It will be necessary to go through regular registration in the fall for those students failing to make their payment by the July deadline.

Students having financial aid (scholarships, loans, and bank loans) are not obligated to pay their fees until registration in the fall.

Students may pay half of their board fee by July 31 and the remainder by October 15. Students having questions about payments of fees should contact the Business Office or Mr. William Osborne.

New Parking Lot Built To Replace Decked Lots

A new parking lot is being constructed for the college campus where the old parking decks used to be located. This new parking lot will be paved and more accessible to motorists. Although this will not add more parking space, it will be much more convenient than the old parking decks.

With the completion of the new Women's Hall however, there will be new parking space made available behind the dorm.

Freedom Of Press Is Open To Debate

The Bill of Rights to the United States Constitution notes something about freedom of the press - a point which is now open for debate in the nation's highest court.

Since The New York Times and The Washington Post, two of the nation's finest newspapers, were slipped "secret" papers from the Pentagon concerning Vietnam there has been a storm of assaults on the press by the government, assaults on the government by the press, and assaults in all directions by the general public. All of this has led the Supreme Court to extend its present session into previous vacation time to decide the issue. The hearings were kept public, much to the government's dismay and the press's delight. The court set the officials in the Pentagon back on their haunches with a decision in favor of the newspapers, but not everyone has been satisfied with the decision. We think it is a good one and here are some reasons.

It is most important to a democracy that the people be kept fully aware of what their leaders are doing. If you will remember it hasn't been long since lengthy discussion of Pentagon honesty to the public was brought to a head by the CBS documentary, "The Selling of the Pentagon," which, incidentally, also received a suppression attempt from the government. CBS president, Frank Stanton, is still waiting to see if he is in contempt of court.

Isn't it obvious that the U. S. Government is running scared that the American public is going to learn all the facts about Vietnam and our government's activities? Or if they aren't facts but simply 'one-sided memorandum' as Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff has said, then shouldn't the public know that, also? And why would it be scared if it didn't have something to hide? When backed in a corner, isn't it the guilty that always "panic" for an easy way out?

Literary Students Plan Year's Work

Dr. Espy W. Miller, advisor, and Keith Boyles, president, of the Glenville State College Literary Society have announced the selection of works to be discussed in next year's informal literary group.

Continuing its reputation for recognizing the world's greatest writer, the group has chosen to study works from the 17th to the 20th century.

Steppenwolf, a novel by Hermann Hesse, has been nominated to open the series of discussions in September. "Caesar and Cleopatra" and "Candide" are two plays by George Bernard Shaw to be discussed in October.

November's selection is a study of Black poets, a continuation from last fall. Dostoevski's Crime and Punishment is a noted masterpiece elected for December.

Another work of drama is "J.B." by Archibald MacLeish for January. A group of great short stories has been selected for the February discussion.

Metaphysical poets are of importance for March and Joseph Conrad's novel, Lord Jim, is the topic for April.

Of a lighter vein, another selection of short stories will conclude the series in May. The final dates have not yet been decided; however, they will be posted by September. Anyone interested in Literary Society is welcome and should contact either Dr. Miller or Keith Boyles.

Mrs. Lillian Chaddock assists a student with her project in the home furnishings class.

Decorating Of New HMM Is Home Ec. Class Project

The tapping of hammers, clicking of staplers and the humming of sewing machines have special significance to the 13 girls in Mrs. Chaddock's home furnishings class.

A decorator touch, the result of their efforts, will welcome the students to the new home management house opening in College Park this fall.

Special projects of the class include re-finishing and re-covering furniture which was purchased for the house in 1954. Particular attention is being given two love seats which are being covered in a green and orange floral design.

Draperies and sheer glass curtains are also being made for the house.

The home economics sewing room is also receiving special attention. Sewing machine benches, purchased in 1942 will be re-covered in naugahyde of bright colors. Draperies are also being made for the home economics rooms.

Students may purchase supplies and materials from any source, however Mr. David Umstead, of Grantsville, supplies samples of fabrics and students may order and receive fabric directly from the factory.

"Pre-requisites are not required and interest in the home furnishings class has remained high," stated Mrs. Chaddock, who has taught this class at GSC, for 22 years.

Retreats Staged

All fraternities on campus are planning summer retreats for the month of July.

Tau Kappa Epsilon, Theta Xi, and Lambda Chi Alpha have summer retreats planned this month with the first one scheduled for the weekend of July 9-10 by the brothers of Theta Xi. A picnic and a formal gathering will be held Saturday night.

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity will have its summer retreat the weekend of July 16 with a beer party scheduled for Friday night and a cookout being planned for Saturday night in Arbuckle Park.

The fraters of Tau Kappa Epsilon are well represented this summer, for, they have the largest enrollment of men going to summer school.

Lambda Chi Alpha's summer retreat is set for July 30-August 1 with Steve Brown being in charge of all the activities scheduled for that weekend.

Tri-Sigma

Debra Ann Hardman, Miss Glenville State College, won first place in the swimsuit competition portion of the Miss West Virginia Pageant in Parkersburg recently. A member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, she is a junior math major.

Two Campus Football Camps Rated Successful By Hanlin

The two one week football camps held at Glenville State College were very successful. GSC football mentor, Bill Hanlin, was very well pleased with the results of the camp. Coach Hanlin says that he feels there were some fine football players in the camp.

The first week of the camp was

Settle Named To First Team

Senior Jim Settle was named this past spring as the WVAC's Baseball All-State shortstop. Settle was the only Glenville player to be named on the all-conference first team.

Settle has been named Mr. Hustle of the Pioneer squad. He can usually be seen after practice, on the field working on this hitting and fielding. His great desire, more than anything else, allowed him to earn All-Conference distinction.

The shortstop only made two errors through the course of the session, a real accomplishment. Settle had a .347 batting average. He drove in seven runs and had three doubles.

This past week "Hustling Jim" had a tryout with the Cincinnati Reds.

Settle is from Willkensburg, Pa., where he resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Settle, Sr. Settle's brother, Jack, is also a student at GSC and a member of the baseball team. Both are members of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Gilmer County Art, Crafts Displayed At Cedar Lakes

A group of GSC students and Gilmer countians recently displayed some of their art work in a special GSC booth at the West Virginia Arts and Crafts Fair held in Cedar Lakes, Ripley, June 30-July 4.

Kim Brady, Sharon Collins, Tom Dailey, Tom Cantwell, and George Harper (a former GSC student), created a variety of craftwork including pottery, leather work, macrame, photography, paintings, and dulcimers realizing a total of $650.

A program that is "designed to perpetuate the heritage of crafts in the Mountain State" by sponsoring an apprentice program during the Arts and Crafts Fair can claim as five of its fifteen apprentices these young people from Gilmer county: Karen Dailey (former GSC student), Becky Cutlip attended by 38 youngsters from all over the state and some from out of state. Coaches Hanlin, Summers, Adolfsen, and Milliken had a lot of help. Ron Rice, assistant coach at the University of Maryland, was here to give his help. Mississippi State assistant coach Don Musz came in for the week and worked mostly with the secondary. Charleston High School head coach Frank Vincent was in camp for a few days and many defensive players benefited from his knowledge.

The second week saw 67 young men attend camp. Many of them were from Maryland. Former Glenville standout Bill Frost, coach at Oakland, Md., brought a large group with him. Dale Evans, former assistant coach at WVU and now one of Carlen's assistants at Texas Tech, came for a few days and everyone was impressed with him. Parkersburg Big Red head coach Buddy James was also here during the second week as was Coach Dick Ware of Pt. Pleasant High School.

Student counselors were John Pratt, Randy Jeffries, Tom Lilly, Craig Lipscomb, Mike Smith, Ed Suddath, Grayson Proffitt, Jimmy Carter and Tom Harvey.

The football camp started early in the morning with breakfast, a practice session, lunch, a practice session, supper, and another session. There were also several recreation periods during the course of a day. The players, on the whole, were very well behaved and seemed to enjoy their stay on the Glenville campus.

and her sister, Joyce Cutlip, Stella Mae Scott, and Scottie Nicholson, Jr. These young people studied under accomplished artists in their chosen field and learned many new techniques applicable to their own works.

Two GSC art instructors, Mr. Charles C. Scott, and Mr. Steven Nichols sponsored separate booths at the Fair. During the week of activity Mr. Scott demonstrated his skill with stoneware pottery and Mr. Nichols demonstrated his adeptness with leather work.

Bob Cooper, a former GSC student who is now a photographer for "Mountain Life and Work" magazine, also sponsored a booth. His exhibit was composed of examples of his skill in photography as he catches glimpses of mountain people, their life and work, and scenes of the southern highlands.

Mr. Nichols demonstrates the dulcimer at the Arts and Crafts Fair.

Down On The Corner

by Mike Smith

Baseball Action...

The Baltimore Orioles appear to be just as strong this year as last, but they are being challenged by the Boston Red Sox, led by Carl Yastrzemski.

The Oakland Athletics, surprisingly, have the best record in baseball. Rookie pitcher Vida Blue appears to be the league sensation. Already he is being hailed as better than Sandy Koufax.

The San Francisco Giants are still in front, because of their extremely fast start. They, however, have lost McCovey and will have a hard time now keeping par with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

This year seems to be the "Year of the Buc." The Pittsburgh Pirates appear to be pulling away from the pack. New York's Mets may give them trouble but I don't think so. Local talent is being called to Pirate land! Rabid fan, Dave Petel has been considering going to Pittsburgh to help Pirate announcer, Bob Prince, broadcast the Pirate games.

Inside facts...

Billy Williams, of the Cubs, is the only major leaguer who has accounted for more than 300 total bases on hits in each of the last four years. He is the only left-handed hitter in the national league to lead the department in the past 16 years.

Juan Marichal is the only active National League pitcher who began the 1971 season with a .500 or better lifetime record against every opposing club.

Denny McClain started his career in Washington as the owner of the best lifetime percentage among American League pitchers, with .654 (117-62), despite his 3-5 mark last year. Wonder what this year will do to that?

Facts of Fancy...

The biggest crime in baseball today is in the case of Alex Johnson. Alex Johnson is guilty of the worst sin in all of the sports world. He does not play to the best of his ability. Nothing more about what he has done needs to be said. This alone is enough, I feel, to kick him out of baseball for good.

Tim Carney Is Director Of Softball Intramurals
