Program Released By Operatic Star For Mar. 9 Program

"Ranked by distinguished critics, outstanding musicians and knowing audiences with the 'greats' of the Golden Age of Song - for her ravishing technique, astonishing versatility, and rare Musicianship..." Miss Phyllis Curtin has a repertoire of more than 70 roles and has sung more premiers than any other American soprano.

Miss Curtin of nearby Clarksburg has been lauded all over the world. She has performed concerts in many different countries such as: Germany, Australia, New Zealand, England, and Scotland. A Holland critic wrote, "Curtin's voice is a miracle. Her performance was more than singing. It was creating!"

Miss Curtin's program for her March 9 performance here consists of five sections. In the first section she will present: "Du Bist Die Ruh," Schubert; "Du Bist Wie Eine Blume," and "Bist du, Liszt; "Du Bist Mein Auge," Strauss; and "Bist du Rei Mur," Bach.

"Mandoline," "Prison," "En Sour-dine," Faure; "C'est l'Extase," "Green," Debussy; are in the second section of the program. "Vissi d'Arte" and "One Fine Day," Puccini; will be presented in the third section of the program.

Following intermission Miss Curtin will present: "Sing Agreeably of Love," and "Partidge in a Pear Tree," Daniel Pinkham; "To Poulenc," "Little Elegy," and "I am Rose," Ned Rorem; "Tiger," "At The Spring," Virgil Thompson; in section four. In section five she will present: "Cantigas de Amigo," Valdo Schi-am-marella; which consists of seven songs from the Argentine.

Miss Curtin has been booked at GSC through the Arthur Judson Management, Inc.

There will be a reception following the performance and the public is invited to meet Miss Curtin.

Advisory Board Convenes, Organizes On GSC Campus

The Glenville State College Advisory Board, organized at noon on Feb. 19, was on campus last week. The Board is to be a part of a new organization for all higher education passed by the 1969 regular session of the legislature.

The purpose of this Board will be to advise the President concerning proposals to be made to the Board of Regents and to conduct a study concerning functions and purpose of the college.

The Board will meet bi-monthly on campus. Chairman of the Board is Frank L. Taylor, Jr. and vice-chairman is H. Laben White. Two non-voting members are Wesley C. Frame, appointed by Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, and Dr. Woodrow W. Morris, elected by the faculty.

Voting members of the Board are:

Fred H. Barnett, Counselor-at-Law and graduate of Glenville Normal School and West Virginia University; Mrs. Lelia H. Kiefer, housewife and resident of St. Albans, graduate of Marshall College; Robert K. Park, President and Manager of Farmer's Building and Loan Association of Ravenswood, member of Jackson County Board of Education, graduate of Washington and Lee University.

W. Quentin Smith, Superintendent of the Technical Department of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company of Parkersburg, graduate of Randolph-Macon College and Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Elmer David Strickler, Judge of the Twenty-Eighth Judicial Circuit (Nicholas County), graduate of Glenville State College and West Virginia University; Frank L. Taylor, Jr., partner in the law firm of Kay, Casto and Chaney of Charleston, graduate of the University of Virginia and West Virginia University; and H. Laben White, partner of the law firm of Deem, Marsteller, Siegrist & White of Clarksburg, graduate of Glenville State College and West Virginia University.

Faculty's Talents To Be Displayed

March 3 is the final date set for the Faculty Comedy-Talent Show. It will be held in the auditorium at 8 p.m.

Two acts have been added to the earlier list: Miss Mary Blair will be directing a can-can act and Miss Jane Powell will present a comedy skit. Monetary contributions were received from Dr. Robert Dollgener, Mr. William Morrow, and Mr. Loren McCartney.

Tickets are 75 cents and can be purchased at the entrance of the Pioneer Center or from any member of the French Club.

The purpose for the show is to finance the French Club's trip to Quebec, Canada to observe French customs apparent in the area.

The spaghetti supper will be held March 11 not March 5 as reported in the last Mercury.

10th Art Exhibit Is Scheduled

The 10th annual collegiate art exhibition will be held at GSC art department from March 8 to March 13. The deadline for entries is March 4.

The exhibition is open to all undergraduate art students of West Virginia colleges and universities. There are seven classes and a total of three entries may be submitted: oil painting, watercolor, sculpture, graphics, drawing and mixed media.

Work must be original and completed after March, 1968. All works must be suitably framed and wired for hanging, and paintings, etc., should not exceed 4' by 6'. Sculpture should not be in excess of 100 lbs.

There will be an outside judge, not yet decided upon, and the jury will be members of the GSC art department: Mr. Charles C. Scott, Mr. Jerry W. Morris, and Mr. J. W. Rogers.

Cash awards will be given to outstanding works in the exhibition regardless of entry classification, at the discretion of the awards judge. The amounts of these awards will be dependent upon the number of entries and donations received from patrons.

Miss Phyllis Curtin

Julia Murin Is '70 Roto Cover Girl

Julia Murin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Murin of Glenville, has been chosen in an all campus election to represent Glenville State College in the Campus Cover Girl Contest.

Miss Murin, a junior English major, was sponsored jointly by Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and Ladies of the White Rose.

Miss Murin is active in many campus organizations which include WOGS' Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, Ohnimgohow Players, Alpha Psi Omega dramatic fraternity, Literary Society, and Ladies of the White Rose. Miss Murin has also recently been named Lambda Chi Alpha Sweater Girl.

This year's Campus Cover Girl is the seventeenth one held by the Roto Magazine of the Pittsburgh Press. Miss Murin's picture, along with those finalists from colleges and universities in surrounding states, will appear in the March 8 issue of Roto magazine. From these finalists, a winner and two runners-up will be selected.

If you will tax your brain, (which by the way is what the W. Va. Legislature has in mind for next year) you will probably remember my most ardent support of Arch A. Moore, Jr. for governor in 1968. For those of you who cannot recall that time, let me reaffirm my position: I did.

The time has come, however, when I must stand opposite the position chosen by our chief executive. The question of creating a public kindergarten, which has become a political football, and will bring great rewards to the player who scores with it, is now in the front of state affairs. Honorable Arch is now standing four-square in his effort to fund a kindergarten by transferring monies of the Head Start Program to his office, thereby killing the Head Start operation. I have talked to those involved with the aforementioned project and have seen their side of the argument. Yet we must evaluate their emotional stance against the governor, as one of an economical view, i.e. loss of employment. Their work-up condition gives rise to a distorted denunciation of Moore's move.

The aggravating point to bear in mind is the failure of the governor to make public, in its initial phases, the context of his proposal. Here we have an elected official who is perpetuating the communication gap between the public and the elected. We have no need for this type of leadership. Some call him a progressive leader, yet at times his "progressivism" gives way to dictatorial etchings. Moore's attempt to place complete control of state government in his office is indicative that he just might be building some type of organization for some future move. And that isn't bad. I just hope that running the state doesn't get in the way.

My complaint is not so much that Head Start will be dissolved, or even that the governor is trying to control everything, but it is that legislators and administrators have for the two years past concentrated all their efforts toward public education and have been consistent in their failure to improve the plight of higher education, which is to say the least, blatantly obvious.

The Un-Editorial

"We hold these truths to be self evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness— to effect their safety and happiness."

I have been asked to write the editorial for this week's Mercury. In compliance, I have sat these past four hours in rather concentrated thinking to find a subject which I might develop. Each idea that comes to mind carries some "problem" with it and I'm a bit discouraged.

For instance, I can't write about drugs or dope addiction. I can't write about pornography or the sexual revolution. Complaints concerning parking problems, campus officials, and administration are all taboo. So are peevish personalities. I wouldn't want to say anything in disrespect about library facilities or girl's hours. Cafeteria food is an "unmentionable" and the same be said of any outside entertainment being brought to GSC. And I certainly couldn't find anything wrong with the all-campus elections.

No, I couldn't write about any of these subjects. Come to think about it, I guess I can't write an editorial.

P.S. Yes, there is a clause somewhere in our history talking about life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. And didn't that add the freedom of speech, too?

Lit. Society Meeting Held

J. D. Salinger's Catcher in the Rye was the work discussed by the Literary Society Sunday, Feb. 22. The explication of the novel was supervised by Keith Boyles, Michael Ireland, and Julia Murin. Ken and Susan Coleman prepared refreshments for the occasion.

Keith presented a brief sketch of the life of American novelist and short-story writer J. D. Salinger, who is familiarly identified as a recluse. Julia and Mike, who has completed a thorough, independent study of Catcher, considered the content of the literary piece, which has won wide acclaim from the younger generation. It was concluded that the prime intent of Salinger was that of pointing out the rejection of adult society by contemporary youth.

The society will meet again March 15 at 3:00 in the Old Louis Bennett Lounge when Mike Ireland will lead the discussion of Ernest Hemingway's The Sun Also Rises, also a modern novel. Hemingway deals with the lives of a group of Americans who expatriate America and reside in Spain; the novel depicts the disillusionment of life for Joke Barnes and Lady Brett Ashley, among others.

The Literary Society would like to extend an invitation to anyone who has an interest in literature, particularly Hemingway; it would also like to remind the public that the small group is not an extrovert function on campus and is open to any persons concerned with literature.

Mr. Don Fogus Becomes 'Forester-of-the-Year'

Mr. Don Fogus, former Director of Forest Technology at Glenville State College was elected 'Forester of the Year' at the recent annual meeting of the Allegheny Section of the Society of American Foresters. This award is based on professional as well as society activities, and was awarded to Mr. Fogus, in part, due to his activities in developing the Forest Technology program here at Glenville.

The Allegheny Section is made up of the following states: West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Mr. Fogus is now at the University of North Carolina pursuing a doctorate degree.

Lone Faculty Member Is Added For Semester

Only one new addition was made to the faculty for the second semester: Mr. William J. Barnett will replace Mrs. Karen Aamot as instructor in English. Mr. Barnett will also instruct classes in speech.

Mr. Barnett earned his A.B. from Davidson College, Davidson, N.C., and is to obtain his M.A. from Marshall University in August, 1970. Before coming to GSC he taught English at North Virginia Community College and served as Graduate Assistant at Marshall.

SGA Replaces President, Appoints Vice-President

Presiding at the Feb. 19 meeting of the Student Government Association was newly-appointed Wesley C. Frame, Jr. Also in attendance, besides the regular members present, was Michael Nutter Ireland, newly-appointed vice-president, Frame, previously vice-president, stepped into the office of president following the withdrawal of Nickolyn Kaye Boso. Ireland was appointed by Frame upon approval of the SGA members.

The first topic of discussion was concerning the minutes. It was requested by President Frame that the minutes be submitted to him and that all main motions be included in the minutes. This was followed by the Treasurer's Report given by Donnie Puckett.

Acceptance of the French Club Constitution was denied. According to Mark Wells, this constitution did not state who was eligible for membership, did not state whether membership should be required or voluntary, no provisions were made for Parliamentary order, and no way was provided for the election of officers. A motion was made to resubmit the constitution passed unanimously, and a letter stating the reasons for failure were to accompany it.

A report from the Movies Committee showed that the Council favors the showing of recent, top-ranked movies to students and faculty, free of charge. Members of this committee are Donnie Puckett, Buddy Thomas, and Mike Ireland.

A meeting was scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 24, at 9:30 with Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, William Osborne, and members of the Council to discuss receiving pay for the positions of President, Secretary, and Treasurer.

Discussion of the W. Va. Association of Student Governments held at Marshall University on Saturday, Feb. 21 followed. Attending this meeting were Donnie Puckett, Mike Ireland, and Wesley Frame.

The Constitution of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes was voted on and unanimously passed. The purpose of this organization is that it is "a program to confront athletes and coaches, and through them the youth of our nation with the challenge and adventure of following Christ, participating in His church and serving Him through our vocation."

Among other things discussed were the filling of a questionnaire concerning food facilities to Shepard College, the acquiring of a permanent reporter to the SGA, and the visit of Advisory Board to the Board of Regents. The Council also expressed desire for someone to do the SGA typing.

3 Eagle Scouts Among Faculty

The rank of Eagle Scout is the highest rank in scouting and several Glenville men have attained this position.

Among these are three faculty members, Mr. John Spears, Mr. Donald Phillips, and Mr. Nelson Wells, all instructors in education at GSC who became Eagle Scouts before coming to Glenville.

Edward Reed, a sophomore at GSC from Glenville, is also an Eagle Scout. His father, Robert E. Reed, is scoutmaster of Glenville Troop 79.

Three faculty members are honored with sons in Eagle Scouting. Dr. Byron Turner's son, Mark, is a sophomore at Gilmer County High School. Mr. Loren McCartney's son, Terry, was just invested as an Eagle Scout on Feb. 8, 1970. He is a junior at Gilmer County High School. Mr. Jesse Lilly's son, Tom, is a senior at Gilmer County High School.

All of these Eagle Scouts have been active in scouting ever since they started as Cub Scouts and have progressed through the various ranks. Mark Turner and Terry McCartney attended the National Scout Jamboree in Idaho last summer.

The week of Feb. 7 to 13 was National Scout Week commemorating 60 years of scouting in America.

Lillymen are ready for tournament action and will meet Wheeling College at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. They are: row one, McNeish, Archer, Robinson, Gordon, Barnes, Spicer, Watson, McGee; row two, Perry, Lilly, Williams, Norris, Thomas, Tawney, Bell, Tschappat; row three, Lilly, Wymer, Lynch, Wilson, McCoy, Kennedy, Kuhn, and Carney.

GSC Wrestlers Tie Final Score With State

On Wednesday, Feb. 18, the Glenville State Wrestling Team met W. Va. State in the second match of the season. Although W. Va. State led at one time by a score of 23-5, Glenville managed to come back and tie the score at 23-23 at the end of the match.

The winners of the individual contests were as follows to weight classes: 118-Paul Shockey (W.Va. State) pinned John Wells (Glenville); 126-Phil Sims (Glenville) pinned Bill Adkins (W. Va. State); 134-Hylton Best (W.Va. State) pinned Russ Ferrell (Glenville); 150-Don Kerns (W.Va. State) pinned Ed Suddath (Glenville); 158-Chris Brandt (W.Va. State) won by disqualification over Tom Woods (Glenville); 167-Gary Moore (Glenville) pinned Frank Harper (W.Va. State); 177-Joe Mills (Glenville) pinned Doug Mahoney (W.Va. State); 190-Marcus Rice (Glenville) pinned Ron McDonald (W.Va. State); Unlimited-Sterling Beane (Glenville) decided Ron Kerns (W.Va. State).

On March 2 and 3 Glenville will compete in the Regional Intercollegiate Wrestling Tournament at Fairmont. Other schools participating will be Fairmont, Alderson-Broadus, West Liberty, and W. Va. State.

Lillymen Avenge Loss

Glenville State avenged an early season loss to West Virginia State with a 80-74 victory over the Yellow Jackets at Institute on Feb. 19. The Pioneer were led by Jackie Joe Robinson and freshman Steve Datcher. Robinson 21 points, Datcher chipped in 20, Jim Lilly added 16 and Ron Jones gave the Pioneers four men in double figures with 10.

The Pioneers led from the opening whistle and were ahead at half time by a 40-37 count. Glenville was 35 for 71 from the floor and 10 of 23 from the foul line in closing out the regular season with an 18-9 record.

State was led by DeWayne Freeman and Gary Bush with 23 and 20,

Powder Horn

By Butch Hays

Today marks the beginning of a new season for the Pioneer basketball team. The regular season is over and the GSC gang came through with their best record in recent years. Now that this has been brought to your attention, push it to the back of your mind for the second season begins this morning with the opening tip-off of the annual WVIAC circus, marathon or whatever name you care to attach to the conference tournament.

The dribble and shoot bunch needs a 4-0 record for success in this new season and to attain this mark, they need to put it all together four games in four days. Inconsistencies must be a thing of the past for each and every member of the squad. The student body, the school administration, the staff and all concerned must rally to this team as never before if Coach Lilly and Co. are to accomplish an almost impossible task.

We say almost impossible for a number of reasons. We all know that these Pioneers are capable. We have seen great wins over Fairmont State, Morris Harvey, and West Virginia Tech. We also saw a record breaking and outstanding performance against a Shepherd team which had beaten Glenville back in January. On the other side of the ledger, we have seen the Men in Blue defeated by the likeness of Concord and Beckley Junior College. Our chances for success are great if, and only if, the Pioneers play up to their potential and the school from President Wilburn down to the freshest Freshman on campus will support the team and Coaches Lilly and Carney with every ounce of what we are made of.

CAP & BALL DEPT. Instructor Ralph Kornegay has added something to the GSC cheering section besides weight. Top fans among the faculty and administration would seem to be President Wilburn, Dean of Student Affairs Billups, and Placement Director Nagy. More students need the spirit displayed by these men.

Wrestlers Lose To A-B

The wrestlers of Glenville State lost a hard-fought battle to Alderson Broadus on Feb. 22 by a score of 27-15. Coach Adolfson's squad has shown much improvement since the beginning of the season and more progress is expected in the picture. 118 lb. Lee Hughart, A.B., decided John Wells, Glenville; 126 lb. Phil Sims, Glenville, pinned Steve Olfreno, A.B.; 134 lb. Lou Schovanec, A.B., pinned Rod Smith, Glenville; 142 lb. Ed Suddath, Glenville, pinned Don Piott, A.B.

150 lb. Dave Thorn, A.B., decided Tom Woods, Glenville; 158 lb. Randy Kochersperger, A.B., pinned John Mace, Glenville; 167 lb. Paul Casto, A.B., decided Gary Moore, Glenville; 177 lb. Joe Mills, Glenville, pinned Mike Ozzalio, A.B.; 190 lb. Frank Visconi, A.B., decided Marcus Rice, Glenville; and unlimited Bill Kluge, A. B., decided Sterling Beane, Glenville.

Three Teams Unbeaten In Intramurals

At the end of the half-way point of the intramural season, there are only three teams still undefeated in play. In flight one, the Red Devils and Faculty I teams are unblemished, while supporting 4 and 0 records, and the Yellow Jackets are 4-0 in flight two. In flight three, the Underdogs head the standings with a 4 and 1 record.

FLIGHT I
Red Devils	4-0
Fire Dogs	3-2

Pioneers Take Third Place, Head For Tournament Today

By Bill Jones

For the first time in 23 years the round-ballers of Glenville State have finished third in the WVIAC. The Pioneers have finished fourth in the conference twice. In 1942 and 1943 Glenville won the conference championship and have not won since. This year's record is the best record since 1951, when the Pioneers supported a 17-11 mark.

The Pioneers play Wheeling College in the tournament at 6:30 this evening. The two ball clubs have not met this year and an interesting match is expected from the Cardinals. If the Pioneers emerge victorious in the first round, then they play either Shepherd or West Liberty. The Pioneers split with Shepherd this year, but gave them a sound thrashing in the friendly confines of the Pioneer Fieldhouse. West Liberty was not scheduled this year and not much is known about the Hilltoppers, although they finished the season with a fine 14-8 mark.

Yesterday, Feb. 24, all players and coaches were involved in a tip-off banquet at Charleston.

Coach Lilly, Coach Carney, and all the players have worked hard in compiling their fine season record and as much student support as possible should show up in Charleston to back the team. The team has shown tremendous effort and courage in their wins over Morris Harvey and Fairmont and, with the same qualities from the student body, the Pioneers could leave Charleston Sunday with everything but Arch Moore's desk.

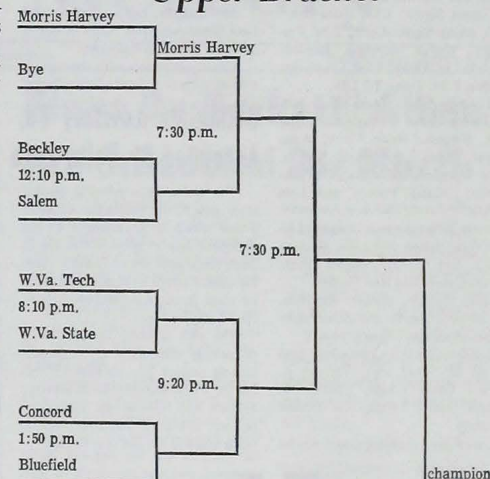

Keglers Lead League With 3 On All Conference

The bowlers of Glenville State are presently leading the league with a spotless 9-0 record. The only other team in serious contention for top honors is West Virginia State, which carries a 6-0 record.

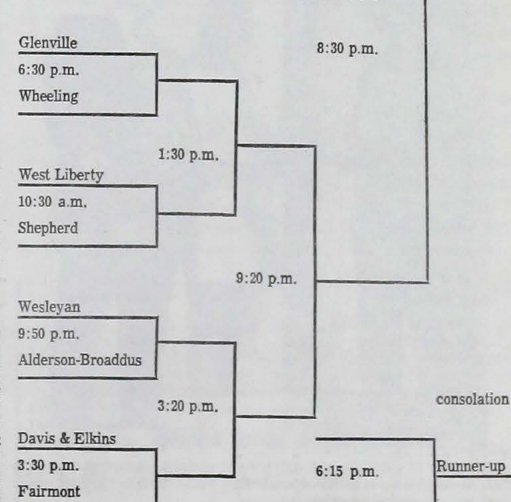

The top ten bowlers in the league are all-conference and Glenville presently has three bowlers in the Top Ten. The three are Al Malone, who is second; Dave Grapes, who is in seventh place; and Ronald Sams is holding down the eighth spot. Glenville also has three other bowlers in the second top ten and Dr. Dollgener expects these men to move up.

have 3.00 or better. They are: Hancel Edison Ball, Jr., Charles Edwin Beymer, Robert Cribbs, Roger Lee Cutright, Larry Gryzb, James Hissem, Rex Lee Kuhl, Steve Seals, Robert Starkey, Thomas Thomas, and Robert Wilson.

Joe Badgley, Lonnie Nicely, and Tom Woods received 3.00's or better from the Theta Xi fraternity.

The organization with the highest overall average is Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Collegiate Advisory Bd. Appointed By Delta Zeta

The girls are now in the process of selling stationary as a money-making project. The stationary is selling for $1.50 and consists of assorted animals and bugs in the form of pop-up notes. A rummage sale is being planned for the near future.

Fraternities Initiate 33

Two fraternities, Lambda Chi Alpha and Theta Xi, recently initiated the members of their second semester pledge classes. At 7:00 on Feb. 16, the Lambda Chi's accepted, as associate members, the following 20 men: Patrick Arnett, a business administration major from St. Marys; James Bolough, a social studies major from Grafton, Ohio; James Bennett, a business administration major from Ireland; James Berry, a business administration major from Wildcat; Dave Blankenship, a physical education major from Wayne; Keith Boyles, an English major from Clarksburg.

Steven Brown (class spokesman), a social studies major from Summersville; Robert Childers, an agriculture education major from Huntington; Charles Cottrell, a music major from East Bank; Jeff Fry, a business administration major from East Lynn; Randy Gregg, a business administration major from St. Marys; Robert Grueser, a physical education major from Pomroy, Ohio.

Don Johnson, a forestry major from Summersville; Terry Lewis, a physical education major from Summersville; James Sirk, a physical education major from Duck; James Sturm, an English and math major from Grantsville; Lemuel Tschappat, a biology major from Clarington, Ohio; William Webb, a social studies major from St. Albans; and Michael Wentzel, a physical education major from Parkersburg.

Those initiated as pledges of Theta Xi are Gary Jarrett, a physical education major; Michael Rust, a business administration major; and John Mace, an art major; all from Elkview. Steve Morningstar, an art major; Buddy Thomas, a math major; and Pat Law, a biology major; all are from Parkersburg. Randy Noble is a physical education major from St. Albans; Gary Moore, a physical education major from Oceana; and Dale Tawney, physical education major from Parkersburg.

From Belpre, Ohio is John Hume, a physical education major, and from St. Marys is Danny Snider, a business administration major. In addition, Robert Britton is a business administration major from Webster Springs, and Thomas Carpenter is a social studies major from Arnoldsburg.

Phi Delta Phi Home Economics Sorority will sponsor a chili supper on March 5. It will be held in the Science Building, Room 100, from 5-7 p.m. The charge for the meal will be $1.00.

TKE's Book Drive Terminates Feb. 28

A book drive for Weston State Hospital Library is being sponsored by the fraters of Tau Kappa Epsilon. The drive will terminate Feb. 28 with the presentation of the books to the State Hospital. The type of books needed are hardbacks of good quality including the topics of interesting novels, poetry and the everlasting favorites: love stories and mysteries. Paperbacks are badly needed.

A door to door drive was held this past Saturday throughout the Glenville community. More donations are badly needed. Collection depots have been established in the union, Louis Bennett Hall, Women's Hall, Verona Maple Hall, the Ben Franklin, and Kanawha Union Bank. A door to door drive will be held in the dormitories tomorrow night so the brothers of TKE ask that anyone having any donations have them prepared for collection.

Lambda Chi's 20 associate members are pictured above with pledge manuals in hand. This is the fraternity's largest pledge class in its short history on campus.

Greek Rush Proves Beneficial

The rushing of prospective pledges is a very important aspect of the Greek organizations at Glenville State College. During this rush period these organizations attempt to show that the Greek way of life can be very beneficial to the student. Both fraternities and sororities attempt to get pledges who will contribute something to the growth of their own particular organizations as well as the Greeks as a whole.

At GSC there are three rush periods: Fall, Winter, and Spring formal rush. Fall rush is held the third and fourth week of the first semester. Winter rush is held the week before finals and formal rush is disallowed during the week of finals. Winter rush resumes the first week of the second semester and terminates with the pledging ceremony that is held on the second Monday of second semester. Spring rush is held during the fifth and sixth weeks of the second semester.

On Monday, Jan. 12, men's Winter rush was begun with a joint smoker at which the theme was "GO! GREEK." At this smoker a representative from each fraternity spoke to the prospective rushers on the values of being a Greek. These speakers were Steve Wells of Tau Kappa Epsilon; Dave Lough of Lambda Chi Alpha; and Steve Ash of Theta Xi. The keynote speaker at this smoker was Mr. Frank Weightman, Tau Kappa Epsilon's advisor, who spoke on the many attributes of being Greek.
