Volume XLI, Number 17

Glenville State College, Glenville, West Virginia

Wednesday, March 11, 1970

Count Almaviva, always with an eye for a pretty girl, tries out his charm on Susannah, his wife's chamber maid, while Marcelina looks on with disapproval. This scene is from the National Opera Company's adaption of the Mozart comedy, THE MARRIAGE OF FIGARO, to be presented tomorrow night in the GSC auditorium.

Campus Religious Council Plans Wednesday Forum

Next Wednesday, March 18 at 7:30 p.m., the Campus Religious Council will hold a forum in the new Louis Bennett Lounge. The theme will be 'Differences Between Ideal Standards and Reality'.

This, the first of a series of informal discussions to be held in dorm lounges, the union and other campus meeting places, concerns the relevance of Christianity to various topics. The forums will be headed by members of the Campus Religious Council and consultants will be chosen for each meeting.

Resource persons for this session will be Mr. Ralph Gay, philosophic consultant; Rev. Blake Britenhart, theological consultant; and Mr. Douglas Smith, scientific consultant.

Aims of the organization include establishing a forum for discussion of contemporary problems, issues and institutions in the light of Christian faith, not denominations; revealing the relevance of Christian faith to contemporary issues and problems, and supplying a positive approach for the Christian faith through word and deed.

Officers of the Council include Shirley Shepherd, president, and Lorraine Seckman, vice president. Mrs. Genevieve McDaniel is advisor of the group.

The next forum concerns Environmental Pollution and is scheduled for April 22, according to Michael Boggs, forum leader.

Stein To Be On Campus

Mr. Robert Stein, a representative from George Washington University, will be on campus March 16, at 4 o'clock. Mr. Stein will talk to groups of students interested in going to law school, but who cannot attend because of financial circumstances.

Mr. Stein will discuss the financial assistance available at George Washington University. This financial assistance includes scholarships and work study programs.

Campus Religious Council members and their advisor are shown on the R. F. Kidd Library steps. CRC's first forum will be held next Wednesday evening.

Books To Be Displayed During Month of March

Between now and March 25, 1970, the 19th annual collection of Books on Exhibit will be on display on the second and third floors of the Robert F. Kidd Library. This well-organized and comprehensive book exhibit is one of the best means whereby relevant new library books of the year for pre-school children through young adults can be seen and evaluated by teachers, students, librarians, and administrators. This curriculum-related collection contains close to 800 titles from the list of some sixty-five publishers. Annotated, curriculum-related, indexed catalogues of the exhibit are available at the display.

We welcome this exhibit and express the hope that you take the time to come and see the new library books of the year.

"Merriment Italian style" characterizes the motion picture Mandragola which will be shown in the college auditorium on Monday night, March 16. Mandragola, based upon Machiavelli's bawdy comedy, is a ribald film full of Rabelaisian humor and mischief. The picture creates a Florence of the 16th century with lavish costumes and wonderful characters. Bizarre intrigues of the most complicated and unbelievably ridiculous types unfold in this wild story about Lucrezia, a famous beauty of the time, whose husband is anxious for an heir.

The picture was filmed in Italy and the dialogue is in Italian with English subtitles. It features Rosanna Schiaffino as Lucrezia. The New Yorker critic called it "...a callous and often beautiful romp..." The Saturday Review said "...a fully satisfying film, played with exactly the properly cynical, irreverent spirit."

This film is sponsored by the Science Club.

National Opera Co. To Present Classic

The Marriage of Figaro, one of Mozart's outstanding comic operas, will be presented by the National Opera Company in the College Auditorium tomorrow, Thursday, March 12, at 8 p.m.

This classic work of Mozart's has been loved by American audiences ever since its first performance in the United States in 1824.

The National Opera Company was founded in 1948 by A. J. Fletcher.

Aspirations of the founder were simple: to create audiences for this outstanding art form by presenting opera in the language of the audience and to give experience and employment to young singing artists.

In annual tours covering most of the United States, these professional troupes have performed nearly 2,000 times bringing opera to smaller towns and communities that have never before witnessed live operatic performance.

The Marriage of Figaro, follows in opera literature, the setting of The Barber of Seville, the popular Rossini comedy, which was so well received on National Opera Company tours in the early 1960's.

The story takes place in the palace of Count Almaviva not far from Seville. The former barber of Seville is now in the service of the Count and plans to marry Susanna, chambermaid of the Countess. Figaro vows to outwit the Count when Susanna tells her fiancée of the Count's attempted flirtation with her. The plot thickens when Dr. Bartolo, the Countess' former guardian, enters with his aging housekeeper, Marcelina. She plans to sue Figaro for breach of promise or force Figaro to marry her. This plan, however, is stopped when Dr. Bartolo becomes aware that Marcelino is Figaro's unknown mother. The Countess along with Figaro and Susanna, plans to trap her husband in one of his flirtations and tells Susanna to give him a message telling him that she will meet him at a rendezvous. The Countess plans to meet him instead of Susanna. The Count falls into their trap, and seeing that he has been tricked, begs the Countess' pardon. The opera ends in rejoicing as each of the couples is happily united.

The cast of characters includes John Baird or Douglas Campbell as Count Almaviva, Gayle Sheard or Carolyn Cole as Countess Almaviva, Karen Peiler as Susanna, and Eric Berg as Figaro.

The English adaption was done by Ruth and Thomas Martin and direction of music is done by Don Wilder.

Officers Elected

The Forest Technology Society elected officers for the spring semester at their last meeting. The new president is Richard Morris, freshman from Dunbar. Randy Roberts a freshman from Sutton is the new vice-president. The treasurer is Theodore Jones, a freshman from Sissonville. Roger Vincent is the new secretary and a freshman from Harrisville. All are forestry technology majors.

Seniors Perform Finale In Fine Arts Production

Three senior speech majors will give their last GSC performances this Friday, March 13. They will perform in two one-act plays presented as part of GSC's Fine Arts Week.

John Ditlow, a senior from Harrisville, is cast in "Krapp's Last Tape." It features Krapp, an aging man, who is completely cut off from humanity. He listens to the annually recorded voice of his younger self and ponders the flow of time, the self and the problems of ever-changing identity.

William Lewis, a senior from Jane Lew, and David Lough, a senior from Parkersburg, will perform in "The Zoo Story," which deals with a futile attempt at communication between a conformist and an outsider. It demonstrates that hatred and violence are often attempt to break through the walls of loneliness.

Both "Krapp's Last Tape," and "The Zoo Story," fall into the category of Theater of the Absurd.

Directing the plays will be Mrs. Judy Curtis and Mr. David Lough.

Approval Granted For Building Loan

W. Va. Board of Regents has approved Glenville State's application to the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development. This announcement was made by President Wilburn on March 3.

The application was for a low-interest rate loan or an interest-subsidy grant. This is to be used for the building of a 300-bed men's residence hall.

If the grant is approved, it will not go into effect before July 1, 1970. Construction on the dormitory will not begin until 1971.

Dr. Wilburn also announced that the construction on the new wing to Women's Hall will begin this July. This project has been seven months in preparation.

Rehearsal of a ten-minute scene of Play Production class is shown above. David Lough, pictured, also is one of the seniors to perform in Friday night's plays, a feature of Fine Arts Week.

Vietnam: Bright Side?

It is conceivable that the war in Vietnam may turn out to be one of the brighter chapters in American history—despite atrocity stories, antiwar demonstrations and abandonment of the traditional U. S. concept of "victory". We have come a long way from the closing days of the Johnson Administration. The country survived a period in which a President was almost literally driven out of office over the issue of the war and a period when it appeared the nation was ready to accept ignominious defeat rather than pay the price of meeting the moral responsibilities of a great power.

A year ago, U. S. troops in Vietnam clung grimly to the task before them. They upheld the standard of U. S. self-respect amid shouts of get out from both home front peace marchers and the vast communist propaganda apparatus. U. S. fighting men were never placed in a more difficult position; and, in the final reckoning of history, their performance should compare favorably with the heroic achievements of the U. S. citizen-soldier on other occasions, when survival of the nation hung in the balance. Today, the signs are growing that while the U. S. is committed to a gradual withdrawal from Vietnam, the conditions of that withdrawal have been set by a determined President, who has the grass roots support of the American people. Almost unnoticed, the complexion of the war in Vietnam is changing. There are those who now find grounds for optimism. Among them is columnist Joseph Alsop, who has just completed his 18th visit to Vietnam since 1953.

On a lengthy trip through the countryside of South Vietnam, Mr. Alsop found that in district after district communist guerrilla strength had dropped to the vanishing point. The turning came with the Tet Offensive when hard-core Vietcong strength was wiped out. In one district, mentioned by Mr. Alsop, the Vietcong numbered about 800 fighting men before the offensive. In only seven weeks of 1968, it lost four successive battalion commanders and was called out of the district. Today there are about two dozen surviving guerrillas in this area. The story is similar in other sections of South Vietnam. Mr. Alsop comments: "Even in those provinces where the VC as yet retain real strength, their days are numbered, unless President Nixon is... driven to throw in the sponge." Mr. Alsop also believes the Tet Offensive of 1968 was shockingly misreported in this country. The combination of high casualties among the Vietcong and their ruthless brutality tipped the scales against the North among "... the fence-sitting masses in the cities and the countryside..." of South Vietnam.

Another observer who has become an optimist on Vietnam is Mr. Robert G. Kaiser. Writing in The Readers Digest, he, too, reports that masses of South Vietnamese citizens have turned against the Vietcong. The South Vietnamese, in a largely pacified countryside, are beginning to enjoy the fruits of the capitalistic society. South Vietnam has become a marketplace of consumer goods. Says Mr. Kaiser, "Capitalism has come to the scene of the revolution, and the revolution has suffered—at least temporarily—as a result." Still another U. S. observer, Mr. Terence Smith, is moving toward the ranks of optimist. He writes in The New York Times: "... the pendulum clearly has swung in the direction of the government during the past year. According to official American figures, 89 per cent of the South Vietnamese people were living under 'relatively secure' control of the Saigon government as of last August 31—15,400,000 of a population of 17,300,000." Mr. Smith recently went on a 400-mile drive with two others through the heart of the Mekong Delta. Unarmed and in a Volkswagen, he drove through towns, villages and hamlets. He observed men and women working in fields without visible concern for their safety.

In the view of many, this was the Vietnam war toward the end of 1969. It appears President Nixon is justified in saying: "We are on the road to peace. That road is not easy. It is not simple. But I am convinced it is the right one."

Debate Team Plans Meet

"Resolved: That the federal government should grant annually a specific percentage of its income tax revenue to state governments."

Thus reads the topic presented to the Debate Team as a year-long topic for debate. The purpose of the GSC Debate Team is to represent GSC at all intercollegiate debate tournaments throughout the area.

Members of the Debate Team, under the direction of Mr. James Murphy and Mr. Ralph Kornegay, are Mary Auden Walters, Mary Cunningham, James Balough, and Mrs. Patricia Wilmoth.

The team is sponsored by the college, and the only qualifications for the team is a desire to debate.

The first tournament to be entered by the GSC Debate Team is scheduled at Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa., on March 20 and 21, April 10, 11, and 12, the team will enter a novice tournament to be held at West Virginia University, Morgantown. A third tournament is scheduled for Jackson's Mill on April 23, 24, and 25.

The Mountaineer Debate Tournament, held at WVU, is planned to provide a good warmup for those preparing for Nationals and/or a good strong year-end tournament for varsity teams. It also provides an intermediate level of competition for average varsity and/or advanced novice debaters. Each school may enter one or two-man switch-side teams in each division. There will be eight preliminary rounds plus three or four elimination rounds, depending on the number of teams entered in the division.

The Annual Speech Festival, to be held at Jackson's Mill, is a tournament divided into six divisions: extemporaneous; one-act plays; oratory; debate; radio; and interpretation. Those who would like to try out for any of these categories should contact Mr. Murphy or Mrs. Judy Curtis.

Heart Fund Drive Is Labeled Success

The local Heart Fund Drive climaxed by Heart Sunday, Feb. 22, was a success, according to the drive chairman, Coach Robert Summers. Although all contributions to the Heart Fund from outlying areas are not in, volunteers in Glenville collected approximately $250 on Heart Sunday. Business have also donated approximately $200, and contributions are still coming in.

Several people volunteered their time to help collect donations on Heart Sunday. Volunteers working in Glenville were Russee Garrett, Larry Green, Ronald Harmon, Gregory Nicholson, Frank Marcino, Donnie Puckett, Rhonda Robinson, Mark Smith, Michael Smith, and Darla Wine-miller. Volunteers working in outlying areas were Mrs. J. J. Massie, Sand Fork; Mrs. James McCartney, Tanner; Mrs. James Hearn, Cedarville; Mrs. Damon West and Lucy West, Troy; and Mrs. B. H. Lowe, Normantown.

Coach Summers wishes to express his appreciation to those helping with the drive. He also commented that not one person refused his request to help with the drive.

Instructor Rates Audience 'Loud, Primitive, At Best'

Editor
Glenville Mercury

Dear Sir:

I had always thought that the Theater of the Absurd referred to a certain style of play, but the audience at the Faculty Talent Show convinced me that the absurdity was in the audience, not on stage. The behavior of some members of the audience was primitive, at best. There was absolutely no excuse for the constant shower of change from the stands; nor can there be any justification for the moronic comments that seemed to come from some of Glenville's theater goers. The continuous undercurrent during the performances of Mr. Bevelander and Mr. Aamot was nothing less than reprehensible. The issue is not the quality of our performances; I will be the first to admit that we were not a polished, professional group. The issue is not our selection of acts; it is very probable that some of the acts seemed out of place. The issue is simply this: do students of alleged college maturity have the respect and decency to keep their coins and comments to themselves while a show is going on? The answer is clearly, "No."

It is indeed unfortunate that a generally mature and respectful student body must be tainted by a few loud, crude and obnoxious individuals.

Bernard Stein,
Instructor in Business

Four Musicians Present Recital

On Sunday, Feb. 22, four senior music majors completed their final requirement for graduation with a degree in music. Theresa Parker, Spencer; Donald Melton, Elkview; Lynn Stotler, Richwood; and Margaret Hirst, Louisville, Ohio gave their senior recital at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

Desportes and "Apres Un Reve," by Faure-Dailey.

Miss Hirst performed on the baritone horn and her selections were: "Sarabande," and "Vivace," by Bach, "Allegro con brio," from "Sonata (Op. 2, No. 3)" by Beethoven.

Mr. Stotler presented his selections on the piano which were: "Rondeau," from "Partita II," by Bach, "Allegro con brio," from "Sonata (Op. 2, No. 3)" by Beethoven, "I Waves from Poems of the Sea" by Bloch and Lento and "Moderato quasi andante" from "Four Short Pieces for Piano" by Tgethis.

Powder Horn

By Butch Hays

The 1969-70 basketball season at Glenville State College is now History. The Blue and White gave all of us much more than we had a right to expect or even ask for. Without a starter over 6'4" they turned the WVIAC tournament into their own personal picnic by eating Cardinal, Falcon, and Eagle stew while sitting on a Hilltop. The team, student body and fans enjoyed every minute of their four day stay in the capitol city.

Winning the tournament gave the Pioneers a shot at the big show in Kansas City. But before going, they had to shoot down Morris Harvey in two out of three play off games. Big Blue was just not up to the task. They had played six games in eight days and were tired, travel worn, and almost out of gas. The Pioneers made a valiant effort to gain a one game lead in the play off at Morris Harvey but went down in overtime by three points. Back home for the first time in what seemed a century, the crew of Coach Lilly jumped out to a five point half time lead and it seemed we would all be going to Montgomery on Thursday night to send the Pioneers on their way to KC. The way it turned out, we are going to stay at home and read the results in the paper. The Pioneers ran out of gas in the last half Wednesday night against the Eagles and went down to a six point loss.

Glenville's Pioneer basketball team fought, struggled, scratched, clawed, clung to and held on when everyone else felt that all was lost. Coach Lilly and his ball team have given GSC the shot in the arm it has long needed.

Pioneerettes Lose To MU

On March 6, the Women's basketball team from Marshall University defeated the Glenville State College Women's team by a margin of 47-26.

The girls from Marshall were led in scoring by Crews and Duckwyler who chipped in with 16 and 13 points, respectively. The taller Marshall team completely dominated the boards and this was a major factor in the downfall of the Pioneerettes.

The Glenville Squad was led in scoring by Donna Newberry with 10 points and Peggy Stevens contributed with 7 points.

or even remotely involved has seen, felt and heard the apathy on Tank Hill. Apathy was given the boot with the unity and spirit provided by our champion basketball team. This writer has never seen such spirit and enthusiasm as has been displayed by our students, faculty, administration, and friends.

Glenville State College can and will reap the rewards of the 1969-70 basketball team efforts for years to come. First, the team has established a winning tradition, the desire to get to the top, not only in basketball but in every other area whether athletic or academic. Second they have given us pride. Many more people now remember those days they spent on the 'Campus neath the maples' than cared to recall those days earlier in the season. Our heads are high and there is a spring in our step that has not been there before.

Now that we have reached the top, we cannot afford to allow ourselves to become complacent and rest on our laurels. Complacency did not put us on top and basking in our present glory will not keep us on this lofty pinnacle. We cannot rest now.

So to you Coach Lilly, Coach Carney, the players, and all others too numerous to mention we say thank you from the bottom of our hearts. You have given Glenville State College more than she can ever repay. Again we say thank you.

Golf Team Is Named

Coach Tim Carney has announced the schedule for this year's Golf team. Members of the team include: Wayne Menier, Dan Wilson, Mike Rust, Charles Carpenter and John Wymer.

The Golf Team finished sixth in the conference last year and Coach Carney says, "If a few younger boys come through, we expect to finish a few notches higher this year."

Basketball Season Ends With Loss

Glenville State College's 1969-70 basketball season came to a close at home on Wednesday, March 4 with the Pioneers second loss to the Morris Harvey Golden Eagles in the NAIA District 28 play-off. Playing their sixth game in eight days, the Pioneers ran out of gas in the last half against the Eagles by a 66-60 count.

The Pioneers led by as much as nine points in the first half and enjoyed a five point half-time lead before the Eagles regrouped behind Henry Dickerson, their outstanding freshman center, to take the lead for good at 51-50 with seven minutes to go. Dickerson ended with 19 points.

Jackie Jo Robinson was top gun for the Pioneers with 22 points as the senior captain attempted to pull the game out for the Pioneers. Robinson was aided by freshman Ron Jones' 14 points.

An ankle injury to Steve Datcher, the Pioneer's fine pivotman, forced the Pioneers to move Robinson into the middle too change the Glenville offensive pattern. This change, coupled with the travel-worn condition of the G-Men, spelled defeat for the tired Lillymen.

The gym was jammed to capacity with crowd estimates ranging from 2100 to 2400. Many fans watched the game on closed circuit TV in Clark Hall after failing to find a seat in the physical education building.

Tryouts Are Scheduled

Tryouts for the GSC production of She Stoops to Conquer will be held in the Little Theatre at 4:30 p.m. on Monday, March 16. Tryouts are under the direction of Mrs. Judy Curtis.

Oliver Goldsmith's Eighteenth Century farce has a cast of four female and 13 male characters.

She Stoops to Conquer was presented at Covent Gardens in England in 1773. Oliver Goldsmith is one of the two dramatists whose plays are both read and acted today.

Those student and faculty members wishing to try out should contact Mrs. Curtis, or visit the underground theatre.

The sisters of Xi Beta Tau took an active role in campus activities.

Dean of Women Attends Meeting

Mrs. Jean S. Wright, dean of women at GSC, participated in the 79th convocation of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary society for men and women in education, held in Boston, Mass. During the three days in Boston, Mrs. Wright attended a reception and pop concert on Thursday night, a tour of Boston on Friday, and a banquet on Saturday. Friday's speakers included Dr. Asa Knowles, president of Northwestern University, and Dr. Gerald Reed, an international scholar from Kent State University. Saturday's speaker was Mr. Whitney M. Young, Jr., executive secretary of the National Urban League.

Serving a dual role, Mrs. Wright went in her original capacity as a member of the Credentials and Credits committee and also took Mr. Joe Hickman's place as Kappa Omicron chapter delegate because illness prevented him from going. There were more than 600 delegates from 292 chapters. Kappa Omicron, initiated in 1966, is the 255th chapter.

PERFORM

"Alterations of all Kinds."

They also sponsored sock hops, dances, and variety shows.

On January 5, 1959, Phyllis Keith, President of Xi Beta Tau, announced that Holy Roller Court would become a brother fraternity to them. The Holy Roller Court was Xi Beta Tau's second brother fraternity. Sigma Tau Gamma, their first, had been dissolved on campus.

The next year Xi Beta Tau and The Holy Roller Court held several activities together. These included rush parties, homecoming activities, mixes, and dances.

December of 1962 was the end of the year and also the end of Xi Beta Tau, for on the night of December 3, 1962 it was moved, seconded, and passed that Xi Beta Tau should become a national sorority - Chapter Theta Xi of Delta Zeta. Delta Zeta Sorority thus became the first national social sorority on campus.

Installation of the Theta Xi Chapter at Glenville State College was held May 18 and May 19, 1963. On May 19 a banquet was held and the guests included national officers of Delta Zeta; sisters from Fairmont, Morris Harvey, and Marshall, and Theta Xi Chapter's brother fraternity, The Holy Roller Court.

September of 1966 marked another happy occasion for Delta Zeta's at Glenville. The sorority purchased the chapter house at 305 East Main Street and the sorority members moved into their new home.

Delta Zeta Sorority traditions include the Kilarney Rose Ball, which is their annual closed dance. The sorority also sponsors mixes and dances throughout the year. Sorority activities include rush, pledge parties, house parties for members and dates, informal get-togethers and Delta Zeta Week.

Delta Zeta Sorority at Glenville State College is striving for the same high ideals of Xi Beta Tau. To promote everlasting sisterhood is the foremost goal of Delta Zeta Sorority members.
