H. Y. Clark

College Honors H. Y. Clark During Dedication Ceremony

A West Virginia educator will be honored today when Clark Hall is officially opened. Clark Hall is named for Mr. H. Y. Clark who taught elementary education and supervised student teachers for 18 years at Glenville College.

Mr. Clark, who came to Glenville Normal in 1927 as a professor of elementary education, retired in 1955. He holds an A. B. degree from West Virginia Wesleyan College and an M. A. degree from Columbia University and has done additional graduate study at George Peabody College, West Virginia University, and a study of the educational system of England.

Mr. Clark is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, education honorary, a charter member of the State Teacher Education Committee whose purpose was to advise the State Board of Education. He served on the Committee for seven years, five years as secretary.

He also served on the State Committee for the revision of the teacher-training curricula in West Virginia and on the committee that organized the program for the single curriculum that prepared teachers for the 12-year certificate.

Mr. Clark is a World War I veteran and was a member of Rotary International for 33 years.

He is a member of a teaching family which has accumulated 13 college degrees and taught some 255 years in West Virginia public schools and colleges. Their positions have included classroom teachers, supervisors, principals, county superintendents, college professors and deans.

Members of the family now living are Robert Clark, Heritage Convalescent Home, Bridgeport; Mrs. Retta Martin, Elkins; Mrs. Icie Hope McCune, Morgantown; Dewey Clark, Eaton Rapids, Mich.; Forrest Clark, Alderson-Broadbent College; Buell H. Clark, Kensington, Md. Two brothers are deceased, Guy B. and Price E. Clark.

Mr. Clark is married to the former Louise Cain of Glenville. They have two daughters, both former students at Glenville State College, Barbara (Mrs. D. James Coutu) of Watertown, N. Y., and Beverly (Mrs. John D. Haywood) of Melrose, Mass. There are seven grandchildren: Michelle, Lisa, Gary Clark and Susanne Coutu, who will attend the dedication; and Jennifer, Elizabeth and John D. Haywood, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark reside in Vienna, and are members of the First United Methodist Church of Parkersburg.

In 1965 the Glenville State College Alumni Association honored Mr. Clark with a lifetime membership in the organization.

20 Parade Units Achieve 'Impact'

Approximately 20 entries will interpret the theme "Impact '68" in the annual Homecoming parade Saturday, Oct. 19, competing for various prizes and awards.

Interpretations include: Delta Zeta Sorority, "Impact Time Will Be a Bed of Roses;" Nu Lambda Psi, "Pull for Victory;" Women's Hall, "Tackle the Impact;" Collegiate 4-H Club, "Collegiate 4-H Predicts the Result of Impact '68-0;" Baptist Student Movement, "The Gospel Ship;" Phi Delta Phi, "Little But Mighty;" Alpha Sigma Alpha, "Sock It To 'em Pioneers;" SEA, "SEA Honors H. Y. Clark;" WOGS, "WOGS Throws Their Hat In the Ring For the Pioneers;" Major's Club, "Bomb Bluefield;" and Thailand House, "War Elephant."

'Pioneer' Taylor Leads GSC Spirit

By Thomas Dent

"Go Pioneers!" This cheer is uttered quite frequently at Glenville State's athletic events by a bearded bundle of buckskin whom the students annually select to represent their college spirit.

This year the Glenville Pioneer is Michael Taylor, a senior social studies major from Elizabeth and a 1961 graduate of Wirt County High School.

He may be found, bearded, carrying a muzzle-loading rifle, and powder horn, ranging up and down the sideline at an athletic contest, aiding the Cheerleaders with their yells of encouragement.

This position undoubtedly should be filled by someone who enjoys sports very much, and in Taylor this was evident. He has an abundant source of facts and figures on sporting events going back several years.

His virtual encyclopedia of knowledge about sports began much earlier than high school, was played upon by a three year stint in the U. S. Navy, and continues to grow today.

Because of his service in the Navy, Taylor has acquired a catchy nickname, "Boats," by which many students affectionately call him.

All that hair on the face of Pioneer Taylor was begun the

Queen Gloria Halbert

Queen Gloria I, Royal Court Reign Over 35th Homecoming

By Doris Smith

Tomorrow, Miss Gloria Jean Halbert will be crowned Queen Gloria I as Glenville State College celebrates its 35th annual Homecoming day.

Miss Halbert, a 21-year-old five foot two, brunette senior elementary education major, is the daughter of Mr. Robert E. Halbert of Parkersburg and the late Mrs. Halbert. Her hobbies include playing the piano, water skiing, and reading. Representing her class as freshman princess in 1965, Miss Halbert is presently corresponding secretary for Delta Zeta Sorority and states that she "enjoys being a part of the sorority and living in the sorority house." When asked how she felt about being elected queen, Miss Halbert stated, "I feel happy and proud to have such an honor bestowed upon me."

Attired in white, Queen Gloria I will be escorted during Homecoming by the President of the Student Government Association, Garry Rodney Ramsey. He is a 21-year-old business major and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Ramsey of Belpre, Ohio.

Serving as senior princess in the royal court will be 21-year-old Miss Julia Ann Mackey, attired in burgandy velvet. She is a secretarial studies major and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mackey of Burnsville. As the assistant membership director of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, Miss Mackey has an interest in basketball, football, softball, dancing, her family at home and her sorority. Her favorite hobby is collecting Kennedy half-dollars. She stated,

"I would like to thank the senior class for choosing me as their princess."

As President of the senior class, Mr. Stephen Allen Davis will be present as Miss Mackey's escort. He is a 21-year-old chemistry major from Pennsboro and the son of Mrs. Enid V. Davis of 203 W. Raymond Avenue, Pennsboro.

Miss Brinda Sinnett, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Sinnett of Harrisville has been chosen by the junior class as princess. The 20-year-old junior is a physical education major and language arts minor. Her hobbies include reading, dancing, water skiing, swimming, football and all other types of sports. As vice-president of Nu Lambda Psi sorority, Miss Sinnett has a deep interest in the sorority and she enjoys working with people. She also enjoys sports competition through intramurals and "considers it a builder of strong friendships within the organization and between the competitors." In thanking the junior class for being chosen, Miss Sinnett stated, "I consider it a privilege to be chosen by my classmates to represent them during the 1968 Homecoming festivities. I sincerely hope they will be proud of me as their princess as I am of them as a class. Homecoming Day will be one of the most thrilling experiences of my college career."

Escorting Miss Sinnett, who will be attired in dark blue velvet, will be the President of the junior class, Mr. Stephen Fredrick Barnett of Port Charlotte,

Letters

This year's Homecoming plans to be one of the greatest ever not only because of the numerous activities planned but also because of this year's GSC football team. The Pioneers do not only look impressive to the local sportswriters who think they are strong contenders for the WVIAC title but also to the national raters who rank them 14th in the nation.

Although some think that enthusiasm has slipped this year, those of us as fans who have followed the team know that the spirit has never died. I wonder who could question the enthusiasm of fans who have travelled to Portsmouth, Va., Clarksburg, Wesleyan, and even to Fairmont (although this was a home game.) This is not including the one home game that has been played this season and GSC's Fairmont game pep rally.

There have already been over 20 float entries turned in to Mr. Gainer and all of the available lodging rooms in town have been rented. Fans have been exclaiming that "This is the year" and "We're No. 1."

It would seem that the real problem does not lie in the upperclassmen who have been watching the Pioneers grow in strength and experience, but perhaps in this year's freshman class.

This year's freshman class is certainly not a good example of the friendliness that has been a tradition at GSC for years. The class of 1972 seemed to rush in, disregard Freshman rules and try to think of themselves as higher than the upperclassmen. They are the ones who would rather support their local high school team rather than their college.

Spirit will play a large role in this year's Homecoming and alumni will certainly think this is quite an "Impact 1968."

In Defense of Spirit

For the past three weeks there have been many opinions both pro and con expressed about the enthusiasm here at Glenville State College. Due to several remarks made by the "Con View Point," I feel that I should uphold the "Pro Side" and profoundly relate the facts against these unwarranted acclamations.

It seems to me that the support for our team has never faltered, not even once. At the second away game played against Salem in Clarksburg, several members of the student body made the trip and cheered till all were exhausted, as the Pioneers rolled past Salem 30-7.

In the days that followed, the enthusiasm was upheld as posters went up all over campus and all that was heard was the unified support of the Pioneers who were "bound to defeat Fairmont."

On Oct. 5, an overwhelming crowd of approximately 5,000 watched to see if GSC would really "bag a bird." The excitement mounted as I watched and listened with pride to my fellow classmates as they chanted, "We're No. 1" and "We can beat Fairmont" even when the Pioneers were behind 6-0. The spirit never faltered and our voices never died as we watched the team defeat Fairmont 7-6 in the most thrilling game in history.

The enthusiasm continues as we look to the future and know by our intuition and spirit that we might well be the next NAIA champions. With this as proof of our devotion to the team and our school, can anyone deny that the student body is united in their efforts to show their support?

As for those who are "Con" I only have one question, "What were you doing before, during and after the game?"

'Racist' Is Logical Choice

Editors,

From reading recent Letter's Column comments one is quick to deduce that there exists a mountain of misunderstanding of the views, the position, and the intentions of Alabama's fighting little governor, George Corley Wallace, whom I feel is the only sane and logical choice open to the American voter, unless, of course he is satisfied with the past accomplishments of the Johnson Administration.

Many seem pitifully confused about the concept of State's rights. State's rights is simply the giving of prerogative to make decisions of law and management, etc., to the state government, which will usually be closer to the problem than will the conglomerate federal government, and so make decisions more favorable to the individual members of a state's population, and according to their own wishes. Otherwise, you have a dictatorial federal regime which issues decrees which the states must obey, like it or not, or suffer the full force of federal might imposing unpopular federal edicts.

George Wallace saw the frightening growth of federal power over the states; he realized that, as opposed to say, the state of California, Alabamians did not want integrated schools in their state, and he resolved to become a crusader for the rights of his people, and of people everywhere who are victimized by the federal government. The reason Gov. Wallace stood in the doorway to block integration in his state was not because he wanted to crush the rights of black Americans, but rather to alert Americans to the fact that the powerful federal government will use mass force to enforce its decisions on people who do not want a particular decision. If George Wallace is elected president, we will not have mass segregation all over America, as some would have us believe, but simply states will be able to decide for themselves whether or not they will embrace the questionable virtues of race-mixing.

George Wallace stands head and shoulders above the other two aspirants who daily babble meaninglessly about "progress", "peaceful settlements," and rather boorishly call each other and Gov. Wallace names. Are these qualities desirable in a president? Name-calling and indecision?

Those who call Gov. Wallace a racist should also be informed that this "racist" is a member of the Board of Trustees at Tuskegee Institute, a famous negro school in Alabama, and negro officials there say he has done more for the school than any other governor. While in the Alabama legislature, Wallace sponsored the Wallace Bill, which gave jobs and educational opportunities, a program which primarily directed at the negro poor. Some racist! As far as the matter of racism should go, we are all racists, if we are not too hypocritical to admit it, whether we are black or white. This is not necessarily bad; we are only humans with many failings. God has made us this way; we are proud innately of being either black or white.

When asked if Gov. George Wallace is capable of handling the job of President of the United States, one needs only to refer to his record in Alabama, (which many have tried to slander) and note his brilliant successes. This is not an exaggeration. When George Wallace left office in 1967, the administration had come from proration to a surplus of 88 Million dollars! This in 4 years! And with the third lowest tax burden on the people in the nation.

Wallace stands for true state's rights, for firm, decisive, and effective action in Viet Nam, to win a meaningful peace and bring our soldiers home in honor; he stands firmly opposed to those who loot and pillage our cities, spit on the flag, and treasonously fly the Viet Cong flag and send them money and blood to help them kill American servicemen; and finally he stands "defiantly", if necessary, for your rights as a voter, to make your voice heard in government.

I support Gov. Wallace for these and numerous reasons, and I "uphold his views". He alone stands for the local grass root Americans, and refuses to let the opinions, traditions, and beliefs of the individual American be submerged forever in the tyrannous tide of federal bureaucracy. I, therefore, urge you not to be misled by high-sounding, meaningless statements slandering Gov. Wallace's position, but rather join the "little" man from Alabama, who so courageously "Stands Up For America."

Committee Views Rules

The Campus Planning Committee met on Sept. 25 in Old Louis Bennett Lounge. New business concerning campus parking was brought up. The committee, with Dr. Chisler serving as chairman, was informed of damage done to a car parked in the Health and Physical Education Building parking lot.

Because of this incident and the need for safer parking areas, the committee passed a rule stating that no double parking will be permitted in any campus parking lot. This rule will go into effect starting Oct. 14. Those violating this rule from Oct. 7 through Oct. 13 will receive a warning.

The committee would like to inform students that there is parking space available along side of the J. L. Coates lot on North Lewis St. This lot is owned by the college and is the site of the forestry building.

Members of the Planning Committee are: Alfred T. Billips, Jr., James H. Campbell, John A. Chisler, Loren S. McCartney, William S. Osborne, Charles C. Scott, Frank L. Toth, Nelson L. Wells, and Pres. D. Banks Wilburn. Student members of the committee are Kenny Jo Smith, Patricia Ann Paugh and Patricia Urbas, alternate.

TKE Smoker Held at House

The fraters of Tau Kappa Epsilon held their second smoker of the year on Oct. 9 at their fraternity house. Those prospective pledges attending were given the particulars of pledging TKE by Hegamon Robert Marshal.

After the formal program refreshments were served and a general question and answer session was conducted.

At an informal meeting of Tau Kappa Epsilon on Oct. 10, Marcus McPhail was elected vice-president of the chapter to replace Thomas Dent, who is moving up to the office of president. Also Thomas Haught was elected assistant hegamon or pledge trainer, for the upcoming pledge period.

A closed dance was held Oct. 5, at the Cove. This dance served a dual purpose; to entertain the members of TKE and to celebrate the victory of the Glenville Pioneers over Fairmont that same day.

BSM Holds Fall Outing

The first outing of the Baptist Student Movement for the 1968-69 school year was held recently at Cedar Creek. The group participated in a softball game the first part of the day and later they had a hamburger fry.

The group discussed several topics which included the exchange visit with West Virginia Tech's B.S.M. which should take place soon. Also on the agenda were final plans for the building of the homecoming float. The meeting closed with the choosing of program leaders for the month of November.

GSC Modes Noted

Fellow students, let's take a brief look at where Glenville State College stands in terms of major universities and colleges across our nation. Just where are we fitting into the new moods on campuses?

Dean William Ferne of Mount Holyoke College Chapel, who travelled some 6000 miles last spring visiting U. S. campuses of the University of California, Berkeley, Columbia, Howard, Bucknell, Fordham, and numerous others, suggests that there are three basic dissatisfactions common to student bodies; first, the school's social, or "parietal" rules; second, with the curriculum and the university's role in community or world affairs; third, with the lack of student participation in making decisions that closely affect their own lives and the lives of the university. Immediately, if one questions the validity of these basic dissatisfactions here on our campus, he realizes that Glenville State College is not presently threatened by them. Nor are we likely to be.

Of course our college does not operate under conditions similar to those of large universities. Glenville does not have a comparable enrollment, nor is the college located near an urban area where community problems abound. There are other reasons, however, why Glenville students should not become a teeming body of disorder. The many students who have been named as members of the various committees is one reason. This is a clearly-defined attempt to deal with the above third-mentioned basic dissatisfaction. How many students are on the Campus Planning Committee, the Student Life and Welfare Committee, the Activities Committee, the Loans and Scholarship Committee, and others?

Further, what is the new policy of relationship between students and the college which is written out in detail in the new Student Handbooks? Obviously that new policy, adopted without pressure of any kind from students, attempts to deal with the first dissatisfaction.

While I do agree that the curriculum of our college needs some consideration of alteration or change, it still seems quite apparent that Glenville far outstrips many of those leading universities when it comes to being aware and prepared. It is a wise move to take notice of the times and prepare for the future.

We students should heartily accept and respectfully administer the responsibilities given to us. Such opportunity! Voice your opinions. We all have something worth saying.

Respectfully yours,
Kenneth J. Smith

Nat'l Research Council Gives Advice on Awards

Again this year the National Research Council will advise the National Science Foundation in the selection of candidates for the Foundations program of graduate and regular postdoctoral fellowships. Final selection will be made by the Foundation with the results to be announced on March 15, 1969.

Application may be made by college seniors and graduate students working toward a degree. In both programs all applicants must be citizens of the United States and will be judged solely on the basis of ability.

Applicants for the graduate awards will be required to take the Graduate Record Examinations. The examinations, administered by the Educational Testing Service, will be given on January 18, 1969, at designated centers throughout the United States and in certain foreign countries.

The deadline date for the submission of applications for graduate fellowships is December 6, 1968, and for regular postdoctoral fellowships, December 9, 1968.

The newly-organized Language Club met on Oct. 15 at 9:30 a.m. in the Language Lab to plan the club's activities. Sponsors for the club are Mr. Carl Kerr and Mr. John Muir.

November 1, 1968 is the deadline for nominations of candidates for the Danforth Graduate Fellowships. Candidates must be nominated by Liaison Officers of their undergraduate institutions since the Foundation does not accept direct applications. Approximately 120 Fellowships will be awarded in March, 1969.

GREEK NEWS

Roberta Shank and Judith Lamm are shown with Delta Zeta's tiered plate and trophy.

Delta Zeta Initiates Two, Plans Homecoming Float

Initiation for Miss Jane Powell and Pamela Sullivan was held at the chapter house on Sunday evening. Miss Powell is now a College Chapter Director to Theta Xi Chapter of Delta Zeta. Miss Sullivan, a sophomore is an active member.

A party was held on Oct. 10 for the actives at the sorority house. The theme was "Viva La Delta Zeta."

Preparations for the Homecoming float are underway. Sue Sullivan and Pauline Andreechek are co-chairman of the committee. Delta Zeta will have open house on Oct. 19 and welcome everyone.

Beverly Hurst was recently elected to the office of Secretary to Greek Council; Mary Stone was appointed assistant historian by the chapter.

Intramurals began two weeks ago and presently DZ's have a record of 2-0.

Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Berry Serve As ASA Advisers

The Gamma Kappa Chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha has selected new advisors. They are Mrs. Billy Ross and Mrs. Victor Berry.

Mrs. Ross is the wife of Dr. Ross, who is chairman of the division of education and psychology. Mrs. Berry's husband, Victor Berry, is the coordinator of field services.

The Alpha Sigs are working on a project consisting of stuffed animals to be sent to the seventeen boys at Colin Anderson Center of St. Marys Training School which they sponsor.

Also, they have been working on their float for homecoming. Miss Julie Mackey, an Alpha Sig, was chosen as senior princess.

On Oct. 11, Alpha Sigma Alpha had a spaghetti dinner and on Oct. 12, they sponsored their annual Autumn Leaves Dance.

Theta Xi Fraternity Smoker Held Oct. 8

The Kappa Eta Chapter of Theta Xi Fraternity held its second smoker Tuesday night, Oct. 8 in the old Louis Bennett Lounge. A spaghetti dinner was served to the active members and prospective pledges. After the dinner, speeches were given explaining life as a Theta Xi on the Glenville State College campus. Garry Ramsey was master of ceremonies. Ronald Blankenship, president of the fraternity, spoke on time for study and fraternity life. David Nelson, vice-president, spoke on Theta Xi on the national level. John Lough, treasurer, discussed the financial aspects of pledging. Charles Wentz, house president, spoke on living in the fraternity house. Mr. Robert Bence concluded the smoker by discussing his role as an advisor.

Robert Fetty is serving his second year as class president. Last year Fetty was president of the freshman class. Active in intramurals and advertising chairman for the fraternity, Fetty is serving his second year on SGA. He is the president of the class of 1971 and is aided by another Theta Xi, Robert Hays, who is vice-president of the class of 1971.

Mrs. Wright Guest Speaker

Mrs. Jean Wright, Dean of Women, was guest speaker at the recent meeting of Nu Lambda Psi Sorority. Mrs. Wright was present to explain sorority rushing procedures and the rules to be followed.

It was announced by Mrs. Wright that Nu Lambda Psi will be occupants of the west wing of second floor in Woman's Hall beginning in the fall of 1969. A room has also been reserved on the floor for regular sorority meetings.

Mrs. Robert Smith was introduced to the group and it was announced that she will serve as advisor along with Mrs. Stanley Hayward and Mrs. Edward Vineyard.

Pledge pins were presented to the girls by Stephanie Barth and Judy Arnold the designers. The pins will display the sorority colors of blue and green.

Discussion of fund-raising projects was brought up by vice-president, Brinda Sinnott. It was decided that information will be obtained concerning a parcel-post sale to be held later in the year. Plans are also being made to hold a chili supper early in the winter.

Congratulations are given to Phyllis Lamm, a junior from Clarksburg, who was recently elected as recorder for the Greek Council.

On Thursday, Oct. 10, the Greek Council voted to extend the sororities' rush period from one week to two weeks. This will allow sororities to have two parties and now is the same length of time as is the fraternity rush period.

OKP Reveals Fall Schedule

Jack Albert, president of Omega Kappa Phi, attended the Governor's Youth Conference held on Oct. 14 and 15. The conference discussed a report on the problems that face West Virginia today.

The brothers of OKP have received a communication from Mr. Terry Nix, field secretary for Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, which expressed his desire to meet with the brothers and discuss their progress since their formation in March of 1968. He also hopes to discuss the possibilities and qualifications of OKP becoming a colony of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Cathy Sayre, Miss Gilmer County will ride in their car in homecoming parade.

Volleyball Begins Intramural Season

Each year the Glenville State College Physical Education Majors and Minors Club sponsor Intramurals for the interested women of this campus. Tuesday night was the second game of the Intramural season in which four teams played at 6:30. Delta Zeta sorority met the Dynamics, which is composed of women from 5th and 6th floor of Women's Hall. The match went into overtime ending in a 8-6 victory for Delta Zeta. Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority faced the Outsiders, composed of faculty and women from out of town. The win was captured by the Outsiders.

At 7:30, the second round of play started with the Varmits, composed of women from 1st and 2nd floor of Women's Hall against Nu Lambda Psi sorority. The match ended in a victory for Nu Lambda Psi. The Pee Wees of 3rd and 4th floor of Women's Hall met the Maple Nuts of Verona Maple in an overtime and this game resulted in a third match. The Pee Wees edged to victory by two points.

Regulations which govern both volleyball and basketball Intramurals are set up by the Intramural Board. The Board hopes to give a trophy this year to the winner of the Intramural tournaments.

Director of Placements Paul E. Nagy wishes to announce that United States Army recruiters will be visiting the Glenville State College Campus on Oct. 22. At this time, they would especially like to interview senior men who would be interested in OCS (Officer's Candidate School).

GSC Marching Band—Ronald Ross, director

Glenville's Marching Band Has Varied Fall Schedule

by Melody Johnson

It has been said that, "Music hath the power to soothe the savage beast." Here at Glenville, the GSC Marching Band is an inspiration for each of us. The band provides music throughout ballgames and sometimes even a trumpet will be heard playing "charge" as the enthusiasm of the crowd increases with each note. It is a private cheering section in itself and is a band we should all be proud to have represent the student body.

The sixty-five piece marching band, under the direction of Mr. Ronald D. Ross, Mr. Ross, who is serving his fourth year with the GSC Band commented that, "the quality is more superior than that of the past." Perhaps this is due to the fact that, Mr. Ross suggested, "the band has a cosmopolitan roster and most regions of West Virginia are represented along with several other states."

Homecoming will be another highlight for the band this year. They will lead the Homecoming parade as they have done in the past. Special processional music will be provided at the coronation ceremony. Special half-time entertainment is being planned for the Homecoming game.

This year's drum major is Lawrence Ball, a junior music major from Grantsville. Majorettes include Mary Ann Osborne, Jacqueline Pitts, Anne Wilkes, and Jeanie Beechler, twirler. Freshmen Lola Payne and Susan Siers were selected as the new members of the squad this year.

On Nov. 11, the GSC band will participate in the Veteran's Day parade of Lewis County in Weston. They participated in the Glenville-Salem game on Sept. 28 in Clarksburg and also plan to perform at all five home games.

This year the band practices everyday at 3:00 at the Equitable Gas Company field.

Mr. Ross hopes the Pioneer band can reach the 100 membership mark before the centennial year of 1972.

Interest Urged For Films

Students who want to assist in obtaining the foreign film series are asked to meet in room 406 in the Administration Building Wednesday evening at 7 p.m.

At this meeting plans for a door-to-door sale of tickets in the dorms will be discussed (Such a sale would take place Wednesday night.) Only if this canvass can result in a substantial number of sales can the series be rented and brought to the Glenville campus. People who aid in this effort will be given a free ticket.

Students save $4.00 if they buy the season ticket since the admission at the door will be $1.00. In addition, since the ticket is transferrable, several students can purchase a ticket and take turns using it.

J. Flint Named For Montrose Trophy of 1968

By James Moorehead

John Flint, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flint of Glenville, is the 1968 Montrose Award winner.

Flint started his career at GSC as a freshman in 1964 after he graduated from Glenville High School. After his senior year of football, he was chosen to the All-Conference team.

John also played four years of baseball at GSC, became president of the G-Club and was a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

The Montrose Award that Flint will receive is the highest honor any athlete at GSC can win. The award encompasses athletic ability as well as scholastic ability.

What else does the Montrose Award mean? How far does it reach into the heritage of our college? Based upon research into the nature of this award, the following was revealed.

Today, the road all runners come,
Shoulder-high we bring you home,
And set you at your threshold down,
Townsmen of a stiller town.

Smart lad, to slip betimes away
From fields where glory does not stay
And early though the laurel grows
It withers quicker than the rose.

A. E. Houseman

A. E. Houseman's poem "To An Athlete Dying Young" is the embodiment of the life of Frank Montrose, a man who came from Richwood High School to play football at GSC.

Montrose's first game at Rohrbough field was while he was still a junior at Richwood High School, when he led the Lumberjacks to a 7-0 victory over Glenville High School on Oct. 9, 1937. In the second quarter he returned a punt for a 60-yard touchdown and had another run of 65 yards, but was hauled down short of the goal.

Then in the fall of 1939 Frank came to GSC. He showed much promise as a freshman under coach "Nate" Rohrbough, but failed to play in their opening game, a scoreless tie with Salem.

In the following four games against Morris Harvey, Bethany, West Liberty and Concord, Frank saw only limited service. Disappointed with the 2-2-1 record to date, Coach Rohrbough used Frank frequently in the New River (now W. Va. Tech.) game. It was in this game that the 5' 11", 163-pound freshman passed for a touchdown in leading the Pioneers to their third victory of the season.

Frank started the following game with Fairmont, scoring two touchdowns and passing for a third as Glenville out-classed Fairmont, 27-8. Frank's first college TD came in the first period of this game when he returned a punt for 63 yards.

Against Shepherd, Frank ran wild, setting up the first TD with a 17-yard end sweep and scoring the next one on a 12-yard run. He ran 59 yards through a broken field for a third, and intercepted a pass and returned it 46 yards to set up the fourth. The final score was 34-0.

Then came Frank's last collegiate game when he led Glenville to a 7-0 victory over Potomac State.

That was the football player Frank Montrose, but what about the man behind the record? According to the people who knew him, especially Coach "Nate" Rohrbough, Frank was a "quiet, co-operative man, whom everyone liked."

He was the kind of man "you don't have many of," said Coach "Nate." His dedication was not only to the game he loved, but to life in general. He was the exemplification of young manhood. "He was a man early, long before others achieve the sometimes unattainable goal."

"What happened to this man? During semester exams of his freshman year, "Frank came over to my office one morning with his bag in his hand and said he was going home because his eyesight was failing," said Coach Rohrbough. "It was the custom of Italian people to be home when they were sick."

The following spring, Frank went blind and dropped out of school. Shortly before he left school, Earl MacDonald, Mercury sports writer, shook Frank's hand and said, "See you in September at training camp, Frank."

"Don't worry, I'll be back," replied Frank.

On June 21, 1940, the 21-year-old Frank died of nephritis in a Baltimore hospital.

He never made it back the next fall, but with the Frank Montrose Award, he is once again back at GSC. Frank Montrose with "that early-laureled head" lives in the life blood of our college, as a part of the tradition that enhances our heritage.

Club Invites New Members

John Richardson, president of the Glenville State College Chess Club, invites students who enjoy chess to come to the Multi-purpose room on Tuesday from 3:30 to 5:00. The club wants more members and everyone is welcome to come to the meetings.

There are nine members in the club at present. They are: John Richardson, president; Dennis Cunningham, secretary-treasurer; Michael Richardson; Daniel Schuda; James Carey; Gary Stump; Mick Hartley; Kenneth Coleman; and Marvin Tripett.

The first match of the year will be with Morris Harvey in November. Besides other WVIAC teams the club is trying to get a match with Ohio State.

GLENVILLE, WEST VIRGINIA

Bobcats Bombarded By Hanlin Men, 42-0

The GSC Pioneers scored at least once in every quarter en route to a 42-0 victory over Wesleyan and its fourth win in as many starts.

Quarterback Mark McPhail utilizing the fine running of Jim Heaton, Steve Seals, and Tom Haight, controlled the ball for much of the game.

The Pioneers won the toss and elected to receive. Rich Cain took the kick and ran it back 26 yards before fumbling and giving Wesleyan a first and ten on the Pioneer 31. After failing to gain the first down, Wesleyan attempted a field goal which was short and wide to the left and Glenville controlled the ball. After an exchange of punts Glenville took over on its own 34 and promptly marched 66 yards in 15 plays with Heaton scoring from 3 yards out giving Glenville a 6-0 lead. Frost's kick made it 7-0 with less than five minutes gone in the first quarter.

Wesleyan took the ensuing kickoff and on a third and long yardage situation went into deep punt formation. After a fumble Wesleyan was on their one yard line and a hurried kick gave Glenville a first and ten on the Wesleyan 34. On the first play, McPhail hit split end Bill Frost on a post pattern for the second score of the quarter. Frost's second conversion made the score 14-0 with 4:17 remaining to play in the first quarter.

Glenville did not score again until late in the second period when Tom Haight crossed the double stripe from 1 yard out to cap a 76 yard drive that covered eight plays. The big play in this drive was a 52 yard run by Jim Heaton who cut in and then went to the side line for the big gainer. Frost's kick was again good and Glenville held a 21-0 half-time lead.

Glenville scored their fourth six pointer of the afternoon with 6:29 left in the third quarter when Jim Heaton went around right end for 4 yards and the score. Frost again split the up-rights to give GSC a 28-0 lead.

Jim Sprague scored next as he gathered in a punt on the 20 and streaked 80 yards down his right sideline, using his blocking well to account for the next TD. Again Frost added the P.A. T.

Freshman Steve Stoeffel picked up a Tom Black fumble on the 45 yard line and run untouched to paydirt for the final TD. Frost made it 6 for 6 in the extra point department giving GSC the 42-0 victory.

Jim Heaton led the Glenville attack with 72 yards in 10 carries and two touchdowns.

Leading the Wesleyan attack was Larry Rhoades who accounted for 170 yards in 29 carries.

Dear Student Body,

On Thursday, October 3, 1968, a group of students left Glenville to do some spirit-spreading at Fairmont before the big game Saturday. While there Thursday night, several unfortunate incidents happened.

The students of Glenville had made a few mistakes in judgment, but were willing to face up to their mistakes and accept their punishment as men.

Being a member of this group, I feel that the students should be commended not on their mistakes, but on their willingness to clear Glenville's name and to accept their punishment.

I only hope that the rest of the student body will feel this way.

Sincerely yours,
Garry R. Ramsey
SGA Pres.

As I See 'Em

By Ken Cutright

The Pioneers of Bill Hanlin, sporting a record of four wins against no defeats, go against a tough Bluefield squad Saturday in GSC's annual Homecoming game.

The Pioneers are playing without the services of captain Dale Sheets, senior linebacker from Charleston, who broke his hand in Glenville's 7-6 win over Fairmont. Sheets, a four year regular, will be sorely missed if he is unable to return to the lineup in the next three games. Doing a fine job filling in for Sheets is Mike Deem, regular tight end, who did an excellent job against Wesleyan despite his lack of experience in the position. Filling in for Deem at tight end is Chuck Deaton, a sophomore from Sistersville.

Leading a well balanced offensive attack this year has been senior Jim Heaton. Heaton, a transfer from Marshall University, is the teams leading scorer with 30 points. Also doing a fine job totting the ball is Steve Seals and all-conference Tom Haight. Although none of the three has had a 100 yard game, they will all be around 70 or 80 yards per game, giving the Pioneers a good ground game. Although the Pioneers don't pass often, they usually make them count. It was a 30 yard pass from McPhail to Heaton that gave the Pioneers the winning TD against Fairmont and a McPhail to Frost aerial accounted for a 34 yard score against Wesleyan.

One of the most significant points in the Pioneers squad this year has been the toe of Bill Frost. Frost has kicked 10-11 extra points this year and two have been very important. Frost's toe was the margin of victory in the opening 7-6 win against Norfolk and then the 7-6 upset of defending NAIA National Champions Fairmont.

As far as the defensive goes, they have done an outstanding job this year, although they have given up yardage in their first four games, they have been able to come up with the big play. Leading the defensive charge this year have been Jim Frasier, Dale Sheets and Jim Sprague.

It will be interesting to see how well the Pioneers can hold up against the next three foes, Bluefield, Westminster, Pa. and W. Va. State, all tough teams.

We would like to express our sympathies to Coach "Deacon" Duval of Fairmont who lost his wife and daughter in an auto accident last week.

For the students convenience the old dining room will be opened Friday, Oct. 18, from 4 p.m. - 6 p.m. This will accommodate those students who are involved in float decorating and the pep rally. The new dining room will be closed to facilitate a banquet honoring guests on campus for the dedication of Clark Hall.

Joe and Penny Aronson

Aronsons Sing, Act, Mime

Two singers of folk and satirical songs, Joe and Penny Aronson will present a program here on March 4 entitled "Folk Songs Plus."

Along with singing they act, mime, use dialogue, and use body and dance movement to project the meaning of their songs.

Joe Aronson received his degree from the Museum School of Art in Philadelphia. For about 12 years, he was an illustrator-designer with folksinging as a second field. Mrs. Aronson majored in French in high school and college. She did graduate work at the University of Brussels. In Brussels she studied the guitar with a local musician. When she returned to the U. S. she studied under Joe Aronson who she later married.

Indian Dancers Perform

Bhaskar and Shala will perform dances of India on April 15. Bhaskar was born in Madras, India. He was decorated by the late Prime Minister Nehru for his contribution to Indian art. Shala has performed in all of the All-India Music and Dance Festivals. She received a medal for being "the most outstanding artist" at the Calcutta Festival. Shala is pictured below.

Williamson To Lecture

E. G. Williamson, professor of psychology and dean of students at the University of Minnesota, will speak here on Nov. 26.

Williamson is a graduate of the University of Illinois and the University of Minnesota. He is president of both the National Association of Student Personnel Advisors, and the American Personnel and Guidance Association. He is a recipient of awards from the American Personnel and Guidance Association.

He was an advisor or consultant to the American Council on Education and the Veterans Administration and was also the chairman of the Langmuir Committee on Services to Foreign Student Advisors. From 1945-47, he was president of the Division of Personnel and Guidance Psychologists of the American Psychological Association. In 1956, Williamson was a Fulbright Visiting Lecturer to Tokyo. His latest book is Vocational Guidance: A Recent History and Philosophy.

John Huminik

Spy To Speak

On March 13, John Huminik will discuss, "Diary of a Double Agent." Huminik is a scientist and engineer. While working for a Soviet spy network he reported his meetings to the FBI. The spy network worked out of the Embassy in Washington. He made several trips to the Dominican Republic during his spy activities.

Huminik was a counterspy for six years and in September, 1966, the spy ring was exposed. He wrote a book, Double Agent, telling his true story. "It is also an urgent and timely reminder that eternal vigilance is the price a nation must pay for its freedom." Pictured above.

Dec. 9 Sing

Appearing at GSC on Dec. 9, will be the Men of Song, a quartet. The two tenors are; Frank Spoto and Jack Horton. The bass baritone is Edmond Karlsrud and baritone singer is Michael Cousins. One of the tenors, Jack Horton, is a graduate of West Virginia University.

The group has appeared on television and in the movies, and has performed on radio and records. They have also made appearances throughout the U.S. "The quartet has been rated by many critics as the finest concert quartet ever assembled." Their program this season is entirely new and features new arrangements by Charles Touchette. Pictured at right.

New Lost City Ramblers

Trio Presents American Folk Music

The New Lost City Ramblers will appear at GSC on April 8. The trio performs American folk music.

Making up the trio are: John Cohen, Tracy Schwarz and Mike Seeger. Cohen was born in New York City and received BA and MFA degrees from the Yale School of Fine Arts. Schwarz, also born in New York City, attended college in Washington D. C. Seeger, another native of New York City, is on the board of Directors of the Newport Folk Music Foundation. All three are married and reside in different states. The Chicago Tribune

Five Students Enter Contest

Mr. Charles C. Scott has announced that five art students from Glenville will participate in the 10th Annual St. Regis Collegiate Packaging Design Contest, to be held in Chicago, Ill., which closes March 14, 1969. The competition is being sponsored for the 10th consecutive year by the St. Regis Paper Co.

Entrants will be asked to design one of four types of packages—a cat litter bag, a corrugated container for an electric drill, a snack food bag or a folding carton for any one of a number of cosmetic products. Construction, as well as the packages' graphics, will be asked for the folding carton category.

Important packaging purchasers, design authorities or editors of leading publications covering the packaging field will make up the panel of 12 judges.

Winners will be announced in New York following the AMA show. The top four winning students and their professors will be guests of St. Regis for a three day tour of New York City.

Prizes go to both the winning students and their schools. Last year a total of $6,500 was presented in prize money $4,500 to student winners and $2,250 to their respective schools. Also the four top winners, together with their professors, received an all-expense paid overnight trip to New York for the presentations.

Last year 1,507 entries were received from 132 art schools and universities in the U. S. The 1968-69 contest, according to Director Fred B. Hohenhorst, Jr., is expected to attract many more entries from more schools.

Students Take Officers' Test

An Air Force Officers Qualifying Test will be given in the multi-purpose room in Pioneer Center on Oct. 23 and 24. The test is being given in Glenville this year, instead of Parkersburg, because of the traveling distance required of those wishing to take the test.

Testing will last for five hours and will be given in two parts, the first part being given on Oct. 23 and the second part being given on Oct. 24. All college junior and senior men are eligible to take the test.

Sgt. Barber, Air Force recruiter from Parkersburg, will be on campus every Thursday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. to answer any questions concerning the test or the Air Force. To qualify for Officer's Candidate School one must have a four year college degree or be within six months of graduating.

Entire Family Of Seven Loyal To Glenville State

Having sent their seven sons and daughters to Glenville State College, Mr. and Mrs. Carmelo Nocida of 111 N. Lewis St, Glenville have been strong supporters of this institution for 14 years.

Mr. Nocida came to America from Italy when he was 19 years old and has been a shoemaker in several towns in the U. S. He now owns the shoeshop on Main Street in Glenville.

From this occupation Nocida has sent his seven children through college and three have gone on to attain their master's degrees.

Of the five Nocida girls, Mildred, graduated in '59; Mary Jo, '63; Frances, '66; Grace, '67; and Catherine is now a junior. All have served as cheerleaders for GSC at least 2 years and three have held the position of head cheerleader at one time.

Domineck Nocida, the oldest Nocida son, graduated from Glenville in '57 and his brother Loui in '62. Loui was a four-year football player for GSC.

The last Nocida to graduate from Glenville will be Catherine. She is majoring in elementary education is a member of the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority as were the other Nocida girls.

Paintings In Casein Are Currently On Exhibition In Room 309, Ad Building

Presently an art exhibition under the auspices of Old Bergen Art Guild, Bayonne, N. J., is being shown in the Art Department Room 309 in the Administration Building. This exhibit began Oct. 9 and will end Oct. 21.

There are 34 art works in the exhibit, all of which are for sale except one. The lowest priced painting costs $50, but the majority of paintings ranges from $150 to $250 with the highest price resting on $350.

The two mediums used in the paintings on exhibition are casein and polymer watercolors. Casein, a derivative from curdled milk, was originally used by cabinetmakers as a waterproof glue. But when used as a permanent binder for pigments, casein becomes another medium for fine artists.

Both mediums, casein and polymer have the special ability over oil paints to dry rapidly. This is advantageous in that one color can soon be applied over another without the danger of mixing or muddying the colors. Other advantages are that both are applied with water making "clean-up" easier and yet dry waterproof unlike regular watercolors.

The art works were selected by the National Society of Painters in Casein of New York City. This society was found in 1952 in order to provide member artists the opportunity to exhibit their works in the varied techniques possible in this medium and to provide the general public with a chance to see these paintings.

Payments Due Nov. 4

Mid semester board payments will be due on or before Nov. 4, 1968, according to Business Manager William J. Osborne. Mr. Osborne requests students to present their I.D. cards for validation when making their payments.

The payment for the second half of the semester is $101.97.

Mr. Osborne also suggests that, if possible, students should make their payments before the Nov. 4 deadline to avoid last-minute problems concerning this matter.

Father Betancur To Give Lecture

On Tuesday, Oct. 29 at 10:10 a.m. Father Jorge Enrique Betancur, S. J. will deliver a convocation entitled, "The United States of America and the Dis-United States of Latin America." Father Betancur is the Dean of the School of Social Sciences at Universidad Javeriana in Bogota, Colombia.

Born in Medellin, Colombia in 1921, Father Betancur holds degrees from Loyola and Fordham. He has traveled extensively in Western Europe, Venezuela, America, Panama and Ecuador. Literature, philosophy, theology and sociology are among the areas in which Father Betancur has studies.

Qualified to lecture on Latin American social problems, Father Betancur has studies classical and modern literature at Colegio del Sdo. Corazon, Boyaca; ancient and modern philosophy at Universidad Javeriana, Bogota; theology at Loyola University; and earned his M.A., in sociology from Fordham University in New York.

Father Betancur formerly served as secondary school teacher in Col. Berchmans, Cali and in Col. de S. Pedro Claver, Zipaquirá. He was a professor at Universidad Javeriana and a visiting professor at the University Catolica, Lima, Peru. Currently, Father Betancur is the Dean of the School of Social Sciences at Universidad Javeriana, Bogota, a position which he has held since 1963. As Dean of the School of Social Sciences, he has worked on the curriculum for both the department of sociology and the department of social work in accordance with the functional needs of Colombia.

Working diligently with the problems of Latin America, Father Betancur has participated in seminars and workshops both at the national and international level. In 1964, he was the delegate of the Colombian Government in the UN Seminar on the Social Aspects of Industrialization held in Minsk, Byelo-Russia, with 40 delegates from Latin America, Asian and African Countries.

In 1964 Father Betancur attended the international conference of Schools of Social Work in Greece. He was present at the First Pan American Assembly on population held in Colombia in 1965. In addition, he was a delegate to the World Population Conference in Belgrade, Yugoslavia in 1961.

Father Batancur will be present on Glenville State College's campus on Oct. 28-31, from Nov. 18-22, and from Dec. 9-10. He speaks English fluently and is highly recommended by his colleagues as a man, "who has been outstanding in the field of research on social change."

LITERARY GROUP TO MEET

The Literary Society will hold their first meeting in Old Louis Bennett Lounge on Oct. 27 at 3:30. The selection to be discussed is Golding's Lord of the Flies which is now available in the bookstore. All freshmen and upperclassmen are invited.

'Cavern' Cast Chosen Oct. 10

Mr. Stewart Beach, head of the dramatics department, has announced the selection of the cast for Jean Anouilh's "The Cavern", the speech department's first major production of the year, to be presented Nov. 13, 14, and 15. Rehearsals for the production began Sunday, Oct. 13.

The cast consists of: William Lewis, the Author; Gary Hollandsworth, the Count; Lois Ingram, the Countess; Douglas Smith, the Baron; Susan Steen, the Baroness; Michael Ireland, the Seminarist; Albert Rauch, the Superintendent; Charles Jeffries, Romain, the butler; Sharon Erwin, Marie Jeanne, the cook; Preston Browning, Leon, the coachman; David Lough, Marcel, the valet; Trava Vogel, Hugue-line, the chambermaid; Mary Norman, Adele, the kitchen maid; and Charles Harris, Alexis, the scullery boy.

According to Mr. Beach, the play, rather than having one central theme, is a complex story presented on three levels.

The first level is presented in the character of the Author, who says through the entirety of the play that he was unable to write it.

The second level is an element of mystery in that the audience knows from the beginning of the play that the cook was killed but, the question remains of who killed her.

The third and final level is a story of the evolution of human relationships presented in the friction between the upper class in the upper part of the house and the servants in the cavern. It is illustrated in the complex tangling of all classes of people and those things which bind them together.

Mr. Beach also announced that the department's second production will be Garcia Lorca's "The House of Bernarda Alba" a play with an all-female cast. Complete plans for the production will not be made until after the presentation of "The Cavern."

Queen, Court Reign Oct. 19

Fla. A business administration major, Mr. Barnett is the son of Mr. John R. Barnett.

The sophomore princess, Miss Pamela Irene Sullivan, is the 19-year-old daughter of Mrs. Helen Sullivan of Richwood. An elementary education major and a physical education minor, Miss Sullivan's hobbies are swimming, tennis, golf and reading. Her interests lie in Delta Zeta sorority, intramurals, and academic study. Following her election as sophomore princess, Miss Sullivan stated, "Thank you, sophomores, for choosing me as class princess. It will be the highlight of my year, and I hope to represent our class as the great class that it is."

Mr. Robert Fetty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil C. Fetty of Spencer will escort Miss Sullivan, attired in a gown of emerald green. Mr. Fetty, as well as being president of the sophomore class, is also an art major and a physical education minor.

Miss Deena Kay McGuire chosen as freshman princess, is the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David L. McGuire of Ripley. A social studies major and a business minor, Miss McGuire has an interest in dancing, football games, swimming and bowling. She also enjoys dorm life after having traveled extensively. Concerning her election to represent her class as princess, Miss McGuire stated, "I want to thank the freshman class for electing me as their princess. I'm really pleased. I couldn't be asked to represent a greater class. I know the Homecoming will be quite an experience for me."

Attired in gold brocade, Miss McGuire will be escorted by the president of the freshman class, Mr. John Clyde Westfall of 210 Hunter Street, Glenville. He is pursuing a field in dentistry at GSC.

Miss Judy Lou Chisler, the 5-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Chisler, has been selected as train-bearer for the queen. The blue-eyed brunette who is one of two children will be accompanied by 4-year-old Stephen Blair Bungardner, who will serve as crown bearer. He stands 3 foot 4 inches and has blonde hair and brown eyes. Both children will perform major roles in the coronation of Queen Gloria I which will be at 11:00 a.m. Oct. 19 in the GSC amphitheatre.

Social Security Manager Will Interview Students

Mr. V. T. Handley, Manager of the Social Security Administration District Office, Clarksburg, W. Va., will visit our campus on Oct. 24, 1968.

The purpose of Mr. Handley's visit is to interview seniors who may be interested in careers in federal employment.

On this visit Mr. Handley will represent the Civil Service Commission and its continuing interest in recruiting qualified seniors for federal appointments.

Additional details may be secured from personnel in the Student Union.

Five Women Compose Cheerleading Squad

By Diana F. Brown

There is no record to be found of the first cheerleaders at Glenville State College, but according to a reliable source, cheerleaders can be remembered as early as 1920. At that time there were three, rather than the five cheerleaders we have today. In the 1920's, the girls, for they were strictly female cheerleaders, wore white midi-blouses blue skirts and bloomers.

In 1953, John Davis Rohrbough, the first male cheerleader, was elected by the Glenville State College Student Body. He attended this institution for two years, then transferred to Annapolis Naval Academy, where he is now teaching.

Following Rohrbough as cheerleader was Charles (Chick) Zoharian in 1954. Zakarian hailed from Pawtucket, Rhode Island, and he is now superintendent of schools in Rhode Island.

In 1959, David Whetern, became a member of the cheering squad. Wethern was originally from Dundee, Mich. and now lives in Baltimore, Md. working for a well-known airline company.

These three male cheerleaders are the most recent to be included in the history of Glenville State College.

Today, in the year 1968, G.S.C. is represented by five girls. Four of the five girls are clad in navy V-neck sweaters and matching skirts and knee socks. This year's head cheerleader is Sylvia Comer from Beckley who wears a white V-neck sweater, white skirt and blue knee socks. Those on the squad with Miss Comer are Christine Creighton, Rebecca Law, Patricia Jay and Sharon Roberts.

Miss Creighton comes to Glenville from New Matamoras, Ohio. The 5' 8½" tall redhead is an elementary major and hopes to join the Peace Corps after graduation.

Miss Law, of Clarksburg, is a physical education major and math minor. She is a sophomore this year and is affiliated with the Delta Zeta Sorority.

Hailing from Lost Creek, Miss Jay is 5' 4" and has red hair. She is a sophomore majoring in physical education and also is in the Delta Zeta Sorority.

A sophomore from Stumptown, Sharon Roberts is a 5' 4" brunette majoring in physical education.

All the girls reported that they believed strongly that the cheering of the crowd helps to urge a winning team. The cheerleaders expressed how pleased they were with the spirit and enthusiasm of the fans and hope that it will continue throughout the year.

Tonight the cheerleaders will lead the snake dance through the town of Glenville, with the bonfire and those at the football field. Tomorrow, as usual, they will be on hand to cheer the team to victory.

Financial Query Proves Helpful

Results of the financial aid questionnaire were announced Sept. 7 by Mr. Larry B. Lamb, financial aid officer at Glenville State College.

According to Lamb, the financial aid questionnaire was issued to help establish a realistic base cost for each student in determining the amounts of financial aid needed to support his educational program at this college.

Results of the Financial aid questionnaire were divided into four categories: students living in the dormitories; commuting students; fraternity and sorority students; and town students.

The figures showed that it costs students living in the dormitory an average of $1,400 a year to go to school. The commuting students showed an average expense list of $1,038 per year, while fraternity and sorority category showed an average cost of $1,325. The town student category showed a much higher average cost of $1500 per year. This was considerably over the predicted cost average.

Lamb stated, however, that the high average cost for town students was due to the fact that 21 of the 36 participants in this category were married students. Mr. Lamb also stated that he was pleased with the results of the questionnaire and that the cost of each student was very close to predicted costs.

The figures show that 148 students returned questionnaires to his office. The average cost of each student at GSC is $1,345 per year.
