Fun and festivity will be the accent. Prizes will be given for the most original girl and boy costume, ugliest girl and boy costume, and prettiest girl and boy costumes. Judges will be instructors from the art department.

There will be three cake walks, a cake guess, a bean guess, fortune telling, a spook house and a taffy pull.

For the boys there will be a kissing booth featuring Linda Bennett, Mary Joseph, Deneen Schillig and Mona Wilson.

Free refreshments of cider and donuts will be available. Candy apples will be on sale for 15 cents.

The party will observe the girl-scout-boy tradition.

Procedure Change Released By Office

A new semester plan will be in effect for Glenville State for the 1971-72 school year; according to Dr. Delmer K. Somerville, the Dean of the College.

The first semester will open on Aug. 23 for freshmen with classes beginning Wednesday, Aug. 25, 1971. First semester will end on Friday, Dec. 17.

The second semester in the 1971-72 year will begin Monday, Jan. 10, 1972, and extend to Saturday, May 13.

Features of this new system include a 24-day Christmas vacation-semester break combination and a one week spring vacation extending from March 24 to April 3, 1972.

In addition, final examinations will be given five days instead of four, lessening the chance of a pile-up of tests on one day.

Dr. Somerville noted that this plan is now being used at West Virginia University, West Virginia Tech, Fairmont State, and Morris Harvey. It allows for extensive vacationing in the winter and as early dismissal so that students will have a better chance at finding summer jobs.

37th Homecoming Termed Successful

Although now only history, the 37th Glenville State College Homecoming Festivities provided an exciting insert into the college year. Editor's Note: According to the Mercury, it was the 39th Homecoming but we erred in our calculations since Homecoming was not observed two years during the war.

Festivities got under way Friday evening Oct. 17, at Gilmer County High School with a pep rally and bonfire combination.

Saturday morning saw a successful street parade which began around 10:00 a.m. There were 36 units, bands or floats which participated. The theme for the parade was "An Old Fashioned Homecoming."

Float entries were judged on the basis of theme appropriateness, originality and beauty. Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity took first place award in the judging, with the Forest Technology Society placing second and Delta Zeta Sorority holding down third place.

The "Special Award" went to the Council for Exceptional Children. This award was given to the best float by an organization not completely affiliated with the college.

The Glenville Midland Company was the recipient of the rotating plaque given to the winner of the best window display. This was judged by representatives of the Student Congress. The window was decorated in blue and white clothing and pictures depicting Homecoming. The Alumni Association is responsible for this phase of the Homecoming festivities.

Every organization which participated is to be commended for their fine work and original construction of the biggest and best units to date.

The Queen's coronation was held at 11:15 a.m. in the college amphitheatre. Professor John B. Spears served as Master of Ceremonies.

At 12:30 p.m. Saturday, a pregame show was presented by Gilmer County High School. Clay County High School also performed under the direction of alumni Charles Nichols.

The Glenville State College Pioneers suffered their second loss of the season and their first in conference play to the Bluefield State College Big Blues, 28-12.

An Alumni Reception was held from approximately 4:30-9:00 p.m. in the Multi-Purpose Room of the Pioneer Center. This year was the first year for such which replaced the dinner previously held. The reception provided alumni and friends a place to meet and relax between the day's activities.

Approximately 150 people attended the affair which was termed successful. Members of the Alumni Council served as hosts and hostesses.

Mr. Gainer, Alumni Director, stated that the Alumni Reception will be a new event to be continued in the years to follow.

The evening was capped off by the Homecoming Dance held from 9-12 p.m. Music was provided by the "Great Pacific Express" of Charleston. The dance was held in the Ballroom of the Pioneer Center. Approximately 250 people attended the gala affair.

Next year will be the Centennial for Glenville State College. Mr. Gainer of the Alumni Office has set Oct. 23, 1971 as the date for Homecoming 1971. With the help of the Student Government, this should be the biggest and best GSC Homecoming.

All people and organizations responsible for the 37th annual Homecoming of Glenville State College are to be praised and commended on a job well done.

Dedicated Staffer Receives Praises

"What are we going to do without Sharon?" Sound familiar? Of course, if you've ever worked in the Mercury office you know what I mean.

Sharon Dutton has been a most loyal member of our staff since she entered Glenville State in 1966. Editor, news editor, IBM operator have been her official titles but her efforts have gone far beyond what her checks have covered. Miss Dutton knows more about the office than anyone on the staff. She can tell you where to find anything from a coffee cup to a dummy sheet and she knows how to do anything from sending out press releases to the actual paste-up of the paper. She has taught more non-journalism students the ropes than she probably cares to count. And, above all, she always keeps everybody busy. Just when you think it is time for you to loaf, Sharon can find something to keep your idle hands occupied!

She never loafs, either. She does the little jobs so well and so regularly that many don't even know when they are done.

Truly, I don't know what we will do without Sharon when she leaves for her student teaching next month. She is an asset that will sorely be missed.

'Miss Julie' Rated 'Poor'

by Ella Will

I felt Miss Julie should be rated as 'poor.' First of all, the characterizations were very weak. Perhaps, this was due to the limited time given to developing each character, as well as the fact that the emotions involved were far too mature to be correctly expressed by college students.

Miss Julie's last speech, which was given before her suicide, was her best moment. However, she did not reflect a disoriented mind. As a speech student, I feel that her portrayal could have been improved if she had increased her vocal volume, not looked down while speaking, and stopped fidgeting with her dress.

Jean's speeches lacked vocal variety and his characterizations was not believable. He changed moods without making a significant change in his voice and, as a result, lost the audience.

Kristin was portrayed comically rather than seriously as Mr. Strindberg had planned. I actually thought the character was used as a dramatic pause until informed to the contrary by Mrs. Curtis.

The totally bright moment in the production was offered by the young couple. They were excellent.

Education Meeting Held In Clark Hall

The Council for Exceptional Children met Oct. 7 in Clark Hall. Freshman and special education minors were invited to attend.

The Charter CEC became a new organization on campus during the previous school term. Past activities of the chapter included lectures by guest speakers and field trips to Marshall University and to Colin Anderson Center in St. Marys. Three representatives, Mrs. Rosemary Elswick, Mr. Nicholas Radeka, and Mr. Robert Hays, also attended the national convention held in Chicago last spring.

The purpose of the CEC is to gain social acceptance for the child who has some exceptionalities. This includes those who have any type of handicap, physical as well as mental.

Jane Turner Is Elected New MENC President

New officers of MENC (Music Educators National Conference) have been elected. President is Jane Turner, junior music major from Sandyville; vice president, Jack Riddle is a junior music major from Chicago. Secretary Cathy Rader is a sophomore oboe major from Parkersburg. Treasurer is Patricia Stanley, sophomore voice major from Beckley, and reporter is Frances Spiker, sophomore piano major from Parkersburg.

Freshman initiation was held on Sept. 27. MENC gave a party for members of the choir and band on Sept. 25 at Arbuckle Park.

Committees have been appointed to plan the float for Homecoming. Plans were also made for members to attend the state MENC convention at Wheeling next spring.

This evening at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium the Student Congress will present The Committee, a filmed collection of improvisational sketches commenting on every contemporary controversy. There will be a required donation of fifty cents.

"The Pioneer Express," constructed by the members of Delta Zeta sorority placed third in the float competition.

rectors, Benny Linn and Lynn Dawson, both seniors from Buchannon; and weather director, Marilyn Nichols.

There are still a few positions open to dedicated interested people who would like to donate their time. Those interested should contact any of the directors.

WGSC Radio plans to broadcast all football and basketball games this year.

Departments within the school are encouraged to offer programming but none have begun this as yet.

'New Negro Poets' Discussion Is Set

The Literary Society will meet Sunday, Oct. 25, in old Louis Bennett Lounge to discuss New Negro Poets: U.S.A., edited by Langston Hughes. The work should be of special interest to young readers because, according to the foreword by Gwendolyn Brooks, the poets show evidences of double dedication. Poets, who happen to also be Negroes, are twice tried since they have to write poetry, while, at the same time, remembering they are Negroes. Every Negro poet, being a Negro, cannot escape having something important to say. This interesting and unique book is divided into five parts: lyrical, protest, personal and general descriptions, and personal reflective statements.

Discussion will be led by Keith Boyles, Jayne Beer, Cofer Walls, and Susan Coleman and Frank Pfaff. Refreshments will also be served by Mrs. Coleman.

HOME EC. SORORITY TO BEGIN PLEDGING

Phi Delta Phi, home-economics sorority, held a business meeting to plan for a bake sale and approaching pledging. The bake sale was held on October 8, in the penthouse of Women's Hall. All home-economics majors interested in Phi Delta Phi should see Mrs. Adkins or any sorority member.

Senior photographs for the 1970-71 yearbook will be taken Oct. 26, 27, 28, and 29 from 8:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. in the Multi-Purpose Room of Pioneer Center. A $2 sitting fee will be required. Pictures will be taken alphabetically. Check bulletin boards for the date photographs will be taken.

On Oct. 26, 1970, from 3-5 p.m. in the Wesley Foundation Lounge, Mr. Donald Webb, from the Methodist Theological School in Ohio, will hold an informal discussion on present trends in theological education. The discussion will be concerned with the impact of social problems on our times and how theological education will be changed by these problems. Anyone interested may attend.

Down On The Corner

The agony of defeat...

Well, the magic of the Pioneers ended Saturday as they tasted the bitterness of defeat. History repeated itself here Saturday as the Homecoming villains were Bluefield State College. In 1968 the Pioneers were undefeated and ranked high in the NAIA, Bluefield came to town and before a large Homecoming crowd defeated the Pioneers, 17-14. Now we know that lightning can strike twice in the same place as we were once again ranked in the NAIA (15th as of last week). We were also the conference's top ranked team, and it was again Homecoming. Well let's forget Bluefield and get behind the team as they begin preparation for West Liberty.

Drills begin...

Coach Lilly's basketball team started their drills here last week as they are preparing themselves for WVIAC competition. Returning regulars are Dave Barnes, Steve Datcher, Jim Garnett, Ron Jones, and Dale Tawney. Jim Spicer is also back again and he saw considerable action last season. The assistant coach this year is once again Timothy Carney. The Pioneers are reigning as last year's tournament champions, and we feel that they are capable of a repeat.

Our Pioneers are no longer the top ranked team in the WVIAC but they are still number one with us. The Pioneers are however, still very much in contention for the conference title. The teams that will have a hand in the conference race are Glenville, West Liberty, and Bluefield. Bluefield has one loss, West Liberty has one tie, and the Pioneers have one loss. If the Pioneers and Bluefield were to win their remaining games, it would leave them both with only one loss in conference action. However, if the Pioneers defeat West Liberty it would knock West Liberty out of the picture with one defeat and one tie. With identical records the Pioneers would probably edge the Big Blues for the title, because of the rating points. Let's face it, the Pioneers play a much tougher schedule than that of Bluefield State. Of course for all of this to materialize, the Glenville squad will have to defeat West Liberty, W.Va. State, and Concord. I am making my first public prediction of the year, and I forecast the Pioneers to win the conference title.

Up Around the Bend...

Well we have seen the mighty Falcons fall again. Fairmont was defeated by Morehead State College Saturday night for their fourth consecutive defeat. It appears that the Falcon dynasty has been halted. However, do not feel sorry for them... they will be back. The four defeats have been at the hands of very good teams. They have lost to the Quantico Marines, Glenville Pioneers, Salem Tigers, and now Morehead. If you care to check you will find that this is fair-to-middlin' competition.

Salem won again in a hard fought game with W.Va. Wesleyan. The only blemish on the Tiger's record is their loss to Glenville and a tie with league leading West Liberty.

Mars Hill defeated the NAIA's 5th ranked team, Georgetown, Saturday.

There were a lot of surprised faces here Saturday when they heard the final score of the West Virginia University-Pitt Game. It must have been very exciting. All these outside games have been brought in to show that in football, anything can happen. So do not get down on your Pioneers because of their loss. Encourage them and when they win the conference you will already be on the bandwagon. It is very easy to back a winner. Let's see what kind of spirit you show when your team is a step behind.

Note from Glenville Pioneers to West Liberty Hilltoppers: 'Ain't no mountain high enough!'

Pioneers Meet WL In Important Game

The Glenville Pioneers travel to West Liberty Saturday in a game that could decide the conference championship. West Liberty, in their most recent outing, defeated Shepherd 30-7. The Hilltoppers are led by the passing and generalship of quarterback Jerry Fato. Fato teams up with split end Jim Borst to give the Hilltoppers a potent passing game. Fato, last year, connected on two bombs to give West Liberty the win over Glenville 14-7. Fato is one of the conference's all time leaders in total offense.

Defensively the West Liberty squad is led by middle guard Tom Priest. If you would like to see what could very well be the conference championship game, travel to West Liberty on Saturday!

Red Devils - TKE II Are Volleyball Leaders

Coach Timothy Carney, head of men's intramurals, released the win-loss record of the competing teams up until Oct. 12, 1970.

The standings are as follows:

Flight I	W	L
Red Devils	4	0
Animals	3	1
Ripple 95	2	1
Veterans	2	1
XA I	2	2
Faculty I	1	3
Dirty Eleven	1	3

Faculty - Staff Bowling League Begins Season

This year the Faculty and Staff Bowling teams start the seasons with these scores. High games: Jim Boggs, 187; Larry Lamb, 181; Bantz Collins, 178. High game with handicap: Larry Lamb, 219; Pat Mikuta, 199; John Nelson, 198. High Series: Jim Boggs, 505; Bantz Collins, 495; Rosalie Turner, 483. High Series with handicap: Gary Kight, 548; Pat Mikuta, 545; Larry Lamb, 543.

High Average men: Jim Boggs, 168; Bantz Collins, 165; William Morrow, 157. High Average women: Rosalie Turner, 161; Elsie Kirkpatrick, 145; Pat Mikuta, 129.

Presentation of the Montrose Award made by Dr. D. Banks Wilburn to Jackie Joe Louis Robinson at the halftime of the GSC-Bluefield game.

Who Fired That Shot

The mighty Pioneers have fallen from their lofty perch atop the WVIAC standings. Now ranked third, the GSC team is trailing West Liberty and the team that inflicted defeat upon them last Saturday, the Bluefield Big Blues. The Pioneers were ranked fifteenth by the NAIA before last Saturday's loss. Their opponent for Saturday, West Liberty was ranked thirteenth. The Hilltoppers are undefeated although a tie with Salem mars their record. While the Pioneers were losing, West Liberty was defeating Shepherd by a 30-7 score.

What happened to the Blue Wave? Who knows? Football is a funny game. The ball is not round and takes funny bounces. We felt that something was lacking when the Pioneers took the field last Saturday. It was nothing that you could put your finger on but an intangible that must be possessed by those who win.

What must be done in order for GSC to regain the conference lead? First, they must win the rest of the games on the schedule for they are all conference tilts. West Liberty must be beaten next week. Then the Opponents which the Pioneers have defeated must win for additional rating points to be added to the Pioneer total. Remember, GSC does not have a breather left on the card. Even Concord is back on the winning path after breaking a 27 game losing streak with a 9-0 victory over West Virginia Tech.

It's a hard road ahead but with dedication and desire, it can still be the year of the Pioneer. AWARDS AND SALUTATIONS: Lack-of-spirit trophy to the GSC Student Body, yours truly included. The "We Finally Did It" plaque to the Concord Mt. Lions for getting the longest losing streak out of W.Va. The "Poor Deacon" diadem to Coach Duvall of

Pioneers Fall To Big Blues

The Glenville Pioneers lost their Homecoming game here Saturday by the score of 28-12. The loss knocked the Pioneers from their top ranked position in the WVIAC. This week the Pioneers travel to West Liberty in a game that could determine the conference champion.

The game started slowly but the Big Blues scored mid-way in the first quarter when Gary Bailey connected with flanker Preston Watkins for a 17 yard touchdown. Sammy Stuart kicked the extra point to give the Blues a 7-0 lead. The Pioneers came back in the second quarter on a 30 yard pass from Pete McDermitt to Mike Roscoe. Carl Alloway then burst through the Bluefield line from the seven yard line. The score remained 7-6 as Raymond Swisher's extra point attempt was blocked. Bluefield came back in the third quarter as Dave Archer completed a 25 yard touchdown toss to Sammy Stuart. Stuart added the extra point and the Blues led 14-6. Moments later the Pioneers attempted a reverse, but the ball was fumbled by Randy Modesitt and scooped up by Danile Tibbs who raced 25 yards for the score. Stuart's extra point was again good as the Blues rolled to a 21-6 lead. The Pioneers attempted a comeback as McDermitt unleashed a 25 yard strike to Virgil "Pee Wee" Lacey. Carl Alloway plunged over from the one for the Pioneers second and last score. The extra point try was no good as the Pioneers threw a pass trying for the two point conversion. Bluefield put the icing on the cake as Preston Watkins caught a pass for 24 yards putting the ball on the one yard line of the Pioneers. Ronnie Tote, on the next play, carried it in for the score. Stuart's extra point was again good as the Big Blues coasted to their victory, 28-12.

Carl Alloway was voted the most valuable player award given by Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. Carl Williams, leader of the Blue Bandits, had perhaps his finest game in a Pioneer uniform as he intercepted two passes and made numerous tackles.

This week the Pioneers take on West Liberty in the game of the Year.
