Campus Elections Reveal New Court

In an all campus election held on Thursday, Sept. 16 the Centennial Court which will serve for this school year was chosen. Those women chosen are, Pamela Sue Cottrill, freshman; Susan Lynch, sophomore; Debra Buckhannon, junior; Janet Alkire, senior. This court will be headed by Miss Rosanna Corathers, the Centennial queen.

Miss Cottrill, freshman class attendant, is a math major from Weston. The 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cottrill, she is a graduate of Lewis County High School.

Miss Lynch, a 19 year old sophomore is their class attendant. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rondall Lynch, she is a business education major, and a graduate of Gilmer County High School.

Miss Buckhannon is a graduate of Parkersburg High School. The daughter of Mrs. Betty Buckhannon she is a 20 year old business major who is serving as junior class attendant.

Miss Alkire is the senior class attendant. A graduate of Lewis County High School, she resides in Walkersville. Miss Alkire, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Alkire is a 20 year old home economics major.

Mr. Richard Neely Visits To Address Student Body

Richard Neely, current member of the West Virginia House of Delegates, will speak in the college auditorium on Sept. 29 at 11 a.m. His topic has not been revealed as of this time.

Mr. Neely is a declared candidate for the U.S. Senate seat currently held by Sen. Jennings Randolph.

Neely is a graduate of Dartmouth College with a degree in economics and also a graduate of Yale Law School. He is a practicing lawyer in Fairmont and a member of the Marion County Bar.

Richard Neely is the grandson of the late Matthew Mansfield Neely who was Governor of West Virginia and United States Senator from West Virginia.

A deadline of 6 p.m. Thurs. has been set for submission of applications for Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. Applications may be obtained at the Student Affairs office or Student Congress office.

The Literary Society will meet Sunday, Oct. 3, in the Old Louis Bennett Lounge. Hesse's Steppenwolf will be discussed.

The coffeehouse scheduled for Sept. 24 has been cancelled and rescheduled for Oct. 8.

A lighter was found at the football game (Glenville-Northwood.) Contact Coach Hanlin and identify.

On Tuesday, Oct. 5, Mr. Paul Siegrist of Calhoun County will be on campus to interview teacher candidates who will graduate in December. Both elementary and secondary students should make an appointment in the Placement Office for an interview.

Josh White, Jr. will perform on campus on Thursday, Sept. 30.

Cast Is Chosen For Play Dates Set For Nov. 17-19

The cast for Tobacco Road by Erskine Caldwell has been chosen. There are 12 cast members and 43 students who will work as crew members. The crew will work with make-up, props, costumes, lighting, publicity, and pet decorations.

The setting for Tobacco Road is somewhere in Appalachia. The area of Tobacco Road was once a very prosperous farming district, but now it is a poverty-stricken area. It is the story of not only the degeneration of the land, but of a family. The family is starving, they are without pride and without hope.

Phil Duncan, a freshman art major from Charleston portrays Dude Lester. Dude is a 16-year-old boy. He is not too intelligent, he is rebellious, and he seeks to get out of Tobacco Road.

Sharon Anderson, a junior social studies major from Parkersburg portrays Ada Lester. Ada is the mother. She has lived with Jeeter Lester for 40 years and has borne him 18 children, one which is not his. Ada is slowly starving to death. She is thin, gaunt, and a Pellegra-ridden woman.

David Grapes, a junior history major from Parkersburg is portrayed as Jeeter Lester. Jeeter comes from an aggressive generation of Appalachian men who have farmed the land. Jeeter also has a love for raw turnips.

Jeannie Huddleston, a junior art major from Gassaway, portrays Ellie May. Ellie May is 18 years old and unmarried. Ellie would be pretty except for a slit lip.

Susie Smith, a junior language arts comprehensive major from Parkersburg portrays Grandma Lester. Grandma is an old hag. The family resent her because she is just another mouth to try and feed.

Pete Shumate, a senior social studies major from Ravenscliff, portrays Lou Bensey. Lou is about 30 years old. He is a coal miner, and is married to Pearl, the Lester's youngest daughter.

Bob Dye, a freshman chemistry major from New Haven is portrayed as Henry Peabody. Henry is an old neighboring farmer.

Kathy Fluaharty, a sophomore English and speech major from Middlebourne portrays Sister Bessie Rice. Sister Bessie is an old time woman preacher about 40 years old.

Gayle Bailey, a senior English major from Heath, Ohio portrays Pearl. Pearl is extremely pretty and is about 13 years old.

David Berger, a senior speech and business education major from New Martinsville portrays Captain Tim. The Captain is the owner of the land that Jeeter farms on.

Doug Morrison, a junior speech major from Richwood, portrays George Payne who is an agent from the bank in Augusta.

Play rehearsal is now in progress under the direction of Mr. Gerald Ratliff and the play will be presented Nov. 17, 18, and 19.

Recording Artist Mr. Josh White, Jr. Will Appear In Concert On Sept. 30

On Thursday, Sept. 30, at 8:00 p.m., Josh White, Jr. will present a concert in the auditorium of the Administration Building. Admission to this Lyceum Program will be by ID card.

Born in 1940, Josh White, Jr. began his life in New York City. At the age of four, his career began in a small night club where his father was a performer. Since that time, Josh White, Jr. has grown in popularity and has appeared all over the country. Included in his appearances are several TV programs and both on and off-Broadway plays. He has a long-term recording contract with United Artists Records, through which he has two albums and several single records.

White has become a major college performer over the last few years. He has appeared at over 800 colleges and universities throughout the U.S. and Canada. A Negro performer, White says, "On stage there is no color barrier and I carry no particular banner, except to entertain my audiences to the very best of my ability in any way that my talent allows."

Centennial Display Tells of GSC Past, The Life of Mr. T. Marcellus Marshall

Presently on display in the show case by the Auditorium entrance in the Administration Building are various articles which reveal to the viewer part of the past of Glenville State College. Articles, collected by Mr. Nelson Wells include: various plays, recital and commencement programs for 1906 and 1908; programs from the Independent Literary Society and Cosmain Society; pictures of the class of 1896-7 and 1893-4, various places on campus and a river boat upon the Little Kanawha; collectors' spoons depicting dates in GSC's past, and a grade report for 1877 which bears the signature of the first principal, T. Marcellus Marshall, and one for 1892 which displays the signature of Miss Verona Mapel.

Also contained in the display are: a few newspapers, published in 1882 which contained the advertisement concerning Glenville Normal School; pictures of the vine-covered clock-tower, former students perched upon the old fence where the clocktower now stands, and one of George Firestone, a past janitor at Glenville Normal, for which Firestone Lodge was named; a stencil bearing the letters GNS which was used to mark school equipment in past years; and an autobiographical work by John C. Shaw which contains a description of Glenville Normal in 1901 when he was principal.

A poetic description by Emmert S. Dilworth of GNS intitled "Episodes of Glenville Normal" which could be compared with the recent composition of Mr. Karl A. Kerr. Dilworth describes the campus of 1919 by these words: "The Normal School on Glenville's sloping height, Its old clock di'l, its ivy mantled wall, The campus strewn with trees about the site, The winding stairway and the chapel-hall, All these, to mind, of former days recall."

One of the most interesting articles is a clipping from the Glenville Democrat which relates the life and times of T. Marcellus Marshall. Marshall was born on May 17, 1851 and taught in free schools in West Virginia from 1865 to 1866. He graduated from Marshall State Normal School in 1870, a member of the first class ever graduated from a normal school in West Virginia. Marshall later returned to school to complete the higher normal course and post-graduate work.

Although Marshall was the first appointed principal, he was not given that distinct title due to his youth. Later replaced by an older man Louis Bennett, he returned as principal in 1875 where he served until 1881. At this time, Marshall resigned his position at Glenville to enter the ministry.

The article on display, which is a reprint from an issue of the Glenville Mercury, is concerned with some of the more sensationalistic aspects of Marshall's life. He is described in the article as being the most "eccentric character ever developed in Gilmer County."

Marshall's influence spanned a much greater distance than Gilmer County due to his vast amount of traveling. He visited the Holy Lands, Egypt, Italy, Germany, Switzerland, France, Spain, England, Scotland, Wales, Ireland, Japan, China, Russia, Peru, Mexico, Brazil, Ecuador, and Columbia. Marshall had, however, an unusual traveling technique. He could travel farther with a given amount of money than any other person ever known. When going on a trip, Marshall would pack only a small bag which usually contained an extra pair of socks, a handkerchief, and a shirt. He never made preparations by securing advanced passage. Marshall's policy involved stowing away aboard a vessel and not being discovered until the ship was several miles out to sea. Then the captain would give him third class passage which was exactly what Marshall had in mind.

Marshall encountered many interesting circumstances while on his journeys, such as running from the police in Tokyo. However, one of the most exciting deals with Marshall playing tennis on the top of a pyramid in Egypt. Though this action seems unusual, he described the situation by saying, "Well, these pyramids are no steeper than the hills I am accustomed to climbing."

Although traveling was his greatest pastime, Marshall never learned to drive. He did, however, purchase a car once. When asked if he could drive, he merely instructed the attendant to turn the car on. Upon arriving home, Marshall discovered he did not know how to stop the car. Consequently, he drove it around and around his yard until he ran it into a bog where it remained from that day forth.

Marshall was a man of many professions, being a farmer, teacher, preacher, lawyer, doctor, linguist, author, engineer, and business man. Above all, he was a very dedicated educator. It is said that he himself carried coal to heat the classrooms at Glenville State Normal School.

Although looked upon skeptically by the community, Marshall who died in 1926, gave GNS a boost in the right direction to its becoming a respected educational institution.

Charge For Game Explained By Editor

This Saturday night the Glenville football Pioneers will clash with the Tigers of Salem. This fact you could find on page three or on any schedule. But one factor concerning Glenville students may not have been brought to your attention.

The game will be held in St. Marys for a battery of reasons. The boosters' organization of St. Marys has requested that we hold a game at their stadium, promising higher gate profits by having a larger capacity stadium and a good area to draw an audience.

Another major reason involved the Salem team. Salem, as you may know, is a Seven-day Adventists school which means that they are not permitted to engage in athletic contests in the daylight hours of any Saturday. Because Glenville facilities do not include a lighted stadium and gate receipts would not be adequate were a week-day game held, it would be mandatory to hold the Tiger-Pioneer competition away from our campus even those years that Glenville should host the event. In other words, it is impossible for Glenville to play a home game against Salem without special approval from the Salem College Advisory Board.

Since last February the game has been scheduled for the St. Marys' field. Before the contract was agreed upon, Athletic Director Robert Dollinger approached the Athletic Committee for approval to require students from GSC to pay a $1 admission charge to attend the game. The Student Congress was also approached and both governing bodies approved the move at this time.

The reason for all this explanation is purely to clear up any misunderstanding that may have arisen as seems evident from Mr. Boothe's letter. We hope that this has explained the situation clearly and that everyone will attend the game and cheer the Pioneers on to victory.

GSC-Salem Game Seemingly Exploited

Dear Editor:

Are the students of Glenville State College being exploited? This seems to be the sentiment of many students on the Glenville-Salem game.

It seems that this was to be a home game, however, the Athletic Department asked the Student Congress if it could move the event off-campus. The main purpose of this was to gain revenue for the Athletic Department from bigger crowds. Since this was a home event and nothing was said of the one dollar charge, it was assumed by most of the Student Congress members that this would be free to the Glenville students. However, the representative of the Athletic Department apparently assumed the Student Congress would understand that there would be a charge at the gate.

The one dollar fee is not so much a point as the principle of the affair. Glenville students pay more than enough money to the Athletic Department in fees. Last year they went to the polls to vote in a raise of these fees. Yet, other areas on campus suffer. Is this the way they are repaid for their generosity? It seems to me that those who go to the game are, in fact, paying for it twice. Or should I say, paying the Athletic Department twice.

There undoubtedly has been a mix-up in communication about this game. While the Student Congress, who made this agreement in behalf of the students of GSC, ponders upon this somewhat undecidedly, or not at all; the students are suffering. It is now up to the Student Congress to decide whether in the future the students of GSC will be exploited again.

Fred Boothe

Editors Note:

Ten minutes before this newspaper was sent to the printing office we were informed that the above letter and editorial are now irrelevant. There will be no admission charged GSC students, faculty, and staff at the game this Saturday night according to Dr. Robert Dollinger, athletic director. All are urged to attend.

In The Groove

by David Grapes Album Review

There are between 10 and 15 vastly under-rated groups on the music scene today. One of those groups is the Byrds. Their new album on Columbia Byrdsmaniax proves it.

The album which contains fresh new material, is often reminiscent of when the group was deep into the country bag, and yet, it is not a country album, but rather a combination of all the styles the group has been into.

It was my privilege to see them in concert last winter, and I was super-impressed. They were one of the finest live-groups I've ever seen and I've seen many. The same warmth and energy that they have in concert works itself into their albums until it's like having a live performance in your own front room.

Over the years and through some 15 albums the group has experienced several major changes, as well as members. The group now consists of the ever-stand-by leader and original Byrd Roger Mc Guinn on lead guitar, Gene Parsons on drums, Skip Batton bassist, Clarence White, lead guitar, and new member Jimmy Seiter who is listed as everything from percussion to baby sitter.

It is my opinion that this is one of the finest musical combinations ever put together, but if you don't believe me you can always buy their albums.

The best cuts are "Pale Blue," "Citizen Kane," "I Wanna Grow up to be a Politician," "Jamaica Say You Will," and "I Trust."

New Releases

Due out this month are albums by John Lennon, "Mountain" and "Greatful Dead."

Already released "Master of Reality" by England's Black Sabbath.

Lambda Chi

Lambda Chi Alpha's women's auxiliary, Ladies of the White Rose, has been very busy these past few weeks. The girls voted on, and accepted, seven new members.

The girls aided the fraters in their first smoker this year on Sept. 16 at Old Louis Bennett Lounge, and Sept. 17 the Ladies baked cookies and brownies for a closed square dance in the ballroom.

This week the girls were making a new weather-resistant flag for the brothers to take on their upcoming trip to Marshall University to visit the Lambda Chi chapter there.

Theta Xi

Theta Xi fraternity held its first smoker for upperclassmen on Monday, Sept. 13. The smoker was well attended by the men of GSC. Thomas Carper and James Fisher served as co-hosts as they explained the various merits of fraternity life. Theta Xi advisors William Piercy and Ernest Smith addressed all the men on what to expect from fraternity life and how Theta Xi has grown over the years.

ALUMNI DESIGNS BELL

Shown at left is Mr. John V. White, treasurer of the Glenville State College Centennial Fund, holding a wooden school bell which is being given to those persons who give fifty dollars or more to the College Centennial Program. Mr. White said that as of this date seven of the bells have been sent to Centennial donors.

The bell, made of Walnut with a brass plate with the wording, "Glenville State College 1872-1972 Centennial Donor," was designed and made by Mr. Bernard White, a former student at Glenville State.

Mr. White also made a bell similar to the one above which was presented to Governor Arch A. Moore.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Delta Alpha chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma held various rush workshops this past week in preparation for rush activities.

Wednesday from 4 to 6 p.m. in Old Louis Bennett Lounge, the Sigma's held their theme party for this semester's rush week. The theme of the evening, "My Fair Lady," was carried out in the decorations, food, and entertainment. Each sister was dressed in a purple, blue and white printed peasant dress to accompany the theme. A skit which involved the well-known scene in which Liza is transformed into a lady was portrayed by Marlene Parsons, Karen Kibble, Linda Scarles, Diane White and Jeannine Worstell.

A few songs from the musical were sung by Susie Siers who was accompanied by a group of sisters in a song and dance routine. Favors given to each girl were a white hob-nail candleholder with a small purple candle.

The formal rush party was held on Thursday, Sept. 23 from 7 to 7:45 p.m. At this time, prospective rushees were given a chance to ask questions about the various phases of sorority life. The sisters came dressed for this occasion in new long, white gowns trimmed with purple ribbons. Favors given at this party were nosegays of purple asters on a white background and white ribbons.

Preparations for Homecoming festivities have gotten underway with the appointment of Cathy Rader as Homecoming float chairman.

Delta Zeta

On Monday, Sept. 20 the sisters of Delta Zeta had their first formal rush party at the chapter house. The theme of the party was "Getting to Know the Delta Zeta Family." Floral arrangements of pink roses and white mums high-lighted the decorations. Open faced sandwiches, jello salad and a fondue dessert were served as refreshments. For entertainment, the rushees were introduced to different members of the sorority portraying characters from common life. To end the party, the rushees were given favors that were wall hangings with messages of friendship on them.

The sisters have welcomed back Janet Lance this year. An active of Theta Xi chapter in 1966, Miss Lance is living in the DZ house.

Jeannie Rentschler has been named chairman of a newly-organized committee in the chapter. It is a "Friendship" committee and will concentrate mainly on the girls' relationships with others outside the sorority.

Majors Club Plans Year

The Majors Club of Glenville State College recently held a meeting for all women physical education majors and minors.

The incoming freshmen were given copies of initiation rules and regulations and were introduced to club rules, regulations, and procedures by President Barbara Walker, a physical education major from Parkersburg.

This year the club will be very active in team sports, camping, fund raising sales, basketball teams, intramurals, and many other activities.

The purpose of Majors Club is to meet the needs and interests of all physical education majors and minors who held an interest in recreational activities.

According to Miss Walker the club meetings will be held on Tuesday evenings at 4:30 p.m. in the Health and Physical Education building. Anyone interested in joining should contact Miss Walker in Women's Hall, or Mrs. Sandra Piercy or Mrs. Kay Chico, the women's physical education instructors in the Health Building, as soon as possible.

At the end of last year the following were elected to hold offices: Barbara Walker, president; Donna Newberry, from Parkersburg, vice president; Pam Abbott, from Parkersburg, treasurer; Glenline Gainer, from Mogadore, Ohio, secretary; Connie Cole, from Troy, chaplain; historian is Brenda Riffle from Burnsville; and Sandy Elmore from Walton is intramural manager.

Some of the activities presented by the club during the active school year are: play days for area high schools, overnight slumber parties, swimming parties and the club sponsors the women's intramural program. The program offers many activities to participate in such as volleyball, softball, basketball, and many individual and dual activities. During this program, team scores will be kept and the winner announced at the end of the complete program. A large trophy will be presented by Sandy Elmore to the team and will be on display in the lobby office at Women's Hall.

The initiation for the new and incoming freshmen majors include, carrying a piece of sports equipment, wearing an I.D. sign, interviewing and doing favors for the old members. All freshmen majors who wish to belong to the club will have to participate in the initiation and then later become a member by formal initiation.

The float committee for the Homecoming parade will be planning the Centennial float and will need help to construct the float and help plan for a club hayride.

GSC Adds Tennis Team; New Courts Scheduled

The varsity athletic program has added tennis. Last year, the team was formed and played several matches. This year, away matches will be scheduled and Glenville will be in the conference meet.

With Dr. Bruce Flack, and Mr. James Hilgenberg serving as coaches, several of the team members have been working out to perfect their style. Returning to this year's squad are John Sizemore, who was last year's number one man, Ken Pruitt, and Rick Miller. New members include, Roger Hess, Don Worden, Terry Lewis, Henry Bender, Robert Hammel, and Doug Mehany.

New tennis courts are hoped for by spring of 1973. With the addition of tennis courts, home matches can be scheduled. Anyone interested in the tennis team should contact Dr. Flack or Mr. Hilgenberg.

Down On The Corner

by Mike Smith

Players, as they appear. . . Wide Receivers: They're flashy loners on a rim of team unity. Most disdain the scrimmage line where the hitting takes place. Aloof and individualistic, they were the first to wear low-cut shoes and to slam the ball down in the end zone.

Defensive backs: They have a negative, hopeless position. They relieve their frustrations by being overly aggressive. They'll knock your head off for nothing.

Quarterbacks: They are all neurotics. They recognize they're good and they are not afraid to tell you.

Linebackers: Half-surely ruffians who'll fight at the drop of a hat.

Running backs: Theirs is the simple st cerebral position to play. They are easy going, optimistic, possessing a great outlook on life, and the best are physical marvels.

Offensive Linemen: strong silent type.

Defensive linemen: extroverted, hell-bent.

Kissing your sister. . . A tie in sports has often been compared to kissing one's sister. For instance, Glenville traveled across the state to face the Shepherd Rams and of course tied 7-7. Think of all the time and money spent on the trip and to many it all means nothing. However, think of the players. They work all week and then when a tie game ends there is little or no satisfaction. The way the conference race shapes up the tie does not hurt much, but certainly it does not help. W. Va. State did, the conference with a 2-0 mark. They scored 20 points in the final quarter Saturday to defeat Concord 26-20. Next in line is Fairmont with a 1-0 mark. The fighting Falcons defeated Wesleyan 42-0 Saturday and are evidently fielding a very strong team. Bluefield State, under new coach Sid Cure is 1-0-1 with a 10-1 tie against Salem Saturday. Glenville comes in with a 0-0-1 conference record, so they are in a good position with no losses, West Liberty has the same conference mark. Salem is in a funny position with two straight ties. Glenville's opponent last week, Shepherd, is 1-0-1 in conference play. Wesleyan and Tech have yet to win in conference play. The Bobcats are 0- while Tech is 0-1 in conference play.

Keep that good attitude. . .

Glenville Gridmen Travel To Shepherd To Tie Rams 7-7 In Third Quarter

Glenville's Pioneers traveled to Shepherd on Saturday and dominated the game only to get a tie.

Shepherd took the opening kickoff and drove 70 yards for the score. The drive was led by the running of 230 pound fullback Bob Pope. Pope crashed into the end zone from the seven yard line for the initial score. Sands kicked the extra point to put the Rams ahead, 7-0.

The Pioneers moved the ball well in the first half but could never generate enough offense for a score. The Pioneers did not execute as well as they did in the opener against Northwood.

The third quarter was almost a replay of the first half. The Pioneer defense unit, the Blue Bandits, held the Rams to 16 yards total offense in the second half. Midway through the third canto, Glenville quarterback Randy Jeffries was hit from the blind side and had to be taken from the game. Freshman Chris Anderson of Hannibal, Ohio, came in and took over the reins. Moments later, Anderson led the Pioneers on a 60-yard drive to score the tying touchdown. The score came when Anderson zeroed in from 20 yards on a pass to sophomore tight end, Kenny Morrison. This was the second straight game in which Morrison caught a touchdown pass. Placekicker Ray Swisher kicked the extra point to give the Pioneers the tie.

The fourth quarter saw the Pioneers with three chances to win. Anderson would lead the Pioneers down the field after the Blue Bandits provided them the ball. The Pioneers would get and then set up for a field goal. Swisher missed two field goals as the field goal squad just couldn't seem to get along. The last attempt, Swisher's third, came with 13 seconds in the game and it was blocked from 36 yards out.

Anderson hit on six of 11 passes for 67 yards in 19 carries. Richard Richmond gained 30 yards in 10 carries and caught five passes for 47 yards. John Pratt gained 22 yards in only five carries.

First Downs	14	4
Rushing yardage	147	126
Passing yardage	80	26
Passes	8-19-2	2-8
Penalties	6-50	4-20
Punts 6-42.8	11-34.9
Fumbles lost	1	2

Pioneers To Encounter Salem Tigers

The Glenville State Pioneers travel to St. Marys Saturday night when they will encounter the Salem Tigers at 7:30 p.m.

The Tigers, as usual are a very big, fast, and strong team. They have two ties to their credit this year, the first coming in a hardfought game with West Liberty 6-6. Saturday they tied Bluefield 10-10 in an equally hard fought game.

Salem is led by the running of senior Jim Tsakonas, a 185 pound halfback, who has 10 flat speed in the hundred. Tsakonas ran a 72 yard touchdown against Bluefield. The Salem attack is directed by quarterback Andy Hawthorne a 6'2", 190 pound junior. Hawthorne is a good passer and is very effective as a runner.

Defensively, the Tigers are led by defensive end Mel Washington, tackle Tom Luchini and linebacker Tim Vermillion, and defensive back Francisco Bryant.

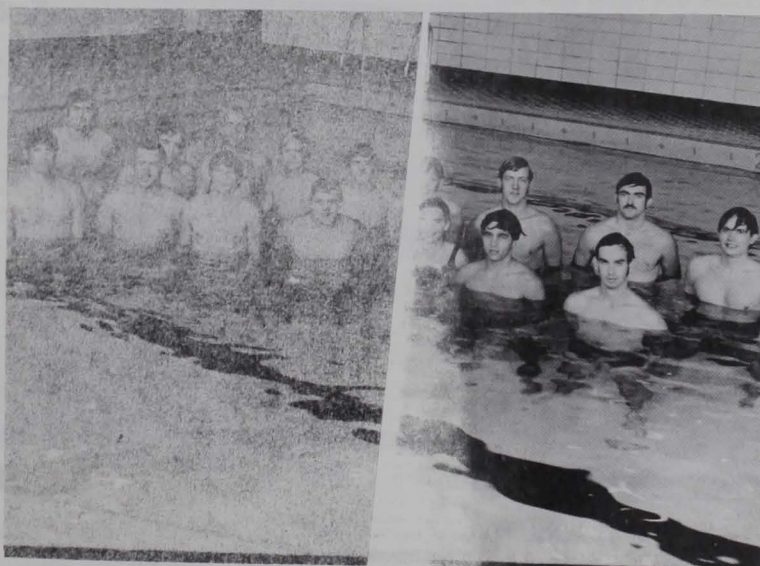

Former GSC student and football player, Dan McConnell, is the kicking specialist for the Tigers.

Coach Trains Swim Team

James Winkler, math instructor, is the coach of GSC's new swimming team. Winkler is faced with a very difficult task since this is the first year GSC has had a swim team. Winkler will be plagued with a lot of inexperienced swimmers, but he is very enthusiastic about having a swimming program.

Winkler's primary concern is trying to get students interested in joining the swim team. He has about 20 candidates out for the team, but he feels that this is not enough and he would like to see more men in contention for the team. Practice is held every afternoon in the Physical Education Building from 4-6 p.m.

The tentative schedule for the swim team consists of about nine or ten meets with mostly West Virginia Conference Colleges and a few colleges in Kentucky. Winkler is in the process of making plans to take the team on a road trip through Kentucky. The tentative opening date for the first swimming meet is in the middle of November.

The Faculty Administrative Organization has elected new officers for the 1971-72 school year.

Mr. David M. Gillespie, head librarian, succeeds Mr. Byrl Law as president. Mr. Steve Scherer, instructor of social sciences, was elected vice president. Mr. Bernard McKown, instructor of math and physical science, was elected treasurer, and Mrs. Virginia Hays, instructor of business, was elected secretary.

Members at large are: Mr. James Hilgenberg, Dr. William Simmons, Mr. Robert Summers, and Mr. Edward Vineyard.

Kindergarten Tries Cooking, Painting

There are 13 children in the college Kindergarten this year under the direction of Mrs. Sheila Marino. This year the children are cooking, painting, bringing live animals to class, and even having their own movies.

Every Friday the children go to the Home Economics kitchen where all of them cook. So far the children have made popcorn, chocolate pudding, and lime jello. In the near future they will be making their own homemade ice cream, gingerbread men cookies, and candy.

Recently, the children saw a double feature movie. The movies were "In the Forest," and "Curious George rides a Bike." The children designed their own movie house in the kindergarten room. An old television set was used for a ticket booth. The children gave the "cashier" wooden blocks for money, and received a piece of paper showing they had paid. During intermission the children received grape juice and popcorn. Mrs. Marino told the children that the janitors were all on strike in this particular movie house so each child helped to clean up after the movies were over.

The children also have an "adventure day" in the kindergarten. This day a child will bring an animal to school. So far the children have brought toads and turtles.

In the near future the children begin creative stitchery and wood-working. This will allow them to develop better motor control of their bodies. Also, the children will be presenting a creative drama. They will use scarfs to represent fall leaves. These scarfs will also take on new images as the children play with them.

Mrs. Marino would like to put some curious minds at rest concerning the children, and some of their actions on the way to the playground. Each day that the kindergarten children go to the playground, they choose what they want to be for the day. Some days the children are soldiers, Indians, ponies, trains or sometimes they are kittens purring all the way to their very own playground.

Food Service's 'Seconds' Policy Outlined By Director W. Harkins

Mr. Wayne Harkins, Director of Food Service, has issued the following memorandum to boarding students, concerning second helpings in the cafeteria.

The seconds policy will continue the same as last year. If a student takes double portions of any one item; or, one portion each of the main entrees, then he has received "seconds" during his first pass through the line. This is his initial limit. However, if a student desires to come back later for more food, the choice of the first or second entree is his or hers.

The one dessert policy is still in effect. There is one change in seconds. When steak dinners are served, there will only be 1 steak per student due to cost involved. In order to complete our planned program for your benefit we in turn will appreciate your cooperation in keeping food waste to a minimum.

We would also like to say at this time that only your board fee is involved in the cafeteria operation. We do not receive additional appropriations from state funds for the food service operation. It is an independent self sustaining operation governed by state policies. Your fee must cover the complete cost including labor, china, and glass replacement and the food. It is only with your cooperation that we can continue to serve without increasing cost to you. Your board fee entitles you to eat 21 meals per week at a cost of 62 cents per meal. We want to thank all of you for your past efforts and we hope we can develop a better future.

GSC History Society Holds Special Meeting

The GSC History Society held an informal barbeque and meeting on Sunday, Sept. 19 at 5:30 p.m. in front of the Forestry Building. The old members and guests were present, along with several of this year's potential members. About eleven students attended besides Dr. Flack, Chairman of the Social Studies Department; Mr. James Hilgenberg, social studies instructor, and his wife, and Dr. Darnall, a social science instructor.

After the meal, a short discussion ensued concerning upcoming events. The invited guests were told of last year's activities and field trip and of upcoming plans for this year.

On Tuesday morning, Sept. 21, at 9:30 the charter members met and discussed possible field trips and articles to be read for future meetings. The group will be holding regular meetings on selected Sundays at 7 p.m. at the home of Dr. Flack.

The Placement Office has compiled a list of prospective December, 1971, graduates by their fields of preparation, together with addresses and telephone numbers. These will be forwarded to all West Virginia County School superintendents.
