Alumni, parents, friends, and neighbors far and wide will make their way to "the friendly campus" tomorrow for the thirty-fourth annual Glenville State College Homecoming. While the campus is alive with excitement the graduates will return to survey the buildings, fields, and campus where they once crammed for exams, listened to the records in the student union, participated in sports, and competed for offices.

Festivities will begin with a snake dance tonight, starting at Verona Mapel Hall at 8 p.m. and winding through town to Rohrbough Field, where a pep rally and bonfire will be held. The football team, the Pioneer, and the cheerleaders will lead the activity.

Saturday's activities begin with the parade starting at 10 a.m. Mr. Wilbur Beall, an alumnus of the college, has been selected as Parade Marshall.

Mr. Ronald Ross, GSC band director, said at press time that of all the bands are invited, only West Virginia Wesleyan and Tygart Valley High School had confirmed their intent to participate in the parade.

David "Grub" Stephens, this year's Pioneer, will also participate in the Homecoming Parade and will assist the cheerleaders in encouraging enthusiasm.

Along with floats submitted by campus organizations, the parade will also feature the freshman, class members in their traditional garb of pajamas and short skirts.

Immediately following the parade, Queen Patricia Guzzie,

Freshmen Unfriendly

Dear Editor,

Since Tuesday, Sept. 12, GSC has been trying to adjust to the most unfriendly freshman class in many years. Not only do the freshmen refuse to speak to the upperclassmen they also refuse to speak to their own class members. These freshmen also think it is childish to wear their caps or carry their handbooks.

When some freshmen violators are called before the Kangaroo Court, they make excuses such as: "I don't have time to wear my beanie," "It reminds me of child-play," "It is too much trouble," "It is just a joke," "There is no reason for it," "My friends make fun of me," and the old familiar line, "I am in college to learn, not play games." When the Student Council representatives try to explain the freshman rules to the students accused of violating them, they speak belligerently and harshly to these officers.

Freshman rules were present at GSC long before the present upperclassmen or SGA officers were here. These rules were made to help encourage the friendly atmosphere that GSC is so well noted for. If it were not for these rules freshmen would not have the opportunity to meet or talk to many people. Perhaps the freshmen would feel unwanted — a very bad experience. Upperclassmen are only trying to help the freshmen adjust to a new way of life.

Freshmen must remember that their high schools are past experiences, that they must try to adjust to this new way of life and accomplish their goals set for a successful college career. The academic face of education is a very important face, but a student must adjust socially to complete a well rounded, successful college career.

OVERFLOW CROWD EXPECTED AT GAME

An overflow crowd is expected to attend the Homecoming Football Game, Saturday, October 14. Because of the extremely limited parking facilities near Rohrbough Stadium and the anticipated traffic congestion that will undoubtedly occur, students, alumni, and friends are urged to leave their cars on campus and to walk to the ball game.

New ADE Officers Participate in Sale

Programs for the 1967 GSC Homecoming football game will be sold on the street during the parade tomorrow morning, as well as at the game in the afternoon, Alpha Delta Epsilon business fraternity announces.

Plans for selling the programs were made at a special ADE meeting last week. At that time, Mr. William Roberts, fraternity sponsor, announced that the Wall Street Journal Award will be given this year to a graduating four-year business student.

Grades and leadership ability are the bases on which the selection will be made, and the person will receive a gold medal and a year's subscription to the Wall Street Journal.

Celeste White, a senior from South Charleston, is serving as president of ADE this year, Wayne Hinke, the vice president, is a senior from Clay.

Recording secretary, Daniel McIntyre, and corresponding secretary, Beatrice Richards, are both juniors from Jane Lew.

James Hinter, a junior from New Milton, is serving as treasurer, while Jim Bull from Walkersville is reporter.

Mrs. Vivian Wilburn Heads Faculty Wives In Fourth Year of Club

To promote friendship among faculty wives is the purpose of the Faculty Wives of Glenville State College.

This club, organized here four years ago, is headed by Mrs. Vivian Wilburn. The current membership of the organization is composed of 53 women whose husbands are members of the Glenville State College teaching faculty, wives of administrative officers, and wives of retired faculty members.

Activities of the club include regular meetings held at 10:00 a. m. on the first Wednesday of each month. Faculty Wives also sponsor an annual tea in early September in Honor of new Faculty wives and an annual spring luncheon in April.

Graduates Must Plan Repayment

Those students who have received financial aid and plan to graduate on Nov. 10 must schedule an exit interview with Mrs. Pauline Shackelford in the Loan Office. The purpose of this interview is to explain the privileges and obligations of the student loan program.

Repayment schedules and teacher cancellation for the students entering the teaching field are the primary concerns of this interview. Complete cancellation or cancellation of 15% to 50% of the loan is made possible under a new federal law for teachers.

Those who qualify under this new program must be teaching handicapped children, or be included among teachers in a school where there is a high concentration of low income families.

There is also a deferment of students who are entering higher education, the armed services, or the Peace Corps.

Take a tinge of autumn, a small West Virginia college with a picturesque campus, and a fine old American tradition known as "Homecoming." Mix well.

Add a "snake dance"; the coronation of Queen Patricia Guzzie; an exciting football game with the Bobcats of West Virginia Wesleyan; a parade, complete with floats, band, and pretty girls; the Big Blue Marching Band; and the alumni Dance with the Ned Guthrie Orchestra.

Blend in an assortment of old friends; a few parties; the proper amount of "old grads"; a blue-headed army freshmen in pajamas; a mile-long line of young men at the downtown florist's a magic dance with your best girl; and a certain amount of good old-fashioned college rah-rah.

Serve fresh and warm on a week end in October and call it Homecoming, 1967. Sip slowly...and enjoy.

'Truth' in Advertising

While the FCC is berating television for its cigarette commercials, we wish it would look into another aspect of TV ads aimed not at corrupting the youth but at demoralizing the adult. In TV commercials, nothing good happens to anyone past the age of discretion. Life not only doesn't begin at 40 it ends at 25.

Watch the people in these ads for a while. Teen-agers invariably have great, glistening teeth. Adults have dentures and bad breath. Boys switch hair grease and girls are glad. Men don't have hair. If they do, it is full of dandruff.

Boys douse themselves with shaving lotion and wait to beat off the women, like traps full of cheese. Older people go to a nearby movie and have to leave because their stomach is killing them. Girls have yards of blonde hair, full of body, and boys nuzzle it. Wives have gray hair and their husbands won't take them dancing.

Men work hard and get ahead, only to have some pimply assistant tell them they have bad breath. The teenage wife makes a cup of coffee and turns her husband into a sex maniac. The older wife washes, irons, mops floors and puts up with birds on the sink, and her husband comes home with a miserable headache and takes it out on her. Girls are always washing their hair, Wives are always washing dishes.

Teen-agers wear sneakers and sandals. Adults wear support hose. Teen-agers rub each other with suntan oil. Adults rub each other with liniment. Teen-agers spend a lot of time in boats, sports cars and swimming pools. Adults spend their time in doctors' offices and listening to tedious insurance peddlers. Young people romp through fields and sniff flowers. Adults get hay fever and sneeze. Young liniment. Teen-agers spend a lot of time in boats, sports cars and swimming pools. Adults spend their time in doctors' offices and listening to tedious insurance peddlers. Young people romp through fields and sniff flowers. Adults get hay fever and sneeze. Young people are always at the end of a glorious evening. Adults are always at the end of their rope.

Life is fun, fun, fun for the young. They can laugh even with their mouths full of hair. About the only happy time for an adult is when he has an accident and the insurance company pays off. It isn't fair. Worse, we have a feeling that it's all too true. -- Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal.

Books To Burn ?

Dear Editor,

The opportunity for Glenville State College students to support the college bookstore is available! Along with many GSC students I share a common interest in the new bookstore which is conveniently located on the street-level.

We, as students have the unique privilege of purchasing our books, supplies, and many little "goodies" in this attractively decorated, air-conditioned room in order to help our open display store. I propose that students not be allowed to sell used textbooks.

Because of the sale of used textbooks, I was deprived of helping this fledgling business enterprise-the bookstore. After purchasing a second hand paperback of Moby Dick, I discovered it could have been purchased for $1.50 as of fourth term last year. Yet, this was not the most exciting opportunity I missed. At the beginning of this school year the same paperback was listed at $1.75. Then, as of October 9, the purchase of the same paperback, same edition, was made available to the students for only $1.95.

Yes, the opportunities are unlimited for the GSC student to support the college bookstore. Thus, I further propose a second-hand book burning in front of the college bookstore in honor of such a dynamic example of private enterprise. This burning will also protect other students from my fate.

Gratitude Voiced

Fellow students,

I want to take this opportunity to thank you, The Students, for the increased interest and spirit you have shown in backing our Glenville State Pioneer Football Team so far this year.

I speak for the Student Government Association and the athletic department in saying that we have been proud of the following of the students. I am sure this attitude will continue and make this one of the finest years for athletics that GSC has ever had.

Our football team has shown they are a winning team, so give them the support of a winning student body. Tell them you care, show them you're proud, participate in all the events that back our team, win, lose, or draw; your interest denotes appreciation for the job they do.

A dedicated group of students were at the fieldhouse to meet the team when they arrived back from the W. Va. State game. I would like to quote what one player said when he stepped from the bus into the cheers and yells of Pioneer fans led by the cheerleaders. Even after a tiring game and a long trip, this player said, "It makes me want to play all over again."

Homecoming is this weekend and our team goes up once again to represent GSC. The Team will be successful, because if you show the same support you have during the past two games, they cannot lose.

Once again, thank you for your support and let me remind you this is Homecoming weekend. Make it the best one ever held at GSC. Take part in the snake dance, bonfire, and come out to back the team Saturday afternoon.

SGA President

Your Alumni Association is looking forward to an active and productive year. We urgently need your support and participation in order to realize our expectations.

Library Committee Meets; Carlson Is Chairman

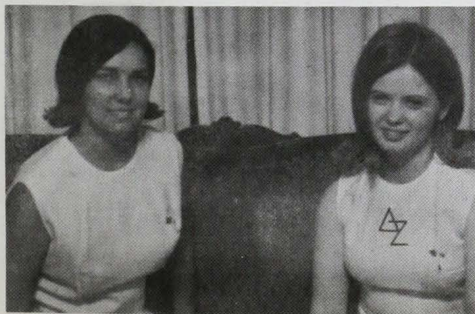

On Monday, Oct. 2, a Library Committee meeting was held in the librarian's office concerning the dedication of the new library. First concern of the meeting was the election of new officers and appointment of several subcommittees. The following people were unanimously elected as officers of the Library Committee for the coming year: Mr. Albert Carlson, Chairman and Miss Ann Kellerman, secretary.

Sub-committees which were appointed to help with the dedication exercises are as follows: banquet, Miss Virginia West and Mr. Albert Rauch; decorations, Mr. Albert Carlson; library tours, JoEllen Luzador and Vance Weekly; program, Mr. James Rogers and Mr. Bernard McKown; and parking, Miss Ann Kellerman and Mr. Howard Warren.

This fall the Library Committee which is one of the standing committees under the Glenville State College Faculty-Administrative Organization, will play an important part in a rare occasion, the dedication of the Robert F. Kidd Library.

The Library Committee consists of the librarian, one faculty member from each of the academic divisions, and two students appointed by the president of the Student Government Association. The duties of the committee are to recommend policies and procedures for the operation of the library and to assist in interpreting library policies.

The two new DZ initiates are Connie Via and Victoria Saunders.

GSC Hosts RCIE Meet

"The Historical Background of Eastern Europe" was the topic for discussion at the second meeting of the Regional Council of International Education (RCIE) hosted by Glenville State College on Oct. 6.

The seminar, attended by representatives from Concord College, Davis and Elkins, Fairmont State College, West Virginia University, and West Virginia Wesleyan College, was led by Dr. R.V. Burks from Wayne State University in Detroit.

Faculty members from the colleges discussed the history, problems, geography, customs, culture and people of those countries. "Communism in Eastern Europe countries," Dr. Burks stated, if it is even free to operate with even a considerable success is something for us to worry about.

Miss Helen "Tucker" Wood from the University of Pittsburgh serves as the administrative director while Mr. Nicholas Munin, associate professor of social science, serves as director of this year's seminar.

This is the second meeting held here with 12 being scheduled for the year. The next meeting will be Oct. 20 with the discussion being based upon the differences and developments between the historical background of the Russian Revolution and the historical background of Eastern Europe.

Open House Scheduled

Delta Zeta Sorority will hold open house after the ballgame tomorrow at the DZ house on East Main Street.

Judy Lamm has been appointed assistant treasurer, according to Candy Warren, public relations chairman.

Initiation of Vicki Saunders and Connie Via was held on Oct. 9.

As I See 'Em . . .

by Ken Cutright

Tomorrow, Oct. 14, Robert Craig Minniweather will become the sixteenth recipient of the Frank Montrose Award, the highest award given to a GSC athlete.

The award was initiated in the spring of 1952 when the Student Council decided to give an award to Glenville State College's outstanding senior class athlete. In naming the award, the committee endeavored to find a man who was a fine athlete, had a high scholastic record, and was of impeccable moral character. They didn't look any further than Frank Montrose.

Who Was Frank Montrose?

Frank Montrose came to Glenville after establishing his talents at Richwood High School. Frank's first game at Rohrbough field was while he was still a junior at Richwood High, when he led the Lumberjacks to a 7-0 victory over Glenville High School on Oct. 9, 1937. In the second quarter he returned a punt for a 60-yard touchdown and had another run of 65 yards, but was hauled down short of the goal.

Frank showed much promise as a freshman under Coach "Nate" Rohrbough, but failed to play in their opening game, a scoreless tie with Salem.

In the following four games against Morris Harvey, Bethany, West Liberty and Concord Frank saw only limited service. Disappointed with the 2-2-1 record to date, Coach Rohrbough used Frank frequently in the New River (now W. Va. Tech) game.

The 5'11", 163-pound freshman passed for a touchdown in leading the Pioneers to their third victory of the season.

Frank started the following game with Fairmont, scoring two touchdowns and passing for a third as Glenville outclassed Fairmont 27-8. Frank's first college TD came in the first period of this game when he returned a punt for 63 yards.

Against Sheppard, Frank ran wild, setting up the first TD with a 17-yard end sweep and scoring the next one on a 12-yard run. He ran 59 yards through a broken field for a third, and intercepted a pass and returned it 46 yards to set up the fourth. The final score was 34-0.

Frank played his final GSC game against Potomac State, when he led Glenville to a 7-0 victory.

After sitting out the first game and parts of the next four, Frank still received All-Conference mention.

The following spring, Frank went blind and dropped out of school. Shortly before Frank left school, Earl MacDonald, MERCURY sports writer, shook Frank's hand and said, "See you in September at training camp, Frank."

"Don't worry, I'll be back," replied Frank.

On June 21, 1940, the 21-year-old Frank died of nephritis in a Baltimore hospital.

Frank never made it back the next fall, but with the Frank Montrose Award, he is once again back at Glenville.

Five Seniors Play Last Homecoming Game With W. Va. Wesleyan Bobcats

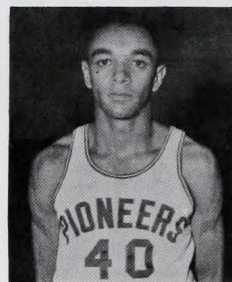

Five seniors will be playing in the final Homecoming game when the W. Va. Wesleyan Bobcats invade Glenville tomorrow afternoon.

Those boys in their final season at GSC are Frank Hughes, tackle from Harmony; Bill Piercy, guard from Weston; Tom Herold, center from Buffalo; John Flint, defensive halfback from Glenville; and Stan Boyles, offensive halfback from Buckhannon.

Glenville has won ten of the last eleven Homecoming games losing in 1961 to Wesleyan by a score of 20-6. Last year Glenville defeated W. Va. State 13-6, registering its initial victory of the season in the Homecoming game.

Glenville's first Homecoming game was played Nov. 14, 1931, when the Pioneers defeated Potomac State 38-7.

Wesleyan holds a definite edge in this series that dates back to 1909. Wesleyan has 23 victories, Glenville has seven victories, and there have been two ties. The last time Glenville beat Wesleyan was in 1963 by a score of 21-6.

Robert Minniweather

Court Ace Wins Honor

Bob Minniweather, who finished an outstanding athletic career for GSC last year, has become the sixteenth winner of the annual Montrose Award.

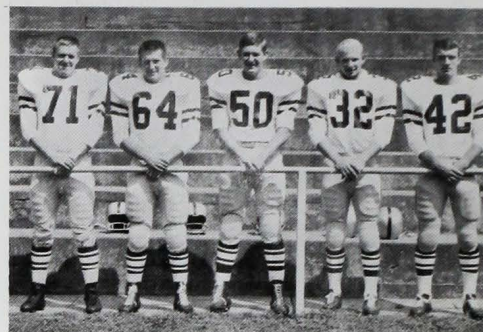

Bob was born in Clifton Forge, Va., but his family later moved to White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where he graduated from high school in the spring of 1963.

Bob entered GSC the following fall, majoring in physical education and social studies. He was a regular of the Pioneer basketball squad that year, averaging 12.0 points a game.

His sophomore year he received All-Conference honorable mention and the following year was named to the WVIAC All-Conference first team, averaging 21.0 points per game.

During his senior year at Glenville, Bob led the team in rebounds for the fourth consecutive year and averaged 22.0 points a game to become the third highest scorer in GSC history with 1825 points. He was named to the All-Conference first team again, as well as All-American honorable mention.

After basketball season, Bob decided to try the newly formed Pioneer track team. When the Pioneers traveled to Wheeling, Bob pulled one of the 2 biggest upsets in the meet, winning both the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash.

GSC Undefeated As Tech Falls 7-0

Glenville crushed the visiting Golden Bears from W. Va. Tech in every statistical department possible, defeating them 7-0 in the first Parent's Day game Saturday at Rohrbough Field.

Glenville took the opening kickoff and started play on their own 27-yard line. Tom Hought carried the ball to the 30 and Steve Seals carried five yards to the 35. After Hought picked up the first down, Stan Boyles hit off the left side for 10 yards and another first down. An 11-yard pass play from Marcus McPhail to Bill Frost took the ball to Tech's 39-yard line, from where Hought carried to the 31.

A three-yard jaunt, again by Hought, gave Glenville a first and ten situation on the 28-yard line. Three successive running plays took the ball to the 22, where on a fourth and four situation, Boyles hit off left tackle and ran the remaining distance for the TD. Frost's kick for the point after was good, giving Glenville a 7-0 edge.

Although Glenville threatened again on several occasions, they could not score. Fumbles and penalties halted several GSC scoring drives. In the third quarter, Jim Sprague took a punt on his own 14-yard line and galloped 86 yards for the apparent TD, only to have it nullified by a clipping penalty.

The Pioneer defense again played a key role in the victory, holding Tech to 30 yards rushing in the first half and 12 yards rushing in the second. At the same time, the passing was held to a total of 44 yards.

Tech's deepest penetration came late in the fourth quarter, when they drove to Glenville's 35-yard line, where Sprague halted the drive, with his second interception of the day.

Besides Sprague's two interceptions, John Noland had one, while John Flint broke up several important pass plays. Also outstanding on defense were Joe Painter, Dick Haynes, Dale Sheets, and Jim Frasier.

Assistant Coach Earl Adolfsen and Head Coach Bill Hanlin discuss tactics for tomorrow's Homecoming game against Wesleyan.

Six Players Are Honored

Coaches Hanlin and Adolfson have announced their selections as players of the week in Saturday's game with W. Va. Tech.

The offensive back of the week award goes to senior halfback Stan Boyles. Stan ran the ball a total of 17 times for 102 yards and one touchdown. The touchdown followed the opening kickoff, covering 22 yards.

Offensive lineman of the week honors go to sophomore tackle Mick Latstetter. Mick's sharp blocking was noticed in the yardage gained over his position.

Defensive back of the week was a three-way tie among John Flint, Jim Sprague and John Noland. Jim Sprague had two interceptions and a nullified touchdown run. John Noland had one interception and, along with John Flint, broke up passes in key situations.

Defensive lineman of the week is Dick Haynes. Dick, a defensive end, had 10 tackles, several of these deep in the opponents backfield.

Game Room Has Changes

This year it is apparent that there are a few changes. Most have helped to liven up the social atmosphere of the GSC campus. Mr. Hicks, Director of the Student Union, announces that the Game Room has made an addition of two bowling lanes making the total six. The number of pool tables has been increased to eight.

This year, unlike any other, there is a system that if the head red pin is hit and is a strike, one bowler wins a free game. There has been several winners thus far.

Lockers for storage of bowling bags and equipment are available at a rental of $1.00 a school year and a refundable key rental of $1.00.

Newly renovated snack bar in the union was constructed at a cost of approximately $30,000, including equipment. Among its additions are French fries and pizzas. There are plans for expansion of this facility to offer a wider variety of snacks.

Senior Stan Boyles led the offensive assault, carrying 17 times for 102 yards and one touchdown. Steve Seals had 63 yards and Hought gained 57 yards.

Glenville gained 252 yards rushing and 75 passing as compared to Tech's 42 rushing and 44 passing. The Pioneers picked up 20 first downs to Tech's 6 and intercepted three passes while Tech pilfered one.

Six Cheerleaders Enthuse Crowd

Beverly Butler became the fifth GSC cheerleader after a recent election of the Student Government Association to add an additional member to the squad.

Miss Butler, along with other cheerleaders, Catherine Nocida, captain, Brenda Short, Sylvia Comer, and Christine Creighton, will lead the Pioneer supporters during the Homecoming game tomorrow at Rohrbough Field.

Cheerleaders were elected by the entire student body on Sept. 20 in an all-campus election.

Patricia Jay, a freshman from South Harrison High School, was named as the alternate. She is a physical education major.

Marching Band, Majorettes Enhance Downtown Parade

The tall, lean drum major will blow his whistle, the rhythmic drummers will pick up the cadence, and eight pert majorettes will strut with pride as the Pioneer Marching Band joins hundreds of students, faculty members, and alumni in this year's Homecoming festivities.

Under the direction of Ronald Ross and co-direction of Edward Vineyard, the sixty-six piece band will contribute its music and marching maneuvers to the occasion.

Wearing their year-old navy blue uniforms, the G.S.C. band will be performing in Saturday morning's parade and the afternoon's game. Joining the Pioneer Band will be the Wesleyan College Band and Tygart Valley High School Band from Mill Creek.

There is a possibility of participation of one or two other area bands, but because of the coinciding date of the Black Walnut Festival in Spencer, many bands which may have otherwise attended GSC's celebration will go to Spencer, according to Mr. Ross.

The Pioneer Band appreciates the enthusiasm it has received from the student body and hopes it will be a trend," says Ross. "The band serves as an instrument of school spirit and I hope that loyalists to school heritage can become a tradition."

ASA Takes Hayride

Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority held a hayride last Saturday night beginning in the vicinity of Spurgeon's Mortuary. They wound through Cox's Mill and ended at the Lion's Club Park where refreshments were served.

On October 6, ASA conducted a workshop at the home of Mrs. Robert Bence. They also worked on projects for Homecoming, announced Sharon Dutton, editor for ASA.

Miss Jo Ann Luzader and Mrs. Robert Bence will serve as advisors for this year, Miss Dutton, also announced.

Two-Wheelers' Danger, Popularity Make For A Vicious Cycle

If you have a secret death wish, the back of a motorcycle seems a good place to get it fulfilled.

A motorcyclist's chances of being killed are roughly five times greater than those of an automobile driver, according to an article in the October Reader's Digest. With more than two million cycles registered, accident deaths last year reached 2160.

There are ways to stop - or at least to minimize - this carnage, reports author Fred Warshofsky. But nobody is pushing them hard enough—not schools, not government, not the industry, not even parents.

For example, it is known that crash helmets save lives. But are they mandatory? While 26 states do require them, others have held up legislation, partly, says Warshofsky, because of resistance from the motorcycle lobby which fears that making helmets compulsory may cut sales. (It doesn't, though, as states with such legislation have learned.)

With one study revealing that 70 percent of motorcycle deaths are caused by head injuries, and another report finding that helmets cut in half the risk of death, the case for compulsory helmet-wearing is a compelling one. And a University of North Carolina study showing that 24 percent of all accident victims were passengers provides ample reason why they, as well as the drivers, should be required to wear helmets.

Proper education of motorcyclists is another must, says the Digest. Experts agree that lack of experience is the single most important cause of cycling accidents. A Minnesota study showed that one in every five accident victims was riding for the first or second time. And in that North Carolina U. survey, 30 percent of the victims had been riding for less than a month.

While there are many ways for a person to learn how to drive a car -- school training courses, parental instruction, profession teachers -- competent instruction in driving a motorcycle is all but nonexistent, the article says. Not one high school has an adequate motorcycle-training course according to Dr. Thomas Seals of the National Education Association.

All of this adds up to a need for requiring that every cyclist have a motorcycle driver's license, yet only 21 states have laws requiring them.

Of the other recommendations in the article, one is certain to be the most controversial. It comes from George England, Motor Vehicles Director of Washington, D. C., who urged that all cycles with rear seats be equipped with grab bars for the passenger.

"For one thing," he said, "it would keep the girl's arms from around her guy's middle and that might help keep her guy's mind more completely on his driving."

But, Mr. England, the girl on the back is why some guys take up motorcycling in the first place!

M. Crissman To Head Women's Organization

Officers of the Women's Organization of Glenville State, better known as WOGS, were chosen Oct. 2 in an election open to all GSC women. Mary Ann Crissman, president of Women's Hall, was elected as head of the group.

Vice president will be Anne Wilkes, a newly chosen majorette, and Clarksburg sophomore Ellyn Meadows will act as recording secretary.

Selected as corresponding secretary was Patricia Metz, and treasurer is Patricia Paugh. Both Miss Metz and Miss Paugh are physical education majors.

Although the constitution for WOGS was drawn up and approved in the spring of 1965, this is the first year that officers have been elected and the group has become active.

Purposes of the organization are to regulate some matters pertaining to the conduct of GSC woman students, to serve as a medium to maintain the standards and ideals of the college, and to stimulate the development of democracy and good citizenship.

Gilmer Heads Enrollment

With the addition of extension and part-time students, the GSC enrollment figures have changed somewhat. However, Gilmer county still leads all other West Virginia counties with 189, and second is Wood with 170 students.

Lewis county is third with 110 and fourth is Braxton with 107 students. Kanawha is next in line with 99, followed by Nicholas with 93 students.

Ritchie, Jackson, and Webster each have 56 students enrolled in Glenville State College.

There are 54 students from Calhoun enrolled at GSC, Harrison has 49, Roane 46, Greenbrier 44, and Upshur 37.

Wirt county enrolled 30; Clay had 27, and Pocahontas county has 26, Mason county has 25 and Pleasants county has 24. Tyler and Doddridge counties both have 21 enrolled while Fayette has 20 and Randolph 19.

Wetzel county enrolled 14, Raleigh 13, and Boone 11. There are 8 students from Putnam county, 7 from both Wayne and Marion. Marshall county has 6 enrolled, Barbour 5, Logan and Monongalia each have 4 and Taylor has 3.

Those counties enrolling 2 students are Wyoming, Cabell and Brooke. And those counties having one student enrolled are Tucker, Summers, Preston, Pendleton, Mineral, Mercer, Lincoln, Jefferson, and Hancock.

Joe Moss Exhibits Auditory Sculpture

Joe Moss of West Virginia University will be represented here next week by some controversial works of the new art media of auditory sculpture. Moss' work will appear in an exhibition sponsored by the W. Va. Humanities Society.

The exhibition, entitled "W. Va. Artist on the Move," will be on the Glenville Campus for three weeks beginning October 17. This stop is part of a year-long cultural tour throughout the state.

Many different art media representing many different West Virginia artists will be shown at this exhibition in the multipurpose room of the Pioneer Center. Students and faculty may view the art works from 9:30 until 4:00 at no charge.

TIME SHEETS SHOULD BE TURNED IN EACH MONTH

Mr. Larry Lamb, Financial Aid Officer, announced last week that work study supervisors should turn in student time sheets on the last day of each month. Workshop time sheets are still to be turned in on the last day of the month.

Dr. Max Ward, demonstrates the use of the department's closed circuit television set to an interested student.

Educational Television Used By Biology Dept.

Educational television is not reserved solely for large universities, as some students believe. In fact, the GSC biology department has been using closed circuit television to study laboratory materials since February of this year.

Although the TV camera has three lenses for varying distances, Dr. Max Ward, chairman of the division of science and mathematics, stated last week that the lenses are rarely used. Instead, the camera is usually placed over the microscope, and the microscope lense serves as the camera lense.

In this way, a slide can be shown to an entire class at the same time, and specific characteristics can be pointed out. This saves time and is a more efficient method than explanations to individual students.

COMMITTEE HOLDS MEETING

On Monday, Oct. 2, a Library Committee meeting was held in the librarian's office concerning the dedication of the new library. First concern of the meeting was the election of new officers and the appointment of several subcommittees. The following people were unanimously elected as officers of the Library Committee for the coming year: Mr. Albert Carlson, chairman and Miss Ann Kellerman, secretary.

Subcommittees which were appointed to hold with the dedication exercises are as follows: banquet, Miss Virginia West and Mr. Albert Rauch; decorations, Mr. Albert Carlson; library tours, JoEllen Luzader and Vance Weekley; program, Mr. James Rogers and Mr. Bernard McKown; and parking, Miss Ann Kellerman and Mr. Howard Warren.

Psychologist Reveals Secrets of Happiness

Well, What? What are the magic ingredients - if they exist - that make some people happier than others? How can you obtain them?

Ever since Aristotle students of human relations have struggled with questions, the latest to do so is a Brandeis University psychology professor, Abraham H. Maslow, who for thirty years has been questioning the happiest people he could find to discover what makes them tick.

His findings, reported in the October Reader's Digest, offer real hope that we all can increase our "happiness quotients."

Professor Maslow's subjects included colleagues, students, friends, and people in public life. In most ways they were like the rest of us, he says. "Yet they seemed to have an extra dimension - the ability to use themselves fully, to become everything they were capable of being."

These people share several important traits in common. They like their work, feel dedicated to it. "I never met a happy individual who was not committed to a job or cause outside himself," says Professor Maslow. Also, they have a high degree of self-acceptance.

"Thoroughly conversant with their own impulses, desires, and opinions, they don't have to steal a glance at the label before commenting on the product, or consult the reviews before deciding whether or not they like a new play or movie or book," the article notes.

Like Christopher Columbus, these people feel that the unknown is challenging and attractive, rather than fear-inducing. And they accept the world as it is, rather than complain because it doesn't meet their standards.

Professor Maslow has invented a name for these happy people: "self-actualizers." They are not geniuses; the article insists, to our comfort. For genius is an inexplicable gift, either present or not. But the capacity for happiness would seem to be within each of us, needing to be cultivated, like a tennis shot.
