Campus Prepares For Christmas

Open House

Women's Hall will hold its annual Christmas Tour on Sunday, Dec. 17, from 1-4 p.m. At this time the dormitory will be open to all visitors.

It is at this time of year that students take an active part in decorating their respective floors. A particular theme is chosen among the students of each floor, and it is their responsibility to carry it through in the decorations.

First floor will exhibit a 'Christmas On Broadway,' second floor is having a 'Christmas-Western Style.' Third floor has the theme, 'A Snow-White Christmas.' 'Over the River and Through the Woods' will be the theme displayed on fourth floor, chosen for fifth floor is the idea of 'Christmas in Little Switzerland,' and selecting the theme of Santa's Workshop' is sixth floor.

As an added incentive to achieve the best-decorated floor, the first place winner will merit a $5.00 box of candy. Also to be judged are the doors of each room. The persons having the best door will receive $5.00. The second winners will receive $3.00, and honorable mention will go to the third place winners. There are to be three judges selected for the occasion, and as of yet, they are unknown.

Assembly

Paul M. King, active civic leader and businessman from Ripley, will be the principal speaker for the annual all-campus Christmas assembly on Wednesday, Dec. 20 at 9:05 a.m. With the Music Department as host, the Concert Choir, Brass Ensemble and the Wind Ensemble will present their selections and at least two sessions of carol singing with audience participation. An annual tradition will be observed when Dr. D. Banks Wilburn reads the Christmas story.

King attended Morris Harvey College and was employed in the Labor Temple in New York City in the 1930's. Most recently he has served as District Governor of Rotary, having toured Europe and Canada in this capacity. He has served as State Director of Lay Activities for Methodist Churches. Currently, he is owner of Jackson's Motel in Ripley. "While By My Sheep," "Lo, How A Rose E'er Blooming," "In Dulce Jubilo," and "I Saw Three Ships" are the numbers to be played by the Brass Ensemble.

The choir will present "While Shepherds Watched," "Let All the World in Every Corner Sing" by Vaugh Williams; and with the Brass Ensemble, "Surely He Hath Borne Our Griefs" from The Messiah.

Closing the program will be a medley of popular Christmas favorites.

Parties

Christmas carols, Santa Claus and a marionette show of, "How the Grinch Stole Christmas," by Dr. Seuss, will be the main features for Dr. D. Banks Wilburn's Christmas party. This year's festive occasion will be Sunday, Dec. 17, from 3:00-5:00 in the afternoon for the faculty, staff, and particularly the children. The marionette show will be produced by Mr. James Bush, who is a graduate of GSC and is now teaching at Ripley High School.

On Dec. 18, from 9-11 p.m., Women's Hall will hold its annual Christmas Party in the ballroom of the Pioneer Center. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided for the dormitory's invited guests and residents. Highlight of the evening will be a special visit by Santa.

Louis Bennett Hall will have their Christmas party December 19. Verona Mapel Hall will go Christmas Caroling December 19.

The MERCURY staff will assemble at the home of Mrs. Yvonne King, director of News Service and Publications, on Dec. 16 at 7:30 p.m. for their annual Christmas party.

Sharon Dutton and Janet Kesterson will assist Mrs. King in the preparatory arrangements for food and entertainment.

The party is for staff members and their dates.

"The wind ensemble's goal is to perform major works written especially for the wind band," comments Mr. Ronald Ross, the director of the ensemble. "The ensemble's instrumentation demands that each person be of a higher musical caliber in order to support his part."

Included on the tour program are: "Crown Imperial," (composed for the coronation of King George VI) by William Walton; "Suite of Old American Dances," by Robert R. Bennett; "First Suite in Eb for Military Band," by Holst; "Kingsgate March," by Hartley, and many others.

Ross feels "that the tour is the most commanding and challenging yet, and feels fortunate to have G.S.C. represented in such fine high schools."

Pep Band Plays For Games

With each home game, an additional group besides the basketball team and the cheerleaders, is becoming increasingly familiar the Pioneer Pep Band. Consisting of only students who have a genuine interest in music, the pep band serves as a spirit booster to the crowd and the team.

Most of their musical selections are a carry-over from football marching season; however, the enthusiasm with which the band performs, lends a fresh crispness to the over-all performance. Familiar marches, pep songs for crowd participation, and dance tunes are all on the regular agenda for games.

M'Timkulu Visits GSC

Donald G. S. M'Timkulu will speak on "The New Africa" on Thursday, Dec. 14, when an all-campus assembly will be held at 1:25 in the college Auditorium.

He has been involved in plans to upgrade the work in Zambian schools, and is responsible for the implementation of such new developments as the English-Medium teaching and the introduction of "new maths." Dixie Land Jazz Band Is Lyceum Program

The Preservation Hall Jazz Band from New Orleans will appear in Concert at Glenville State College on Jan. 17. This Lyceum program will feature a group of Negro Oldsters playing a trumpet, trombone, clarinet, drums, and piano.

For the first time in Glenville, the Edlerly Ambassadors will create the Dixieland jazz, New Orleans style that is rapidly becoming extinct.

Its ragtime flavors may have come from the French quadrille, its African heat from the dark continent, but jazz or "jass" as it was originally spelled is definitely the musical baby of America; and New Orleans was its cradle.

Originating primarily as funeral march brass bands and background for the strip shows of the Storyville era, New Orleans jazz differs from Dixieland in that it is more improvisational, less slick and polished, and more spontaneous.

This Lyceum program has already promised to be one of the most original, and swinging ever at GSC.

Academically Equipped Students Get "Great Test"

Dear Editor,

Glenville State College not only believes in creating a graduate academically equipped but also a graduate able to withstand shuffling, waiting, degradation, and disappointment.

The first test begins when a student attempts to get a schedule of classes. To avoid The Obvious and thus making it "easy" on the students, the process of shuffling students from office to office begins. Everyone knows that there are not any schedules left because only fifteen were printed but why tell the students—it will only make them "soft."

Then along comes the "great test" which is preceded by a meeting where the faculty and administration decide how complicated, slow, and nerve racking the process of registration can be made. They all decide to play dumb so that information of any kind cannot be found.

After the "great test," many students find that they are in classes that they do not need. Another test then begins. This time it is the battle to withstand pain and embarrassment from the staff in The Registrar's Office. Changing the class taxes the mind and interrupts the coffee break, lunch break, afternoon break, morning break or down-the-hall break.

In the great "fortitude race," pressure increases as the student progresses. Because freshmen register first, sophomore find it impossible to find a class; but as always this builds a tough graduate. Juniors have great difficulty getting admitted to upper division classes. The staff gets to play games like "lose-the-application" or "see-how-long-it-can-take-to-get-the-application-thru-the-office."

After a few years, a very necessary test arises in the "great plan." This test is called a comprehensive and no one is quite sure of its purpose.

The student eventually reaches graduation hopefully. The "final test" arises. A note arrives saying that all required classes have not been completed. May 10 it was decided that a new class should be required for students in certain fields. The staff surmises that students in that field can come back next fall without much trouble or rearranging plans or teaching contracts explanations are never offered. This final test will again build patience and fortitude. This main goal unites the college in an effort to build humility.

(Name withheld because of hopes to graduate.)

To Err Is Human . . .

Recently a student stomped into the Mercury office and complained about an article which he had written but had not been printed. Other students complain about seeing too many letters by the same writer appearing on the editorial page. Still others insist on submitting news articles and letters after deadline and ask that room be made for such articles. Finally, there are several students and faculty members who firmly believe our newspaper should be error-free.

Let us assure you that a newspaper staff is made up of members of the human race. Mistakes are made! However, to clear up some of the problems mentioned, cooperation will be needed from both students and faculty members. Much work goes into a weekly newspaper and it often happens that an article reporting a past event must be discarded to make space for more important, newsworthy articles.

We will be the first to admit that the authors of our letters are not solicited and express the feelings of the writer. The newspapers primary purpose is to offer students an opportunity to "speak out," and as long as these few students are concerned about problems on campus, then the letters will be printed.

According to our "contract" with our printer, we are to meet certain deadlines. Often we will be flexible for major events, such as the Thanksgiving Assembly. This is done only with the consent of our printer. How can any newspaper be error free without meeting deadlines? Of course, we have classes to keep us busy. We do not hope to be the best newspaper in the state, until more cooperation can be gained from students. This is your paper, but we, as your fellow students, have volunteered to do our best. The rest is up to you.

4-H Christmas Dinner Held

Decorations of red candles with holly bases and a poinsettia centerpiece adorned the speaker's table at the annual 4-H Club Christmas banquet. The event was held December 6 at 5:30 p.m. in the old Louis Bennett Lounge.

Christmas music filled the atmosphere throughout the entire dinner to add to the festive spirit. Sharla Gladwell presented the reading of the "Christmas Story" and Jane Beers accompanied by Lynn Stotter sang, "O Holy Night."

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Cutlip were special guests of the 4-H club. Mr. Cutlip is the director of the State 4-H Camp at Jackson's Mill, W. Va.

The menu consisted of spaghetti, tossed salad, peach halves, ice tea, coffee and bread. Miss Joyce Crockett was in charge of food preparation.

After the banquet special entertainment was given by Preston Browning who presented a comedian act with a guitar and sang the solo, "Pretty Mary." He also led the group in the singing of "Come By Here" and "Jacob's Ladder."

Thomas Patrick sang "Michael, Row Your Boat Ashore" and "This Land is Your Land." David Bennett sang "Pollution" and the program was concluded by the singing of "White Christmas" by the entire audience. Mr. James White, instructor of mathematics and sponsor of the collegiate 4-H Club, was presented with a gift for his help and kindness in the past.

Adams, a senior from Cox's Mills, is a physical science and social studies major. He is a member of the Theta Xi Fraternity. Third term Dave will leave GSC to do his student teaching in Wood County.

Among his duties as treasurer, Adams must maintain an accurate account of the SGA's monetary fund. Maple Nuts Lose

The Maple Nuts from Verona Mapel Hall no longer remain undefeated in the women's intramural volleyball standings. However, they share the number one spot with the Gladiators, both with a record of six wins, two losses.

Delta Zeta, Town Girls, and 1st, 2nd, 5th are tied for second place, each with four wins, and three losses. Alpha Sigma Alpha is next with one win and six losses, while the Hippies trail with one win and seven losses.

Because of formal parties last Thursday, Delta Zeta and Alpha Sigma Alpha will have make-up games this week.

As I See 'Em . . .

by Ken Cutright

Saturday, Dec. 9, was the date of one of the most exciting, hard-hitting football games this writer (if you will be so liberal) has ever witnessed.

Fairmont, down 14 - 7 at the on set of the second half leaped into a 21 - 14 lead after only three minutes of the second half had elapsed. The Falcons, by virtue of their hard-hitting defense lead by Barry Blackstone, forced a fumble on the second half kick off and three plays later scored on a pass from Michaels to Mertons. Moments later a high snap on the punt gave Fairmont control on the one and in the first play Larry Blackstone (Barry's twin brother) scored to build a momentum that Eastern Washington could not stop.

The Savages tied the score early in the fourth period but George Edwards countered with a 27 yard run to give FSC the winning margin. Immediately after Edwards score, Falcon head coach turned to press box and threw a kiss. He later explained that freshman coach Larry Hill had called the play from the press box.

During the first half the falcons chose to go for the first down instead of punting and gave up the ball on their own 37 with three minutes remaining in the half. Although Fairmont held, the press box buzzing in reference to the choice by the "Deacon". When asked after the game about his decision, Coach Duvell summed it up in one word: "stupidity." He says he does not know why he chose to go for the first down and he can only attribute it to his own "stupidity." Had it worked it wouldn't have been so stupid.

E. W. signal caller Bill Diedrick, voted the outstanding back of the game, scrambled so much it seemed as though Fran Tarkington had transferred back to college. He was 20 - 35 and 201 yards in the passing department and was only dropped twice for a total loss of 29 yards, despite the fact that on nearly every pass play his backs were receivers and Diedrick had no protection but the front line.

Despite Eastern Washington's efforts, Fairmont is the new NAIA National champs and this is quite a landmark in the development of the prestige in the WVIAC.

Robinson leads GSC

Sophomore "jumping back" Jack Robinson is leading the Pioneers in scoring thus far. Robinson has steadily been increasing in his performance and could be the spark the Pioneers need. In West Liberty game hit for 20; in the D & E game, 22; and in the Salem and Wesleyan games he burned the nets for 32 points. In four games his total output has reached 106 points, an average of 26.5 points per game.

Besides leading in the scoring department, Robinson is also clearing the boards more than any other of the Pioneers. Robinson has pulled down 53 thus far for a 13.3 average.

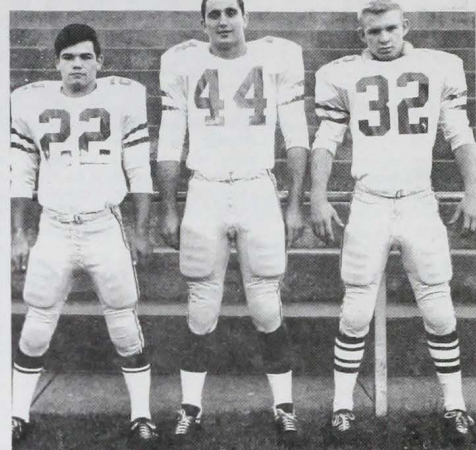

Perry, Grzyb Score Victory

Jack Robinson, in his second consecutive 32 point game, and Bill Perry and Larry Grzyb adding 20 and 11 respectively led the Pioneers to their second win of the season in dropping Wesleyan 95-77 to even their record at 2-2.

The Pioneers jumped to a 46-40 halftime lead, behind the shooting of Perry and Robinson and never trailed again. Perry, who hit for 17 of his game total 20, in the first half and Robinson who got 14, teamed for 31 points in leading the Pioneers to the 6 point halftime lead.

In the second half it was again Robinson, getting 18, leading Glenville this time with the help of Larry Grzyb who got all of his 11 in the second half as the Pioneers moved to a 95-77 victory.

Glenville shot 50% from the floor and foul line, while the Bobcats could manage only 42.3% from the floor and 50% from the line.

Alpha Sig's Rush Clinic Brings Kinney to Campus

By Pat McKown

Holding many interesting and new occurrences for the recent initiates of Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority was the week of Dec. 2-10.

Rush clinic was held in the Old Louis Bennett Lounge on Saturday, Dec. 2. The Alpha Sigs worked on invitations to parties, name tags and decorations. Also, the completion of plans for rush were in the making.

A joint tea on Sunday, Dec. 3, was sponsored by both the Alpha Sigma Alpha and the Delta Zeta Sororities. The Alpha Sigs furnished refreshments of punch or tea, cookies, nuts and mints. The active sisters of Alpha Sig introduced their new sorority fashioned navy blue suits with blue print ascot.

The arrival of Barbara Kinney at the Wood County Airport in Parkersburg was welcomed by Donna Pittman, President, and Rebecca Stalnaker, Treasurer, on Monday, Dec. 4. Barbara graduated from Drexel Institute of Technology in Philadelphia, where she studied to become a chemical engineer. She is a member of the Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority and is traveling secretary of the sorority.

"Through the Pages," the storybook theme of the informal party sponsored by the Alpha Sigs, was held Tuesday, Dec. 5, in the Conrad Hotel Ballroom. Members of ASA dressed as storybook characters. The rushees dressed as little girls. Name tags for the active members were made from construction paper Pintos and the tags for the rushees were in the character forms of Mickey Mouse. All rushees were greeted at the entrance by Judy Greenlee, who gave them a balloon and by Jean Burke who gave them a sucker. Refreshments were hot chocolate, candy, cookies and apples. Entertainment provided for the rushees was an original monologue by Donna Mills: a story given by Mary Ann Crissman. Verses including all the names of the Alpha Sigs was narrated by Beverly Butler. A welcoming poem was narrated by Sharon Dutton. Favors given to the rushees were worms made from socks which were taken from worm holes in two paper apples made by the Alpha Sigs.

The theme for the formal party held on Thursday, Dec. 7 was a "Miss ASA Pageant." The formal affair occurred in the Old Louis Bennett Lounge. Emcees for the pageant were Pat Deal as Bert Parks, and Donna Mills as Bess Myerson. Judges choosing the ASA queen were Rebecca Stevens as Oleg Casini, Riba Le Baron and Janice Reed as Amy Vanderbilt. Three finalists were narrowed down from the ten semi-finalists. Acts and routines were required of the three finalists who were: Jacqueline Pitts, who twirled with fire; Karen Frame, who read a prose selection from Gone With The Wind; and Kathy Roten, who gave a monologue. Last year's Miss ASA, portrayed by Donna Pittman, told a story to the rushees. All the girls wore formal gowns, except those in the program and the photographer, Sharon Dutton. Refreshments for the formal affair were red and white cakes, nuts, mints and gingerale which was served in small brandy snifters given to the rushees as favors.

Ribboning of the rushees was held Sunday, Dec. 10, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wilbum. Mrs. Wilbum is a patroness to the Alpha Sigs. The alumane, patronesses and incative members were invited.

Riggs Discusses GSC Men's Fashions

By Ron Riggs

Bold and rugged are the descriptions that best fit men's fashions on the college campus.

In shirtwear the emphasis is on the dress shirt and not much on the sport shirt because an oxford type dress shirt can double as a sports shirt and help save in your clothing expenses. Pin-stripes are still very popular but the latest things on the market are the wide track stripes and the glen plaid shirt.

Slacks are color-cued to coordinate with your favorite blazer, sweater, or shirt. Press free slacks, glen plaids and stripes are new enough now to make your solid-shaded slacks seem like dropouts. When selecting colors in trousers, good basics are whiskey, chocolate brown, and blue olive because they are very practical since they can be easily matched with co-ordinates. Monogramming on the right back pocket seems to be quite a novelty this year.

Basic sweater styles are the alpaca, v-neck, cardigan, and lambswool.

Orange is "in" and all kinds of favorite colors: Bright pumpkin(orange), whiskey (yellow-orange), jockey red (bright red) and chili (pinkish orange). Kelly green is also good this year.

Sports coats are seen on campus and at all campus functions. three buttoned double-split tails are popular as of yet on GSC's campus. They seem too mod for classic dress. Because of their versatility, hopsack blazers are good because they can serve nearly every occasion.

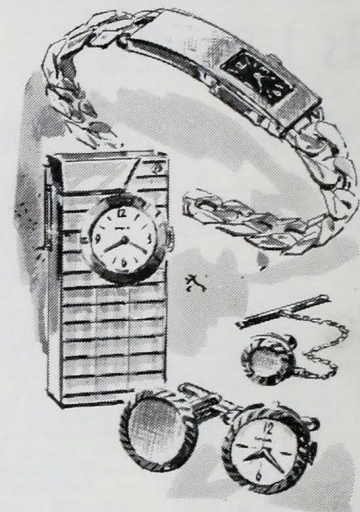

Ties are eye-catching in bright colors of this season. One can easily attract his favorite girl with a tie having an unusual figure on it.

Tassels, both kilted and shawled, mark the trend in this year's footwear. Alligators, grained brown leather tasselled moccasins, black and white oxfords, and wing tips are "in."

Although kilts are popular on the shoe market for evening and campus wear, surveys have proved that the only kilts worn by men will be on the shoes instead of the hips.

Fashion plays an important part in campus life and if you are imaginative and use your budget wisely, you can easily acquire a fashionable and inexpensive wardrobe for the school year.
