Homecoming Change Noted

Glenville students are preparing for the annual Homecoming festivities at Glenville State College next week.

The Homecoming parade is planned to begin at 9:30 on Oct. 19, 1968. Special attention should be given to the time of the parade which has been changed to 9:30 from 10:00 as was earlier planned. This change is necessary in order to permit more time for formulation of the ensuing game.

Mr. H. Y. Clark, who was honored by having Clark Hall named after him, will receive another honor while he performs as honorable parade marshal.

The parade chairman will be Mr. Lonnie Fitzpatrick, a local carpenter who is very helpful in making arrangements with the local police and fire departments. Mr. Fitzpatrick has served as Glenville's Homecoming parade chairman for several years.

The parade's primary activities will hopefully include visiting bands, Gilmer County Fire Department, local troops of Boy and Girl Scouts, local organizations such as the Jaycees, Lions Club, and Rotary Club, and several floats. Local merchants will have their windows decorated and the Jaycees will give a prize for the best window decoration.

There will be approximately 25 floats from the college's major organizations. Float entries will be contested with awards presented for floats winning first, second and third prize. Prizes will be awarded to floats on the basis of theme appropriateness, originality and beauty.

Following the float of the Homecoming queen, Miss Gloria Jean Halbert, will be some 200 to 300 freshmen. The new students will be donned in pajamas and beanies with the girls carrying their most beloved stuffed animals.

Oct. 10, 16 Set To Show Rings

Oct. 10 and Oct. 16 have been designated as official ring days. Representatives from Josten's of Owatonna, Minn. will be in the student union Oct. 10 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The John Roberts Manufacturing Company of Norman, Okla. is to be represented in the student union Oct. 16 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

All juniors and seniors are invited to place orders for their class rings at this time. Each representative will present a display of his company's jewelry. A deposit of $10 is required from Josten's and delivery takes approximately eight weeks. John Roberts Manufacturing Co. requires a $5 deposit and delivery takes approximately five weeks.

Juniors and seniors may order class rings any time from the bookstore but are encouraged to participate in official ring day.

Queen Gloria Jean Heads Royal Court

Gloria Jean Halbert, a five foot-two brunette senior with brown eyes, has been elected Homecoming Queen, in an all campus election by the Glenville State College student body.

Miss Halbert is the daughter of Mr. Robert E. Halbert of Parkersburg and the late Mrs. Halbert. The newly-elected queen is an elementary education major. Her interests are water skiing and playing the piano. After graduation, Miss Halbert hopes to continue her education by working toward a master's degree.

Miss Halbert was freshman princess in 1965 and is presently corresponding secretary for Delta Zeta Sorority.

Included in the royal court of the 35th annual Homecoming celebration are freshman princess, Deena McGuire; sophomore princess, Pamela Sullivan; junior princess, Brenda Sinnett; and Julie Mackey, senior princess.

Escorts for the princesses will be the presidents of the respective classes. Freshman president John Westfall will escort Miss McGuire; Robert Petty, sophomore class president will escort Miss Sullivan; Miss Sinnett will be escorted by junior class president, Steve Barnett; and senior princess, Miss Mackey will be escorted by senior class president Steve Davis.

Deena McGuire is the 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David L. McGuire of Ripley, W. Va. She is a 1968 graduate of Ripley High School and is majoring in social studies and minoring in business.

The sophomore princess, Pamela Sullivan, is the 19-year-old daughter of Mrs. Helen Sullivan and the late Mr. Sullivan. She is a 1967 graduate of Richmond High School, Richmond, W. Va. and is majoring in elementary education and minoring in physical education. Miss Sullivan is a member of Delta Zeta Sorority.

Representing the junior class as princess will be Brenda Sinnett, the 20-year-old daughter of Mrs. Marcella Sinnett from Harrisville, W. Va. Miss Sinnett is a 1966 graduate of Harrisville High School. She is a physical education major and language arts minor. Her activities include vice-president of Nu Lambda Psi sorority, and participation as an active member of the Majors Club.

Julia Mackey has been selected as senior princess. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mackey of Burnsville, W. Va. A 1965 graduate of Burnsville High School, she will receive her degree upon graduation from GSC in social studies. Julia is active as the assistant membership director of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority.

Five-year-old Judith Chisler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Chisler has been selected as train bearer for the queen along with four-year-old Stephen Bumgardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bumgardner who will serve as crown bearer. Both children will have a major role in the event of crowning the queen, Oct. 19.

State Bands To Be Guests

One of the attractions of the homecoming parade on Oct. 19 will be the appearance of marching bands from within the state. At present, only the Tygart Valley High School Band and the Wahama High School Band have been scheduled to appear, according to Mr. R. K. Gainer, director of alumni affairs.

The Tygart Valley High School Band from Mill Creek is under the direction of Miss Winona Spurgeon, an alumna of Glenville State College. Gerald Simmons directs the Wahama High School band from Mason City.

Plans are incomplete; Mr. Gainer and Mr. R. Ross of the music department are contacting bands for the parade. Ten more invitations have been mailed, but there have been no replies at this time.

Frederic Storaska Is WOGS Speaker

Speaker Frederic Storaska will present a program entitled "Prevention of Assaults on Women" Thursday, Oct. 17 in the GSC auditorium. This program will be sponsored by the W.O. G.S. -Women of Glenville State.

Mr. Storaska's purpose in his speech will be "to give the girls an understanding of the assault interaction." For example, what types of people assault, why, how, and what types of environment situations are usually contributory to the assault interaction.

Mr. Storaska will also depict "What types of behavior from the girl usually elicits the most detrimental and the most beneficial behavior from the assaulter."

While doing research on juvenile delinquency in the fall of '62, Storaska became interested and motivated in this field, because, to his astonishment "almost no research of note had been accomplished." From that moment on he has devoted his time and resources to the problem which he felt no one seemed to be solving. And indications are that Storaska is making notable progress.

In the fall of '64 he gave his first presentation of "Prevention of Assaults on Women." Three weeks later he was credited with saving a girl's life. Since that time his program has officially saved two other girls lives and, according to Storaska, "is reported to have assisted 34 girls out of assaults."

Wilson Heads Oct. Banquet

Mr. Fred Wilson, president of the Alumni Association, will preside over the annual Alumni Banquet to be held from 6:00 - 7:30 p.m. On October 19, 1968 at the multi-purpose room.

Those attending who wish to dine may enjoy a cafeteria style meal. There will be no admission to the informal event and all students are invited to attend.

The Alumni Association is expecting 75-100 guests this year after registering 60 for the previous year of 1967.

His itinerary for the spring of '68 included Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio; Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Mich.; West Virginia University, Morgantown; University of Dayton, Dayton, Ohio; and Kent University, Kent, Ohio.

Mr. Storaska merits recommendations from the Dean of Students at Bloomsburg State College, Bloomsburg, Pa.; President of St. Mary's Junior College, Raleigh, N.C.; Secretary of the Association of Women Students, Penn State University, Park, Pa.; and several others.

Mr. Storaska will give an afternoon introductory lecture at Gilmer County High School and is inviting all high school girls to attend the lecture here on campus. Admission will be charged for all those who are not members of the WOGS.

Student Body Elects Taylor '68 Pioneer

Michael Joe Taylor, a 25 year-old social studies major from Elizabeth, W. Va., has been elected Pioneer for the 1968-69 school year.

"Boats," as he is known to the majority of GSC students, is a 1961 graduate of Wirt County High School and a three-year veteran of the U.S. Navy. He is also an active member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, serving as chairman of the spirit committee.

When asked about his reaction to being elected, he said, "I have wanted to be Pioneer since my freshman year and I want to provide a lot of spirit for all the games." He also added, "I am especially pleased to be Pioneer this particular year because Glenville really has an outstanding team and I want to do all I can to support it."

Taylor was present at the Fishbowl Classic game at Portsmouth, Va. He also traveled to Salem where he made his first appearance as the GSC Pioneer. He plans to travel to each away game and help with enthusiasm at all the pep rallies.

Pioneer Mike Taylor

Peace and Tranquility For All?

Today we are experiencing the questions and demands that have never been placed upon any other people in any other era of our history. In this election year as in no other time, our attentions are drawn to the issue both large and small, important and trite, by the politician, the statesman and the gilded reformer.

One such issue is states rights, and the overshadowing of states by the Federal System. The candidate who has most often lifted the banner for the supremacy of the states is George C. Wallace. I stand opposed to this candidate for President of the United States.

I do not uphold his views in regard to the Supreme Court ruling of 1954.

Based on well-founded constitutional ground, the Brown vs. Board of Education case which called for integration of all public schools came about in the orderly civil action manner as it should have been.

When the court ruled, states were given the responsibility to work towards integration as rapidly as possible and to show visible proof of such action. However, the states failed to carry the load, they refused the responsibility - first in Little Rock, then throughout the south. In Alabama, school integration was progressing at a satisfactorily smooth pace except in Birmingham when Gov. Wallace sent troops in the morning prior to the opening of schools. The schools were closed, reason, according to executive order 9 "to maintain peace and tranquility in our cities" when in effect there had been no trouble and city authorities were anticipating none. Do we support a man who on one hand lashes out at Federal intervention and state's rights yet on the other involves the state in local affairs such as Birmingham? Is this not the identical he says he opposes? There seem to be tones of inconsistency here. This note in consistence seems to carry into the Wallace Camp on the use of Federal Funds to enforce a Federal law - it has been stated that there would certainly be those who would suffer if Federal Funds were withdrawn from areas of state government, yet the candidate himself told reporters in Charleston, W. Va. and a local news cast - "Issues and Answers" that one of the first things he would try to do if elected would be to cut drastically the funds of H.E.W. So where does he stand?

Often George Wallace drives home the urgent need in our country for law and order and rightly so, but here is a man who has openly defied civil authorities, who have attempted to serve federal injunctions to him, George Wallace you will remember refused entrance of a Negro Vivian Malone to the University of Alabama and stood in the doorway of the University entrance blocking the girl and a federal marshal - A man wishing to lead this nation in such a crucial time when he has violated the Federal Constitution and surrendered only when Federal troops were mobilized.

Here is a man who would be a president who while running for Governor in Alabama in 1962 gently stated that "If I am elected I will refuse to obey and order to mix races in our schools" and later that year boasted to news men "none of our schools are integrated yet" These are the reasons the Federal government has taken action, because states refuse to, and these are the reasons if opposed George Wallace, extreme and inconsistent stands, flagrant and open civil defiance as a definite failure to grapple with the problems of today with some well founded positive programs for America's future.

Respectfully,
Jack Albert

I thought L.O.H. would be a great place to live but the janitors just don't keep this place decent!

Sorority Plans Float, Banner

Nu Lambda Psi has chosen various committees to prepare for future activities.

Plans for the Homecoming float have been discussed and work will begin this week on the float based on the theme "Impact 68."

An oilcloth banner will be prepared for future use at GSC's ballgames. This banner will represent Nu Lambda Psi's support for success in athletic competition.

As a part of the sorority's community project, Nu Lambda Psi is now collecting canned goods, clothing, furniture and toys to be given to needy families in the Glenville area around Christmas.

Included as a part of rush preparations is a committee preparing a ritual for Greek initiation. Various people who are affiliated with the Greek system have helped Nu Lambda Psi in the instruction of sorority procedures.

Delegates have been chosen to represent Nu Lambda Psi on the Greek Council. Phyllis Lamm a junior, was elected as representative for the first semester with Mary Norman, a sophomore, serving as an alternate member. Mary Ann Osborne, a junior, will serve as a second semester delegate.

Paulette Winice, a sophomore, has recently been elected Sergeant of Arms for Nu Lambda Psi. Her duties will be that of dismantling and preparation sorority materials before and after regular meetings.

The Nu Lambda Psi sorority pins have been ordered and should be received by the girls towards the end of October. Stationary and formal cards have been ordered and will be placed in the bookstore on arrival or distributed individually to each girl.

TKE Holds First Smoker

Tuesday, Oct. 3, Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity hosted 11 upperclassmen at its first smoker of the year. The smoker was held in the Multi-Purpose room of the Pioneer Center.

With Robert Marshall as MC, the smoker featured four speakers. First on the agenda was Victoria Brown who introduced the prospective pledges to the functions of the Order of Diana. Next Robert Cribbs presented a brief history of the formation of TKE at Glenville. Thomas Dent then emphasized the chapter's activities with the assistance of slides prepared by Daniel Shumate. Last, David Keefer spoke on the principles of the fraternity. Members of the Order of Diana added a touch of femininity to the smoker by distributing literature and name tags to the prospective pledges. After leaving the Multi-Purpose room everyone adjourned to the fraternity house where refreshments were served.

At the business meeting prior to the smoker, frater Michael "Boats" Taylor was selected as "Teke of the month." He is the GSC Pioneer.

Displayed after the smoker, for the first time at the house, was a new spirit sign made by frater Thomas Dooley.

Rules Form Respect

For many years, freshman rules have been a tradition at Glenville State College. Freshman class members enter GSC knowing that they will be expected to observe freshman rules. Their attitude should be one of acceptance and enthusiasm rather than lackadaisical.

The present freshman class exemplifies the latter attitude. They apparently feel that it is not their responsibility to speak to upperclassmen or even to faculty members. Although this is one of the primary rules, they apparently do not feel that it is important.

Upperclassmen are also to blame for the lack of enthusiasm. It is their responsibility to check to see if freshmen carry handbooks, wear beanies, have obtained organization presidents' signatures, and know the Alma Mater and cheers. When freshmen realize that they will not be checked, they do not learn the songs or cheers or ask for signatures.

One of the primary purposes for freshman rules is to better acquaint them with the college, their fellow class-mates and faculty members. It also builds enthusiasm and the friendliness of students, for which Glenville is noted.

It is, therefore, our responsibility as upperclassmen to enforce freshman rules, as well as the responsibility of freshmen to observe them. In order to carry on our traditions and renown for being the "friendly campus," respect is essential. This includes respect for the institution, its staff, faculty and students.

WVIAAC Chooses Haught Offensive Player of Week

Thomas Haught, 5' 7" 170-pound halfback, has been named conference offensive player of the week for action in the Glenville-Salem game, according to statistics released by George Springer of the West Virginia Conference.

The New Martinsville junior physical education and art major is credited with a touchdown and a 93-yard gainage against Salem.

Haught is a member of the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and serves on the social committee. He formerly served as chairman of the Intramural Committee.

He has lettered in two sports, football and baseball, here. As a freshman he was selected as Offensive Back of the Week for Wesleyan and Salem games and he received honorable mention in the all-conference. He was also named to first team WVIAAC all conference baseball team.

His sophomore year, he was named to the first team All-Conference and offensive back of the week against W. Va. State, Wesleyan, and Bluefield.

Director Releases Intramural Plans

Glenville State College's intramural program will begin this week under the supervision of Dr. Robert Dollinger, Athletic Director of the College.

The intramural program will be run according to an intramural handbook that was drawn up this summer. This handbook contains a schedule of all intramural sports, eligibility rules, specific rules for each activity, and the intramural point system. Each team captain will be given one of these handbooks.

At the beginning of each sport a participation card will be filled out by each person in order to systematically evaluate the intramural program.

The first intramural activity will be volleyball. It will be conducted on Mondays and Thursdays starting Oct. 3, at seven and eight o'clock. Volleyball teams will play in a round robin tournament with the champion being determined by a single elimination tournament at the end.

Falcons Lose To Pioneers

The Glenville State College Pioneers came from a 6-0 half-time deficit with fourth quarter touchdown to upset 9th ranked Fairmont 7-6 and maintain their number one WVIAAC rating.

The first half was all Fairmont as the Falcons maintained control of the ball for most of the half. Fairmont threatened to score early in the second period marching 70 yards to the four yard line before Jim Sprague's recovery of a George Edwards fumble halted the drive. After failing to gain a first down Carl Williams 59 yard punt gave Fairmont the ball on their own 15 yard line. Eight plays later, Edwards crashed over from the three yard line with 3:27 left in the half to give Fairmont a 6-0 lead. The try for the PAT was wide to the right so the score remained Fairmont 6 and Glenville 0. At the end of the half Fairmont had racked up 15 first downs to Glenville's 6, 104 yards rushing to GSC's 24 and 138 yards passing to GSC's 58.

As the second half began it was evident that it was no longer Fairmont's game. Time and time again Glenville's fired up defense refused to yield first down yardage and the offense was gaining momentum. After a scoreless third period the Fairmont fumble was picked up by defensive end Steve Stoefel who in turn fumbled only to have Joe

As I See 'Em

By Ken Cutright

The GSC locker room was a happy place following the 7-6 victory over Fairmont Saturday and rightfully so. It was evident as the second half began that they wanted the game and were going all out to get it. Barring a few last quarter mistakes the defense held Fairmont practically motionless. Had it not been for two mistakes (personal foul) Fairmont would not have even threatened the GSC goal line.

Captain Dale Sheets said of the game, "This is our (the team's) homecoming. The school can have their's in a couple of weeks, but this is ours."

The defense, noted as being tough, started off with a bang when Dale Sheets intercepted a Roy Michael pass and ran deep into Falcon territory only two plays after the game started. But the offense gave up the ball on a fumble and the defense seemed to let down as Fairmont amassed a first half total yardage of 242 yards.

The defense was not to be denied and proved they are one of the best in the league as they held Fairmont's powerful offense nearly motionless throughout the second half.

The offense, also not to be denied picked up the defensive fire following Joe Painter's fumble recovery and Jim Heaton came out of nowhere, or so it seemed and was all by himself as he grabbed McPhail's pass on the five and danced into the end zone.

Although Glenville's defense was outstanding throughout last years campaign, the offense failed to get the score's when they were needed. This year it is apparent that the Pioneers have also established an offensive game. With the return of McPhail, Haught, Seals and the addition of the deceptive Jim Heaton the backfield is certainly well experienced. The line contains, with the exception of Bill Boggess at tackle (defensive tackle last year) and Harold Price at guard the line is the same, but has certainly developed since last year.

The Pioneers have shown us that they are number one and the fans, after a dismal start have shown they are behind the team. Let's hope the team, after a tremendous start can be the first undefeated Pioneer squad in years.

Painter grab the pigskin and ramble to the Fairmont 30 yard line. On the next play senior halfback Jim Heaton hauled in a McPhail aerial on the five and ran unmolested for the tying score. Bill Frost's placement split the uprights and the Pioneers held the lead at 7-6 with 9:43 remaining in the game.

Fairmont took the ensuing kick-off and marched to Glenville's 45 before being forced to punt. A personal foul on the punt, however gave Fairmont a first and ten on Glenville's 30 and six plays later had a first and goal on Glenville's nine yard line. Again the Glenville defense met the challenge and Glenville took over, trying to run out the clock. After giving up the ball with 1:11 left in the game GSC's defense again stopped the Falcons cold but another fifteen yard mark off gave Fairmont a last second desperation field goal attempt that fell short. Glenville ran one play to run out the clock and taking the 7-6 victory. In the second half Fairmont managed only six first downs (three in penalties), 89 rushing yards and nine yards passing.

Smoker Held by Theta Xi Fraternity

Theta Xi Fraternity members conducted their first smoker of the current semester the evening of Tuesday, October 1, at the fraternity house. The fraters met with potential pledges in the old Louis Bennett Lounge at 7:00 p.m., after which the assembly traveled to the Theta Xi House in Camden Flats section of Glenville.

After an informal session during which non-members were provided an opportunity to meet and talk with fraternity brothers, Theta Xi president Ronald Blankenship organized the smoker with a formal introduction of the other Theta Xi officers and members. The newcomers were then informed of the initial cost of pledging and of being a fraternity member by treasurer John Lough; vice-president David Nelson then spoke to the group of Theta Xi as a national organization; house president Charles Wence talked to the group about the fraternity house itself as a "nucleus" of the local chapter, and of the various regulations concerning residency of members.

ASA Plans Oct. Activities

Several activities are being planned by the Alpha Sigs for October. The upcoming events include a spaghetti dinner, their annual Autumn Leaves dance, and their Homecoming festivities.

The spaghetti dinner is to be held in Old Louis Bennett Lounge Oct. 11 from 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. The spaghetti sauce will be real Italian and will be made by Mrs. Carmelo Nocida, the mother of Catherine Nocida, an Alpha Sigma Alpha member. The dinner will include the spaghetti plate, Italian bread, tossed salad, and ice tea. The dinner is $1.00 per plate.

The Autumn Leaves Dance will feature "The Eight Days", from Fairmont. This dance will be held in the Ballroom Oct. 12 from 9-12. Decorations will be in autumn colors including cool greens, bright reds and oranges, yellows and subtle browns. Tickets for the dance, which is a girl-ask-boy, semiformal, are $3.00 per couple.

The Alpha Sigs are also planning for the GSC Homecoming this month. They held a workshop Oct. 4 and 5 in their lounge and the town girls spent the night on their third floor sorority wing. They worked on the minute details for their float and decorations for the dance.

Greek Council officers - Ralph Paugh, Phyllis Lamm, Beverly Hurst, and David Bumgardner.

Paugh Heads Greek Council

For the first semester of the 1968-69 school year, the newly-elected Greek Council officers are: president, Ralph Paugh; vice-president, David Bumgardner; secretary-treasurer, Beverly Hurst; and reporter, Phyllis Lamm.

Ralph Paugh, a member of Omega Kappa Phi fraternity, is a senior elementary education major. Paugh is a 1965 graduate of Georgetown, (Del.) High School, which is his home town. He also serves as dorm counselor for Louis Bennett Hall.

David Bumgardner is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. Bumgardner is a junior chemistry major from Parkersburg, W. Va. and a 1966 graduate of Parkersburg High School.

A member of Delta Zeta sorority, Beverly Hurst is a junior home economics major from Logan, W. Va. She is a 1966 graduate of Logan High School and is head monitor for Womens Hall.

A junior English major, Phyllis Lamm is a 1966 graduate of Victory High School and a member of Nu Lambda Psi sorority. Her home is in Clarksburg, W. Va.

HOMECOMING—

The Homecoming game against Bluefield State will begin at 2:00 on the Rohrbough Stadium Field. Because of limited parking facilities and traffic congestion around Rohrbough Stadium, it is strongly urged that cars be left parked in town or on campus.

Capping the Homecoming festivities is the Homecoming Dance from 9:00 p.m. until midnight on Oct. 19 in the Pioneer Center Ballroom. Music for the dance is to be furnished by the Paul Wills Orchestra. The five-piece orchestra with vocalists is from Charleston, W. Va.

Advanced admission prices are $3 per couple and $2 stag. Advanced tickets are available only at the Alumni Office until Friday, Oct. 18. The admission at the door is $3.50 per couple and $2.50 single.

A special price reduction has been arranged for GSC alumni whose dues are in good standing. There are expectations of a record crowd for the dance this year.

Art Majors Plan Trip

Upperclass art majors at Glenville State College will be making a trip to Washington, D. C. The event will take place on Oct. 25, 26, and 27.

The trip is in connection with both studio and art history classes. Scheduled is an extensive tour of the National Art Gallery.

Observance of architectural forms in the National Building, United States Capital and monuments will also take place as part of the tour.

Mr. Gary Gillespie and Mr. James Rogers will be guides for the trip.

Forest Tech. Curriculum Developed By Committee

Glenville State College is now offering a curriculum in forest technology. Donald L. Fogus, director, is responsible for organizing the program.

Interest in this program was determined from potential employers. An advisory committee was formed to develop the program and curriculum in relation to ultimate employment.

In developing this program, a survey was conducted on job opportunities and salary ranges. Also a survey on interest from prospective students was conducted. Each prospective student was interviewed before he was accepted or rejected.

In organizing and scheduling classes, faculty involved in interdepartmental instruction were consulted. This concerns such classes as: math, English, sociology, economics.

The forest technology department is planning for a new building. The building specifications have been submitted to the State Board of Education and Commission on Higher Education.

Mr. William L. Cones joined the faculty as assistant professor of forest technology on Aug. 1, 1968. He will teach the forest technology courses this year. Mr. Cones has a B.S. degree in Forestry from WVU, a M.S. degree from Duke University and will soon have a Ph. D. from WVU. Additional duties will involve the selection of text material, organizing field trips and tours, assisting with planning for new building, acquisition of teaching equipment and assisting in planning and organizing for the second year classes.

Additional responsibilities of the Director, assisted by Mr. Cones, will be in the area of recruiting and consulting with various industries and agencies regarding employment of the students for the next summer. During this coming summer, Fogus and Cones will confer with the employers of the students to evaluate the students' progress.

The summer-work-experience program will provide the students an opportunity to acquire working experience and to have a chance to earn money. The employer will have a chance to observe the student and assist the Forest Technology personnel of GSC in making an evaluation of the student's ability and interest. It will also provide the employer the opportunity to select permanent employee if the student indicates promise.

The curriculum at Glenville State College is a two-year curriculum. Graduates in this program will be graduated with an Associate Degree in Forest Technology.

Types of jobs that this curriculum will train students for are: forestry aides, engineer aides, county fire rangers, conservation officers, woodyard managers and woods foreman.

There are 22 students enrolled in this program at GSC, representing 13 counties. These students are: Ronald Bennett from Maplewood; Dale Birchfield, Lester; Joel Birchfield, Lester; Millard Carper, Spencer; Bernard Chesnut, Neola; John Copenhagen, Mt. Nebo; Ferrall Crites, Sutton; Evell Garrett, Davis; Virgil Groves, Canvas; Roger Hardman, Ravenswood; Victor Hayes, Belva; Bernard Holliday, Smoot; David Lee, Buckhannon; Russell Locke, Berea; John Pate, Beaver; Gilbert Pennington, Beaver; Eldon Plaugher, Stevie Richards, Harrisville; Robert Starkey, Sistersville; Stephen Styles, Nitro; and Lewis Totten, Mar-Met.

Democratic Rally To Be Oct. 18

John Jamison, chairman of the Gilmer county Democratic Executive Committee, has stated that a political rally will be held on Oct. 18, 1968, beginning at 6:30 p.m., at the Gilmer County Recreation Dining Hall.

The featured speaker of the evening will be gubernatorial candidate James M. Sprouse. Also attending will be all the Democratic candidates for the Board of Public Works; Jay Rockefeller, Secretary of State; Denzil Gainer, State Auditor; Chauncey Browning Jr., Attorney General; Gus R. Douglas, Commissioner of Agriculture; John H. Kelley, Treasurer; and Fred H. Caplan, judge; Supreme Court of Appeals.

Chairman Jamison, further stated that all candidates for county offices have been urged to attend and that Governor Hullett C. Smith has been invited but he has not sent any confirmation of a definite attendance.

Jamison explained that the evening will begin with a steak dinner and that anyone wishing to attend this event may do so. Tickets are on sale for $2.00 a person and they may be purchased from any member of the Gilmer County Democratic Executive Committee or by calling headquarters at 462-5315.

However, Chairman Jamison wished to point out that this is strictly a political rally and not a fund-raising affair. He also wishes to point out that many of these state dignitaries will attend or participate in the Glenville State College Homecoming activities.

Scott Attends Exhibition

Charles C. Scott of the Glenville State College art department attended an arts and crafts exhibition in Cincinnati, Ohio, during the week Sept. 22-28. He was one of the designer-craftsmen who demonstrated their skills.

At the exhibition, which was held in the Arcade of the Carew Tower, Mr. Scott designed and threw stoneware pottery. In addition to pottery making, there were demonstrations of pewter spinning, weaving and carving.

The exhibition, which closed Oct. 4, was sponsored by Pogue's Department Store and the West Virginia Mountain State Art and Craft Fair. According to Mr. Scott, the purpose of the exhibition was to acquaint other people with the arts and crafts of West Virginia.

Lyceum Series Opens Monday

The 1968-69 College Lyceum programs will open next Monday, Oct. 14, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium with A Wilde Evening With Shaw. The three-act program is a biographical commingling of the divergent lives and thoughts of two brilliant products of the nineteenth-century, Oscar Wilde and Bernard Shaw.

A Wilde Evening With Shaw will be dramatized on the stage by Richard Gray and Mayo Loiseau. The show is laced together with anecdotes, ideas and comments from letters, newspaper clippings, essays and speeches into a scintillating, laugh-provoking, warmly human story of these two men who wrote about the world as they saw it.

The first two-acts cover the period ending in the turn of the century and are drawn from the following major works: "An Ideal Husband," "Man of Destiny," "The Importance of Being Earnest," "The Ballad of Read-Goal," "The Happy Prince," "Poems in Prose," Shaw's Prefaces, "The Decay of Lying," as well as sundry speeches, essays and letters. Major works from which the third act is drawn include: "Caesar and Cleopatra," "Man and Superman," as well as Shaw's prefaces, letters and speeches.

The characters will be richly and elegantly costumed for each act; the production of both dramatic readings and enacted drama will be simply staged with a couch and a chair.

Richard Gray was born in London and made his professional theatre debut in Barrie's "Little Minister." He made his first film appearance with Noel Coward in "In Which We Serve." Following World War II, Mr. Gray came to America where his credits include a number of Shakespearean roles and other roles on TV and "on-the-road" productions. The latter included A Wilde Evening With Shaw, written and edited by Mr. Gray and Miss Loiseau, co-directed by Mr. Gray and the late Sir Cedric Hardwicke. The production toured nationally under their own management which brought it to New York in March 1963.

Between tours Mr. Gray has played Higgins in "My Fair Lady," Von Trapp in "The Sound of Music," and Arthur in "Camelot"; co-authored two plays, arranged and recorded five L.P. albums of the poetry of Gerald Manley Hopkins, Francis Thompson, A.M. Sullivan, Thomas Merton, and the metaphysical poets.

Mayo Loiseau (Mrs. Gray) was born in New York and began her professional career in Hollywood. She has appeared in the TV productions of "Father Knows Best," "The Burns and Allen" Show and "Ozzie and Harriet."

She has appeared in classical roles such as Shaw's Eliza and St. Joan and numerous Shakespearean roles. Miss Loiseau made her New York debut in A Wilde Evening With Shaw, which she also co-wrote and edited. She, too, between tours has co-authored two plays, and arranged and recorded LP albums.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gray have completed a five-month study of European and American repertory companies and training methods. They spent the fall of 1966 at Duke University as actor-writer in residence and conducted a theatre workshop while polishing "Coward Calling" at Duke and surrounding colleges.

Students and faculty may use their ID cards for admission to this production. Admission for adults will be $1 and children under 12 will be admitted free.

BSM Plans Year's Agenda

The first meeting of the Baptist Student Movement was held to acquaint the GSC students with the activities and ideals of the organization.

A part of the BSM program this year will include a deputation team that will visit other colleges and churches to conduct worship services and for the chance of meeting new people. Exchanges of different members will be made with other campuses to give these people opportunities for service and visitation.

Among other activities that have been scheduled for the 1968-69 school year are five parties, a coffee-house, a hike and a hayride. Visiting will be done by the deputation teams to such places as hospitals and nursing homes. Adequate time will also be allotted at regular meetings for discussion, devotions and fellowship.

Those students who have been elected as officers for the 1968-69 school year are as follows: president, Michael Boggs; vice-president, Linda Seckman; secretary-treasurer, Jerri Pursley; social chairman, Linda Allman, and advisor for the group, John E. James. All officers and members of the Baptist Student Movement would like to extend their invitation to all students to share their fun and fellowship.

Sculpture Presentation Scheduled For Library

Mr. Wolfgang Flor, well-known West Virginia sculptor will be on campus October 17. Mr. Flor has produced "The Prodigal Son," a sculptor piece for the new Robert F. Kidd Library at Glenville State College.

Other well-known works by the artist have been "The Twelve Apostles" at Wesley Chapel, West Virginia Wesleyan College, and "What Next", a sculptor of a boy which is in the Alma Arbuckle Children's section of the Robert F. Kidd Library.

Flor, a 40-year old native of Silesia, resides at Gaines, Upshur County with his wife Maria and two daughters. In 1966, he gained much recognition by being commissioned to sculpt "The Twelve Apostles" for Wesley Chapel. Mr. Flor does all of his work in an old shed accompanied by his mule "Paula". Such a setting went well with the "Apostles" work.

Mr. Flor pursues his work in a very professional manner. For each assignment he studies the environment in which the sculpture will be placed and the theme involved. In the Robert F. Kidd Library, Flor observed the winding staircase and the large stairwell. Upon creation of his "Prodigal Son," Mr. Flor incorporated the design of the spiral in the old man's beard and the young boy's robe.

The sculpture will be placed in the library as a symbol of the search for education. As the prodigal son left his home in search for an education, we also do the same and enter into the library in search of knowledge.

At the presentation of the "Prodigal Son" there will be a time for the interpretation of the artist's intention by Flor. Faculty, staff and students are invited to attend the ceremony at 4:00 in the auditorium on Oct. 17.

Four Women Occupy Home Management House

Four women are now living at the Home Management House and are receiving training there for graduation. They are Mrs. Faye Barr, a junior from Glenville; Carol Bell, a junior from Parkersburg; Bertha Rule, a senior from Vienna; and Mrs. Harriett "Mickey" Rhoades, a senior from Glenville.

Under the direction of Miss Elma Jean Woolter, instructor of home economics, the women will perform such household duties as general manager, cook, assistant cook and housekeeper.

Along with their other duties, the women are required to complete three other special activities. Already planned is a luncheon for the College Club Executive Council of West Virginia Home Economics Association.

Groves Chosen Model Pledge

The brothers of Omega Kappa Phi have announced that Robert Groves of Bridgeport has been named the model pledge of their first pledge class. He was the first pledge of OKP to be initiated.

Groves has also been elected by acclamation as vice president and pledge master for this semester. Someone who has experienced the pledge education period would be better equipped to handle the responsibility of pledge education, in the opinion of the members.

Jack Albert, president, stated that the OK's are preparing for Homecoming as well as rush. Omega Kappa Phi has set Oct. 10 for their second rush party with pledge period beginning on Oct. 14.

Albert and OKP members have planned a dance in December for the students of GSC. The King Sound Interpreters of Charleston are now being placed under contract for this event.

Other plans will be completed soon.

There will be only one group of women living at the house first semester. They will stay for a period of 40 days. Two groups will occupy the house second semester, each group also living there for a period of 40 days.

Alpha Psi Pledges 4

Four thespians are pledging Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity, according to William Monk, cast director.

The pledges are Mr. Albert Rauch, instructor in English, Sharon Erwin, Kathy Steele, and Gary Hollandsworth.

Pledge period began with a ritual held Sept. 29 and initiation will be Oct. 13.

Membership in the fraternity, which is the largest honorary fraternity in the world with 403 chapters, is the highest award given to students working in the collegiate theater.

Anyone who has completed one semester in college and has done extensive work in the theater is eligible for membership. It is not necessary to be a speech major. Only three persons at GSC have ever gained admission into the fraternity as freshmen. They are Mr. James White, Alpha Psi's faculty advisor, William Monk, and Eugene Nesbitt, who is now at Fairmont State College.

Monk also announced that the fraternity will be sponsoring refreshment sales during the intermissions of all the speech department's major productions this year.

Choral Union Numbers 80

Mr. Mark Aamot is a new member of the Glenville State College music department faculty. Previously, he graduated from Saint Olaf College, obtaining his M.A. degree at Colorado State University and is working on his doctorate at the University of Illinois. He is currently directing Choral Union which meets on Tuesday nights from 6:30 until 8:30.

The choir which consists of 80 people, is preparing for two concerts. The first concert, Dec. 8, featuring The Messiah and the second in late spring of somewhat lighter music.

Annual Conference Held By SEA-FTA

The seventeenth Annual Delegate Assembly and Conference of the West Virginia SEA-FTA was held at Jackson's Mill on Oct. 4, 5, 6, 1968. Glenville State College sent three delegates to the conference: Louisa Mae Bollinger, the voting delegate; Nancy Arnold, and Sue Ellen Fulmer.

William Hairston, Glenville, President of the West Virginia SEA-FTA, presided over the conference. Mr. Kenneth C. Legg, West Virginia's State Consultant for SEA-FTA, and Mr. Robert McDermott, director of Young Teacher and Student Activities, assisted with the activities.

Mu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, provided a scholarship for Miss Bollinger to attend the meeting. The chapter is composed of women educators from Braxton, Clay, Gilmer, and Roane Counties. Members of Mu Chapter on the Glenville State College faculty are Mrs. Goldine Hickman, Mrs. Eileen Wolfe, Miss Jewell Matthews, Miss Virginia West, and Miss Elma Jean Woolter.

The conference revolved around the theme "New Task for Teachers." During the three days at the Mill, speeches, group fellowships, group discussions, business sessions, and recreational activities were held for the delegates.

On Sept. 24, 1968, the H. Y. Clark Chapter of the Glenville State College SEA held its first meeting of the school year in Clark Hall.

Bea Daniels, presided over the meeting where 49 of the 73 in attendance were prospective members. Officers of the SEA, Larry Jackson, vice-president; Jerry Cohen, treasurer; Linda Edwards, secretary; Jerri Pursley, librarian; Gae Bollinger, historian; Mae Bollinger, parliamentarian; and Phyllis Hicks, reporter were introduced. SEA's next meeting will be in October, and new members are welcome.

Posey Receives Award

Representing Josten's on Oct. 10 at official ring day will be Mr. Mike Posey of Burnsville, W. Va. Mr. Posey is a graduate of Glenville State College and formerly served as registrar here.

Mr. Posey recently received the coveted Turquoise Club Award. The award is presented by Josten's to the company's leading sales representatives. Even though the award began many years ago, there are only 30 members in the United States.

SGA Approves 'Spirit' Program; Organizations Promote Enthusiasm

The Student Government Association in their meeting Oct. 1, voted unanimously to approve "Spirit Campaign 68-69," a new program initiated to increase student support and spirit of future athletic events involving GSC.

According to rules suggested by Tom Dent and Steve Barnett and approved by SGA, each organization will be allowed five posters per week per function. A maximum of five points per sign will be allowed depending upon judgment of the person scoring the posters.

Banners larger than six-foot square displayed at athletic events can obtain a maximum of ten points and a 15 point maximum is allowed for a well organized cheering section. An additional five points each is allowed for originality of cheers, enthusiasm displayed by participating groups and uniformity of dress.

Final judgement of points to be awarded for participation at a function will rest with the members of the SGA who are witnesses to the participation and/or with those faculty members who are present. This will allow credit to be given to organizations who participate in "away" games which SGA members are often unable to attend.

Officially, "Spirit Campaign 68-69" started Oct. 7 and the first event covered by the new rules will be the game with W. Va. Wesleyan.

After each game the SGA will formulate an up-to-date list of total points acquired by each participating organization and the results will be posted at the end of each athletic season. At the end of the school year, a trophy will be presented at the Awards Assembly to the highest scoring organization.

This new campaign is a big step forward from the old rules governing such participation. Under the old system there were only two leagues, the Greeks and the Independents and points were allowed only for unique things and banners.

Davis Is SGA Officer

Joe Davis, a senior from Weston majoring in social studies, is the new Student Government Association secretary for this year. Davis, along with the other officials of the SGA, was elected at the end of last year.

Besides being a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, he is a second floor counselor in Louis Bennett Hall, was in charge of ordering freshmen beanies and name tags, and is also responsible for notifying all campus organizations as to their participation in the Homecoming Parade.

Davis intends to graduate in June, and then go to graduate school; although he is undecided at this time as to the school he will attend.
