Alumni Association Deemed Necessary

The Alumni Association of GSC is a very vital yet little known part of the campus network. Its jobs are broad in scope and utmost in importance.

The Association's major chore is the administering of donations made by alumni and friends of the college to the various scholarship programs such as the Alma Ar buckle Memorial Fund and the Peterson Memorial Fund.

In addition, donations for the federal matching fund are matched by the Association in the nine to one ratio the government has set up. In the last year, 170 donors have given a total of $20,000 for the college.

Collecting for the athletic fund and purchasing special items of equipment are also among the Association's activities. Alumni members also rely on the Association to provide them a link with the college and the college a link with its alumni.

Besides the collegiate chapter, the association also supports local and regional chapters. Chapters are located in Washington, D.C., Akron, Ohio, and Wood and Kanawha counties. Graduating seniors are given a year's membership, and dues thereafter are $2. All alumni, however, receive alumni publications including the quarterly newsletter.

The Association is directed by the Alumni Council, a body of eighteen elected members serving from two to three year terms.

The two major events sponsored by the Association are Homecoming and the Alumni Banquet. The banquet will be held this Saturday, May 16, at 6:00 p.m. in the new Cafeteria of the Pioneer Center. Special recognition will be given to the Alumni-of-the-Year Dr. William A. Shimer and Dr. L. DeWitt Moyers.

Alumni officers for this year are James White, President; Michael Ferrell, First Vice-President; Fred Wilson, Second Vice-President; and John V. White, Secretary. College director of alumni affairs is Robert K. Gainer.

Rt. Rev. Wilburn Camrock Campbell

June Baccalaureate Sermon Will Feature Rev. Campbell

The Baccalaureate speaker on June 4 will be the Rt. Rev. Wilburn Camrock Campbell, D.D., S.T.D., L.L.D. Campbell is a Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of West Virginia and is the spiritual leader of some 20,000 Episcopalians in West Virginia.

Bishop Campbell is a native of North Carolina and was consecrated a bishop on May 18, 1950. On April 9, 1955, he assumed jurisdiction over the entire Diocese of West Virginia. He represents his church on provincial, national and international levels.

Rt. Rev. Campbell graduated from Amherst College cum laude in 1932.

While in college he won six letters in baseball and soccer and was also welterweight boxing champion. He received his B.D. degree in 1935 cum laude from Bexley Hall Theological Seminary. His graduate work was done at General Theological Seminary in New York from 1934-36 and the Cincinnati Summer School of Sociology in 1934.

Bishop Campbell has served parishes on Long Island and was Dean of the Young People's Summer Conference.

In 1934 he became a national figure in the Episcopal Church when the presiding Bishop appointed him to organize and direct the Presiding Bishop's Committee on Laymen's Work. Bishop Campbell devoted much time and effort to this program.

Bishop Campbell became rector of the Church of the Ascension of Pittsburgh, in 1946. While there he founded St. Edmunds' Academy for Boys, taught on the faculty and served as Dean of the Chapel for Chatham College, and was Chaplain to the Episcopal students at the University of Pittsburgh.

Bishop Campbell, in the Diocese of West Virginia, continues to stress the ministry of the laity. He created the West Virginia School of Religion, a three year course, to train lay people in the church. He served as Trustees of the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Virginia and the Episcopal High School of Virginia and Morris Harvey College. In 1958, he launched his "Sword of the Spirit" movement for spiritual reawakening of the laity.

An Eagle Scout, he served two terms as President of the Buckskin Council of the Boy Scouts of America and is now a member of Region IV Council. He served as Chairman of the Mayor's Committee for the building of the Charleston Civic Center, and is still a member of the Executive Board of the Civic Center, being chairman for two years. In 1968 Bishop Campbell was chosen as "Man of the Year" for West Virginia by the Charleston Gazette-Mail.

Sigma Sigma Sorority placed first in the eighth annual Mother's Day Sing. This is the second year for this sorority to place first.

Behind America!

Protecting our soldiers in Viet Nam, by sending troops into Cambodia, has caused a week of violence in colleges across the nation. Perhaps we as students, and the future leaders of our country, should look into the reasons behind President Nixon's decision and how it has and will affect our country.

The 21 miles within the Cambodian border have served for several years as a storehouse for the North Vietnamese. Within this area the Viet Cong have a supply area of weapons, ammunition, food, and other war supplies. Also from this area the Viet Cong are able to shoot missiles into South Viet Nam, killing our soldiers. The American and Vietnamese troops are unable to stop them because they cannot reach the Viet Cong camp which lies across the Cambodian Border. This situation is similar to that in Korea and the no-fighting zone. In both situations our forces suffered greatly in lives and supplies. By demobilizing these 21 miles within Cambodia, President Nixon hopes to shorten the war in Viet Nam.

We feel quite sure that our men in Viet Nam are not demonstrating because of our entering Cambodia. At least now they have a fighting chance to stop and eliminate the enemy instead of standing by and watching their fellow soldiers and supplies which are vitally important to a final victory in South East Asia, being blown to bits.

People are now giving deep thought to the crises that have taken place in the past week. The general response on many college campuses has resulted in nothing but tragedy; inconvenience for not only the victimized administration, but for the innocent students who feel they are there to truly defend their beliefs and rights. They are the real victims of student leaders and outside propagandists who are often taking revenge against the administration are personal enemies for self satisfaction.

Student unrest is not a new thing to any nation, but the destruction and disunity that it causes is always a very distinct blow to anyone. Burning ROTC buildings, Maltov Cocktails, and violent rioting will get students nowhere. If they feel they must protest, then we, as many others, would suggest a more intelligent and perhaps more convincing approach.

It may be thought that we are taking a defeatist attitude. The attitude that we are taking is one of concern for our fellow students and countrymen. We feel that no accomplishments are made when students and officials are wounded and are dying when colleges are closed, national guardsmen called out, and the semester is halted and becomes a total waste. It is those students who achieve this at their college who are the radicals that cannot see beyond their own opinions.

We have protested Viet Nam, Civil Rights, now the slaying of four Kent State students and now Cambodia. We are in Viet Nam and we are in Cambodia; Civil Rights came about through Congressional Acts (that do not and cannot change a personal belief) and the Kent State students are now dead along with National Guardsmen.

The Viet Nam and Cambodia crises are far more intricate and complex than any layman can estimate. China must surely be reveling over the disunity in the United States. They know that American disunity only helps their Communistic purpose and defeats our democratic ideals. Why can't we get behind our American ideals and young men who are giving their lives everyday to stop communism. Have we become too brainwashed by those who find only wrong with our nation and no adherent good? Have we all stooped so low that we have forgotten the old adage, "United we stand, Divided we fall?"

Will America Continue?

To The Editor:

I was just sitting here smoking my corn cob pipe drinking Hawaiian Punch, and listening to some Fats Domino records when I decided to start thinking about what we had done yesterday. (By we I mean the pinko commie left-wing degenerate faction of expatriated impudent snobs on campus, you know that bunch of hippies, and by what we did yesterday, I mean the candlelight ceremony in memory of the four Kent State University students who were killed, yes, folks, with real bullets.) Well, when I started thinking about what we had done, the local radio station WGSF aired its second program on what seemed for all the world like the controversy of the season. One guy there on the radio, which is also the TV, was reciting a lot of facts, most of them obscure, and trying real hard to play ball on both teams, while the rest of the guys were conducting their own investigation of the incident.

Well, all I know is that David Brinkley said the students who were killed were not revolutionaries, not in favor of violence, and certainly not deserving what they got. According to Mr. Brinkley, who is on the TV, which is also the radio, one of the guys was a basketball player and honor student and the girls were both quiet, gentle, non-revolutionary types who were only real cool and not really set on burning down any thing.

What they were doing near the National Guard, I do not, like the gentlemen on the radio last Wednesday night, profess to know, nor do I care. What I do know is that they were killed, and as an American citizen, I deeply resent people telling anyone who can be murdered and who can not. The people who say "They deserved what they got for throwin' stuff at the National Guard" are branded with an impudence far greater than mine. They were the ones who laughed when Dr. King and Bobby Kennedy were shot. It's a good thing they weren't around when Lincoln got it, they would probably have laughed so hard they couldn't get their softball mitts on. Now, I'm not saying that these kids were really Lincoln, Jesus, and John Lennon in disguise. But to a real scary portion of our country, death and justice are synonyms, and a human life is about as valuable as the time it takes to gun somebody down on a TV Western.

The guys who are yelling at us should realize that the people who want to burn the whole country down aren't any worse than the people (Wallace, Agnew) who would have everyone who spoke out against the government killed, and that the right to dissent isn't something that somebody scribbled on a men's room wall somewhere, but a precious right that is guaranteed by the Constitution. Dissent doesn't necessarily mean burning down the landscape, but it doesn't mean death either.

Well, after I was finished thinking about all that stuff, I re-lit my corn cob pipe and poured some more Hawaiian Punch and sat back and started to think about my grandchildren. I don't have any yet, of course, but I'd like to see some day. I wonder if there will be an America for them to grow up in. I doubt it.

The week will be kicked off with a clean-up campaign on the Little Kanawha. All Greeks are to meet at the Kanawha Union Bank Parking Lot at 9 a.m., Saturday. They will canvas the area for rubbish and trash.

Three parties will be held 18, 19 and 21. TKE and Delta Zeta sponsor the party Monday night, ASA and TX Tuesday, and Lambda Chi Alpha and Tri-Sigmas Thursday.

Friday afternoon there will be a Field Day at Cedar Creek Park. An assortment of races and relays will be held. There will be an awarding of two trophies. One to the fraternity and sorority who amasses the greatest number of points during Greek Week activities.

Culminating the week will be a picnic followed by a dance on Saturday, May 23. It will be highlighted by the crowning of the Greek god and goddess, who will be elected by monetary vote in the Student Union. The plaque will be a rotating award.

The picnic and dance are to be sponsored by Summer's Pharmacy, Daltons, Minnich's Florist, Glenville Texaco and Motor Sales, Collins Insurance, and Glenville Superette. These merchants are donating approximately $180 for the party.

During Greek Week the fraternities and sororities will have a display in the Student Congress bulletin board in the stairway of the Pioneer Center. The organizations will display their Greek colors, their pin and their pertinent information.

Trip Planned For Students

Lynetta Martin, Sue Bumgarner, and Larry Richardson will be studying at the Institute for American Universities in Aix-en-Provence, France.

The three will be given a year's credit at GSC for their year of study in France. This is the first time students at Glenville State have studied abroad. It is an opportunity for students at Glenville to study abroad in the future. For French students studying at the Institute, this is an opportunity to study French culture first hand.

The Institute for American Universities is chartered by the Board of Regents of New York University and operates under the French law of July 12, 1875. "It is not a part of but is under the auspices of the University of Aix-Marseille, a state university in France founded in 1409," according to a bulletin from the Institute.

A limited number of mobile homes are available for summer occupancy by married students. Rental requests may be made to Mr. Robert Gainer, Room 102 of the Pioneer Center.

Rental applications for the fall term are now being accepted although availability is extremely limited.

Le Cercle Francais Has Constitution Approved

Le Cercle Francais has become an official organization on the Glenville State College campus. Its constitution was accepted by the Student Government.

Several members of the organization presented a French play in French to French students at Gilmer County High School on May 9. It may be presented at other schools in the surrounding area.

The organization is planning its trip to Canada following the close of school. This will be an opportunity for the students to study French culture in Canada.

Richardson Places Second In Tourney

On Saturday and Sunday, May 2-3, 1970, the Charleston Open Chess Tournament was held at Riggelman Hall on the Morris Harvey College campus.

Thirty-four players attended the tournament which is rated by the United States Chess Federation.

The five rounds consisted of five points each. One point is scored for a win and one-half point for a draw. John Edwin Richardson from Glenville State finished second in the overall averages and won the senior division (over 21) trophy. He attained four points out of five with three wins and two draws.

The W.Va. Intercollegiate Chess Tournament was held April 18, 1970, at Riggelman Hall at Morris Harvey. Marshall University placed first, Morris Harvey second, and GSC third.

Other players from GSC and their scores are Michael Richardson, 3 pts.; Donald Cuppett, 3 pts.; Jim Carez, 2 pts.; Jim Duellley, 2 pts.; Dan Ward, 2 pts.; and Quentin Steward, 1 pt.

Salem Wins Two Contests

Freshman Bill Rice hurled a neat two hitter at the Salem Tigers but three errors by the Pioneers proved costly as Salem walked off with a 2-0 victory at Clarksburg on Monday, May 4.

The Pioneers outthit the Tigers but they were at inopportune times. Haggins of Salem fired through the Pioneers for fourteen strikeouts.

On Tuesday, May 5 at Glenville the Pioneers lost again to Salem by a score of 7-4. The Pioneers had a 4-2 lead midway through the contest but a throwing error by the pitcher and one by the shortstop opened the gate for three unearned runs for the Tigers.

Jim Settle had a homerun and a single to lead the Glenville attack. Dick Werry, Dan Wesner, Jim Garnett and Scotty Hamilton each had a hit for the Pioneers.

Pioneer Nine Splits Doublet

Senior Mick Goodwin, pitching in his last game for the Pioneers, tossed a one hitter as the Pioneers defeated Davis & Elkins in the opening game of a double-header 5-2. The only hit that the Senators could manage off the crafty southpaw was a single in the sixth inning.

The Pioneers jumped off to a quick start by scoring two runs in the first inning and added two more in the second inning to all but wrap up the victory as Goodwin held the Senators at bay the remainder of the contest.

The Pioneers only mustered three hits as Dick Werry, Pee Wee Lacey, and Goodwin each stroked singles.

The nightcap was a nightmare as the Pioneers lost 5-4 in extra innings. The winning run came via the walk route as Mike Wentzel gave up a free pass with the bases loaded to deprive the Pioneers of a much needed victory. Jim Garnett led the Pioneers at the plate with what seemed to be a homerun but the scorekeeper ruled it a double.

Glenville jumped off to an early 2-1 lead but errors again proved the downfall for the Pioneers as they had three errors to assist the Senators in their scoring.

Mrs. Hutchinson of the Census Department reports that 100 per cent response was recorded among students at Glenville State. Mrs. Rollins, campus enumerator, was quite pleased with the results and wished to thank all those who co-operated with her and helped with the census report.

Powder Horn

By Butch Hays

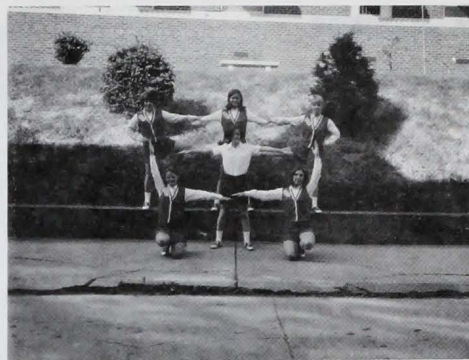

On May 23, a very unusual athletic event will take place at Stadium Field in Parkersburg. It's springtime and immediately you think of baseball or track and since the Parkersburg arena is not designed for baseball, then it must be track. The contestants in this track meet are quite exceptional themselves for this track and field contest is the West Virginia State Special Olympics for the Mentally Handicapped. The meet is open to both boys and girls who will be striving to win a trip to Chicago in August for the National Special Olympics.

Nothing can compare with the thrill of winning in competition and for some unknown reason, the thrill and exhilaration is even greater for these exceptional children than it is for our "normal" high school and college athletes. Competition is an integral part of living in the United States and many of us thrive on this part of life which instills the desire to win and get ahead in all of us. The children who will vie against others like themselves at Parkersburg will find the joys of winning and the sadness of losing. The benefits these young athletes will derive from the events of May 23 will be many but not nearly as self rewarding as the satisfaction of the patient people who have taught and instructed the competitors for the past year in preparation for this event.

Eight events will be held including girls and boys 50 yard dash, standing broadjump, 300 yard run, and softball throw. You may be surprised at the skill and speed of some of these kids. If at all possible, this writer would like to recommend that you attend, watch and enjoy an unforgettable afternoon with some of the most beautiful people on this battered planet.

Our hats are off to the Parkersburg area Jaycees for sponsoring and conducting this most worthy event.

CAP & BALL DEPT: Coach Hanlin has 28 recruits lined up to enroll at GSC next fall. Spring football camp is in full swing as the Pioneer Coaches get an idea of what to expect next fall. Going back to recruitment, Coaches Lilly and Carney haven't done too badly in this department. Fairmont's Joe Retton did sneak through the back door to grab one basketballer the Pioneer mentors wanted badly.

The new cheerleaders for next year: kneeling, Candice Cass, and Linda Fox; center, Linda Meek, alternate; standing on the curb, Linda Felton, Rebecca Law, and Patricia Claymon.

Coach Hanlin has also announced the signing of Bill Steorts of St. Albans High School in Charleston. Steorts is a 215 pound 6'1" tackle.

Coach Hanlin says Steorts is a fine student and an excellent football prospect. Coach Hanlin says he is happy that he will attend Glenville State.

Miss Meek, a freshman physical education major, has been chosen as alternate cheerleader. She is 5'3" tall, has red hair and green eyes.

These girls were chosen on their cheering ability, neatness and poise. Several members of the faculty as well as the Student Senate helped select these girls to cheer.

The tournament started on Tuesday, April 28 with Theta Xi's defeating TKE by a score of 6-2. On the same day, Lambda Chi defeated Theta Xi by a 3-2 score. On Wednesday, April 29, Theta Xi eliminated the Tekes from the tournament with a 4-3 victory. On Thursday, April 30, Theta Xi defeated Lambda Chi 3-2 to even up their series at one loss apiece. Pee Wee Lacey won the game with a home run in the last inning. In the rubbles match Theta Xi won by a score of 2-1. Don Puckett was the batting star as his two run home run in the last inning won the game for the Camden Flat residents.

Glenville Blasts A-B For 'No. 5'

The Pioneers blasted Alderson-Broadus College by a score of 16-2 to record their fifth victory of the season.

Dave Barnes started for the Pioneers. He did a credible job and was relieved by Ralph Cook in the fifth inning.

The Pioneers had their best day of the year at the plate as the Pioneer batmen blasted the AB hurlers consistently. Ralph Cook had a three run homerun to pace the attack. Jim Settle had four hits, Dick Werry two, Pee Wee Lacey two, and Don Swisher had a triple. The Pioneers struck fast and hard and were never headed throughout the contest.

Triumphant bowling team is shown with their trophies. They are Ron Sams, Wally Kesling, Al Malone, Lynn Dawson, and Steve Poling.

Mrs. Stoneking, Mr. Roush Retire

Mr. Walden Roush, first director of the Community Development and Research Center will soon be retiring after eight yrs. of service. Mr. Roush isn't eager to retire as he has enjoyed his work with the community and his association with the student body. He said of the students, "They're one of the finest student bodies anywhere. They're a dedicated body of young people." He said he'll miss working with the communities in Central W.Va. but "we'll probably be in Glenville until this fall, around Sept. 1st."

His plans after retirement are to devote much time to promoting the development of handicrafts in W.Va. He and his wife have taught lapidary classes at Cedar Lakes, usually two a year. Now he'll probably teach six or eight classes he feels. Also, just recently he was elected President of the Artist's and Craftsmen's Guild.

Also retiring after twenty-five years is Mrs. Stoneking, a cook. Mrs. Stoneking was born at Alburn at Ritchie County. She likes GSC but she said of her job, "it's a lot of hard work." After retirement she will be moving to Parkersburg to be with her children.

One of the phenomenal groups of the decade, Franki Valli and the Four Seasons, will appear Friday, May 15, at the Charleston Civic Center, starting at 8:30 p.m.

The Four Seasons are now more popular than they ever were. The reason for this steady success is perhaps the fact that they appeal to no particular type of audience. In general, they are sticklers for perfection, which is an absolute necessity when presenting a concert as professionals.

Tickets are priced at $5.00 and $4.00 and are on sale at the Civic Center, Galperins, Turners, Sears, Gorbys, AAA Club in Kanawha City and Kay Jewelers in Huntington. For reservations, call 344-2451. Mail orders can be obtained by writing National Shows Inc., c/o The Civic Center, Reynolds Street, Charleston, W.Va. # Geology 301 Class Attends Field Trip

The Geology 301 class attended an all day field trip to the Parkersburg area on Tuesday, May 5, 1970. The field trip was planned and conducted by Mr. Thomas Arkle of the U.S. Geological Survey at Morgantown, after consultation with Mr. Ralph Bame, instructor.

Of special geological interest in this area is the Burning Springs Anticline. The crest of the anticline extends from near Eureka, southward through Burning Springs. It is exposed on Rt. 50 between Deerwalk and Nutter Farm and on Rt. 47 just east of Cisco.

In the anticline near Cisco can be found the major flint bed used by the Indians in Central West Virginia. Also there is limestone, shales, coals, and sandstones exposed. One exposed sandstone is saturated with crude oil. In this rock was drilled the first oil producing well in the United States, however, the well was originally drilled for brine.

Mr. Arkle pointed out that West Virginia probably has more mineral resources per square mile than any other state in the Union.

Association of Women Students Inaugurated on GSC Campus

Marlene Parsons and Gail Bailey recently attended a Regional Convention on the campus of Western Michigan at Kalamazoo, Mich. The convention was held April 24-28.

This meeting completed the requirements for the WOGS to become the Association of Women Students. AWS is affiliated with Inner-Collegiate Association of Women Students, a nationally recognized organization.

On the agenda for the convention were several speakers, workshops, and discussion groups.

Those speaking were Miss Mary Manning, Mid-Western Regional Director of Women's Bureau of U.S. Dept. of Labor, on "Importance of Women's Equality in Employment;" Dr. James R. Weeks, pharmacologist for Upjohn Company, "Drugs Abuse; Their Nature and Effects;" and Dr. Ruth Ussem, anthropologist who is a professor of Education at MSU.

ADE Chooses Officers, Plans Park Picnic

The Alpha Delta Epsilon Business Fraternity met on Wednesday, May 6, to elect new officers for the coming year. Those elected are: President, Marvin Morris; Vice-President, Jerry Robinson. Recording Secretary, Kathy Harper; Corresponding Secretary, Martha McClung; Treasurer, Hope Sampson; Sergeant at Arms, Doug Beymer; and Historian, Debby Hartley.

These officers will be installed at the annual picnic which will be held Thursday, May 14, at Cedar Creek Park. Also, Alpha Delta Epsilon voted to donate $350 toward a business workshop fund here at GSC which will be matched 4 to 1 by government funds. This workshop is granted to eligible business majors.

The purposes of IAWS on the GSC campus are to regulate some matters pertaining to the conduct of GSC woman students; to serve as a medium to maintain the standards and ideals of the college; and to stimulate the development of democracy and good citizenship.

One of the most important accomplishments of IAWS on this campus (when it was WOGS) was that of making the listening board official.

WOGS became IAWS because it was felt that they had much to share with other colleges concerning the establishment of new judiciary boards and the revising of rules.

Every woman student, when regularly enrolled at Glenville State College, automatically becomes a member of IAWS. (This comes under Article III of the constitution in the Student Handbook.)

Therefore, as members of IAWS, all women students are obligated to pay annual dues of $2.00 or ($1.00 a semester). For under section two of Article IV, the treasurer of the organization is required to collect this fee.

IAWS is the one channel that college women may use on this campus to voice their opinion and, therefore, experience better democracy. Due to lack of interest, the organization is carried on by a small minority. It is up to the women of GSC to determine whether or not Glenville's IAWS is truly democratic or not.

Ice Cream Social Slated Tomorrow

An Ice Cream Social will be an event of Thursday, May 14, according to Ken Davis, president of Inter-Residence Council.

Ice cream freezers are needed desperately. Anyone knowing of available freezers, contact Dean Wright or Ken Davis.

Today's Mercury Cites 'Unlucky 13'

Those who tend to associate the number "13" with unexplained calamity now have additional, strong "evidence" to back up their superstitious convictions. The American space-ship Apollo 13, which included the 13th crew member to orbit the moon, began to disintegrate at exactly 10:11 p.m., EST, on the 13th of April. Surely this should give pause to the skeptics!

But if "13" turned out to be unlucky, certainly Friday (the 17th) was the "lucky day" for the astronauts Jim Lovell, Fred Haise and John Swigert when they plunked down to a perfect landing in the South Pacific ocean. Even the threatened thunder storms were wafted away as if by magic.

Nobody seems to know how or where the number 13, or Friday the 13th, became jinxed in folklore, or how long the superstition has been with us. But jinxed it has been, as any traveling salesman can testify. How many hotels can you find in the United States with a 13th floor?

Our well-worn dictionary doesn't tell us much. There is no mention about the bad reputation of the number thirteen; we are informed (very matter-of-factly, it seemed to us) that thirteen "is a cardinal number: 10 plus 3; X'II." Nor does Old Faithful do much better with the word Friday, which is described simply (real cool) as "the sixth day of the week."

Of course, we know that our rational and intelligent readers are never superstitious. Nobody really believes in their "lucky day," or the lucky pen that was used when an "A" came up in a tough school examination, or the bad luck which follows going under a ladder, breaking a mirror, or walking across the trail of a black cat.

Nevertheless, it probably would have done no harm at all if the three astronauts had taken just a minute to time to throw a pinch of salt over the left shoulder. A rabbit's foot probably would have been handy; and a good-fortune charm, if one is lucky enough to possess one, should never be winked at.

Contestants include: Miss Alkire, Miss Boucher, Miss Craddock, Miss Cummings, Miss Fox, Miss Lathey, Miss McConihay, Miss Morrison, and Miss Smith.

Hale Enters Golf Tourny

Sue Ann Hale, senior at Glenville State College, will be entering the 38th Annual West Virginia Women's State Amateur Golf Tournament this coming summer. The tournament will be held in Charleston.

This will not be the first tournament for the blond, blue-eyed Miss Hale. She entered and won four Jaycee tournaments in Parkersburg while attending high school. Also for the last four years, Miss Hale has been ranked among the top five golfers in the State.

One of the greatest thrills of Miss Hale's life came in 1968 when she placed third in the 36th Annual West Virginia Women's Amateur which was held at the Clarksburg Country Club. At this particular tournament, Miss Hale qualified to play against the top two women golfers in the state at that time. They were Christine McCusky, and more importantly Nancy Stump, who held the State Women's Championship. These feats are quite admirable for a young lady who has never had any formal training in this particular sport.

Sue Hale has her own theory about what a woman golfer should be. Says the perky Miss Hale, "I like to see women be women on a golf course." True to her philosophy, Miss Hale remains entirely feminine both on and off the golf course. She represents Worthington Country Club of Parkersburg.

She is presently doing her student teaching in Ripley. She has signed a contract beginning next fall with Wood County, as head of the Physical Education Department at Parkersburg South High School.

Miss Hale will be practicing for the tournament in Glenville this summer while attending summer school.

Literary Society officers include: Susan Coleman, sec.-treas.; Jayne Beer, v-pres.; Keith Boyles, president and Cofer Walls, reporter.
