Bishop Wertz Will Be Guest

On Thursday, June 5, Bishop D. Frederick Wertz, resident bishop of the West Virginia area, will be the guest speaker for Baccalaureate exercises on campus. The Baccalaureate exercises will be held at 8:30 p.m. in the gym of the Health and Physical Education Building. Bishop Wertz's topic will be "Doing Your Own Thing."

Bishop Wertz administers the work of the United Methodist Church of the West Virginia area, comprising approximately 1,600 churches with a total membership of 220,000.

He was born at Lewiston, Pa., is married and is the father of four children. He attended Newport High School; received an A.B. degree from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.; and a M.A. degree from Boston University Graduate School. He went on to receive his degree from Boston School of Theology; and a L.L.D., Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa. While at Dickinson he was a member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity.

He is listed in Who's Who in America, Who's Who in the East and Who's Who in Methodism.

Gainer, Dr. Nagy Assume New Duties

Two new staff positions have been created and will become effective for the fall term 1969. They are Administrative Assistant to the president, to be headed by Mr. Robert Gainer and Assistant Director of Admissions to be headed by Dr. Paul Nagy.

Mr. Gainer will still fulfill the duties of Alumni Director, and will also assist the Business Office. He is a graduate of Glenville State College and a graduate of the University of Toledo. Mr. Gainer has also done graduate work at Marshall University and Kent State. He has taught five years in public schools and an additional four years teaching for the Air Force.

Dr. Nagy's duties will consist of being the chairman for "Your College Day Program," assisting with registration, and evaluating records of prospective students.

The purpose of the College Day program is to permit high school students to learn about the colleges of West Virginia without interruption of class activities. From September to December of 1969 representatives will visit different area schools. Mr. Donald Phillips, Director of Learning Materials Center, will devise slides or overlays to present a new aspect of the college to the high school students.

Mr. Kermit Kinder, Guidance Counselor, and Mr. Larry Lamb, Financial Aid Director, will also be representing GSC and presenting educational opportunities and ways to finance college educations for prospective students.

Baccalaureate speaker Bishop D. Frederick Wertz

Editor Writes '30'

One of the first things that a journalism student learns is that at the end of each story he must write "30" which denotes "the end." I have been thinking about the last issue of the "Mercury" and the time I would be writing my last "30" for the college newspaper all year. Now that the time has arrived it really seems as though this year has gone by fast.

As a transfer student from Point Park College in Pittsburgh, Pa., I started reporting for the "Mercury" three years ago during my sophomore year. Last year I became the News Editor during the second semester and advanced to Editor this year.

Before I write "30" there are many people that must be recognized who have helped me. First of all I would like to thank my parents and brother and sister who have encouraged me, tolerated my editorials and helped me in so many ways. I would also like to thank my staff who has supported, worked, assisted and helped me make each deadline. They are: Janet Kesterson, assistant editor; Sharon Dutton, News Editor; Patrick McCartney and Thomas Patrick, photographers; Circulation Editor, James Bull; Sports Editors, Ken Cutright and Bill Perry; IBM Operator, Kathy Casto; Betsy McCoy and Mary Sue Frashure, typists; and Bob Bailes, art editor.

I would also like to thank Mr. William Morrow for being a great adviser and friend; Mr. Loren McCartney for all the moral support this year; Mr. Harry Phillips for making me think about more than a subject area—about a world; and the fraters of Tau Kappa Epsilon who have never rejected me, even though they may have disagreed with me.

Others who have been helpful to me are Dean Alfred Billips, Dean Stanley Hayward, and Dean Jean Wright, whose smiles and kind words helped when it seemed like everyone else was against me; and President Wilburn who has never tried to censor me but encouraged me to follow the journalism codes and rules set up by the W.Va. Board of Education.

Last but not least I would like to thank Mrs. Yvonne King most of all. She worked with, helped and guided me in learning good journalism and pursuing it for a career. There was never a moment when she neglected her students in their learning process or discouraged them. Once in this past year I was talking to an instructor who said she was "incompetent." Not only is she one of the few instructors on campus teaching in her field but that English instructor did not even know the difference between Journalism and English. I wonder now who was really incompetent?

I have always believed in the editorials that I wrote and wanted to try to make people think and wonder how they could change things for the better. Many times, however, they acted like children who had been scolded by their mother and tried to plot against her with their father. It seems a shame that GSC is losing so many good "journalists."

There are many things that I wanted to question but did not have a chance such as the academic subject areas at GSC which are obsolete, or why so many people connected with Glenville are really not interested in the college which plays such a major part in their lives.

Although many things did not always go right this year and people criticized the "Mercury" very strongly I think it was all worth it, and I am very thankful for the opportunity of being the editor. It is always easier for people to ridicule others than to look at themselves. Several men at GSC have been doing it for 20 or more years.

I shall never forget many people I have met here these three past years, and all the help I received. Being editor is not an easy task, however, it is not an unrewarding one either. One of the first lessons I learned was that when you think you are right and can prove you are right never let other people threaten you in any way. No matter what the price may be, none is higher than the amount paid by sacrificing your own beliefs. I have also always thought that just because a person may be highly educated, it is no symbol that he is versed on all subject matters. I am happy that the students realized this and questioned many of our "bureaucratic" personnel here at Glenville. This was a good beginning. Perhaps changes which are much needed are not too far off in the future.

To next year's staff, I would like to congratulate you on your accomplishments so far and hope that you will continue to practice the best journalism of which you are capable. To Kathy Casto, next year's Editor-in-Chief, I leave you not only my best wishes for a more successful newspaper but many fond memories that I can never forget. Your rewards will be high and your criticisms numerous, but you must never falter because you are "stepping on toes" or "questioning individuals." Your task will not be easy.

So to you, GSC, with all of your glory, memories, faults, and kindness I leave in body, but my spirit and thoughts shall remain forever. Thank you for helping me to help myself and pursue my desires. As Frank Sinatra would say, "It was a very good year."

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

TO THE 1969 GRADUATING CLASS GLENVILLE STATE COLLEGE

Each generation, shaped by forces outside and within it, asks the question it must ask. Some generations, concerned with the building of a nation, ask "How?" Other generations, needing to set priorities for the future, ask "What?"

Your generation has asked "Why?"

As Americans we must together ask all of the big questions and seek to find answers. How we build a better America, what kind of nation we want, why we pursue certain goals instead of others -- these are not problems to be faced by one generation and ignored by another. All of us must face them.

A college education in the humanities and sciences teaches us that the real power to deal with these problems comes out of the human mind and the human heart. All power must be disciplined by trained intelligence and tempered by compassion.

Each of you is a center of power. Your professional or social or religious or political activity will determine the shape of the future of your nation and of the world.

The question asked by your generation -- Why? -- is one that must be answered not only by the quality of your rhetoric but by the quality of your lives. It was in your college years that we were first made aware of those "people talking without speaking, people hearing without listening."

What you have brought and will continue to bring to American life is not the sound of silence, but the sound of a generation which will work to ensure that, in the words of William Faulkner, "...man will not merely endure: he will prevail."

SGA Formulates Plans For 1969-70 Activities

The Student Government Association is formulating plans for next year's activities. They have been meeting many times per week in hopes of finishing most of their work before summer. Among their concerns is revision of the Pioneer Handbook which is a guide for new freshmen on campus. It is to be printed during the summer months.

Also, they are formulating the freshmen rules, ordering beanies and tags, and planning a show case of all the organizations on campus.

Kathy Luzader Thanks Well-Wishing Students

Dear Editor,

I want to express my most sincere thanks to the students of Glenville State College who showed so much kindness with their cards and letters during my long stay in the hospital. There were times when those expressions of hope and good wishes were more assuring to me than anything that the doctors could say. It was a long struggle, but I am home with my husband now and doing very well. Again, on behalf of myself and my husband, I want to say "Thank you" to all of you.

Kathy Luzader

Mercury Policies

(Editor's Note: The following is a statement of policies revised and regulated by the Publications Committee to be the official rules and regulations for the "Glenville Mercury." These policies will be carried out until revised by the Publications Committee.)

We, the staff of "The Glenville Mercury" do hereby set forth the following objectives to be established as requisites for the publication and distribution of a campus newspaper.

1. "The Glenville Mercury" shall be the name of the official news publication of Glenville State College financed by student activity fees. All other news publications will be financed through private means and not as an organ of Glenville State College.

2. This aforementioned newspaper shall be a student publication edited and staffed by students of the college.

3. News, letters to the editor, features and human interest material may be submitted by student staff members, reporters, administration, faculty or anyone connected with the College community, subject to editing by the editor-in-chief.

4. The staff of the newspaper shall uphold ethics of good journalism, such as responsibility, service, honesty, decency, discretion, honor, impartiality, fair play and especially freedom of the press as a means of expression and dissemination of campus news.

5. Further, the freedom of expression necessitates adherence to laws of libel, and to policies adopted by the West Virginia Board of Education, Nov. 25, 1968.

6. Views and opinions expressed in "The Mercury" do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the faculty and administration of the College.

7. Deadline for all material to be included in the current issue will be Thursday at noon.

8. All letters and cartoons, if submitted, will be printed at the discretion of the editor and adviser; however, no letters will be printed unless they are signed and are free from libelous statements, untruth and personal attacks.

9. Cartoons will be submitted by the regular staff art editor or by subscription to a syndicated feature.

10. Members of Journalism 321-322 classes will be reporters for "The Glenville Mercury." Other students may volunteer to report.

11. Advertising, classified or display, will be carried at the rate of $1.50 per column inch as long as it does not violate regulations made by the FCC or West Virginia Board of Regents.

12. Layout of pages and usage of stories will be determined by the editor. Any stories may be cut, held, killed or published as he deems it necessary.

13. Pictures will be taken by the regularly-employed "Mercury" photographer who may be contacted for setting up pictures which will be used for the paper. Pictures may also be submitted from other sources.

14. Editorials will be written by the editor and will not necessarily reflect opinions of the faculty and administration of the College. Guest editorials will be considered by the editor.

15. Criticisms, adverse opinions and comments aimed at the newspaper or its staff should be expressed to the editor and staff and/or to the Publications Committee which is an advisory group for all student publications.

16. The staff shall be chosen by the adviser with the concurrence of the Publications Committee and staff names shall be published before June 1 of each year.

17. All staff members will be employed at the prevailing rate per hour in accordance with current wage and hour laws. Each staff member will be responsible for the fulfillment of his individual duties to the editor and the adviser.

18. Duties of the staff members as outlined in "The Glenville Mercury Style Book" are:

Editor-in-chief. He writes all editorials. He may be assisted by an editorial writing board of trained and selected students. The editor is an administrator. He is in overall charge of the entire operation. Responsible for carrying on the tradition and maintaining journalistic standards for the newspaper. He calls and presides at staff meetings. The editor reads all copy scheduled and plans page make-up, assigns headlines and does paste-up of pages.

Assistant Editor. He assists the editor-in-chief in fulfilling his duties and serves the chief copy editor. He assumes the duties of the editor when the editor is absent.

News Editor. He supervises the student news staff for each issue. He must insist that every member of the news staff from news editor down, performs his work. He reviews all copy after copyreaders have finished their work, assigns stories and plans the paper. He is also in charge of all books, publications and other such material which he must file.

Circulation Editor. He prepares mailing and exchange list for distribution of papers. He types the labels, prepares for mailing papers, including zoning, completing government forms, etc., and sees that papers are distributed on campus.

Photographer. He must be capable of taking and developing pictures. He must work closely with the staff and with all groups on campus. He must be able to produce pictures as needed. This should be continued on page 6

Editor R. Scott Cribbs and next year's Editor, Kathy Casto.

Second semester Greek Council delegates.

Rush Policies Are Revised

Recently the Greek Council revised its constitution. One of the major revisions concerns rush periods for men and women.

For men, there will be three rush periods consisting of fall, winter, and spring formal rush, with each period lasting two weeks. Fall rush will be held the third and fourth weeks of first semester. Winter rush is scheduled for the week before finals and formal rush parties will not be allowed during the week of finals. Winter rush will resume the first week of the second semester. Spring rush will be held the fifth and sixth week of second semester.

For women, there will also be three rush periods plus optional open rush. Fall rush will begin the sixth week of the first semester. Winter rush will begin the second week of second semester. Spring rush will begin the ninth week of second semester. Each period will last approximately two weeks.

The Greek Council will now act as a clearing house for all major or annual dances and events sponsored by any member sorority or fraternity of the council. It is hoped that this will help prevent any major conflicts.

The Greek Council, which meets each Thursday in the Multi-Purpose Room, is comprised of two delegates from each social Greek organization. One delegate is elected to serve one year while the other is elected to serve for one semester.

It is the duty of the Greek Council to formulate rules and regulations for the fraternities and sororities. Officers are elected on a semester basis and are elected by the delegates from all six social organizations.

Activities Outlined By GSC Faculty-Wives

The fifth year of the GSC Faculty-Wives came to a close at the monthly coffee May 7 served by Mrs. Ronald Ross, Mrs. Gay Jones, and Mrs. William Osborne. Highlighting the year's events were the guest appearance at the spring luncheon of several interest groups including needlework club, children's theater, reading club, gourmet club, and bridge club.

Mrs. John Chisler, chairman, announced that the group had decided to change their monthly meeting to the first Thursday morning of each month. Mrs. Mark Aamot will serve as chairman and Mrs. McCreary as secretary-treasurer for the coming year. The Fall Tea will be held at the home of Mrs. D. Banks Wilburn.

Pirates To Conduct June Tryout Camp

The Pittsburgh Pirates will conduct a tryout camp in Charleston on Thursday, June 12 at Walt Powell Stadium. In the event of rain, the camp will be held the following day, Friday, June 13. The camp will be under the direction of Pirate Scouting Supervisor Joe Consoli and Pirate Scout, Dick Coury.

Players, who must be 15 years of age to be eligible to take part, should report ready to go at 10 a.m. and be prepared to work out until 3 p.m. No American Legion players may participate unless they have written approval from either their Legion Coach or the Commander of the Legion Post they represent in Legion play.

Players selected by another baseball organization in the recent Free Agent Baseball Draft are not eligible for participation.

Players are expected to furnish their own uniform, shoes, glove and personal gear. The Pirates will furnish all other equipment. Players are also responsible for any expenses they may incur in connection with this camp, with the understanding actual reasonable expenses will be reimbursed to those players contracted to Pirate Organization clubs.

Stewballs Defeat Winners In TKE Softball Tourney

On Thursday, May 27, the Stewballs defeated the Winners by a score of 6-2 to win first place in the annual softball tournament sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. The line score read Stewballs, six runs, 11 hits, and two errors; and Winners, two runs, four hits and three errors. The winning pitcher was Racine Thompson and the losing pitcher was Bill Perry.

In the first inning, the Winners scored one run as Jim Lilly doubled and scored, while the ball rolled through outfielders Ray Swisher and Mike Castin.

In the bottom of the first inning, with one out the Stewballs scored three runs as Racine Thompson singled and took second as outfielder Willie McGee bobbled the ball. Thompson then scored from second as Ray Swisher singled up the middle. Dave Barnes then drove home the winning run as he hit a two-run home.

In the bottom of the second, the Stewballs scored their final three runs. Chris Fitzsimmons led off the second and was safe on an error by shortstop Ken Squires. Flavious Haynes then singled to right field with Fitzsimmons going to third. Dale Hinkle then doubled, driving in Fitzsimmons and Haynes and scored himself as the ball skipped by left-fielder Chuck Means and rolled to the wall. The Winners scored their final run in the top of the fourth as Willie McGee walked and took third and Ken Squires singled to center. McGee then scored on a sacrifice fly to left field by Joe Scalise.

Leftfielder Ray Swisher led the Stewballs attack with a perfect three for three at the plate and pitcher Racine Thompson was two for three. Shortstop Ken Squires lead the Winners attack with a two for three game, both singles.

Intramural Crown Shared By TKE, TX

Tau Kappa Epsilon and Theta Xi fraternities have tied for first place in this year's men's intramural program. Both teams completed the year with 225 points total followed by the Creightons with 140 points.

The men's intramural championship is based on points compiled in volleyball, basketball, swimming and handball.

In intramural volleyball, the Creightons captured first place, followed by the Fire Dog in second place. Third place winners were Theta Xi Animals and the Hardway Hallows won fourth place.

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity won first place in the intramural basketball championship. Second place was captured by the faculty, followed by the Good Guys in third place. Omega Kappa Phi fraternity won fourth place.

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity compiled 46 points to capture the intramural swimming championship followed by Theta Xi fraternity with nine points and the Creightons with five points. The swimming meet was broken up into five events. These events were: 25 yard freestyle, won by Tom Haught, TKE, first place; Mike Roscoe, third place from Theta Xi fraternity; and Charles Thomas, fourth place, of the Creightons team.

Steve Barnett from Tau Kappa Epsilon won first place in the 50 yard freestyle heat. James Willison, TKE; Thomas Patrick, Theta Xi, and Gerald Johnson, also from Theta Xi, followed Barnett in that order.

In the 25 yard backstroke competition Henry Fuller, Melvin Dooley and James Hissen won first, second and third place respectively. All three winners are members of the TKE team. Robert Fetty, representing Theta Xi, captured fourth place.

Hale Woodrow Gay captured first place in the 25 yard underwater competition. Gay represented Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. Michael Roscoe of Theta Xi fraternity; Dennis Hicks representing TKE and Charles Thomas from the Creightons followed Gay in that order.

Fred O'Brien, Rhendall Butler,

Henry Fuller and Frank Mellon, all from Tau Kappa Epsilon, won first through fourth place in the 25 yard butterfly competition.

Randall King, David Nelson, Gerald Johnson and Garry Ramsey placed first, second, third and fourth to capture the handball singles tournament for Theta Xi fraternity.

In the handball doubles tournament David Nelson and John Lough from Theta Xi fraternity teamed up to capture first place. Doug Beymer and James Curry placed second for TKE. They were followed by Don Swisher and Frank Mellon in third place and Richard Miller and Rod Jones in fourth place. The latter two partners are both members of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Theta Xi fraternity captured first place to win last year's intramural championship.

Teacher Corps Training Is Scheduled For Ohio U.

Teacher Corps is a "nation-wide effort to provide better education for children who are turned away from the mainstream of American life. The old ways are resistant to change, but changes that will provide a good education for all America's children are demanded now."

The purpose of Teacher Corps as stated in its evolving legislation is "to strengthen the educational opportunities available to children in areas having concentrations of low income families and to encourage colleges and universities to broaden their programs of teacher preparations."

The College of Education at Ohio University is especially designed to prepare students with liberal arts bachelor degrees to teach in areas having concentrations of low income families and has successfully trained two units of Teacher Corps. Training for the third group will begin in September, 1969.

The program provides for a full quarter of graduate study on campus largely to understanding historical, psychological, and sociological backgrounds of people in the Appalachian Region as well as the consequences of poverty for society. Field work and experience in the cooperating communities is a vital part of this program.

The second phase of this program is the actual internship in the communities. Here the interns work in teams with an experienced team leader and the regular classroom teacher. The intern learns to work first with an individual child and then, as he develops, his experiences are broadened to eventually include the entire class. One quarter of the five quarters of internship is devoted to intensive teaching.

During this phase of the training, the interns also carry one graduate course and the internship seminar each quarter. During the intervening summer the interns return to the campus for full-time field related study.

Community involvement is an essential part of the training. Working with parents, social workers, and other community service leaders to assist in raising the level of education will be just one aspect of community involvement.

The in-service program for Ohio University Teacher Corps interns is conducted in two typically Appalachian Urban communities: Portsmouth, Ohio; this is the county seat of Scioto County located in Appalachian Southeastern Ohio on the Ohio River. Portsmouth is a city with a population of approximately 40,000. Although the city has declined in population in recent years, it continues to be an important industrial and commercial center for an agricultural and mining region. Iron and steel manufacturing is the major industry. The city school district has 13 schools with 6,200 pupils. Many of the children come from homes with annual incomes of less than $3,000 a year and live in below average housing. Parkersburg, a part of Appalachia, is a mixture of both urban and rural communities. The city of Parkersburg has 48,000 of the 81,000 citizens living in Wood County; the schools enroll 20,000 children. The city is a cross-section of pupils with about 35 per cent at some of these schools, almost 33 per cent of the pupils live in below-average housing in neighborhoods where opportunities for recreation, playground activities, study facilities, or a proper educational environment are limited.

The successful completion of the required course work and internship experiences in the Ohio University two-year Teacher Corps (M.Ed. degree in elementary education from Ohio University and an elementary teaching certification in Ohio and West Virginia).

During the pre-service training on the Ohio University campus, interns will be paid (through the University) a stipend of $75 per week, plus $15 per week for each eligible dependent. In the local school systems during the in-service part of the program, interns receive $75 per week and $15 per week for each eligible dependent, also. All tuition and fees for the academic program at Ohio University are covered by Teacher Corps. Interns do not have to pay any of these expenses.

Home Ec. Sorority Elects New Officers

Phi Delta Phi elected its officers for the coming academic year at a meeting held on Tuesday, May 6.

They are: Lois Gill, from Harrison, president; Linda Allman, first vice-president from Parkersburg and second vice-president Jean Field from Mineral Wells. Elected as recording secretary was Marlene Parsons from Evans and corresponding secretary is Patricia Childers from Clay. Elsie Jane Dyer from Flatwoods was selected as treasurer. Reporter for the coming year is Jane Turner from Sandvillie. Joyce Savage from Hazelton was elected as historian and Barbara Lipps from French Creek was selected as recreation leader.

The newly elected officers were installed on Thursday, May 15. The initiation took place at the home of Mrs. Eileen Wolfe, associate professor of home economics. A picnic was held following the initiation and presents were presented by the group to the home economics advisers, Mrs. Lillian Chaddock, Miss Elma Jean Woofler and Mrs. Eileen Wolfe.

Students at work at Ceramics Division in Firestone Lodge.

Ceramics Department Tour Available; Mr. Scott Honored

by Keith Boyles

Probably an area much overlooked by the students on Glenville's campus is the ceramics division located in the Firestone Lodge. Mr. Charles C. Scott, who is chairman of the Art Department and recipient of many ceramics awards, oversees and instructs in this area.

Upon entering the building, one's attention is attracted, distracted, and confused by the hodgepodge of equipment; globs and crumbles of scattered, dehydrated clay; unfinished and finished (but mostly unfinished), works of pots, lidded jars, casseroles, bottles, vases and bowls; or impossible-to-name items. And, of course, there will usually be some amateur "throwing" his tenth disaster—knowing that he has to produce at least one original work to qualify Mr. Scott's desired standards.

There are certain objectives that Mr. Scott hopes his students will achieve: (1) to gain a thorough understanding of the forming and finishing processes of ceramics; (2) to gain an understanding of clay as a medium of expression and to learn the physical properties of clay; (3) to gain an understanding of the oxides in glaze formation and the formulation of glazes (a glaze is the material used to finish the product); (4) to gain an understanding of the decorative techniques in pottery; (5) to gain an understanding of the drying and firing cycle; (6) to learn to appreciate ceramics and the history of the craft.

Can Glenville's ceramic student gain adequate insight from these six perspectives? Determination is the answer. Mr. Scott has appraised Glenville's ceramics department as being the best-equipped in the state. The kiln (an implement for firing the earthenware) will register as high as 320 degrees F., higher than any other in the state. Also included in the list of furnishings are the pug mill, used for grinding and for extracting foreign matter; the blunger for mixing liquid slip (clay thinned to the consistency of cream for use in casting); and finally, six potter's wheels, among other indispensable articles.

Mr. Scott is renowned over most of the eastern United States for his work in ceramics. He has won many first-prize awards in Ohio, North Carolina, New York, Kansas and West Virginia. Probably his most outstanding, though, is his National Merit Award for a stoneware lidded jar at the Craftsmen USA '66 Museum of Contemporary Crafts in New York City. In 1965, Mr. Scott entered a lidded jar in the Mountain State Art and Craft Fair at Ripley; this best-of-show award for stoneware was sent as a gift to former President Lyndon Johnson and Mrs. Johnson.

In addition to these honors, Mr. Scott's work has been presented in Vista USA, Art Review, and La Revue Moderne. In the recent publication of Ceramics (May, 1969), a tea pot of Mr. Scott's appeared on the cover; this was accompanied with a review of his work and reputation.

Any student wishing to tour the ceramics laboratory is welcome at any available time; Mr. Scott or any ceramics student will explain any of the apparatus.

Knapp Selected For Yearbook

The Publications Committee has approved staff positions for the GSC Yearbook as submitted by Mr. Charles Scott, Kanawhachen advisor, and Sharon Neeley, editor. Ann Knapp, a sophomore art major from Charleston and member of Nu Lambda Psi sorority, will assume the duties of Yearbook editor for the coming year. Replacing Jean Davis as layout editor is Michael Shamblyn, also majoring in art and a resident of Clendenin, W. Va. H. Woodrow Gay will be the new art editor for the coming year. He is a freshman from Charleston and a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. Thomas Pickens, a junior art major from Cowen, W. Va., will remain as staff photographer for another year. Julia Murin, a sophomore from Glenville majoring in English, will take over the vacancy left by Diana Phillips as copy editor. She is a member of Nu Lambda Psi sorority.

Albert Collecting Funds For Operation Crossroads

The fund to send Jack Albert, Jr. to Africa on Operation Crossroads has been growing slowly. To date, he has about $700 which was gained mostly from private donation and group donations. One such donation came from John D. Rockefeller IV. Albert still needs about $300 to complete the total for the funds. He has been contacting individuals and trying to raise money.
