

Annual Homecoming Planned Oct. 8

Queen Sandra Reigns Saturday

By A. G. HARRIS

Alumni far and wide will make their way to the "campus 'mong the maples" Saturday for the annual college Homecoming. The campus is alive with excitement as students and faculty alike welcome the returning graduates and invite them to inspect the recent additions and renovations on the campus, where they once were freshmen, crammed for exams, and played football.

The campus will come alive during Homecoming activities with a snake dance Friday night, beginning in front of Verona Mapel Hall and winding through town to Rohrbough Field where a pep rally and bonfire will be held. The football team, Pioneer, and cheerleaders will lead this activity.

Saturday activities open with a parade down College Street and Main Street which will begin at 10 a.m. Mr. Frank Toth, GSC assistant professor of science, will serve as general chairman for the Homecoming activities.

Pioneer for this year is Dale Campbell, a senior from Weston, who will also participate in the Homecoming parade and will make it a point to be at the Homecoming football game to lead the crowd and Pioneers on to victory.

According to Mr. Ross, GSC

band director, all regional bands are invited and only Weston and Cairo have confirmed their intent to attend. At least one out-of-state band of which Walter S. (Dusty) Rhoades is director, is expected to participate.

Another unit of the parade will feature the Freshman class members in their traditional garb of pajamas and short skirts.

Immediately following the parade, Queen Sandra, her court, college officials, alumni, students and guests will move to the coronation site in front of the Science Building where Sandra I will be crowned by President D. Banks Wilburn.

Highlight of the afternoon will be the annual Homecoming football game beginning at 2 p.m. at Rohrbough Field. The GSC Pioneers meet the W. Va. State Yellow Jackets. W. Va. State fell to the Blue Wave 14-7 in the 1964 contest, and the Pioneers downed the Concord Mountain Lions 9-7 in last year's Homecoming.

Weekend activities will close with the Homecoming Dance honoring the Queen and Pioneers which will be held in the ballroom from 9-12. The Frank Gentilozzi Sextet will play for the dance. The group is the most popular of all the bands in the Clarksburg and central W. Va. area. Mr. Gentilozzi is a talented vocalist with the band. The Sextet is known for its

President Wilburn Welcomes Alumni

Dear Alumni:

It is a distinct honor to have you on the campus for the 1966 Homecoming activities. I hope that you are having a most enjoyable time visiting with fellow alumni and friends. You undoubtedly are surprised as you view the many physical changes which are taking place on the campus. The new Robert F. Kidd Library is in the final stages of completion and the building is open for your viewing. Sometime in November, 1966, the building will be occupied.

You possibly are aware that funds totaling $300,000 are now available for the remodeling and renovation of the existing library building. If nothing unforeseen develops, construction will begin shortly after January 1, 1967, which will convert the building into a facility providing ten additional classrooms and twenty faculty offices.

Enrollment, this fall, is the highest in the history of the College—1489. This represents a sixteen per cent (16%) increase over the enrollment of the fall of 1965, and is the largest per cent of increase experienced by any state college.

May the progress of Glenville State, along with the traditions which are so vivid in your memories, increase immeasurably your pride and faith in what the future holds for your Alma Mater.

Cordially yours,

D. BANKS WILBURN,
President

Scholarships, Loans Help Many at GSC

There are many types of financial assistance available to freshmen at Glenville State College. Scholarships and loans are two types of assistance.

There are 41 students receiving Claude Worthington Benedum Scholarships. They get $200 a year. Receiving $150 a year from the John C. Shaw Scholarship Fund are 14 students.

The West Virginia Board of Education has several programs for assisting students. Eight freshmen have W. Va. Board of Education Scholarships for elementary students and six are under the secondary program. They are awarded $150 a year. There are also fifteen students on a general education plan who get $150 a year from the Board of Education.

Under the Educational Opportunity Grant, 102 students are receiving funds.

The National Defense Student Loan Program and United Student Aid Fund are the two main loan programs. On the National Defense Student Loan Program, the college has $84,232 to assist students in getting an education.

The United Student Aid Fund has two programs under which students may get aid. They are the institutional program and the federal guaranteed loan program.

There are many other sources of assistance which college students use to get through college. There are workshops, the work-study program and local scholarships. Also, students who are eligible can get assistance from the Veterans Administration. War orphans and G.I.'s can get aid from this source.

As Dr. Billips, Dean of Student Affairs at GSC, mentioned, there are many ways students may get financial aid to go to college.

A Look At A Problem

BY NOW, most students at GSC and many alumni have probably heard reports of the college's probation and rumors of a loss of accreditation by North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Although these stories are based on factual information, they have, in some cases, been exaggerated to a point where the facts are virtually imperceptible. Therefore, the MERCURY feels an obligation to present the actual situation, neither colored to make it seem more serious than it truly is, nor toned down to make it appear minor.

LAST APRIL North Central sent a team of three people to GSC for a regular review of standards. The Association makes these regular checks, ideally, every ten years, but this was the first time Glenville had been visited by a review team since the school was accredited in 1948. After a four-day investigation, during which time they talked with students, faculty members, and administrators, as well as visiting all campus buildings and examining the curriculum and financial records in detail, the team submitted a report of their findings to North Central Association.

COPIES OF the team's report were sent to GSC and to the West Virginia Board of Education this summer, along with a notice that the school was being placed on private probation for a three-year period. Essentially what this action means is that Glenville will retain its accredited standing for the next three years, and when this time is up, a team will review the college. If satisfactory progress has been made by then, the school will continue to be accredited; if not, the accredited rating will be withdrawn.

SOME OF the suggested improvements listed in the report, according to President Wilburn, were that the liberal arts programs—for instance, foreign languages—should be expanded, that the teaching loads of the faculty need to be reduced, and that the level of education among faculty members should be raised. The library was also criticized in the report. The team felt that the staff, the holdings, and the use of the library should all be increased.

MANY OF the needed improvements depend directly upon financial support of the college. Dr. Wilburn states, and such support would be given only by an appropriation of the state legislature. However, several steps have already been taken, he asserts, to correct and improve the specific areas attacked by the Association. For example, a new assistant librarian has been employed recently and a cataloger will be hired soon. This year's budget shows an increase of $5,000 for the library, and in addition to this amount, a $5,000-federal grant was awarded in June for the purchase of library materials. Thus, with a $10,000 increase in funds over last year, the Robert F. Kidd Library will be allotted $22,000 this year. When the stacks are moved into the new building in November and additional materials are purchased, faculty and student use of the library will undoubtedly increase, too.

DURING THE three years that the college is on private probation, an annual report of progress is required by North Central. The first of these is due on June 1, 1967. When these reports are examined, the association will comment upon the progress and thereby give some indication of what their action will probably be in 1969. Dr. Wilburn assures students that such comment will be made known to them.

"I CONSIDER this situation serious," Dr. Wilburn stated, "Improvements must be made or we will not continue to be an accredited institution." However, Dr. Wilburn points out that of the four state colleges in West Virginia which were reviewed by N.C.A. last year, all were placed on this same type of probation. Bluefield, Fairmont, and Sheppard colleges were all notified of probationary standings, just as Glenville was.

ADMITTEDLY, GSC is faced with a severe problem, but there is no cause for immediate panic. Three years have been granted in which to change and improve certain areas. For those three years, the school is accredited, and indications of what the 1969 decision may be will be announced as soon as they can be obtained. Therefore, students need have no fears of being caught in a situation where they would be forced to graduate from a non-accredited college.

AS A matter of fact, a bit of pressure is sometimes a good thing since procrastination remains as a common fault throughout the world. In other words, the best intentions are often forgotten in the rush of what has to be done today. Thus, a probation period may prove beneficial for GSC if the necessary changes can be accelerated as a result.

Expect New Uniforms For Band's Appearance

The GSC Marching Band got off to a head start by meeting during Freshman Week for limited rehearsals. This enabled the members to orient themselves to the details of marching band and to assist in the recruitment of the freshman class. As in recent years, the freshman class has responded and joined the marching band in great numbers. At present writing, approximately 23 of the 61 members are freshmen.

The Pioneer Band presented a halftime show at the first home football game. The new corps of majorettes also appeared at that time.

Band members will wear dark blue skirts and white blouses and dark blue slacks and white shirts for the first few games. New uniforms are ordered and are expected to arrive at any time for use at Homecoming. However, lack of new uniforms has not hindered their performance this year.

The GSC Band will play the processional and recessional for the coronation of the Homecoming Queen. The drum major recently selected is Charles Nichols, a sophomore from Clendenin. Lawrence Ball, the male twirler, is a freshman from Grantsville.

Mr. Ronald Ross, of Wayne, is directing the band for the second year. He is a graduate of Marshall University, and is looking forward to continued success this year.

The Band is representative of school spirit and enthusiasm. Student support and interest are encouraged. The following students

3-YEAR RECORD SUGGESTS WIN

By SAM HALSTEAD

The Glenville Pioneers and W. Va. State Yellow Jackets game has been tit for tat the past three years. In 1963 Glenville was defeated at State, then the 1964 season came and the Pioneers chose the Yellow Jackets as the Homecoming team to beat and they did, 14-7.

The next year Glenville traveled back to State with victory on their minds and lost by a margin of 12-3.

Now we have come to the subject at hand—Glenville Homecoming game with State. This is Glenville's turn to be victorious, but the contest is yet to be settled. Oct. 8 at 2 p.m. at Rohrbough Field, Coach Hanlin's "Go Get'em, Go Get'em" team will put forth a strong effort to stop the invading W. Va. State Yellow Jackets.

Coach Hanlin's defensive team known as the "Go" team is strong in the passing and punting departments. Mark McPhail does the passing and Gary Blake does the catching with Jim Scherr doing the booting.

The defensive team better known as the "Get'em" team, is indeed capable of doing its job. The line, as well as the backs, is strong and with their ability can contain an offense.

The "Go Get'em" team backs up and strongly supports the "Go" and "Get'em" teams.

The "Scout" team collects the opponents information, both their offense and defense. They keep the first teams alert and are a great asset while gaining their own knowledge and experience.

So with the Pioneers meeting the Yellow Jackets Saturday, let us the students as well as the staff give our full support to this endeavor in order to help secure a victory. The freshmen should place a special emphasis on victory through their spirit and support in order to be eligible to remove the blue ornaments they are wearing.

they will be available on a first-come-first served basis only. Choice of colors cannot be guaranteed.

Balfour class rings may also be ordered at the bookstore. The price for the men's ring is $33.50 and the women's ring is $25.50 (plus state tax). Greek letters may also be added at additional cost. Orders for Balfour rings are sent out the first of every month. A $5.00 deposit is required at the time of ordering. Rings may be picked up later at the bookstore.

Majors Club Takes Football Mum Orders

Major's Club, an organization for women physical education students, took preliminary orders last week for chrysanthemums for Homecoming. The mums cost a dollar each and will be delivered to the dormitories Saturday morning, Oct. 8.

Of 500 flowers ordered from a Parkersburg florist, 400 had been reserved by preliminary orders. After these have been delivered to Verona Maple Hall and Women's Hall between 8:30 and 9:45 a.m. on Homecoming Day, the remaining mums will be sold in the Student Union.

White, gold, bronze, and orchid flowers have been ordered, but

Falcons Defeat Pioneers In Initial Home Action; Blake Grabs Pass for TD

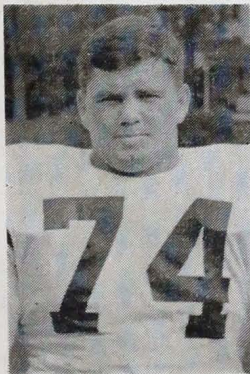

Saturday, Sept. 24, a mammoth scale was placed in Rohrbough Stadium as the football merits of the Glenville Pioneers were weighed in the balance and found wanting when the Fairmont Falcons won a 39-7 decision over the Pioneers.

Glenville gave Fairmont two more points and a safety to make the score 9-0 Falcons at the midway point.

George Edwards picked up a loose football and rambled 25 yards into the "Big Blue" end zone to push Fairmont's lead to 16-0.

Fairmont showed championship ability down the homestretch as they penetrated the Pioneer defense for two more touchdowns on runs by Barry Blackstone of three yards and Tom Quickle of two yards.

Mark McPhail hit Gary Blake with a two yard scoring pass to break the scoring ice for Glenville in the 1966 season.

Hanlin, Adolfson On Staff

Glenville State has two additions to the physical education department and coaching staff.

Bill Hanlin, the new head football coach resides at 207 North Court Street in Glenville. And Earl Adolfson, the new assistant football coach is residing on Mineral Road, also in Glenville.

A 1953 graduate of Glenville State College and Montrose Award winner, received his M.A. degree at the University of Maryland where he was assistant coach.

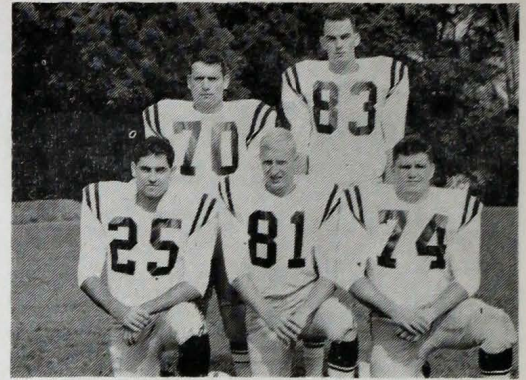

While at Glenville, Coach Hanlin played football and basketball and was an all-conference halfback for the Pioneers. Coach Hanlin has coached at Tyler Co., Ashland, Ohio and St. Mary's High School where his teams were a success.

Coach Hanlin's comment on the Pioneers is, "We have the potential and are expecting it to jell into a good solid football team."

Earl Adolfson, Jr. graduated from W.V.I.T. in 1957 and received his M.A. from W. Va. University. Coach Adolfson was an all-conference center on Tech's football team.

Like Coach Hanlin, Coach Adolfson has coached at three high schools and they were Wirt County, Southern in Oakland, Md. and Weston.

Coach Adolfson said, "The team is aggressive, determined and has desire, but needs time to adjust."

FIVE SENIORS WILL END CAREERS IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL NOVEMBER 5

November 5th marks the last game of the 1966 GSC football season. It also marks the end of the college football career of 5 seniors.

Jim Scherr, a 23-year-old 6-foot, 195 pound wingback and punter from Ripley is a physical education major who has played three consecutive seasons for the Pioneers. Jim plans to pursue a teaching and coaching career.

Gary Blake, an All-Conference end and physical education major, at 6' 1" 155-pound, is from Richmond. He is 23 years old and has successfully played football, basketball and golf.

Bill Casto, a 5' 10" 217 pound physical education major from Poca, has played four years at regular defensive tackle. Bill is 22, and plans to go to graduate school.

Jon Lucas, a 24-year-old native of Follansbee, is a social studies major. He is 5'9" and weighs 230 pounds. Lucas has played at tackle for the Glenville Pioneers.

Rod Jamison, a Glenvillian who has centered his efforts at playing ball for both Glenville High and GSC, is a tall 6'4", 190-pound defensive end.

These boys will be playing in their last GSC Homecoming when the State-Glenville game begins at 2 p.m. this Saturday at Rohrbough Field.

McPhail Tops Conference In Passing

In conference team standings for the first two conference games played, the Glenville Pioneers rank fifth in total offense and ninth in total defense.

In individual statistics, Glenville's Mark McPhail is leading in passing with a total of 22 completions of 47 attempted for 221 yards and one T.D. McPhail is also fifth in the conference for total offense.

Concord, Fairmont, and West Liberty lead the conference with two wins, no losses. Next in line is West Virginia Tech with one win, one loss; followed by Salem with no win, no loss, one tie.

Bluefield has no win, one loss, and one tie. Shepherd has no win, one loss; and Glenville and West Virginia State trail with no wins, two losses.

Alumni Association's Importance Recounted

In 1905, Mr. Victor Cooper became the first president of the Glenville State College Association whose only purpose was to keep in contact with the graduates of the school. Subsequent presidents with similar ideals served throughout the years until the year 1931 when the Alumni Assoc. became even more active.

The college homecoming was initiated by the Alumni under the direction of Mr. E. G. Rohrbough. Many former students returned for the celebration and as a result a reception and dance has been held in honor of these visitors each year.

To many students this is the extent of the Alumni Association's activity on campus. Students are unaware of the scholarship funds, money for matching NDEA loans, and the publication of college bulletins handled by the Association.

Several of their major activities include: a telephone campaign in Charleston, Parkersburg, and Clarksburg to raise funds for scholarships; recognition of the outstanding graduate at the Annual Spring Banquet; correspondence with all the graduates and keeping an up-to-date mailing list of 5600 addresses; and awarding trophies to organizations with winning floats in the Homecoming parade.

The Association, whose officers are Mr. H. Delta Zeta Sorority Holds 'Open House'

Homecoming week-end will be a big occasion for the women of Delta Zeta Sorority as they hold their first social function of the year in their newly-purchased house at 365 East Main Street. The DZ's will hold two open houses, one, after the homecoming game Saturday, for faculty members and DZ alumni, and another the following afternoon for students and the people of Glenville.

An open house at Delta Zeta is a rare treat for lovers of fine old homes. The house is nearly 50 years old and has some intriguing features. Among these are stained glass windows, glistening hardwood floors, beautiful antique chandeliers; colonial bedroom furniture, an upstairs sitting room done in pink and green, the official DZ colors, and an air of charming antiquity that fills all fine old homes.

The DZ's are also quite proud of the new fire escape which is ready for use if the need should arise.

According to Mrs. Bantz Craddock, who lives next door to the sorority, the house has quite an interesting history. The house was built about 50 years ago by William D. Whiting, the father of Professor Hunter Whiting, who taught at GSC.

After the elder Mr. Whiting's death, his son sold the house to Mr. and Mrs. Carr Peterson. Mrs. Peterson also taught at Glenville State. The Petersons were killed in a tragic auto accident and the estate was sold to Mr. C. C. Rhoades. Mr. Rhoades owned the house for a short time, during which he did some remodeling. On April 30, 1966, the house was bought by Delta Zeta Sorority for living purposes.

The Delta Zeta house is a home for 27 women and one housemother, Mrs. Eula Ewing. The women according to President Cynthia Bennon, are Joan Richmond, Karen Moore, Kathy Elliot, Janet Custer, Margaret Glenn, Lois Burgess, Patricia Hall, Janet Gregory, Karen Boston, Sharla Gladwell, Patti Guzzie, Jean Goudy, Rebecca James, Julia McLaughlin, Sue Strickling, Sue Call, Gail Ware, Shirley McIntyre, Janet Lantz, Karen Bailey, Debbie Dietz, Gloria Holbert, Janet Barclay, Carolyn Lightner, Candice Warren, and Theresa Boggs.

GSC Gets Students and Officials New Aid Study Centrex System

This year a new student aid fund was organized by the federal government, whereby the government matched every one dollar provided by the state government with 10 dollars of federal money. In this way, West Virginia received $750,000 for loan purposes.

Glenville received $31,020 and will grant loans up to $500 per semester. To be eligible for federal payment of interest a student must have at least a 2.0 average, be enrolled in the college, and have a family income which does not exceed $15,000 per year.

For a student who qualifies under Federal law, the Federal Government will pay the 6% interest until repayments are due to begin and 3% interest while the student is repaying the loan.

The loan must be approved by GSC, who agrees to have your loan charged against the appropriate reserve fund, and certifies your academic standing. The lender then reviews your application and the school's recommendation. If the lender approves, your request is sent to USA Funds for final action.

FALCONS DEFEAT

McPhail hit on 7 of 17 passes for 68½ yards which was a little short of the Falcons' 112 yards through the air.

Fairmont gained 183 yards by the overland route while GSC picked up 70½. Tom Haight, freshman halfback from New Martinsville was the "Blues" leading rusher with 63 yards and ten carries. Stan Boyles was second with 53 yards on 14 carries. Also Gary Blake caught 4 of McPhail's passes for 54 yards.

October 1, the GSC Pioneers traveled to Athens, W. Va. to meet the Concord Mountain Lions for an intense grid-iron duel. The results of the Glenville-Concord game were not available at press time.

There are only four remaining games this season. Those include: West Virginia Wesleyan, Oct. 15, at home; Salem, Oct. 22 away; Westminster, Oct. 29, at home; W. Va. Tech, Nov. 5, away.

Delford Chaffin has been named president of the GSC Science Club. Other officers are Houston Arbuckle, vice president; Lana Moss, secretary; and Larry Richards, treasurer.

The Centrex System, a program under which each dormitory room on campus would have a private telephone, was explained Sept. 26 by Mr. John Todd, a representative of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company at a meeting open to freshmen, sophomores, and juniors.

Mr. Todd explained that communication is one of the most challenging problems on the college campus because of the rapid growth of colleges and universities. He stated that telephone communications are at capacity. The idea at hand is to revise the entire system.

Problems from the administrative viewpoint were aired. The speaker said that telephone lines are operating at full capacity, and that there is no room to grow. For the coming year, 22 more lines will be needed for administrative uses. Under the present system, the only way to meet this problem would be to take the phones from the dormitories.

The C&P representative discussed the student standpoint also. The difficulties include leaving messages for students with others, parents trying to get in touch with their child, and the student who is constantly being bothered because his room is located near the telephone.

At this time, according to Mr. Todd, there are on campus nine pay telephones serving approximately 95 students each. The 12 dorm phones serve approximately 80 students each. These problems affect the academic and social affairs of the college.

The answer, states Mr. Todd, would be a direct inward and outward-dialing system. It would serve efficiently and would provide 24-hour service. It also has the capacity to be expanded.

Under the program there would be telephones in each dormitory room, all campus faculty houses and all administrative offices. For the long-distance calls from home there would be direct in-dialing.

For a number on campus, the caller would dial the last four digits of a seven-digit number. For long distance calls, the caller would be asked to identify himself by his telephone identification number. These telephone identification numbers would be given to each student each semester.

A rental fee of $13 a semester per person would be paid at the time of registration. There would be an extra charge for long distance calls. At the end of each month the college would be sent a bill and all those persons making long-distance calls would be asked to pay their bill.

If a person did not make a call for which he was charged, then the college would pay for the call until the caller could be traced.

Mr. Todd explained that if GSC continues with the present system that there would not be another chance for the system for five years. If, however, the college does institute such a program then it would be placed under a three-year contract.

President D. Banks Wilburn stated at the meeting that it would cost approximately $3000 to install. He said, also, that there might be a restriction on long-distance calls except for collect or credit card calls. He stated that the unrestricted system would operate on a trial basis at first, then if the necessity arose, there would be a conversion to the restricted plan.

Mr. Todd stated that West Virginia University has such a program and that plans for it at Marshall University are pending. Centrex is also being installed at Bethany, W. Va. Wesleyan, and West Liberty Colleges.

FUNDS APPROVED FOR RENOVATION OF OLD LIBRARY

It was announced on Wednesday, Sept. 28, that $125,000 had been approved by the Appalachian Regional Commission, Washington, D. C., and is now available as a part of a $300,000 construction project for the remodeling and renovation of the present library building. The construction will convert the building into 10 additional classrooms and 20 faculty offices.

Other sources from which funds for the construction project have come are a $100,000 grant from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare as provided by the 1963 Higher Education Facilities Act and $75,000 which was appropriated by the West Virginia Legislature from the Capital Improvement Fund of the West Virginia Board of Education.
