Reader's Theatre Production will be presented in two acts. Act I will feature Thornton Wilder's "Unicorn in the Garden" and "The Wolf and Red Riding Hood," and Stephen Leacock's "Behind the Beyond" and Jean Kerr's "Ten Worst Things About Men."

Act II will entail Ray Bradbury's "Dandelion Wine," "Behind the Beyond" is an excellent English drawing room comedy similar to today's soap opera.

"Dandelion Wine" features the nostalgia of the "good ole radio days." Each act will be costumed in simple, basic outfits and musical renditions will be played throughout both acts.

The cast and crew of Reader's Theatre Production urge everyone to attend this unique performance.

Dean Maze Presents Views

Dear Students:

Two things have happened recently that prompt me to write this "open letter to students." Let me mention the two situations and then try to explore their possible relationship.

First, during recent performances of the extremely well-done play "Butterflies are Free," a few members of the audience distracted both actors and viewers when they vocally reacted to lines in the play while a few others wandered in and out of the auditorium throughout the performance.

Second, the largest committee on this campus, and the one that has the most influence on the program that 85 per cent of you are following while students at Glenville State College, is in the midst of revising at least 40 semester hours of your required courses that make up the "General Studies" portion of your baccalaureate degree if you are in a teacher education program. These General Studies, according to the Accreditation Standards of the West Virginia Board of Education, are designed to:

"... provide an appreciation of the common cultural heritage, the inculcation of common skills, and the formation of values, attitudes, tastes, and traits associated with an educated person."

Sub-committees of the Committee on Teacher Education in the areas of Humanities, Social Sciences, Science and Mathematics, and Health and Physical Education, have been formed to recommend the nature of courses and number of credit hours needed in each of these areas to achieve the overall objective of providing the General Studies component that should result in "an educated person." One student representative is named to each of these sub-committees, but I wonder if we are really getting all the ideas from the student body that we should have in this important endeavor.

Let me make two requests of you:

First, if you have any suggestions on the kinds of courses and the number of credit hours that should be included in the various areas of the general studies program I have mentioned above, will you please write down your suggestions and give them to me so that I can pass them along to the appropriate sub-committee. Each of you should definitely have some reaction to the present courses we offer in the general studies program. Help us revise them for future students so that they will have the opportunity to develop attributes of "an educated person."

Second, help spread the word that "an educated person" reflects his cultural attainment in such public settings as plays, concerts, exhibitions, and the like, and there is appropriate behavior for these situations. Some of the behavior during the performance of "Butterflies" was most distracting to the actors, and I know I would have been embarrassed if I had been entertaining some of my friends from other campuses if they had been in the audience. Let us all work together to make Glenville State College a community of educated men and women.

Sincerely,
Clarence Maze Jr.
Dean of Academic Affairs

Don't Take A Holiday-Vote!

Are students at GSC interested in the political affairs of our state and country?

Critical questions confront the eleven million newly enfranchised voters approaching the ballot box. First of all we must realize that the candidates vying for the presidency or any other political office differ widely in ideology and outlook. The potential voter cannot sit this one out on the grounds that the choice is between the lesser of two evils.

The new voter who refuses to cast a ballot is shirking the responsibility which he claimed he deserved. To refuse to vote or to vote casually is to solicit the disgust of those who demanded the 18-year-old vote.

The college student cannot choose to remain unaffected by the direction of national and state leadership. If the President of the United States chooses to tolerate unemployment and underemployment our Ph.D.'s and teachers will continue to drive cabs and be secretaries.

You must not shirk this responsibility to vote because if you refuse to vote you will be hurting yourself personally.

Accept your responsibilities and vote on November 7, 1972.

What's Up Doc.?

Q. What are the symptoms of anemia? What foods may be eaten to help the anemic condition?

A. There are several classes of anemia, the most common and the most easily treated being that of hypochromic anemia (also called iron deficiency anemia). It is characterized by low hemoglobin or iron in the red blood cells. The signs and symptoms of anemia are tiredness, lack of energy, and low resistance to infection. The excessive paleness of nail beds and inner eye lids is also a sign. In the laboratory, anemia may be checked by a red cell count and the measurement of the hemoglobin content of the cells. Foods that supply iron will benefit the anemic situation. Red meat is the class of food containing the greatest amount of iron. Other foods that contain minor amounts of iron may be found from a source describing the chemical breakdown of foods. Taking medically prescribed iron is another method of treatment.

Q. What is your opinion concerning a student's taking pep pills to stay awake to study for tests?

A. DON'T! The basic learning psychology states that a good student needs only to review for tests. There should be no need to take pills to stay awake. "Pep pills" are known as "uppers" in the drug scene. They are of the amphetamine class and their medication value is not of this nature. If you get "hooked" on "uppers," it will be easy for you to take a "downer" to get off the high. With the above in mind, I hope you realize that you could become a candidate for the drug pusher who will try to sell you other feelings.

Q. Is it possible for the body to build an immunity to penicillin? Can it cause side effects if the person is not allergic to it?

A. It may seem that the body is immune to penicillin if it does not cure the particular condition treated. Actually, the situation probably is that of the bacteria being resistant to the penicillin. No actual immunity is created in the body against the penicillin. Penicillin sensitive (allergic) persons have built up an antibody titre in their system. An anaphylactic reaction occurs when penicillin is added to the body causing a struggle between the penicillin and the antibodies in the blood stream and tissues. This is a serious reaction and could cause death in a short period of time if it is not treated promptly.

Penicillin, like any other antibiotic, can cause side effects which will vary depending upon the individual. Some effects are nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, dryness of the mouth, chills, fever, and arthralgia.

Have You Heard?

By Mike Rust

It was nice to get back on the winning track as the Pioneers ended a two game losing streak with a 10-0 victory over the Yellow Jackets of West Virginia State.

The defense did a great job of containing State's high powered offense holding the Yellow Jackets to 60 total yards, 40 on the ground and 20 through the air. Before the game West Virginia State had been averaging over 150 yards on the ground.

Chris Anderson got the offense moving smooth again, mixing up his plays and picking up 174 yards through the air.

Tomorrow the Pioneers face a tough test in the Concord Mountain Lions. Concord started out slowly, but have really been coming on strong late in the season. The Mountain Lions knocked off West Liberty 13-7 last week and Fairmont 26-23 the week before that. Also the Mountain Lions have knocked off the eleventh ranked NAIA team, Newberry 3-0.

Concord has the top passer in the conference in Marshall Parker. He can throw the ball with either hand and is currently averaging 138 yards passing a game.

The Mountain Lions have made many changes in their personnel and now have many sophomores and freshmen in their starting lineup.

The game is to be played in Beckley and will start at 8:00 p.m. Year of the Upset. . .

1972 has to go down as the "Year of the Upset." Every week it seems that one of the top college or professional teams is beaten. Last week it was Arizona State and Colorado that fell victim to this ever increasing disease. The week before it was Notre Dame and Oklahoma.

This week Nebraska plays Colorado and it would not surprise me if the Buffalo's defeat the third ranked Cornhuskers.

Always Rains . . .

For the past four years that I have been here at Glenville State it has rained when the Pioneers have played West Virginia State. Also it is interesting to note that we have won all these games.

Five Rank WVIAC On Pioneer Squad

Five members of the GSC Pioneer squad have been ranked in the WVIAC. Chris Anderson holds the number 2 ranking in passing with a completion of 50% of his passes. Anderson is also number three in total offense with 113.2 yards a game.

Roger Bonnette is ranked number two in interceptions with 4 pick-offs. Steve Buffington is number one in pass receptions averaging 86.3 yards per game.

Paul Ashby is also ranked number one in punting with an average of 41.2 yards per punt. Jim Carter is ranked third in kickoff returns with 25.3 yards per game.

Glenville also boasts two players in national ranks with Paul Ashby ranked sixth in punting and Steve Buffington is ranked sixteenth in pass receiving.

P. Scientists Conduct Poll

A poll was recently taken by Dr. Darnall's political science classes dealing with the upcoming election.

Of the approximate 500 students that were polled 439 were registered to vote in the November election and 52 had not yet registered. When asked if they intended to vote on Nov. 7, 408 stated that they would vote and 72 said they would not vote.

The preference for President revealed Nixon had won by a landslide with 345 votes compared to McGovern with 99, Schmitz with 5 votes and 39 students were undecided as to whom they would vote for.

In the poll for governor of West Virginia Arch Moore and Jay Rockefeller tied with 227 votes each while 31 students were undecided as to whom they would vote for.

Students Must Sign Up For Seminary Interview

The Garrett Theological Seminary has expressed its wish to visit our campus for the purpose of interviewing those interested in the profession of ministry.

In order to make sure that their trip from Illinois is worthwhile, I would like for those people interested to please notify the Placement Office. It would be most inconvenient for their representative to travel all that distance and not have a good turnout. Therefore we need to know how many people are interested before setting a date for their visit.

The Robert F. Kidd Library is having a book sale on Thursday, November 16, 1972 on the second floor of the library. Approximately 500 duplicate gift books will be sold for 20 cents each. About 200 of these books deal with elementary reading methods.

The last day for dropping classes is November 8, 1972.

Classes will be dismissed all day Tuesday, November 7, 1972 for National Election Day. The food service will maintain the following schedule for those students who stay on campus: 10:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m. -- Brunch 4:30 p.m.-5:30 p.m. -- Dinner
Snack Bar -- Closed all day
Food items may be obtained at the vending rooms of the residence halls.
Game room -- Open 2:30 p.m.-10:00 p.m.

Ken Wilson Wins Chess Tournament

A Chess Tournament was held by the reorganized Chess Club of Glenville State College. The Chess Club was inactive for the last two years. The Club got off to a very enthusiastic start by holding its own tournament. The winner of the tournament was Kenneth Wilson of Sissonville, W.Va., a freshman math major. The runner-up was Ken Vannoy of Ulysses, Pa., a sophomore business adm. major.

The Club is planning to hold another tournament starting the first of November. The Chess Club meets every Thursday morning at 9:30 a.m. in the Conference Room on 2nd floor in the Library. All students are invited to come and get involved in playing chess. If you don't know how to play chess, come anyway. Someone will teach you how to play the great game. The club is also planning to be represented in an inter-collegiate tournament at Morris Harvey in the spring.

The temporary chairman is Eugene Bell, a senior business adm. major. The advisor for the Chess Club is Mr. David Gillespie, the Head Librarian. The other active members of the club are: Donnie Evans, Joe Vineyard, Mark Stover, Greg Miller, Mike Beliveau, Dave Jaffe, Steve Stanley and Darrel Atkins.

Anyone interested may attend the club meeting next Thursday.
