New Class Credit Given For Projects

Students often complain that college courses are not relevant to to-day's world. To counter this charge, through recent action of the Curriculum Committee, a new course has been provided that permits students to undertake some worthy project in the community and receive college credit for it.

Available in all departments of the College, the new course is entitled "Community Service." A single student, a group of two or three students, or even a larger group such as several members of a fraternity or sorority, may undertake a project under the direction of an interested faculty member and receive one semester hour's credit for each three clock hours per week spent on the project over the period of a semester.

Some examples of worthy projects are: teaching Cub or Brownie Scouts to swim, assisting with crafts pro-grams for Senior Citizens, planning and carrying out a recreational pro-gram for disadvantaged children, assisting in the promotion of a school bond drive with a county school system, or recording folk stories and songs from Appalachian people.

Any student or group of students interested in undertaking a project in community service should discuss the possibility with a staff member and if a program seems feasible in this area, the staff member should confer with Dean Maze to make the arrangements for offering the course

Since prior arrangement needs to be made before students sign up for the course, the course number does not appear on the regular schedule of classes. Each instructor offering the course will register his students with Add Slips the second day of the sem

Induction Authority May End In June

There has been some recent CONtroversy and overexaggeration of President Nixon's August 28 announcement that the induction authority will not be extended beyond June 30, 1973. Mr. Byron V. Pepitone, acting director of standby draft, has released the following in order to clarify any questions one may have concerning future conscription

First, the end of the induction authority is not a certainty -- only a very good probability. Secretary Laird qualified Mr. Nixon's promise by hinging its fulfillment on the under standing and respect shown toward military careerists by the American public, and on Congressional passage of the New Draft bill.

Second, even if the induction authority terminates in June, the System is by no means going out of business. Selective Service is required by permanent legislation to operate standby basis- -to be resurrected on at full force in case of an emergency situation

In other words if the American public does not respond in such a way as to fill the quota for a complete volunteer army, then the standby draft program will be enacted. The standby Draft System will encompass: (1) registration of all men at 18, (2) an anlottery, (3) classification, and (4) AFEES examinations to some men (approximately 100,000) ready for induction in case of partial or full mobilization of national troops.

"Brainchild," a Youngstown, Ohio group, will play at the annual Student Congress Christmas Dance.

Drama Dept. Plans Semester's Shows

While no actual rehearsals will be gin until after semester break, the Drama Department is currently pre-paring for three productions. Open tryouts will be held on December 4 and 5 at 7:00 p.m. in the auditorium for Eugene O'Neill's dramatic tragedy Desire Under the Elms, a costume set in the 1850's

There are parts listed for ten men seven women. This production will be heavily staffed with crew work Tentatively, a two-story set will ers. be constructed for the production. The cast will be announced before semester break although actual rehearsals will not begin until early in Ianuary

A Reader's Theatre Production, the second of the school year, have tryouts on December 11 and 12 at 7:00 p.m. in the Underground. The Brick and the Rose, a collage for voices needs ten voices. The production deals with a young boy who is defeated by the rising drug problem.

This presentation will incorporate modern music and an extensive slide presentation throughout the production. The cast and crew will tour the surrounding areas taking the play into schools, churches, and civic organiza-tions. The style and format of the Reader's Theatre Production will be similar to the production presented earlier in the Little Theatre

You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown is scheduled for the last production of the year. No definite try-out dates have been announced. A joint pro-ject between the Drama and Music Departments, this production will need a cast of four men and two women to fill the roles of Charlie Brown, Lucy, Linus, Schroeder, Patty and Snoopy

Copies of the productions may obtained from Mr. Jay Fields in the Underground Crew workers must attend a production rehearsal to fill our crew forms

"Anarchy" Is Published By Michael H. Calhoun

Michael Howard Calhoun, a junior music comprehensive major from West Union has written a poem entitled "Anarchy" which has been lected by a Board of Judges to be published in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry. The anthology is a collection of the finest poetry written by American college students rep-resenting each state. The selection was made from many thousands of ascripts submitted to the Board of Judges.

The second semester and summer rate for the school's student insurance will be $23.00 per student. Application blanks may be picked up in the office of Student Affairs.

Tonight, for your enjoyment, the Lyceum Committee will present a free color movie entitled, "Paint Your Wagon." The film will be presented in the auditorium at 8 p.m. Admission by I.D.

"Paint Your Wagon" is the third in a series of free Friday night films preented by the Lyceum Committee. Other films will be presented during

"Brainchild" Free Dec. 9; Ohio Group Involves Aud.

Student Congress announces, with great pride, that they have been able to secure "Brainchild," a Youngstown Ohio group, to perform at the annual Student Congress Christmas Dance The dance is scheduled for 10:00 p.m. through 1:00 a.m. on Saturday, Dec-ember 9, and will be held in the college ballroom

"Brainchild" has appeared in Clark sburg, Morgantown, Fairmont, Park ersburg and Charleston. They have toured state colleges and universities and appear regularly in nightclubs at Parkersburg and Morgantown. "Brainchild" is probably one of the finest groups this area of the country has ever produced. Those who have seen them perform know that the group not only involves the audience their music but also captivates them with a stage act that has to be seen to be appreciated. The group is unique in that every selection they play is faithful to the original artist's inter

East Africa Class Offered In Spring

A one credit class, social science 9 title "East Africa-Development 399 title Through Natural Resources," will be offered during the spring semester provided that 15 students register for the class. The class will be offered on Thursday evenings at 6:30 p.m. The class meeting will be approximately one-hour in length with slide lectures in Room 207, Forestry Building

The course will be instructed by Edwin Grafton, Department of Forestry. Mr. Grafton has 21/2 years of experience in Kenya, where he was lecturer in Forestry at Egerton College during 1965-67

The course will focus on the important role of natural resources in the development of the East African countries of Kenya, Uganda, and Lanzanta. Students will learn of the problems associated with emerging underdeveloped nations that depend on renewable natural resources for iomic expansion and improvement of living levels. This is in contrast to most of the industrial nations that depend on extractive mining industries for growth.

Students interested in learning bout this fascinating region of Africa make a note to register for social science 399: "East Africa Development Through Natural Resources' and join the "Safari." Additional information may be obtained from Mr. Grafton at Extension 228 or 248 pretation. "Brainchild" puts forth a program that is studded with their own works and such artists as "Crosby Stills, Nash, and Young," "The Beatles" and even "The Beachboys." When one leaves a concert by the group, he generally feels that the members are indeed talented musicians and capable of playing almost any instrument

Admission for the dance will be by I.D. cards for Glenville students. Beer will be served for refreshments. For this reason, students are reminded that they must have an I.D. or some form of identification if they desire the refreshments being served. A nominal charge will be required of non-student

Baptist Fellowship To Help The Needy

The GSC Baptist Student Fellow ship held its first meeting at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, November 12, 1972, in the basement of the Baptist Church. Revision of the Constitution was the order of the evening. Plans were discussed for helping needy families in this area, not only financially but in the form of doing odd jobs for those people who might require such assistance. Fund raising activities were also discussed. In addition, the members listened tape recording of Rev. Bill Bright, the ounder of Campus Crusade for Christ Movement, and a question - answer period will take place at the next meet ing

All meetings of the fellowship are held in the basement of the Baptist Church every Sunday evening at 6:30

Dr. Don Webb To Speak On Theological Education

Dr. Don Webb, Director of Admissions at the Methodist Theological Seminary in Ohio, will be on campus Tuesday, December 5, 1972, to talk with GSC students interested in theological education. Mr. Webb will answer general questions about theok gical education and specific questions about the seminary he represents. He will be available between 9:00 a.m. and noon on Tuesday at the Campus Religious Center across from Women's Hall. Persons interested in making appointments can do so by contacting Mr Ralph Gay or by signing the appointment schedule on the bulletin board in the lounge of the religious center

Look out below! Now, do the steps go to the right or is the turn further down? Is this the long step or the short one?

Many complaints have been heard lately on the total lack of lighting on the steps behind and beside of the library facing the book store and cafeteria. These steps are frequently used by women returning to the dorm after night classes and for the most part it turns out to be a guessing game of where the steps are.

Why were these steep steps ignored when the area around the science building and Verona Mapel Hall were so well lighted? Will it take a broken leg or two or even a fractured arm to bring this dangerous situation to light?

As the situation is now, even if it is improper for women, it would be just as safe to slide down the rail as it would be to chance using the steps. It is my intent to make known the dangerous situation that confronts us in

New Money Matters Made Clear

Not many people know the financial figures of the Student Congress, most especially the students. And for some reason this subject has been somewhat of a taboo around this campus; no one dared to ask what was spent on what (or who) and those who did so were given a maze of double talk, double figures, and double trouble.

So far, this Congress has been no different in that respect. However, we can now report a major break-through in the communications gap between the Stu dent Congress and the Student Body it serves: last week a complete expense report was issued for Homecoming, and now, perhaps one of the most contro versial issues to come before the Congress is being aired as a matter of public record.

It has been a well guarded secret (this Senator % new nothing of it until his election to office) that it is a custom to take out of the Congress budget $100 per month for the President, and $50 per month for the Secretary of the Student and pay them for 'services rendered'. This money basically comes from the student fees we all pay at the beginning of each semester; the fiscal yearly amount of the 'salary' paid to these two individuals is set at $1350 ($900 going to the President, $450 to the Secretary).

Theoretically, this more would be used as a supplement to the time lost and the trouble caused by the heavy burdens of the office in which they serve. However, first misgivings arose about the arrangement (at least to this Senator) when a Congress President was paid his monthly 'salary' while student teaching, while in all actuality, the Vice-President ran the Congress and suffered the headaches that went along with the job.

Therefore, with somewhat of a regretfulness of what had happened in the past, the present Congress voted to discontinue the practice of paying someone to be President and Secretary of the Student Body, and instead, return it to an honorary office and use the money for the betterment of all the students, not just the two who were lucky enough to be elected to those positions.

This is not to say that the offices in question lack honor now; it's just that now no one can be accused of running for office simply for the money involved. This Senator does not personally believe this to be the case with the present officers of the Congress, but somewhere along the line of Presidents, someone instituted the policy without putting it before the Student Body for a vote, and therefore violated the precious procedure of democracy. The Congress in power now decided that misuse of student funds had

The Congress in power now decided that misuse of student funds had gone on long enough,' and that a complete reversal of policy was in order: when the next Student Congress President and Secretary are sworn into office, there will be a surplus of $1350 for the following fiscal year; it is hoped they will establish new on-campus activities former Congresses were unable to provide, perhaps, due in part, to a lack of this student fees money currently budgeted to 'salaries'.

This Congress should go down as one of the most progressive in GSC history, if for this measure alone; this Senator feels that now, with the majority of the Congress no longer liberal with its constituent's money, more meaningful projects can be expected to be created as a service to the Students, not just the governing body of the Students.

Registrar Speaks To Veterans Club

At the last Veteran's Club meeting, Mr. Beryl Langford, Registrar at GSC, spoke to the members of the club concerning GI college benefits. Mr. Langford informed the veterans that there is money available for tutoring of veterans who are in need of assistance in their classes. The fund allows for up to $50 a month to be paid for tutoring. This money is in excess of regular GI Bill benefits and does not affect these benefits in any way.

Any Vets in need of tutoring assistance should contact the Veteran's Club president, Brian Taylor or Mr. Langford in the Registrar's Office. Mr. Langford also informed the veterans that in order to receive four hoursgeneral credit, a copy of the Veteran's DD214 must be in their file in the Registrar's Office.

All veterans are urged to attend the next Vets Club meeting on Tuesday, December 5, at 10:00 a.m. in the Old Louis Bennett Lounge. Pictures for the yearbook will be taken and plans for the Christmas party will be discussed.

IFC Sponsors Movies

The Glenville State College IFC is sponsoring a day for "Kiddjes" movies on Saturday December 9. The purpose of these events is to raise enough money to send representatives to the South Eastern Interfraternity Conference at Atlanta, Ga. in February. The movies will be shown in the Conrad Hotel Ballroom; one showing at 10:00 a.m. and the second at 2:00 p.m. The movie to be featured is "Doug Crockett". As an added attraction there will be two cartoons shown. The price for admission will be 500 cents per person. Refreshments will be sold in the lobby of the hotel. IFC would like to invite all children and adults to attend this event.

EDUCATION CLASS STARTS WEDNESDAY

The Home Economics majors will be involved with an adult education Education 308, beginning Nov class, 29, 1972. This class is a requirement for all Home Economics majors. It is not only an observation class, but one in instructing adults. This year the students have selected the topic pro-jects "Sing Your Way Into The Holidays," "Ye Ole Candle Shop." "Santa Secrets," "Treasure Under The Tree, "Santa's "Capture The Past Decoupage," and "Santa's Wrap." The classes are divided into three one-hour meetings in which the adults can participate in learning experience with the students. The classes are held in various rooms of the Science Building.

Registration for the adult classes will be held the last two weeks in November, and anyone wishing to enroll can contact Mrs. Roma Adkins, Home Economics Department, Glenville State College, Ext 263. Enrollment will be held Wednesday nights, 7-8, or. November 29, December 6, and December 12. On December 13, the class will be extended one-half hour so the students participating can display the things they have made

As you have already noted in the Revised Second Semester Schedule, a special topics course in speed reading is being offered for the second semester. The rate and efficiency course would be offered as a short-term course for junior and/or senior students interested in increasing reading speed and maintaining comprehension tool.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The Fraters of Tau Kappa Epsilon cordially invite everyone to attend the spaghetti dinner they are sponsoring Sunday, December 3, at the Gilmer County Recreation Center. The dinner will be served from 12:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. and tickets can be obtained from any TKE for $1.25 for adults and $.75 for children.

The fraternity will also sell light bulbs around town before the Christmas vacation. The bulbs are packed six in a package and are $2 a pack.

The TKE pledges are also sponsoring a handball tournament and anyone on campus can enter. The entry fee is $1 a person and there will be trophies for the singles champion and the doubles champs.

Delta Zeta

Recent dinner guests of the Delta Zetas were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Adkins and Miss Katherine Leisering. Mrs. Roma Adkins has agreed to work with the sorority as an assistant to their College Chapter Director.

Their national field representative, Idene Piazze, arrived in Glenville on Monday, Nov. 27, and stayed until Thursday, Nov. 30. A reception was held in her honor on Tuesday, Nov. 28, from 3:00-4:00 in the Multi-Purpose Room. Miss Piazze met with the girls as a group on Tuesday and taught them some new sones.

The Delta Zetas held a Chili Dinner on Wednesday, Nov. 29 and Thursday, Nov. 30. The chapter is also planning to distribute a variety of canned goods of a number of needy families in the Glenville area.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

The sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma are making tenative plans for a Christmas party for the Welfare children of Gilmer County.

A new slate of standing committees was appointed. They are as follows: Sentinel-Debbie Goodwin, ass't.-Barb Graham; Rush Chairman-Marcia Huffman, ass't.-Phoebe Sunderland; Founder's Day and Walton House-Debbie Davis, ass't.-Connie Silcott; Music-Rose Young, ass't.-Robin White; Scrapbook-Beth Boggs, ass't.-Libby Chaddock; Public Information-Beth Boggs, ass't.-Susie Chapman; Triangle Correspondent-Stephanie Chadwick, ass't.-Karen Alloway; Robbie Page-Judy-Rhodes, ass't.-Judy Reed.

Also the Tri-Sigmas are making plans and sending out letters for their annual Closed Ball.

Theta Xi

The brothers of Theta Xi are planning to have a foul shooting contest to be held at the gym in the physical education building.

The contest will consist of a person being given 20 foul shoots and the person who makes the most is the winner. The entry fee is $1.00 and the winner receives a $10.00 first prize award. The contest will be held sometime next week.

The brothers were recently the guests of the Theta Girls for a dinner. The girls did an excellent job and everyone had a good time.

All of the Theta Xi Intramural Basketball teams posted victories in the intramural league.

A Christmas party is being planned for next week in the house and a party for the needy children of Glenville is planned for next week, too.

Ladies of the White Rose

The Ladies of the White Rose met at the Wesley Foundation on Tuesday, Nov. 28. They discussed the upcoming initiation of their pledges. The initiation, which will be held on Sunday, Dec. 3 at 6:00, will be followed by a reception in honor of the new members.

During their pledge period the new members had to carry a white rose with them and have it signed by five actives, five officers, and five associate members of Lambda Chi Alpha. They are planning a hot dog sale to be held before the end of the semester. Miss Mary Kennedy is a new advisor to the Ladies.

Let WV-SPIRG Help Us

Dear Student,

Work in the public interest deserves your support. What have you done 'about air and water pollution lately? What have you done about occupational \oplus satety or discrimination lately? If these problems do not attect you arectly, then they affect you indirectly. If you have not done something personally in the way of solving these problems and others, the support he West Virginia Student Public Interest Research Group and you will be helping.

Last year over fifty seven percent of the students of Glenville State College signed the WV-SPIRG petition because they wanted an effective student voice to work for a better West Virginia. If WV-SPIRG is to continue to work on issues the students choose it must have the financial support that the students indicated last year. During pre-registration and registration WV-SPIRG will be asking each student to donate two dollars for the purpose of hring a full time staff and working on student selected projects. Two dollars is not very much if one considers what he or she wasted throughout the year. This may be the most important investment you will make this year. cut out for them, for State is always tough. Glenville is the defending champion District 28 champion and every team in the conference will be trying to knock them off. Let's have a ge crowd up at the gym tomorrow night and really support the Pioneers

Four Pioneers On All-WVIAC Team

The Pioneer football team finished the season with a 6-3 record and with this finish, other conference coaches so much of the fine Pioneer thought players that four were selected for the first team All-Conference unit in the WVIAC. The Pioneers landed two on the offensive unit and two on the offensive unit and two on the defense. On the offensive squad, the great passing combination of Chris Anderson and Steve Buffington landed berths at quarterback and split end, respectively Anderson is a sophomore from Hannibal Ohio and Buffington is a sophomore from Ravenswood. The Pioneers were well represented on the defensive unit with linebackers Brian Taylor and

Scotty Hamilton landing berths. Taylor is a junior from Alexandria, Va. and Hamilton, a senior, hails from Marietta, Ohio. Two other Pioneer players were selected for honorable mention with Bob Hardman of Glenville on defense and hard-running John Pratt of Parkersburg on the offense. These young men were selected on the basis of their performance during the season and coaches from opposing schools can vote for the players while a coach may not vote for his own players. The young men have received this honor from coaches who have selected four Pic neer players due to their ability shown this year

4 White Rats Undergo Diets

Once again Mrs. Adkins has brought her four white rats into the atmo sphere of her human nutrition class. The students in her nutrition class are using the four white rats and experi-menting with their dietary intake to establish a more basic understanding of nutrient and protein needs for humans. Two of the rats are on a protein deficiency diet and two are on normal protein diet. Observing the rats' growth and weight changes, the students will find that protein is a major body building substance. It has already become noticeable that the two rats on protein deficiency diets are losing their weight, and fur, and they seem to be rejecting their food along with their toenails not growing. How ever, the rats on normal diets are gaining, weight and growing.

The rat experiment began October 28, and will continue until Thanks-giving. During this time, the students are to clean the cages, water the rats, and make observations as to the weight gain of the rats. The daily observations are recorded in a 'log book At the end of the experiment, the students will discuss their results as a group to sum up their findings.

The stories in the books are coordinated with songs to interest very young children in reading. Each pic-ture in the book represents an action song or a descriptive musical composition which is included with narration on the long-playing record. Research indicates that words which are related to large muscle activity, esthetic experience, and tongue-tickling rhymes are learned more quickly and easily by children. Kits of this type help children to respond more freely and also help them to develop musical understanding.

The kit is also accompanied by a Rhythms to Reading Picture Songbook

The administrative staff and volunteers from the faculty and student body will be making visitations to the variou high schools in the state from Dec. 1 through Ian, 16.

They will be discussing the various programs available at GSC, especially the new programs being planned for presentation to the Board of Regents for approval. The new programs will include Food, Service Management, Community and Social Service, Parks and Outdoor Recreation Technology, and Schools for Para-Professionals (Tea cher Aides.)

The CLEP program and the Ad-vanced Standing Program will be explained

Nat'l Endowment Films Scheduled for Dec., Jan.

Pioneers of Modern Painting, the new six-part film series written and narrated by Kenneth Clark, will be shown here on GSC campus during the months of December and January The series covers the life and work of six leading artists of the late 19th and early 20th centuries; Edouard Manet, Paul Cezanne, Claude Monet, Georges Seurat, Henri Rousseau, and Edvard Munc

The college received the films through a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The series is distributed without charge by the National Gallery's Extension Service to colleges and universities with enrollments under 2,000. However, all of the participating schools must co-sponsor the series with a local museum, library, or cultural center for the showing to the general public at no charge. The first of the 45-minute color films was presented here on Nov. 28 on the artist Edouard Manet. The others may be seen on the following dates according to the artist. Paul Cezanne Dec. 5; Claude Monet, Dec. 13; Georges Seurat, Jan. 9; Henri Rousseau, Jan 16; and Edvard Munch, Jan. 23.

Each will be presented in the Lit-Theater in the Administration tle Building, beginning at 3:00 p.m.
