Pres. Gives Senior Tea

President and Mrs. D. Banks Wilburn will greet graduating seniors, their parents, family, friends and faculty tomorrow afternoon at the annual Senior Tea at their home.

"We are quite sincere in the wish that as many graduating seniors as possible and their parents and friends will come to our home," stated Dr. Wilburn.

served as assistant librarian at GSC from November of 1961 until her death from an automobile accident November 24, 1963. Through contributions, a "Peterson Library Award Fund" was established.

Each year the librarian selects between one to four students who have performed outstandingly well in the field of librarianship. Grades, attitude, dependability, enthusiasm, quality of work, creativity, interest in learning and contributions to the school library are all considerations in selecting the recipients of the awards.

Mr. David Gillespie, present Robert F. Kidd librarian, received the "Peterson Library Award" in 1965 when he was a senior at Glenville. He later served as librarian at Romney Junior High School and taught one year at Easton, Md. before attending Indiana University where he received his master's degree in library science. He joined the Glenville State faculty in January, 1968.

Selective Service Deferment Changes

Effective July 1, 1967 Selective Service regulations require that students make normal progress toward obtaining the Baccalaureate Degree to qualify for draft deferment. This regulation has been interpreted to mean that students must earn credits sufficient to qualify them for promotion to the next highest classification (first year 27 hours, second year 57 hours, third year 89 hours, fourth year graduation) at the close of the school year, including summer school.

Students who have reached the age of 24 are not governed by this regulation, but should consult their respective selective service boards if they have questions.

Based upon this interpretation of the regulation, the academic status of all male students of draft age will be reported to their respective draft boards at the beginning of the fall semester, September, 1968.

First Library Amnesty Day Termed Success By Gillespie

Mr. David Gillespie, head librarian, has termed Glenville's first annual Amnesty Day a success. Amnesty Day was held last Friday, May 31, and it was a time when all students were permitted to return overdue, stolen or misplaced library materials with no questions asked.

John Hendricks returned a book that he had checked out of the library in 1917 when he was 11 years old. The book, entitled Little Brother to the Bear and other Animals Studies would have brought a fine of $1,862.50 at 10¢ each day it was overdue if he had paid his fine on June 3, 1968.

There were an estimated 650 books out of which all except for approximately 150 were returned. There were about 200 magazines and 3 reference books returned. Students saved between an estimated 120 and 150 dollars.

Next year there will be pick up boxes placed in the dormitories for students to return books easier and the library will donate Duplicate Reference Books to the Greek Organizations for their houses.

LETTERS

TO THE 1968 GRADUATING CLASS
GLENVILLE STATE COLLEGE

Few moments equal the joy, the satisfaction, and the fulfillment of graduation. It is a personal and permanent victory, an honor to last a lifetime. To each of you I extend my sincere congratulations.

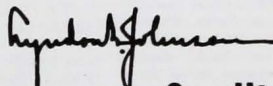

The time is past when our national interests could be served by a few who elected to make their country's affairs their own. The complexity of our age and the particular burden history has thrust upon us -- to preserve freedom where it exists and to foster it where it does not -- demands every American hand and every American heart. The greatest responsibility falls to those who have the most to give.

I cannot tell you the extent of America's influence in shaping the new order of world affairs -- though I believe it will be great.

I cannot measure our national ability to abolish ignorance and sickness and injustice wherever these ancient enemies degrade humanity -- though I believe it is limitless.

I cannot predict that America's future will match and exceed the brilliance of her past -- though I believe it will.

The answers will not come in my lifetime, but in the future -- your future. I am confident that you who have proved your ability to achieve, to endure, and to win, will serve that future with distinction.

Editor Expresses Gratitude

Student Body:

As a new editor takes over the reins of the college yearbook, he resolves to publish "the best book this campus has ever seen." He really tries; works many hours planning, almost flunks a few courses, lets his social life "go to pot" and devotes himself entirely to producing a book the way students want it.

Then the trouble begins. Broken promises, a few staff members quit and the load is dumped into the hands of the faithful few. Headlines are missed and before long, he sinks into the depths of depression; no one cares or understands why something goes wrong, why the book is late; it's the editor's fault.

But if a few students show their appreciation, that they are pleased with the book, he will soon forget the heartache, panic, and worry.

Looking back over the year's work I see now that all was not in vain. I will soon forget those sleepless nights and I will always remember the valuable experiences and friendships I have gained.

Your 1967-68 Kanawhachen is the result of the effort and tears of the "faithful few." To them I express my deepest thanks. But people deserve special praise: to Mr. Charles Scott who gave unselfishly not only of his time and attention as an adviser, but also his encouragement and smile as a friend; to Jean Davis who contributed ardently to the "cause;" and to Bob Cooper, the ace photographer who gave in deeds what I often thought in words; to Kris Creighton and Sue Carpenter.

I sincerely hope that we have produced a yearbook of which you can be proud.

Dear President Wilburn:

Permit me to express congratulations and best wishes to those who will be graduating at your institution of higher education this spring.

Opportunities for our graduates will come in many fields:

---In education, where we must encourage the excellence which inspires a talented student to enlarge the limits of his capacity;

---In science, where achievement requires many technicians working in concert, but where we must also never forget the tradition of the solitary genius--the Newton, the Einstein, the Fermi--who tests the free range of his own curiosity;

---In art, where we must welcome the growth of mass markets for books, painting and sculpture, but also seek to nourish the artistic talent which has not yet achieved a buying public;

---And in the humanities, where we must insure that centers of liberal learning are not neglected as new knowledge nourishes the practical studies.

In essence, we must set priorities for individual accomplishment and avoid mediocrity as the standard of success.

West Virginia's potential in this regard is unlimited. It is my hope that the graduates receiving their diploma at this time will join us in an effort to transform this potential into reality.

Sincerely,

Hulet C. Smith

As I See 'Em . . .

by Ken Curmet

Last Saturday Coaches Hanlin and Adolphson turned their respective offensive and defensive teams loose on each other and gave us a all glimpse of what we can expect next year. The standouts in the game were not only the returning regulars but some new faces let it be known they were in the middle of it all.

One of these new faces would certainly have to be freshman half-back Rick Cain. Cain, who scored touchdowns of one and 53 yards to pace the offensive in the second period. His 53 yard TD was a short flat pass from Frank Pfaff and with a good block Cain was given room to maneuver, which was all he needed.

Another new face was that of above mentioned Frank Pfaff. Pfaff a transfer from Lafayette kept backs on their defensive toes with some sharp passing, including a touchdown.

Although he had no long runs or pass interceptions or any of the most noticeable men on the field had to be Marshall transfer Jim Heaton.

Heaton, who went both ways did an outstanding job of running and receiving, but, just as important was the fine hard-nosed offensive blocking and tackling he displayed. This boy could make a great contribution to GSC's bid for next year's conference crown.

Gary Ray, another two-way man, is a returning regular, although only a freshman. This fine young tackle did a fine job at his positions and will another asset in the coming three years.

Other veteran standouts, such as end Mike Roscoe, Halfback Tom Hought, Steve Seals, Dale Sheets to mention only a few should make the Hanlinmen a team to beat in the conference next year.

This game, not only gave the coaching staff a look at the team under playing conditions, but also was a welcome afternoon for the football fans in the school.

The football team will meet as its first opponent Virginia State in the annual Fish Bowl Classic at Frank Lawrence Stadium, Portsmouth, Va. on Sept 21, 1968. This game, sponsored by the Shrine Tuberculosis and Cancer Research Foundation, will for the first time feature a WVAC opponent and it is quite an honor for Glenville to be invited.

22 Men Recruited

Coach Bill Hanlin has thus far recruited 22 men to play football for GSC next fall.

The recruits were in Glenville last Saturday afternoon to watch the varsity scrimmage. They will return for football camp in August.
