Progress Is Noted In 'Right Direction'

Have you noticed anything new about the Union lately? It's being painted. Everywhere you look there is a different color, and a much brighter place it is. We've also been told by informed sources within the Pioneer Center complex that new tables and chairs are due to arrive soon. We thank those responsible for their efforts in helping us have a more enjoyable place of recreation.

Another thank you goes to the ad hoc committee that has been actively and sometimes heatedly studying our cut system. We see this week that they have proposed a new policy leaving the burden on the individual instructor with a good safety valve in the appeal after what the instructor considers excessive absences. We hope that the College Council will adopt this proposal. It would be a big step in the right direction for GSC.

We like to see things going "in the right direction." Some new ideas are more slowly adopted than others but with firm conviction and a little optimism, we will see the reforms we desire.

Christianity Testimonials Given Via Radio Broadcasts On Sunday

Dear Editor:

Have you ever wondered what Christianity is all about? We talk about God a lot in English and history classes. Yes, we've read about the Crusades of long ago and everyone has heard Bible stories, especially the one about the birth of Jesus Christ. Why everyone knows about that—that's why we celebrate Christmas. . . . isn't it? Yeah, those were good stories, but they're all in the past. All the so-called miracles and marvels are long gone. I have wondered about it but never really understood Christianity. Church is okay but usually kind of boring. So for our world today, what's this 'old stuff' about?

mas. . . . isn't it? Yeah, those were good stories, but they're all in the past. All the so-called miracles and marvels are long gone. I have wondered about it but never really understood Christianity. Church is okay but usually kind of boring. So for our world today, what's this "old stuff" about?

If you have had any of these last few thoughts, this is especially for you. In the middle of our, sometimes, chaotic world, there is a power still able to change men's lives and give them a purpose for living. Yes, believe it or not, this power, Pesus Christ is alive in the hearts of all who have accepted him as their Saviour. Don't believe me, huh? Well, some of the students on the GSC campus who know this is true want to tell you about our lives with Christ. It won't cost you anything but a few minutes of your time. Each Sunday evening, when it is possible to do so, a student or perhaps a faculty member will be—not preaching, but telling what Christ has done for them and what he'll do for you. This short broadcast will begin approximately 10 p.m. this Sunday night, March 28, 1971. If you would like to hear about the reality of the man you merely knew died on a cross, Listen! We're not a bunch of spiritual giants and don't claim to be. We just want to share the "Good News" with you.

Chapter To Serve No. 50

The newest organization on the GSC campus is the Pioneer Chapter of Collegiate Rainbow. This organization is to bring together into one fraternal group all Rainbow Girls in the college so that each girl can apply the Rainbow ideals of love and service to every phase of student life. Sole purpose of the Pioneer Chapter is to be of service to the Glenville Assembly No. 50 in any way possible.

Mrs. Roma Adkins, associate professor of home economics, and member of the Order of the Eastern Star, serves as advisor to the group.

Star, serves as advisor to the group.

Recent activities of the newly formed group include: Attending meetings, initiations, and installations of the Glenville Assembly and attending regular collegiate meetings. The newly-installed Worthy Advisor (President) of Glenville Assembly, Joyce Fisher, received a corsage of red roses as a gift from the Pioneer Chapter upon her installation. Feb. 19, the Local Assembly sponsored a slumber party and the collegiate members provided the refreshments and entertainment. Approximately 20 girls were in attendance.

March 8-15, Collegiate Rainbow observed a "Calling all Rainbow Girls" campaign to attract new membership to the Chapter. All Rainbow Girls in good standing in their local assemblies or Majority Rainbow Girls are invited to join Collegiate Rainbow. The meetings of the chapter are short and informal; of a business nature rather than ritualistic. They are held every second and fourth Thursday at 6 pm. in the lounge of the Home Economics Department in the Science Building. There is no pledge hood or initiation ritualistic or frivilous required for membership.

Friday, March 26, the Pioneer Chapter will hold a tea in honor of Miss Diane Cline of St. Albans, State Director of Collegiate Rianbow, who will be visiting with the chapter. The tea will be at 4:00 in the Home Economics Dept. All Collegiate Rainbow Girls, Rainbow Girls, Master Masons and Eastern Stars members are cordially invited to attend. The advisory board of the local chapter and all members will also be invited. A brief collegiate Rainbow meeting will follow the tea.

Newly-elected officers of the group are: Judy Jordan, president, a home economics major from New Maftins-ville; Debbie Hardman, vice-president, a math major from Glenville; Rosie Corathers, secretary, an elementary education major from Weston and Tanya Adolfson, treasurer, also in elementary education from Glenville.

M. Durnell Earns Whiting Art Award

The Whiting Art Scholarship Award, given annually to Glenville State College art student who has demonstrated abilities in the areas of painting and drawing, has been given this year to Mary Louise Durnell.

Mrs. Durnell received her Associate Degree in Arts at the West Virginia University Parkersburg Branch, and her B.A. degree at GSC in 1971. Her major is art education, and her minor is language arts.

E. Paul Floyd established the annual award of $100 in the name of Charles S. Whiting, a native of Glenville and a graduate of Glenville Normal School. Last year's recipient, George Harper, is currently a graduate student at WVU.

Satisfactory completion of the Foundation Course(s) in a specific area must be achieved before the student may be admitted to the basic college course in the same are (Example 01 (F) - Developmental English - must be completed before the student is eligible for English 101).

College credit will be granted for the satisfactory completion of a Foundation Course, but the credit earned must be in addition to the 128 semester hours required for graduation for a baccalaureate degree and the 64 semester hours required for an assoicate degree.

The student may enroll in regular college courses along with those in Fourdation Areas except any to which a Foundation Program has been declared to be a prerequisite for him. The combined schedule load of regular and Foundation Courses must not exceed the normal college load.

A student who enters a Foundation Course and makes very rapid progress in it may be transferred to the regular college course in the same area, providing this is done by the (time to be determined.) Likewise, a student who is not making satisfactory progress because of a deficient background in a basic college course in an area in which a Foundation Program is offered, may

Gamma Beta Phi Plans Easter Egg Hunt Apr. 7

The Gamma Beta Phi Society of Glenville State College is making plans for an Easter egg hunt at each of the four elementary schools in Gilmer County.

The egg hunt will be held Wednesday afternoon, Apr. 7. Karen Kibble and Kathy Weaver are in charge of the plans.

The hunt will be conducted at Sand Fork Elementary, Tanner Elementary, Normantown Elementary, and TroyElementary schools.

be transferred to the Foundation Program, providing that this is done by (time to be determined.) In this case the student would receive a mark of "W" in the basic college course.

A student may re-register in a Foundation Course for a subsequent semester, providing he has made considerable progress but has not reached the minimum achievement standards set for satisfactory completion.

Forest Dept. Helps Gov't

Glenville State College Forestry Department has entered into a cooperative agreement with the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture. The study title of the agreement is, "Influence of Forest Fertilization on Quantity and Quality of Streamflow."

The college has agreed to provide leadership and supervision as needed to: (1) assure high quality of plot layout and field sampling by students; (2) assure that forest facilities are neither misused or damaged by participating in college personnel; (3) analyze Ata obtained by soil and vegetation ampling as time, technical personnel, and research facilities permit; (4) make results of these analysis available to the Forest Service; and (5) provide the Forest Service with five copies of reports on this study.

One of the primary reasons for this agreement is that Dr. David Smith, chairman of the Forestry Department has his Ph.D. degree in Soils Tree Physiology, and in research oriented in this area.

The principal objectives for Dr. Smith during this study are: (1) to determine fertilizer effect on growth and (2) to determine stream pollution of this fertilizer.

Forestry students will also be actively involved in this study agreement. During the first two weeks in April, the freshmen will make a 100 per cent inventory of the 86 area to be used, and measure every tree of four inches or bigger in diameter to determine volume.

mine volume.

During the last week in April, the sophomores, just prior to application of the fertilizer, will take about 20 circular plots of approximately one-fifth acre and measure specific size and nitrogen content of buds. The area will then be fertilized by air with ammonium nitrate.

The area where this study is to take place is known as the Fernow Experimental Forest, and is situated in the Monongohela National Forest. The Fernow is located off Route 219 just south of the city of Parsons, home of the number of woodworking industries and the world's largest charcoal manufacturing plant.

which is a second to the same and a superior and the work of the experimental forest. "Show-me" trips which provide a lecturer or a guided tour through the forest can be arranged for interested individuals and groups, by contacting the Timber and Watershed Laboratory, Nursery Bottoms, Parsons, W.
