Cassat Will Appear For Xmas Concert

Glenville is being honored with the presence of an exceptional guest of the college Concert Choir in their annual Christmas Concert December 10, at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium.

Ms. Georgeanne Cassat will join in the performance of Benjamin Britten's "Ceremony of Carols" for women's chorus and harp.

Ms. Cassat was born in Waterloo, Iowa and began studying the harp at age 8 at the University of Iowa. She holds a B.M. in harp and a B.A. in music—both from the Oberlin Conservatory of Music. She has attended numerous seminars, including the Wolf Trap Center of the Performing Arts in Washington D.C., and the Marlboro Music Festival in Marlboro, Vermont, an internationally famous summer program, originated by Rudolf Serkin and Pablo Casals, which unites the finest chamber performers in the country.

Ms. Cassat delighted a full house at GSC with her solo performance with the Oberlin Pro Arte Orchestra last spring.

The program is a varied one and will include a selection of carols performed with a recorder consort, and masterpieces of seasonal repertoire by Bach, Walther, Mendelssohn and Brahms. Mrs. Susan Welcher will also be featured as a flute soloist.

One other highlight of the program will be the premiere of Daniel Pinkham's "Christmas Contata" for mixed chorus, brass choir and organ.

Mr. James Baldwin, choral director cordially invites the public to attend a joyful evening of Christmas music.

Band Presents Concert For Christmas Special

On December 14 at 8:00 p.m. the GSC auditorium will be alive with Christmas music due to the efforts of the Glenville State College Concert Band under the direction of Mr. Edward Vineyard.

The band will present its annual Christmas Concert with a variety of Christmas music including such favorites as: Sleigh Ride—Leroy Anderson; White Christmas—Irving Berlin; Hark the Herald Angels Sing—Mendelssohn; Winter Wonderland—Smith and Bernard; Christmas Rhapsody—Long; Three Songs for Christmas—Grundman; La Fete de Noel—Spinney; The Christmas Suite—Walters.

The concert has no admission charge and the public is cordially invited.

Georgeanne Cassat, guest of the college, will play at the annual Christmas concert.

CLEP Offers Courses; 100 Classes Available

Under policies approved by the West Virginia Board of Regents, Glenville State College is able to offer both General Examinations and Subject Examinations under the College Level Examination Program (CLEP).

The General Examinations cover 30 hours of the General Studies program. More than 100 semester hours are available in Subject Examinations.

Students are encouraged to utilize this means to demonstrate their competence in an area. If they pass an examination, the grade of "Credit" (Cr.) will be entered on their permanent record. "Cr." grades will not be averaged as "C's" when the grade point average is computed.

There is a $5.00 fee for each examination given. Any students that are interested should contact Mr. Kermit L. Kinder, who is in charge of this testing program.

Mr. Wayne Harkins, Director of Food Services has announced the provision of free snacks to those students in the residence halls who wish to come by the Old Cafeteria on Wednesday and Thursday nights December 13 and 14 between the hours of 7:30 p.m. and 9:00 p.m.

The food is free and the only guideline imposed is that you eat all you want while in the cafeteria, but please refrain from carrying out food to take back to the residence halls.

The December issue of "Confrontation" will be available by Wednesday, December 13. This issue will contain articles by Dr. James Gay Jones, Dr. Bruce Flack, and Dr. John Chisler, among others. Poetry by Mr. Carl Kerr, Chuck Julian, and Michael Calhoun will also be included in this issue of Confrontation.

Curriculum Comm. Makes 2 Changes

According to Dr. Clarence Maze, Jr. Dean of Academic Affairs, two new changes have been made by the Curriculum Committee concerning all enrolled students for the Spring Semester.

Three new foreign language courses will be offered to acquaint students with the phrases, sentences, and vocabulary that would be helpful in foreign travel. The courses being offered will be French 100, German 100, and Spanish 100. The courses will be taught by Mr. Ramsey, language instructor. The courses will be offered on a Credit-Audit basis, which means that if the student is successful, he will simply receive a grade of "credit" for that course; if he is unsuccessful, he will simply receive a grade of "audit" which simply means no credit. There will be no written examinations, and the classes are all on an arranged basis.

Another change is in the repeat designation policy. Rather than for the advisor to fill out a separate form to indicate that a student is repeating a course, the student should put the letter "R" on his registration schedule immediately following the course department and number.

Tryouts Held Dec. 11-12 For Readers Theatre

A Reader's Theatre production, The Brick and the Rose, will hold tryouts on December 11 and 12 at 7:00 p.m. in the Underground. The traveling production calls for ten voices to travel to surrounding areas which include churches, schools, and civic organizations. A Reader's Theatre Production will be the second of the school year and it will be presented second semester. The Brick and the Rose deals with a young boy who is defeated by the rising drug problem.

Tryouts are open and everyone is invited to attend.

Higher Education Plan Is Revealed

In a faculty-staff meeting held Tuesday, December 5, Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, president of Glenville State College, presented a long-range plan prepared by the Board of Regents for the state system of higher education. The Board has prepared a pamphlet entitled A Plan for Progress: West Virginia Higher Education in the Seventies which outlines the initial phases of its developmental plan for West Virginia higher education during the period 1972-1980.

The plan includes public institutions such as the universities, graduate colleges, one year college, community colleges, the two year branch college and the two and four year private institutions.

At all West Virginia four-year colleges the bachelor of arts non-professional, non-teaching major in music and the baccalaureate non-teaching major in secretarial science or studies will be terminated.

Glenville State College received a very commendable report in the plan.

The article reports that GSC has achieved over the years a well-deserved reputation for teacher education and over 90 percent of the baccalaureate degrees conferred in recent years have been in that field. The college will maintain this thrust by clearly delineating teacher education as its primary mission, according to the Board's plan.

Only business and those baccalaureate offerings in the arts and sciences which are clearly compatible with teacher education will be retained. The plan states that the College must develop a secondary thrust in associate degree programs which are particularly suited to the needs of central West Virginia or to a residential college setting.

Those programs to be terminated at GSC include the baccalaureate non-teaching majors in English, French, and Physical Education. The teaching specializations in French will also be terminated. No new students will be admitted to these programs. Students currently enrolled in these will be given adequate time to complete their degree objectives.

On the other hand, some redirection with emphasis on educational options for students.

The specialization in physical education will continue to be one of the teacher education areas at Glenville State. Presently there are 266

Evaluative Check Planned For Faculty

The Ad Hoc Committee, appointed by Dr. D. Banks Wilburn on May 1, 1972, has as its purpose the developing of a group of statements to be used as a means of evaluating the effectiveness of instruction.

During the summer the committee obtained information from various schools in the area. Beginning in September the committee has met every other week studying programs, philosophy, and individual situations at Glenville State. The document, which will be used in a trial run for the first semester of 1972, will be presented to the faculty on December 12. The students in each of the classes will be given an opportunity to check a series of 25 multiple choice statements relevant to the courses and the instructor which they are taking for the first semester. The committee will study the results of the first semester survey submitted by the faculty members and submit a final draft for the second semester.

Mr. John V. White, associate professor of mathematics, was appointed chairman of the Ad Hoc committee. Serving on the committee with him are Mrs. Virginia Hays, instructor in business administration; Mr. Joseph M. Hickman, assistant professor of education; Miss Paulette S. Jackson, president of the Student Congress, Dr. Frank Jenio, assistant professor of biology, Dr. James G. Jones, professor of history; Mr. Jesse R. Lilly, associate professor of physical education; Mr. Charles C. Scott, associate professor of art; Miss Virginia D. West, Associate professor of English and Mr. Dania C. Williams, student. At the request of the committee three additional students were appointed, whose names are: L. Dale Cox, senior; Daniel Taylor, junior, and Teresa Sue Boso, sophomore.

E. Jones Receives Somerville Award

According to an announcement by the Little Kanawha Regional Council, the Dr. Delmer K. Somerville Drama Scholarship has been awarded to Edward Jones, a freshman English major from Spencer. Jones participated in the drama festival held last year on the Glenville campus. Mrs. Sallie P. Park of Ravenswood has served as the Festival Chairman since its inception more than twenty years ago. The award is given in recognition of Dr. Somerville, a past president and recently retired Dean of Glenville State College, who has assisted with the Festival over a long period of time.

Visitation Again Slated

The program last year to recruit students seems to have contributed to GSC's increased enrollment. And again this year the program will be continued when GSC students return to their home high schools to answer any questions and be of general assistance to prospective Glenville students.

The general purposes of the program are to discuss with counselors and students changes in academic programs and new additional offerings in vocational training in particular. In discussing these programs it is expected to add to our enrollment. GSC students would be visiting their home high schools for one day over the semester break. In speaking with these students any misunderstandings or general questions could be answered.

Approximately 30-35 students participated last year. This year 101 high schools are scheduled for visitation in 37 counties. About 50 students are contributing to the program this year.

All interested students are urged to attend a meeting in the Little Theater Thursday, December 14 at 3:30 p.m. Dr. Wilburn will meet those interested and explain the program, with suggestions by other faculty members.

Mr. Baldwin is shown directing a concert choir rehearsal.

Higher Education For A Few

Good heavens! I've been left without a major! It's just a lucky thing I'm not trying to get into college now instead of four years ago, or I would have been up the proverbial creek without a paddle, and with a hole in the boat!

The field is A.B. English, and it might be added at this point that one need not get a degree in education to be a writer or a journalist. One's three best choices, I have been told, are A.B. English, journalism, and history. Now, since I have a major in English, and minors in the other two fields, what would another young West Virginia student with similar goals and not a lot of money do—since he can no longer have a non-teaching major in English? Boy, am I lucky I wasn't born four years later.

But other fields have also been hit. Suppose I wanted to play ball for the Charleston Charles and eventually for the Pittsburgh Pirates? Or I wanted to teach French? In that case I would be regally shafted.

Granted, there aren't too many people graduating in these fields every year, and granted—other schools got it worse than we did. Tech lost their English, pre-medicine, and secretarial studies programs. State lost their Baccalaureate level majors in French, German, philosophy, and physics. These courses have all had graduates recently! And they lost their teaching specializations in French and physics. But Potomac State is having no programs dropped.

For purposes of clarification, it must be said that students that are already enrolled in one of the programs to be terminated will "be given adequate time to complete their degree objectives." I have no idea what the Board of Regents considers "adequate time" but I don't advise dropping out or flunking out of school for a while to find out.

Now, we all know about the unemployed Ph.D.'s working at gas stations, so that logic is shot. And we have definitely gotten away from the "wisdom" theory in education (How many philosophers do you know? How many times have you heard the word "wisdom" mentioned in your classes?). Should we then not try to get back to making students educated and wise, rather than merely employed? It would indeed clear campuses of students that are really not college material, and improve the quality of higher education.

I don't know what the solution is. Concerning Glenville State College, the Board of Regents booklet says: "The college will maintain this thrust by clearly delineating teacher education as its primary mission. Only business and those baccalaureate offerings in the arts and sciences which are clearly compatible with teacher education (italics mine) will be retained." This school has not been called Glenville State Teacher's College since 1943. It is not "progress" to once again aim our school directly at teacher education. A school with a specialization, like a person who is trained to do only one thing, develops a very narrow point of view. Rather, we should try to remain broadminded and broad in our education.

Just because our isan age of specialization does not make it right; or we shall all be in the situation of may technical engineers and Ph.D.'s -- unemployed specialists in an undemanding field.

I wish the unemployed graduates in education from Glenville State College, both now and in the future, the very best of luck. They need it.

SEA Benefits Explained

Perhaps you are one of the many students who knows nothing about the campus organization of Student Education Association or the benefits made available to those student members. By becoming a member of the local chapter of SEA, you also become a member of the state organization, WVSEA. This state organization provides many benefits to you the moment you sign the WVSEA membership card.

The most important of these benefits is the $100,000 professional liability policy for college junior and senior members. This insurance covers junior and senior students involved in any classroom teaching or observing experience where an incident of suit may be brought upon them. Other low-cost insurances including life, automobile, and accidental death, are also available.

A few of the professional services available could be of importance to you. A member has access to the NEA DuShane Fund when professional, civil, or human rights are violated. A member is also guaranteed teacher placement service within the state of West Virginia. Curriculum materials are available upon request to those student teachers in the classroom.

Monthly publications of Today's Education and Nea Reporter are sent to the member. He also receives Student Impact, WVA School Journal, and Watch Tower.

If you are soon to be a student teacher or are concerned with the teacher preparation process, you should be in SEA. If you are concerned about the future of education and are willing to work for what you believe in, you should be in SEA.

If you are interested in membership, contact Sue Roby, president, at Dr. Morris' office at Clark Hall or Sharon Miller, treasurer, at Women's Hall, ext. 312.

Glenville Blue Wave Stomps State Team In Second Half Pioneer Push, 80-69

The Glenville State Pioneers, featuring a balanced scoring attack, opened their regular basketball campaign with 80-69 victory over West Virginia State last Saturday night. Star forward Steve Datcher paced the Pioneer attack with 21 points.

The game was close from the start and the Blue Wave did not put the game out of reach until the last minute. Junior forward John Hudson was the real spark plug for the Pioneers as he scored 12 points in a reserve role. Hudson put in six straight points in the closing seconds of the game to ice the victory.

It was a up-hill battle for Glenville as they fell behind at the start and trailed much of the way during the first half. State playing a tough man-for-man defense did a good job of controlling the boards in the first half. The Yellow Jackets led 18-14 at the ten minute mark in the game and the Pioneers did not tie the score until 8:13 left in the half at 20-20, on a jumper by Ron Jones.

Earl Hawkins gave the Pioneers their first lead in the game at 26-24. From here on in it was a see-saw battle with each team taking turns at the lead. State regained the advantage at 31-29, but the Pioneers quickly came back and took a 36-35 lead into the dressing room at intermission.

With Jim Garnett sinking four straight pressure foul shots in the last thirty-three seconds of the overtime period, the Glenville State Pioneers were able to hold off the tough Salem Tigers. The final score of last Tuesday's contest was 77-72, this gave the Blue Wave their fourth consecutive win of the season.

Glenville scored the initial two points of the game but this was the only lead that the Pioneers had during first half action. Salem, shooting the eyes out of the basket, came back quickly and led 17-14 at the 10:00 mark in the first half. The Bengals continued to add on to their margin and led 29-20 with 3:50 left before intermission. Salem played a very deliberate offense and took their biggest lead of the night at 41-31 with only 31 seconds remaining. The score at the end of the first half was 41-33 in favor of the Tigers.

The Pioneers scored six straight points to open the second half, making the score 41-39 in the Tigers favor. Glenville took the lead at the 14:13 mark in the game, as the Blue Wave put together an eight point spate to that a 47-46 margin.

Pioneer guard Gene King fakes out Salem center in Last Tuesday night's contest.

State scored the opening points of the second half, but Glenville took over taking the lead for good at 42-40 on a goal by Hawkins with 12:05 left to go in the game.

The Pioneers maintained a two or three point lead in the game until Jones, Hudson, Hawkins, and Garrett put together a string of eight straight points to give the Blue Wave their biggest margin at 50-42 with 7:32 left.

Curtis Price's Yellow Jackets fought back however and it was not until Hudson put in his six consecutive points for a 75-69 lead with 22 seconds left that the Pioneers could claim victory. Garnett added a free throw and Datcher scored two final baskets to give the Pioneers the final margin, 80-69.

Glenville had another good shooting night making 32 of 60 field goal tries for a 53% average. From the charity stripe the Pioneers converted on 16 of 25 attempts.

Rounding out the rest of the scoring for the Blue Wave included: Ron Jones and Jim Garnett with 14 points apiece, Earl Hawkins added 12 points, and Ralph Cook tallied seven.

In the rebounding department, Glenville hauled down 38 balls off the rim, ten being offensive and 28 being defensive. Hawkins was the leading rebounder with 12.

Glenville came out running in the extra point. Hawkins scored two straight goals and Jones added a free throw making the score 73-68 with 3:48 remaining.

Glenville continued to hold the lead, and led 61-54 with only seven minutes remaining. Salem fought back however outscoring Glenville 10-2 in a two minute span.

Ron Jones put the Pioneers back in front at 65-64, but the Bengals scratched back and regained the lead, 68-66, with only 1:46 left. Jones once again did the trick sinking a 15 foot jumper with only 58 seconds remaining to tie the score. Salem held the ball, but the try for a last second shot failed sending the game into overtime.

Salem came right back making the score 73-72 before Garnett went to work. Garnett coolly laid in four consecutive foul shots putting the contest out of reach.

Earl Hawkins led the Pioneer attack with 23 points. Ron Jones added 18, with Jim Garnett laying in 12. Steve Datcher had an off night shooting but still came through with 10.

The 1972-1973 Glenville State College wrestling team, coached by Whitey Adolphson. The squad recently placed second in a tournament held at Concord.

Have You Heard?

Balanced scoring seems to be the key in the Pioneers early success.

After three games, four Pioneers are averaging in double figures. All-American candidate Steve Datcher is the top scorer averaging 19.6 points a game, Earl Hawkins is averaging 14.3 points per contest, Ron Jones has an even 14 points average, and Jim Garnett is averaging 10 points a game.

Curtis Price has done a good job of organizing the Yellow Jackets. Basketball wise, this is the best disciplined State team I have seen in my four years at Glenville. They did a good job of setting the ball up on offense and were organized pretty well on defense. They should be pretty tough the rest of the season.

The crowd at the game was really great and did a good job of "psyching up" the team. Glenville goes on the road for eight straight games before returning home, January 18, to take on the Golden Eagles of Morris Harvey.

This Saturday, the bowlers will take on a group of former Glenville State Bowlers. The match will take place at 12:00 in the game room at the Student Union. Returning to bowl in the event will be Al Malone, Wally Kesling, Steve Poling, Ron Sams, Ken Dawson, and Jerry Jackson. Malone, Kesling, Sams, and Jackson were all WVIAA "Bowler of the Year" winners.

Jr. Varsity Takes Salem In Hard Fought Victory

Coach Carney's junior varsity got back on the winning track with a hard-fought 78-69 victory over the Salem JV's.

Salem had the lead early in the game but the Glenville JV's got things going and jumped out to a big 18-10 lead. The junior Tigers did a good job of getting the ball out and got several easy baskets.

The Pioneers maintained their big lead and were up 41-26 at the half. Salem came out as a different ball club scoring eight straight points to pull within 45-37 with seventeen minutes remaining.

The Tigers continued to cut back the Glenville lead and came back to within one, 68-67, with five minutes left.

Glenville regained their composure at this point and were able to hold off the Tigers to post their first victory of the season.

Roger Caudill led the junior varsity with 20 points.

This year's freshman team will play around twenty games. Their contests will start at 6:00 p.m.

The wrestlers made a fine showing in their opening appearance of the season, finishing second in the Concord Invitational Tournament. Coach Adolphson feels that this could be one of his best squads ever. He stated that West Liberty and Fairmont should be the teams to beat.

Coach Bob Devaney's last season at Nebraska has not exactly been a pleasant one. In addition to losing two ballgames, four of his key players were charged with possession of marijuana.

With bowl games coming up in the near future, I am once again going into the predicting business. Here are my picks for the upcoming games: Rose Bowl-USC 31 Ohio State 14; Orange Bowl-Nebraska 20 Notre Dame 13; Cotton Bowl-Alabama 28 Texas 10; Sugar Bowl-Oklahoma 35 Penn State 8; Peach Bowl-West Virginia 42 N. Carolina State 28; Gator Bowl-Colorado 28 Auburn 17; Liberty Bowl-Georgia Tech 14 Missouri 13; Fiesta Bowl-Iowa State 31 Arizona State 28; Blue-Bonnet Bowl-LSU 14 Tennessee 8; Sun Bowl-N Carolina 24 Texas Tech 9; Tangerine Bowl-Tampa Intramurals . . .

Coach Carney has announced that there are 31 teams for this year's intramural basketball season. Play will continue through this semester and next semester. A tournament will be held at the end of the season with the top four teams in each flight participating.

A Financial Aid assembly will be held Tuesday, December 12 at 9:30 a.m. in the auditorium. All students interested in receiving financial aid during 1973-74 are urged to attend.

Going underneath the basket is Pioneer guard Jim "Turk" Garnett. Glenville won their season home opener 80-69.

Taylor and Hanson Pace Pioneer Men

The Pioneer Wrestling team won second place in an Invitational tournament at Concord this past weekend. The team from VMI won first, VPI was third, Morris Harvey, Concord and Alderson Broadbudds were also competitors.

In the preliminary round, eight of the ten Pioneer grapplers were fortunate enough to draw byes. The first match saw 158 lb., Pioneer captain Brian Taylor defeat his opponent from Concord 16-0. In the 167 lb. class, Bob Hively dropped a 6-2 decision to the wrestler from Morris Harvey.

The semi-final round saw Glenville drop five of eight matches. In the 118 lb. class, "Mouse" Taylor dropped a 7-1 decision to VPI. Luther-Hanson in the 126 lb. class destroyed his competition from VPI 12-2. Jerry Harris lost a hard-fought contest in the 137 lb. class to Concord by an 8-5 score. In the 142 lb. class, Rick Pierson lost to a strong VMI opponent 8-4. Steve Lewis received a bye in the 150 lb. class. Brian Taylor, in his second match of the day defeated his opponent from VMI by a score of 6-0. In the 167 lb. class, Mike Snider dropped an 8-1 decision to VPI. George Welch registered the only pin of the day for the Pioneers when he nailed his opponent from Concord in the second period. Unlimited action saw Terry Tyree lose to his 6'8", 250 lb. opponent from AB.

The Pioneer matmen who lost in the semi-final round fought back hard and fast placing six wrestlers in the consolation finals. In that round of action, Taylor in the 118 lb. class pinned his opponent from AB to win a third place medal. Jerry Harris won a forfeit to take third place honors in the 137 lb. class. Rick Pierson came back strong to hand his opponent from AB a 9-2 defeat for third place. Mike Snider bounced back to win third place by defeating his opponent from AB, 6-3. Bob Hively received a fourth place medal in the 177 lb. class by losing a 5-2 decision at the hands of a Concord opponent. Terry Tyree fought a hard match until late in the third period when his unlimited opponent from Concord turned him over for the pin and the win.

In the finals on Saturday afternoon, Glenville won two and lost two. Luther Hanson started strong and finished strong to take home the first place trophy by defeating his opponent from Morris Harvey, 5-1. In the 150 lb. finals, Steve Lewis lost by a score of 7-3 to his opponent from VMI. Final round action in the 158 lb. class saw Brian Taylor win the first place trophy by pinning his opponent from VPI. In the 190 lb. class, George Welch suffered his first defeat of the tourney at the hands of his opponent from VMI.

The Glenville matmen have much to be proud of as they captured two first place trophies, two second place medals and two fourth places.

Xmas Crafts Class Brightens Holidays

The first Adult Education class, Education 308, an extension of the Home Economics department, was held Wednesday night, November 29, at 7-8 p.m. The enrolled students participating in the class are divided into five special classes of their own choice. The five special classes are "Ye Ole Candle Shop," "Santa's Secrets," "Treasures Under The Tree," "Capture the Past Decoupage," and "Santa's Wrap."

The "Ye Ole Candle Shop" includes the making of various candles, varying from candle centerpieces to candle mushrooms. "Santa's Secrets" includes the making of Christmas decorations which are green and walnut wreaths, Yuletide candles, and Noel hangings. All the enrolled students are enjoying the theme "Capture The Past Decoupage." This is magazine pictures set on wood and then varnished to make the picture appear as a painting. "Santa's Wrap" deals with decorating Christmas packages in all sorts of ribbons, bows, and streamers. Anyone that wished to make gifts for their families and friends chose the theme "Treasures Under The Tree." A few of the projects for this theme include cheeseboards, pillows, and purses.

The Adult Education class is under the direction of Mrs. Roma Adkins, Home Economics advisor. The five special classes are taught by the Home Economics students who gain experience by teaching these classes. The classes are held Wednesday nights on first floor of the Science Building. All the enrolled students are enjoying their classes while making mini gifts at mini prices.

Santa Claus (Gene Chancey) is shown at Summers Pharmacy as a part of WGSC Radio's Christmas.

Jolly Ole St. Nick To Visit At Summer's Pharmacy

WGSC Radio has captured the yuletide spirit of Christmas this year in many ways. One of the big attractions in Glenville for the next two weeks will be Santa Claus.

Jolly ole St. Nick this year will be Mr. Gene Chancey, a fireman at GSC, from Ripley. Chancey is a radio announcer at WGSC.

Santa will be at Summers Pharmacy Dec. 2-8 from 3-5 p.m. On Dec. 9-15, Santa will take up his headquarters at True Value Toy Store. Candy furnished by the stores will be given to the children.

According to Santa, around 75 children from Glenville have visited him already this year.

Chancey's costume is a rental of Wickham Costumes of Wheeling by the Radio Station.

A Christmas party is under plans also at WGSC. Decorations and a tree will also enhance the Christmas spirit.

Members of the WGSC staff include: Lee Harbert, station manager; Dennis Lively, program director; Toney Floyd, music director; George Dudding, chief engineer; Mark Caldwell, asst. program director; Judy Shreve, advertising; John Tharpe, news; Greg Plants, sports; Roberta Luikart, secretary; Judy Vandal, business manager; and a host of announcers.

Do you need a break in your every day hustle and bustle around campus? If so, take your break at the TAKE A BREAK COFFEE HOUSE in the Wesley Foundation Basement between 9-10 p.m. on December 14, 1972.

The no charge affair will offer free entertainment and refreshments and guarantees a good time for all. If you have something to offer in the way of entertainment, whether it be guitar, tambourine or voice, bring it along too, we're interested.
