

The Glenville Mercury

Volume XLI, Number 14

Glenville State College, Glenville, West Virginia

Wednesday, February 18, 1970

Shown in a pensive mood are Celia Stetson, Jean Gordon and Carl Latcham as they will appear in "Ethan Frome" next Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium. This play, presented by Contempo Players, is a part of the Lyceum series on campus.

Play Will Be Lyceum Feature

The next scheduled program of the Lyceum series on Glenville State College campus will be a play, Ethan Frome given by the Contempo Players from Hedgerow Theater next Tuesday evening. The presentation involves a dramatic trio consisting of Carl Latcham, Celia Stetson and Jean Gordon, who are versatile and talented artists presenting a rich program of theatrical entertainment.

The play, which is directed by Gordon Phillips, is an original dramatic interpretation of the stark and beautiful novel by Edith Wharton. Vigorous performances and powerful characterizations bring to life this poignant New England love story. It is a superb adaptation for the stage of an American masterpiece.

The character's backgrounds reveal their acting ability and theatrical dedication. The only male performer, Carl Latcham, has performed over a thousand roles in the world famous Hedgerow Theater and has appeared in varied film and television programs. Celia Stetson is a graduate of the American Academy of Dramatic Art. She is both a producer and actress at the Hedgerow Theater and is a founding producer of the Theater of the Living Arts of Philadelphia. The second female actress is a founding producer of the Theater of the Living Arts in Philadelphia. She, too, is involved in television and film work as a participant in the Hedgerow Theater productions.

The production of Ethan Frome and its actors has been acclaimed by many critics as, "A remarkable performance. The audience was enthralled," "A great success! An exciting theater event!" and "An extraordinary and skillful performance in unique entertainment."

The student body and public are urged to attend this production to be presented in the auditorium at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 24. Admission will be by I.D. cards. If there are any questions concerning this performance information can be obtained from Mr. Robert Gainer.

Placement Interviews Now Open For Seniors

The Placement Office of Glenville State College receives many requests for interviews from a cross section of educational systems as well as private businesses, governmental agencies, and other organizations such as the Boy Scouts or YMCA.

A Student who is interested in signing up for a particular interview should stop by the Placement Office to do so. At that time the student will be allocated a specific time as to when his interview will take place and receive an "Interview Reminder" slip which will have the pertinent information recorded.

Students are welcome to stop by the Placement Office at any time and inquire if certain types of interviews are to be scheduled at any time in the immediate or distant future.

'Give - So More Will Live' Is Slogan For Heart Fund

"Give-So More Will Live" is the campaign slogan adopted by the National Heart Association in an attempt to play up the importance of their annual February Campaign to raise funds for use in research, professional and public education, and community service concerning cardiovascular diseases. Coach "Bob" Summers will head the local team of heart fund volunteers as chairman of the Gilmer County Heart fund drive.

Heart disease is the number one killer today. In West Virginia, alone, it is estimated that 56 per cent of the 1970 death rate will consist of cardiovascular deaths. This statistic illustrates that the heart fund drive is very important locally as well as nationally. Eighty-five hundred heart fund campaigns will be conducted throughout the United States this month, but each community must do its share to insure advancement against cardiovascular deaths.

Several volunteers are working in rural communities to help obtain the $1000 goal set for the local drive. Many more volunteers will be needed on Heart Sunday, Feb. 22, to call on local residents for their donations. Anyone willing to contribute spare time to aid the campaign should contact Coach Summers.

In addition to the residential canvass on Heart Sunday, businesses as well as clubs and organizations will be given an opportunity to donate to the drive. Terry Taylor and Gene Bell are co-chairmen of the Business and Industry Canvass. Dr. Alfred T. Billips is the chairman of Clubs and Organizations. Acting as Vice-Chairman for the heart fund campaign is Mr. Jesse Lilly and Mrs. Yvonne King is publicity chairman for the drive.

On Heart Sunday, remember, open up your heart. "Give-So More Will Live!"

When we mark a ballot or pull a machine lever on election day, do we ever consider who we send to Washington or to Charleston?

Having returned from that tormented Acropolis of West Virginia, following the semester break, and being convinced of the incompetency of state government, i. e. Gilmer County Roads, I reviewed with a note of hysteric the Legislature a la the State of West, 'By Gosh Virginia,' more wild than wonderful, in session.

Blood letting being the theme followed by that the impeachable body, during five days in which my existence was threatened by (MOSES) mothers opposed to sex education in Schools, (a local following of the Birch, John Society), my wholesomeness graced by J. D. Rockefeller, and my education completed by the vocabulary used by Hon Hans McCourt while reading his speech; I wish to give you some thoughts that rambled in my mind during that rambled in my mind during that session that rambled in the state house.

There were delegates eating and photographers flashing, reporters in rumpled suits, talked to Senators with dirty shoes, and all that was needed to make this 59th session a Ringling Brothers Spectacular was a saw dust floor, and a bag of pop-corn.

Amid reams of papers that no-one read, were delegates eating and listening to men read speeches and in the center of 'adults' making everything 'fair' and 'good' a troop of cub Scouts stood bewildered.

Tanned faces burped, and cronies came and statesmen hid. Sessions closed and closed sessions were investigated behind closed doors.

An answer was sent to the Governor, whilst partisans cheered, and ate, and school children were hustled from reserved galleries to make room for adults who knew what was going on, but were unashamed.—The galleries smiled.—

And somewhere along the line you knew that the business of state was underlying and in the last of the session things would workout, but they didn't and partisan lines were drawn to be colored void giving to a chaotic choking of certainties. Adjournment sine die was graveled to reality yet we knew the "Last years' words belonged to last years' language, and next years' words await another voice."

My sincere congratulations to President Nixon and his veto of the HEW Bill, especially after the speech in 1968 in which he said that his fight to end inflation would not involve education.

The James K. Polk Golfer's Classic Award-To Spiro T. Agnew who has shown to the public that his golf is as good as his speeches.

RCIE Plans Italian Institute For Musicians

The Regional Council for International Education today announced that Gian Carlo Menotti's Festival of the Two Worlds in Spoleto, Italy, will be the site of a six-week Summer Institute in Music Drama for graduate and undergraduate music students beginning this June. Menotti, who founded and directs the Festival each year, invites outstanding young creative talent from all over Europe to study and work in opera, symphonic music, ballet, theater and the plastic arts.

Performances this year will include works by Menotti, de Falla and Mozart along with other productions of chamber music, drama and ballet. The Regional Council Institute will take place from June 8 to July 17, 1970 and will include five weeks of residence in Spoleto where students will be given instruction in conversational Italian, lectures and seminars on the works being performed and their backgrounds, and admittance to all performances and rehearsals. In addition, each student may take a practicum in learning specific roles in coaching-accompanying, in conducting or in directing. The program may be taken for six hours of academic credit or without credit.

The Institute will be co-directed by Dr. Warren Scharf, Director of the Music Conservatory at Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, Ohio, and Dr. Scott Stringham, Assistant Professor of Music at West Virginia University, Morgantown, West Virginia. Students will have lectures, seminars and discussion conducted by the directors and by many of the artists and musicians in residence at the festival, including composer-director Menotti, and conductor Thomas Schipper.

After five weeks in Spoleto, a week-long field trip will be taken to a number of major historic and art centers in Italy.

The program will cost $975 including round-trip travel between New York and Spoleto, room, board, tuition, field trips and admission to all Festival performances. Prior knowledge of Italian will be helpful but is not required.

The program is sponsored by the Regional Council for International Education, an association of 31 colleges and universities in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia aimed at the expansion of the international element of higher education. Glenville State College is a Council member. The headquarters of the Council are at the University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15213.

The proceeds of this program will go to promote a field trip for the French students to Quebec, Canada to observe French customs and language apparent in the area.

On March 5, the French Club will also sponsor a spaghetti supper to be held in the Old Louis Bennet Lounge from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Again, these proceeds will be used to fund the trip to Quebec. Tickets are $1.25 and, in addition to the supper, there will be a comedy presentation of slides.

GSC MUSIC DEPT. HOST FOR FESTIVAL

The Glenville State College music department was the host for high school students with musical talent from seven area counties for the Solo Ensemble Festival.

The festival, held on Feb. 14 in the college auditorium, was an all-day competition to select one solo and one ensemble to compete in the state festival to be held on April 11 in Charleston.

A flute player from Ravenswood high school and a clarinet choir, also from Ravenswood, were selected to send tapes of their performances to the state competition. Both were under the direction of James Porter.

Students in this contest came from Region 4 consisting of high schools from Braxton, Calhoun, Clay, Gilmer, Nicholas, and Webster counties.

Thomas O'Connell from the music department staff of Marshall University was the judge for the event.

The Placement Office now has several new magazines and brochures which list and explain opportunities in Library Science, Business and Teaching. Any interested senior may inquire.

Robert H. Mollohan, West Virginia Congressional Representative from the First District entertained the Pioneer basketball team in Washington, D.C. The team was in Washington to play Southeastern University.

Record Is 15-7

Pioneers Win Four

D&E Loses

On Feb. 3, Glenville State's Pioneers blew Davis and Elkins College off of the floor with a 98-68 win. Jack Robinson and Steve Datcher led the Pioneers scoring with 19 and 18 points, respectively. Other G-Men in double figures were Marion Gordon with 12 and Jim Garnett with 10.

Leading 47-36 at half time, the Pioneers outscored the Senators 51-32 in the second half to win going away. Coach Lilly's men shot 47 per cent from the floor and 58 per cent from the foul line.

Morris Harvey Game

One of the GSC basketball team's most gratifying victories this season had to be the 84-81 victory over the Morris Harvey Golden Eagles on Feb. 5. Glenville had failed to defeat Morris Harvey in Coach Jesse Lilly's previous five years as GSC basketball coach. The Pioneers led for a great part of the game but had to score a basket with five seconds left to play to pull out the win. The Pioneers led at half-time by the score of 46-34.

Jack Robinson and Steve Datcher scored 24 and 19 points respectively to lead the GSC scoring. Robinson hit on nine shots from the field and six of seven free throws, while Datcher also hit on nine shots from the floor and made one of two free throws. Ron Jones and Dale Tawney scored in double figures with Jones getting 12 and Tawney 11 points.

Concord Wins

The pioneers traveled to Lewisburg on Saturday, Feb. 7 to face Concord College's Mt. Lions. GSC had met and defeated the Lions earlier in the year. Jack Robinson once again led the Pioneers with 29 points. Robinson was the only Pioneer in double figures as Glenville State went down by a 66-62 count. The Pioneers shot 48 per cent from the field and 80 per cent from the charity stripe. Robinson was leading rebounder with 13.

Beckley Triumphs

On Thursday, Feb. 12, the Glenville State College Pioneer basketball team was defeated by Beckley College in a conference game played at Glenville. Beckley grabbed an early lead which they retained throughout most of the game. Glenville's only serious threat came in the last few seconds of the game when they overcame a 10 point deficit to tie the score at 68-68.

Jack Robinson was the leading scorer for the Pioneers with 26 points. He was followed by Steve Datcher with 14 and Dave Barnes with 12. Robinson was also the leading rebounder for the Pioneers with a total of 12.

This loss gave Glenville a 12-6 record in conference play.

Shepherd - Saturday Night

The Glenville State College basketball team won a 118-82 decision over the Shepherd Rams last Saturday night here at Glenville. The Pioneers were ahead throughout the game and by as much as 40 points at one time. The total of 118 points set a new GSC record of points scored in one game. The old record was 116 points.

Jack Robinson led the scoring for the Pioneers with 38. Robinson hit on 14 shots from the field and 10 free throws. Jack also had 16 rebounds. Robinson was followed in scoring by Dale Tawney who had 25 points. Tawney hit on eight shots from the floor and nine foul shots. Tawney had seven rebounds. The only other GSC player in double figures was Jim Garnett with 10 points.

W. Va. Tech Game

On Feb. 10 the GSC Pioneers played W. Va. Tech and came away with an 81-69 victory over the Golden Bears. The Pioneers led by 41-29 at half-time.

Jack Robinson led the Pioneers scoring attack with 22 on nine shots from the field and four free throws. Robinson had 12 rebounds. Robinson was followed by Steve Spicer with 19; Dave Barnes, 12; Dale Tawney, 10; and Jim Garnett with 10 points. Spicer hit seven shots from the floor and five foul shots while Barnes hit six of seven from the floor and two free throws and Garnett hit three shots from the field and four free throws.

Jack Jo Robinson makes a shot to help lead GSC to a victory over Tech's Golden Bears.

Five Seniors End Career In WVIAC Tournament

Five seniors will play in their last WVIAC Tournament beginning Feb. 25 at the Civic Center in Charleston. The top scoring senior is Jackie Jo Robinson. Robinson is finishing up a brilliant four year career for the Pioneers. He has made all conference two years in basketball and is a contender for three years in a row. He has also made All-Conference in football and baseball and is possibly one of the greatest athletes to ever graduate from Glenville State.

Marion Gordon, a native from Lewisburg, is also completing his career here at Glenville. Gordon has put on some outstanding performances during his years here.

Another senior is guard Willie McGee who has played consistent basketball during his career at Glenville State. Willie was a starter last year although he has not seen considerable action this year.

Jim Lilly who is also a guard has displayed some good basketball this year while being a spot starter. Lilly will be missed in the backcourt spot next year.

Gary Norris is a senior forward who will be finishing up his career at Glenville State. Although this is Norris' first year of basketball he has contributed much to the basketball program.

The Pioneers, in one of their most successful seasons in years, will go into the tournament as a very strong contender. At times the Pioneers have displayed some brilliant basketball. Glenville State is the only team in the WVIAC to defeat both Morris Harvey and Fairmont.

Three freshmen and one sophomore

The Boy Scouts of America have announced that there are several openings for summer employment. These summer jobs last from six to eight weeks and begin the last of June. All men 21 or over who wish to apply for a job may inquire at the Placement Office for further information.

have also contributed much to the success of this year's team. Freshmen Steve Datcher has performed like a veteran and high hopes are expected of Datcher in the future. Guards Ron Jones and Jim Garnett have also looked very impressive this year. Sophomore Jim Spicer is starting to click as a highly prospective star for future Pioneer teams.

On February 26, Dr. Robert Dolinger will speak to the Lions Club, the group sponsoring the tournament, and the topic will be 'Athletics in West Virginia.'

Bowling Championship Won By GSC Keglers

The Glenville State College Bowling Team captured the Northern Regional Bowling championship at Clarksburg on Feb. 14, 1970. The Pioneers by winning this tournament took over undisputed first place. Prior to the tourney, the G-Men had been tied with West Virginia State for first place in the conference. Both schools had identical 6-0 records.

Coach Bob Dollgener's bowlers were led by Dave Bodkin of South Charleston who had a high game of 246 which was good for second high in the tournament behind the 247 of Gene Stone of Morris Harvey and Ralph Robinson of Fairmont. Al Malone of Waverly had the high series for Glenville with a total score of 627.

The GSC team's total pin fall was 6,720. Morris Harvey and Fairmont took second and third place in the tournament with scores of 6,611 and 6,516 respectively.

Other Pioneers who contributed to the win were Lynn Dawson, Steve Poling, Ron Sams, and Dave Grapes.

Pioneerettes Drop Inaugural Game

The Fairmont State College Women's basketball team defeated the Glenville State College womens basketball team 57-38 at the Pioneer Fieldhouse on Feb. 13.

Although the Pioneerettes put up a gallant battle, they were simply over powered by the more experienced Falcon squad. The Falcons were led by Betsy Watts and Sharon Hyde with 19 and 16 points, respectively. The Pioneer girls were led by Donna Newberry and Betsy Winfield who hooped in 12 and six points respectively.

The women's team is in the process of trying to schedule more games in the near future and vast student support would be appreciated.

Girls on the team include Pam Abbot, Marilyn Blair, Rita Buchanan, Mary Campbell, Jenny Cronin, Linda Grandinette, Judy Lamm, Deanna Moore, Donna Newberry, Linda Wagner, Barbara Walker, and Betsy Winfield.

Pioneers Dine With Mollohan

During semester break the Glenville State College Pioneer basketball team took a road trip to the East. This was one of the first times in several years that the team has traveled out of state to compete. The first game was with Shepherd College against a home-town crowd. Glenville was defeated in this game. The team then traveled to Washington, D.C., for their next opponent, Southeastern University. Glenville was successful in defeating the Southeastern team.

While in Washington the team was guest of W. Va. Congressman Robert H. Mollohan and was served dinner in the Congressional Dining Room.

Senator Jennings Randolph attended the game with Southeastern University and talked to the team at half-time.

Writer Ponders Powder Horn

The big question on campus is "What happened?" to the Pioneer basketball team against Concord and Beckley. The G-Men came off a great win over Morris Harvey only to lose to Concord at White Sulphur Springs two nights later. Coach Lilly's crew had beaten Concord earlier in the year by a 64-52 score on the home blanks. Back home on Tuesday night, the round ballers topped a good West Virginia Tech team by 12 points. Thursday night the Beckley Blue Hawks came to town and left with a two point win over GSC. Shepherd College came in Fri. night and Pioneer fans wondered if the men in blue and white would play up to their potential as they did against Morris Harvey and Tech or as they did against Beckley. Shepherd won over GSC by eight points last month at Shepherd, but GSC avenged that defeat by playing great basketball.

Students all over campus and fans throughout the area are wondering how a basketball team capable of beating both Fairmont and Morris Harvey can be so inconsistent. The talent is there, but on some nights it's invisible.

Those students who attended the Beckley game deserve congratulations for their enthusiasm during the last six minutes of that loss. The noise was deafening and seemed to rattle the Blue Hawks. We wonder where the cheers and support were for the first 34 minutes and if the outcome might not have been different if this enthusiasm had started with the opening whistle and continued throughout the ball game.

Tournament time is near. Charleston is the site and our Pioneers have a good chance of going all the way. A good student following from Pioneer Peak to the banks of the Great Kanawha would give Coach Lilly and Co. a big assist in their efforts to bring home the bacon.

Fraternity Undertakes Annual 100-Mile Trip

Theta Xi fraternity will make their annual trip to Charleston again this year while dribbling a basketball.

The trip will begin Tuesday morning, Feb. 24 in front of the Pioneer Center. Television cameras are expected to be on hand to see the boys off on their long journey. It will take approximately 30 hours to complete the 100 mile trip to the WVIAC tournaments.

Lambda Chi Alpha Plans Entry For Annual Regatta

Plans are being made by Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity to enter the fifth annual Oil Drum Regatta. The Regatta consists of racing manually-propelled oil drum rafts over a nine mile course of the Kanawha River between Glen Ferris and Montgomery. The course includes rapids, white water, and large slow pools. The river's conditions govern the maneuverability of the rafts.

The Regatta, which is perhaps the largest intercollegiate activity during the year, will be held in April. It is sponsored by Phi Kappa Phi Fraternity of W.Va. Institute of Technology.

Mike Shamblin, social chairman of Lambda Chi Alpha, announced that the fraternity will hold its closed ball on March 14 in Charleston.

The evening will begin at 7 p.m. with a banquet at Humphrey's Pine Room. Plans for a guest speaker are under way.

At 9 p.m., the brothers and their dates will move from the banquet to the ballroom where they will dance to the music of the Esquires. The theme of the ball will be "The Age of Aquarius," and colors are planned to carry out the theme. The highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the Lambda Chi Alpha Crescent Queen. Several other plans are under way for the Founder's Day weekend.

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity held its first freshman smoker on Thursday, Jan. 15, 1970, in the old lounge of Louis Bennett Hall. There were approximately 50 men attending. Speaking at the smoker was Dr. Alfred T. Billips, Dean of Student Affairs and fraternity advisor; Mike Peterson, president of Marietta Lambda Chi Alpha; and Susie Wolford, president of the Ladies of the White Rose.

The smoker was attended by visiting brothers from Marietta. Entertainment included Lynn Stotter at the piano and songs by Jayne Beer accompanied by Julia Murin. Janet Posey, member of Alpha Sigma Alpha and Lambda Chi Alpha Go-Go Girl was introduced along with the Lambda Chi Alpha Sweater Girls. Refreshments were served by the Ladies of the White Rose.

Recently, Lambda Chi Alpha elected new officers. They are: president, William Niday; vice president, George Allen; secretary, Ronald Riggs; treasurer, Daniel McPherson; pledge-master, Wade Coffindaffer; rush chairman, Thomas Berry; and social chairman, William Shamblin.

The officers were installed in a ceremony at Trinity Methodist Church.

Delta Zeta Holds Party For Pledges

Last Friday night the Delta Zeta sorority held a slumber party for prospective pledges at the house. The following morning a bake sale was held in the Glenville Supply Store. This coming Friday there will be a mix from 9 to 12, but as of yet the band has not been decided upon.

This semester, two new sisters, Sharon Mallett and Susan Morton, were added to the membership. Miss Mallett is a transfer student from West Liberty State College where she served as vice-president of her pledge class. She is a junior English major from Hannibal, Ohio. She has recently been appointed as Scholarship Chairman of Theta Xi Chapter.

Miss Morton is a transfer student from West Virginia Institute of Technology where she served as activities chairman and song leader. She is a junior physical education major from Webster Springs. Two sisters returning to GSC this semester are Ellida Van Allen and Jeanne Rockhold, junior education majors from New York.

The newly appointed officers for this semester are: Barbara Burger, courtesy chairman; Connie Montgomery, patroness co-ordinator; Jeanne Rockhold, press chairman; Cynthia Day, sorority education; and Jennalee Page, songleader.

Choir Tours Four States, Returns To Campus Stage

by Jayne Beer

During the semester break, the Glenville State College Concert Choir, under the direction of Mr. Mark Aamot took an eleven day tour through four states, presenting 16 concerts.

The choir presented a varied program that had at least one section to appeal to every taste. The first section of the program presented a view of sacred music through several centuries of choral music. The first number of the program was the closing section of the motet, "Sing Ye to the Lord", by J.S. Bach. This was followed by "In Dulci Jubilo"; "O Vos Omnes", a 16th century motet by Victoria, and "Adoramus Te," a contemporary piece in Latin.

The second section of the program presented secular songs, voicing the views of today's youth. This section was presented by the Chamber Singers and used electric guitar, electric piano, string bass, and drums. The songs were "I've Gotta Be Me" from the Broadway Musical Golden Boy, "Seasons In the Sun", written by Rod McKuen, "Times Are a Changin'" by Bob Dylan, and "He's Everything to Me" written by Ralph Carmichael for the Billy Graham movie, The Restless Ones. This section closed with the echoing strains of the hit medley from the musical Hair, "Aquarius-Let the Sunshine In".

After an intermission, the choir returned to the full rich chords of Bruckner's "Os Justi." Next followed a carol, "Guest from Heaven." The next number, entitled "Etude", was an experiment in sound by MacClellun. The piece used no pitch and no standardized words. This was followed by Lord of the Dance and a medley of tunes from Lionel Bart's musical Oliver. The concert concluded on the chords of Distler's "Psalm 98." Through this type of concert the choir showed its versatility in presenting work from most of the major periods of choral music.

The choir took on the role of ambassadors for West Virginia during this tour which began in Ohio and proceeded through West Virginia, Virginia and North Carolina. Among the major cities where the choir sang were Athens, Ohio; Charleston and Bluefield, W. Va.; Richmond, Roanoke and Annandale, Virginia, and Raleigh, North Carolina. There was also a free evening in Virginia Beach and a free day in Williamsburg, Va., and in Washington, D. C.

During the tour, the choir sang in high schools through the day and at various churches in the evenings. At night, the choir members were housed with families from the churches where the concerts were presented. This proved to be a learning experience for both the hosts and the guests. Many of the people with whom the choir members stayed had many misconceptions about the people and the life in West Virginia. These were corrected with an evening of conversation with the GSC students. Also while in Washington, the students visited both the House of Representatives and the Senate Chamber as the guests of Congressman Ken Hechler of West Virginia.

The choir invested many hours of work in preparing for this tour. The effort all seemed worthwhile, however, when the people in the cities where the choir sang greeted them enthusiastically and urged them to return and sing in their city again very soon. The final presentation of the concert was in the GSC auditorium on Monday, Feb. 16.

The chaperons for the tour were Mr. Mark Aamot, Mr. David Harry, and Miss Mary Lou Raebler.

The major reasons for the success of the tour lie with the director, Mr. Mark Aamot. It was through his diligence that the idea of an eleven day tour was conceived and through his perseverance that it was completed.

Faculty Wives Form Several Activity Groups

One of the several activity groups in which GSC faculty wives are working is a sewing club. The club, meeting monthly, made 70 decorated stockings at Christmas time which were given to patients in the Stonewall Jackson Hospital in Weston.

The most recent project was the making of bean bags for the county kindergartens and first grades.

Those wives participating are: Mrs. Nelson Wells chairman of the Faculty Wives Club, Mrs. Byron Turner, Mrs. Woodrow Morris, Mrs. Donald Phillips, Mrs. Mark Aamot, Mrs. Bruce Flack.

Mrs. William Morrow, Mrs. Darrel Dean, Mrs. John Chisler, Mrs. John McCreary, and Mrs. Steven Scherer.

General admission tickets for the Concert of Clarksburg born, Metropolitan opera star, Miss Phyllis Curtin, are now available for distribution from the Alumni Office, Room 102, Pioneer Center.

Admission to the March 9 Concert is by ticket only. Audience will be limited to 640 individuals. There is no charge for tickets. Limit of two (2) tickets per person. After February 23, remaining tickets will be made available to off-campus individuals.

Poets Convened At MH College

More than 20 poets and several editors are expected to attend a poetry conclave to be held at Morris Harvey College, Friday, Feb. 20. Those poets who are to attend have submitted poems for inclusion in "Poems From the Hills, 1970," Morris Harvey College's second publication for this school year. According to William Humley, assistant professor of English at Morris Harvey, the anthology is to be released in February.

"We've received many encouraging letters concerning our publication," Mr. Plumley said, listing such award-winning writers as Richard Wilbur, Anne Sexton, and Robert Penn Warren as among those who have written to him.

Several distinguished authors have sent poetry to be published in the anthology. Much of this poetry has not been previously published, so this adds to the great literary significance of the book.

Pearl S. Buck, a native of West Virginia, has contributed a poem about her birthplace. She has won both the Nobel Prize and the Pulitzer Prize for her works in literature.

Among the various authors will be Jesse Stuart, a native of Greenup, Ky. His accomplishments include 35 books, 350 short stories, and 350 poems, with thirty of his works having been translated into foreign languages. The third division of the book will be a special Stuart section. Poems by his daughter, Jessica, will also be included in this section.

Others who have contributed works to the anthology are Pulitzer Prize winners Richard Eberhart, and Howard Nemerov; Hollis Summers, professor at Ohio University who has won the Saturday Review Poetry Award; Carl Bode, founder of the American Studies Association and professor at the University of Maryland; and Eugenia Price, a Charleston native and author of the "New Moon Rising."

The main portion of "Anthology 1970" will consist of original poetry by West Virginians. "This will give West Virginia writers a chance to publish with top writers in the country," Mr. Plumley said.

"Anthology 1970" will be edited by Mr. Plumley. It will be available for pre-publication sale at $1.75, and will sell for $2.50 after publication.

At the Metropolitan Opera last season Miss Curtin was heard in memorable performances, ranging

Kanawhachen Staff Prepare Yearbook

The college yearbook, Kanawhachen, will be meeting their first deadline on March 1. They hope by this time to have the cover selected and some preliminary details decided. The advisor and editor for the 1969-70 issue are respectively, Mr. Jim Rogers and Anne Knapp.

This is Mr. Roger's first time to supervise a yearbook and staff. His staff consists of editor-in-chief, Anne Knapp; layout editor, Woody Gay; copy editor, Julia Murin; photographer, Tom Pickens. Assisting with typing will be Judi Arnold.

Miss Knapp had this to say about the yearbook, "There is going to be a big difference this year-size, shape and layout, everything!"

It is requested that all organizations that want their pictures in the yearbook should notify Miss Knapp or Mr. Rogers before Feb. 27. Due to the change in size and space, the staff must have this important information immediately.

The yearbook will not accept composites from organizations, but would prefer a more informal picture.

from Die Meistersinger to Peter Grimes; this year, she is scheduled to appear as Agathe in Der Freischutz and Tatian in Eugene Onegin in a performance period from January to March.

She began her current tour—which takes her from London to Honolulu, and ranges over 28 states—with yet more opera: in September, Rosalinda in Die Fledermaus in Seattle, continuing with appearances as Donna Anna in the San Antonio Opera's production of Don Giovanni. Operatic music figures strongly even in some of her concert engagements. Miss Curtin will be heard with various symphony orchestras in excerpts from Purcell's Dido and Aeneas, Gluck's Alecste, and Mozart arias, for which she is particularly noted. With the Buffalo Symphony under the baton of Lukas Foss she sings another of her specialties, the Final Scene from Richard Strauss's Capriccio. During the summer, Miss Curtin again appears with the Boston Symphony at Tanglewood, where she will also hold several of her much sought-after master classes.

Born in Clarksburg, West Virginia, where her late father was a church tenor and where her mother still plays organ and directs three church choirs, Phyllis Curtin was educated there, and played violin from early childhood until she entered Wellesley College (from which she graduated with honors) as a political science student. She sang "for fun" in those days, and it was not until her university years that she began formal studies. A pupil of the distinguished Joseph Regneas, Miss Curtin soon became known for her lovely voice, unusually fine musicianship and quickness in learning new and difficult works.

Her career started in earnest with concerts in Boston and New York, and in 1954, Phyllis Curtin made her debut with the New York City Opera Company. Life Magazine immediately took note of her stunning interpretation of Salome with a three page story; other publications followed suit; and finally, an Italian magazine headlined its article "La Vera Salome E Un'Americana." (The Real Salome is an American!) From that time on, worldwide acclaim has been hers.
