Concert Given Dec. 8

The Glenville State College Choral Union with approximately 100 members will present The Messiah, Sunday, Dec. 8 in the college auditorium at 8 p.m. Mr. Mark C. Aamot, instructor in music, will direct the GSC choral group.

Miss Bertha Olsen, instructor in music, will accompany on the organ and Shirley Cunningham, a senior music major will provide piano accompaniment.

For the first time an Instrumental Ensemble will accompany the GSC choral group in the presentation of The Messiah.

The soloists in the concert are all students of GSC with the exception of Karen Lewis, a graduate of GSC and a resident of Glenville.

James Woodrow Belknap, a senior music major from Parkersburg, Sonda Neese, a senior music major from Glenville, John Collins, a music major from Glenville, Cynthia Jane Beer, a sophomore English and music major from Buckhannon; Shirley Starcher a junior home economics major from Weston, and Kathryn Sayre, a freshman music major from Leon, completes the list of soloists.

The Messiah is presented in an abridged version but one which keeps the story intact.

There will be no charge for the concert. Everyone is invited. The choral union members meet every Tuesday night for rehearsals. All students, faculty and townspeople were invited to participate.

Next semester the Choral Union will be doing light music. Rehearsals will be on Thursday nights. Any student interested in taking this course for credit should see Mr. Aamot sometime in January.

Interviews Set For Native Son

'Operation Native Son' will be held in the Ban Johnson Memorial Field House in Marietta, Ohio, on Friday, Dec. 27. This project is sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce of Greater Parkersburg, Belpre, and Marietta, Ohio, and the Little Kanawha Regional Council of which Dean Delmer K. Somerville is president.

'Operation Native Son' was designed to provide college graduates living in the mid-Ohio Valley with an opportunity to find employment in their own home area. Interested students may schedule interviews with representatives of leading companies and school systems in regard to career opportunities in this region.

The project was held in Parkersburg last year, being alternated yearly between that city and Marietta. In 1967, 252 students representing 32 colleges and universities participated in 'Operation Native Son' with representatives from more than 25 business and industrial concerns and school boards conducting interviews.

More detailed information concerning this program will be released at a later date and enrollment blanks will be provided for interested students.

Martin To Address FAO

Dr. Leslie L. Martin, secretary and administrator of higher education in West Virginia, will come to the campus Tuesday, Dec. 10 to speak to the Faculty-Administrative Organization.

Dr. Martin will lead a discussion on the role of higher education in West Virginia.

Dr. Martin was appointed administrator of Higher Education and Secretary to the State Board of Education in 1967. Dr. Martin, a native of Indiana, came to West Virginia from the University of Kentucky where he was Dean and Professor of Education.

The Greek Council is now sponsoring joint parties to promote fellowship among Greeks.

The parties will be presented on a six months basis, beginning in December of 1968. This joint party will be sponsored by all the organizations participating. Each of the other parties will be sponsored by three organizations.

'Men of Song' to Appear

On December 9, the GSC Convocation and Lyceum will present 'The Men of Song.' The quartet consisting of Edmond Karlsrud, Frank Spoto, Jack Horton and Michael Cousins will be accompanied by Eugene Brister.

The bass-baritone, Edmond Karlsrud, is one of the most experienced concert performers of our day. His record of over 1,200 concert appearances is unique among today's singers. Despite this record, Mr. Karlsrud has still found time to perform in every phase of the singing profession with appearances on all the major TV and radio networks, in opera, oratorio, as a symphony guest soloist and—early in his career—in supper clubs, and at the famous Palace Theatre in New York City. He is widely known and admired not only for his own artistry but as the organizer and guiding force behind such tremendously successful concert ensembles as the Karlsrud Choral, the 'Men of Song,' The Rondoliers Trio and the Concertmen and Edmond Karlsrud. Currently he is especially active in the world of opera performing roles ranging from the Landgrave in 'Tannhauser' to Figaro in 'The Marriage of Figaro.'

Singing tenor, Frank Spoto, is a native New Yorker and received his early training there. He has since graduated from the Oberlin College Conservatory of Music and, following his graduation, he joined the faculty of Bluffton College. During his term there he appeared extensively as a recitalist and oratorio soloist throughout the Mid-west. Mr. Spoto was the winner of the Great Lakes Region Auditions of the national Federation of Music Clubs and was also the winner of the Marie Morrissey Keith Scholarship. Following a recent season of Summer Stock repertory he returned to New York for graduate study and is currently on his first coast-to-coast tour with the 'Men of Song.'

Jack Horton, also singing tenor, counts both Virginia and West Virginia as his home states. He was graduated from the University of West Virginia and has had an active solo and ensemble career since. While at the University, he was the West Virginia Metropolitan Opera Auditions winner. His professional credits include three seasons with the Lake George Opera Company and three national tours with the Goldovsky Opera Theatre. Mr. Horton also toured and recorded with the Robert Shaw Choral and has appeared in New York's Concert halls with the American Opera Society, Music Aetema and the Camerata Singers.

Baritone Michael Cousins is a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University and has done graduate work at Northwestern University. He was chosen by the Army Department to tour the Pacific and Far East as an entertainer for our servicemen overseas. Following these tours he went to Italy to study opera and then returned to Chicago where he became one of the leading soloists in the area. He has appeared as soloist with the Chicago Symphony, the NBC Symphony, the WGN Symphony, the Festival Orchestra of New York and also on television and recordings.

Accompanying the group will be Eugene Brister, a native of Mississippi. He attended North Texas State University where, in addition to his regular music studies, he acted as assistant to Eugene Conley, former leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera, and he also conducted several of the school's opera productions. Following graduation he was appointed to the faculty of Arkansas A-M. Mr. Brister's teaching career was interrupted by a tour of duty in the U. S. Air Force and, upon receiving his discharge from the Air Force, he came east for advanced study at the New England Conservatory of Music and the Juilliard School of Music. This season he is playing his first coast-to-coast tours with the 'Men of Song' and the New Sextet.

The 'Men of Song' quartet has been rated by many critics as the finest concert quartet ever assembled. This season they are presenting an entirely new program, and the creative partnership of Charles Touchette and Edmond Karlsrud again forms the guiding force behind this highly successful attraction, as it has since its inception. The current program features many new arrangements created especially for the 'Men of Song' by Mr. Touchette.

Library Observe National Book Week

During the week of Nov. 17-23, the Robert F. Kidd Library participated in National Book Week. "Go Places With Books" was chosen for this year's theme. The purpose of this week is to call attention to the importance of cultivating the habit of reading at a very young age.

The Robert F. Kidd Library centered most of its activities around the children and areas pertaining to children's literature. On Nov. 21 the Trinity Kindergarten was invited to the library for a story hour. Students from Mr. David Gillespie's children's literature class provided the children with a story.

The Alma Arbuckle Children's Center was the city of most of the activities during National Book Week. The Alma Arbuckle Children's Center is named for Miss Alma Arbuckle who served as college librarian for 34 years. This section was furnished by an anonymous donor in honor of Miss Arbuckle. The Center is furnished with reading tables suitable for children and a children's card catalog. In addition, the children's books and periodicals are kept in this Center.

Additional attractions of National Book Week were the 600 book exhibit entitled, Books on Exhibit and the two sculptures, 'The Prodigal Son' and 'The Child,' which is located in the Alma Arbuckle Children's Center.

Mobiles and bookmarks were provided to encourage children to "Go Places With Books."

Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, classes will be dismissed from tomorrow noon until Monday morning at 8:00 a.m. The next MERCURY will appear Dec. 11.

Do You Want Quality?

In the Sept. 20 issue of the Glenville Mercury an editorial was written pertaining to changing publication from weekly to bi-weekly. This caused many students to stop and think of how effective a newspaper every two weeks would really be.

With a bi-weekly publication news would be either too far in the future or too far in the past to be effective. This would mean that the entire effect of a journalist's creed to report the news to the people would be jeopardized.

But there is still another effect of a semi-weekly publication that hits home. The Glenville Mercury is published for you the students in order to dispense news quickly and accurately. This means that every organization on campus is directly affected by the newspaper which should serve as a guideline for every student to eliminate his many questions.

After meeting with Dr. Wilburn and Mr. Osborne, it was decided that the Mercury could be published weekly again this year. However, this does not mean that the Mercury could be run only on present funds allotted to it but through advertising which does not completely alleviate debts. This is not surprising because how can the Mercury meet ends when supplies and workshop programs for nine staff members are paid by less than 10 cents per student per issue. Even if Dr. Wilburn wanted to increase publications, financial barriers would prohibit this. Contrary to popular belief, six page papers cost more than four-page ones.

In his letter to the editor last spring, Dr. Robert Dollgener urged the students to support an increase in the present athletic fees. This amendment failed.

Perhaps the reason for this was due to lack of student understanding on the amendment or maybe it was simply lack of student interest.

With the close of the 1968 football season and with basketball season just around the corner, I fail to realize why students would not support the increase in activity fee.

All season long students attended football games hoping that this was the year. Students sit around and talk about present programs and compare GSC to other colleges. Do you for one minute think that Glenville does not want to increase the athletic program, expanding into such areas as tennis, swimming, bowling on a larger scale, track on a higher competitive basis, wrestling and volleyball teams? How can they do this when it is hard to manage the present budget?

The teams need more equipment, new uniforms, better transportation, and improvement for room and board funds, among other things. This however only mentions local problems but what is our effect on others? With more money we could afford more sports publicity, blazers for the teams, further away games, better recruiting, women's competition, and an overall advancement of the athletic program.

All of this is combined with the fact that football helmets are six to seven years old, basketball shorts are four years old, the track team needs uniforms, and bowling jerseys are desired. Our athletes are forced to spend only $3 a night for a room while on the road and only $2 for a meal.

Students complain, but maybe they should orientate their thoughts to reasons. Looking sharp, playing well, and receiving good publicity, along with spirit, are some of the best recruiting tactics Glenville could employ. They simply can not do all of this on the present budget. What this all boils down to is simply more consideration from the students. Is it asking too much to pay more than $.36 for a college ballgame?

You see, in asking for this increase, we are not asking for money from you to directly support a bill which will directly affect you. By passing this amendment you will not only enjoy its rewards during your college career but also as alumni when you can see, read, and hear about Glenville which you helped to bring out of Gilmer County and into the open.

Let Us Give Thanks . . .

It is Thanksgiving time again, the time of the year when one day is set aside to feast, celebrate, and give thanks for a prosperous year. Yet, does this thought ever cross anyone's mind when they sit down to a huge meal on Thanksgiving day? Do our thoughts ever wander to those who on this day are sitting in a little shack, with paper over the windows to keep the cold November air out. When we are sitting in our nice warm comfortable homes enjoying the luxuries of our middle-class existence, do we think our boys in Viet Nam who are fighting for democracy? Too often we do not even consider how lucky we are or thankful we should be to be living in a nation where the rights of mankind are supreme, and where the laws are what we make of them.

The first Thanksgiving day so long ago symbolized real thankfulness. The Pilgrims who had suffered so much during their first year in a new wilderness nation were now prospering. Their harvest was plentiful enough to carry them through the winter, and for this they gave thanks.

Today, it seems as though there is nothing for which to be thankful. But, let us look for a moment why we should all be thankful. We are living in the most prosperous nation in the world. We are living, for the most part, comfortable lives, free from very many earth-shaking problems. Progress in nearly every field is taking place. It is possible for a human heart to be transplanted from one human being to another. Scientists are so much closer to finding cures for the diseases which claim so many lives. Within the next month, astronauts representing the United States will circle the moon, perhaps clearing the way for a lunar landing. As students, faculty, and staff, we are a part of an institution which helps to make the leaders of tomorrow. For all of this, for all the opportunities and accomplishments made possible unto us, we should, indeed, be thankful.

On behalf of the entire Mercury staff, I take this opportunity to extend to you an enjoyable and safe holiday.

Abolish Those Rules!

Dear Sirs:

I think it is about time we abolished freshman rules.

New freshmen are an eager group, anxious to get on with their education, and to get their lives started. (Remember?) They are a diverse group, with wide differences in background and personality. But if there is one characteristic that unites them, it is their anxiety about their success in classwork, in finding friends, and subsequently, perhaps, "finding themselves." I am deeply convinced that officially condoned harassment of freshmen adds greatly to the pressures they face, and makes a mockery of any awe or respect they may have of Glenville State College. It is time we ended it.

I endured freshman initiation two years ago and, as I was a commuting student at the time, it was not particularly distressing. So it is not on the basis of a single incident that I oppose freshman rules. I have noticed the freshmen each year since then, and the upperclassmen who take advantage of their plight to embarrass them publicly. From my experience and interested observation over this time, I have yet to see or imagine any possible desirable result of these rules.

Freshmen are not informed that there will be an initiation when they enroll. Any student who is serious about his education (his ostensible purpose for being here) will resent any obstacle to that end, and I suggest that initiation is such an obstacle.

Freshmen, you make up a large part of our student body. If you feel that freshman rules are a senseless indignity, help rid us of them by speaking up before the next freshman class is here.

Respectfully,
Michael Ireland

Bushmen Film Scheduled

Mr. Henry Rucker, instructor of social science, has announced that a movie on cultural anthropology will be shown in the Little Theater Mon., Dec. 2 at 7:30 p.m., Tues., Dec. 3 at 9:30 a.m., and Wed. Dec. 4 at 7:30 p.m. All students and faculty members are invited to attend.

The movie, entitled "The Hunters", (75 minutes long) is an ethnological story of the bushmen, the only Stone Age people still living. The central theme of the story is their life which is the quest for food and game.

The bushmen live in the Kalahari Desert in Southern Africa in a manner comparable to that of our ancestors of 150-200 thousand years ago. They are a separate race of people called Kapoid who resemble the Chinese in features more than any other race. Mr. Rucker said that the bushmen, of whom there are only approximately 2000 still in existence, are equally intelligent as anyone in the world and it is amazing how they exist in the conditions under which they live.

Mrs. Rucker, who is a missionary in Africa for 19 years, is one of the few outsiders to ever live with the bushmen. She spent several weeks with them with her father, who has been a missionary in Africa for 30 years, and African health authorities. Mr. Rucker also spent some time with the bushmen when he was on the faculty at the University of Capetown.

Either Mr. or Mrs. Rucker will be at each of the showings of the movie and they may have true artifacts from the bushmen for viewing.

39th Year Marked

By Thomas E. Thomas

Year after year, students at Glenville State College grapple for the copies of The Mercury, yet little is known concerning the history of the publication which first went to press in 1929. Actually, The Mercury is the result of an evolutionary process dating back to 1887.

On Dec. 13, 1887, one of the first organizations on the campus at Glenville was being formed, this being the "Independent Literary Society." This organization became the first to accept the responsibility of producing a student newspaper. This publication, entitled the Independent Star, was typical of most college newspapers of that era in that it was almost entirely devoted to literary news.

The next publication to appear on the campus at Glenville did so during the school year of 1911-12 and lasted until approximately 1916. This newspaper, named the Normal Bulletin, was published monthly in booklet style.

In 1922, due to the influence of the senior class, a semi-monthly school paper began publication. This four-page paper was entitled The Tower in honor of the old clock tower which still stands on the GSC campus. The Tower, which ceased publication in 1928, was a member of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association.

Now we have covered 42 years of the student newspapers at Glenville and the date is Nov. 22/25, 1929, the birthday of The Glenville Mercury.

During the autumn of 1929 many suggestions were made concerning what to name the paper, some of these suggestions were: The Weekly Wash-out and Sympathetic Insight Into Contemporary Student Life. The title The Glenville Mercury was chosen upon the suggestion of Miss Carmen Rinehart, a Glenville alumnus. The first headquarters of The Mercury were in the offices of the Glenville Democrat. The co-editors were Warren Blackhurst and Harry B. Taylor. Some interesting headlines of that first edition were: "Glenville Normal Slays Salem Tigers 19-0 in Snowstorm," "Construction Begun on Robert F. Kidd Library," and "Record Enrollment of 272 Students."

Since that most humble beginning 39 years ago The Mercury has enjoyed an increasingly successful existence. A great deal of this success can be attributed to the faculty advisors, six of whom have served in this capacity. Those advisors listed in proper sequence are Mr. Everett Withers, Mr. Linn B. Hickman, Dr. Esby Miller, Mr. E. B. Elder, Miss Virginia West, and Mrs. Yvonne King.

Evidence of the Mercury's success can be seen in its present location and new equipment. The office has been moved from its former location in the Pioneer Center to newly-renovated Clark Hall with a class room, a press room, and a dark room. Another dark room is now in the planning stages.

Recently-purchased equipment will greatly aid in the weekly publication of the paper. The Mercury has been supplied with an IBM Selectric Composer to set type, a Varityper Headliner, three Olympia typewriters, and new office furniture.

Nine GSC Lettermen Return

With the return of nine lettermen and the combined help of two nonlettering sophomores and two freshmen, the outlook for the basketball season is good.

Returning lettermen in this year's squad are: Jim Archer, the only senior on the team; Jack Robinson, Willie McGee, Marion Gordon, Gene Watson, J. W. McNeish, and Jim Lilly, all juniors; Dave Barnes and Bill Perry, sophomores.

Ernie Williams and John Wymer, two sophomores who did not letter last year plus freshman Jim Spicer and Dale Tawney are expected to be of service to the Pioneer lineup.

Coaches Jesse Lilly and Tim Carney announced that this year's captains are as elected by the squad are guard Jim Archer and forward Jack Robinson. Archer and Robinson are both regulars and are expected to be stellar performers as well as court leaders. Glenville opened its season last night with the Shrine Tournament at Weston. The first opponent was the Fairmont Flacons under the guidance of Joe Retton.

Fairmont, who went to the finals of the NAIA National Championship, was sporting the same squad minus guard Prickett but was helped with the return of Bill Moody. It appeared that the Pioneers had their hands full Monday night when they met the Falcons.

Wesleyan and Salem met in the second game and the two winners will vie for the championship at 9:00 p.m. with the consolation game being played at 7:00 p.m.

Probable starters for the Pioneers are center Marion Gordon; forwards Jack Robinson and Dave Barnes; and guards Jim Archer and Willie McGhee.

Ross Bowls High Game

Ronald Ross and Mark Aamot dominate the individual standings in the faculty bowling tournament. As of Nov. 17, Ross had rolled the high game of 215. Aamot's high games were 199 and 189 which hold second and third places.

In the high series battle, Aamot had series of 550 and 520. Ross holds second place with a 523 series. Garnet Harris, with a handicap, leads in the high series with a score of 622. George Lucas' 616 is good for second place; a 609 gives Don Phillips third place.

The division for high game with handicap is led by Ronald Ross with a 241. Garnet Harris holds second place with 238 and Don Phillips rolled a 228. Mark Aamot's 165 is the highest individual average and Rose Turner has a 164. Ross holds third place with a 157.

In the team standings, Team H, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Aamot, Mr. and Mrs. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Platt, and George Lucas holds first place. Team H has bowled the highest single game of 625. A 606 score also gives Team H third place. In the high team series, Team H holds first, second, and third places with totals of 1780, 1721, and 1698.

As I See 'Em

By Ken Cutright

The Shrine Tournament now being played at Weston has introduced a new facet to the standing rules of basketball. NAIA headquarters has stipulated that all member schools must play at least two games, whether regular or pre-season, under international rules.

If all goes according to plan, the NAIA may soon switch to the international rule system. Some of the more important rules are as follows:

—The width of the baseline will be 19-8 instead of the regular 12 feet.

—Substitutions can not take over 20 seconds to replace a player.

—A foul shot will only be taken if a player is in the act of shooting, and if the shot is made no foul shot will be taken, except for the final five minutes of the game when all fouls committed will be two-shots fouls.

—Free throw attempts shall be taken with five seconds after the thrower gets the ball.

—After a successful free throw, only the player who was shooting may be substituted for.

—The teams have 30 seconds in which to shoot.

—There is no 10 second line, therefore there is no backcourt violation.

—Each team is allowed two time-outs per half, and no time out shall be charged for an injured player.

Carney Assists Lilly

Tim Carney has been appointed as the new assistant basketball coach, replacing Roy Blizzard.

Carney, graduated from Glenville in 1962, received his masters from WVU in 1966.

Before coming to GSC, Coach Carney spent three years at Calver County High School in Maryland and three years at Prince George County where he won the State Championship last year with a 21-4 record.

Coach Carney is married to the former Linda Campbell, a GSC cheerleader from 1959-61, and is the father of three children.

Coach Carney, who lettered in basketball and baseball four years at GSC, has expressed optimism concerning the upcoming basketball season. Although he admits he knows little about the WVIAC he feels the boys are working hard and have an excellent chance to go somewhere this year.

Majors Club Plans Co-Ed Recreation

The Majors' Club has been searching for an idea to provide the students at GSC with something new and interesting to do with their spare time. Here it is - co-recreational volleyball and social dancing.

So far seven volleyball teams have been organized by captains Brinda Sennett, Patricia Brannon, Goldie Dixon, Patricia Dillon, Cynthia Brown, Deborah McMillion, and Karen Fish. Two more teams are to be formed by Sherry Christian and Nancy Eberhardt.

Anyone may join a team or form a team of their own. A team must consist of a minimum of three men and three women. Games will be played every Tuesday night at 6:30 p.m.

The first game was played Nov. 19 between the faculty team and Cynthia Brown's team. Names were to be assigned to teams when the tournament began last evening. Play-offs will run until second semester but a schedule has not yet been planned because all teams have not been organized.

The faculty team consists of ten players including: Patricia Dillon (captain), Carla Davis, Rosemary Elswick, Jane Powell, Kay Chico, Elsie Deal, Jerry Millikan, Jerry Morris, George Lucas, and Robert Dollgener.

Also newly-introduced by the Majors Club for Tuesday evening activities is social dancing from 6:30-8:30 in the small gym. This is offered for anyone interested, especially those who are not participating in co-recreational volleyball. Records will be played for dancing and an opportunity will be given for those attending to learn any type of dancing.

Bowling League Begins Season

The 1968-69 bowling league for the Greek organizations and the Independents will consist of 10 Greek teams and seven independent teams. The Greek teams are TKE I, TKE II, TKE III, Theta Xi Animals, Theta Xi Greeks, Theta Xi Unicorns, Omega Kappa Phi, The DZ's, Alpha Sigma Alpha, and Nu Lambda Psi. The Independent teams are the OD's (Order of

The next announcement regarding the standings will be at the conclusion of the basketball season.

Diana's) The Sorry Six, The Antlers, The Freshman Four-some, The Black Nights, The Lumberjacks, and Alpha Delta Epsilon.

The Independents will start their season on Dec. 3, with the Greek teams following suit on Dec. 5. Bowling will be from 5 p.m. until 10 p.m. every Tuesday and Thursday night. Each team has four regular bowlers with two substitutes for each team. On the first night all six team members will bowl for handicaps only.

Marvin Crane is shown warming up for the 1968-69 GSC bowling league to begin Dec. 3 in the game room located in the Pioneer Center. Bowling will take place each Tuesday and Thursday night from 5-10 p.m.

SGA Announces 'Spirit' Standings

The Student Government Association, in its meeting Nov. 19, announced the number of points acquired by organizations participating in "Spirit Campaign 68-69."

The "Spirit Campaign" is a program initiated this year at GSC to increase student support and spirit at athletic events. After each game, the SGA formulates an up-to-date list of total points acquired by each participating organization from the various sections covered by the campaign's constitution and these results are announced at the end of each athletic season.

The results as they stood at the end of GSC's football season are: Theta Xi with 210 points; TKE with 200, NLP with 195; DZ with 180; ASA with 85; OKP with 50; and 4-H with 45.

Dr. A. T. Billips discusses students rights at the Kappa Delta Pi meeting.

KDP Holds Review of Students Rights

"If you don't like it here, you can leave." This is the policy institutions have been answering students with for years.

On November 20, members of Kappa Delta Pi, the honorary education society, heard discussion on "Students' Rights and Freedoms, and the Protest Movement."

Dean Alfred Billips, Dean of Student Affairs spoke on the two important rights and freedoms of students, the rights of freedom of expression and association. He stated that the only censors of the newspaper are the practices of good journalism and ethics. Organizations are allowed to organize and express themselves as long their expression does not interfere with the rights of other students.

He also said the problem of present reaction to the current set up of institutions is due to lack of trust. This lack of trust has slowed down the working relationship of progress and growth. Students fear authority, being expelled for non-conformity. Administrators and faculty fear students are not capable to accept responsibility.

Jack Musser, Instructor of English, spoke on the Protest Movement. Mr. Musser feels by the time a student is 18 years of age he has been taught to conform. Taught to say "tell me what you want and I'll give it to you."

Mr. Musser compared institutions of higher learning to houses of ill-repute where students come for the vanity of the professor, to listen. And the professor take pleasure. They expect nothing and gain nothing expect material wealth.

Mr. Musser also asserted Glenville State College needs radicals, needs wrong ideas. From wrong ideas are confusion, frustration, thinking, hence better ideas.

Celebrates Birthday

The red and white ribbons that were recently floating on the GSC campus celebrated the birthday of Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority. Nov. 15 was Founders Day and when the Alpha Sigs donned their ribbons. The pledges had a birthday party not only to celebrate Founder's Day, but to celebrate the birthdays of Alpha Sigs born in November. This included: Cheryl Blankenship, Marilyn Smith, Jacqueline Pitts, Jean Burke, Judy Greenlee, Ruth Orendorf, Mary Daniels and Jean Moran.

Plans are being made for money-making projects in the future. Also, they are working on a project for the boys at the Colin Anderson Center of St. Mary's Training School, which the sorority sponsors.

Nogg Ball Featured

The brothers of Omega Kappa Phi are sponsoring a semi-formal dance on Dec. 6 and a mix on Dec. 7 following the GSC-AB basketball game.

The dance on Dec. 6 will be titled the Nogg Ball and this is hoped to become a regular feature of GSC's social activities.

Price of tickets will be $3 in advance and $3.50 at the door. The band which has been contracted is The King Sound Interpreters.

Tables will be reserved for any group wishing to make reservations, by contacting president Jack Albert or social chairman David Bodkin.

The brothers of OKP have been contacted by staff representative George E. Federoff of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity. At a meeting between Mr. Federoff, Dr. Billips (OK advisor), and Ralph Paugh, certain aspects of the college were discussed and pertinent information was obtained about OKP and why they wish to affiliate with a national fraternity.

Three Named To DZ Council

Recently appointed to the DZ executive council, representing their respective classes were, Linda McCormick, senior; Nicolyne Boso, junior; and Mary Stone, sophomore. Diane Davis has been appointed corresponding secretary for Theta Xi Chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority. Miss Davis is a junior majoring in elementary education.

A patroness tea was held Monday, Nov. 18 at the chapter house. The women who have been invited to become new patronesses are Miss Sandra Matthews, Mrs. Espy Miller, Mrs. Lillian Chaddock, Mrs. Jean Adams, Mrs. Lois Morris and Mrs. Annette Bame. They will help with various events throughout the year for Delta Zeta Sorority.

Diane Duffield and Kathryn Sayre will have solo parts in the "Messiah" to be held early in December. Other Delta Zetas who will participate in the concert are Helen Wilson and Martha Green.

Officers of the fall pledge class have recently been elected and are as follows: President, Sandra Lucas; Secretary, Linda Boyce; Treasurer, Linda Felton; Standards Chairman, Kay Hardman.

Education 380 Class Teaches Area Adults

On November 20 students in Education 380 held another education class for adults throughout the surrounding Glenville area. This was the fourth program held out of a series of six. This class was taught by Barbara Weidlick, Jean Bayless and Shirley Starcher and the topic was "Pre-prepared Foods Make Entertaining Fun."

These programs are held in the ballroom of the Pioneer Center from 7:30 to 9:00 and the public is invited. They are a part of Education 380 and are required for all home economic majors. The girls who are preparing the demonstrations are responsible for planning and carrying out their programs. They must also do their own advertising and prepare the hand-out papers for the attending adults. This program is planned for the instruction and entertainment of adults.

There will be two more classes in this adult education program. On December 4 the topic will be "Dreamland of Christmas Confections" and will be taught by Jane Bucklew, Mildred Johnson and Carolyn Rastle. Then on December 11 the topic will be "Snappy Snacks and Bubbly Beverage" and will be taught by Ann Lorentz Murphy and Eilyn Meadows.

According to Mrs. Chaddock, who is supervisor of this program, these classes seem to be influencing the adults who attended them. Many teachers have attended these programs and returned their observation to their respective PTA's. Also there have been groups of adults from Weston, Grantsville, Gassaway and West Union. This is proof that the adult education classes are spreading outside the limits of Glenville and that they are highly successful.

The Tau Kappa Epsilon Social Fraternity announced that a semi-formal Christmas Ball will be held from 9:00 - 12:00 on Dec. 14. Steps are now being taken toward contracting a band for the evening. A banquet for Tekes will be held before the dance. Stanley A. Hayward, Dean of Men, will be the guest speaker at the banquet.
