Brady Makes Bust For Ivor Boiarsky

At an annual party given for the speaker of the House, a sculpture made by a GSC student will be pre-sented to Ivor Boiarsky. The sculpture, made by Ken Brady, is a bust of an old man.

The gift was suggested by Mr. Scott, who was asked by Mr. Billy Burke, the House of Delegates member from the seventh delegate district, to suggest a suitable present. Mr. Scott suggested the bust made by Brady

The party for Boiarsky was origi-nally scheduled for Feb. 15. Due to a strip mine meeting it was cancelled and is yet to be re-scheduled. Several years ago, Mr. Scott, assistant pro-fessor of art at GSC made the pottery presented by Mr. Burke to the speaker

Mr. Frank Puskas Has Stories Printed

Mr. Frank Puskas, artist and writer, has written articles which were print-ed in a book called The Telltale Lilac Bush and other West Virginia Ghost Tales.

The book is by Dr. Ruth Ann Musick, past president of the West Virginia Folklore Association. The Telltale Lilac Bush was published by the University of Kentucky Press in 1965.

Mr. Puskas, art instructor, wrote the stories he contributed to the book as a part of the folklore class he had in his freshman year at Fair-mont State College. Dr. Musick was the instructor, and as Mr. Puskas was the only student to enroll in the class, it was more of a seminar than a class. Dr. Musick, at the time, had a radio program, and several of Mr. Puskas's stories were read on the air. They were also published occa-sionally in the Fairmont West Virginian

Dr. Musick's book is available in Robert F. Kidd Library.

Mr. Puskas received his B.A. in art from Fairmont State College in Jan-uary, 1962 and an M.A. from WVU in 1968.

Official Centennial Seal Designed By Mr. Scott

A new centennial seal has been designed by Mr. Charles Scott, assis-tant professor of art. It will be used next year on place mats, jewelry, decals, t-shirts, and other items. Mr. Scott was asked to design the seal by Dean Delmer K. Somerville, chairman of the centennial commission, and Mr. Scott has been designated "Keeper of the Seal" by the commis-sion. This means that he will release it only to authorized persons. The seal depicts the tower clock, with an open book beneath it book has the dates 1872 and 1972 on its pages. Around the illustration are the words "Glenville State College Centennial" and the banner reads "Century of Service and Progress

Getting ready for next week's performance of 'A tiors Marlyn Nichols, Benny Linn, and Robert Dotson of 'A Modest Proposal' are

'A Marriage Proposal' Readied For March 10-12 Presentations

Rehearsals are well under way for the production of Anton Tchekhov's "very amusing farce," A Marriage Proposal, to be presented March 10, 11, and 12. The vaudeville comedy was written in 1889 and immediately became a favorite of all the provincial theatres, clubs, and private theatricals in Russia, even though the author looked on it more as a literary work than as a piece for the stage. The play has often been referred to as "a joke in one act.'

Although the pedigree of Tchekhov was purely peasant and although he was compelled to write in order that his family should not starve, he had a particular weakness for vivacious, witty literary pieces. To him, the farce was the best kind of dramatic poetry; and he regarded the making of a good vaudeville as by no means an easy matter. In life Tchekhov was a doctor; but there is not a single political recipe in his stories, tales, and plays. Anton Tchekhov was born in 1860 in Taganrog, Russia and died in 1904 of consumption

The members of the cast for the upcoming farce are Robert Dotson, Marlyn Nichols, and Benny Linn. Mr. Dotson is a senior language arts major from Parkersburg and will be doi his student teaching at Edison High School in Parkersburg. He has had acting roles in She Stoops to Conquer and A View from the Bridge. Mr. Dotson will be playing the role of Ivan Vasillyitch. Miss Nichols, who will portray Natalia Stepanovna, is a senior ele-mentary major from St. Marys and will be doing her student teaching at Lubeck Elementary School in Parkersburg. She recently appeared in A View from the Bridge.

Mr. Linn, an art major from Buckhannon, will play the role of Natalia's father, Stepan Stepanovitch. Mr. Linn will be returning to Buckhannon to do his student teaching at Buckhannon-Upshur High School and East Main Elementary School. He, too, recently appeared in A View from the Bridge appeared in A View from the Bridge. The play is under the direction of Lonnie C. Brewster, a resident of Beverly. Mr. Brewster is a senior language arts major and has appeared on stage in She Stoops to Conquer and Miss Julie. He will be doing his student teaching at Ravenswood High School under the supervision of Mrs. Clara Belle Denning. Mr. Brewster is a1967 graduate of Elkins High School. Curtain time is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the GSC auditorium. Admission is free, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Glenville Lillymen Trounce A-B In Tournament Opener

nament opener by defeating the Battlers of Alderson-Broaddus 89-62. The game was as well played as any Pioneers have had this year. A-B shot Pioneers have had this year. A-B shot well in the warm-ups and were a determined bunch. They did, how-ever, seem to be nervous. The Pio-neers were loose and relaxed during warm-ups and showed the coolness of defending tournament champions. The Pioneers controlled the ball on the center jump and took the

on the center jump and took the initial score. The game was close in the early going with Glenville having leads of 5-4, 7-6, and 11-8. After that point there was never any doubt. Jim Garnett was playing perhaps his best game ever and was excitin fans. Dale Tawney aslo looked g the good as he easily scored after taking passes from Garnett. Tawney rebound-ed well and played good defense. The first half ended with Glenville leading 40-29. In the first half the Pioneers shot 58.6% from the floor com-pared to 36.4% fro A-B. They made 75% of the free throws while the Battlers could manage only 62.5%. Dale Tawney led Glenville with 13 points at the half and was followed closely by Garnett with 11 points. Randy Shaffer and John Hammond led the Battlers with 8 and 6 points respectively. Hammond led all re bounders in the first half with 9 Dave Barnes had 5 rebounds at the half for Glenville. Both teams had 19 rebounds at halftime.

Glenville wasted no time in the second half as they jumped out to a big lead that they never relinquished. Steve Datcher led the second half splurge by Glenville and played a real rough defensive game. Coach Lilly saw this game as a chance to rest his team and midway through the final half put in the substitutes. Roosevelt Lynch got 5 points in his subbing role while Ralph Cook collected 4. The game ended with the Blue

Team on top 89-62. Garnett led the Glenville team with 18 points coming on 7 goals and 4 free throws. Garnett also collected 10 assists in the game. Tawney followsely with 17 points coming on one free throw and 8 field goals Steve Datcher was next in line as he Steve Datcher was next in line as ne gained 14 points all coming from the field. Earl Hawkins chipped In with 10 points. Dave Barnes playing in his final tournament collected 8 noints all on long jumpers. Ron Jones also played well collecting 6 points. Miller led A-B with 13 points.

All-Tourney Team Includes D. Tawney

Junior Dale Tawney of Glen-ville's Pioneers was selected to the all tournament team in the WVIAC tournament in Charleston.

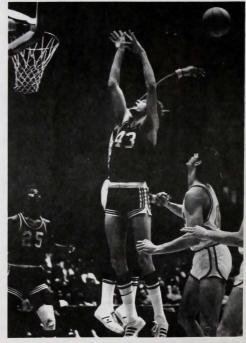

Tawney has been playing excellent ball for Glenville in the second half of the season and his tournament play was no different. The Parkersburg native led all two games performers in scoring with 38 points for a 19 point per game average. Dale hit on 16 of 29 goals and 6 of 9 from the free throw line. Jim Garnett finished fourth in scoring 31 points in two games. Tawney also led the rebound-ers with 21. He was followed by Earl Hawkins with 15. Jim Garnett was the assist leader with 15.

The other players selected for the all tournament team besides Tawney were Ellis Long (most valuable play-er), Doug Krueger and Chuck Taylor of West Liberty; Henry Dickerson, Kevin Merchant, and Steve Lickliter of Morris Harvey; Ed Lemon and Dave Cooper of Fairmont: and Sammy Stu art of Bluefield State College

WVIAC Winners Defeat Pioneers In Second Game

West Liberty put an end to Glen-ville's hopes for another WVIAC tournament championship when the hot shooters defeated the freezing Pioneers 66-53. The Pioneers while giving it all they had were just flat. They played their hearts out but they just were not good enough on this particular day to get the magic eded for the victory. The Hilltoppers lost only one thing in the game, that being the opening tip. Glenville got the ball on the tip beginning the game but they lost it and West Liberty's Ellis they lost it and west Liberty sense Long opened the scoring on a lay up. The Pioneers then fell behind 7-1 as they started very slowly turning the ball over often. At 11:05 in the first half Glenville took their first lead at 12-11. The Pioneers then lost the head only to resean it and kent the lead only to regain it and kept the first half excitingly close. However the Hilltoppers went out to an 8-point first half lead. Dale Tawney and Jim Garnett were the only fright spots in the Glenville line up while Chuck Taylor, Ellis Long, and fright

Ron Gill were leading West Liberty.

Behind 36-28 at halftime, the Pioneers went in at the intermission wondering what could be wrong. However, as the second half opened they bounced back, and with 14:48 remaining on the clock they tied the score at 38 all. Then with 12:58 remaining the Blue team went on top 39-38. West Liberty tied the game at 39-39 with 12:08 on the clock and with 11:13 remaining Jim Garnett sunk a foul shot to put Glen-ville back in the drivers' seat. The Hilltoppers came back with a 3 point play and led 42-40 when Dale Tawney on a long shot to tie the game the 9:54 mark. The last time Pioneers were tied was at 45-45 at the with 8:00 left in the contest. At this point they went cold while West Lib-erty hit a hot streak and pull⁻¹ away. They led 51-45 with 6:28 remaining and from there it was no contest. The final score was 65-53

Dale Tawney led Glenville with 21 points and Jim Garnett had 13. Steve Datcher had 8 points while Earl Hawkins had 7 points. Ron Iones finished with 4.

West Liberty Captures Lofty Conference Title

West Liberty playing four very fine games won the Conference tour nament and now turns its attention to their play off with Fairmont. West Liberty beat Wheeling, Glenville, previously unbeaten Fairmont and then Morris Harvey to win all the marbles.

The Hilltoppers defeated Morris Harvey in the final game 83-80. They were led by Ellis Long with 24 points, Chuck Taylor with 20 and Ty Crawmer with 17.

West Liberty is considered the underdog in the playoff because for the past five years the season champ has advanced to Kansas City. Fair-mont beat them in the regular season twice 99-71 and 76-64. However the Hilltoppers are the hottest club around and could pull it out. Their season record is now 15-13 after being 11-13 ning into the tournament
