A rough draft of the second semester schedule will also be available to students when see their advisors

Each divisional chairman will develop and announce a time schedule for the advising period indicating the hours when each of his faculty members will be available to meet with ad-visees. Faculty will be expect-ed to be in their offices and available during the week of adfising.

Students need to plan their schedules carefully. The moving into a semester plan, including a semester of professional edu cation in the senior year, makes it imperative for students to plan in advance for the change. When a student completes his trial schedule for the first semester, he will leave the trial schedule card with his ad-visor until Registration Day. Students who fail to report for the making of a trial schedule may have considerable difficulty on registration days

Five EDITORIALS Omega Kappa Phi has formally 'Pay The Fiddler'

There is an old adage that states, "When you dance, you have to pay the fiddle." This applies to the Athletic program at Glenville State College. Currently, athletics are an integral part of the activi-ty life of our campus. All aspects of the campus life are improving. If athletics are to keep pace, they must also improve and be expand-ed. As the adage indicates, this means more money. The additional money requested for athletics would be used for food and lodging for teams when they travel, purchasing needed equipment, paying trans-portation cost, and expanding our program. Year before last, track was added to the program. However, funds were not available-to-purchase uniforms, starting blocks and other rear obtoic last, thats was added to the program. However, thinks were not available-to-purchase uniforms, starting blocks and other needed equipment. This year we added bowling and again funds were not available for needed equipment. In the other existing sports many necessary items are needed, but funds are not available. We should have tennis, wrestling and swimming; but it certainly is not good business to added more sports when we can not adequately finance the once we already have in our burrym. the ones we already have in our program

Our mones we arready have in our program. Our money for athletics comes from two sources, gate receipts and student fees. If the proposed amendment were ratified, it would in-crease the activity fee for athletics from $4.00 to $6.00 per semester. Most of the other schools in our conference have already been re-ceiving $6.00 per semester for several years. The present activity fee for athletics at Glenville State College is the lowest of any school in our conference. However, because of our geographic loca-tion many of our operating costs are the highest in the conference. The request is not justifiable on the basis of Glenville State College becoming a "great athletic power" but rather on the basis of being economically and educationally comparable.

What does a student receive for his money toward the athletic pro-gram? As a minimum he has the opportunity to attend at least four home football games, ten home basketball games, six home baseball games and all other home athletic events. An indirect benefit that occurs from the athletic program, that benefits all students is pride. We all can take pride in the accomplishments of our fellow students regardless of their field of endeavor. If a Glenville State College student has a high degree of success and accomplishment in a given area, i can not help but add to the image and prestige of our school and you as a fellow student can take pride in having been a part of the success and accomplishment. I believe the students at Glenville State College want a quality athletic program, in which they can feel pride and feel that they are a part of this program. Furthermore, I believe that they are willing not only to pay for such a program, but are even more willing to support this program with all their re-

I would like to take this opportunity to voice my appreciation for the assistance and cooperation you have given me in the past year. I give a special thanks to those individuals who have without rewhat served on many committees marviously who have without re-ward served on many committees and fulfilled various appointed po-sitions alloted by myself and the Student Government Association, which i have represented. I am also extremely in debt to those mem-bers of the SGA who without their outstanding services would not have made my tenue of office successful. I do hope that each and every student has been aided and bene-fitted by my council's train of force successful.

I do nope that each and every student has been aided and bene-fitted by my council's year of representation. It is my feeling that this has been accomplished, but that in itself could not have been incurred if it were not for many devoted individuals. The old axiam came true, because of those devoted students who were the students themselves

Once again I thank you, the student body, for making this the most rewarding and satisfying year of my college life.

Frida: May 17, the Pioneer football team donned the pads for the beginning of the '68 spring practice. Coach Hanlin reported 42 men were out this spring; including 24 lettermen and 2 transfer lettermen. The two transfer members are Jim Heaton, a half-back from Marshall University and Frank Pfaff, a quarterback from Lafeyette. Prior to spring contact, the dedicated men of the squad went through an intense winter conditioning program to maintain the physical condition necessary for the game. According to Coaches Hanlin and Adolfson, the winter program was extremely successful and the three days a week in the winter plus four in the spring have and the three days a week in the winter plus four in the spring have made it possible to get right down to the 'nitty-gritty." Coach Hanlin has announced that all men will play both an offensive and a defensive position next season. Thus, he feels the best possible men will be in each and every position while some may be going both ways.

Assisting in spring practice this year are John Flint and Rod Jamison. These two men are recent players under Coach Hanlin and will have coaching duties of their own next year in area schools.

Although it is too early to say much about spring practice and pro-gress, the capabilities of the fine young coaching staff has left little to be desired. They are dedicated, knowledgeable men whose well spent time should prove to be very important next year. Glen-ville had a winning season last year that under their guidance should become a tradition.

become a tradition. On June 1, there will be an intra-squad scrimmage, open to the entire school and attended by all freshmen recruits. The importance of student attendance at this game is great, for the morale of the team and coaching staff. A team always plays better with the support of those for whom they are working.
