Comprehensive Examinations Scheduled Nov. 20-Dec. 10

Cries of terror rend the air at Glenville State College. Alas, comprehensive exams are here again. Although there has been much rumor dealing with the abolishment of the comprehensives, the fact is that the exams are planning on staying with GSC for the time being. According to Dr. Max Ward, the Faculty Committee on Comprehensives is now studying and reviewing faculty and student viewpoints. No decisions have been made.

Comprehensives have been scheduled from Nov. 20 to Dec. 10. Biology comps on Nov. 20 will consist of generalized exams on what the seniors have learned in their various classes in botany and zoology.

The Business Department under Dr. McCrary will have three days of comprehensives. Nov. 20 at 4:40, typewriting and shorthand comprehensives sections will be given. The written accounting comp will take place at 4:30 p.m. on Dec. 4. General Business and Economics exams are scheduled for Nov. 26 at 4:30 p.m.

The morning of Nov. 21 is the date set for music comprehensives, according to Dr. Harry, head of the Fine Arts department. A written exam will cover theory, history and music education. Performance tests include a piano proficiency test in applied music as well as an exam on the student's performance on his major instrument. Both of the performance tests are a part of the music juries that are given at the end of every semester for all music students.

The GSC math department will hold comps on Nov. 21 from 6-9 p.m. The written exam will cover the areas of algebra, trigonometry, calculus, probability and statistics, and logic and sets.

Speech comprehensives on Nov. 25 will move away from the usual retention tests, according to Mr. James Murphy of the speech department. Mr. Murphy's comps will center around the question: "Can this student teach classes in a school after graduation?"

The areas involved include speech fundamentals, group discussion, argumentation and debate, persuasive speech, criticism and speech correction. Much of the test will be essay. Mr. Beach will require his seniors to plan and direct a one-act play as a part of the speech comprehensive. No definite hour has been set.

The afternoon of Nov. 26 is the time announced for chemistry comps. According to chemistry professor, Dr. Turner, the student will be evaluated on two tests. A written test, an hour and fifty minutes in length, will be derived from one form of the American Chemical Society standardized test in chemistry. An oral test will be a question and response session between chemistry department members and the individual student.

The Art comprehensive will cover the general areas of painting, drawing, design, ceramics, sculpture, art history and art education. The exam can be taken at any time from 8:00 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Dec. 2 and 3. A reading list of books to aid the art student is posted outside the art room. French comprehensives will also be held on Dec. 2 and 3.

Library science will have comprehensive on Tuesday, Dec. 3.

'Student Unrest' Is Topic of Lecturer

E. G. Williamson, psychologist and Dean of Students at the University of Minnesota, will be on the Glenville State College Campus Nov. 26, as a Danforth Visiting Lecturer.

Dean Williamson will give a public lecture on "Some Marks of an Educated Person," Tuesday morning in the auditorium.

The visiting lecturer's program, under which Dean Williamson comes, here was initiated in 1957 by the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges, and is supported by a grant from the Danforth Foundation. Its purpose is to assist colleges in their efforts to strengthen liberal education. Each year several men and women of outstanding intellectual stature from this country and abroad are made available to colleges and universities. They remain on campus from two days to a week.

Dean Williamson was graduated from the University of Illinois, and earned his Ph. D. from the University of Minnesota. He was a teacher and personnel assistant in the department of Psychology, director of The University Testing Bureau, assistant professor, and coordinator of Student Personnel Services. He has been Professor of Psychology and Dean of Students since 1941.

In 1945 Dean Williamson was on the U. S. Department of Commerce Mission to Germany concerning Manpower Utilization.

He served as a consultant on teacher personnel problems to the American Council on Education, and was a member, and chairman for nine years, of the ACE's Committee on Student Personnel Work. He has been chairman since 1950 of the Veteran's Administration's Advisory Committee on Counseling Services for Vocational Rehabilitation and Education. Dean Williamson is now past-president of the American Personnel and Guidance Association, and was recipient of awards from this Association in 1953 and 1962. He is past-president of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, and chairman of its Commission on Student Expression on Social Issues.

In 1956 Dean Williamson was Fulbright Lecturer to Tokyo

University in Japan. He has served as chairman of the Langmuir Committee on Services to Foreign Students, president of the American College Personnel Association, and president of the Division of Personnel and Guidance Psychologists of the American Psychological Association.

In August and September of 1967 Dean Williamson was Asia Foundation Lecturer at the Southeast Asia Vocational Guidance Conference in Tokyo, Japan, and also served as Asia Foundation Consultant in Taiwan and in Ceylon.

Dean Williamson is the author of numerous books and articles in the areas of counseling, personnel, academic freedom, and student Activism. One of his latest books is Vocational Guidance: A Recent History and Philosophy.

GLENVILLE COLLEGE FEATURED ON NEWS

Weston TV station, WDTV, Channel 5, recently showed film of some Glenville State campus scenes. Pictures shown inside Clark Hall included a class taught by Mrs. Rosemary Elswick, and the name plate inside the front door. Outside shots of the new education center were also used.

Pictures inside the Robert F. Kidd Library were of the stairway, the Alma Janet Arbuckle Children's Center and the circulation desk.

President D. Banks Wilburn was interviewed in his office as a final to the short feature on GSC.

NEW FRENCH CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

On Nov. 6 the newly-formed French Club elected officers. Serving as president will be Sharon Dutton. Miss Dutton is a junior French and mathematics major from Parkersburg.

Mary Stone was elected to fill the vice-presidency. A sophomore majoring in speech and French, Miss Stone is from Smithville.

Filling the office of secretary-treasurer will be Linda Atchason from Jane Lew. Miss Atchason is a sophomore majoring in French and language arts.

Rev. Hill Addresses Annual Assembly

According to the Campus Religious Council, the Reverend Douglas W. Hill of Charleston will be the speaker for the annual Thanksgiving assembly, Monday night, Nov. 25, at 8:00 p.m. Rev. Hill is the Administrative Secretary for West Virginia Baptist Foundation of Campus Ministry. He was born in Dayton, Ohio, and was graduated from Miami University and Colgate Rochester Divinity School. Rev. Hill has served churches in Buffalo, N. Y., Pittsburgh, Pa. and Huntington, W. Va. He has served as president of the Greater Huntington for Guyan-dotte Baptist Association, Advisor to Huntington Christian Youth Council, and Advisor to Baptist Student Movement at Marshall University. His topic for the assembly is THANKS FOR WHAT? from Luke 17:11-19.

Rev. Hill is just one of the many fine lecturers sponsored by the Campus Religious Council. Others in the past have been Coach James Carlen of West Virginia University who spoke at the Thanksgiving Assembly in 1967 and Dr. Elmer Dierks Executive Secretary of West Virginia council of churches who spoke at Easter time last year.

SGA Sponsors Foreign Films

Because of a lack of student participation in buying tickets for the foreign film series originally planned and sponsored by Mr. Harvey Jack Musser, instructor of English, the SGA has agreed to subsidize the endeavor so that those people interested in the series may still have the opportunity to enjoy the films.

Mr. Musser announced that the films, which were specially chosen to provide a variety of motion picture entertainment, will be ordered within the week and definite dates for presentation will be posted as soon as possible.

The films, in order of presentation, will be: Hallelujah the Hills by Adolfas Mekas; The Caretaker by Oliver Donner from the Pinter play; Black Orpheus by Marcel Camus; The Seventh Seal by Ingmar Bergman; All These Women by Ingmar Bergman; Shoot the Piano Player by Francois Furfaut; and The Bridge by a group of post World War II Germans.

Student Support Urged

My Fellow Students;

In basic journalism courses, a student is taught that in reporting for a newspaper, correct and appropriate facts should be given. He quickly learns the importance of a good lead, body, and conclusion in a news story. With this information I hope that you will read this lead editorial open-mindedly, which is the first of a series of four, for the information to be presented is very important to each one of you at GSC.

On Dec. 19, 1968, you students will be asked to vote on an amendment to the Student Government Association Constitution which will increase the student activity fee. In order that you students will be well-informed of just what you will be paying for, SGA President Garry Ramsey has scheduled two campus assemblies.

In the past at Glenville, it has seemed that students would discuss anything on campus except financial problems. Presently, GSC students are paying a lower student fee than any other college or university in West Virginia. We are paying $53 a year, which is $7 lower than 10th ranking Concord's activity fee of $60 and $20.41 below the 11 colleges and universities' average of $73.41. This information was based on activity fee payments at Bluefield, Concord, Fairmont, Glenville, Shepherd, West Liberty, West Virginia Tech, West Va. State, Marshall, Potomac State and West Virginia University.

This is the main reason why students complain about the lack of activities on campus. Presently this $53 goes for the yearbook, convocation programs, Student Government Association, Lyceum Programs, music activities, speech department productions, The Glenville Mercury, identification cards, loans and athletics.

When students realize that this year they are paying only 36 cents per college competition sports event, less than 10 cents for the college newspaper per issue, 331/3 cents for a major play presented by the Drama Department among other unbelievably low fees, the increase will not seem unreasonable.

Appearing in the next two issues of The Mercury will be a rundown of the departments and what their share of the activity fee pays for. A conclusion will be printed one day before voting. Remember asking for an increase, we are not asking for luxury, but simply breathing room in present programs. I sincerely hope that you, as students, care enough about your college to support such a worthy, much-needed amendment.

Reconsider Open Letters . . .

Hastily constructed open letters are probably the worst bits of doggerel ever to appear on the pages of the Glenville Mercury. From having read them, it would seem they originate in this manner. A student becomes angry about something — anything. While he is still white hot with rage, he sits down and scribbles his thoughts onto paper. If he proof reads his work, it is rarely with the intention of finding errors and correcting them. Rather, it is to see whether he has left any of his anger out. He then submits this tirade to the editor as "an open letter."

Is this effective? Does it have any potential for good? No, not as far as I can see. Criticism of this nature only invites counter criticism and has as its goal not improvement, but destruction.

A well-developed, carefully constructed open letter, on the other hand, has several beneficial effects. Primarily it does not insult the object of criticism. It has something positive to suggest — a possible solution for the problem. It leaves the way open for the other party to act or reply without having to appear intimidated. It presents the facts as objectively as possible, and without emotion.

Let us remember the lessons of freshmen composition classes when presenting our views and asking for change. Let us also remember that when we sign our name to a document or letter, we imply our approval of its contents as a whole, including spelling, grammar, and punctuation as well as its basic ideas and theme.

Thank You,
Patrick L. McCartney

Committee for Effective Student Government

New Gov't Possible

By William Monk, co-Chairman
Committee for Effective Student Government

Glenville State College is about to embark on a relatively new road in student government.

Garry Ramsey, S.G.A. President, has formed the Committee for Effective Student Government to consider the possibilities of a student senate form of government, as announced earlier in The Mercury. The CESG is presently attempting to formulate a workable plan for a student senate which it can present to the entire student body in a campus-wide referendum vote.

The committee has expressed concern over the fact that our present form of student government does not provide equal representation for about 80 per cent of the student body. Although the committee members individually are from various campus organizations, they feel that in their position as committee members, they must maintain a non-partisan status to provide the best form of student government. It is felt that by objectively weighing the problem, free of partisan campus politics, they can provide an effective form of government for all the students.

The campus Greek organizations, to date, have given their enthusiastic support to the committee, but no response in any direction has been received from any of the non-Greek or honorary organizations. The committee urges all campus organizations to take advantage of the opportunity to have representatives of CESG meet with them to discuss a student senate.

The committee believes:

(1) that the present form of student government is inadequate as a student voice, due to poor leadership and its failure to serve as a student-oriented organization rather than a tool of the administration, or a campus social committee.

(2) effective government is best achieved when the government is the tool of all those being governed. When government begins to offer participation to all students and organizations, it has taken the first step in breaking the rut of apathy our students have fallen into concerning student government. Participation creates interest.

(3) students either feel that they have no outlets for their complaints and suggestions, or that they have no reason to care. Our solution is a student senate, with equal representation, to serve as an open forum for students to express their views and complaints.

(4) that a student senate will, by its size and structure, serve as a stronger student voice and be better equipped to serve as a gauge of student opinion.

(5) that a student senate must be free of all administrative control and influence! It must and shall be a student organization for students, but never losing sight of the ultimate—a better Glenville State College.

These are just a few of the building blocks of our basic philosophy. Certainly there is more.

We invite criticism and suggestions, for we feel a responsibility to the student body. We only hope that in the important and formative days ahead the students of this college will feel that same responsibility to others as well as to themselves.

Heat Topic Chilly

Dear Editor:

"Do you have heat in your room? We don't." This seems to be the most popular question and answer combination being used these days in Louis Bennett Hall. Everywhere, men are breaking out winter coats, blankets, anything to provide warmth during the cold November nights. The reason for all of these extremities being employed in the process of trying to keep warm is that there is a problem with the heating system in Louis Bennett Hall.

In the past, the old section of the Hall and the new section had been using the same boiler in regulating the heat to each section, but the boiler was not powerful enough to regulate correctly enough heat to both sections by itself.

As a result, a $60,000 bid was awarded last year to the Baker Equipment Company of Bridgeport, W. Va., for the installation of a new heating system in the old section. The contractors worked for three months this summer installing the new heating system, but the college, as well as the contractors, is not satisfied with the finished product. The main trouble is that the heat can be turned on, but it goes back off by itself at times. Although no solution has yet been uncovered, the administration and the contractors are confident that it is not far off.

Meanwhile, the men of Louis Bennett Hall are dreading a lot of cold nights in the future, but provisions for temporary sleeping in the lounge for the men whose rooms have no heat is being contemplated.

Mrs. Turner Serves As TX Housemother

Mrs. Natty Turner is serving as housemother and cook for the Theta Xi fraternity. Mrs. Turner is a retired schoolteacher and this is her first experience as housemother. She serves dinner to the men living in the fraternity house every evening. The brothers of Theta Xi wish to welcome her and hope she will continue to stay and become a lasting part of Theta Xi fraternity.

The fraternity house also has a new look. The fraternity purchased a new furnace for the upstairs rooms. The furnace heats six rooms adequately. The furnace is just one of the house improvements that are being renovated this year.

I.D. Cards are now available in the Office of Student Affairs and may be picked up between 8:00 - 4:30. Students must present their temporary I. D. in order to obtain the permanent I. D. Students living in residence halls and eating meals in the cafeteria must have their I. D. cards validated by the business office.

Committee Judges Appeals of Students

Members of the Campus Parking Committee are Dr. A. T. Billips, chairman; Dr. John Chisler; Mr. Frank Toth; the security officer on duty at the time of the meeting, Mr. Jerry Helmick or Mr. Tom Reaser; Kenneth Cutright and Larry Woods. The duty of this committee is to make specific recommendations concerning parking problems to the Campus Planning Committee.

This committee meets every Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. except for the second Tuesday of the month when they meet at 3 p.m.

Dr. Billips stated that when a student is issued a second violation he is sent a letter and asked to report to the Office of Student Affairs. "It is very important for a student to appear before the committee so that he may appeal his case," stated Dr. Billips.

In some instances the tickets have been torn up after hearing the student's view. By hearing the student's version of what is needed for improvement the committee is more aware of the problems. The committee can then attempt to make the regulations clearer.

As a result of student complaints the double parking beside the Health and Physical Education Building was discontinued earlier this year.

An average of only six violations is reported each week. The most usual parking violations are cars that are not registered and parking staff lots or reserved areas.

Dr. Billips stressed "That the parking committee was developed to serve the students and rarely does a student appear before the committee a second time."

Also Dr. Billips recommended "That if the students would give themselves an extra ten minutes to get to class, it would help solve a lot of the parking problems."

GSC picks up yardage against Shepherd

GSC Ends Season In 9-0 Win

Glenville State College picked up a first quarter touchdown and a last quarter safety to stop the visiting Shepherd Rams and finish their season with a respectable 6-3 record.

Glenville won the toss and elected to kick off. Shepherd, failing to make the necessary yardage, was forced to punt and halfback Jim Sprague fielded the ball on the 26 yard line, broke through would be tackler's and rambled 74 yards for the score. Frost's kick for the PAT was good and Glenville led 7-0 with only 2:25 gone in the quarter.

Even though both teams threatened, neither could get across for the score. Shepherd drove to the GSC 16 before Dave Rawson picked off a Meyers pass to thwart the drive.

Glenville got on the score board once again with 1:22 left in the game when Shepherd quarter back Meyers was called for intentionally grounding the ball in the end zone, giving Glenville the safety and a 9-0 victory.

Jim Heaton led all rushers with 74 yards in 27 carries, while Jim Woody was busy making 14 unassisted tackles to lead the defense.

Shepherd gained a total of 160 yards, 156 via the air route, to Glenville's 103 and held a 9-8 advantage in first downs.

Also gone is Jim Frasier, the middle guard who won the most valuable player award in the Fish Bowl Classic and was WVIAC defensive players.

As I See 'Em

By Ken Cutright

By Ken Cutright

The GSC Pioneers finished their football season with a 9-0 victory over Shepherd and boasted their record to 6-3 overall and a 5-2 conference slate.

In a conference like the WVIAC, a 5-2 slate is certainly respectable enough and in most years would be good for a second place finish. But with the power this year, it could do not better than fifth for the Pioneers who finished third last year with a 5-1-1 conference record.

The strength and the power of the member teams in the WVIAC has been made quite evident in the last two years. This year, not one team had an undefeated season, and many of the games were not decided until the final minute. State, the conference champ, beat Glenville, and West Liberty by one touchdown and beat Bluefield by only one point. Glenville is rolling to their 5-2 conference slate, beat what was probably the two best teams in the conference, Fairmont and Salem. Salem in turn handed State it's only conference loss, and Salem's only other loss was to West Liberty, 14-13. Fairmont's 7-6 loss to Glenville was their only conference blemish and their out of state victories certainly focus some eyes toward West Virginia. Last year they won the WVIAC, pulling out some close ones over conference foes and then played tremendous football to capture the national title. This alone should prove that the WVIAC conference is the toughest in the country.

Five senior football players were named to the GSC list of Who's Who in American Colleges and universities. Bill Frost, Mick Hartley, Steve Seals, Dale Sheets, and Jim Sprague were recently named for this honor as leaders on the GSC campus.

Frost, besides being an outstanding split end, has been acting president of SGA, vice-president of SGA, class president, a member of Theta Xi fraternity, the G-Club and several college committees.

Seals, besides being all-conference defensive end in 1966 and captain of the football team, was assistant intramural director, sergeant-at-arms of Louis Bennett Hall and he belongs to the G-Club and TKE Fraternity.

Sprague, a member of Theta Xi Fraternity, is a member of the football and track teams, was honorable mention all-conference in 1967 and is active in school and fraternity affairs.

Hartley, from Belpre, is a member of Theta Xi Fraternity and has been a member of the squad for four years now. He is active in school and social affairs.

Sheets, from Charleston, has been captain of the football team, a member of G-Club and the SGA in his four years at Glenville State College.

BIG SISTERS ASSIGNED

Big sisters have been assigned for the Alpha Sigma Alpha pledges. They are Ruth Crensdorff with Margaret Baker; Sharon Dutton with Cheryl Blankenship; Terry Snider with Margaret 'Peg' Hirst; Jacqueline Pitts with Laura Lister; Janice Reed with Kathy Oliver; Jean Burke with Deanne Rexroad and Nancy Eberhardt with Susan Sloan.

Pledges are now making plans for their pledge period. They are planning several activities including a Christmas project for the 17 boys that Alpha Sigma Alpha sponsors at the Colen-Anderson Center in St. Mary's.

Tuesday night was the time for much excitement as the Alpha Sig's met Delta Zeta for the championship volleyball game. After a hard-fought three games, Alpha Sig's became the champions.

Collegiates Visit Mill, Attend 4-H Conference

Four members of the Collegiate 4-H club recently attended the area conference at Jackson's Mill. They were Huguette Thomas, Vicky Rhodes, Jayne Beer and Nancy Coen. The conference was attended by representatives from 12 counties in this area. These members from the Collegiate club attended because their club hopes to work with the county clubs in the future.

Also the Collegiate club plans to contribute to the medical center program by planning special activities such as bake sales in the dormitories to raise funds. The club is also sponsoring a Christmas party for one of the 4-H clubs in the county.

Comprehensives Scheduled

Seniors in Library science should see Miss Lorentz for exam time arrangement. The comp will cover cataloging, school administration, book selection, children's literature, and reference.

Education comprehensives, according to department head, Dr. Ross, will be on Dec. 3 and 5. Dec. 3 at 6 p.m. in room 102 in Clark Hall, math and theory exams will be given. On Dec. 5 at 6 in the same room, reading and writing tests will be taken.

According to Dr. Espy Miller, there is a change in English comprehensives procedures. The grammar exam will be held on Dec. 6 at 3:30 p.m. The literature section has been divided into two sections. Dr. Miller stated that the old method of using only one literature section at times forced a student to write from 3:30 until 9:30 p.m. This year, the English literature test will be at 3:30 on Thursday, Dec. 5. Dr. Miller said that there is no change in the goals of the comprehensives. The exams are on "overall view" of the courses in the student's specialized field. Another function is to attempt to give students an opportunity for an "overview" and a more mature look at their earlier courses.

Dec. 5, 6, and 7 are the dates set for Social Studies comps. According to Mr. Stanley Hall, the following test schedule will take place. American History comps are scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Dec. 6. Economics at 8 a.m. and sociology at 10:30 a.m. will comprise the Dec. 7 schedule. Mr. Hall stated that the tests help to evaluate the student's academic preparation for teaching.

Physical education comprehensives on Dec. 9 and 10 will consist of general comprehensive examinations with no specific course breakdown. The oral or written aspect will be determined by the number of students taking physical education comps, according to Dr. Dollinger. No definite hour has been set for the tests.

Dr. Nagy Heads Placement Service

Dr. Paul E. Nagy, Director of Placements at GSC, has announced that the following representatives will conduct interviews for job placements on campus during the remainder of the month of November.

Wednesday, Nov. 13, John Fox and Robert Hays, representing Aetna Life Insurance, will hold interviews from 10:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Thursday, Nov. 14, Jack L. Mertz, representing the U. S. General Accounting Office in Washington D. C., will conduct interviews from 9:00 - 12:00 p.m.

Wednesday, Nov. 20, Ralph Brabban or Alva Ball, representing the Kanawha County School System will conduct interviews from 9 a.m. as long as needed.

Thursday, Nov. 21, Louise Davis, representing the Public Schools of Washington D. C., will hold interviews from 9:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

Dr. Nagy added that the Placement Office, located in Room 202 of the Pioneer Center, is opened to all students interested in obtaining information on job placements or scheduling interviews with representatives of participating groups. He also noted that there are numerous jobs open to the college graduate which offer many incentives, especially in relation to benefits and promotions available.

As of now, the regular office hours of the Placement Office are from 8:00 - 11:00 a.m. Monday through Friday, but tentative plans are to eventually expand the facility to a fulltime basis.

OKP Plans 'Nog Ball'

The brothers of Omega Kappa Phi Fraternity have concluded plans for their Dec. 6 dance. The theme of the dance will be "The Nog Ball." This theme was chosen due to the coming holiday season.

Plans are at present to serve eggnog and fruit cake to all those who attend the dance.

The dance will be a semi-formal affair and tickets will be on sale in advance, and at the door. The cost of the tickets will be $3.50 per couple. Music will be furnished by the King Sound Interpreters, who also appeared for Theta Xi's Sadie Hawkins weekend.

I wish to thank my many friends at Glenville State for the flowers, cards, gifts and visits while I was hospitalized. I am now at home, feeling much better and hope to return to GSC soon.

Kinder Announces GED Examinations

The General Educational Development (GED) Test is given on the Glenville State Campus the last Monday and Tuesday of each month, according to Mr. Kermit L. Kinder, Director of Guidance and Counseling.

This test enables those who failed to complete high school, or those who did not enter high school, to receive the equivalent of a high school diploma, or certification for a certain grade. The GED test is sponsored by the West Virginia State Department of Education.

The GED measures the individuals' competence in each of the following fields: English, social studies, natural science, literary materials, and mathematics. The minimum test score (the least one may score and yet pass the GED) has been set at a standard score of 35 on each of the five parts, or an average standard score of 45 on all five parts.

To be eligible to take the GED Test, one must be at least 19 years of age. Further, the high school class of which one was a member must have graduated by the date of the test, provided that one has attended high school for some period of time in the past.

Those taking the GED within the state must be bonafide residents of West Virginia and must have last attended school in this state. Again, however, applicants need not have entered high school in order to be eligible to take the test.

Those wishing to apply for taking the GED must do so through the Office of Guidance and Counseling here on campus. There is a fee of five dollars for taking the test. If one does not pass the GED on the first try, he may repeat his attempt at the end of thirty days, at which time the test will be given again.

The General Educational Development Test is offered throughout West Virginia, at both state and private institutions. Those applicant taking the test in Glenville will report to the old Louis Bennett lounge on the specified dates.

Recently, the Robert F. Kidd Library donated a set of Encyclopedia Britannica to Louis Bennett Hall. According to Mr. David Gillispie, college librarian, these encyclopedias are a "permanent loan." Two additional sets of encyclopedias are now available as gifts if the dormitories express an interest in such a gift.
