Best Wishes, Class Of 1973

It is with much enthusiasm and high expectations of your future that I greet you as the Class of 1973. You, undoubtedly, are beginning what possibly will be the most rewarding four years of your lives. As you varied, I hope that most of what happens to you will have a most positive effect upon what you will become and what you will believe in terms of values which will guide you in relating yourselves to others.

Glenville State College must quickly become, in every sense, truly your Alma Mater. If this is to be, it must necessarily include the arriving at a degree of maturity which is exhibited in a sincere personal loyalty to yourselves, to your fellow students, to those who cause you to want to be creative, imaginative and objective in all areas of daily living. Only when you measure what you do in terms of values which make actions positive, and only when you measure loyalty to yourselves as being identical with your loyalty to others will Glenville State College have the meaning that it should have as your Alma Mater.

With best wishes,

D. Banks Wilburn
President

Accreditation Is Continued By North Central Association

President D. Banks Wilburn announced recently that he has received a formal notification from Dr. Norman Burns, Executive Secretary, North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools that Glenville State College has been continued as a fully accredited Bachelor's degree-granting institution. However, the Association is concerned about limitations and restrictions placed by State Government Agencies on publicly supported colleges and universities, restricting the autonomy of individual institutions. The primary concerns of the Association are expressed in the following statements from the notification which President

Wilburn received:

"The Association expresses grave concern at the general inhibiting effect of State fiscal policies on the autonomy and hence the quality of State supported higher education in West Virginia. Specifically, this concern is noted in relation to the separation of fiscal control from fiscal responsibility which severely limits the possibility of enhancing educational quality; the removal of the purchasing function from the campus which needlessly complicates the acquisition of educational supplies; the system of quarterly allotment, expenditure and accountability which mitigates against the most effective and efficient use of limited state funds and almost precludes the possibility of adequate academic planning."

Bluefield State, Fairmont State and Shepherd College as well as Glenville State were visited by a Review Committee of North Central this past academic year, and all have been continued as fully accredited four-year Bachelor's degree-granting institutions. The concerns of the North Central Association constitute a warning to the Colleges regarding the general inhibiting effect State fiscal policies have on the autonomy of the individual institutions. The four Colleges will be visited again within a three-year period for the purpose of appraising the changes in the State system of higher education designed to provide a greater opportunity for decision making and planning at the level of the individual institutions.

President Wilburn stated that he cannot speak for other publicly supported colleges and universities except as the President of one of those four colleges which were reviewed this year. He is, however, of the opinion that all publicly supported institutions of higher education will be concerned about the manner in which the limitations and restrictions as expressed by the official of the North Central Association affect all public higher education in West Virginia.

Trailers Are Available For Married Students

In order to handle the increasing demand for college housing, 10 house trailers will be available to married students by Sept. 19, according to A. T. Billips, Dean of Student Affairs.

Interested students should contact Dr. Billips or Mr. Robert Gainer, assistant to the President and Alumni Director.

GSC Faculty Adds 29 New Members

Twenty-nine new faculty members begin duties at Glenville State College this week, according to Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, president. With this addition to the administration, faculty and staff, there is now a total of 18 doctorates among the 86 employees, as compared to 12 of last year.

All division chairmen now hold doctorate degrees except in the Division of Fine Arts. Three such degrees exist in the field of biology, with two each in the fields of language arts and social sciences.

English and social science instructors are most numerous among new faculty with six being placed in each field. Dr. William K. Simmons, Miss Susan Stalnaker, Miss Mary Low Raebler, Miss Jane Virgallito, Franklin C. Weightman, and W. Joseph Mosley, Jr. will instruct English classes. Dr. Simmons holds an M.A. from WVU and Ph. D. in English from Ohio State University. Miss Stalnaker is a graduate of Long Wood College, Va.; and holds an M.A. from West Virginia University. Both of Miss Raebler's degrees were earned at Marshall University, the latter, M.A. in English. Mr. Weightman's degrees include an A.B. from Emory and Henry College and an M.A. from East Tennessee State University. Mr. Mosley's are from Texas Technical University and University of Arkansas.

Social scientists include Miss Mary Ellen Blair whose degrees were earned at Appalachian State College in 1967 and 1969; James F. Hilgenberg, from Baker University in North Dakota; Ralph B. Kornegay, who holds degrees from Wilmington, N.C. and Ap-

Week's Activities Are Listed For 575 GSC Newcomers

Scheduled Freshman Week Activities begin today at 9 a.m. and end Saturday Sept. 13.

Classes begin on Thursday, Sept. 11.

Dormitories opened this morning at 9 a.m. and will close tonight at 10 p.m. Unless the Dean of Women or Dean of Men have been notified beforehand, all unclaimed room reservations will be automatically cancelled after 10 p.m., Sept. 10.

A meeting for parents is scheduled for 1:30 this afternoon. The meeting, to be held in the Ballroom of the Student Center, will feature the College President and other administrative officers as speakers. At this meeting, the speakers will provide for parents an orientation to the college and will answer questions parents might have.

At 7 p.m., the General Freshman Orientation Session I will be held in the auditorium of the Administration Building. A speech presenting stumbling blocks for unprepared freshmen will highlight the meeting. Attendance at all orientation meetings are required for freshmen.

Also tonight, a freshman meeting will be held in the Auditorium of the Administration Building for freshmen women. Freshmen men will meet for initial orientation session in the gymnasium in the Physical Education Building.

On Monday, Sept. 8, an assembly will be held at 8 a.m. and will continue until 10 a.m. This assembly, for both students and divisional chairmen, will be held in the Auditorium of the Administration Building. Administration officers and the President of the Student Government will be introduced and Division Chairmen will take freshmen who have not pre-registered to designated areas for assignment of advisers. College catalogs will be distributed and Dr. Delmar K. Somerville will discuss the academic program.

The French Placement Test will be given at 10 a.m. in room 307 in the Administration Building. Students entering Glenville State College with two units of high school French may, if passing this test and receiving the recommendation of the Dean, waive French 101 and 102 and enroll in French 151. All interested students should report to room 307.

At 10 tomorrow morning, students will meet with their advisers. Each student will then plan his program.

College Fees Jump Again For 1969-70

Fee payments for the 1969-70 academic year have once more taken a jump to meet the rising cost of living.

Students will be required to pay the following amounts on Sept. 10 or 11, registration days for the first semester.

Dormitory students - W. Va. residents: Tuition and fees, $106.50, a raise of $4.50 from last year; Board, first half of semester, $108, an increase of $9; Room for the entire semester (4 people to a room), $126, same as last year; Tax, $7.02; Total, $347.52, a total increase of $14.07. Out-of-state students: Tuition and fees, $406.50; Board, first half of semester, $108; Room, entire semester, $126; Tax, $7.02; Total, $647.52. The raise for out-of-state students coincides with that for W. Va. residents.

However, if a student wishes to occupy a room of less than four, an additional charge of $9.27 per semester will be made for a room for three people, $18.54 for two people, and $37.08 for a private room.

Students who will be doing their student teaching may live in the dormitory or off-campus during this time. If a student chooses to reside in the dormitory he must pay for the entire semester.

Well, Here You Are

Well, here you are. You are now members of the student body of Glenville State College. Sounds impressive, doesn't it? Today you have begun the long and hard task of acquiring a higher education. You look forward to the future with high hopes, strong hearts, and an honest desire to make the world a better place.

May I ask you a very personal question? Why are you here? What made you decide to take that big step through the gates of higher learning?

"Well," you might say: "My girl friend came here and I wanted to be with her." "I came because Mom and Dad decided I would when I was two years old," another person might say. "I came to get away from the old man," says another. "I'm here because I got this scholarship and who am I to turn down a thousand bucks?" says someone else.

These reasons for coming to college will do as starters, but when the going gets rough, as it will as time goes by, that girl friend isn't going to be able to help you, the old man will look like Santa Clause, and that thousand bucks will seem like five cents.

One of the most important secrets to succeeding in college is having an honest desire to better yourself through education. No, it isn't all hard work and studying and cramming for finals. There are times when you'll have a chance to take a deep breath and blink your eyes. But the fact remains that college, frankly, takes a lot of intestinal fortitude and a sincere love of your field of study.

There are lots of clubs and fraternities and sororities to join and their appeal to the fun-minded freshman is strong and difficult to resist. The best way to meet this temptation is to wait for a semester or two to see how the books and you are going to get along. Then, if there is still time and energy left over after you pass at least a few classes, join, by all means. Still, there has to be a happy median hit somewhere between social life and scholastic life.

Even the people in the dormitory will be the source of quite a bit of temptation. It's always fun to get out the old high school yearbook and show the girls or the boys all of your high school activities. But you do have to remember that, sad as it may be, high school is in the past and college is very much the present and the future. And the future is what counts, right?

You're on your own now, people. Dig in and prove to yourself that you can do it. You've been told this a million times before, but work hard and do well at college.

You might even get to like it. Anyway, welcome!

DR. TREVOR PEARMAN is the new college physician. Dr. Pearman, whose office is located on Main Street, Glenville, is assisted by Mrs. Pearman, a registered nurse.

Two Construction Jobs Will Begin On Campus

A recent announcement by Dr. D. Banks Wilburn reveals plans for two new construction jobs on the GSC campus.

One contract has been awarded to the Carl E. Stevens Construction Company with construction to begin within thirty days. The purpose of this construction is to provide a second exit from the Science Hall. The north side of the building will be extended out to the wall below Verona Maple. Plans include a staircase, storage rooms, and one additional office on each floor. The estimated cost of this project is $144,000.

A second contract has been awarded to the Facemire Construction Company. The purpose of this project is to replace the steps at Louis Bennet Hall and those leading to Clark Hall. The wooden steps leading to Verona Maple Hall will be removed and replaced with cement steps. Estimated cost of this project is $17,000.

Dr. H. Withers Will Be Parade Marshal Oct. 11

Dr. Herbert Withers, retired Glenville dentist, will serve as parade Marshal for the 1969 Glenville State College Homecoming Parade on Saturday Oct. 11. The Pioneers will play host to the West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcats that afternoon in the annual football tilt.

Mr. Frank Toth, Glenville State professor, will manage the general affairs of the festivities, serving as General Chairman.

On Friday, Oct. 10, those merchants exhibiting window displays will have their efforts judged. Trophies, certificates, and ribbons will be presented to the winners by the Rotary and Lions Clubs.

On Saturday all parade entrants must be in formation by 9:00 a.m. Bands participating in the parade are: Glenville State College, West Virginia Wesleyan, Gilmer County High School, and Tygart's Valley High School, as of publication date.

The theme for this year's parade, "Fun With Fantasy," was chosen by the Student Government Association. Final Homecoming plans were formulated and approved by the Glenville State College Alumni Council on Aug. 16, 1969.

1969 Summer School enrollment at Glenville State College hit an all-time high of 543 students as compared with last year's 429, according to Beryl Langford, Registrar.

This number includes part-time, full-time and workshop students, with full time students totaling 415 as compared with 384 of the 1968 Summer Session.

College Physician Establishes Hours

If students at Glenville State College eat an apple a day to keep the doctor away, Dr. Trevor J. Pearman, new college physician, may not have much to do this year. But if things go as they usually do, Dr. Pearman will be a busy man as Glenville State College's physician.

Dr. Pearman, a graduate of the Medical School of Birmingham University in England, is married to a registered nurse and they are the parents of two children. The children, six years old, are twins. Christopher and Clare are their names.

The Pearman family came to the United States from England on one of the final voyages of the Queen Elizabeth ocean liner in December, 1967. Before the trip, Dr. and Mrs. Pearman worked with the British Army Forces, in British hospitals, and also had a private practice in England. Mrs. Pearman is a graduate of the Queen Elizabeth School of Nursing, also in Birmingham.

When asked why he decided to come to the United States, Dr. Pearman said, "The United States is more advanced technologically and has more scope for professional advancement. It was a great adventure to come to North America. The income taxes are relatively lower here, too." Pearman also said that he favored the United States because of "more sunshine" here. Also, many of their relatives live in Canada.

Dr. Pearman, who plans to stay in Glenville indefinitely, prefers the small town. He pointed out some of the advantages of the small town as having a "more informal atmosphere and easier parking and transportation."

"West Virginia reminds me of my home county of Derbyshire in England, which is a land of green hills and trout streams," says Dr. Pearman.

Pearman was born in the town of Derby, an industrial center of the English midlands. Originally an Anglo-Saxon settlement, the town is located on the river Derwent. The town was founded about 1,600 years ago and was later the site of a Roman fort. It was occupied by the Danish forces of King Canute after the Viking invasions.

Saying that he likes the academic atmosphere of the college, Dr. Pearman said, "people have been very helpful to my family and myself."

Dr. Pearman's office hours at the Nurse's Reception Room in the Health and Physical Education Building are 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., Monday through Friday. Emergency calls will be made by arrangement with college authorities. Mrs. Mary Morrow, college nurse, lists her hours as 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 8:30 a.m. until noon on Fridays. Pearman's office is located in Glenville above Howe's Department Store.

Pictures Scheduled

Yearbook pictures will be taken Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday by Delmar photographer.

All students, after having identification pictures taken, will proceed to the next door, room 104, to have their yearbook portraits made. There will be no sitting fee but it will be necessary for students to display a specially marked Delmar card in order to be admitted to the ballroom for registration.

Freshman Registration

All Freshmen will register in alphabetical order at the time and date indicated.

Freshmen who do not have an adviser will be assigned an adviser on Monday, Sept. 8, during orientation in the college auditorium.

Students will report to Room 105 in the Pioneer Center for Identification Photographs thirty minutes prior to the time they are scheduled to register or to complete registration.

Registration day is Tuesday, Sept. 9, 1969.

PROMOTIONS ON CAMPUS this year involve two figures who will soon be familiar to GSC freshmen, Mr. Robert K. Gainer, assistant to the President; and Dr. Paul E. Nagy, assistant director of admissions.

Artists, Craftsmen To Meet At GSC

A meeting of the West Virginia Artists and Craftsmen Guild will be held on campus in the near future, according to Guild officers. This organization was formed in 1963 during the West Virginia Centennial celebrations at the first Mountain State Art and Craft Fair at Cedar Lakes, near Ripley. Purposes of the organization include promotion of native arts and crafts in West Virginia, upgrading the skills of artists and craftsmen in the State, advising in sales of products, and undertaking activities which serve the best interests of the members.

Expected to attend the meeting will be officers, Ken Snyder, wood-crafter; Donald L. Page, wood, metal plastic; Sterling B. Spencer, wood sculptor; Dick Schnacke, folk toys, curios; Charles C. Scott, stoneware pottery, painting; William Roberts, stained glass, metals; Mrs. Adelaide Umland, metals, ceramics, textiles; and French Collison, wood.

The objectives of the meeting include discussions on forthcoming shows, plans for participation in craft fairs, and discussion of the seal of quality.

Several members have been requested to bring two examples of their work for exhibit. The meeting will begin at 11 a.m. at the home of Charles C. Scott and will resume after lunch in room 308 A. Interested students are invited to attend at 1 p.m.

Membership in the West Virginia Artists and Craftsmen Guild is open to anyone who classes himself as an artist, craftsman, or friend of the craft. Regular membership is $5 for the first year and $2 per year renewal. Special student memberships may be obtained for $1 per year.

Pioneer Football Season Will Open At Mars Hill

On Sunday, August 24, Coach Bill Hanlin welcomed 33 freshmen as preparations began for the 1969 football season. The freshmen were given equipment and began practice Monday. On Tuesday the upperclassmen reported with 22 lettermen returning.

Coach Hanlin starts his fourth year as head coach at Glenville State. His teams have produced records of 2-6 in 1966, 5-2-1 in 1967 and 6-3 in 1968. But the years' freshmen crop is undoubtedly the best since Coach Hanlin has been at GSC.

Coach Earl "Whitey" Adolfsen is also starting his fourth year at Glenville. Coach Adolfsen is Assistant coach in charge of line play.

Assistant coach in charge of the offensive line and scouting, Coach Bob Summers is starting his second year at Glenville. Coach Summers will be helped in the scouting department by Don Swisher, Jerry Rea and Ed Suddath.

Of the 22 returning lettermen 14 were regular starters last year. Marcus McPhail of Ripley at quarterback and Tom Haught of New Martinsville a halfback, are both regulars back for their senior year. Both were injured last year but seem to be fully recovered.

Joe Scalise, a senior from Clarksburg, is back at center. Also on the offensive line will be Harold Price, senior guard from Scott; Mike Deem, senior end from Williamstown; and Ron Duncan, junior guard from Pt. Pleasant.

The defensive line will consist of Joe Painter, senior defensive end from Herbert Hoover; Jim Woody, senior tackle from St. Marys; Gary Ray, junior tackle from Winfield; and Steve Stoffel, sophomore defensive end from Herbert Hoover.

Tom Smith and Dave Rawson will be back at linebacking posts. Smith is a senior from Oceana and Rawson is also a senior from Pt. Pleasant.

John Noland and Mike DeVol started the season as defensive half-back last year. Noland is a senior from St. Marys and DeVol is a junior from Caldwell, Ohio.

Gail Plum, senior from Bridgeport has started playing regular midway through the season as defensive back.

Other lettermen who should help this year are Richard Cain, Mike Roscoe, Gary Jones, Craig Lipscomb and Clyde Stepp. These lettermen along with other upperclassmen and the incoming freshman will make up the 1969 edition of GSC football.

The Pioneers get the first taste of battle on Saturday, Sept. 13 as they open with Mars Hill, N.C. at Mars Hill. Mars Hill is expected to field a big, strong team.

PARENTS of last year's freshman class listen to Dr. D. Banks Wilburn as he answers their questions concerning GSC service, location, regulations and requirements. Wilburn will speak to parents today at 1:30 p.m. at another Parent's Convocation.

Dr. Wilburn Will Address Parents Meet At 1:30 P.M.

Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, president of Glenville State College, will address parents of some 575 incoming freshmen this afternoon at a meeting to be held at 1:30 p.m. in the Ballroom of the Student Center. Following are some highlights from Wilburn's address:

"Education is something that each person must acquire for himself. It cannot be purchased, borrowed, or conferred. It cannot be imposed on a student. He cannot acquire it by some mysterious process resulting by merely living on a college campus for four years in contact with professors, classrooms and books.

"Glenville State College will offer to your sons and daughters the opportunity to achieve an education; but each student must, through individual effort, acquire that combination of knowledge of maturity of thought, wisdom, tolerance, curisity, ambition, integrity, character, and attitude which distinguish the truly educated."

In speaking of the next few weeks ahead, President Wilburn remarks, "Experience has taught us that the early months of college are a time of crisis for parents and students alike. Until now, most of you have been closely associated with the education of your sons and daughters. You have provided much of their instruction in your homes. Most of you have encouraged them to receive religious training. You have known your children's teachers and the members of the school board; you have participated in PTA activities and school events; you have had the chief responsibility for discipline, supervision of study, and control of non-academic activities outside of school. And now, you are turning your sons and daughters over to Glenville State College. It is understandable if you have some misgivings and apprehensions."

Parents will be given information concerning the size, location, service and regulations of the College, the manner of treatment of their sons and daughters, qualifications of the instructional staff and pertinent information about Glenville State College. They will also be given the opportunity to speak individually with present staff members concerning student welfare and College policy.

Dr. Wilburn pledges the cooperation of all of his staff personnel with these words:

"As parents of our entering freshman class, you are naturally favorably inclined toward higher education. You are hopeful of its value and are convinced that it is well worth the sacrifice many are making to send your sons and daughters to Glenville State."

"Finally, on the part of Glenville State College, I pledge to you that all who serve here will do their best to encourage your sons and daughters to become better men and women by reason of having studied here and by having associated with us. We appreciate your confidence in this College and giving us, for a time, your most precious possessions - your sons and daughters. We accept this trust with sincere responsibility."
