Student Teachers Begin Duties Soon

For many GSC students, what was once a relatively easy-going and carefree life will shortly become a fast-paced and possibly even hectic existence. Those students now enrolled in the professional education semester will soon be going to their respective schools to begin student teaching.

The weeks that lie ahead, for those students who began their professional studies classes on Aug. 25, will hold many an opportunity of observation and participation in student teaching. On Sept. 28 and again on Oct. 12, student teachers will be at their particular school to observe their supervising teacher at work in the classroom and to meet with the school principal and faculty members. Oct. 15 will be the final day of professional studies classes; with Oct. 18 bringing the first day of full-time student teaching. The final day of student teaching comes on Dec. 14.

During the approximately two months that they are engaged in teaching, the student teachers are also to participate in a number of other things. Nov. 10 is the date of the preliminary evaluation of the student teachers. At 8 a.m. in the gymnasium on Nov. 13, the National Teachers Examination will be given. The Centennial program on teacher education will be held in the auditorium on Nov. 16; and then, of course, there is Thanksgiving vacation which means a short, but much needed rest.

The Wheeling Symphony Orchestra will appear in concert on campus Sunday, Sept. 19 at 7 p.m.

Randy Gregg and Wade Coffindaffer, Lambda Chi's, receive the fraternity scholarship trophy from Judy Jordan, president of Greek Council.

These cans also were taken to the first football game of the season. The cans were obtained from the cafeteria and were painted and decorated by each girl.

The Tri-Sigma Lounge recently received a new coat of paint. This past summer while the dormitories were being painted, the lounge was painted lilac to match the purple cushions on the benches. Another addition to the lounge was a bulletin board which was made by Mr. George Jordan. The bulletin board is white with three large Sigmas in the center.

A representative of the national division of Tri-Sigma's will be visiting

Northwood Nips Big Blue; Last Minute Proves Fatal

The Glenville Pioneers tasted defeat in the 1971 season opener, falling to Northwood Institute, 20-19. The Pioneers met disappointment early in the season as they went out to an early lead only to be overtaken in the last 52 seconds of the game.

The Northmen team was much larger than the Pioneers and proved to be tough foe. However, the Pioneers put together a good first quarter drive behind the running of Alloway, Pratt, and Richmond. The drive ended when the quarterback "Ramblin" Randy Jeffries rolled out a 30 yard aerial to tight-end Kenny Morrison with 4:18 left in the first quarter. Placekicker Ray Swisher booted the extra point to give the Pioneers a 7-0 lead.

The Northmen came back immediately with a drive of their own. Swisher's kick got caught in a hard wind which allowed the Northwood squad to have good field position. They moved the ball down the field behind the passing of Ray Coomer. They scored with 13:12 remaining in the quarter when Coomer tossed a five-yard strike to Brown in the end zone for the touchdown. The score was deadlocked at 7-7 when DeBroka booted an extra point.

The Pioneers got the lead back when almost immediately Carl Alloway scored on a five-yard run. The drive was led by the blocking of Spencer, Lipscomb, Butta, Harvey, Branniff, and the quarterbacking of Jeffries. The extra point try by Swisher was ruled wide. The extra point combo of snapper Kim Wilson, holder Jeffries, and kicker Swisher was slightly off timing. This one play proved to be decisive. The Pioneers scored again late in the period when Carl Alloway scored from the two-yard line. Alloway's touchdown was set up by a screen pass from Jeffries to halfback Jim Carter. Carter did a remarkable job of running and almost scored as he was tripped up near the goal. Here is where the missed extra point became significant. The Pioneers wanted to make up for the miss by Swisher and chose to go for 2 point conversion instead of one on a kick. Randy Jeffries rolled out to pass and was tackled before he could get off the pass. The Pioneers went in at the half leading 19-7.

The second half was totally different. The Pioneers moved the ball well on offense but could not punch it across. Northwood quarterback Coomer was a cool hand in the second half as he directed his team to two scores. The first came on a 16-yard strike to English. DeBroka again kicked perfectly from placement to put the score at Glenville 19 and Northwood 14 with 3:46 left in the third quarter.

Glenville came back with their own drive but after reaching the 10-yard line, a Jeffery aerial intended for Kenny Morrison was intercepted in the end zone.

Northwood got the ball late in the game and started their long game winning drive. Coomer connected with Lindsey for the score from 10 yards out with 52 seconds remaining in the game. The two point conversion try was stopped.

The game ended with the Pioneers desperately trying to score.

DOWN ON THE CORNER

by Mike Smith

The Agony of Defeat...

The loss to Northwood was hard to swallow but the ball takes funny bounces. The Pioneers played well enough to win and most definitely will learn from their mistakes. A bright spot in the loss was the punting of Paul Ashby who booted the ball for an average of 45.7 yards. Randy Jeffries looked exceptionally good at quarterback. "Ramblin Randy" was cool under pressure as he showed in the closing seconds of the game when he pumped a perfect bomb to Richard Richmond only to have it dropped. Carl Alloway received the MVP award in the game. Alloway picked up 95 yards in 13 carries to lead all rushers. Richard Richmond added 74 yards in 11 carries. Randy Dillon and Gary Jones looked good on defense for the Pioneers.

Conference at a Glance...

Salem and West Liberty appear to be strong again this year. I saw the game they played Saturday and the 6-6 tie was fabulous.

Shepherd defeated Wesleyan 14-0 and they looked strong again with the running of a big fullback.

Fairmont defeated Waynesburg 20-0 so they will be a team to watch.

W.Va. State soundly defeated W. Va. Tech and Ed Lee was not the leading ground gainer. They have a tremendous freshman running back.

Bluefield won over Concord to give Sid Cure his first college coaching win.

Mr. Big Stuff...

Pete Wood of WVU is really making his bid for All-American. Wood's 214 yards broke the all-time WVU record for rushing in a single game.

Just My Imagination...

The word is out that the Boogerhole All-Stars are loaded for the basketball season. Names like John Bell, John Hudson, Larry Queen, Jim Cook, Benny (Colt 45) Connor, Ron Smith, Ken Swisher, and Jay Chambers will appear on the roster. The Mud Bowl...

The GSC freshman squad traveled to Greenbrier Military on Monday and played the cadets to a 0-0 standstill in the mud and the rain. The cadets never threatened to score reaching the Pioneer 20 yard line only once the entire afternoon. The Pioneers, however, threatened to score on several occasions but just couldn't punch it across. The freshman squad appears to be the best we've had in several years. Let's hope they keep it up.

That's all, keep that good attitude.

Veterans Prepare Slate Of Activities

The newly-organized Veterans Club held its first regular meeting of the fall semester Tuesday with Larry Derenberger, president, presiding. Other officers are: David R. Berger vice-president; William Gallagher, secretary; Thomas Miller, treasurer; and Roger A. Brady, Master of arms and reporter.

Organizational plans were made to participate fully in campus functions during the centennial year with emphasis on building a float for the Homecoming parade.

The primary functions of the Veterans Club are: to make all veterans on campus aware of the benefits to which they are entitled, to help them secure those benefits, as well as help enrich the social life of veterans at GSC.

With these functions in mind, the club urges all veterans to contact the organization with their problems and to attend their weekly meetings and to become active members of their organization.

Sportsmanship Trophy Given GSC; Softball Team Defeated In Charleston

The Mayor's Sportsmanship Trophy was won by a Glenville State College softball team this past weekend. GSC was represented in the Sporting Incorporated Invitational Softball Tournament held at South Charleston. Larry Lamb's team represented GSC well in the 32-team field by winning two trophies. The two trophies won were the team sportsmanship trophy and the most valuable player award won by Jim Garnett.

The sportsmanship trophy was given on the basis of all the team's sportsmanlike conduct in the first game. The teams were voted on by the umpires. Lamb accepted the trophy Monday just before the starting of the championship game which was televised on a local Charleston TV station.

Pioneers Set To Invade Tough Shepherd Rams

The Pioneers will travel to Shepherdstown tomorrow for a game with the Shepherd Rams.

Glenville will be trying for win number one against the Rams who were victorious in their opening game last week, 14-0 over the Bobcats of West Virginia Wesleyan.

Shepherd has a new coach this year-Walter Barr, who last year coached James Wood High School to the Virginia State Championship. Barr has the Rams well drilled and they appear to be a tough, precision outfit. They are led by the running of a very strong fullback.

Game time is set for 1:30 p.m.

Glenville was eliminated Sunday by Frostie's 13-12. Leading hitters for GSC were Craig Chapman, Eric Makle, and Jim Garnett. Garnett hit three home runs and Earl Hawkins blasted one.

Major's Club Sponsors Ladies' Sports Activities

Women's intramural program will begin this year with volleyball, then basketball and individual and dual sports. Other activities offered for women are gymnastics, swimming, archery, soccer, field hockey and other sports.

The intramural program is sponsored by the Majors Club and set up by Miss Sandy Elmore, intramural director. Also the intramural program will be supervised by the protest board consisting of physical education majors and Mrs. Sandra Piercy and Mrs. Kay Chico, the women's physical education instructors.

All women who are interested in recreational activities are invited to attend intramurals and form teams to participate in competitive activities. The program is set up to meet needs and demands of those interested and is also set up for enjoyment, pleasure and relaxation.

Intramurals will be held one night per week. If interested, contact Miss Elmore in Women's Hall or sign the bulletin board lists in the dormitory.

Defensive Tackle Jones Is Player Of The Week

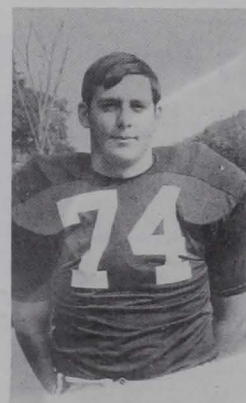

Feature Player of the Week...

Gary Jones is a 6'3", 235 pound defensive tackle from Richmond High School. Jones has earned three varsity football letters at GSC. He played center when he was a freshman but was switched to defensive tackle where he has excelled the past three years.

Jones is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vaden Jones of Nettie. During his high school career, he lettered three years in varsity football and track.

A physical education major and language arts minor, Jones will graduate in May. He plans on a career in the teaching and coaching profession.

I. D. cards may be picked up now in the Student Affairs office. Students are reminded that the I.D. cards are to be used for admittance to athletic events, library programs and also for library privileges.

Gary (Deacon) Jones is a three year grid iron veteran at left defensive tackle for the Glenville State College Pioneers.

Centennial Series . . .

Glenville State Faculty Members Recall Campus Changes In Past

by Ken Davis

In this Centennial Year Celebration, it is probable that many people will overlook the fact that Glenville State College is not the same as it was in years gone by. Thus it would be nice to try and picture some of the old buildings, landmarks, and traditions which were a part of our campus past.

Miss Bertha Olsen of the Music Department, recalls many happenings from GSC past. Among the things she remembers was the Old Gym, which was located where the present Pioneer Center is now. Also, in the gravel parking lot above the President's home was a big white house, which was known as the "Vice-President's Mansion." This house was used as a dormitory when Verona Mapel Hall was too full to house all women.

Miss Olsen also remembers how students used to receive their grades. When all grades had been recorded in the Registrar's office, they were given to the president of the college. He then called each individual student into his office and gave them their grades. This is a far cry from today's computer system which mails our grades home to our parents.

As far as the music department was concerned, Miss Olsen served as its only faculty member for 14 years. Today the total number of members in the Music Department is five. Originally, the music department was in the present Art rooms, but was moved downstairs when that part of the Administration Building was remodeled.

Miss Olsen also recalls some of the landscapes around the college. The Amphitheater used to be a deep ravine covered around the edges with ivy. In the spring, George Firestone had flowers planted around the ravine. Also, to the right of the main entrance of the Science Building, there was once a fish pond that was shaded by a weeping willow tree.

Dr. Jones, who is an instructor of social science, was once a student at Glenville. Jones can recall when he was a student at GSC that attendance was required at weekly Chapel exercises. He also recalls the beginning of the Mercury and the beginning of the Student Government Organization.

It was interesting to note, according to Dr. Jones, that Firestone Lodge was built on an old tennis court in the college apple orchard. Another building that was built was Clark Hall, which was then the Library. Students and faculty were both involved in the "Book Walk" which was in the present business office, up to Clark Hall.

As can be seen, Glenville State College has changed over the years.

Time Capsule Ceremonial Scheduled For Sept. 22

Burial of the Time Capsule will be an event of Sept. 22 during the Centennial Convocation. It is at this time, with dignitaries present from all over West Virginia, that the capsule filled with articles will be officially sealed, not to be opened for 100 years.

The Time Capsule committee, which includes Mary Jean Barker, chairman, Erma Edwards, Pearl Pickens, and Elizabeth Turner, has been busy collecting the various items which are to relate the story of Glenville State College. The committee decided to include the following items: the short messages from the President of Glenville State College, Governor of West Virginia, Mayor of Glenville, Chancellor of West Virginia Board of Regents, President of Student Congress, and the President of Faculty-Administrative Organization. Copies of the messages which were sold to those interested for 25 cents will also be included.

A complete roster of the student body, faculty, and staff as of Sept., 1971, copies of the Glenville Mercury, Confrontation, Glenville Democrat, Alumni Bulletin, programs of the Centennial celebration, Freshmen handbook and the residence hall regulations will be included. Along with these, the statement of the purpose of the college, schedule of athletic events, and cultural events for 1971-72, and The History of Athletics at GSC compiled by Dr. Robert Dollgener are to be added.

Other articles to be placed in the Time Capsule are a map of GSC campus, a map of Glenville, a schedule of classes for 1971-72, Faculty-Administrative Organization constitution, Student Congress constitution, a short history of GSC, the list of all former college presidents and principals, and a list of all campus social and honor organizations.

A copy of the original deed, a list of the "Alumni of the Year" recipients, the "Faculty Wives' Handbook," a copy of the week's menu from the cafeteria, Folk Festival Program, list of the 100 Outstanding Alumni, a copy of the Alma Mater and school song are also on the list of items to be included.

Other items selected for the Time

Capsule are a copy of the original Governor's Proclamation, information on the Wesley Foundation, copies of an enrollment form, grade slip, permanent record card, copy of a diploma used in 1971-72, a parking ticket and Centennial souvenirs such as automobile tag, license plate, and bronze pocket piece.

Pictures of the Centennial Queen, Centennial Pioneer, campus buildings, and the President of GSC plus the transcripts of messages or addresses given at the Centennial celebrations, a freshman beanie, statement of the purpose of the Time Capsule and a brief description of items included, a copy of the "West Virginia Hills" and a short explanation pertaining to its having been written here will also be sealed in the Capsule. Two hundred Centennial placemats, to be used in the 200-year-celebration, complete the list of articles which were chosen for the Time Capsule.

These various articles will be incased in a metal capsule which has been obtained from the Dowell Company. It measures 4½ feet long and 5½ inches in diameter. The capsule is built in the manner of a tube inside of a tube with a cap for sealing. The inner tube is made of plastic. The articles will be placed in five separate containers, after each has been sealed in a water-proof plastic bag.

The capsule will then be sealed with cement and buried in front of the Administration Building following Gov. Arch Moore's convocation address. After the ceremony, the Time Capsule will be covered by a cement slab with an inlaid plaque and a park bench over this to commemorate the celebration.

The 1971 Kanawhachen, GSC yearbook, has arrived, according to Editor Patricia Jones.

Students and faculty may pick them up beginning Monday across from the Placement Office in the Pioneer Center.
