do our best to fulfill our duty to you; so please try to help us. Together, we can make an effective, helpful newspaper.—Barbara Davis

Groups Plan Year

PHI DELTA PHI

Phi Delta Phi reports that the fall planning session for the spring meeting of the West Virginia Home Economics Association will be held Saturday, Sept. 24, at Jackson's Mill. The meeting is to make plans for the Spring Hall Economics Convention 1967.

Newly elected officers for Phi Delta Phi are: president—Sarah Ann Moore; first vice-president—Connie Hamrick; second vice-president—Sue Taylor; secretary—Lula Reynolds; treasurer—Betty Ward; historian—Patricia Will; and reporter—Linda Lathey. The club will meet every second and fourth Thursday of every month.

LOUIS BENNETT HALL

Louis Bennett Hall will be entering a float in the Homecoming Day parade. Robert Bailes was elected as chairman of the committee for this float.

Each floor will have a team for each intramural sport. There are 325 boys in the dorm.

The governing board of Louis Bennett Hall meets every Monday night. Officers are: president—Robert Minneweather; vice president—Elliott Workman; treasurer—Thomas Cox; secretary—Lynn Freeland.

WOMEN'S HALL

Women's Hall will also have a float in the Homecoming Day Parade. The committee for the float will be headed by Karen King.

The executive board meets every Monday evening. They are: president, Carolyn Hudkins; vice-president, Paula Strader; treasurer, Sandra McKenny; secretary, Sandra Beale; and counselors Ruth Conrad, Karen King, Barbara Gainer, Jackie Kafer, Sheryl Karr, Elaine McHenry, Lana Moss, and Carolyn Stemple.

VERONA MAPEL

Officers at Verona Mapel Hall are: president, Kate Johnson; vice-president, Joy Cosby; secretary, Connie Montgomery; and treasurer, Kimberly King.

G CLUB

Refreshments will be sold at the football games by members of the G Club. They have volunteered to paint the concession stand.

There will be a car carrying the six club officers in the Homecoming Day Parade. They are: president, Carlton Spicer; vice-president, Bill Piercy; secretary, John Lucas; treasurer, Frank Hughes; and pledge captain, Robert Minneweather.

MAJOR'S CLUB

White mums with blue and white ribbons for Homecoming are being sold by the Major's Club, a group of physical education majors and minors, for one dollar each. They will begin taking orders next week in Women's Hall and Verona Mapel Hall. They will be delivered to the dorms Homecoming Day.

The officers for the Major's Club are: president, Jackie Kafer; vice-president, Carla Davis; secretary, Patricia Paugh; treasurer, Patricia Metz; chaplain, Sheryl Bode; and historian, Paula Strader.

Ellis Organizes Choral Group

Mr. Robert Ellis, choir director, has organized a large choral group for the purpose of presenting a Christmas concert. It is hoped that sixty adults, including staff members, their wives or husbands, and interested townspeople, will combine with the present chorus to present Handel's "Messiah."

Monday evening from 8-10 will be the regular meeting time. The first meeting was on Sept. 26 in the auditorium. "A person's interest in singing is more important than his ability to sing and to read music," Mr. Ellis stated.

Sorority News

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA

Last Saturday night, Sept. 24, Gamma Kappa Chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha sponsored the annual "Autumn Leaves" Dance in the Pioneer Center Ballroom. "The Riveiras" from Philippi provided the music for the semi-formal affair.

On Friday evening before the dance, Alpha Sigs also sponsored a bermuda mix on Verona Mapel lawn, at which Dick Dawson served as disc jockey.

At Wolfe's Den Cabin near Elizabethtown, the sorority met for an annual planning retreat over the Sept. 16-17 weekend. During this retreat, Alpha Sigma Alpha members planned their social, philanthropic, rush, money-making, and program activities for the 1966-67 school year.

Monthly activities are being planned for Gamma Kappas by the Glenville alumnae chapter of ASA. The first of these will be a cook-out on Monday, Oct. 10.

DELTA ZETA

The Delta Zeta House, 305 East Main Street, is the home of 27 DZ members. Mrs. Eula Ewing is housemother. Shirley McIntyre was elected first official house manager.

The three-story house with basement is the former home of Mr. Hunter Whiting. Downstairs in the dining room is a fireplace, flanked on both sides with stained glass windows. The living room and dining room are decorated with open beam ceilings. There is a built-in display case and another open fireplace in the living room. Also downstairs is the housemother's room and bath and the kitchen.

As one proceeds up the stairway, she will arrive at the lavender room. To the left is the yellow room and blue room. In the front across from each other are the pink room and the large blue room. The third floor carries out the sororities colors of Old Rose and Vieux Green.

Delta Zeta's would like to extend a cordial invitation to all alumni, parents of Delta Zeta's and faculty members to an Open House and tea on Saturday, Oct. 8 from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. There will be an Open House on Sunday, Oct. 9, for all the students and people of the town.

Group Ponders 'Is God Dead?'

Wesley Foundation is continuing the current study session on the topic, "Is God Dead?" These are in six weekly sessions. Each of these sessions, open to the student body, is conducted by a leading figure in the college community and is held in the Pioneer Center. These are conducted around the new philosophy for modern man.

Also coming up at Wesley Foundation are weekly programs held in the Annex of the Trinity Methodist Church. On Oct. 2, the subject will be "T. S. Eliot—Part of

Dale Campbell
Pioneer

D. Campbell Is '66 Pioneer

Dale Campbell, senior from Weston, was selected by the student body to serve as Pioneer for the 33rd annual Glenville State College Homecoming, Oct. 8. Campbell, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Campbell, is a speech major and is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

He began his services as Pioneer Sept. 17 at an away game with West Liberty. Campbell will take part in the Homecoming parade and will also attend the football game Saturday afternoon.

Campbell is the 27th GSC Pioneer. He will wear the traditional Pioneer costume: coonskin cap, buckskin clothing, carry a muzzle-loading rifle, and wear a one-month growth of whiskers.

Dorm Addition Fraternity News Now Occupied

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

In adding two top floors to Women's Hall, new equipment was added on all floors. Fifth and sixth floors and the penthouse are not yet complete.

Hand tubs and sprinklers were added on all six floors. Wastebaskets for all the floors have not arrived yet. Rooms on fifth and sixth floors are without drapes, mirrors and intercoms. Neither floors have phones as of yet. While installing plumbing, holes had to be knocked out on all floors and then fixed and painted.

After trying several signing-in and-out systems, the dorm board has decided on a system that they feel will work most effectively.

This is the first year that the girls have shared mail boxes.

The penthouse is painted and the floor is done. The furniture for it has arrived, but must be inspected and installed by the company from whom the furniture was bought. Appliances are here but are not yet installed. The dormitory voted to buy a television for the penthouse.

There have been appliances and such on the floors that needed to be fixed, which delayed some of the other work. The dormitory board and all those involved are hoping Women's Hall will be completed soon.

Dean Announces Proficiency Test On October 17

Dean Somerville has announced that the English Proficiency Test will be given on Oct. 17 at 7:00 p.m. in Rooms 307-308A. This test is a requirement for admission to the Teacher Education Program or for graduation on any program

Iota Omega Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity began the year with a membership of 34 men. These 34 brothers of TKE will spend much of their time working on the new fraternity house, purchased last year and expected to be ready for occupation within two months.

The TKE summer retreat was held on July 16 and 17 in Glenville. At this time, business was taken care of, and initiation ritual was held. The affair was, overall, a profitable one as the order for the coming school year's activities was established.

THETA XI

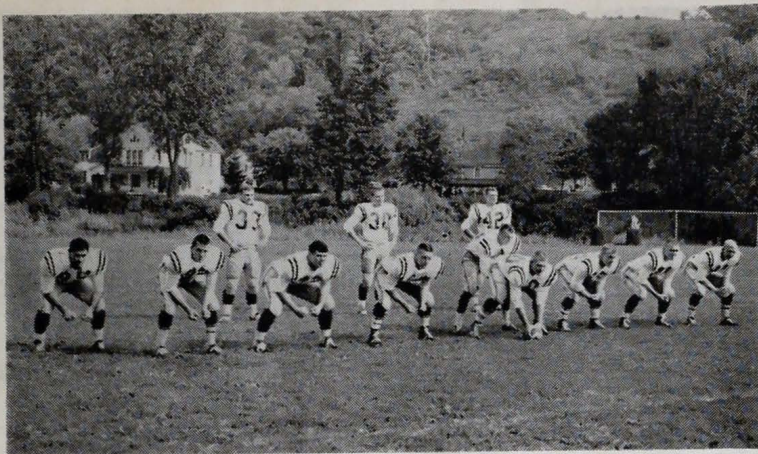

Theta Xi Fraternity house was in full swing this summer with ten men and the housemother living there while attending classes. The month of July brought many of the brothers back to Glenville for the annual Theta Xi picnic which was held at Cedar Creek State Park.

Four Theta Xi brothers have recently been married. They are Richard Barbone, Charles Boso, Sam Halstead, and Bud Matthews.

The Theta Xi structure, located in Camden Flats, is always open to all visitors. With the completion of many improvements, the men of Theta Xi are anxious for everyone to see what they have accomplished.

unless the person had completed a total of 74 or more semester hours prior to June 1, 1963.

Anyone who plans to take the test should give his name to Dr. Espy W. Miller, chairman of the English department, in advance and bring some identification—preferably student identification card—along to the examination.

White Wave Invades Mountain Lions' Lair

This is a repeat of last year's Pioneer victory over the Concord Mountain Lions and a brief projection of this year's hope for victory.

The Mountain Lions of Concord and the Pioneers of GSC had an intense defensive battle, Oct. 2, of last year. Glenville's defense team tallied first with a two-point safety. Late in the second quarter, Concord scored a TD and an extra point to bring the half-time score to 7-2 with Concord leading.

The second half started with GSC on defense and they held Concord scoreless for the last two quarters. But the defense of Concord slipped up and allowed GSC's White wave to score a winning TD and the extra point to make the score 9-7 in favor of Glenville.

The Glenville Pioneers are under new management this year as they meet Concord. Head Coach Bill Hanlin is manager and his department managers are Coach Earl Adolfsen, Coach Bill Douglas and Coach Jesse Lilly, Athletic Director.

There are a couple of new forces in control management training and they are titled the "Go" team and the "Get'em" team. The "Go" team is the offensive punch whose objectives are controlling the ball and tallying more points than the opponent. The "Get'em" team is responsible for stopping the opponent's forward progress and securing the ball for the "Go" team. The players have adjusted and are executing the new systems well.

Also, the spirit and support of the entire student body will help to insure a successful season, not only in football, but in all GSC sports.

Majors Club Sells Homecoming Mums In Dormitories

White mums with blue and white ribbons for Homecoming are being sold by the Majors Club, a group of physical education majors and minors, for one dollar each.

Representatives of the club will be visiting Women's Hall, Verona Mapel and the Student Union to take orders beginning this week.

College Pool, Gym Open to Students

The college pool will be open each Wednesday and Friday from 7:30-8:30 p.m. and on Saturday from 10:00-11:00 a.m. College students and members of the faculty and their families are admitted free; all others must pay 25c. The gymnasium will be open for student use each Saturday from 9:30-11:30 a.m.

WAA Forms Volleyball Team

Women's Athletic Association will begin its intramural program Sept. 29 at 7:00. Teams are being formed for the activities, beginning with volleyball. All interested women on campus are asked to

New sponsors of the club are Miss Carole Banik and Mrs. Kay Chico.

'Mr. and Mrs.' Art Exhibit Sent by Old Bergen Guild

A 'Mr. and Mrs.' art exhibit will be held in Room 309 of the art department from Oct. 1-21.

This exhibit will include 16 oils of realistic landscape and still life by Ethel M. Gilmore and Charles J. Romana.

These paintings are being sent to Glenville State College by the Old Bergen Art Guild of Bayonne,

Chemistry Dept. Enlarges

Dr. Bryon Turner, professor of chemistry, indicated recently that there are four courses in chemistry being given this year. Six students are enrolled in the physical chemistry department, eight in the qualitative chemistry course, 68 in the general inorganic chemistry classes, and 31 in the organic chemistry course.

G-Men Lose Opener To W. Liberty

Glenville soundly trounced West Liberty in a game played on the Hilltopper's home field, in every statistical respect except the final team score, which was 26-0, Hilltopper's favor.

Marcus McPhail, Glenville field general, hit on 15 passes out of 28 for 172 yards and had two passes intercepted as the Pioneers bested the Hilltoppers 172-46 in aerial yardage.

Mickey Hartley and Stan Boyles led Glenville in rushing with 49 and 44 yards gained respectively. Glenville backs carried the ball 46 times for 119 yards and a 2.6 average gain.

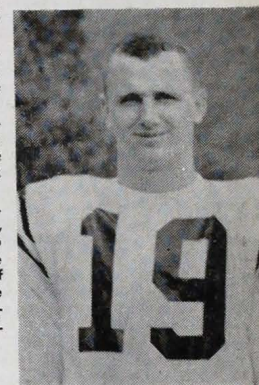

Vance Diehl, Hilltopper's half-back, raced for a touchdown on a 75 yard "dive" play to open the scoring for the Hilltoppers.

Dick Faiello was on the receiving end of a 10-yard scoring pass from Phil Comer to culminate the first quarter scoring, with West Liberty leading 13-0.

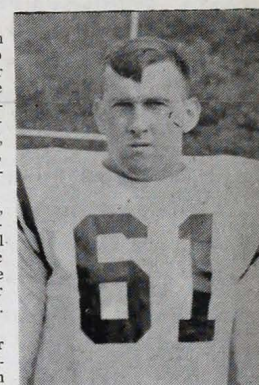

During the second quarter, Glenville pressed to W. L.'s 2-yard line, but ran out of downs and had to give up the ball. Glenville in the second quarter also ran out of downs when the Hilltopper's Joe Spence intercepted one of McPhail's passes on the W. L. 15-yard line.

GSC Curtain Raiser Slated For Oct. 3 & 4

Curtains will soon be "raising" on the GSC stage for an evening full of fun, comedy, and laughter. On Monday, Oct. 3, and Tuesday, Oct. 4 at 8:00 p.m., the musical revue, "Curtain Raiser," will swing the new fall term into action. The revue will feature walk-throughs, monologues, short skits, scenes, and songs.

Mr. J. Rodney Busch, instructor in speech and dramatics, will be acting in the capacity of supervisor, with Mr. James White, assistant professor of mathematics, and Miss Paula Cottle, a senior speech major, serving as director. Mr. White expressed the hope that the revue will become "a yearly thing."

Students participating are all speech students with the exception of Lynn Stotler, talented sophomore from Richwood, who will be at the piano. Also appearing in the cast will be Paula Cottle, Diana Frankhauser, Sally Nelson, Linda Lester, Patricia Barzen, Gary Farnsworth, David Lough, David Bennett Thomas Hodges, William Monk, Richard Dawson, Woodrow Wilson, and Mr. James White.

Assisting on the technical end of the revue will be Jack Albert, Tom Carter, Pat Kerr, Larry Reed, and Dennis Myers.

Although the parts have been assigned, the director feels that knowing the names of the skits would only detract from the audience's anticipation of the revue. All material will be new to the GSC stage.

Sponsored jointly by the Ohnimgohow Players and Alpha Psi Omega, the evening of hilarious antics can be enjoyed for an admission fee of fifty cents.

Dance Set By Alumni

As part of the activities for the Homecoming Day celebration, the Alumni Association will sponsor a dance. The dance will begin at 9:00 p.m. and continue to 12:00 in the Ballroom of the Pioneer Center with the Frank Gentilozzi Sextet from Clarksburg providing the music.

Tickets will be on sale Oct. 3 at the Alumni Office and Oct. 8 at the Alumni Information Center until noon. Tickets are $3 in advance and $3.50 at the door.

The saxophonist is Don L. Hamilton, director of the marching band at Fairmont State College. On the trombone is Clyde Reeves, a West Virginia University graduate; trumpeteer is Thomas McElwain, and playing the bass is Frank Bunner. The pianist is Archie Thompson, a former associate of Les Brown and Ken Strong.

The drummer and leader is Frank Gentilozzi. They will play songs ranging from old standards to modern music. The Sextet is one of the most popular bands in central West Virginia.

time he joined with the Warners, to be fronting a rock-and-roll band playing one-night stands in Georgia and South Carolina.

The elements of the WARNER, PORTER AND WARNER sound are definitely pop, yet positively folk, in addition to distinct overtones of classical music. The catalyst for these ingredients was found in 300 King Street, operated at that address by Ray Blouin of the Wayfarers. Bryon was singing there as a single during his off-nights; and it was there that WARNER, PORTER AND WARNER first appeared together.

When Tom returned to the University of Georgia in September of 1964 where he was to finish his senior year, he and Florence worked together on occasion in one-nighters, while Bryon continued to appear as a single in Charleston. S. C. Tom continued to write—love ballads, humor, satire, laments, and reveries of the old seaport town in Charleston.

It was becoming clear that the key ingredients in the group's musical integrity were Tom's original material, Bryon's musically sophisticated arrangements, and the Warners' vocal training. Tom wrote—and continues to write—song after song, including: "I Like the Things You Do", "Farewell to Charleston", "Lady, Won't You Curb Your Dog", "The Street Venders Song", "Rome Wasn't Built in a Day", "It's Mornin' Time", "To a Friend", "Silkey's Song", "I've Got Troubles Too", "The Last Time", "Fall Is Here to Stay", "Sky Train", "Too Many Goodbyes", "Seaport Town", "Our Baby's Gone", "Gospel Mission Blues", and many others in a list that increases daily.

In addition, Bryon kept working on arrangements—arrangements with accompaniment by guitar, banjo, harmonica; arrangements with chords and beat that reflect the best in contemporary popular music; arrangements that reveal classical training and richness of musical background that prompted

16 Teachers, 2 Housemothers Join Glenville College Staff

Sixteen members have been added to Glenville State College's faculty this fall, according to Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, president. This brings the total number of administrative personnel, teachers, and house directors to approximately 72.

Educators new to this campus include: Earl Adolphson, Miss Carole Banik, Mrs. Kay Chico, Billy Hanlin, all in physical education; Miss Patricia Dillon, Mrs. Yvonne King, Albert Rauch, English; Lloyd Brown, John Harvey, Miss Ann Kellerman, Social Studies and Sociology; Kenneth Sewell, history; James Rogers, art; Robert Lord, math; James Peterson, chemistry-physical science; Gordon Short, education; and Dr. David Swanzy, music.

Mrs. Mabel Smith and Mrs. Irene George are newly-hired house directors.

Tryouts for FANTASTICKS will be held in the GSC auditorium Oct. 4, 5, and 6 at 3:30 p.m. Everyone will sing in the tryouts, therefore, those interested should contact Mr. Ellis, assistant professor of music, who will be serving as co-director of the musical. Mr. J. Rodney Busch will be acting stage director and anyone interested in working with the stage crew may see him in his office.

FANTASTICKS concerns the love affair of a young man and the girl next door. The boy leaves to face the world, but he returns. The musical comedy is now in its seventh year in New York.

Differing from a Broadway musical, which has a full orchestra, FANTASTICKS' orchestra will consist of two pianos, drums, and string bass. The music will be played by students in the music department.

There will also be little scenery and a small cast which includes a narrator, a young girl and boy, fathers of the girl and the boy, a Shakespearean actor, an Indian, and a deaf mute who serves as stage director. All the cast, especially the narrator, the girl and the boy, must be able to sing.

FANTASTICKS, the first musical produced on the GSC stage in ten years, will be presented to the public on Nov. 9, 10, 11, and 14 at 8:00 p.m. The admission charge is $1.00.

Students, faculty and administrative staff will be admitted to the program by ID cards, and any one else wishing to attend will be admitted for one dollar per person.

Such comments as: "You people aren't a group; you're a chord that walks."

They have done concerts for the Georgia Chambers of Commerce Convention, the National Convention of Agricultural Engineers, the Mercer College Folk Festival, the Atlanta Folk Music Society, the Atlanta Pops Concert, the Center for Continuing Education of the University of Georgia, the National SAE Convention, the Georgia State YWCA Convention, the Atlanta Arts Festival, and the College of Charleston. Other appearances include Atlanta nightclubs, WSB-TV in Atlanta, WCBZ-TV and WCIV-TV, both of which originate from Charleston, South Carolina.

Florence, who, like the other two, performs solo numbers as well as with the group, showed up with an instrument hand-crafted for her by one of Georgia's most noted instrument-makers. It was shortly thereafter that Tom tricked out his battered guitar with plastic tape to simulate fingerboard inlays; later he appeared with a guitar from the same craftsman.

Students, faculty and administrative staff will be admitted to the program by ID cards, and any one else wishing to attend will be admitted for one dollar per person.

BAND 'STEPPERS' ARE SELECTED

A pleasant task was performed by Mr. Robert Ellis and Dr. David Swanzy Tuesday, Sept. 13, when they chose six high-stepping majorettes and a twirler who performs with fiery batons to lead the Glenville State College band this year. Five brunettes and two blondes were selected, with a drum major yet to be chosen.

Carol Roxielana Ross, twirler, Patricia Ann Barzen, Carolyn Diana Doak, Mary Ann Osborne, Jacqueline Pitts, Patricia Ann Urbas and Patricia Sue Wine, were chosen on the basis of their strutting ability, marching, poise and appearance.

Miss Ross, a 19-year-old sophomore physical education student from Ripley, has been chosen twirler again this year. She is a 1965 graduate of Pocahontas High School and was drum majorette there.

From Pittsburgh, majorette Betty Barzen is 18 years old and plans a first field in home economics. She graduated from Penn Hill High School where she was a community majorette for six years and a member of a drill team for two years.

An 18-year-old English major from Pennsboro, Miss Doak was drum majorette at Pennsboro High School.

Miss Osborne, 18, from Parkersburg, is an elementary education major. She plays clarinet in the Glenville State College concert band.

Miss Pitts, a sophomore music major from Grantsville, is a 1965 graduate of Calhoun County High School and plays clarinet in the concert band.

Patricia Urbas, from Craigs-ville, plans to major in language arts. She is a 1966 graduate of Richmond High School, and plays accordion.

Last and also least, as she is the shortest of the new majorette corps, is 19-year-old Sue Wine, a sophomore transfer student from West Liberty College. Miss Wine is an English major and was drum majorette and head majorette at Wheeling High School.
