GSC To Be Visited By Evaluation Team

Glenville State College will be visited by a review team of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The college requested the visit so the team might re-evaluate our public probationary status.

The team will arrive on campus Nov. 28 for a three-day visit. During their visit, they will meet with the faculty, administrative staff and representative groups of students.

The college has prepared two documents to assist the team in their study. The first is "Institutional Profile" which is a self study and evaluation by each division of the college. It contains studies of the administration, curriculum, library, etc. and also a section dealing with each academic department.

The second document, "Basic Institutional Data" is a compilation of facts and figures pertaining to the college. It tells of the organization of the college, describes the governing board, looks at financial aid and curriculum. It also contains a section on faculty retirement and a study of the student body. A section is also devoted to the physical plant of the college and its value.

The material in the documents given to the review team tells them much about the college but a campus visit is necessary to substantiate those documents and get individual impressions.

New Wing Addition Opens For Women

Sunday, Nov. 21, marks the formal open house for the new wing of Women's Hall. The open house will be held from 1-4 p.m. and everyone is invited to attend. All visitors should simply check in at the desk on the ground level before proceeding on their tour of the building.

With a final scooting of beds, shuffling of clothes and scraping of boxes, Women of Women's Hall moved into the new wing on Sunday, Nov. 14, the first day of occupation in the new "C-wing." Women's Hall now has six additional floors with brightly painted rooms and modern new furnishings.

On all the upper floors, there are four suites, one large apartment and a lounge. In each suite there is a hallway, a bathroom, and four two-person bedrooms. Each apartment has a large living room with couches, chairs and end tables; a kitchenette with table, chairs, stove, refrigerator and sink, a two-person bedroom and a large bathroom. The lounges on each floor are for the girls' personal use. These lounges have tables, chairs, couches, and each is equipped with an inner-dorm phone.

The ground floor has a large office and reception desk area, a spacious recreation room, two specially equipped rooms for handicapped residents, and the house director's apartment. In the recreation room, there are couches, chairs, card tables, a ping-pong table, a stereo, and a television. The two rooms for handicapped residents have special furnishings and special bathroom facilities. The ground floor also houses the dorm director, Mrs. Eva Taylor. Mrs. Taylor's apartment includes a living room, a kitchenette, two bedrooms, and a bathroom.

Sen. Galperin Speaks To GSC Student Body

Senator Si Galperin (D) from Kanawha County spoke to the students of GSC in the college auditorium on Thursday Nov. 11.

Senator Galperin spoke on the topic of stripmining and its ill effects upon the natural beauty of West Virginia. He went into a great deal of statistics about the amount of coal which could be mined by the stripmining method and the larger amount of coal which, out of necessity, will have to be mined by the underground method.

Senator Galperin stated that the percent of coal which is available to be stripmined would last over a period of some 80 more years. He stated, as one can see, this would cause almost complete destruction of the physical terrain of West Virginia.

Senator Galperin, along with his speech, used slides of stripmining sites in West Virginia to show what kind of conditions rise out of this type of mining. Also there were slides showing the type of reclaiming of the land which these major mining companies do.

The program ended with a question and answer period. Mainly, the questions involved the workings of the legislature and how strip-mining may be stopped or used to improve use of land reclamation.

AWS Sponsors Dinner, Reservations Required

The Association of Women Students (AWS) through the cooperation of Mr. Harkins, Food Service Director, is sponsoring a semi-formal dinner dance to be held Nov. 23 at 6:30 p.m. in the new cafeteria. The dinner will be a formal buffet with the Glenville State College Combo providing the music.

There will be no charge for those students showing a validated I.D. card, however without a validated I.D. the admission charge will be $1.00. Hors d'oeuvres will be served in the Multi-Purpose Room at 6:30 p.m. Due to the nature of the event it will be for couples only. Reservations must be placed with one of the cafeteria cashiers by Nov. 19, no later.

The Literary Society will hold its monthly meeting Sunday, Nov. 21 in Old Louis Bennett Lounge. New Negro Poets a book edited by Langston Hughes will be discussed by the society with individual members of the club discussing particular poems. Refreshments will be served. Everyone is encouraged to attend.

The Wesley Foundation will hold a coffee house, Tues. Nov. 23, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Everyone is invited.

Present, Future Education Discussed In Convocation

Dr. Archie Dykes, Chancellor of The University of Tennessee, delivered the main address in the Centennial Convocation held Tuesday, Nov. 16 at 10 a.m. The Centennial Cultural Affairs Committee and the local chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity, sponsored the Convocation, and the topic of discussion was "Professional Education of Teachers: Present Status and Future Trends."

As Dr. Dykes followed through the points of present and future teaching trends he seemed to stress more general training for teaching instead of specialized fields of study.

Dr. Delmas F. Miller, Dean of the College of Human Resources and Education, West Virginia University, spoke next. Dr. Miller pointed out the need for student teaching centers in West Virginia and he introduced the idea of paying teachers according to merit.

The next speaker, Galen F. Duling, Director of Teacher Education of Fairmont State College brought up the idea of having a probationary period of actual teaching before receiving a teaching certificate.

After the speeches, the group gathered for a panel discussion with Harry M. Brawley, Executive Secretary, W.Va. Educational Broadcasting Authority, as moderator. The audience participated in this symposium and several interesting points were brought up and discussed concerning student teaching, openings in the various fields and the possibilities of vocational education.

The summary of the convocation was given by Dr. Charles W. Southard, Assistant State Superintendent of Schools. He stressed the final point brought up by Dr. Dykes—that more people in the state and throughout the nation should become involved in supporting our educational system.

Centennial Area Dinners Planned by GSC Alumni

Robert Gainer, Alumni Director, has announced that several alumni dinner parties will be held throughout the year in celebration of the GSC Centennial.

On Nov. 19 the regional alumni dinner for Roane County and Jackson County will be held in Spencer.

Dennis Myers will serve as host for the event. Orton Jones, former GSC student and present member of the state legislature, will be the toastmaster.

President Wilburn and Dean Somerville will also be guests at this dinner.

A tentative spring Centennial party is planned for GSC graduates now living in Washington, D. C., Va., and Md. The party will be held in late April or early May in Annapolis, Md. John Barrett will be the host for this occasion.

The Kanawha Alumni Chapter plans to hold a joint meeting and dinner party in February at the time of the basketball tournaments. The host for this event will be Russ McQuain.

A spring party for graduates in Lewis County and Harrison County has also been tentatively scheduled. The party will be held at Jackson's Mill and Mrs. Ruth Zinn will be the hostess.

Play To Be Presented In Wesley Foundation

"No Exit," a play being presented in the "Theater in the Round" method of drama, will be shown in the Wesley Foundation on Dec. 6-10. Tickets for the production may be obtained from the speech office in the basement of the Administration Building. Those wishing to attend the play must have a ticket.

The cast of "No Exit," now in the second week of rehearsal, includes: Mike Lamm, Valet; Gale Lively-Garcin; Melanie Hess-Estelle; and Marquita Stephens-Inez.

"No Exit," which is the first production ever staged in the Wesley Foundation, will be presented at 8:05 p.m.

The Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will hold a Thanksgiving service, Mon. Nov. 22, at 8 p.m. in the Wesley Foundation Lounge. Special music will be presented. All students and faculty are invited.

School Spirit Topic Remains Relevant

Editors Note:

[This week's Mercury commemorates the 42nd birthday of the student newspaper. From its inception, the Mercury has acted as a sounding board for all campus residents. We thought it would be interesting, in this anniversary issue, to reproduce the first editorial printed in this paper. The name of the author is not known, but it seems the trouble of the time was "school spirit." Noting that GSC's first basketball game is Nov. 22 (Shrine Tournaments), the editorial may not be as old in relevance as it is in chronological age.

For the past few weeks students of Glenville Normal School have heard from all sides of the well-worn question, "Where has our school spirit gone?" The question is not new. Quite the contrary, it is old. So old in fact that few of us remember when we first heard it. We do remember that from the grades up, our school life has been punctuated by such expressions as "proper attitude," "good spirit," and like phrases. These mean the same. Now they are all included under that one head—"school spirit." Every high school and college in our country has had that phrase dinned about until the expression may be said to have become standardized.

Under the goading of school spirit, students gather in groups for "those" meetings, "pep" meetings and different demonstrations where they shout themselves hoarse and tell each other that they are helping the school. Perhaps half of them would rather not be there. Perhaps they have no desire to help with the yells. But they come. They know that to stay away is a breach of school conduct and they fear to stay away while others attend.

The next day after the meeting the students gather again and go to the athletic engagement in a body. There they go through with their well-drilled yells and consider themselves as helping to win the game. Perhaps they do help the team to win. We will not deny this, but that is not the question. The question that arises is: Does this sort of thing really mean school spirit? Such an idea does not even approach the fullest meaning of the phrase. In the first place, athletics are not the entire school but only a small part of it. The popular conception leans too much to the idea that athletics are the only thing in school which needs support. The average student thinks his duty done if he lends his lung power at the games. How many stop to think that they should support the other activities and the educational program just as strenuously as they work for the team?

The next thing to consider is whether or not the thing we call by this name is really school spirit. School spirit is the feeling we have for our school. It is manifested by the lengths to which we are willing to go in support of that school, and by the sincerity of our efforts. When we must have meetings, make speeches, and sing songs in order to work up our spirit, it is not likely to be of lasting duration. Such spirit is only artificial stimulus and under the pressure of defeat or reverse—it goes down like the mercury of a thermometer in a cold wind.

On the other hand, there is another kind of school spirit. It is the kind you do not hear of so much. It is the kind that is felt, both by the possessor and other people. The holder of real school spirit is whole-hearted in his support of the school. He needs no artificial stimulation. He will contribute his support voluntarily. His cheers come spontaneously and his support does not fail when his school does.

Real school spirit makes itself known wherever the student goes. The eyes of the world look to him to see the school. The impression he creates is the impression that people will carry of the school. He who possesses school does spirit does have to strive to show it; it shows of its own record. He can scarcely hide it if he so desires.

Out of this discussion we may be able to answer the question concerning our loss of spirit. The answer is that it is not lost at all. It is right here in full force. Those who bewail our lack of proper pride seem to base their statement on the lack of noise at games. This is only a very small part of our school activity and is of questionable value and sincerity. The average student of Glenville Normal has a deep and lasting regard for the school and shows it wherever he goes. How often do we hear such expressions as: "Our faculty is stronger than that of any other school of like rank near here," "Our credits are accepted by practically all higher institutions," "Our standards are higher than those of others," and "Best school in the state." Such expressions are heard daily and are not the works of insincere or artificially stimulated students. They come from those who are really proud of their school. When all is said, we must admit that the Normal does have a group of very loyal students and those who would adversely criticize them will have to take another track.

Greek News

The Greek News for the past week includes:

The Gamma Kappa chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha held its Founder's Day ritual Monday, Nov. 15 at 6 p.m. It was on this day, 70 years ago, that ASA was founded at Longwood College in Farmville, Va.

A coke party was given by the girls Thursday, Nov. 18 from 6-7:30 p.m. in the ASA lounge. This party was given to better acquaint all women of Glenville State College with the sisters of ASA.

Various plans are being made for money making projects. One such project is a rummage sale to be held the first week of December.

Tri-Sigma is planning a "sisterhood" weekend for Nov. 19-21. Friday night the girls will greet their guests who will be the sisters from Gamma Gamma Chapter from California State College, Pa. They will top off the evening with a slumber party for the actives, guests, and the pledges. Saturday the girls will be taking part in a scavenger hunt, where the president of the pledge class will be kidnapped and hidden.

The sisters of Delta Zeta on Monday, Nov. 15, began a rose week for the Delta Zeta pledges. A lamp-lighting ceremony was held and later on the pledges received messages from their "Rose Buddies." On Tuesday, the pledges held a "pledge service" day in which they stayed in the union and worked for the actives. On Wednesday the sisters had a "communications day," and every girl made a special attempt to contact a pledge in some way with a message of sisterhood. On Thursday morning a big sis ceremony was held at the sorority house. These events were in preparation for the pledges' party on Friday and their initiation into Delta Zeta on Saturday.

The sisters of Delta Zeta are presently selling tool kits as a money making project. Anyone interested in purchasing one can contact any Delta Zeta.

On Oct. 31, Theta Girls initiated into its organization ten new members. The new Theta Girls are: Cathy Baker, a special education major from Clarksburg; Virginia Bathen, an English major from Elkton, Md.; Cathy Deem, an elementary education major from Parkersburg; Linda De Luca, a physical education major from Peekskill, New York; Linda Glass, a library science major from Romney; Mary Lou Hart, a business education major from Parkersburg; Vickie Key, an art major from Sutton; Martha Moore, a special education major from Charleston; Martha Storts, a physical education major from St. Albans; and Beverly Wood, a social studies major from Clendenin.

Theta Girls participated in Sadie Hawkins by making pies and assisting with various activities.

French Club Convenes, Chooses New Officers

The French Club met Sunday, Nov. 14 in the home of Mrs. Susan Seitz at 202 Johnson Street. At this meeting, new officers were elected for the year. The new officers are: Sue Bumgardner, president; Jean Louis Bernardin, vice-president; Sue Scott, secretary; and Pamela Hardman, treasurer.

The club is having a popcorn sale before Christmas. Anyone is welcome to join the club if he has an interest in France or French. Mrs. Seitz, instructor of French, is the club's advisor.

Leather jacket left at Ford Garage over Homecoming. Mr. Stump says it may be claimed at his garage, and owner may pay for this ad. (85 cents).

College Newspaper To Celebrate 42nd Birthday On November 23

By Charlotte Howes

Since November 25, 1929, the Glenville Mercury has been serving the students and college community of GSC by following its simple policy, "we print the news; we do not make it." The Mercury was started by a group of interested students consisting of Warren Blackhurst, Cass; Robert Blair, Harrisville; Ralph Boyles, Clarksburg; Paul Davis, Fairmont; Harry Hamilton, Hinton; Emma Joan Haumann, Glenville; Lloyd Jones, Richwood; Baneeta McConkey, Copen; Herbert Nottingham, Glenville; Thomas Rogers, Hinton; Harry B. Taylor, Troy; and Fred V. Wilson, Harrisville. The advisors who assisted these students were Mr. Lloyd M. Jones, GSC business manager and Mr. Linn Hickman editor of the Glenville Democrat. The Mercury replaced the Normal Bulletin Tower which in October, 1922, had been named The Tower, published student news from 1916 to 1926.

The name for the newspaper was chosen through a contest in which people submitted appropriate titles. Miss Carmen Rinehart won the contest with her entry Mercury which was chosen because of its mythological connotation. Some of the other entries were "The Pioneer Post," "The Mountain Sun," "General Remark," "The Weekly Washout," "The Damburst," "Glenville Galaxy," and "Sympathetic Insight into Contemporary Student Life."

The first Mercury office consisted of two typewriters, two desks, and a mimeograph machine which was located in the administration building. The Mercury office was later moved to the basement of the Robert F. Kidd Library which is now Clark Hall.

Reporting for the Mercury throughout the years has been done by journalism classes and other interested students. The first definite position held by any instructor on the staff of the Mercury was that of advertising manager held by Nelson Wells. The first editors appointed were Dr. Max Ward and John Rogers.

Printing the Mercury has been done by the Glenville Democrat, the Republican Delta in Buckhannon and the Elk Printing Company in Clay. During the first year of publication, the Mercury incurred a deficit of $300.00. After raising the subscription price to $.75 from $.50 the second year, the Mercury still incurred a deficit but the amount was only $100.00.

The first picture to appear in the Mercury was in the ninth issue. It was a picture of the sports figure, Frank Vass, who was a basketball center. After the first appearance usually one picture was put in each issue.

In commemoration of the Mercury's 42nd birthday, a party will be held in the press room from 3-5 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 23. Persons who have been associated with the Mercury in the past years will be guests of the present Mercury staff.

Down On The Corner

by Mike Smith

Intramurals . . .

A meeting of two undefeated volleyball teams was held Monday night. The contest pitted Theta Xi's Tear Gas Bombers led by Rick (The Mask) Hubbard against the Darrell Atkins-coached Alley Cats. The Alley Cats won the battle of unbeaten but Hubbard had this comment after the heart breaking loss. "Injuries to our starting six definitely hurt us."

The volleyball season has ended but the tournament will be held next week. Nine teams will be entered in the single elimination event, according to Coach Tim Carney, intramural director.

Intramural basketball is just around the corner, so you better start getting your teams organized.

High School State Finals . . .

Ansted won the Class A championship over Fairview last week. The loss was Fairview's second of the season while Ansted remained undefeated.

The Class AA championship over the weekend will pit Oceana's Indians against Ceredo Kenova. I predict the the Wayne County Wonders to win by 14.

In the Class AAA play-off East Bank will go up against Morgantown. I might be setting myself up for criticism but I predict East Banks Pioneers to win by four touchdowns.

Shrine Tournament . . .

The Pioneer basketball team will compete in the shrine tournament at Weston Monday and Tuesday nights. Shepherd, Salem, and W.Va. Wesleyan will also be in the tournament.

The Pioneers will scrimmage the Marshall freshman today at Huntington. Coach Jesse Lilly will take 10 players on the trip.

Five starters will be returning to the Pioneers this season. Senior forward Dale Tawney is back to lead The Blues in his final season. Senior 6' 7" clutch player is from Parkersburg. Three juniors returning are 6' 3" forward Steve Datcher, a much improved shooter, 6' 0" guard Ron Jones, a fine shooter, and Jim Garnett, a 6' 1" ball handling wizard. The other returning starter is 6' 3" high scoring, leaper Earl Hawkins, a sophomore.

Those making a strong bid for a starting slot are 6' 4" Ralph Cook, senior Jim Spicer, senior Kenneth Ledbetter, and junior Gene King.

Gridiron Wrapup . . .

The Pioneers will lose much by graduation but will also have back a host of talent. Carl Alloway, Richard Richmond, Randy Jeffries, Chris Anderson, Jim Carter, Ken Morrison, Mark Reger, Robbie Richardson, and Marcus Rice are just a few. One pleasant surprise is the return of Scotty Hamilton and Neil Christiansen. Both have been mentioned as seniors this year, but both have one year of eligibility left. They announced recently that they will return to Glenville next year to play one more time for Coach Hanlin and staff.

Gary (Deacon) Jones and Raymond (The Toe) Swisher were contacted recently by a pro football scout. I wonder what the future has in store for these two Pioneer greats.

The Pioneers finished third in total offense this past season. It's not official yet but I think shifty halfback Carl Alloway finished the season as the third leading rusher in WVIAC.

Sports Shorts . . .

WVU's Mountaineers play Syracuse in their final game tomorrow. A win over the Orangemen would give the Mounties an impressive 8-3 record. That would be much better than what people expected they would do this year.

Bob Gresham, former Mountaineer halfback with the New Orleans Saints has scored three touchdowns this season.

Dick Butkas, after scoring the winning extra point in Chicago's 16-15 win over Washington Sunday remarked about the broken play, "It was one of football's screwier plays."

The GSC bowling team is to be congratulated for its efforts last week in the tournament at WVU. The women copped first place while the men finished second in their division. The second men's team led by "Marvelous" Lennis Bolten finished fifth. That's all . . . Go to the Shrine tournament and keep that good attitude.

First Swim Team Impressive in Loss

Glenville State College swimming team made a fine showing in a dual meet this past weekend against the Golden Bears of West Virginia Tech. The final score was a very respectful 56051, favor of Tech.

Glenville had four first place finishers-led by Gary Field in the 200 yard butterfly, Rick Cantarelli in the 100 yard free style, R. J. Westbrook in the 500 yard free style and the 400 yard free style relay team which consisted of Ralph Westbrook, Terry McCartney, Rick Cantarelli and Ed Williams.

Dave Bosley finished second in the 1000 yard and 500 yard free styles. Terry McCartney placed second in the 100 yard free style and third in the 50 yard free style. John Howell finished third in both the optional and required dive and third in the 200 yard backstroke. Hercy Given placed second in the 200 yard backstroke.

This is the first swimming team GSC has had. They are to be commended for a fine performance against Tech. The swimming team was edged out by a mere six points.

LMC Spirit Copier, Secretary Copier Made Available to Students, Teachers

Many times when a student or professor needs to run some spirit copies, the equipment is often in use or inoperable. When this happens next time, remember there is a spirit copier in the Learning Materials Center that is available. All that a student needs to use this machine is his paper and master.

In addition to the spirit duplicator, the Learning Materials Center has a 3M Secretary Copier that will make a print master from any line carbon base copy.

Some of the materials which can be used to make into thermo spirit masters with this machine are Xerox copies, typewritten copies, magazine articles, newspaper print, and pencils.

However, the machine cannot make a spirit master from articles alone in ball point pen or felt tip markers such as Flairs.

The 3M Secretary Copier is also useful in that it will also make paper copies and transparencies to be used with the overhead projector from any carbon based material.

The cost for the use of the machine is only five cents for paper copies, ten cents for spirit masters, and 15 cents for transparencies.

The operation of this machine is relatively simple. Anyone wishing to learn how to use the 3M copier is welcome to stop by the Center and one of the personnel will demonstrate the operational procedures.

Debate Team Goes To Carlow College

The GSC Debate Team traveled to Carlow College in Pittsburgh on Oct. 22 and 23. The team is made up of the following: Gregg Miller, Dave Grapes, Richard Waller, Gary Haddox and Mr. James Murphy, speech instructor at GSC.

The proposition for the debate was "That More Stringent Controls Should be Imposed Upon Government agencies Gathering Information About United States Citizens." This is the nationwide topic for debate. All debate teams must discuss this proposition when competing in all the meets this year.

The negative team debated three times and they won two and lost one. The affirmative team debated twice and lost both times.

The team will travel to Morris Harvey in Charleston this weekend Nov. 19-20. They will debate for six rounds. The only change in the team is Mollie Simpson will replace Dave Grapes for this debate.

"Ecclesiastes" Planned By Interpretation Class

The Oral Interpretation class is in the process of beginning preparation for the Dec. 2-3 production of "Ecclesiastes," the first chronic drama, and an adaptation of the Biblical book of the same name. The production will be presented at 8:05 p.m. in the auditorium.

"Ecclesiastes" was commissioned by the National Council of Churches in 1969.

Members of the class will be taking parts in the production, which is the first time it will have ever been staged.

'Project Food Baskets' Begun By Newman Club

Project Food Baskets, sponsored by the Newman Club, is a drive to collect canned foods and money to buy food for the needy families in Gilmer County.

Any organization or individual wishing to participate in the drive should contact Mariann DeRico, room 115A Women's Hall or Ruth Synder, room 109A Women's Hall for more information.

Food baskets will be packed in the Wesley Foundation. The date the baskets are to be distributed will be announced at a later date.

Sadie Hawkins Termed Success As Festivities Are Concluded Sat.

By Tom Woods

Whew! Sadie is finally over! If that sounds like a sigh of relief, you are right. This year's Sadie Hawkins festivities were the most exciting that the brothers of Theta Xi fraternity have ever presented. The music by Yancy O' Flanigan was enjoyed by all those who attended the dances and the festivities.

Six Judges Are Selected To Nominate for Awards

In anticipation of the 1971-72 Alpha Psi Omega awards for excellence in drama, six judges have been selected by the speech department to serve as a nominating committee for the annual acting awards. Those honored are: Mrs. Yvonne King, advisor to the Mercury; Dr. Lowell Fredin, professor of English; Miss Mary Lou Raebler, instructor in English; Mrs. Karen Fredin, instructor of foundation English; Mr. James Murphy, instructor of speech; and Mr. Gary Gillespie, instructor of humanities.

For each performance, the judges will select best actor, best actress best supporting actor and actress and best minor actor. At the end of the year nominations will be placed before the judges and voted upon for the second time. Other awards such as best technician, best Ohnimgohow Player both male and female and a special award to the most outstanding theater award at GSC will also be presented.

A spring banquet in early May will be held and the awards will then be presented.

presentation of the Daisy Mae and Little Abner awards. This year Daisy Mae was Janet Posey and her "feller," little Abner, was Craig Lipscomb. The festivities of Saturday afternoon were the highlights of the weekend and enjoyed by all those who took part. The highlights of the events were the women's three legged race, the cigar smoking contest, the tobacco spitting contest, and back-to-back race and the log toss. The log toss was won by Kenny Morrison and the back-to-back race was captured by Steve Datcher and Larry Jefferson. The three legged race featured the fleet feet of Debbie Woods, Helen Lyons, and Becky Law. The women's cigar smoking contest was won by Kay Woody and the tobacco spitting contest was captured by Dale Tawney.

The festivities were capped off by the mass marriages by Marryin' Sam White. All the women of GSC finally were able to keep their "fellers" hooked for at least a weekend. Following the festivities the sound of Yancy O' Flanigan filled the ballroom from 9-12 p.m. The brothers of Theta Xi would like to thank all those students of GSC who helped make this weekend a high-light through their attendance during the weekend.

THE FACTS ABOUT WOMAN'S MEDICAL ASSISTANCE

The New York State Abortion Act provides for the performance of abortions by licensed physicians in accredited hospitals and their affiliated out-patient clinics, up to and including the twenty-fourth week of pregnancy. There is no residency requirement for a therapeutic abortion and for those seventeen years or older, parental consent is not necessary.

The Woman's Medical Asst. (WMA) is a self-supporting organization whose function is to assist those women confronted with problem pregnancies. WMA makes all necessary arrangements with Board Certified obstetricians and gynecologists in fully accredited hospitals and clinics. This medical attention can be provided within 24 hours after your initial contact. If necessary, we will gladly assist in transportation arrangements.
