

The Glenville Mercury

Vol. XXXIX, No. 6

Glenville State College, Glenville, W. Va.

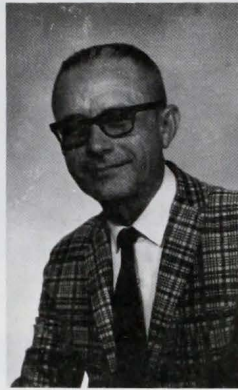

Wednesday, November 1, 1967

Dr. Quintus C. Wilson

Dr. Hunter P. McCartney

Mr. W. R. Summers, Jr.

Focus-On-Teaching Day Held On Campus

Focus on Teaching Day is being sponsored for five outstanding seniors from each of 30 area high schools today on the GSC campus. The event is a joint project of Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary fraternity, and the local chapter of the Student National Education Association.

Elaine McHenry, vice president of Kappa Delta Pi, will open the meeting by greeting the students, after which President D. Banks Wilburn will give a welcome. Dean Delmar K. Somerville will speak on teacher preparation, Mr. Beryl Langford, Registrar, will give a talk on admission to college, Mr. Larry Lamb, Financial Aid Officer, will explain financial assistance available, and services of the Office of Student Affairs will be presented by Dr. Alfred Billips, Dean of Students.

Beginning at 11:00 a.m., there will be guided tours of the campus for the visiting students. The guides will be members of Kappa Delta Pi and SNEA. Tours will end at noon with lunch being served in the cafeteria.

Afternoon session will begin at 1:00 in the Auditorium with Dr. Billy Ross, chairman of the education department, speaking on teaching as a career. From 1:30 to 2:30, representatives of the various academic areas will be stationed in the ballroom for interviews with the students.

At 2:30, there will be a reception for participating students, with the GSC stage band, under the direction of Dr. David Swanzy, furnishing the entertainment. The day's events will conclude with adjournment at 3:00 p.m.

Robert Kulp Named Director of Food Service At College

Robert R. Kulp has been named Director of Food Services at Glenville State College, according to President D. Banks Wilburn. Mr. Kulp assumed his duties Monday at the college cafeteria.

Formerly employed in the Oswego, New York, public schools and Stonfer's Food Service, Massachusetts Institute of Technology of Cambridge, Mass., Kulp is a graduate of Cornell University. He holds a B. S. degree in Hotel Restaurant Management from the School of Hotel Administration. He fills a position at the college which has been vacant since August.

The new director is married and has a daughter, 16, and a son, 13.

Silk Screen Printing

How would you like to have various articles with your organizational emblem or letters on them? On Nov. 14, Alpha Rho Tau, the art club, will begin silk screen printing for any interested parties.

Silk screen printing can be (Continued on Page Four)

Western Regional Workshop Attracts Area's Journalists

First Western Regional Newspaper Workshop will be held this Saturday, Nov. 4, on the Glenville State College campus. Fifty high schools from the following counties were invited to send representatives: Wood, Gilmer, Clay, Roane, Kanawha, Braxton, Nicholas, Fayette, Calhoun, Wirt, Harrison, Ritchie, and Upshur.

West Virginia University's journalism department will conduct the session. Representation conduct the session. Representing WVU and conducting workshop classes will be Dean Quintus C. Wilson, Dr. Hunter Pell McCartney, and Professor W. R. Summers Jr.

Dr. Quintus C. Wilson, professor and dean of the school of journalism at West Virginia University, has held positions on Midwestern newspapers for more than 25 years. Prior to moving to West Virginia he established the Journalism Department at the University of Utah. He held positions as lecturer, instructor, and assistant professor in the school of journalism at the University of Minnesota from 1942 to 1948.

Professor Wilson is former president of the American Society of Journalism School Administrators and past national president of Kappa Tau Alpha, national honorary journalism society. He also is a member of the accrediting committee of the National Council for Education in Journalism.

Dr. Hunter Pell McCartney, Director of Public Relations Sequence of WVU, will speak on "Journalism Today". Dr. McCartney is a member of American Marketing Association, American Association for the Advancement of Science, Society of Technical Writers and Publishers, and American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics. Dr. McCartney has his biography in Who's Who in Space, 1966-67.

Director of Advertising Sequence at WVU, Professor W. R. Summers, Jr., will discuss "Advertising to Build Your Newspaper". Mr. Summers is treasurer of the American Academy of

(Continued on Page Four)

36 Students Complete Work; Nov. 10 Set For Graduation

Dean Delmar K. Somerville of Glenville State College has announced the prospective graduates for Nov. 10 of this year.

Completing the A. B. degree in education with their listed fields are: Loretta Catherine Ash, elementary; Pamela Sue Beall, elementary; Sandra Louise Booth, mathematics and school librarian; Dale Stephen Campbell speech and social studies; Delford Franklin Chaffin, physical science and mathematics.

Richard Chalfant, mathematics and physical science; Mary Patricia Will Davis, vocational home economics; Paul James Dericco, social studies and business principles; David Allen Evans, social studies and business principles; Patricia Ann Cox Evans, business occupational and school librarian.

Magaret Ann Glenn, business occupational and social studies; Helen Sue Gould, elementary; Helen Marie Grove, mathematics and physical science; Samuel C. Halstead, physical education and art (Grades 7-12); Peggy Anne James, English and speech; James Tilden Javins, business principles and social studies.

Maraget Anderson Lawrentz, elementary; Sharon DeFranco Lucas, speech and social studies; Cheryl McNeill Mc-

Callister, business principles and occupational; Wilbur Stanton Matthews, elementary; Robert Craig Minnieweather, physical education and social studies; Juanita Fay Morton, elementary.

Roy Arnold Moss, elementary; Grace Lestelle Nocida, English and speech; Carol Mae Lovett Owens, elementary; Shirley Daugherty Pifer, speech and school librarian; Harvey Monroe Roberts, social studies and business principles; Lucille Adkins Thomas, elementary; Theodore Kenneth Tuel, Biological and general science and social studies.

Patricia Diane Walcutt, social studies and school librarian; Ruth Ann Miller Weese, elementary; Linda Carolyn Wiggins, business occupational and social studies; and Billy Ruddell Yerkey, physical science and mathematics.

Completing the A. B. degree in business administration are Harold Veon Long, who Majored in business administration and minored history, and Clifton Perry Neal, Jr., who also majored in business administration and minored in history.

Completing the B. S. degree is Kenneth Eugene Johnson, who majored in biological science and minored in physics.

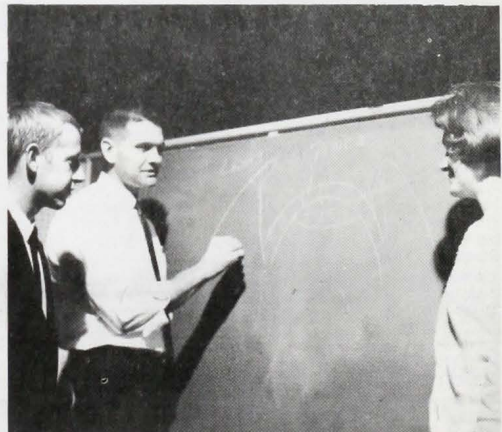

Albert Must OK Posters

Student Government Association's new "Spirit '68 Campaign," now in full swing recently underwent a few rule changes.

Posters, banners and gimmicks must now be submitted for approval at SGA meetings, held each Tuesday evening at 6:30. Formerly these were approved by the office of the Dean of Women.

In order to receive points, posters must be submitted to and approved by Jack Albert, campaign chairman, at each SGA meeting.

Point designations will continue to be the same: Three points for a large poster, one point for a small poster, five points for a spirit gimmick, and ten points for a banner.

Dr. M. J. Constantin of the Agricultural Research Laboratory of the University of Tennessee explains "The Role of Radiation in Plant Growth and Development" to some GSC students. Dr. Constantin spoke here last Thursday, Oct. 26.

Mice or Men?

About three weeks ago, we published an editorial pointing out an inconsistency concerning the Kanawhachen. As it was previously stated, "Why should any student be forced to purchase a yearbook and then be charged two dollars to have his picture included in it?"

The editorial was written as a result of complaints whispered among the student body. First, students wanted a professional yearbook for their money (theoretically $5). When a person is forced to buy a yearbook, he expects the usual criteria: student portraits, as well as pictures of sports events, social events, and campus organizations. Second, all expenses for these services should be included in the sale price of the book. If the money collected on sales is insufficient, the sale price should be raised and collected from students at registration.

We still feel that it is somewhat inconsistent to sell a year book to a student and then charge him two dollars for his student portrait, which is a well-established tradition of most year books.

Maybe we were a little hasty in assuming that the student body would be interested in knowing where his two dollars are spent. The inconsistency, judging from the lack of reaction and interest, seems to be of no concern to our students, so we of the Mercury staff will just drop the subject and apologize for bringing up such a trivial matter. If students want no explanation, we shall not force the issue.

Were someone to ask, "Are we mice or are we men?" most GSC students would probably be unconcerned. If someone were to tell us that we are mice, we would probably just accept it.

Dennis Myers

Monk Defends Library

(Editor's Note: This letter appears exactly as received by the MERCURY staff)

Dear Editor:

In the short time Albert Carleson has been on this campus, he has taken a musty old library and turned it into a progressive one in which it is pleasant to study and to do research. The books and periodical publications now appearing in the Robert F. Kidd Library and those best suited to student needs.

Mr. Carleson and his staff, including the students who work in the library, are always cordial, helpful, and courteous. They work and with diligence. The library is modern and comfortable, and certainly should serve as a model for future buildings on campus.

Why then, should a student complain that the library embarrasses him, when in all actuality, it is this student's initial irresponsibility they kindled his unfortunate situation?

Why should students complain of incomplete magazines, misplaced books, poorly indexed microfilm files, broken microfilm machines, and other short-comings, when irresponsible students--not the librarian and his staff--are the cause?

Why should a student complain of unenforced rules when he is among the violators? Would students prefer that the nooks and crannies of the library be patrolled regularly by a uniformed policeman? Does this student want to be treated like a child? It would seem so.

If he is hurt so much by his name appearing on a mimeographed sheet, and if writing a few letters scars his sensitive feelings so deeply, then this person should possibly be considered a special case. Therefore, I suggest that a mobile library unit be formed to cater to the needs and wants of this sensitive student.

Perhaps then we'll get some peace and quiet around here.

William Monk

Finest Homecoming

Dear Editor:

Homecoming 1967, from beginning to end, was undoubtedly one of the finest Homecoming observances we have ever held at GSC. The success of this year's Homecoming and the congratulations for a job well done must go to the hundreds of students whose participation, efforts and enthusiasm contributed to this successful day.

The Alumni Association is not only proud of the student participation but is sincerely thankful for the cooperation it received from the students and the Student Government Association. This year's cooperative effort will most certainly be remembered and used as a model for future planning.

Robert K. Gainer
Director of Alumni Affairs

THE GLENVILLE MERCURY
The Student Newspaper
Glenville State College
Telephone Ext. 294

STAFF

Editor	Barbara Davis
News Editor	Dennis Myers
Sports Editor	Kenneth Cutright
Photographer	Pat McCartney
Columnist	William Lewis
Cartoonist	Tom Dailey
Circulation Editor	Janet Kesterson
Typists	Judith Posey, Carol Kessler, Mary Sue Frashure
Advertising Manager	Newton Nichols
Reporters	Ellida Allen, James Bull, Kathryn Casto, Robert Cribbs, Marie Davis, Mary Hardman, Emil Hoffman, Ronald Riggs, Jeanne Rockhold, and Vance Weekley.
Adviser	Yvonne H. King

Printed by the Grantsville News, Grantsville

'Anything Goes' as the DZ's take-off on a 'Faculty Meeting' during their Extravaganza held last week. Do you recognize any familiar characteristics?

Faculty Meeting Featured In DZ Extravaganza, 1967

Delta Zeta Sorority presented "Anything Goes" last Thursday evening, Oct. 27. The annual Extravaganza consisted of songs sung by the entire cast, a village reading, solos, twirling routines, folk songs, comedy, a special dedication to the senior class, a surprise skit, semi-classical music, and dance routines.

Misses of ceremonies was Judy Dobbins, who presented the Extravaganza to the audience. The Extravaganza opened with the song "Cabaret" sung by the entire cast. Following the opening number, the program was as follows: "It Doesn't Pay to Be Hip," narrated by Judy Elkins; "Old Cape Cod," sung by Karen Yoak; a baton routine, "Strutting with Maria," was performed by Ellen Hartley and Anne Wilkes.

The Gentle ones, a group of five girls consisting of Karen Boston, Gloria Halbert, Pat Mancinelli, Sue Hale, and Shirley McIntyre, sang folk songs. Ukelele Talk, a monologue skit, was sung by Connie Montgomery and Judy Dobbins. The "Alma Mater" and "Anything Goes" were sung by the cast. Karen Yoak sang "Alfie"; a skit, "Faculty Meeting," was performed by the DZ players; "Feed the Birds" and "I Feel Pretty" were sung by Shirley McIntyre and Karen Yoak. The Damm Dolls, Judy Dobbins, Patti Guzzi, Becky James, Marilyn Taylor, and Connie Montgomery, presented a dance routine to the music of "Whipped Cream," and last, the cast sang "Mystic Shadows".

Accompanying the girls on the piano was Lynn Stotler.

Other Cast members consisted of Penny Atkinson, Janet Barclay, Darlene Barnes, Vicki Brown, Kay Boggess, Loretta Bailes, Nicky Boso, Janis Carter, Sylvia Comer, Sandra Davis, Jean Goudy.

Shirley Hardman, Judy Lamm, Janet Lantz, Carolyn Lightner, Leanna Long, Myra McKee, Julia McLaughlin, Vicki Saunders, Roberta Shank, Marilyn Sue Strickling, Connie Vandy, Candy Warren, Helen Wilson.

Alpha Rho Tau Cleans Monument of Principal

Alpha Rho Tau, the art fraternity, believes in preserving and keeping attractive any specimen of art work. Tuesday, Oct. 31 at 3:30, some of the art students of GSC took a field trip to Burnsville to clean the monument of T. Marcellus Marshall, the first principal of Glenville Normal School.

Thinking this 30-foot marker had too long been neglected, the members of ART cleared the brush from around it and made various other improvements to make the monument more attractive.

Among other activities, Alpha Rho Tau is planning a trip to Pittsburgh, Pa., for the weekend of Nov. 17 to visit the Pittsburgh International Art Show.

Happening

with

Bill Lewis

GSC's production of The Madwoman of Chailot will be presented Nov. 15, 16, and 17, not 21, 22, and 23, as we said last week.

The Legend of the Lake

According to an ancient Indian legend, a lake not far from here got its name in a rather unusual way. The legend goes like this.

Many years ago, when nothing polluted the sky except smoke signals, there were two tribes of Indians who lived on opposite sides of a huge, vast lake. The lake was very deceiving.

The calm, smooth, motionless surface disguised huge undercurrents that could pull a struggling swimmer under or smash a birch bark canoe into the rocky shore. Therefore, the Indians never used the lake as a means of transportation, which was all right because the two tribes had been at war for many moons.

The war went on for years, but as in all wars, love finally won in the end; for a beautiful young Indian maiden from one tribe fell madly in love with a handsome young warrior from the other tribe. Each evening as the sun would set, the two lovers would go down to their respective sides of the lake, and, when the wind blew in a certain direction, they found that they could hear each other speak. So every evening for an entire year they followed this ritual.

Then, one evening as the young warrior was telling his sweetheart of his great love for her, he decided that he could no longer stand to be separated from her.

He yelled across the waves, "My Darling, my love, I can stand it no longer. I'm coming across to you!"

Before the maiden could say anything to stop him, he dove into the icy waters of the lake. As he was swimming toward her, she cried, "Go back, my darling, before you get hurt!"

But it was too late. The undercurrents pulled the warrior under and he drowned.

Soon the two tribes met on the top of a mountain overlooking the lake. They signed a peace treaty and swore to end their ancient war. As they owed everything to the young brave, they named the lake after him.

Yes, the lake was named for this heroic young warrior who sacrificed his very life for the things he cherished most: love and peace. The lake was named for him and you can find it on the map today--Lake Stupid.

Movies, Band Discussed

Free movies, a popular dance-band, and faculty use of bowling lanes were topics of discussion at the Student Government Association meeting Tuesday, Oct. 24.

SGA is trying to obtain recent movies from a theatrical agency. These movies will be shown free to the students at GSC.

A popular dance band to play at a dance next term has been discussed. Investigation of a band, which would be popular among the students on campus, has been debated for weeks.

Faculty at Glenville has been granted permission to use four of the six bowling lanes on each Friday night.

As I See 'Em . . .

by Ken Cutright

Two weeks ago the Pioneers of Glenville State College had a perfect 4-0 record with half of the schedule behind them. The last half of the schedule contained two undefeated, NAIA ranked teams. The Pioneers faced three consecutive trips to foreign soils before returning home for the season's finale with always-tough Salem.

Two of the three away games are now history, and the Pioneers' record has dropped to 4-2. Fairmont, the conference leader, knocked Glenville from their perch and Westminster, whom Glenville has not defeated in five games, made it two in a row.

Westminster, the second ranked defensive team in the country, and Fairmont, the number four offensive team and the tenth ranked NAIA team in the country, have proved too much for the Pioneers. The Pioneer defense, once third in the nation, has allowed 55 points and 985 yards in the last two games, as compared to 20 points and 516 yards in their first four games.

What has happened to the powerful Pioneer ball club? The answer to this is indeed elusive. A new factor was introduced in the last two ballgames. The Pioneers were away from home for only the second and third times this season. Although the enthusiasm at Fairmont was wonderful, it could not be compared to that of the preceding week at Homecoming. At Westminster, save a few seats, the GSC cheering section was bare.

At Westminster also, the Pioneers played in what was, by far, the worst weather conditions to date. Throughout most of the game there was a continual spitting of sleet and rain in the 40 degree weather.

In an athletic contest, the difference between the winner and the loser is the attitude of the involved players. When two teams are physically even, the team with the winning attitude, the one who wants it will emerge on top. Coaches spend as much time on this phase of the game as they do on plays, execution, and the like for the game. The psychological readiness is enhanced by fans, comments during the week, and the general expectations of those involved.

Probably the big edge both Fairmont and Westminster held over Glenville was experience. The Pioneers are a young team composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores. The Falcons of Fairmont and the Titans of Westminster were experienced clubs, comprised mainly of seniors. The Pioneers have two games yet to play, and victories in these two contests would up their record to 6-2, a very respectable season, and incidentally, the exact reverse of last year's overall record.

Glenville Freshman

The roster of the GSC Pioneers contains 23 freshmen that have made the squad.

These freshmen are this year making their contribution to the '67 Pioneer grid team. Some are regulars, some play a good deal, and others are learning and hoping to mature enough to play later.

Dave Bonnette from Marietta is the regular monster-man on the defensive unit and has thus far intercepted two passes. Gary "Tiny" Ray from Winfield is the left defensive tackle and at 220 pounds is big enough to handle the job quite well when he so desires.

Mike Roscoe, a split end from Hundred, came into the Westminster game in the final segment and caught three passes for 27 yards, almost half the yardage Glenville gained the entire day passing.

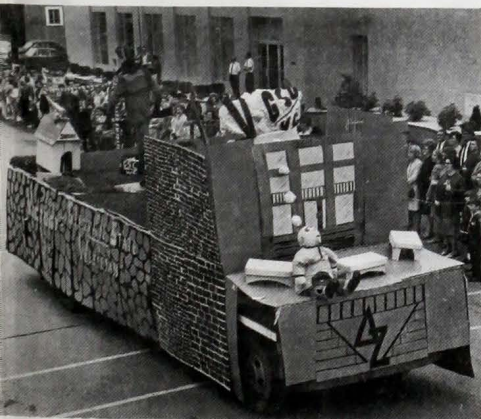

Wayne Holt, from Winchester, Va., did a good job handling the punting chores in the second half for the injured Joe Smith.

Jim Jurin from Marietta and Rich Cain from Wirt have shown promise, as have all the freshmen. They give the Powerful Pioneers a reason to look forward to forthcoming years.

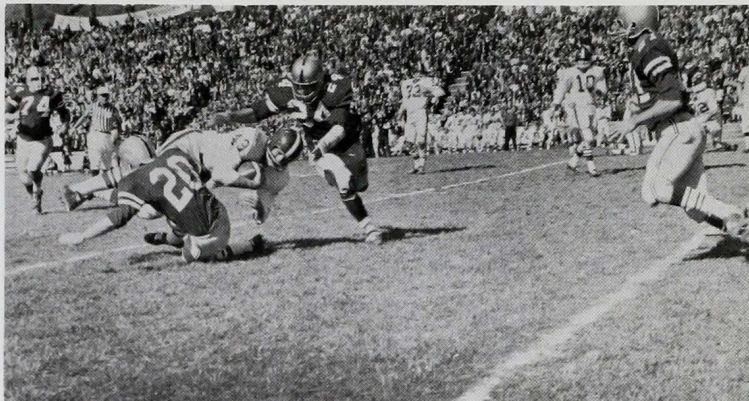

Sidelights

Let it be noted that Ken Cutright did, on the twenty-seventh day of October in the year 1967, defeat Dr. Robert Dollgener, Bob Collins Lee Stalaker, and Wayne Holt in four consecutive games of "Ghost" on the journey to Westminster.

Jim Collins beat Mr. Robert Lord one up in a match played several weeks ago Glenville Golf Club.

Pictured above is the Delta Zeta entry in the Homecoming Parade. DZ's tied for third place with this float, but it was overlooked in last week's edition of the Mercury.

GSC Pioneers in action.

Unbeaten Titans Trip Pioneers 34-7

Bowling Leagues Planned By SGA

Westminster spotted Glenville an early touchdown then retaliated with five of their own enroute to a 34-7 victory over the visiting Pioneers Saturday. The loss left Glenville's record a 4-2 while Westminster's remained spotless at 6-0.

Westminster received the opening kick-off and, failing to gain yardage on their first attempt, quick kicked, giving Glenville control on their own 31. Glenville, also failing to get the necessary yardage, punted the ball back to the Titans, who promptly fumbled away the ball giving Glenville control again on their own 17.

A running play and an incomplete pass left the Pioneers with a third and nine situation but a 10-yard pass from Mark McPhail to Tom Haight gave Glenville a first and goal on the six. Two plays later, McPhail started around left end on a run-pass option and found Haight open for the six-yard touchdown. Forst's kick gave GSC a 7-0 edge.

Westminster wasted no time in striking back, taking the ensuing kick-off and marching 48 yards in 11 plays for the counter. Charles Kurz ran the final three yards and Smargiasso kicked the PAT, evening the score at 7-7.

Glenville, following the kick-off, again failed to gain the first down, and a hard rush by the Titans forced a hurried punt to travel only 12 yards, leaving Westminster with excellent field position at the Pioneer 38. Eight plays later Kurz again capped the drive with a three-yard run and Smargiasso split the uprights with the extra point attempt giving Westminster their first lead at 14-7.

Haight received the ensuing kick-off and ran it back 21 yards to his 29, ending the first quarter of play. Glenville again was forced to punt and the Titans took over on their own 27. A series of running plays moved the ball to the 43, and a pass from Bierbach to Kurz moved the ball to the Glenville 42.

After an incompletion, Tobias ran to the 30. On the next play a long ball from Bierbach to Samuels fell incomplete, but an interference call gave the Titans a first and goal on the four. After three attempts the Titans were moved back to their five, but on the fourth-down play, a five-yard pass from Bierbach to Kurz was good for the score. Smargiasso's kick failed, giving the Titans a 20-7 bulge at half-time.

Pioneers' John Noland took the second half kick-off back to the GSC 29, giving Glenville a first and ten from that position. Three plays moved the ball to the 38, forcing Glenville into deep punt formation. After a near block the hurried punt sailed four yards from scrimmage to the Pioneer 42. Westminster, failing to gain their first down, punted and the ball was touched dead on the two-yard line.

Another punt three plays later gave the Titan's control on the Glenville 30-yard line. Kurz hit off tackle for 14 yards to the 16 and runs of 2 and 3 yards moved the ball to the 11. On a third and five situation Bierbach hit Samuels with an 11-yard strike for the TD. Smargiasso's kick made it 27-7.

After an exchange, Westminster took over on their own eight yard line. Two plays later the quarter ended with Westminster on their 17. A couple of runs moved the ball to the 22, from where Francis Tobias went off end and broke to the outside, carrying the ball to the Pioneer 38 before being hauled down from behind by John Flint. Eleven plays later Eric Gunn ran five yards to capp the 92-yard drive. Smargiasso kicked the final point after at the game ended 34-7.

Westminster gained 236 yards rushing and 102 passing while Glenville gained 31 rushing and 57 passing. The Titans had a 19-to-five edge in first downs and were penalized 60 yards to Glenville's 50.

Bowling tournament leagues, which are sponsored by the Student Government Association are now being formed. The rosters must be composed of six full-time Glenville State College students, and must be submitted to the bowling alley no later than Saturday, Nov. 4.

Sponsors hope to have three leagues: an independent league, a Greek league, and a women's league. All replacements for team members will be made by the Student Council.

Cost of bowling will be one dollar for three games, but this does not include cost of the shoes. Ninety cents, plus tax, of the dollar will go toward the purchase of trophies.

Dance Held In Ballroom

The Iota Omega chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity sponsored a Playboy Dance and costume mix last weekend. The Mind Garage band from Morgantown played for the dance on Saturday night and the Invaders played for the Friday night mix.

Other recent activities sponsored by TKE was a Greek party held in the Old Louis Bennett Lounge on Oct. 11. Recreation consisted of dancing and folk singing which was led by Robert Wilson and Preston Browning.

The social committee of TKE fraternity consists of Eddie Ball, chairman, Richard Westfall, Richard Corley, and Walt Turner.

A Nation-wide Organization of over 2,400
Independently Owned Variety Stores.

Dedicated to bringing you the highest quality merchandise at the lowest possible prices.

Ben Franklin Store

Glenville, West Virginia

Hairston Is State Head

William Hairston was elected president of the West Virginia Student National Education Association and Future Teachers of America National Education Association at their annual convention held at Jackson's Mill on Oct. 13, 14, and 15.

The annual convention was held to elect officers and design SNEA and FTA programs for the 1967-68 year. Officers were elected on Friday evening and were installed on Sunday morning.

Hairston, a sophomore at Glenville State College, is a speech and library science major. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon, and formerly president of the freshman class and secretary of the Student Government Association.

Among his duties as president, Hairston must supervise and create programs for the year, and represent West Virginia at the annual National SNEA which includes five states and Washington, D. C.

William Hairston

Priscilla Ann Mullins a sophomore from Madison, was GSC's delegate at Convention. Miss Mullins is a social studies major.

George Garton, president of GSC's SEA chapter, was named as a member of the State Steering Committee. This committee creates and designs programs for the SNEA for the coming year.

Science Club To Show "The Interns"

"The Interns" are coming! This movie, which is sponsored by the Science Club, will be shown Nov. 14 at 3:30 and 7:30 p.m. Cost of admittance is 50 cents.

"The Interns" is the type of movie that the critics hate, but the public loves. The story revolves around a group of interns, the problems concerning their medical studies, and personal problems which affect their own futures.

Starring in the movie are Michael Callan, Nick Adams, Suzy Parker and Stephanie Powers.

SUMMERS PHARMACY

Prescription Druggist

Glenville, W. Va.

Why not a Checking Account here?

With all the best, most helpful banking services you are ever likely to need—for personal, family, or business use—right here in one most convenient place, why don't you have your checking account here... and now?

For "FULL SERVICE" banking start "checking" here NOW!

Kanawha Union Bank

English Meet Held At Mill

West Virginia's Association of College English Teachers met Oct. 27 and 28 at Jackson's Mill. Friday evening began with registration at 5:00 p.m. and dinner at 6:00.

Evening sessions of lectures began at 7:30. Guest speakers for the evening were representatives from West Virginia University and Marshall University. Mr. Robert W. Clarke from WVU spoke on "Hardy's Farmer Boldwood: Shadow of a Magnitude."

From Marshall, Mr. Curtis Baxter spoke on Shakespeare, entitled his lecture, "Upon The Stratfords: From the Directors' Point of View." Concluding the evening was Mr. Duncan Williams, also from Marshall University, who lectured on "The Paradox of Frost."

Saturday morning began with breakfast at 7:30 and with an 8:45 business session. At 9:00 the morning lecture session started with guest speakers from West Virginia Wesleyan, Davis and Elkins, and Wheeling colleges.

Mr. Thomas Wack from Wheeling College spoke on "Augusta Jane Evans, Eminent Southern Authoress." From Davis and Elkins, Mrs. Barbara Tedford talked on "The Satiric Banquet in the Works of Thomas Love Peacock." Ending the morning session was Mr. Willis Ansten from West Virginia Wesleyan who lectured on "A Society For Rascals."

Silk Screen—

(Continued from Page One) put on any kind of paper and most fabrics. Stationery, programs, folders, T-shirts, dress shirts, or blouses can easily be lettered with this process.

Anyone interested in having some article printed may see Mr. James Rogers, art instructor, or John Mowder, president of ART, for engaging work or for further details.

ANNOUNCING ARRIVAL OF A SPECIAL SELECTION
Beautiful glowing colors from the skilled hands of RAINBOW'S Craftsmen. These outstanding designs with their fascinating hues will add beauty and warmth to your home.

SEE THESE UNUSUAL ACCENT PIECES AT OUR MODEST PRICES

Minnich Florist

Glenville, West Virginia

Beryl Langford Directs Space Utilization Study

West Virginia Commission on Higher Education is now undertaking a three-year comprehensive study of space utilization on all West Virginia college campuses. The study is made possible by a grant from the United States Office of Education.

Dr. Billy G. Dunn, associate professor of business administration at Fairmont State College, is in charge of the statewide study. The director of the project at Glenville State College is Registrar Beryl Langford.

Mechanical and circulation areas of each building on campus must be measured. All features of the building, such as heating, cooling, and plumbing systems, must be surveyed.

Information to be provided by the study will be as follows: (1) room by room inventory of assignable space classified by room type, subject field and organizational unit; (2) objective measures of the quality of each building serving higher education; (3) analysis of present space utilization as influenced by space, class size, and time utilization factors. (4) planning of physical requirements through 1977 to provide for various conditions of projected enrollments and utilization; (5) various auxiliary reports directly related to the area of physical facilities for West Virginia higher education.

Purpose of the survey is to have an objective, accurate record of space in all state institutions. When the project is finished, it will be used to determine need of request for building funds or the desirability of enrollment increases. This study will make possible the comparison of Glenville State College to any other school of higher education in the United States.

AMBASSADOR MODEL CO-ORDINATE SUIT

Here's a swinging combination. Sweater... a sleeveless 100% lambswool pullover. Trousers... solid color with a plain front. Both blend in perfectly with the three button, flap-pocketed jacket that's 100% wool glen plaid. Result? A handsome co-ordinate suit that you can wear for almost any occasion.

Style #9925 $45.00

Glenville Midland Co.

Glenville, West Virginia