Frost, Hairston, Adams, Sheets Emerge As Students' Choice For 1967-68 Leaders

By ROBERT S. CRIBBS

Larry Edwin Parsons was elected to head the student body at an election held last Tuesday, April 18. Besides Parsons as president, other newly-elected officers are William J. Frost, vice-president; William Isaac Hairston, secretary; David Michael Adams, treasurer; and Roger Dale Sheets, sergeant-at-arms.

In an all-campus assembly before the election, candidates agreed to promote better student-faculty relationships, support fellow SGA officers and members, promote better Lyceum programs, and provide more weekend activities.

Parsons, a social studies and biology major, is a junior from Evans. Among his activities are election to WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES, former vice-president of Tau Kappa Epsilon, vice-president of the SGA, past president and now vice-president of the Greek Council, president of the Agriculture Club, member of the Glenville Collegiate 4-H Club, and activities committee chairman of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Frost is a physical education and social studies major. He is the sophomore class president and has served four years in the United States Air Force. Listed among his other activities are Theta Xi Fraternity, SGA, member 1966-67, a member of the football and baseball teams, college foods committee, and counselor of Louis Bennett Hall.

After a bit of controversy over scholastic qualifications, it was decided that William Isaac Hairston would become secretary.

Hairston, a social studies and speech major, is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, president of the freshman class, a member of the Wesley Foundation, Collegiate 4-H Club, Student Education Association, Glenville Concert Choir, and first vice-president of the West Virginia SEA and FTA.

Adams, a physical science and social studies major, is a junior from Cox's Mills. He is a member of Theta Xi Fraternity, in which he is chaplain and corresponding secretary.

Sheets, a physical education and social studies major, is a vice-president of the dormitory, member of the athletics committee, secretary of the G-Club, and co-captain of the football team. He is a sophomore and a graduate of Charleston High.

ART STUDENTS EXHIBIT WORK

The Seventh Annual Collegiate Art Exhibition is showing from April 16 through May 16 in the multi-purpose room of the Pioneer Center. It features a variety of works by art students from several state colleges and universities in West Virginia.

Awards for prize winning entries were made by Mr. Joe Moss of West Virginia University. Mr. Moss is a widely known and controversial native West Virginia artist. His painting, 'West Virginia Moon,' won top honors in the 1963 Centennial Painting and Sculpture Show.

The "Best In Show" award of $45.00 was awarded to Joseph Hughes of Marshall University for his metal sculpture entitled, "Darius II." Pat Hughes, also of Marshall University, received the "Runner Up" award of $25.00 for his oil painting "Morning Raga."

Merit awards of $15.00 were awarded to three GSC students. Thomas E. Hodges, Jr. received the award for his photograph entitled "Cattails, II." W. Thomas Dailey and Raymond Lietz also received the award for "Storm of the Id" and "Lidded Pot," respectively.

Honorable mention award was presented to Joyce Nichols of GSC for her oil painting entitled, "Rockslide." Pat Hughes received the award also, for his "Composition, Red, Blue, Green."

Dr. Somerville Announces Nine Week Summer Term

According to Dr. Delmer K. Somerville, Dean and director of the 1967 summer session, classes for the nine-week summer term will begin on June 19 and close on August 18. Because there will be only one summer term this year, a wider variety of classes is being offered.

Students may earn as many as nine semester hours of credit, giving incoming freshmen a chance to adjust to the routine of college life. In addition to the regular nine-week

ASA Will Sponsor Mother's Day Sing In Amphitheater

The Annual Mother's Day Sing sponsored by Alpha Sigma Alpha will be held May 14, in the amphitheater.

Richard Smith, the Woodwind Quintet and the Brass Sextet will entertain, along with the groups competing, but will not be in the competition.

Trophies will be awarded to first and second place winners. Groups who wish to compete in the sing must have at least ten people participating. If there are less than ten, contact Sandy Whiston. Soloists and the College Choir may participate, but cannot compete. Each group competing must present two selections. Organizations will receive entry blanks. When a group submits an entry blank that group entering has a responsibility to participate.

Public Service Weekend Held

Did anyone notice the difference in the town's fire trucks or police cars? Last Saturday Tau Kappa Epsilon sponsored its annual Public Service Weekend. Chairman Bill Hairston and approximately 30 actives and pledges washed and waxed the city's emergency vehicles to help the city in some way. The service in its fourth year was started by the national fraternity.

Alpha Psi Omega, Ohnimgohows Set Spring Tour Date

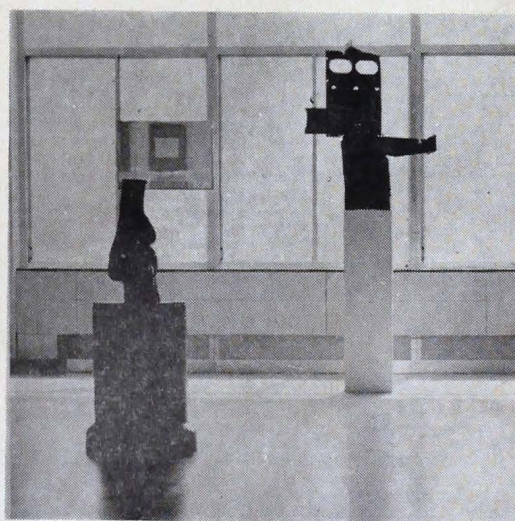

A smear of greasepaint, a little powder, a good luck wish of 'Break a leg', and on with the show as GSC's Alpha Psi Omega and Ohnimgohow Players prepare for the annual spring tour. A revue similar to the shows presented on the GSC stage each fall will be presented at the Brohard Community Center and Weston State Hospital on May 5 and 6, director J. Rodney Busch has announced.

Songs by Sally Nelson and Linda Lester, comedy monologues by Bill Lewis, Pat Kerr and Mr. James White, the fight scene from The Fantasticks, and the ever-popular sword battle and pie fights will be the features of the show.

Ohnimgohow has laid plans for the spring pledge class. Twenty-five GSC stage people have been invited to join the brotherhood of actors.

Ohnimgohow Players and Alpha Psi Omega are now in the process of selecting the winners of the awards to be presented at the annual awards banquet on May 16. Nominees for the Best Actor award are: Woody Wilson (Fantasticks), Dave Bennett (Fantasticks), William Monk (Becket), and Gary Farnsworth (Becket). Nominees for the Best Major Productions are: Becket and The Fantasticks. "Darius II," which won the "Best In Show" award, is on display in the multi-purpose room of the Pioneer Center till May 16.

GSC Election Appears Short In Organization

Elections have almost become a farce at GSC, it seems. In fact, they are so unimportant that the date on which they are to be held can be changed at a moment's notice. Rarely do students know when an election is taking place unless they just happen to stumble upon the polls.

In last week's election for officers of the Student Government Association—which should be an important event—the voting date was changed from Wednesday to Tuesday, and students knew of the alteration only if they happened to hear it by word of mouth. No posters were put up, no notices sent out. Perhaps that is one reason that only 48 per cent of the student body voted.

Other seeming irregularities accompanied last week's election, too. It was a bit abnormal to find the candidates themselves working at the polls registering voters and giving out ballots. And the voter registration consisted of signing one's name to a list. What better ways could be contrived to encourage ballot-box stuffing? This is not to accuse anyone of such an act, but only to point out that it would have been quite easy and tempting.

Surely a committee could be found which would work at the polls and which would be agreeable to all the candidates. Surely, too, student identification cards could be punched as a record of voting rather than having the voter sign a name (hopefully his own) to a list. Such a method would greatly reduce the possibility of someone's voting two, three, or more times.

Also, if elections were scheduled far in advance and the date were made known to the student body, there would almost certainly be a greater percentage of the enrollment casting ballots.

The recent election may have been completely above board, but the conditions under which it was conducted were not the best ones imaginable. With this in mind, perhaps the present Student Government Association will make some recommendations for improvements in voting procedures. If so, we will have profited from this experience.

Resident Desires Change In Women's Hall's Policy

Madam Editor:

I would like to bring to your attention some of the grievances which are confronting us here at Women's Hall. I feel I do not only speak for myself but for the majority of the women students who are living here.

I believe that when we arrived at Glenville College a point was marked in our lives that we were on our way to become mature adults. Since we have made this break from home and have made known our desires of wanting to reach adulthood, I feel we should be treated accordingly. However, I do not believe we have received this treatment at the present time. I know for myself that dormitory life has not proved to be what I had expected. Living here has seemed to be more of a continuation of high school than that of an expected college life.

We are required to be in by nine o'clock every night with a ten o'clock late permission. This seems to be an unjust treatment on our part, and I am sure if taken into consideration it would also appear this way to others. I believe that being in by ten o'clock each week night with an eleven o'clock late permission and additional time being allowed on week-ends would prove to be acceptable for all concerned. This would give students a more responsible attitude, and I am sure that their cooperation would comply with that which is expected of them.

Another situation occurring in the dorm concerns the hours in which we are able to watch television. This may seem to be a trivial problem to some, but to most of us it is much more. The extension of an hour to our present time allowance would bring about the solution of this problem. This way it would be till twelve o'clock instead of eleven. In most cases the students finish watching their programs at eleven, but this proposes a problem when a movie is extended to 11:30

TKE SPONSORS COURT BALL; LINDA LOCKARD IS SWEETHEART

"An Angel's Kiss in Spring" is the theme for the 34th annual Court Ball to be held on May 6. The event is sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon and will take place in the ballroom from 9-12 p.m.

Music will be provided by Ned Guthrie's eight-piece band from Charleston. The band features a saxophone, organ, drums, clarinet, and guitar. "Jo-Baby" is the leading vocalist for the group.

A 1967 Fiat sedan will be given away at the dance. Tickets for the drawing have been on sale since October and may be obtained from any TKE member.

Decorations for the ball will revolve around Nancy Sinatra's hit tune "Summer Wine." When one enters the Ballroom, he will walk on a red carpet through an archway of pink roses. There will be a wishing well, ferns with flowers, a log cabin with a waterfall, and the bandstand will be decorated with logs.

The Court Ball has been an annual event at Glenville since 1933 when the Holy Roller Court decided to make it its biggest dance of the year. The Holy Roller Court existed on GSC's Campus from 1928 until 1964, when it became the Iota Omega Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

In 1928 the Holy Rollers and the Buttermilk Court banned together to form the Holy Roller Court. The Court was a tradition of brotherhood on GSC's campus because of the way the Holy Rollers began.

It all started when a group of adventurous young students rolled commodes down the steps of Kanawha Hall (then the Student Union). When the faculty frowned upon this violence the students grouped together to keep from being expelled. They called themselves the Holy Rollers for obvious reasons and began to initiate new members.

Since 1964 Iota Omega Sweethearts have been selected before the ball. This year's sweetheart is Linda Lockard. Past queens have been Sandra Salyers Cox, 1966; Nancy Wilson Shanklin, 1965; and Cynthia Bennon, 1964.

Tickets for the Court Ball may be obtained from any TKE member or pledge for $3.00. The Court Ball Committee is composed of Jerry Rogish, James Moorehead, Jerry Starcher, Joe Davis, Harold Sinnett, and William Omar McMillian.

Resident Desires

and we must turn the television off at eleven o'clock.

One might ask the question, would this conflict with our studying? Well, I do not think so. Since we have come to college, we have learned to accept a certain amount of responsibility and allowing enough time for our studies had become a part of this responsibility. Therefore, I believe that we would not permit this to interfere with our study habits. I feel that we are at our own risk and no one else's if we let this time coincide with that which we have allotted for studying.

Something else which students are questioning is, why do we have a routine room check? We cannot help but feel that we are living in an army barracks instead of a dormitory. Again, I cannot help but bring up the idea that we have developed a sense of responsibility, and we know how to keep our rooms clean and neat without that routine inspection.

I know that our problems may seem to be minor incidents, but these are just a few examples of what we are experiencing at Women's Hall. If we are to become mature-minded adults, why can't we be treated as such? We are not demanding the impossible, but only some privileges we feel we have earned by coming to college.

Mary Hardman,
Resident of Women's Hall

Carol Gerlach Leads 4-H Club

He has conducted two concerts by the Jane Lew Young People's Choir and the Lewis County Chorus, respectively, for the past two Christmases. He arranged the script and directed THE SOUND OF MUSIC PRODUCTIONS, a musical revue held in Jane Lew last summer.

Lois Ingram, a music major at GSC, was nominated for the position of state secretary. She lost the election by only two votes.

The GSC Touring Choir, under the direction of Mr. Robert Ellis, served as a clinic choir for the annual All-State Music Convention held in Parkersburg the same weekend. The clinic, open to all members of the W. Va. All-State Chorus, was directed by Dr. David Swanzy, head of the GSC music department.

On May 13, the GSC chapter of MENC will play host to the Regional High School Choral Festival. According to Mr. Robert Ellis, the following high schools are scheduled to participate: Buckhannon-Upshur, St. Marys, Gassaway, Parkersburg, Spencer, Ravenswood, Ripley, and Williamson Jr. High.

ma Jean Wright, and Mrs. Eileen H. Wolfe.

Mr. McKown Receives '67 NSF Grant

Mr. Bernard McKown, assistant professor of science, has been awarded a National Science Foundation grant and has been chosen as one of about 50 college professors from the United States to participate in a physical science study program this summer.

A graduate of Glenville State College in 1956, Mr. McKown earned his M.A. degree at West Virginia University and has since done graduate study at Case Institute of Technology, Marshall University, and Cornell University.

Scheduled for eight weeks at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N. Y., the summer program in which Mr. McKown is participating will be for the purpose of testing new textbook materials. The college professors will work on a new physical science course which has been developed for college students in non-science fields. Experiments will be checked and any needed revisions will be suggested before the textbooks are published.

This will be the seventh summer institute in which Mr. McKown has participated, but the six previous ones were on the secondary, rather than college, level. No academic credit is given for the program.

DISCUSSION FOLLOWS FILM

Award winning motion picture "Gentleman's Agreement," will be shown in the Auditorium on Tuesday, May 2 at 6:30 p.m. Gregory Peck, Dorothy McGuire, John Garfield, and Celeste Holm are cast in leading roles.

This film tells the story of Philip Green, a magazine writer who decides to pretend that he is a Jew while doing an article on anti-Semitism in America. What he encounters in his office, his social group, and with the woman he loves shocks and confuses him. He then tries to bring to the world what he has learned through his experiences.

The campus community is invited to attend the film. A discussion of the issues in the film will follow for those who wish to remain. This film discussion is sponsored by the Glenville Wesley Foundation.

RIDING STABLES ARE POPULAR

Does anyone want to see a man about a horse? Bobby Jean Roberts is the man to see if horseback riding is desirable for an exciting afternoon.

Students can now rent horses at the Roberts Riding Stables any day that is desirable for $1.50 an hour from 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. After making a right-hand turn at the Dawson Farm the riding stables are five miles down the road on the right hand side just before the creek.

The riding stables are open summer round and horses can be rented by the month for $30.00. Horses can also be stabled for $30. per month.

Last year was the first year that the riding stables were open. There are now five horses available for riding.

Besides renting horses, Mr. Roberts also breeds work horses, teaches people how to ride, holds hayrides for groups that are interested, and raises cows.

There are 300 acres available to ride on at the Roberts Farm.

Margaret Lawrentz, Dixie Love, Joyce Nichols, and Rhonda Stowers, wearing their originally-designed silk screen printed dresses, sit around other examples of work done in the Art 320 class.

SILK SCREEN, BLOCK PRINTS REVEAL ORIGINALITY, SKILL

Projects and ideas developed in Art 320, textiles and design, last term proved beneficial to the participating students. Projects in silk screening, block printing, weaving, and stenciling resulted in creation of original wearing apparel, throw rugs, aprons, sheets, pillow slips, and table mats in a wide variety of colors and designs.

Silk screen designs are created by using a wooden frame with a design cut in profile and attached to organdy or silk with a solvent. The frame is placed on the material and textile paints are applied by dragging a squeegee across the fabric. Several female students used their designs and sewing talent to create some becoming spring dresses.

Block printing is done with linoleum blocks which have designs cut into them, and paint is transferred from the block to the fabric. Backgrounds and designs range in color from pink to black and dark green. Pastels were used for spring dresses and darker shades were used in rugs and mats.

Samples of class work have been exhibited in the main hall of the Administration Building during the past week.

ADE Sells Professors

Instructors and administrators have donated dinners, books, gas, and services to be auctioned at the Slave Auction Friday, April 28 from 7:30 - 10:30 at the ballroom. The auction will be sponsored by Alpha Delta Epsilon, the business fraternity. George Garton will be the auctioneer.

Mrs. Wright is furnishing a steak dinner for two at the Conrad Hotel. Miss Woolter agreed to put up the ironing of six shirts. Mrs. Wolfe will prepare dinner for four, the type decided later with Mrs. Wolfe. Mrs. Chico put up dinner for one at her home.

A hula skirt was put up by Mr. Busch. Dr. Ward will take lecture notes for a student for an hour in any class within reason. Miss West donated $2.00 of gas at the Log Cabin Esso Service Station in Glenville. A spaghetti dinner for two was put up by Mr. James White. Mr. Wells put up books.

Dr. Wilburn will take two couples out to eat. Mr. Deel donated 12 lines of bowling with some couple. Mrs. Higginbotham will take a couple to Clarksburg to eat either on a Friday or Saturday night. A ride on a Honda was put up by Dr. Chisler. Mr. Carlson put up a fondue party for a couple at his home.

The money from the auction will be used for a scholarship fund.

Alpha Delta Epsilon initiated 14 new members. They are: Sheryl Bode, Stephen Burke, James Bull, William Flesher, Jacqueline Hanlon, John Hays, and Garry Hill.

Charles Keefer, David Nelson, Beatrice Richards, Joanne Robinson, Brenda Shaver, Harold Sinnett, and Carolyn Wiggins.

All Organizations Must Submit Lists

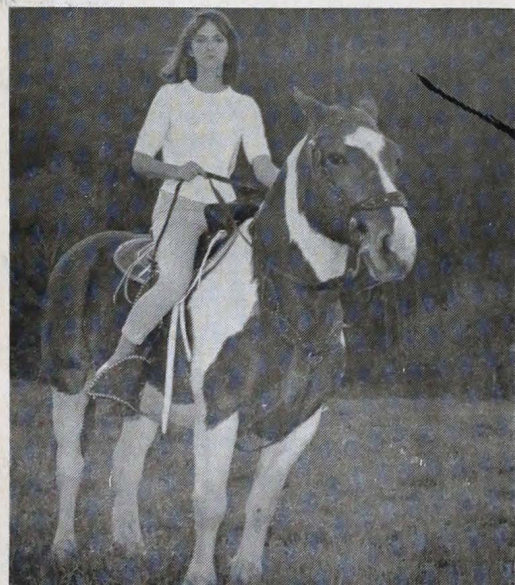

The yearbook staff has not received satisfactory response from campus organizations concerning the lists of organization members for the yearbook index. In order to complete the index, the KANA-WHACHEN must have complete lists from all organizations, including ball teams, of their members.

Any organizations that wish to purchase additional space in the yearbook should contact a member of the staff on April 28, between 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. in the Student Union. The cost will be $16 for a full page and $10 for a half page.

Staff members Linda Barnett, Jean Burke, Mary Brewer, Donna Hartman, and Gary Cross will also make appointments for group pictures on April 28 to be taken on Monday and Tuesday, May 1 and 2.

Library Furniture Is Received Here

Mr. Albert Carlson, librarian, has announced that new furniture has arrived and can now be seen on the second floor of the library. Mr. Carlson also stated that anyone from the town is welcome to use the library facilities as 90 new books have been received and are ready to go on file. One that may be of interest to education majors is College Begins at Two by Isabelle P. Buckley, which deals in special education of preschoolers.
