Vol. XXXVIII, No. 3

Glenville State College, Glenville, W. Va.

Wednesday, October 19, 1966

Mr. Charles Scott, advisor to the yearbook, Robert Cooper, Kanawhachen editor, and Dennis Myers, last year's acting editor, look over GSC's second yearbook since the tradition was reinstated. Students may pick up their yearbook by contacting any member of the new staff.

'Fantasticks' SEA-FTA REPRESENTATIVES Cast Chosen ATTEND 15TH DELEGATE ASSEMBLY

The cast for the upcoming musical comedy, FANTASTICKS, has been selected, rehearsals have begun and the drama department is hard at work to present to the public a fine musical. The comedy will be presented Thursday, Nov. 10, Friday, Nov. 11, and Monday, Nov. 14. It is under the direction of Mr. J. Rodney Busch and Mr. Robert Ellis, Diana Fankhauser, of Parkersburg, will serve as stage manager.

Woody Wilson from St. Marys will play the part of El Gallo and Dave Bennett of Point Pleasant will appear as Matt, Bennett's understudy is Tom Lauderman of Clarksburg.

Parkersburg's Miss Ella Maxwell will star as the Girl and her understudy is Miss Linda Lester from Calhoun County. Dave Lough, Parkersburg, will appear as the Mute, Mr. James White, assistant professor of mathematics, as Hucklebee, Pat Kerr, Parkersburg, as Bellomy, and Gary Farnsworth, also of Parkersburg, as Mortimer. Henry will be played by Larry Ray Hall who is a native of Clendenin.

Kappa Delta Pi Sends Delegates To Ky. Conference

GSC Kappa Omicron Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity, will send five delegates to a regional conference in Lexington, Ky., on Oct. 29. Mrs. Jean Wright, counselor, and Miss Virginia West, co-counselor, will accompany the delegates to the University of Kentucky.

Carolyn Hudkins will appear on a discussion panel during this session of the Region 12 Conference. Names of the other delegates were not available at press time.

Jackson's Mill was the scene of a busy weekend, Oct. 14-16, with SEA-FTA representatives of West Virginia high schools and colleges scurrying to and from briefings and assemblies. Registration for the Fifteenth Annual Delegate Assembly and Conference of the W. Va. SEA-FTA (Student Education Association)—Future Teachers of America began at 4:00 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 14, with Sally Withee, George Garton, and William Hairston representing GSC's chapter.

Following registration and a banquet, Raymond Dispanet, WVEA president, presented the keynote address of the evening. It was noted that the purpose of this annual conference is the election of new state officers and the presentation of various programs designed with future teachers, both college and high school, in mind.

Miss Withee attended the conference as voting delegate for Glenville's SEA chapter, and George Garton as representative. Hairston, who was second vice-president of the State SEA-FTA organization last year, sought election to the position of college representative for the coming year.

The delegation spent Saturday in various group meetings and general assemblies, and W. Va.'s 15th annual conference of the SEA-FTA closed on Sunday morning with a devotional period.

Fire Hits Hall

"Fire! Fire!" rang through the halls of Louis Bennett Hall as the bell system began to pace the march from the men's dormitory on Tuesday night, Oct. 11. Half way out of the building, the students were informed that there had been a false alarm. This same incident happened a second time, not half an hour later, disturbing many students.

Robert Minnieweather, president of Louis Bennett Hall, turned off the alarm system to prevent further false alarms.

About 1:00 A.M., men, aroused by the smell of smoke began their attempt to evacuate the dormitory. But since this was the third cry of "Wolf", several students remained in their rooms until forced out by the smell of smoke.

The fire was in Room 221, the home of Benny Fix and John Lough. The fire started in the bed and smoldered to fill most of the building with smoke. Damage was estimated at $350. No injuries resulted.

Goncharoff Will Present 3 Lectures

By A. G. HARRIS

NICHOLAS GONCHAROFF, Russian-born political scientist who is now a citizen of the United States and serves as Secretary for Educational and Cultural Affairs of the National Council of YMCA's, will be on campus at GSC on Oct. 24-25, as a Danforth Visiting Lecturer.

Purpose of the program is "to strengthen the intellectual, the religious and the cultural aspects of liberal education in the United States."

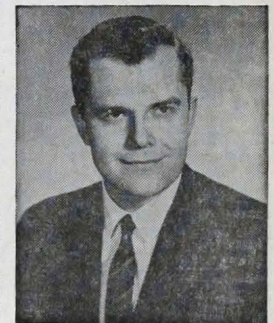

To all of his work with young people, Dr. Goncharoff brings a deep conviction, unbound enthusiasm, great ability as a speaker, and a wealth of personal experience. While here he plans to give a public lecture on "The New Soviet Society—Education, Indoctrination, and Search for Democratization of Life." At a convocation open to the public, he will speak on "Russian Youth: Problems and Prospects." In two informal sessions with students and faculty members, he will discuss "Higher Education in the U.S.S.R. and U.S.A." and "Formation of the Russian National Character as expressed in Russian Literature of the Last Forty Years."

All meetings are to be held in the college Auditorium. The schedule for the topics of Dr. Goncharoff is as follows: Oct. 24, 8:00 p.m.—Public Lecture: "The New Soviet Society—Education, Indoctrination, and Search for Democratization of Life," Oct. 25, 10:10 a.m.—Convocation: "Russian Youth—Problems and Prospects;" Oct. 25, 1:25 p.m.—Informal Meeting: "Higher Education in the U.S.S.R. and U.S.A."

Nicholas Goncharoff was born in Kiev, Russia, in 1921, the son of a career diplomat who turned to the Orthodox priesthood. Later, both his parents were victims of the Revolution. While being educated in communist schools, Dr. Goncharoff was a member of the Orthodox Church despite religious persecution.

In 1941, while he was a student at the University of Odessa, Dr. Goncharoff was drafted into the Soviet army, and served as a Russian tank commander in World War II. Later he was captured and interned, first in a prisoner-of-war camp in the Ukraine, and then in a forced-labor camp in Germany. After harrowing experiences, he was liberated by the American forces in Bavaria, made his way to Munich, and entered the University as a teacher and student. Six years later, in 1952, he received a Ph.D. in philosophy and history.

Dr. Goncharoff first came in contact with the YMCA amid the shambles of post-war Europe when he was in a German refugee camp. He joined its staff, and proved so effective that by 1948 he had become president of the nineteen Russian YMCA groups in West Germany. At the same time he served as secretary in Germany to the Russian Student Christian Movement. A year after his arrival in the United States in 1952, Dr. Goncharoff became connected with the National Council YMCA public affairs program. He became an American citizen in 1957.

From 1955 to 1961, in an attempt to bring to North Americans a new awareness of the basic problems and conflicts facing the world and the relevance of Christian principles to them, Dr. Goncharoff conducted a series of seminars for the YMCA on the theme, "Youth's Role in a Revolutionary World." In 1958 he toured the world studying the needs of youth in nineteen countries of Europe, Asia, Africa (Continued on page 4)

Complaints Aired...

Despite the success of the recent Homecoming activities, the Student Council has received several complaints. The complaints concerned the lack of seating space at the stadium, the lack of an adequate public address system, the absence of a band for the Homecoming Dance which catered to the students as well as the alumni, and finally, the closing of the Student Union on Homecoming night.

Complaints concerning the seating arrangements were of two types. The first was the lack of reserved seats for the President, his guests, other honored guests, and the Homecoming Court. The second complaint dealt with the lack of seats for the spectators, alumni, faculty, and students who were forced to stand or sit on the ground.

Another complaint was the public address system which was used at the football game. This system was not set up prior to the time for its use. And when it eventually was set up, it was barely audible on the home team side.

The band for the Homecoming Dance has, as in the past, received numerous complaints. Students felt that the music played was too slow. As one disgruntled patron said, "They play two types of music—slow and slower." The responsibility of selecting the Homecoming band rests in the hands of the Alumni Association.

Perhaps the greater number of complaints concerned the closing of the Union to the students not attending the Homecoming dance. The students had been led to believe that the Union would not be closed for a dance since the new ballroom was opened. But, because of an unexpected overflow of 800 people at the dance, the officials requested that the Union be closed. When no answer was given, this was taken as an affirmative answer, and the Union was closed.

If anyone has further complaints, the Student Council will be glad to hear them and work for an improvement in the next Homecoming.

'THE TIME IS OUT OF JOINT'

"The time is out of joint," William Shakespeare's Hamlet lamented. How appropriate his remark seems here at Glenville State College where the entire school is two minutes behind the correct time according to the National Broadcasting Company.

Not only is the tower clock incorrect, though. The clocks in the Administration Building vary so much from floor to floor and from room to room that students are never quite sure if they are early or late for classes. What is even worse than going from one class to another in the Administration Building, though, is trying to get from the Ad Building to the Science Hall in the five minutes between classes.

If a student leaves Room 305 of the Ad Building at 11:10 by the clock in that room and goes to Room 301 of the Science Hall, taking exactly three minutes to make the trip, he will find that he is two minutes late for his 11:15 class. On second floor of the Health and Physical Education Building there is a clock in the hall which is about two minutes slower than another just inside the door of the adjacent classroom.

Discrepancies in the timepieces do not end here. Clocks in the two cafeterias are even inconsistent in their inconsistencies. In other words, they cannot be counted on to be off any certain amount. For instance, sometimes they are one hour behind the tower clock, and later the same day they may be two hours ahead of it.

Surely the campus clocks can be synchronized, even if they cannot be kept precisely with official world time. On Oct. 30, West Virginia changes from Daylight Time back to Eastern Standard Time. On that date all the clocks will have to be reset, anyway, so let us hope that they will be set to coincide.

Delta Zeta Lists Activities; SADIE HAWKINS Party Honors Patronesses DAY NOV. 11-12

Delta Zeta Sorority activities for Homecoming were house decorations including a dead yellow jacket in the front yard, and third place in float competition. The theme for the float competition was "Stairway to Progress." Open house was held Oct. 8 for faculty and Delta Zeta alumnae. On Oct. 9, open house was held for students and town people.

There are two new chapters of Delta Zeta which are at West Liberty State College and West Virginia Tech. DZ chapters in West Virginia are at Concord, Marshall University, Fairmont, Morris Harvey, and Glenville.

On Oct. 16, Miss Virginia West, professor of English, talked to the girls on "Study Techniques." Scholarship is an important aim of Delta Zeta.

Patti Guzzie was elected to represent Delta Zeta in the Women's Organization of Glenville State College.

There was a display about Theta Xi Chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority on the bulletin board in the Student Union from Oct. 10-14. Plans are being made for the first DZ houseparty. It is to be a Halloween party for DZ's and their dates.

A party for new patronesses was held on Oct. 8. DZ patronesses are Mrs. Byron Turner, Miss West, Mrs. Jesse Lilly, Mrs. John Chisler, Miss Elma Wooster, Mrs.

Burl Law, Mrs. Billy Hanlin, Mrs. Earl Adolfsen, Miss Carole Bantick, Mrs. Kay Chico, Miss Ann Kellerman, Mrs. David Swansy, Mrs. Stalnaker and Mrs. Yvonne King.

Two new service projects have been planned. The first Wednesday of each month during the faculty wives meeting, the sorority will provide a babysitting service at their house. The girls also plan to mend, wash, and iron clothing for the office of Economic Welfare in Glenville.

Sigs Plan Work

The weekend of Oct. 14-16, four representatives of Gamma Kappa Chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha traveled to Rho Rho Chapter in Huntington. They were accompanied by Mrs. Martha Deel, adviser of the chapter. The event was an officer's meeting of Alpha Sigs from a five-state area.

This year, the Gamma Kappas of Alpha Sigma Alpha are initiating a new plan in reference to their philanthropic project. The local project is the adoption of seventeen boys who reside in the Col. Anderson Center for mentally retarded children. Now three girls are responsible each month for planning some activity or for making something for the boys. The Alpha Sigs will also continue to send cards to the boys on birthdays and holidays.

Monday, Oct. 10, a cook-out was Theta Xi's Sadie Hawkins Weekend will begin on Friday, Nov. 11 and continue throughout Verona Maple lawn activities Saturday, concluding with the annual Dogpatch Stomp Saturday night.

An all-student election will be held on campus for the two distinguished Dogpatch characters: L'il Abner and Daisy Mae.

Events of the weekend include a Dogpatch Mix on Friday evening, a mad hat contest, pit-throwing, turnip-eating, cigar-smoking tobacco-spitting, tug-of-war, egg-throwing, greased-pig, greased pole, sock, wheelbarrow and relay contests.

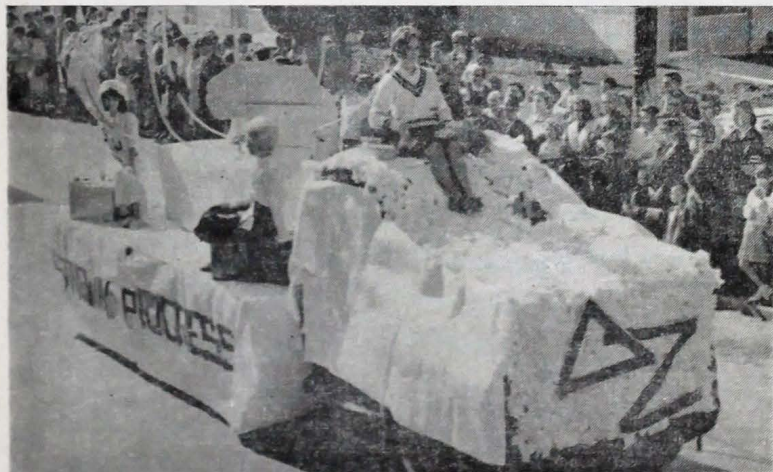

Girls will particularly enjoy a new endeavor — man chasing. This can end in a two-bit marriage ceremony.

Dignitaries have been chosen for favorite Dogpatch characters. They will be announced in the next MERCURY.

given to the Alpha Sigs by the Glenville Alumnae chapter. The event was held at the "council circle" of the Gilmer County 4-H Camp. An activity for each month is planned for the Gamma Kappas by the Glenville alumnae.

Monday, Oct. 17, the Alpha Sigs held a swimming party in the college pool. The swim was from 7-9 p.m. and refreshments were served.

Rush is now in the planning process by all Greek organizations. Sorority rush will be conducted the third week of November. During this period a joint tea, informal parties and formal parties will be sponsored.

6 WAA Teams Play Volleyball

The Women's Athletic Association is currently sponsoring volleyball games in which six teams are participating. Each Thursday evening, the groups play volleyball and in the middle of November, they will play in tournaments.

Following volleyball, the group will begin basketball, according to Jackie Kafer, president of Major's Cub, which sponsors the intramurals program.

On Nov. 17, a free activity period will be conducted. All are urged to attend and use any or all available recreational facilities of the Health Building.

Literary Society Will Explicate 'The Wild Duck'

The Wild Duck by Ibsen will be discussed at the Literary Society meeting on Oct. 30. Janet Linscomb, president, said that the books have been ordered and will hopefully be available in the college bookstore before that date.

The purpose of Literary Society is to give future English teachers experience in the explication and analysis of plays, novels, and poetry. Members selected a wide range of novels for discussion in future sessions.

Literary Society, sponsored by Dr. Espy Miller, meets the first Sunday of each month at 3:00

SC Starts Drive For Spirit

The Glenville State Student Council has been working constantly since the beginning of Freshman Week trying to keep things running smoothly. In addition, the Council took a major part in the planning of this year's Homecoming Parade and in the coronation ceremonies.

The council has also supported two all-organizational conferences. There were meetings between the Student Council members and the representative of GSC organizations. The purpose of these meetings was to try to iron out campus problems and consider ways of improving the campus.

Two proposals came out of these meetings. One has reached reality while the other is still in the planning stage. A "spirit raising campaign" has been started on the campus with hopes of rousing more school spirit at the athletic events. Each GSC organization has been asked to place signs and banners around the campus to inspire the students. The posters and banners are to be judged by a panel consisting of the Student Council members. Points will be

GSC Registers Win Over Yellow Jackets

By SAM HALSTEAD

Oct. 8 marked Glenville's Homecoming game at Rohrbough Field with the Pioneers recording their first win of the season. The victory was over the W. Va. State Yellow Jackets.

The first quarter seemed to be the adjusting period for both teams. Each team probed trying to find the other's weakness, but it wasn't until the second quarter that Glenville's Jim Frazier took advantage of a Yellow Jacket mistake and recovered their quarterback's fumble on State's 7-yard line. After three plays Tom Haught plunged one yard for the first score.

While still in the second quarter our fired-up Pioneers climaxed a drive with Marcus McPhail tossing a 27-yard scoring pass to Gary Blake. Bill Frost kicked the extra point making the halftime score 13-0.

The third quarter started much as the first had, but the Yellow Jackets were more determined. Still the Pioneers held and the score was 13-0 starting the fourth quarter.

The Yellow Jackets held Glenville scoreless the second half and managed late in the quarter to score. Joe Dawson ran 16 yards for the touchdown. Glenville's Defensive or Get-em team blocked the extra point try. Also near the end of the fourth quarter State had a sustained drive going Dale Sheets, intercepted one of States passes and returned it 22 yards.

For Glenville, Tom Haught carried 25 times for 83 yards and one touchdown. Marcus McPhail threw five passes to Gary Blake for 80 yards and one touchdown. He also threw Mike Deem four passes for 42 yards.

Let's keep up the enthusiasm and spirit while supporting the Pioneers in their next three games.

AID GIVEN TO STUDENTS

Many forms of financial aid are available to students who have a desire to further their education but lack the monetary essentials for this endeavor. In addition to those scholarships and grants treated in another issue of the Mercury, other types of aid have been granted at Glenville State College.

Scholarships given by individual high schools are as follows: Buckhannon-Upshur and Nicholas County High; Baseball Office of Commission, $500; Citizen Scholarship Foundation of Beckley, $400; Boone County Cooperative Scholarship Fund, $250; World Baptist Mission Society of West Virginia, $100; Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority of Summersville, $135.

Eleven students received grants of $75 each from VFW. The American Legion gives three scholarships per year to college students. A $250 scholarship offered by the North American Benefit Association helped one student, as did a $100 grant from Rubber Fabricators, Inc.

Banks play an important role in financing many students' college educations. Farmers and Merchant's Banks of Summersville have given $263; National Bank of Spencer gave two $100 scholarships; Traders Bank of Spencer, $150; and Kanawha Union Bank, four $50 scholarships.

Future Farmers of America organization gave a $100 grant; Roane Co. Home Demonstration Council, $75; Women's Club of Glenville, $100.50; and the Waitman T. Zinn Scholarship, $100.

GSC's Student Government Association offered a $200 scholarship, and $325 was given a student from Thailand by the Royal Thai Embassy.

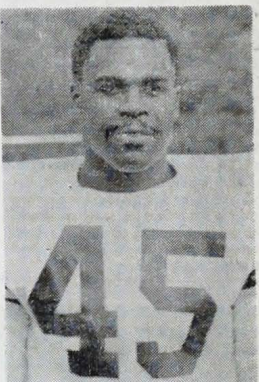

Rehabilitation scholarships were received by 27 students, and this pays their tuition. Five of them also get room and board paid and twenty-two have received money for books and supplies.

Three Foreign Students Enjoy Studying at GSC

By ELIZABETH GRAHAM

Some students may complain about food in the cafeteria but three who eat whatever they are given are Sukda Sangkasaba, Sakul-Noi Samsen and Ravee Hangsaphas from Bangkok, Thailand. All three students are private independent students and not exchange students.

"Pat" as Sukda Sangasaba is known is a 21-year-old business and sociology major. He is a freshman and studied in Japan's fisheries for three years. Pat has been living in the Thailand Embassy in Washington, D. C., but does not have a permanent residence now. He is interested in shooting a rifle, swimming, and soccer. When he returns to Thailand, he will be manager of his father's fishing company.

"Noi" Samsen is 19 years old and majoring in business and art. He is a sophomore transfer student from Leicester Junior College in Leicester, Mass. Noi has lived in the United States for four years and attended Wilbraham Academy for three years. He lives in Falls Church, Va., where he is the leader of a band called the "Siamese Cats." When Noi returns to Thailand, he will take over his father's chain of wholesale auto parts companies and renting apartment buildings. Noi is very good on a tennis court and enjoys a rifle shooting, soccer, swimming, and horseback riding.

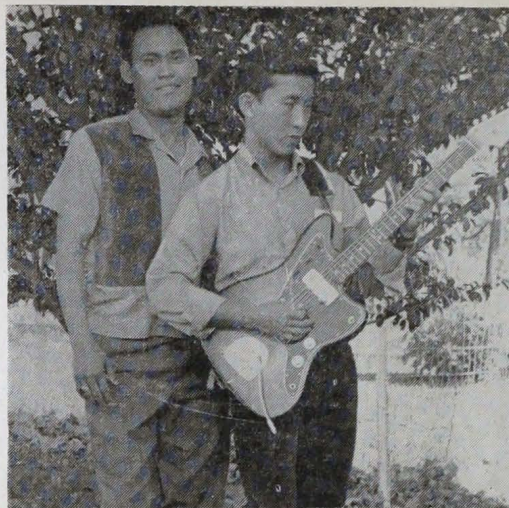

"Vee" or Ravee Honsaprasas, a 21-year-old social studies junior who transferred here from Central State College in Edmond, Okla., is probably the least confused of the three since he was here last semester of 1965-66. He has been in this country for two and a half years and lives in Washington, D. C. Ravee is not sure of what career he will pursue when he returns to Thailand. Ravee's father is a retired representative to the National Parliament which governs the country despite the fact that a king and queen are on the throne. He relaxes by playing ping pong, soccer, badminton, pool, and swimming.

All three students say that they enjoy this campus and the people very much. They also say that West Virginia is very "hilly."

New Library Almost Ready for Students

The new Robert F. Kidd Library was formally inspected Oct. 10 by several officials. A report will be made and sent to the Board of Education on the library.

George West, a representative of the Board of Education; Mr. Osborne, business manager at GSC, representatives of Greife and Hoblitzell, architects; and Carl Stephens, contractor, inspected the library.

"Pat" Sangkasaba sings as "Noi" Samsen accompanies him. Pat and Noi are two of the three GSC students from Thailand.

63 Honor Graduates Grace Glenville Halls

Glenville State Campus is honored to have enrolled this year a total of 63 high school valedictorians and salutatorians according to Beryl Langford, registrar. Such a mass accumulation of intelligence gives much promise for future growth on the academic level.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS includes 19 such students. The following students were valedictorians: Loretta Bailes from Nicholas County, Rex Kuhl from Glenville, Carol McWhorter from South Harrison, Peggy Phillips from Coalton, Basil Smith from Rupert, Robert Smith from Normantown, Shirley Starcher from Weston, Lana Westfall from Walton, and Walter Wolfe from Normantown.

SALUTATORIANS INCLUDE Anna Bucklew from Coalton, Marjorie Craddock from Doddridge, Susan Garrett from Troy, Phyllis Hicks from Jane Lew, Clarence Hodge from Rupert, Sandra Hughes from Gassaway, Alice Irwin from Marlinton, Roy Mace from Wirt County, Helen Tracy from Webster Springs and Russell Triplett from Clay.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS has 16 valedictorians and salutatorians. The 10 valedictorians include: Twila Cline from Wirt Co., Monia Dean from Burnsville, Richard Garrett from Sand Fork, Kenneth Greenleaf from Normantown, Judy Reed from Sheridan in Thornville, Ohio, Bernard Shackelford from Troy, Brenda Shaver from Sand Fork, John McDonald from Harrisville, Patrick McCartney from Glenville, and Donna Morris from Grantsville.

The six salutatorians include: Marion Carpenter from Sand Fork, Patricia Deal from Glenville, Wesley Dobbins from Normantown, Karen Gordon from Troy, Teresa Snider from Calhoun, and Barbara Morton from Cairo.

Dr. Wilburn Takes Two-Week Vacation

Dr. Wilburn, President of GSC, is finally getting a vacation. He will be gone two weeks.

First, Dr. Wilburn and his wife went to New York to see some plays. Then they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilburn. They also plan to spend some time in Hamilton, Ohio, visiting a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jones. Before returning home they will visit their other daughter in Chesapeake. They will arrive home about Oct. 23.

Scott Judges Ceramics

Mr. Charles C. Scott, head of the art department, recently judged a Mid-South Ceramics and Crafts Exhibition in Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Organized by a former student, Mr. Lewis D. Snyder, president of the Tennessee Artist Craftsmen's Guild and assistant professor of ceramics and sculpture at Middle Tennessee State University, the exhibit followed Mr. Snyder's recent one-man ceramics show at New York Public Library. Judging was completed Sept. 24. The exhibition opened for preview Oct. 2 and will close Oct. 30.

The show was open to residents of Tennessee, Kentucky, North Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Missouri, Mississippi and Arkansas. Entries were to be submitted in the ceramics, glass, metal, wood, textiles, enamel and plastic fields.

There were 500 dollars in purchase prizes and awards given.

"Some of the smaller silver pieces," said Mr. Scott, "sold for $600. Each. There was also a rug that was approximately 40 inches by 6 feet, which sold for $900."

ALUMNI NOTE CHANGE

You graduate from college. About four years later, you return for Homecoming and find yourself lost. You can't find any of the buildings. This is how some alumni felt when they were here for Homecoming this year.

Even alumni who graduated from GSC in 1960 found many changes. Kanawha Hall which was a cafeteria and a women's dormitory, then a kindergarten, has been torn down and a new library is being completed where it once stood.

Women's Hall has had two more floors and a penthouse added. Louis Bennett Hall has been remodeled. More has been added to the Administrative Building. The Pioneer Center has seen several changes.

Several alumni commented on how proud they were of the progress being made at GSC. A young man who just graduated last year commented, "There are more students, fewer socks, more sandals and longer hair."

up coordinators for the cast.

In charge of the properties are Dennis Myers from Charleston, Kathleen Warden, Bluefield, and Kathleen Stephens from Parkersburg.

The music, art and speech departments will construct the set. Mr. Jim Rogers, instructor in art, will handle all of the posters while Paula Cottle and Betty Keen from Newton will have charge of the programs for the musical.

Larry Reed, Parkersburg, and assistant Mike Guiles from Nashville, Tenn., are in charge of the stage lighting.

Rehearsals for FANTASTICKS will be closed to everyone except the stage crew and the cast.

Campus visits by Dr. Goncharoff are made possible by a project done in 1951 and sponsored jointly by the Danforth Foundation and the Association of American Colleges. The lecturer is one of several scholars or specialists from this country and abroad chosen by the Foundation and the Association's Arts Program for campus visits during the current academic year.
